In reviewing the second series of rounds fired by the involved officers, the OIG noted that Martinez had, based on autopsy and video evidence, sustained multiple serious injuries and fallen to the roof at the time those rounds were fired. As such, this series of rounds warranted particularly close scrutiny to establish whether the officers' continued use of force against Martinez was objectively reasonable. In considering this question, the OIG noted that the video evidence could not clearly resolve whether Martinez' actions still presented a threat, although it did establish that he was still moving and was generally facing in the direction of the LAPD officers. The only source of evidence to provide a more detailed accounting of Martinez' actions during this portion of the incident were the statements of Officers [redacted] and of Agent [redacted][53] These three statements were broadly consistent in describing Martinez as having his right arm under his torso, pushing himself up. Given the above-noted reasonableness of the officers' belief that Martinez was armed and prepared to use a gun against police officers, the OIG believes that this testimony supports, to a preponderance standard, an objectively reasonable belief that Martinez was continuing an attempt to assault the officers with a firearm that was concealed upon his person. As such, the OIG concurs with the Chief's recommended in-policy finding.

[53] Officer [redacted] stated that the shooting ended when Martinez fell to the roof. The video and other testimonial evidence clearly establish that this was not the case. As such, Officer [redacted] testimony regarding this portion of the incident was discounted in evaluating the objective reasonableness of the officers' uses of force.

Synopsis: (U) This communication was prepared to furnish the analysis, comments, and recommendations of the Shooting Incident Review Group (SIRG) with respect to the captioned shooting following SIRG meeting held on 11/20/2013.

Administrative Notes: (U) This communication summarizes the Inspection Division's (INSD) Shooting Incident Report, dated 09/08/2012, prepared by former Inspector Thomas P. Ravenelle. A copy of the complete INSD Shooting Incident Report is electronically attached to this communication.

Enclosure(s): Enclosed are the following items:
1. (U) INSD Shooting Incident Report, dated 09/08/2012.

Details:

On 11/20/2013, the SIRG convened to review a shooting incident which occurred on 01/17/2012, involving Los Angeles Field Office (LAFO) Special Agent (SA) [redacted] and Task Force Officer (TFO) [redacted] b6 -1,4 b7C -1,4

NYT-954

[redacted], SA [redacted] and TFO [redacted] were both participating in a Safe Streets Task Force (SSTF) operation to locate and arrest [redacted] for conspiracy to distribute crack cocaine. While conducting surveillance at the intersection of [redacted] Los Angeles, California, both SA [redacted] and TFO [redacted] were ambushed and fired upon in a drive-by shooting committed by a subject who was unrelated to the target of the operation. During the encounter, SA [redacted] and TFO [redacted] fearing for their lives, fired at the shooter later identified as [redacted] SA [redacted] fired two rounds from his Bureau-approved AR-15 while TFO [redacted] fired seven rounds from his issued Glock 22. TFO [redacted] received a slight injury in the form of a bruise to his leg. SA [redacted] was not injured. Two other occupants of the vehicle used by [redacted], who were later identified as [redacted] were arrested. The shooter, [redacted] escaped and was apprehended in [redacted] Nevada, a week later (01/24/2012). [redacted] was examined at the University Medical Center (UMC), Las Vegas, Nevada. Medical reports determined [redacted] sustained a gunshot wound to his abdomen and two superficial wounds to the left side of his head.

On 11/20/2013, the SIRG reviewed the Agent-involved shooting incident with the intent to:

1. Evaluate the application of deadly force. The SIRG unanimously determined the application of deadly force by SA [redacted] on 01/17/2012 was in compliance with the Department of Justice's deadly force policy.

2. Provide the Director with an evaluative analysis, observations, and recommendations for corrective actions from an operational standpoint. The SIRG made no recommendations or observations concerning the operational techniques used by SA [redacted] during this shooting incident.

3. Provide recommendations concerning training and/or safety issues. The SIRG made the following observation requesting additional training.

Observation 1: A weapon was not properly charged prior to the initiation of an enforcement action.

Analysis 1: The MIOG Part 2, Section 12-2.2, "Carrying of Weapons," Paragraph 7, stated, "Unless operationally deployed, shoulder weapons should be maintained with an empty chamber. Prior to entry into areas where potential danger exists, a round should be chambered in all shoulder weapons. The safety should remain engaged until the circumstances require placing the weapon in the "fire" mode."

SA [redacted] Signed Sworn Statement indicated he commenced a surveillance and arrest operation for an armed and dangerous subject, in a highly dangerous area controlled by a violent gang, without a round chambered in his AR-15. b6 -1 b7C -1

Instruction 1: ADIC, LAFO, will ensure all LAFO personnel are appropriately trained regarding the loading and subsequent charging of shoulder weapons prior to operational deployments.

4. Provide recommendations for administrative action if deemed necessary. The SIRG recommended no administrative action be taken against SA [redacted] as a result of his involvement in this shooting incident. b6 -1 b7C -1

Procedures for Responding to the Observation

ADIC, LAFO, is responsible for ensuring each Inspection Instruction/Recommendation is satisfactorily resolved. The inspection process is not complete until the Instruction/Recommendation is addressed by the field office. The Inspector-in-Charge (IIC) will review the field office's response to determine if the Instruction/Recommendation has been resolved or requires further action. Resolution is based upon specific actions taken and not a recitation of the actions the division has under consideration or plans to implement.

ADIC, LAFO, is required to provide a written response, via EC, detailing the actions taken by the field office to resolve each Instruction/Recommendation. Follow up EC responses must be directed to Unit Chief [redacted], Inspection Management Unit (IMU), INSD. Once the EC is serialized, please e-mail the Sentinel link to MPA [redacted].

Based upon a review of materials from your shooting inquiry, we have determine that the facts do not warrant a federal criminal civil rights investigation into a shooting by an FBI agent and task force officer that resulted in the wounding of [redacted] in Los Angeles, California, on January 17, 2012. Rather, the facts support a conclusion that [redacted] a gang member who claimed to have mistaken the law enforcement officers for rival gang members, fired first. Thus, both the agent and the task force officer returned fired, legitimately fearing that [redacted] would kill them. The Los Angeles District Attorney has also declined prosecution. b6 -7 b7C -7

The agent and task force officer were in a high crime area in civilian clothing conducting surveillance while seated inside an unmarked truck when [redacted] approached them. [redacted] pulled a handgun, when approximately 15 week away, and fired at the task force officer, the driver, and the agent, the passenger. [redacted] hit the truck with gunfire that penetrated into the front cab but struck no one. When both the agent and task force officer returned fire, [redacted] ran and continued to fire back at the truck. [redacted] fired nine shots, while the task force officer fired seven shots and the agent fired two shots. [redacted] was struck and wounded by a bullet. He escaped the scene and the bullet was never removed from his body. Accordingly, we do not know which, if either, of the two law enforcement officers fired the shot that struck him. b6 -7 b7C -7

The forensic evidence is consistent with the accounts provided by the law enforcement officers. [redacted] survived his wound and was later captured in another state. During a custodial interview, [redacted] admitted participating in the shooting, claiming he shot at the truck because he thought he was engaged in a shootout with rival gang members. b6 -7 b7C -7

There is no evidence that either law enforcement officer willfully violated the 4th Amendment's requirement of reasonable seizure when he fired at a violent gang member who was shooting at them. A federal criminal civil rights investigation is unwarranted. We appreciate the agent's voluntary statement that helped us make a fully informed prosecution decision. We apologize for our recent delay in deciding this matter. Please continue your administrative review and action.

The District Attorney Command Center was notified of this incident on January 17, 2012. The District Attorney Response Team (DART) did not respond to the scene. A suspect was in custody and unhurt. A second suspect fled and was captured several days later; there was no indication that a suspect had been hit by police gunfire. Information received after the arrest of the second suspect, a week later, indicated that he had been struck during the incident.

The following analysis is based upon reports, photographs, and recordings submitted to this office by LAPD Force Investigation Division Detective [redacted] The compelled statement of Officer [redacted] was considered as part of this analysis.

FACTUAL ANALYSIS

On January 17, 2012, Los Angeles Police Department Officer [redacted] and FBI Special Agent [redacted] were conducting surveillance, searching for a federal fugitive. Officer [redacted] and Special Agent [redacted] were dressed in plainclothes, traveling in an unmarked pickup truck. [redacted] was the driver and [redacted] was in the front passenger seat. While parked near the intersection of [redacted] saw [redacted] walking eastbound on the north sidewalk of [redacted] who was not the subject of the surveillance, walked towards [redacted] and looked in their direction. [redacted] walked past the vehicle, entered a [redacted] and drove away.

The [redacted] re-appeared a short time later, traveled westbound on [redacted] and slowed down as it passed [redacted] was seated in the front passenger seat. A male, later identified as [redacted] was driving. A passenger was in the backseat. Each of the occupants stared at the officers. The vehicle stopped near [redacted] whereupon [redacted] exited the vehicle and entered a residence. The [redacted] made a u-turn and [redacted] re-entered the vehicle. The [redacted] continued eastbound, towards [redacted] who observed a female in the front passenger seat, [redacted] in the front driver's seat and [redacted] in the rear driver's side passenger seat. The vehicle was traveling at a very slow speed.

Several additional units, comprised of LAPD Officers and FBI Special Agents, responded and searched for [redacted]. The [redacted] was located nearby, unoccupied, parked on [redacted] and [redacted]. While monitoring the area, FBI Special Agents [redacted] saw [redacted] walking down [redacted] towards the [redacted]. The agents detained [redacted] at gunpoint. Agent [redacted] later identified [redacted] as the driver of the subject vehicle.

[redacted] fled from the location, discarded the firearm and some of his clothing, hid nearby and waited for police activity to dissipate before going to a relative's house. [redacted] eventually picked him up and drove him out of state.

A K-9 unit responded to the scene and located a blue steel 9mm Sig Sauer semiautomatic handgun underneath a crawlspace at [redacted], in the area where [redacted] fled. The firearm was loaded with one round in the chamber and three rounds in the magazine. The serial number of the firearm was obliterated.

On January 20th, 2012, investigators received an anonymous telephone call stating that the person involved in the shooting was known as [redacted] and lived at [redacted] The caller saw [redacted] fleeing the scene, armed with a handgun and appeared to have been shot. Further investigation revealed that [redacted] fled to [redacted] Nevada.

On January 24th, 2012, FBI Agents, along with Las Vegas Metropolitan Police Department officers, arrested [redacted] in Nevada. During the arrest, officers discovered that [redacted] sustained two through and through gunshot wounds to the abdomen and a graze wound to his head during the shooting. While in custody, [redacted] made spontaneous statements and admitted shooting at [redacted] but denied knowing they were police officers. [redacted] later told investigators that [redacted] shot at him before he [redacted] pointed a gun at the officers and the only reason [redacted] fired back was to stop the officers from firing at him. [redacted] takes medication to treat a [redacted] with symptoms that include [redacted] and [redacted]

LEGAL ANALYSIS

California law permits the use of deadly force in self-defense or in defense of others if it reasonably appears to the person claiming the right of self-defense or the defense of others that he actually and reasonably believed he or others were in imminent danger of great bodily injury or death. "[T]he rule is well established that one who, without fault, is placed under circumstances sufficient to excite the fears of a reasonable man that another designs to commit a felony or some great bodily injury and to afford grounds for a reasonable belief of imminent danger, may act upon those fears alone and may slay his assailant and be justified by appearances." People v. Mercer (1962) 210 Cal. App. 2d 153, 161.

In protecting himself or another, a person may use all force which he believes reasonably necessary and which would appear to a reasonable person, in the same or similar circumstances, to be necessary to prevent injury which appears to be imminent. California Jury Instructions, CALCRIM 505.

"Where the peril is swift and imminent and the necessity for action immediate, the law does not weigh in too nice scales the conduct of the assailed and say he shall not be justified in killing because he might have resorted to other means to secure his safety." People v Collins, (1961) 189 Cal. App.2d 575.

"The 'reasonableness' of a particular use of force must be judged from the perspective of a reasonable officer on the scene, rather than with the 20/20 vision of hindsight... The calculus of reasonableness must embody allowance for the fact that police are often forced to make split-second judgments -- in circumstances that are tense, uncertain, and rapidly evolving -- about the amount of force that is necessary in a particular situation." Graham v. Conner, (1989) 490 U.S. 386, 396-397.

SA [redacted] could hear an officer, later identified as PHAP Officer [redacted] yelling multiple times, "stop police, stop." SA [redacted] stopped his vehicle parallel to the lot, but angled to the right. SA [redacted] exited his vehicle and repeatedly identified himself as FBI. A second uniformed officer, later identified as PHAP [redacted] approached the lot from the rear (east side) of his vehicle. Officer [redacted] issue several verbal commands to [redacted] telling him to stop and to drop his gun. Officer [redacted] was standing by the corner of a building adjacent to the lot. Officer [redacted] after jumping a short wooden fence, was lying in a prone position in the lot to the front (west side) of SA [redacted]'s vehicle. A third officer; later identified as PPD Officer [redacted] approached from the rear of SA [redacted] and took a position on the opposite side of the roadway. SA [redacted] was positioned a few feet in front of his vehicle's left front fender. [redacted] illuminated by SA [redacted]'s vehicle headlights, initially had his back to SA [redacted] and the officers. After a few seconds, [redacted] turned and faced SA [redacted] and the officers. [redacted] had the firearm in his right hand, pointed at the ground. Officer [redacted] continued to issue verbal commands for [redacted] to drop the gun. Inspector Trent Teyema Inspection Division

FBI

During the early morning hours of January 27, 2014, an FBI special agent and three local Philadelphia police officers shot at and wounded, [redacted] following an armed robbery and shooting by the subject and after the subject pointed his weapon at the law enforcement officers. Based upon a review of materials from the Inspection Division Shooting Incident Report, we have concluded that the facts do not warrant a federal criminal civil rights investigation. The Philadelphia County District Attorney's Office concluded that no criminal charges were warranted. b6 -7 b7C -7

The agent was involved in an unrelated law enforcement activity on a Philadelphia street at about 2 a.m. when he heard a radio broadcast that shots had been fired close to his location. The broadcast included a physical description of the subject. As the agent drove toward the area, he saw a man fitting the description running with a handgun. Meanwhile, three uniform local police officers were pursuing on foot after they heard shots and encountered the victim of the robbery, learned the subject had robbed and shot at the victim, and saw the subject running with a hand gun.

During the foot chase the police officers yelled, "Stop! Police! Drop the gun!" The subject continued to run until the agent and three police officers cornered him in a vacant lot. Initially, when the subject stopped, he had his back to the agent, who identified himself as "FBI," and the three officers. But, he turned toward them and pointed the gun in their direction. All four law enforcement officers fire several rounds each. The subject sustained bullet multiple bullet wounds, but none were fatal. He survived and is facing various local criminal charges.

The statements of the four law enforcement officers involved in the shooting are consistent. They are the only witnesses to the shooting. Other officers quickly arrived and corroborated that the wounded subject was still armed with a .38 caliber handgun. None of the forensic evidence contradicts the consistent accounts. The .38 caliber handgun had been fired. A .38 caliber cartridge casing was recovered; however, there were insufficient markings on the casing to permit comparison with the subject's .38 caliber weapon. The victim identified the subject as the man who robbed and shot at him moments before the law enforcement shooting.

The evidence supports a conclusion that the agent and the police officers reasonably believed that the subject was fleeing after committing an armed and violent crime and was prepared to fire his weapon at the law enforcement officers. The evidence does not support a conclusion that the agent or the police officers willfully used force that they knew to be unreasonable or unnecessary, the intent element required by the federal criminal civil rights statutes.

A federal criminal civil rights investigation of the shooting and its aftermath is not warranted. We appreciate the agent's voluntary statement, facilitating a fully informed decision. Please complete your administrative review.

Synopsis

(U) On February 4, 2013, at approximately 3:30 pm, an Agent-involved shooting occurred in Midland City, Alabama (AL). The Agents involved, Hostage Rescue Team (HRT) Operators [redacted] were participating in an FBI hostage rescue operation. On January 29, 2013, subject Jimmy Lee Dykes boarded a school bus, shot and killed the bus driver and took a [redacted]-year-old boy hostage from the bus in Midland City, AL. Dykes barricaded himself with the hostage in a bunker structure located on his property at 256 Private Road 1539, Midland City, AL. Dykes called 911 and directed first responders to communicate with him through a PVC communications tube located at the entrance of his property. An IED was later discovered in the PVC tube. Negotiators made contact with Dykes and learned his demand was to exchange the hostage for a reporter to record his story and then observe him commit suicide. HRT and other CIRG components arrived on scene on January 30, 2013. Over the next five days, HRT gathered intelligence and prepared for several different rescue scenarios as negotiations continued. Dykes became increasingly agitated and indicated violence was likely.

(U) By February 4, 2013, negotiations with Dykes had deteriorated. According to expert analysis, Dykes' increasing agitation indicated the use of violence was likely and imminent. Authorization for a deliberate assault utilizing an explosive charge to breach the bunker hatch was received. HRT operators successfully breached the bunker hatch and safely removed the hostage while Dykes engaged the HRT Operators with gunfire. The situation ended with Operators [redacted] shooting Dykes, who died inside the bunker.

Details

(U) Jimmy Lee Dykes was a 65-year-old white male who lived alone on an undeveloped one acre parcel of land at 256 Private Road 1539, Midland City, AL. Dykes was a Vietnam veteran and former truck driver with an arrest history of drug, theft, and firearms-related offenses. Dykes was estranged from family, friends, and neighbors. Dykes had, however, established an acquaintance with Charles Albert Poland, a school bus driver from the local school district. A year prior, as an apparent gesture of friendship, Dykes excavated a turnaround point adjacent to his property on Private Road 1539, giving Mr. Poland more room to turn his bus around. On January 29, 2013, Mr. Poland was transporting approximately 20 children home from school and stopped the bus in the turnaround point near Dykes' residence. At 3:33 pm Dykes boarded the bus, displayed a handgun, and handed Mr. Poland a handwritten note. Dykes verbally demanded Mr. Poland provide two children to accompany him. Mr. Poland told Dykes he could not allow any children to leave the bus. A confrontation lasting approximately four minutes took place between Dykes and Mr. Poland in which Dykes continually demanded two children. During this confrontation, one of the children on the bus placed a call to the Ozark-Dale County Emergency 911 line without Dykes noticing and described what was taking place. Dykes grew increasingly agitated during the exchange as Mr. Poland continued to refuse his demands, and at 3:37 pm, Dykes shot Mr. Poland five times. Dykes then took a [redacted] year-old boy from the bus and fled on foot to an underground bunker structure he built on his property at 256 Private Road 1539. Mr. Poland died at the scene. b6 -5 b7C -5

(U) At 3:40 pm, Dykes called the Ozark-Dale County Emergency 911 line and stated he had a hostage and had to shoot the school bus driver because he didn't follow Dykes' instructions. Dykes called back seven minutes later and instructed the 911 operator to direct police to a PVC communications tube at the entrance gate to his property. First responders from the Dale County Sheriff's Office (DCSO) arrived at the scene while Dykes was making his first 911 call.

(U) FBI Mobile and several other state and local law enforcement agencies were immediately notified. Upon notification, Mobile SAC Stephen E. Richardson met with several SSAs and ASAC [redacted] to gather information and assess the situation. SAC Richardson also assembled Mobile's crisis response leaders, SWAT, Negotiators and Special Agent Bomb Technicians (SABTs). SAC Richardson contacted CTD, CID AD Ronald T. Hosko and CIRG A/AD [redacted] to inform them of the situation. He also spoke with HRT SC Kevin Cornelius and HRT [redacted] UC [redacted] and requested HRT to be placed on standby. He ordered Mobile Command Post personnel to be deployed to Midland City, along with the Mobile SWAT Team Leader and ASAC [redacted] SAC Richardson also requested Birmingham Division SWAT support and OTD Technical Response Unit resources. SAC Richardson ensured all Mobile crisis response assets were en route to Midland City by 5:00 p.m. b6 -1 b7C -1 b7E -1

(U) By approximately 5:00 pm, responders from the Houston County Sheriff's Office (HCSO), Alabama State Police, Ozark PD, Dothan PD, and Newton PD were on scene. FBI Mobile SWAT Team Leader SA [redacted] arrived at the scene at approximately 6:30 pm, and Montgomery SSRA [redacted] arrived at approximately 7:00 pm. When SSRA [redacted] arrived at the incident site, he was advised a perimeter had been established by the HCSO and Dothan PD SWAT teams. SSA [redacted] met with supervisors from the HCSO and Dothan PD to set up a Command Post (CP). The CP was set up in the [redacted] building, approximately [redacted] from the incident site. At approximately 8:30 p.m., Mobile ASAC [redacted] arrived at the incident scene. b6 -1 b7C -1 b7E -1

(U) Upon his arrival, ASAC [redacted] assumed command. Also at the scene were Dale County Sheriff Gary Wallace Olson and Alabama Bureau of Investigation (ABI) Lieutenant (Lt.) [redacted] The roles and responsibilities of the hostage taking investigation had been divided between the FBI, the DCSO, and the ABI. The DCSO was responsible for the intake of information through their 911 call center, the perimeter of the incident site, and tactical elements. The ABI was handling the homicide investigation while the FBI was handling leads generated by the investigation. b6 -1,4 b7C -1,4

(U) ASAC went to the incident site to assess the situation. He met with Mobile SA and HCSO Deputy Sheriff Lt. who were the first negotiators to communicate with Dykes. The negotiators spoke with Dykes through a 170- foot PVC pipe leading into the bunker. SA briefed ASAC on the subject's only demand, which was to have a reporter come into the bunker, record his life story, and observe him commit suicide. Negotiators also learned the hostage required medication and convinced Dykes to allow medicine and toy deliveries. ASAC was provided a copy of the letter Dykes left on the bus outlining his demands for a female reporter in exchange for the hostage.

(U) At approximately 9:30 pm on January 29, 2013, Dykes informed the negotiators he was going to bed. He sealed the bunker-end of the PVC tube and ceased communications. ASAC called SAC Richardson shortly thereafter and fully briefed him on the situation.

(U//~~LES~~) Later that evening, ASAC effectively with the subject. At approximately 4:48 am on January 30, 2013, CP personnel formulated a plan with the subject until negotiators provided the subject a "throw phone."

(U//~~LES~~) Dykes woke up at approximately 8:00 am on January 30, 2013. The negotiators resumed communications Negotiators discussed providing Dykes with a throw phone for communication purposes. The negotiators also obtained Dykes' approval to begin medication deliveries for the hostage. At 10:08 am, the first medicine delivery was made, and at 12:12 pm the throw phone was delivered.

(U) SAC Richardson arrived at the CP early the morning January 30, 2013 and assumed on-scene command duties. ASAC became the deputy on scene commander and was involved in planning and investigative support. ASAC worked a shift which overlapped with SAC Richardson's 6:00 am to 1:00 am shift.

(U) At approximately 1:00 pm on January 30, 2013, CIRG Tactical Section Chief Kevin R. Cornelius authorized HRT deployment to Midland City in response to SAC Richardson's request for assistance. The HRT departed Richmond, VA at approximately 2:30 pm. UC SSA SSA and other members reviewed intelligence and imagery and prepared an emergency assault plan en route while SSA a HRT Master devised a preliminary explosive breaching plan.

(U) The arrived in Midland City at approximately 3:30 pm. SAC Richardson met with SC Cornelius and began developing a tactical plan. They discussed options for resolving the event and shared these options with heads of local law enforcement, to include Dale County Sheriff Gary Olson. UC reported to the CP and assumed the role of ground force commander. UC recommended to SAC Richardson a course of action for the to immediately prepare for emergency and deliberate assault options, as well as a utility mission. The utility mission included medicine and toy deliveries to the bunker, Upon conclusion of the initial in-brief, and for the remainder of January 30, 2013, HRT assumed control of the tactical operations at the incident site and began assisting in the medicine deliveries. During a medicine delivery at 7:20 pm, HRT spoke to the hostage who stated he received the medicine.

(U) Early on the morning of January 31, HRT searched several structures on Dykes' property and discovered no threats to law enforcement personnel. HRT utilized canines to check the area around the other structures on Dykes' property, which were a FEMA trailer, a Conex box, a small shed, and a Ford van. The canines did not locate any IEDs on the property other than the IED in the communication pipe.

(U) Starting January 31, 2013, SAC Richardson held two daily briefings. The first was at 8:00 am and the second at 6:30 pm. The meetings were attended by members of the following groups: Tactical Teams, Bomb Technicians, Negotiators, Behavioral Analysis Unit (BAU), Legal, Medical Support and Aviation. These briefings provided a venue for discussions regarding current circumstances and potential solutions. SAC Richardson continued this practice for the duration of the crisis.

(U) Within the first 12 hours of the incident, Dykes' letter explaining his demands was sent to the FBI's BAU for analysis. Based on the contents of the letter and Dykes' actions, BAU assessed Dykes would follow through with his threats and would probably not come out from the bunker alive. BAU also assessed the hostage to be in danger.

(U//~~LES~~) On January 31, 2013, aircraft from OTD and the Atlanta and Oklahoma City Field Offices arrived on scene and commenced [redacted] b7E -1,4,6
[redacted] CP personnel continued to monitor [redacted]
[redacted] Dykes had previously told negotiators about an IED he built and had with him in the bunker. Dykes said he would detonate the IED should his demand not be met. Dykes further advised he did not want to hurt the hostage, but he would if necessary. Negotiations with Dykes this day met with negative results as Dykes continued to demand to speak to a reporter.

(U) On February1, 2013, HRT Agents [redacted] two medicine deliveries and continued preparations as negotiations continued. UC [redacted] SC Cornelius, SAC Richardson, and negotiators developed a deliberate assault plan [redacted] b7E -1,6 [redacted] While assault plans were formulated, [redacted] commenced an alternating cycle of planning, rehearsals, and medicine and toy deliveries to the bunker. As there was no predetermined team for the deliberate assault, both teams prepared and trained for the same mission. This allowed both teams to adapt and refine the assault plans as circumstances changed or intelligence provided additional information.

(U) On February 2, 2013, negotiations, medicine deliveries, assault preparations, and rehearsals continued.

(U) On February 3, 2013, a federal criminal complaint and arrest warrant were issued by U.S. Magistrate Terry Moorer, United States District Court, Middle District of Alabama. Medicine deliveries and assault preparation continued, however changes in Dykes' and the hostage's behavior were noted. The hostage refused medicine, and negotiations with Dykes became longer with Dykes becoming increasingly agitated. Dykes set a deadline of 5:00 pm February 4, 2013 for the reporter to be produced or he would no longer communicate with the negotiators. [redacted] b7E -4

(U) By February 4, 2013, BAU SSAs [redacted] had worked closely with Crisis Negotiation Unit (CNU) SSA [redacted] to assess Dykes' behavior and prepare negotiations strategy. BAU prepared three on-site assessments documenting evaluations of Dykes' history, current behavior, and possible future behavior. b6 -1 b7C -1

(U) BAU reported the following concerning Dykes to the negotiators, HRT management, and SAC Richardson:

- The best predictor of future action is past behavior. Dykes demonstrated a clear history of using lethal force when his demands were not met. BAU cited Dykes' January 29, 2013 murder of school bus driver Charles Poland for refusing to deliver two of Poland's minor passengers to Dykes. BAU also cited Dykes' recent bludgeoning to death of a neighbor's dog after warning the neighbor he would kill the dog if it appeared again on his property.

- Dykes repeatedly warned during negotiations, "this will go bad" if his demands were not met. BAU advised Dykes must be taken at his word in this regard.

- Although Dykes never specifically threatened to kill the hostage, he left no room for his plan to be altered. If his demands were not met, violence was Dykes' only option.

- [redacted]

- [redacted] b7E -4

- [redacted]

- [redacted] Dykes was isolated, physically abusive to family members, and had a history of cutting off family relationships. [redacted]

- BAU's overall finding was there could be no assumption Dykes would not hurt the hostage. [redacted] Dykes' history, coupled with his behavior following his abduction of the hostage, indicated a very high risk of violence toward the hostage and others.

- BAU observed Dykes to be more difficult to placate in the 24 hours preceding the final assault on the bunker. [redacted] b7E -4 [redacted] Dykes also issued more hard deadlines for his demands.

(U) BAU concluded from these factors Dykes was about to realize his mission was going to fail. Based on his prior history of being uncompromising, he would realize he had no other option than lethal violence.

(U) From the evening of February 3rd into the morning of the 4th, HRT UC [redacted] SSA [redacted] and SSA [redacted] finalized the deliberate assault plan which contained a deadly force b6 -1 b7C -1 policy annex. The operations order and deadly force policy were briefed each of the previous five days as the deliberate assault plan was prepared and finalized.

(U) The plan called for [redacted] The plan was forwarded to UC [redacted] and SC Cornelius for their review. Prior to the end of his shift, UC [redacted] received briefings from the negotiators which indicated the negotiations and subject's demeanor continued to deteriorate.

(U) During the morning of February 4, 2013, a conference call was held to discuss the hostage situation and the assault. Participants in the conference call included FBI Director Robert S. Mueller III, Deputy Director Sean Joyce, Executive Assistant Director Richard A. McFeely, Assistant Director Ronald T. Hosko, SAC Richardson, SAC Steven E. Ibison, SC Cornelius, UC [redacted] ASAC [redacted] SSA [redacted] SSA [redacted] SABT [redacted] and ABI Major Neil Tew. Director Mueller instructed SAC Richardson to call him once the decision was made to initiate the assault. SAC Richardson advised SC Cornelius to prepare for the deliberate assault.

(U) SAC Richardson called EAD McFeely and AD Hosko at approximately 1:50 pm to notify them the operation was going to be initiated. He gave permission to SC Cornelius to move HRT forward to conduct the assault. SAC Richardson then gave UC [redacted] the authority to initiate the deliberate assault, effect an emergency assault if it appeared Dykes was about to harm the hostage, or pull back from the bunker if necessary.

(U) UC [redacted] radioed [redacted] to prepare for the assault. The breach team moved up to the bunker hatch and placed the breaching charge. At 2:59 pm, the breach team returned to their cover position and reported the charge had been set. At 3:00 pm, the [redacted] support element positioned the ramp against the bunker retaining wall and returned to their cover position. At 3:05 pm, SSA [redacted] and HCSO Sgt. [redacted] moved to the bunker, established contact with Dykes, and inserted medicine and toys into the bunker hatch. At 3:08 pm, [redacted] into the hatch and immediately returned to cover positions. UC [redacted]

Through radio contact with SA [redacted] UC [redacted] confirmed the hostage was away from the bunker access tube.

(U) At 3:09 pm, [redacted] UC [redacted] signaled SA [redacted] to detonate the breach charge. b6 -1 b7C -1 b7E -1

(U) The explosive breach detonated and blew the hatch halfway open. Half the assault element, SA [redacted] SSA [redacted] SA [redacted] and SA [redacted] moved from the left side of the van and approached the bunker from the stairs leading up to the bunker hatch. The remaining assault element on the right side of the van, SA [redacted] SA [redacted] and SA [redacted] approached the bunker by using the ramp on the right side of the hatch. SA [redacted] tripped and fell coming off the ramp onto the bunker and SA [redacted] assumed [redacted]'s responsibility to clear the hatch from the opening. SA [redacted] and SA [redacted] worked to clear the hatch for assaulters to enter the opening. SA [redacted] SA [redacted] and SA [redacted] were positioned to go into the hatch opening. The bunker entrance was partially obstructed by cables below the opening, and the assaulters' view was obscured by dust and smoke.

(U) Gunfire erupted from within the bunker. SA [redacted] SA [redacted] dropped into the bunker ladder well using a bracing bar and rope. SA [redacted] moved forward to the bunker entrance yelling "go, go, go." Further gunfire came from within the bunker. b6 -1 b7C -1 b7E -1

(U//~~LES~~) SAC Richardson was in the TOC with several others [redacted] He watched as the breaching charges were detonated and saw the first operator attempt to enter the bunker. [redacted] b7E -1,4,6

[redacted] SAC Richardson heard radio calls, to include "shots fired," and could see assault personnel moving around the incident site [redacted]

(U) SA [redacted] was unable to descend beyond an obstruction in the bunker entrance and yelled "back, back, back!" SA [redacted] and SA [redacted] immediately pulled SA [redacted] out of the opening. SA [redacted] believing SA [redacted] had been shot, used his pistol to cover the bunker hatch as SA [redacted] was pulled from the obstructions in the ladder well. SA [redacted] observed several muzzle flashes from inside the bunker during this time and fired nine .40 caliber rounds from his FBI issued Glock 22 towards the muzzle flashes. b6 -1 b7C -1

(U) The entry momentarily stalled after SA [redacted] encountered the obstructions in the bunker ladder well. Gunfire from within the bunker continued as Dykes yelled from inside the bunker "I'll kill all you fuckers" and "I'll cook this thing off." Dykes detonated the IED inside the PVC communications tube which was followed by a back draft of air from inside the bunker. From 3:10 pm to 3:12 pm, assault element personnel [redacted] into the bunker, and SAs [redacted] succeeded in fully removing the hatch from the bunker opening. At 3:12 pm, SA [redacted] moved forward and inserted a canine into the bunker opening. The canine also became entangled in the bunker ladder well obstruction and was pulled back out. From 3:12 pm to 3:13 pm, SA [redacted] fired a breaching shotgun at the obstruction, and SA [redacted] assisted by SA [redacted] pulled out debris and cut through the obstruction with bolt cutters. Post-incident investigation revealed evidence indicating the obstruction was metal cabling Dykes used to secure the hatch in a closed position. As this was taking place, members of the assault element gave voice commands to Dykes to release the hostage and to surrender and come out of the bunker. Dykes refused to come out of the bunker and continued to curse at the assault team. SSA [redacted] told assaulters to "go, go, go" and "you got to go get the kid." b6 -1 b7C -1 b7E -1

(U) The obstruction was cleared from the bunker ladder well at 3:13 pm. SA [redacted] immediately jumped down into the bunker, followed by SAs [redacted] SA b6 -1 b7C -1

[redacted] then climbed down the ladder behind SA [redacted] but did not fully enter the bunker chamber. b6 -1 b7C -1

(U) As Operator [redacted] felt his way to the left inside the bunker, he encountered the hostage, covered him, and began to crawl with him toward the exit. At the same time, SAs [redacted] using their hands to feel their way through the bunker, climbed over SA [redacted] and the hostage to engage Dykes. They physically encountered Dykes and a struggle ensued. SAs [redacted] evacuated the hostage to the exit while SAs [redacted] attempted to subdue Dykes. Throughout the fight, SAs [redacted] were unable to see or control Dykes' hands. Both SAs [redacted] stated Dykes posed an imminent threat to themselves and the hostage. SA [redacted] fired two .40 caliber rounds from his Glock 22 at Dykes' torso. SA [redacted]'s Glock 22 malfunctioned and he transitioned to his M-4 rifle. He fired five .223 caliber rounds into Dykes' chest. SA [redacted] observed Dykes continue to struggle with SA [redacted] and fired approximately three .40 caliber rounds from his Glock 22 upward from below Dykes' jaw into his head. Dykes ceased struggling at this point. SA [redacted] heard either SA [redacted] or SA [redacted] say [redacted]' and understood the hostage was located. [redacted] is the standard term used by HRT when a hostage is located. The hostage was handed to SA [redacted] from inside the bunker who passed him to another agent outside the bunker at 3:14 pm. SA [redacted] then heard an Agent in the bunker say '[redacted] is standard HRT terminology to communicate a subject is incapacitated. SA [redacted] went back into the bunker to check on the other Agents and to ensure Dykes was secured. Once SA [redacted] received audible confirmation the Agents were okay, he gave a verbal command to the Agents in the bunker to handcuff Dykes for safety purposes. Dykes was handcuffed by SAs [redacted] and [redacted] Due to minimal visibility inside the bunker, Agents were unable to clear Dykes' person of IEDs, which would have enabled them to render first aid or remove him from the bunker. b6 -1 b7C -1 b7E -1

(U) At 3:18 pm, the last HRT member exited the bunker. Dykes died at the scene as a result of his gunshot wounds. UC [redacted] directed the team to move the hostage to the ambulance. SA [redacted] the HRT medic, remained with the hostage and the team returned to the staging area. b6 -1 b7C -1

(U) Tactical operational control was maintained at the incident site until February 6, 2013 when bomb technicians cleared the bunker of IEDs. Evidence Recovery Teams removed Dykes' body from the bunker and processed the site for evidence. The security perimeter was maintained for several more days during this period to ensure public safety and preservation of evidence.

B. Shooting Incident Review Protocol

(U) All members of the SIRT reviewed the INSD Shooting Review Protocol.

(U) On 02/04/2013, IIC Bretzing communicated with Mobile Division Special Agent in Charge (SAC) Stephen Richardson, to arrange logistics prior to arriving in Midland City, AL. SAC Richardson assigned ASAC [redacted] to serve as the Point of Contact for the SIRT during the investigation period. Members of the SIRT began arriving during the early morning hours of 02/05/2013. On 02/05/2013, Inspector Marshall addressed approximately 200 FBI, state and local law enforcement personnel and explained INSD and SIRT protocols. Later that day, IIC Bretzing and Inspector Marshall met with SAC Richardson to explain the protocol of the shooting inquiry. They also met with all SIRT personnel and outlined SIRT protocols. There was an opportunity for dialogue regarding concerns, clarification, or questions prior to the investigation commencing. Over the next two days, SIRT personnel reviewed recordings of the 01/29/2013 kidnapping and bus driver shooting incident, and the 02/04/2013 HRT operation which resulted in the rescue of the hostage and shooting death of the subject. SIRT personnel also went to the scene of the shooting to visually examine the bunker in which the deceased subject barricaded himself and the hostage for six days. b6 -1 b7C -1

(U) Signed Sworn Statements (SSS) were taken from five FBI personnel who were directly involved in the shooting or related events. Copies of SSSs were provided to those interviewees who requested them. Other interviews, events and observations were documented in FD-302s. The FD-927 (Warning and Assurance to Employee Requested to Provide Information Following a Shooting) were executed by all personnel providing SSSs. Neither the FD-644 (Warning and Assurance to Employee Requested to Provide Information on a Voluntary

(U) SA [redacted]'s most recent qualification with his FBI-issued Glock 22, Serial Number [redacted], was on 11/28/2012.

E. Deadly Force Training

(U) The CIRG CDC provided annual legal training to FBI CIRG employees on 09/25/2012, and the DOJ/FBI Deadly Force Policy was briefed. The CIRG CDC advised HRT was provided a DVD of the annual legal training presentation following the 09/25/2012 briefing. The CIRG CDC further advised CIRG policy required the Deadly Force Policy be briefed before every mission.

(U) INSD determined a written operation plan was prepared for the 02/04/2013 hostage rescue mission and briefed to all personnel involved in the operation. The DOJ/FBI Deadly Force Policy was written into the operation plan.

F. Use of Body Armor and Law Enforcement Identifiers

(U) All HRT personnel who entered the bunker and engaged the subject wore ballistic body armor bearing FBI identifiers on the front and rear, and ballistic helmets. HRT personnel verbally identified themselves to the subject as FBI prior to entering the bunker and prior to engaging subject.

G. FBI Indices and National Crime Information Center (NCIC)

(U) On February 6, 2013, [redacted] Intelligence Analyst, Mobile Division, conducted a Universal Index search for Jimmy Lee Dykes, white male, date of birth 04/09/1947, social security account number 418-64-3336, FBI number 15630F. The search yielded results b6 -1 b7C -1 for 256C-MO-2718840, the pending hostage taking case in the Mobile Division. The search met with negative results for all other investigative matters.

(U) On February 10, 2013, [redacted], Forensic Accountant, Mobile Division, provided printouts from the National Crime Information Center (NCIC) and the [redacted], with criminal history information for Jimmy Lee Dykes, white male, date of birth 04/09/1947, social security account number 418-64-3336, FBI number 15630F. b6 -1 b7C -1 b7E -8

(U) The print-outs contained multiple records for Dykes including the following three most recent entries:

- On 12/22/2012, Dykes was arrested for menacing, noting the charge was a misdemeanor. The report generated from [redacted] provided case number 2600DC201200108700 and a case status of "Bond." No further information was provided in the report. b7E -8
- On 04/22/2000, Dykes was arrested for drug possession by the Bonifay, Florida police department. He was sentenced to twelve months probation and a two year driver's license suspension.
- On 02/24/1995, Dykes was arrested for the unlawful display of a firearm by the Bay County, Florida Sheriff's office. The charges were dismissed on 06/22/1995.

(U) Prior arrests on charges of petit larceny, destroying property, marijuana possession, insulting a police officer, and driving while intoxicated were recorded from 06/30/1964 through 01/24/1980.

(U) In 1977, Dykes served a one-year prison term in the Houston County, Alabama jail for marijuana possession. He was released on parole on 08/28/1978.

H. Evidence Recovery Team (ERT)

(U) Mobile ERT, under Lab Division supervision, conducted post-incident shooting trajectory analysis and evidence recovery.

(U) On 02/06/2013, ERT executed a search warrant, issued in Circuit Court of Dale County by the State of Alabama, at 256 Private Road 1539, Midland City, Alabama. The purpose of the search was to process the crime scene in connection with the joint investigation between the Federal Bureau of Investigation (FBI) and the Alabama Bureau of Investigation (ABI). The search of the bunker located on the property address resulted in the collection of approximately 94 overall items of evidence. The search of a trailer, which served as the subject's residence, resulted in the collection of 36 evidence items. Three items of evidence were collected from a large shipping container (referred to as the CONEX) located on the property and 17 additional items were recovered from the search of the property grounds. All items of evidence collected were being processed by the FBI Laboratory for inclusion in the Mobile investigative file.

(U) ERT SSA [redacted] provided INSD with copies of the ERT evidence collection logs, sketches, photograph logs, and photographs. Mobile ERT SA [redacted] provided three additional CDs containing scene photographs. b6 -1 b7C -1

J. Medical Examiner Reports

(U) On February 7, 2013, Dr. [redacted] State Medical Examiner for the Alabama Department of Forensic Sciences, conducted the autopsy of Jimmy Lee Dykes. Initial information from the autopsy of Dykes indicated he was shot 12 times, with wounds located in the face and chest, with the exception of one wound in the left hand. There were multiple overlying wound tracks and trajectories, and individual wound channels could not be identified. Four projectiles of unspecified caliber were recovered from the chest, skull, back, and neck. Multiple non-retrievable small fragments were located in the chest and shoulder. The initial information is categorized as follows: b6 -4 b7C -4

|---|---|
| Total Gun Shot Wounds | 12 |
| Fatal shots | Undetermined |
| Non-fatal shots | Undetermined |
| Bullets recovered | 4 (unidentified) |
| Wound locations: | |
| Head | 3 shots |
| Neck | 1 shot |
| Chest and abdomen | 7 shots |

(U) The majority of rounds entered Dykes' chest and face. The seven chest entry wounds were surrounded by stippling or soot. The final cause of death was reported as "Multiple Gunshot Wounds."

K. Declination by the Civil Rights Division

(U) Upon completion of the on-site inquiry, IIC Bretzing coordinated SIRT findings with [redacted], Special Legal Counsel, Department of Justice, Civil Rights Division. On 06/03/2013, he was provided an incident summary and copies of all eyewitness interviews. On 06/10/2013 he was provided a copy of the autopsy, a copy of the Medical Examiner interview, and copies of diagrams and sketches of the bunker. On 06/13/2013, Mr. [redacted] advised the circumstances of the Agent-involved shooting did not, "warrant a federal criminal investigation." b6 -3 b7C -3

L. Local Prosecutive Opinion

Details:

(U//~~FOUO~~) On 03/25/2014, the SIRG convened to review a shooting incident which occurred on 02/04/2013, involving Hostage Rescue Team (HRT) Operators [redacted] The HRT Operators shot and killed

Jimmy Lee Dykes after a six day stand off. Dykes held a [redacted] year old boy captive in his underground bunker after shooting and killing the boy's bus driver. HRT operators executed a deliberate assault plan. During entry, Dykes fired several rounds at the HRT Operators and detonated an IED. Fearing for the life of HRT Operator [redacted], who was in Dykes' line of fire, Operator [redacted] fired at Dykes from the top of the bunker. Once inside the bunker, HRT Operators physically encountered Dykes and a struggle ensued. Throughout the fight, HRT Operators were unable to see or control Dykes' hands. Dykes repeatedly ignored verbal commands and posed an ongoing deadly threat to the hostage and HRT Operators. Operators [redacted] fired their weapons at Dykes ending the struggle.

SIRG Observations

(U//~~FOUO~~) On 03/25/2014, the SIRG reviewed the Agent-involved shooting incident with the intent to:

1. Evaluate the application of deadly force.

The SIRG unanimously determined the application of deadly force by HRT Operators [redacted] on 02/04/2013 was in compliance with the Department of Justice's Deadly Force Policy.

2. Provide the Director with an evaluative analysis, observations, and recommendations for corrective actions concerning operational planning and execution, training, and/or safety issues. The SIRG board reviewed the SIRT Report's two observations and corresponding instruction/recommendations:

(U) Observation 1: HRT operators removed accessories from firearms used in a shooting incident prior to surrendering them as evidence.

(U) Analysis 1: Field Evidence Management and Operations Policy Implementation Guide (PG) Section 4.8 required seized firearms to include all accessories, parts, ammunition and associated items, including but not limited to: sites, holsters, bayonets, cases, scopes, flash suppressors, magazines, muzzle attachments, and flashlights/laser sighting devices that are designed or meant to be used in conjunction with a firearm, and are to be classified and stored as a firearm and categorized and entered into the FBI's central recordkeeping system/collected items as a "Firearms/Other."

(U) HRT SC Cornelius and UC [redacted] stated HRT had a limited number of [redacted] for their weapons. In an effort to maintain "mission status," HRT operators were directed to remove [redacted] and other accessories from the firearms used during the shooting incident prior to surrendering them to the Mobile Principal Firearms Instructor. b6 -1 b7C -1 b7E -1

(U) Instruction 1: AD, CIRG will ensure compliance with Field Evidence Management and Operations PG Section 4.8.

(U) Observation 2: HRT Team Leaders (TLs) did not exercise adequate command and control over HRT personnel and their actions at the bunker.

(U) Analysis 2a: During operational briefings leading up to the 02/04/2013 hostage rescue mission, HRT personnel were advised of the possibility of a bunker cave-in and of the presence of an IED inside the bunker. [redacted] b7E -1,4,6

stated during witness interviews, TLs had ample time to direct personnel off the top of the bunker who were not essential to the bunker assault team's mission, thereby reducing risk to all personnel involved.

(U) Analysis 2b: The composition of the HRT assault team which ultimately entered the bunker deviated from the original operations plan. The operations plan designated SAs [redacted] Upon the breach, SA [redacted] entry into the bunker was impeded by debris from the breach blast. The operation paused as HRT operators devised a plan to clear the obstruction. Once cleared, SA [redacted] entered the bunker as planned. However, he was followed by SA [redacted] who was assigned a perimeter position and not directed by TL [redacted] or A/TL [redacted] to enter. SA [redacted] was then followed by A/TL [redacted] During his interview, SA [redacted] stated he had no idea who was in the bunker with him until after the subject had been shot and killed. A/TL [redacted] stated he did not know SA [redacted] was in the bunker until after SA [redacted] left the bunker.

(U) Recommendation 2a: AD, CIRG should ensure Team Leaders maintain command and control of personnel during small unit tactical operations.

(U) Recommendation 2b: AD, CIRG should ensure Operators execute operations orders unless directed otherwise.

(U//~~FOUO~~) The SIRG Board concurred with Observation 1 in it's entirety however, the board did not concur with Observation 2. The board stated the operations plan allowed for operators to react as they did, based on the fluid nature of the tactical response. INSD disagreed.

(U//~~FOUO~~) Following the review, INSD rewrote the analysis for Observation 2 to include facts which further illustrated HRT's knowledge of risks and contingencies they planned for, but disregarded, during the execution of the operation. With the revised analysis, INSD reinstated Observation 2, in part, as follows:

(U) Observation 2: HRT Team Leaders (TLs) did not exercise adequate command and control over HRT personnel and their actions at the bunker.

(U) Analysis 2: During operational briefings leading up to the 02/04/2013 hostage rescue mission, HRT personnel were advised of the possibility of a bunker cave-in and of the presence of an IED inside the bunker. [redacted] b7E -1,4

[redacted] This was identified as a potential threat to the hostage and HRT Operators. HRT operational planning recognized the hazard and assigned HRT Operators specific roles to include several to perimeter positions.

(U) Once the deliberative assault began, [redacted] b7E -1,4,6

[redacted] HRT TLs at the bunker should have recognized the inherent danger to the hostage and operators inside the bunker with so many personnel on top of the bunker. TLs should have further recognized the risk to personnel inside and on top of the bunker created by the potential detonation of the IED inside the bunker. Given the timeline of events [redacted] as well as stated during witness interviews, TLs had ample time to direct personnel off the top of the bunker who were not essential to the bunker assault team's mission, thereby reducing risk to all personnel involved.

(U) Recommendation 2: AD, CIRG should ensure Team Leaders maintain command and control of personnel during small unit tactical operations.

3. Provide recommendations for administrative action if deemed necessary. The SIRG made no recommendations or observations requesting additional training for the Agents involved in this shooting incident. This matter will not be referred to IIS.

Subject: Alabama Shooting declination

Inspector Greg Bretsing
Inspections Division

Based upon the information that I have reviewed from the Shooting Incident Inquiry, we have determined that the shooting during a hostage rescue by FBI Hostage Rescue Team operators on February 4, 2013, near Dothan, Alabama, resulting in the death of Jimmy Lee Dykes, does not warrant federal criminal investigation. There is no evidence to support a determination that there was a violation of the federal criminal civil rights statutes.

On January 29, 2013, Jimmy Lee Dykes abducted a child from a school bus, killing the driver, and took the 5 year old boy as a hostage into an underground bunker on his property. His motives and demands were irrational and Dykes rigged the bunker and surrounding area with IEDs (improvised explosive devices). To assist local law enforcement, a contingent of specialized FBI personnel were quickly amassed to evaluate the situation, plan a rescue, and attempt to negotiate with Dykes. The team included FBI supervisors, negotiators, behavioral experts, legal and medical personnel, HRT and SWAT, aviation, and bomb technicians. A Navy construction crew built a mock up of the entry and insides of the bunker to be used by HRT to practice a rescue of the hostage.

Communications were established through an air duct at Dykes suggestion. When it was discovered that Dykes had rigged an IED to the air duct, [redacted] b7E -1 [redacted] It was known that Dykes was armed with a handgun and a long gun and had already killed the bus driver with whom he had a previously friendly relationship. Meanwhile, local law enforcement and FBI negotiators continued efforts of the next week to attempt to persuade Dykes to surrender and not to act on his threats to kill the hostage. Meanwhile, HRT practiced breaching the bunker.

The FBI decision-makers faced no good alternatives. The continuing stalemate posed the risk that the hostage would be killed. Each day, Dykes faced increasingly desperate circumstances; he continued to demonstrate bizarre behavior; and it was feared that he saw the hostage's value to him as decreasingly less leverage. On the other hand, breaching the bunker presented its own risks. Entry into a bunker where an armed, dangerous (he had killed days earlier), and irrational man held a little boy as a hostage, posed deadly risks. When provoked by the actual reality of an entry, Dykes could shoot and kill the hostage. He could shoot and kill HRT operators as they entered his ground through a narrow entrance and were very vulnerable. Since Dykes had some IEDs, he could have more, others rigged in a fashion capable of blowing up and collapsing the bunker on all inside.

On February 4, the seventh day of a tense and deteriorating stand-off, an FBI HRT team breached the bunker, rescued the child unharmed, and shot and killed Dykes during an exchange of gunfire in the darken bunker as Dykes fired at the HRT operators, detonated pre-set IEDs, and grappled with the HRT operators in the darkness alongside the terrified hostage. The young boy was physically unharmed and no FBI personnel were seriously injured.

The FBI officials and agents involved in the decision to breach the bunker and those who heroically fought their way inside to engage Dykes and to save the hostage all provided voluntary, consistent accounts, which were not contradicted by the other information, including the autopsy. The HRT operators' complete and thorough accounts enabled a fully informed decision and were appreciated.

Review disclosed no evidence that there was a violation of the federal criminal civil rights statutes. A federal criminal investigation is not warranted and the administrative review of this matter should be completed.

Office of the Chief Inspector Federal Bureau of Investigation

To whom it may concern:

The office of the Dale County District Attorney has fully assessed the facts and circumstances surrounding the hostage taking by Mr. Jimmy Lee Dykes, at 256 North Private Road 1539 in Dale County, Alabama. Based on the totality of the circumstances it has been determined and concluded by this office that the actions taken to include the use of deadly force by the Federal Bureau of Investigation (FBI) on February 4, 2013, were justified, proper and necessary in order to rescue and ensure the safety of the hostage.

As a result of the above determination, this office has declined a presentment of the facts to the Grand Jury and declined prosecution of any FBI employee involved or connected to the hostage rescue operation.

Sincerely,

Kirke Adams
Dale County District Attorney

I. Executive Summary

(U) On 08/10/2013, at approximately 5:20 pm, an Agent-involved shooting occurred in the remote area of Morehead Lake near Cascade, Idaho. The Agents involved, Hostage Rescue Team (HRT) Operators [redacted] were participating in an FBI hostage rescue operation. On 08/04/2013, while responding to a fire at the Boulevard, California residence of James Lee DiMaggio, the California Department of Forestry discovered the deceased bodies of Christina Anderson and her son, Ethan Anderson. [redacted] was missing. A San Diego area highway camera captured video of DiMaggio driving his vehicle with [redacted] as a passenger. On 08/06/2013, the San Diego County Sheriff's Office (SDCSO) obtained an arrest warrant for DiMaggio charging two counts of homicide and one count of arson, and the San Diego Field Office (SD) initiated a kidnapping investigation. b6 -1,5 b7C -1,5

(U) On 08/08/2013, the Salt Lake City (SU) Field Office, Boise Resident Agency, was notified a [redacted] observed an unknown male and an unknown female hiking with a gray cat in a wilderness area in Valley County, Idaho. The [redacted] thought the male and female were out of place, and noted they were carrying blue backpacks. Intelligence received from the SDCSO indicated DiMaggio likely purchased two blue backpack covers, and his gray cat was missing from his residence in California. The [redacted] reported the sighting after he and his three companions returned home and saw an Amber Alert relating to [redacted] On 08/09/2013, DiMaggio's Nissan Versa was located abandoned near a trail leading to the wilderness area. The sightings triggered a manhunt and deployment of FBI and law enforcement resources, to include SU investigative, Crisis Management, SWAT, Crisis Negotiation Team (CNT), and Evidence Response Team (ERT) personnel. b6 -5,8 b7C -5,8

(U) In the late morning and early afternoon of 08/10/2013, United Sates Marshals Service (USMS) and FBI aviation assets observed a campsite consistent with earlier reporting placing DiMaggio and [redacted] north of Morehead Lake near Cascade, Idaho. FBI aviation assets assumed the lead for ongoing surveillance and observed a male, female [redacted] and cat at the campsite. Based on the surveillance information, HRT deployed [redacted] HRT b6 -5 b7C -5 b7E -1

Operators to hike into the campsite to locate and identify the individuals observed near Morehead Lake.

(U) At 2:08 pm, the first [ ] HRT Operators were inserted at a landing zone approximately [ ] kilometers from the campsite. This unit of HRT Operators hiked for more than two hours over difficult terrain toward the campsite. As the HRT Operators patrolled towards the campsite, FBI aviation assets observed the male attempting to camouflage a tent and the female attempting to signal aviation assets. FBI aviation assets advised the distance between the male and female was increasing. At approximately 4:22 pm, SU and CIRG command staff at the CP in Cascade, ID granted the HRT Operators [ ] authority to execute a rescue and arrest operation at the campsite. b7E -1 b7E -1

(U) The primary assault force consisted of Team Leader Supervisory Special Agent (SSA) [ ] Special Agent (SA) [ ] SA [ ] SA [ ] SA [ ] and SA [ ] accompanied by his canine. [ ] As they reached approximately 100 meters from the campsite, SA [ ] spotted an individual he believed to be DiMaggio. As the assault element moved forward, DiMaggio raised a rifle in the direction of the assault force and fired two shots. SA [ ] and SA [ ] returned fire and struck DiMaggio five times. As SA [ ] and SA [ ] quickly closed the distance to DiMaggio, they witnessed him reaching for a handgun in his waistband. SA [ ] fired one additional shot striking DiMaggio in the head. Operators then moved in to secure [ ] handcuff DiMaggio, and clear the scene for explosives. Located on or near DiMaggio's body were a .22 caliber rifle, 9mm pistol in his waistband, and knife. Operators escorted [ ] to a nearby landing zone where she was flown out of the area. b6 -1,5 b7C -1,5 b7E -1

The following personnel were tasked to conduct or support the rescue operation:

c. Events Leading Up to the Shooting

(U) James Lee DiMaggio was a 40-year-old white male who lived alone at 2071 Ross Avenue, Boulevard, California. On 08/04/2013, at approximately 8:00 pm, the California Department of Forestry (CDF) received a call reporting a structure fire at this address. The CDF immediately responded to the scene where they found the north side of the residence, described as a two story log cabin, fully engulfed in flames. A grey Chevrolet Trailblazer, bearing California license plate 6ZJH489, was parked on the northwest side of the residence. While fighting the fire, CDF personnel noticed a glow and smoke coming from a three car detached garage to the northwest of the main residence. Through a broken window, a CDF firefighter extinguished the fire and returned to fighting the ongoing fire at the residence.

(U) After the firefighters gained control of the fire at the residence, two firefighters returned to the garage and entered through a pedestrian door. Inside, they discovered a green tarp on the ground near the door [redacted] Upon lifting the tarp, they discovered a human body [redacted] In addition, a crow bar and what appeared to be blood was discovered on the ground next to the body. After further investigation, a deceased dog was located under a sleeping bag. b6 -5 b7C -5

(U) The body in the garage was identified as Christina Marie Anderson, date of birth 07/01/1969. Anderson's home address was identified through her California Department of Motor Vehicles license as [redacted] San Diego, California. The grey Chevrolet Trailblazer parked in front of DiMaggio's burnt residence was registered to Anderson. As the search continued through DiMaggio's residence, [redacted] a small child were discovered. The child was later identified as Anderson's eight year old son, Ethan Skipjack Anderson. It was also determined [redacted] was missing. Investigation determined [redacted] had been picked up from [redacted] by an unknown person on 08/03/2013, at approximately 4:00 pm. b6 -5 b7C -5

(U) Interviews of family and friends determined DiMaggio to be a long time family friend who had taken [redacted] on several trips, the most recent being to [redacted] At approximately 12:10 am on 08/04/2013, a San Diego area highway camera captured video of DiMaggio driving his Nissan Versa with a female believed to be [redacted] as a passenger. An Amber Alert was issued on 08/05/2013. b6 -5 b7C -5 b3 -1

(U) On 08/06/2013, a State of California arrest warrant was issued charging DiMaggio with two counts of Murder and one count of Arson. In response, a massive manhunt involving the FBI, SDCSO, and the USMS was initiated to locate DiMaggio and rescue [redacted] While working in cooperation with each other, the FBI conducted a kidnapping investigation, the USMS a fugitive investigation, and the SDCSO a homicide investigation. b6 -5 b7C -5

(U) On 08/08/2013, [redacted] reported an unusual encounter with two individuals while horseback riding with [redacted] and two friends, [redacted] advised the four were riding horses on 08/07/2013 at approximately 9:30 am in a remote area near Cascade, Idaho. The group was riding on Sand Creek Trail, past a small airfield on Pistol Creek Ridge near Honeymoon Lake, where they encountered two individuals hiking on foot. The two individuals stepped off the left side of the trail to let the horses pass. One hiker appeared to be a forty year old male and the other a [redacted] female. The male remarked about wishing they had horses as well. [redacted] thought the man seemed suspicious, and "didn't like his look." [redacted] also thought it was odd the male was in such a remote area with a [redacted] female who did not appear related. [redacted] appeared nervous. As the group passed the hikers, [redacted] inquired as to b6 -5,8 b7C -5,8 where they were going. The male stated they were headed to the Salmon River. The group passed the two hikers and continued on their intended route.

(U) The male was described as white, approximately forty years old, five foot, ten inches tall, slim to medium build, with a three to four day growth of beard. He was wearing a grey sweatshirt, grey sweat pants, and tennis shoes. The male did not appear to be armed and was carrying a backpack. He did not appear dressed for strenuous hiking in a remote area.

(U) female was described as a with a She was approximately tall. She weighed approximately pounds. She was wearing Like the male, she did not appear dressed for strenuous hiking in a remote area. b6 -5 b7C -5

(U) At approximately 4:30 pm, as they were preparing to depart their fishing site, the group again encountered the two hikers. Since their first encounter, estimated the hikers had traveled on foot twelve miles with large packs to reach their current location near Morehead Lake. The male was holding a grey cat in his arms. Everyone in the group was surprised to see him with a cat, as the location was remote and known to be inhabited by wolves. asked the man where they were headed. The man stated they were traveling to the Salmon River. directed them to follow the trail to Sulfur Creek, then toward Dagger Falls. From there, told them the Salmon River was a "straight shot." The male thanked and his companions for the information. The male commented the hiking trip was his choice this year and stated the prior year, the female decided they would visit Hollywood and the Los Angeles, California area. b6 -8 b7C -8

(U) female was several yards away from the man, soaking her feet in Morehead Lake. made a joke suggesting the female would frighten the fish with her feet in the water. The female did not reply. As the group left the area, heard state, "We're in trouble now." Although everyone in s group had an uneasy feeling about the two hikers, they did not believe the female was in danger. b6 -5,8 b7C -5,8

(U) first learned of an Amber Alert, while watching the local news on 08/08/2013. During the news segment, photos of James DiMaggio and appeared, and instantly recognized the photos as the two hikers the group had encountered the prior day. Everyone in 's group agreed the photos in the Amber Alert appeared to be the two hikers.

(U) On 08/08/2013, a Command Post (CP) was established at the Valley County, Idaho Sheriff's Office and staffed by SU FBI, Idaho State Police (ISP), and Valley County Sheriff's Office (VCSO) personnel. Initially, Acting SSA coordinated FBI resources under the direction of ASAC who was in contact via telephone. During this time, ASAC provided telephonic briefings to SAC Mary Rook. b6 -1 b7C -1

(U) On 08/09/2013 at approximately 8:30 am, a conference call between the SU and San Diego (SD) Field Offices, Critical Incident Response Group (CIRG), and Criminal Investigative Division (CID) was held, and a decision was made to deploy CIRG and San Francisco (SF) Field Office aviation assets, SF and Portland (PD) Field Office SWAT personnel, and CIRG Tactical Section personnel to Idaho. Subsequent to the conference call, SAC Mary Rook designated ASAC as the On-Scene-Commander (OCS) of the operation. Shortly thereafter, ASAC departed Helena, Montana and arrived at the Cascade CP at approximately 8:00 pm. In addition, SU Supervisory Senior Resident Agent (SSRA) arrived at the CP. ASAC held an inter-agency briefing which included the VCSO, ISP, United States Customs and Border Protection (USCBP), USMS, and the United States Forest b6 -1 b7C -1

Service (USFS) during which ASAC [redacted] recapped the events, reviewed current intelligence, and developed a plan to conduct [redacted] b6 -1,5,8 b7C -1,5,8 b7E -1

(U) On 08/09/2013 at approximately 9:00 am, DiMaggio's Nissan Versa was located abandoned near a trail leading to the wilderness area where [redacted]s group encountered the male and [redacted] female on 08/07/2013 in Valley County, Idaho. SU ERT personnel responded and processed the scene.

(U) On 08/09/2013 at approximately 3:00 pm Eastern Standard Time (EST), HRT [redacted] Unit UC [redacted] received notification and authority from CIRG Assistant Director James Yacone and Tactical Section Chief (SC) Jay Tabb to deploy HRT personnel to Boise, ID to assist in the rescue of [redacted] Due to the limited intelligence available and the lack of a specific location, HRT had a general concept of operation to conduct rural foot patrols in order to locate DiMaggio and [redacted] UC [redacted] was designated as the Tactical Section On-Scene-Commander (TS – OSC), and led the deployment of [redacted] Unit HRT personnel from Richmond, VA to Boise, ID. b6 -1,5 b7C -1,5 b7E -7

(U) After arriving in Boise, UC [redacted] and Tactical Section personnel SSA [redacted] SSA [redacted] SSA [redacted] SSA [redacted] and SSA [redacted] traveled to the CP in Cascade. They reported to the CP at approximately 3:30 am on Saturday 08/10/2013. SA [redacted] of the SU Field Office, Boise Resident Agency, provided UC [redacted] and his team with a situational update. b6 -1 b7C -1

(U) On 08/10/2013 at approximately 7:00 am, UC [redacted] attended the morning situational update briefing at the CP conducted by SU ASAC [redacted] Subsequent to the briefing, UC [redacted] and his Command Staff developed an operational plan and general scheme of maneuver to deploy HRT Operators, assisted by SWAT Team Agents from the SU, SF, and Portland (PD) Field Offices, to search for and rescue [redacted] b6 -1,5 b7C -1,5

(U) At approximately 8:00 am, UC [redacted] conducted a conference call with CIRG Tactical SC Jay Tabb and other members of the Tactical Section Command Group. During this call, an operational plan was developed and refined [redacted] At the conclusion of the meeting, UC [redacted] participated in a conference call with the Strategic Information Operations Center (SIOC) at FBIHQ during which a situational update was provided. Participating in the call were personnel from FBIHQ, CIRG, SD, SU, Operational Technology Division, and the Salt Lake Emergency Operations Center. b6 -1 b7C -1 b7E -1

(U) At approximately 10:15 am, all remaining HRT personnel departed Boise and traveled by vehicle to a staging area adjacent to the CP, arriving in Cascade at approximately 12:15 pm.

(U) At approximately 12:00 pm, [redacted] spotted a campsite and a blue tent near Morehead Lake. Shortly thereafter, an FBI aviation asset relieved the [redacted] as part of a shift change. At approximately 12:30 pm, while continuing surveillance of this location, the FBI pilots identified one male, one female [redacted] a cat, and a blue tent at the campsite. In response to the new intelligence, UC [redacted] and his staff modified their tactical plan. Changes were made because they were confident DiMaggio and [redacted] had been located. The tactical plan was altered [redacted] Upon arrival to the campsite, HRT planned to conduct [redacted] UC [redacted] split the Tactical Operators into three assault elements, and held one of the HRT elements as a Quick Reaction Force (QRF). The FBI Field Office SWAT Teams were not directly involved [redacted] but were included in the plan in a b6 -1 b7C -1 b7E -1 supporting role. The plan was verbally briefed and UC [redacted] prepared to deploy the HRT Operators.

(U) Prior to deploying the HRT Operators, UC [redacted] and the HRT Operators reviewed communications procedures, the medical plan, and the FBI's Deadly Force Policy. HRT Operators were divided into [redacted] consisted of SSA [redacted] SSA [redacted] SA [redacted] SA [redacted] SA [redacted] SA [redacted] SA [redacted] SA [redacted] SA [redacted] and his canine, and SA [redacted] and his canine.

d. Shooting Incident Details

(U) At 1:40 pm, [redacted] departed in two helicopters from the CP toward the campsite. At approximately 2:08 pm, [redacted] inserted approximately [redacted] kilometers southwest of the campsite. [redacted] was unable to land at the original insertion point because of the terrain. They inserted at a secondary point further away and hiked up a mountain to their planned insertion point where they rallied together. SSAs [redacted] and lead route navigator SA [redacted] discussed the route. The surveillance aircraft continued to communicate intelligence from the campsite. At 2:55 pm, the remaining HRT [redacted] were inserted on the ground using the same insertion point.

(U) [redacted] marched forward until they were approximately one kilometer away from the campsite. At this point, SSA [redacted] then designated the location [redacted] Through relays from the aircraft, SSA [redacted] notified the Tactical Operations Center (TOC) their ETA to the campsite would be approximately 45 minutes. SSA [redacted] assigned roles to each operator. [redacted]

(U) [redacted] continued toward the campsite. [redacted] The plan was for SSA [redacted] s team ( [redacted] SSA [redacted] team was [redacted] Surveillance aircraft reported the campsite was 50 meters from the north edge of the lake. There was a small ridgeline between the lake and the camp. SSA [redacted] s team discovered they had no oversight of the camp because of the ridgeline and trees. While SSA [redacted] and his team were making their assent up the ridge, SSA [redacted] reported they were 150 meters out and spotted the subject. SSA [redacted] and his element continued to move forward. SSA [redacted] ordered SSA [redacted] to stop until [redacted] s team was in position to assist and cover. The surveillance aircraft reported the subject and female were now approximately 100 feet apart. SSA [redacted] and his team reached the top and realized they were not going to be able to provide support without compromising their positions. Surveillance aircraft reported the distance between the individual believed to be DiMaggio and the female had doubled. SAs [redacted] and [redacted] were able to see DiMaggio walking around the campsite gathering wood. At this point,

SSA [redacted] gave execute authority over the operation to SSA [redacted] who advised his group to move forward when ready. b6 -1 b7C -1

(U) SA [redacted] called over the radio "we're moving" and the assault was initiated. SSA [redacted]'s team crept forward toward the camp. SA [redacted] observed DiMaggio directly in front of him as SA [redacted] moved forward using trees as cover. SA [redacted] observed a rifle in DiMaggio's right hand. With several trees between SA [redacted] and DiMaggio, SA [redacted] observed DiMaggio raise the rifle at a 45 degree angle from the ground and fire one round. SA [redacted] then momentarily lost sight of DiMaggio as he continued forward. SA [redacted] heard DiMaggio fire a second round and believed DiMaggio was firing at him. At the same time, SA [redacted] observed DiMaggio facing west while holding a rifle with the muzzle elevated and stock dropped. SA [redacted] had a view of the right side of DiMaggio's body. SA [redacted] heard DiMaggio say something similar to "It is go time" or "Here we go" before firing two rounds in a westerly direction. After the shots were fired, SA [redacted] moved to acquire a better view and observed DiMaggio looking toward SA [redacted] with his rifle pointed in SA [redacted]'s direction. Fearing DiMaggio was about to shoot SA [redacted] SA [redacted] fired two shots at DiMaggio using his H&K Model 416 rifle. (ERT analysis determined SA [redacted] fired from approximately 68 feet.) Simultaneously, SA [redacted] observed DiMaggio turn the rifle in his direction and believed DiMaggio was about to fire. SA [redacted] also believed DiMaggio's actions posed a threat to SA [redacted] who was positioned just to the west of SA [redacted] In response, SA [redacted] fired six rounds using his Colt M-4 rifle. (ERT analysis determined SA [redacted] fired from approximately 99 feet.) DiMaggio was struck five times and dropped to the ground.

(U) As SAs [redacted] continued to advance on DiMaggio, they observed DiMaggio, while on the ground, make a hand movement toward what both believed to be a handgun in his waistband. In response, SA [redacted] fired one shot (ERT analysis determined SA [redacted] fired this last shot from approximately 13 feet) striking DiMaggio in the head. SAs [redacted] and [redacted] ran toward [redacted] who was screaming "Oh my God, help me." SA [redacted] handed [redacted] off to SA [redacted] and other operators for medical screening and evacuation. After SA [redacted] cleared the tent, the scene was secured. At approximately 5:26 pm, SAs [redacted] and [redacted] conducted a canine search of the campsite for explosives with negative results. b6 -1,5 b7C -1,5

(U) Upon hearing shots, SSA [redacted] asked SSA [redacted] for a situation report. SSA [redacted] reported the subject was "down hard" and the victim was safe. At approximately 5:21 pm, SSA [redacted] advised the TOC the subject was "down hard" and "Jackpot, Jackpot, Jackpot." "Down hard" meant the subject was dead and "Jackpot" meant the hostage had been rescued. A perimeter search was conducted and the scene secured. A medical assessment conducted by SA [redacted] determined [redacted] was unharmed but had a minor knee injury. b6 -1,5 b7C -1,5

(U) At approximately 6:08 pm, [redacted] was evacuated from the area via helicopter and transported to an area hospital for medical treatment. Two members of the SU ERT and four members of SU SWAT arrived at the campsite at approximately 6:30 pm and conducted an initial assessment. SSA [redacted] and SAs [redacted] showed the ERT and SWAT personnel the sites from which [redacted] fired their weapons and the locations of the shell casings. SF SWAT arrived at approximately 9:00 pm and secured the scene until the SU b6 -1,5 b7C -1,5

ERT was able to process the scene the following morning. Physician's Assistant (PA) [redacted] was inserted after the scene was secure and pronounced DiMaggio dead. b6 -1,2,5 b7C -1,2,5

(U) At approximately 6:11 pm, the Salt Lake City Emergency Operations Center provided FBIHQ with a situational update summarizing the rescue of [redacted] and shooting of DiMaggio.

(U) From 6:00 pm until 9:00 pm, UC [redacted] coordinated the insertion of SWAT and ERT personnel, and the extraction from the rescue site of all HRT personnel. At 9:30 pm, the remaining HRT operators returned to the Command Post. On 8/11/2013 at approximately 9:15 am, UC [redacted] and HRT personnel returned to Boise, ID.

B. Shooting Incident Review Protocol

(U) All members of the SIRT reviewed the INSD Shooting Review Protocol.

(U) On 08/10/2013, IIC Gelios communicated with SU Special Agent in Charge (SAC) Mary F. Rook, to arrange logistics prior to arriving in Boise, Idaho. SAC Rook assigned ASAC [redacted] to serve as the Point of Contact for the SIRT during the investigation period. Members of the SIRT began arriving at approximately 1:00 pm on 08/11/2013. IIC Gelios and Inspector Twersky met with SAC Rook to explain the protocol of the shooting inquiry. SIRT protocols were outlined to all SIRT personnel and team members were given an opportunity to dialogue regarding questions and concerns prior to the investigation commencing. Over the next five days, SIRT personnel prepared over 100 investigative reports, reviewed surveillance video of the shooting incident, and visited the scene of the shooting at Morehead Lake near Cascade, Idaho.

(U) Signed Sworn Statements (SSS) were taken from five FBI personnel who were directly involved in the shooting or related events. All five FBI personnel were accompanied by [redacted] Federal Law Enforcement Officers Association (FLEOA) General Counsel. Other interviews, events, and observations were documented in FD-302s. The FD-927 (Warning and Assurance to Employee Requested to Provide Information Following a Shooting) was executed by all personnel providing SSSs. Neither the FD-644 (Warning and Assurance to Employee Requested to Provide Information on a Voluntary Basis) nor the FD-645 (Warning and Assurance to Employee Required to Provide Information) were utilized. All SSSs and interviews of witnesses were conducted voluntarily and each interviewee was afforded the opportunity to review his statement.

F. Use of Body Armor and Law Enforcement Identifiers

(U) All HRT personnel who engaged the subject wore ballistic body armor bearing FBI identifiers on the front and rear, and ballistic helmets.

G. FBI Indices and National Crime Information Center (NCIC)

(U) On 08/12/2013, [redacted] Investigative Operations Specialist, Salt Lake City Division, conducted a Universal Index search for James Lee DiMaggio, white male, date of birth 01/17/1973, social security account number 454-37-6522 . The search yielded results for 7C-SD-3018376, the pending San Diego Division kidnapping investigation, and 89B-SU-3029104, the pending Salt Lake City Division Assault on a Federal Officer investigation. The search met with negative results for all other investigative matters. b6 -1 b7C -1

(U) On 08/11/2013, [redacted] Operational Support Technician, Salt Lake City Division, provided a printout dated 08/11/2013 from the National Crime Information Center (NCIC) for James Lee DiMaggio, white male, date of birth 01/17/1973, social security account number 454-37-6522 which contained no information regarding prior arrests or convictions. No current arrest warrants were listed.

H. ERT Report

(U) The Operational Projects Unit (OPU) was requested to prepare supporting demonstrative imagery and graphics for the SIRT. OPU obtained total station survey data, photographs and other imagery from SU ERT. The collected data was processed to create two-dimensional diagrams of the incident scene and the evidence locations. Additionally, OPU utilized the diagrams to produce an interactive presentation which linked photographs collected at the scene to the two-dimensional diagrams.

I. FBI Lab Report

(U) The FBI Laboratory, Firearms/Tookmarks Unit issued a report dated 03/14/2014 which determined the nine Winchester 5.56 mm cartridges recovered at the scene were fired from weapons used by SAs [redacted] (three rounds) and [redacted] (six rounds). One bullet fragment removed from DiMaggio's body was identified as having been fired from SA [redacted] s weapon and another from SA [redacted] 's weapon. Three .22 Long Rifle caliber cartridges recovered at the scene were identified as having been fired from DiMaggio's Marlin rifle. b6 -1 b7C -1

(U) The Latent Print Operations Unit issued a report dated 12/04/2013 reported no latent fingerprints of value were detected on DiMaggio's weapons, cartridges or magazines.

J. Medical Examiner Reports

(U) On 08/12/2013, Dr. [redacted] Forensic Pathologist, Office of the Coroner for Ada County, conducted the autopsy of James Lee DiMaggio. The official autopsy report dated 10/10/2013 indicated DiMaggio was shot six times, with wounds located in the head, chest, abdomen, upper right arm, right side of the body, and lower left leg. The information is categorized as follows: b6 -4 b7C -4

(U) The final cause of death was reported as "Multiple Gunshot Wounds."

K. Declination by the Civil Rights Division

(U) Upon completion of the on-site inquiry, IIC Gelios coordinated SIRT findings with [redacted] Special Legal Counsel, Department of Justice, Civil Rights Division. On 09/03/2013, [redacted] was provided an incident summary and copies of all eyewitness interviews. On 12/05/2013, [redacted] was provided a copy of the autopsy, and a copy of the Medical Examiner interview. On 05/07/2014, following coordination with U.S. Attorney Wendy Olsen, District of Idaho, Mr [redacted] advised the circumstances of the Agent-involved shooting did not, "warrant a federal criminal investigation." b6 -3 b7C -3

L. Local Prosecutive Opinion

(U) On 05/07/2014, Jay Kiiha, Valley County Prosecutor, Valley County Prosecuting Attorney's Office, Cascade, Idaho, declined presentment of the facts to the Grand Jury and declined prosecution of any FBI employee.

M. Inspector's Observations

(U//~~FOUO~~) Weapons Evidence Observation 1: HRT personnel retained ammunition magazines used in a shooting incident prior to surrendering the magazines as evidence.

(U//~~FOUO~~) Analysis 1: FBI post shooting incident review guidelines, as established by INSD, required firearms and ammunition be collected, entered into evidence, and submitted to the FBI Laboratory for logical forensic examination(s).

(U//~~FOUO~~) The Field Evidence Management and Operations Policy Implementation Guide, Section 4.8, stated a "firearm/other" included "all accessories, parts, ammunition and associated items, including but not limited to: sites [sic], holsters, bayonets, cases, scopes, flash suppressors, magazines, muzzle attachments, and flashlights/laser sighting devices that are designed or meant to be used in conjunction with a firearm, and are to be classified and stored as a firearm and categorized and entered into the FBI's central recordkeeping system/collected items as a "Firearms/Other.""

(U//~~FOUO~~) INSD determined SAs [redacted] turned over their rifles to Unit Chief (UC) [redacted] for evidentiary purposes on 08/10/2013. On 08/11/2013, both rifles were turned over to SA [redacted] SU Evidence Response Team, for entry into SU evidence. Through interviews, INSD determined UC [redacted] advised SA [redacted] and SA [redacted] their magazines did not need to be submitted as evidence, rather UC [redacted] ejected the chambered round from each rifle, taped the round to the rifle, and returned the magazines to SAs [redacted] When INSD discovered the magazines were not entered into evidence, the magazines were collected by CIRG SSA [redacted] on 08/12/2013, and turned over to SU Evidence Technician [redacted] the same day.

(U//~~FOUO~~) Instruction 1: AD, CIRG will ensure all weapons and ammunition utilized during Agent-involved shootings are promptly placed into evidence in compliance with established INSD post shooting incident response protocols and Field Evidence Management and Operations PG, Section 4.8.

(U//~~FOUO~~) SES Air Transport Observation 2: SAC Mary Rook, Salt Lake City (SU) Field Office, experienced a several hour delay in securing approval to use an FBI aircraft.

(U//~~FOUO~~) Analysis 2: On 08/09/2013, SAC Rook contacted the Office of Integrity and Compliance (OIC) to request authorization to use an FBI aircraft to travel to an incident Command Post (CP) in Cascade, Idaho to lead search and rescue operations for a [redacted] year-old female who was kidnapped by James DiMaggio, a wanted murderer. OIC AD Patrick Kelley approved SAC Rook's request and copied OGC Attorney, [redacted] who also concurred with the request. This concurrence was based on the understanding of Attorney [redacted] the aircraft was to be used to aid in the search operation. [redacted]

b5 -2,3

(U//~~FOUO~~) On 08/10/2013, at approximately 1:30 pm, SAC Rook directed a SU ASAC to contact the SU Aviation Supervisor to schedule air transport from Salt Lake City, Utah to Idaho. A few minutes later, SAC Rook learned Assistant Section Chief (ASC) [redacted] Surveillance and Aviation Section (SAS), said the aircraft could not be utilized because SAC Rook did not have OGC approval. ASC [redacted] contacted Attorney [redacted] This changed the analysis under the pertinent regulation, OMB Circular A-126.

b5 -2,3

(U//~~FOUO~~) Thereafter, OGC Attorney [redacted] requested additional information regarding commercial flight availability and travel time to Idaho by automobile. SAC Rook determined there were no additional commercial flights to Boise that day, and it was an approximately nine hour drive to Cascade, Idaho. After receiving this information, OGC Attorney [redacted] Thereafter, DOJ concurrence was obtained the next business day.

(U//~~FOUO~~) Office of Management and Budget (OMB) Circular A-126, Section 5, paragraph c, defined "Official Travel" as "(i) travel to meet mission requirements, (ii) required use travel, and (iii) other travel for the conduct of agency business."

(U//~~FOUO~~) Bureau Aviation Regulations (BAR) Manual, Section 3.3.3, Official Travel, stated, "Under certain circumstances aircraft may be used for official travel." The BAR Manual definition of "Official Travel" mirrored the definition contained in OMB Circular A-126. While the BAR Manual required prior OGC approval for Senior Executive Service (SES) personnel under the "required use" and "other travel to conduct Bureau business" provisions, per the BAR Manual and OMB Circular A-126, "travel to meet mission requirements" involving SES employees did not require approval by the "agency's senior legal official or his/her principal official."

(U//~~FOUO~~) OMB Circular A-126 defined "Mission Requirements" as "activities that constitute the discharge of an agency's official responsibilities. Such activities include, but are not limited to, the transport of troops and/or equipment, training, evacuation … intelligence and counter-narcotics activities, search and rescue … transportation of prisoners, and other such activities."

(U//~~FOUO~~) Based on the totality of the circumstances, SAC Rook's efforts to obtain OGC authorization may not have been necessary as the need of an SAC, in some narrow circumstances, to utilize an FBI aircraft to expedite travel to a crisis site to lead crisis or incident operations would arguably meet the definition of "travel to meet mission requirements."

(U//~~FOUO~~) Recommendation 2: General Counsel, OGC should coordinate with the Department of Justice, Deputy Attorney General's Office to evaluate whether a more expansive interpretation of OMB Circular A-126 strictures regarding "travel to meet mission requirements" could be applied to SES utilization of FBI aircraft in exigent circumstances necessitating the timely travel of SES personnel to lead crisis site or major incident operations.

(U//~~FOUO~~) On 08/04/2013, the United States Marshals Service (USMS) responded to a request for assistance from the San Diego County Sheriff's Department (SDCSD) in the homicide investigation of James Lee DiMaggio. SDCSD investigators also believed DiMaggio kidnapped [redacted] and requested assistance from FBI SD on 08/05/2013. SD thereafter initiated a federal kidnapping investigation on 08/06/2013.

(U//~~FOUO~~) On 08/08/2013, FBI Salt Lake City (SU), Boise Resident Agency, received a credible report of a possible sighting of DiMaggio and [redacted] in a wilderness area in Valley County, Idaho. On 08/09/2013 at approximately 9:00 am, DiMaggio's Nissan Versa was located abandoned near a trail leading to the wilderness area. The sighting and recovered vehicle established a sufficient basis for the issuance of a federal arrest warrant for a violation of Title 18, USC, Section 1201 (Kidnapping).

Case ID #: 297I-HQ-A3034064 (U) Shooting Incident Non-Delegated

Synopsis: (U//~~FOUO~~) This communication was prepared to furnish the analysis, comments, and recommendations of the Shooting Incident Review Group (SIRG) with respect to the captioned shooting following the SIRG meeting held on 05/21/2014.

Administrative Notes: (U//~~FOUO~~) This communication summarizes the Inspection Division's (INSD) Shooting Incident Report, dated 05/07/2014, prepared by Inspector-in-Charge (IIC) David Paul Gelios.

Enclosure(s): Enclosed are the following items:
1. (U//~~FOUO~~) Shooting Incident Report Dated 05/07/2014

Details:

(U//~~FOUO~~) On 05/21/2014, the SIRG convened to review a shooting incident which occurred on 08/10/2013, involving Hostage Rescue Team (HRT) Special Agents (SA) [redacted]

(U//~~FOUO~~) On 08/10/2013 at approximately 5:30 p.m., two FBI Hostage Rescue Team (HRT) Operators were involved in a shooting incident in the remote area of Morehead Lake near Cascade, Idaho. The subject was at a campsite with a [redacted] he kidnapped in Boulevard, California on or about 08/03/2013. The subject was shot and killed, and [redacted] was safely recovered. No HRT operators were injured. b6 -5 b7C -5

(U//~~FOUO~~) On 08/04/2013, while responding to a fire at the Boulevard, California residence of James Lee DiMaggio, the California Department of Forestry discovered the deceased bodies of Christina Anderson and her son, Ethan Anderson. [redacted] [redacted] was missing. A San Diego area highway camera captured video of DiMaggio driving his vehicle with [redacted] as a passenger. On 08/05/2013, the San Diego County Sheriff's Office (SDCSO) requested assistance from the FBI. On 08/06/2013, the SDCSO obtained an arrest warrant for DiMaggio for two counts of homicide and one count of arson, and the San Diego Field Office (SD) initiated a kidnapping investigation. b6 -5 b7C -5

(U//~~FOUO~~) On 08/08/2013, the Salt Lake City (SU) Field Office, Boise Resident Agency, was notified a [redacted] observed an unknown male and an unknown female hiking with a gray cat in a wilderness area in Valley County, Idaho. The [redacted] thought the male and female were out of place, and noted they were carrying blue backpacks. Intelligence received from the SDCSO indicated DiMaggio likely purchased two blue backpack covers, and his gray cat was missing from his residence in California. The [redacted] reported the sighting after he and his three companions returned home and saw an Amber Alert relating to [redacted] On 08/09/2013, DiMaggio's Nissan Versa was located abandoned near a trail leading to the wilderness area. The sightings triggered a manhunt and deployment of FBI and law enforcement resources, to include SU investigative, Crisis Management, SWAT, Crisis Negotiation Team (CNT), and Evidence Response Team (ERT) personnel. b6 -5,8 b7C -5,8

(U//~~FOUO~~) On 08/08/2013, a Command Post (CP) was established at the Valley County, Idaho Sheriff's Office and staffed by SU personnel. On 08/09/2013, a conference call between the SU Field Office, San Diego (SD) Field Office, Critical Incident Response Group (CIRG), and Criminal Investigative Division (CID) was initiated, and a decision was made to deploy CIRG and San Francisco (SF) Field Office aviation assets; SF and Portland (PD) Field Office SWAT personnel; and an HRT contingent composed of 41 CIRG personnel. CIRG personnel, including HRT Command Staff, arrived in Cascade, Idaho at approximately 3:00 a.m. on 08/10/2013. The initial mission planned for tactical personnel to search, assisted by aviation assets, for DiMaggio and [redacted]

(U//~~FOUO~~) In the late morning and early afternoon of 08/10/2013, United Sates Marshal's Service (USM) and FBI aviation assets supporting the search for DiMaggio and [redacted] observed a campsite consistent with earlier reporting placing DiMaggio and [redacted] north of Morehead Lake near Cascade, Idaho. FBI aviation assets assumed the lead for ongoing surveillance and observed a male, female [redacted] and cat at the campsite. Based on the surveillance information, HRT deployed [redacted] HRT Operators to hike into the campsite to locate and identify the individuals observed near Morehead Lake.

(U//~~FOUO~~) At 2:08 p.m., the first [redacted] HRT Operators were inserted at a landing zone approximately [redacted] kilometers from the campsite. This unit of HRT Operators hiked for more than two hours over difficult terrain toward the campsite. As the HRT Operators patrolled towards the campsite, FBI aviation assets observed the male attempting to camouflage a tent and the female attempting to signal aviation assets. Based on the additional intelligence, HRT Team Leaders continued traveling in the direction of the campsite. [redacted]

[redacted] FBI aviation assets advised the distance between the male and female was increasing. At approximately 4:22 p.m., SU and CIRG command staff at the CP in Cascade, ID granted the HRT Operators [redacted] authority to execute a rescue and arrest operation at the campsite.

(U//~~FOUO~~) The primary assault force consisted of Team Leader Supervisory Special Agent (SSA) [redacted] Special Agent (SA)

[redacted] As they reached approximately 100 meters from the campsite, SA [redacted] spotted an individual he believed to be DiMaggio. At this point, the over-watch element advised they were not able to advance further without compromise of their position. The operators in that element did not see DiMaggio or [redacted] before the shooting. As the assault element moved forward, DiMaggio raised a rifle in the direction of the assault force and fired two shots. SA [redacted] and SA [redacted] returned fire and struck DiMaggio multiple times. As SA [redacted] and SA [redacted] quickly closed the distance to DiMaggio, they witnessed him reaching for a handgun in his waistband. SA [redacted] fired one additional shot striking DiMaggio in the head. Operators then moved in to secure [redacted] handcuff DiMaggio, and clear the scene for explosives with two canines. Located on or near DiMaggio's body were a .22 caliber rifle, 9mm pistol in his waistband, and knife. Operators escorted [redacted] to a nearby landing zone where she was flown out of the area.

(U//~~FOUO~~) On 05/21/2014, the SIRG reviewed the Agent-involved shooting incident with the intent to:

1. Evaluate the application of deadly force. The SIRG unanimously determined the application of deadly force by SAs [redacted] on 08/10/2013 was in compliance with the Department of Justice's Deadly Force Policy.

2. Provide the Director with evaluative analyses, observations, and recommendations for corrective actions concerning operational planning and execution, training, and/or safety issues. The SIRG made the following recommendations and observations:

(U//~~FOUO~~) Weapons Evidence Observation 1: HRT personnel retained ammunition magazines used in a shooting incident prior to surrendering the magazines as evidence.

(U//~~FOUO~~) Analysis 1: FBI post shooting incident review guidelines, as established by INSD, required firearms and ammunition be collected, entered into evidence, and submitted to the FBI Laboratory for logical forensic examination(s).

(U//~~FOUO~~) INSD determined SAs [redacted] turned over their rifles to Unit Chief (UC) [redacted] for evidentiary purposes on 08/10/2013. On 08/11/2013, both rifles were turned over to SA [redacted] SU Evidence Response Team, for entry into SU evidence. Through interviews, INSD determined UC [redacted] advised SA [redacted] and SA [redacted] their magazines did not need to be submitted as evidence, rather UC [redacted] ejected the chambered round from each rifle, taped the round to the rifle, and returned the magazines to SAs [redacted] and [redacted]. When INSD discovered the magazines were not entered into evidence, the magazines were collected by CIRG SSA [redacted] on 08/12/2013, and turned over to SU Evidence Technician [redacted] the same day.

(U//~~FOUO~~) Instruction 1: AD, CIRG will ensure all weapons and ammunition utilized during Agent-involved shootings are promptly placed into evidence in compliance with established INSD post shooting incident response protocols and Field Evidence Management and Operations PG, Section 4.8.

Re: 297I-HQ-A3034064, 06/24/2014

(U//~~FOUO~~) SES Air Transport Observation 2: SAC Mary Rook, Salt Lake City (SU) Field Office, experienced a several hour delay in securing approval to use an FBI aircraft.

(U//~~FOUO~~) Analysis 2: On 08/09/2013, SAC Rook contacted the Office of Integrity and Compliance (OIC) to request authorization to use an FBI aircraft to travel to an incident Command Post (CP) in Cascade, Idaho to lead search and rescue operations for a [redacted] year-old female who was kidnapped by James DiMaggio, a wanted murderer. OIC AD Patrick Kelley approved SAC Rook's request and copied OGC Attorney, [redacted], who also concurred with the request. This concurrence was based on the understanding of Attorney [redacted] the aircraft was to be used to aid in the search operation. [redacted]

b5 -2,3

(U//~~FOUO~~) On 08/10/2013, at approximately 1:30 p.m., SAC Rook directed a SU ASAC to contact the SU Aviation Supervisor to schedule air transport from Salt Lake City, Utah to Idaho. A few minutes later, SAC Rook learned Assistant Section Chief (ASC) [redacted] Surveillance and Aviation Section (SAS), said the aircraft could not be utilized because SAC Rook did not have OGC approval. ASC [redacted] contacted Attorney [redacted] This changed the analysis under the pertinent regulation, OMB Circular A-126.

(U//~~FOUO~~) Thereafter, OGC Attorney [redacted] requested additional information regarding commercial flight availability and travel time to Idaho by automobile. SAC Rook determined there were no additional commercial flights to Boise that day, and it was an approximately nine hour drive to Cascade, Idaho. After receiving this information, OGC Attorney [redacted]

(U//~~FOUO~~) Office of Management and Budget (OMB) Circular A-126, Section 5, paragraph c, defined "Official Travel" as "(i) travel to meet mission requirements, (ii) required use travel, and (iii) other travel for the conduct of agency business."

(U//~~FOUO~~) Bureau Aviation Regulations (BAR) Manual, Section 3.3.3, Official Travel, stated, "Under certain circumstances aircraft may be used for official travel." The BAR Manual definition of "Official Travel" mirrored the definition contained in OMB Circular A-126. While the BAR Manual required prior OGC approval for Senior Executive Service (SES) personnel under the "required use" and "other travel to conduct Bureau business" provisions, per the BAR Manual and OMB Circular A-126, "travel to meet mission requirements" involving SES employees did not require approval by the "agency's senior legal official or his/her principal official."

(U//~~FOUO~~) OMB Circular A-126 defined "Mission Requirements" as "activities that constitute the discharge of an agency's official responsibilities. Such activities include, but are not limited to, the transport of troops and/or equipment, training, evacuation … intelligence and counter-narcotics activities, search and rescue … transportation of prisoners, and other such activities."

(U//~~FOUO~~) Based on the totality of the circumstances, SAC Rook's efforts to obtain OGC authorization may not have been necessary as the need of an SAC, in some narrow circumstances, to utilize an FBI aircraft to expedite travel to a crisis site to lead crisis or incident operations would arguably meet the definition of "travel to meet mission requirements."

(U//~~FOUO~~) Recommendation 2: General Counsel, OGC should coordinate with the Department of Justice, Deputy Attorney General's Office to evaluate whether a more expansive interpretation of OMB Circular A-126

strictures regarding "travel to meet mission requirements" could be applied to SES utilization of FBI aircraft in exigent circumstances necessitating the timely travel of SES personnel to lead crisis site or major incident operations.

Post SIRT Discussion with DOJ

(U//~~FOUO~~) On 11/25/2013, [redacted] Justice Management Division, United States Department of Justice, responded in an E-mail to a request from [redacted] OGC, regarding the use of a government plane for critical mission-related work which would qualify as "travel to meet mission requirements." Procedures for Responding to the Instruction

(U//~~FOUO~~) AD, CIRG, AD, CID, and SAC, SD are responsible for ensuring each Inspection Instruction/Recommendation is satisfactorily resolved. The inspection process is not complete until the Instruction/Recommendation is addressed by the field office. The Inspector-in-Charge (IIC) will review the field office's response to determine if the Instruction/Recommendation has been resolved or requires further action. Resolution is based upon specific actions taken and not a recitation of the actions the division has under consideration or plans to implement.

(U//~~FOUO~~) AD, CIRG, AD, CID, and SAC, SD are required to provide a written response via EC, detailing the actions taken to resolve each Instruction/Recommendation. ## Wendy J. Olson, United States Attorney for the District of Idaho, and Jay Kiiha, Valley County Prosecuting Attorney, Jointly Announce Criminal Charges Not Warranted in FBI Agents' shooting of James DiMaggio Last August

Based upon the information reviewed from the FBI Inspection Division Shooting Incident Inquiry, including the Autopsy Report and Post-Rescue Interview of the sixteen-year-old victim, and evidence gathered by the Valley County Sheriff's Office, the United States Attorney's Office for the District of Idaho, the Civil Rights Division of the United States Department of Justice, and the Valley County Prosecuting Attorney's Office have determined that the shooting by FBI Hostage Rescue Team agents on August 10, 2013, near Cascade, Idaho, resulting in the death of James DiMaggio, does not warrant federal or state criminal prosecution.

The United States Attorney's Office and the Civil Rights Division have concluded that the evidence is insufficient to support a determination that there was a violation of the federal criminal civil rights statutes and that a federal criminal investigation is unwarranted. The Valley County Prosecuting Attorney's Office has determined that the FBI Hostage Rescue Team agents used reasonable force in defending themselves and/or another as relating to the death of Mr. DiMaggio.

In early August 2013, DiMaggio kidnapped a sixteen year-old- girl after killing members of her family in Boulevard, California. Pursuant to local tips on August 8 and 9, a law enforcement airplane located DiMaggio and his hostage on August 10 at a campsite near Morehead Lake, approximately forty miles from Cascade, Idaho.

Hostage Rescue Team agents were taken by helicopter and dropped within hiking distance of the campsite. They hiked to the campsite, tactically surrounded it, and began to close in through a wooded area to attempt to arrest the subject and rescue the hostage. The wooded area was steep, and the terrain difficult to negotiate. The airplane remained above the campsite and provided its observation of the activities of the subject and his hostage to the Hostage Rescue Team. Infrared video recorded from the airplane showed the arrest and rescue, including an overhead view of the action of the individuals involved and the heat from the shots that were fired.

Some of the Hostage Rescue Team agents moved in when it was reported that DiMaggio was separated from the hostage. When several agents got within approximately 100 yards of the subject, DiMaggio fired two rifle shots. Two agents, who could see DiMaggio and were directly within his firing line, believed DiMaggio was shooting toward them. The two agents returned fire, striking DiMaggio multiple times. A third agent found and safely removed the hostage.

Under federal law, in determining whether a law enforcement officer has willfully used more force than is necessary, prosecutors examine all of the facts and circumstances from the perspective of a reasonable law enforcement officer. Based on the consistent evidence gathered during the FBI's shooting incident review and the Valley County Sheriff's Office investigation, both the U.S. Attorney's Office and the Civil Rights Division have concluded that it cannot be established beyond a reasonable doubt that either Hostage Rescue Team agent acted willfully, intending to violate the law, when they fired at DiMaggio. Accordingly, the U.S. Attorney's Office and the Civil Rights Division decline to pursue any prosecution or further investigation of the agents.

Under Idaho State Law, force that a person may lawfully use in self-defense is limited by what a reasonable person in the same situation would believe to be necessary. A person may act in self-defense if a reasonable man, in the same situation, would be justified in believing himself in danger. As such, the Valley County Prosecutor's Office declines to pursue any further prosecution or investigation of the agents.

(U//~~FOUO~~) On February 24, 2015, at approximately 4:55 p.m., Special Agent (SA) [redacted] from the Chicago Field Office, was involved in an Agent Involved Shooting (AIS) in Chicago, Illinois. SA [redacted] was part of a [redacted] supporting [redacted] operation linked to a predicated [redacted] Investigation ([redacted]). During the operation, one of the subjects ([redacted]) displayed and pointed a weapon at [redacted] SA [redacted] responded and issued commands for [redacted] to drop the weapon. When [redacted] did not comply, [redacted] fired one round from his FBI issued Glock Model 22 handgun, serial number [redacted]. The round missed [redacted] who quickly surrendered and was taken into custody. No injuries or property damage were identified as a result of the AIS. The investigation was delegated to the Chicago Field Office.

(U//~~FOUO~~) SSA [redacted] responded to the scene at approximately 5:40 p.m. and secured SA [redacted]'s Glock 22. Chicago ERT began processing the scene at approximately 7:30 PM on February 24, 2015. Among the 11 evidentiary items collected, a Rossi Revolver handgun, serial number [redacted] and associated ammunition were recovered. The casing from the round fired by SA [redacted] was recovered from the rear passenger bench of the [redacted] driven by TFO [redacted] At 11:45 p.m., on February 24, 2015, ERT completed processing the scene. Though an extensive search was conducted, the single round fired by SA [redacted] was not recovered.

(U//~~FOUO~~) At approximately 7:45 p.m., Chicago Field Office Acting Special Agent in Charge (A/SAC) [redacted] notified Chief Inspector David Gelios of the AIS. At approximately 7:50 p.m., A/ASAC [redacted] notified SIOC of the shooting, and at approximately 11:08 p.m., A/ASAC [redacted] submitted an FD-1015 (ESR) to SIOC. b6 -1,7 b7C -1,7 b7A -1

(U//~~FOUO~~) On February 25, 2015, as a result of the AIS, Chicago Field Office opened an Assault on a Federal Officer Investigation ([redacted]) with [redacted] as named subjects. A National Crime Information Center (NCIC) criminal history check for [redacted] included prior arrests for Assault, Larceny, Robbery, Dangerous Drugs, Armed Robbery with a Firearm, and Violation of Parole. The NCIC criminal history check for [redacted] was negative. Neither [redacted] had active warrants on record.

(U//~~FOUO~~) On February 27, 2015, SA [redacted]'s FBI issued Glock 22, serial [redacted] handgun was submitted to the Training Division, Defensive Systems Unit (DSU), for a Weapon Serviceability Inspection. DSU reported the Glock 22 passed all function tests. b6 -1 b7C -1

(U//~~FOUO~~) SA [redacted] graduated from New Agent Training in [redacted] A review of his FBI Academy firearms training record revealed he last qualified with his pistol on December 8, 2014, when he shot three PQCs ([redacted]). On January 07, 2015, SA [redacted] qualified with the Colt Pattern Carbine when he shot one CQC ([redacted]). SSA [redacted] of the FBI's New Agent Academy staff, indicated SA [redacted]'s primary legal instructor was SSA [redacted]. On February 25, 2015, the SIRT team assignments were made and the local AIIPs reviewed the Inspection Division shooting review protocol with IIP Paun, after having met with Chicago Division EM regarding the previous evening's incident. The same morning, SIRT members met with the involved FBI agents, CPD TFOs, and management personnel to explain the SIRT process and protocols, explaining their intention to schedule interviews of all witnesses in an expeditious manner. After consultation with CPD, it was determined that since no CPD TFOs had fired their weapons, CPD would not be open an investigation, and would not need CPD investigative participation for CPD personnel interviews, outside of Fraternal Order of Police (FOP) representation, if so requested by CPD employees.

In total one SSS was taken from SA [redacted], who was directly involved in the shooting. Other witness interviews included three FBI Agents, six CPD officers, and [redacted] These additional interviews, events, and witnesses were documented via 302s. The SSS and witness interviews were conducted voluntarily. A FD-927 (Warning and Assurance to Employee Requested to Provide Information Following a Shooting Incident) was signed by the Agent interviewed by SSS. b6 -1,5 b7C -1,5

CDC [redacted] verified the Department of Justice's (DOJ) Civil Rights Section representative, [redacted] had declined to pursue any investigation into this matter, and declined to review for federal criminal prosecution "given that nobody was hit by the shots." CCSA Micheal Golden advised the actions taken by the Federal Bureau of Investigation on February 24, 2015, to include the use of deadly force, were justified and necessary in response to a reasonable belief the subject posed an imminent danger of death or serious physical injury to [redacted] Neither DOC Attorney [redacted] nor CCSA Golden requested a copy of the Shooting Incident Review results. b6 -1,3,5 b7C -1,3,5

(U//~~FOUO~~) On page page 30 of the Inspection Division's Shooting Incident Guide, direction is provided to the Agents involved in a shooting as follows: "Understand you will be removed from the scene and separated from any other involved Agents and Task Force Officers as soon as possible. This is done to minimize exposure to the media or information or circumstances which could affect your independent recollection of the shooting incident."

(U//~~FOUO~~) INSTRUCTION #1: SAC, Chicago will ensure personnel involved in shooting incidents are removed from the scene and separated to ensure their independent account of the shooting incident is not compromised.

(U//~~FOUO~~) OBSERVATION #2: Personnel assigned were not wearing their body armor at the commencement of the operation.

order was well written; however, the briefing of the plan was inadequate. Personnel assigned to the Chicago Field Office [redacted] operation were unfamiliar with [redacted] and Agent and TFO personnel indicated they were unaware of all law enforcement Agents and Officers participating in the operation. In addition, many members were uncertain of their specific roles. INSD interviews determined at least one FBI Agent admitted he was unaware of the non-verbal distress signal for this specific operation. b7E -1,3

(U//~~FOUO~~) RECCOMENDATION #3: SAC, Chicago will ensure operation plans are thoroughly briefed and all participants are familiar with their assigned roles and the identities of other participants.

3. (U//~~FOUO~~) Provide recommendations for administrative action if deemed necessary. The SIRG determined the captioned Agent Involved Shooting incident would not be referred to the Internal Investigations Section (IIS), Inspection Division (INSD) for potential administrative action.

Subject: Chicago Shooting March 25, 2013 -

Inspector Shawn Stroud
Inspections Division

Based upon a review of materials from your shooting inquiry, we have determined, and the USAO for the ND of Illinois concurs, there is insufficient evidence to warrant a federal criminal civil rights investigation into a shooting by an FBI agent in Chicago on March 25, 2013, that resulted in a non-life threatening wound to a passenger in a car driven while escaping apprehension toward the agent so as to endanger his life. The local District Attorney has also declined prosecution.

Three FBI agents observed a man behaving suspiciously in a parking lot. Two agents approached the man and the car that he was entering and exiting and observed that he was stealing hub caps from another car. The two agents approached from the rear of the car. They noticed two passengers in the car, another male and a female, in addition to the male driver, and loudly identified themselves as "FBI" and "police" and instructed the car to "stop." Instead, the driver accelerated in reverse and almost struck one of the agents who jumped out of the way.

Meanwhile, the third agent moved his car to block the exit in the parking lane. That agent was unaware of what the other two agents had observed and only saw what he thought was the subject's car strike another agent who had drawn his weapon. The fleeing car then sped toward the front end of the agent's car that agent exited, blocking the escape route with his body and his car. The subject car struck the front of the agent's car, continuing toward the agent.

The agent backed up alongside his car and eventually away from the back of his car to avoid being pinned between the cars. The agent stated that he feared he would be crushed between the cars or run over as the car came head on toward him. He dodged the car and fired multiple shots aiming at the driver, through the window and through the driver side door.

In addition to the two other FBI agent witnesses, there were a number of non-law enforcement witnesses and a video of much of the action taken by a video cam in a nearby parked ambulance. The two witness agents and other witnesses saw the subject car speeding toward the agent who before the agent fired his weapon. One witness [redacted] observed that had the agent not fired at the driver of the car he believed "it would have run him over." b6 -8 b7C -8

The best evidence is a video that records the action between the time that the subject car has cleared the rear of the agent's car and is aimed directly toward him. About two seconds expire between when the subject car appears to strike the agent head on (the agent does not think he was hit by the car) and the agent appears to fire his weapon at the subject car that he has avoided and is just passing him. In that time period, the agent draws his weapon and fires at the driver. The agent keeps his body up and away from going under the front of the car speeding at him while drawing and then firing his weapon – very much like a matador avoiding a charging bull.

The subjects' car sped away from the parking lot and the three agents gave chase in the Bureau car. The subjects' car travelled some distance before it crashed and the male passenger was apprehended by the agents at the accident site with a wound to his leg. The driver and other passenger ran from the scene but were identified and later located. The passenger subjects admitted to stealing hub caps and driving to escape law enforcement. The driver was later captured and charged with assault on a federal officer.

Given the driver demonstrated an intent to run over the agent with his car, the rapidly unfolding events, the information known to the agent (another agent appeared to have been already struck by the car), and the fact that the agent's agility alone prevented his being run over by a speeding car, there is insufficient evidence to support a conclusion that the agent willfully violated the 4th Amendment's requirement of reasonable seizure and thus the criminal civil rights statutes. A federal criminal civil rights investigation of the agent's action is unwarranted. Please continue your administrative review and action.

Gentlemen -

Based upon the information that the Inspection Division has provided by telephone, we have concluded that the agent involved shooting resulting in death of Jason Moore in Peoria, Illinois, on June 14, 2014, does not warrant a federal criminal civil rights investigation. It is our understanding that the agent was fortuitously present at a social event when Moore arrived and shot and killed his ex-wife and her boyfriend. The agent then fired his weapon killing the subject shooter.

The facts suggest that the agent, who may or may not have acted under the color of law, fired his weapon to protect himself and others from potentially more deadly gunfire from the subject. We need not resolve whether the agent acted under the color of law. The information provided indicates that the agent did not act "willfully," that is using force that he knew to be unlawful. Accordingly, a federal criminal civil rights investigation is not warranted.

Please continue your administrative review. If in the course of the administrative inquiry, you determine that there are contradictory relevant facts suggesting that a federal criminal investigation may be warranted, please advise.

Inspector Ron Twersky
Inspections Division

Based upon the information reported by Inspector Twersky and a review of the statements of the agents present at a shooting in Dayton on June 28, 2012, by FBI Special Agent [redacted] b6 -1 [redacted] resulting in the death of arrestee Fallacy M. Myers, I have determined that this b7C -1 matter does not warrant federal criminal investigation. There is insufficient information to suggest a violation of the federal criminal civil rights statues. Additionally, the local district attorney's office has reported to Inspector Twersky that it will not conduct a criminal investigation nor present the matter to its grand jury.

SA [redacted] shot Mr. Myers from about a distance of six feet inside Myers' kitchen, after he b6 -1 had repeatly stabbed himself with a knife, refused orders to drop the knife, and turned with b7C -1 the knife extended toward both SA [redacted] and a second agent, who was slight closer the subject and next to SA [redacted]

FBI agents had conducted a search of Mr. Myers' home pursuant to a federal search warrant for evidence related to federal crimes, including crimes related to children. The USAO had advised the agents to arrest Mr. Myers based the fact that four firearms had been discovered during the search and the subject was a person prohibited from possessing firearms. While Mr. Myer was being escorted to dress himself, he grabbed a knife in the kitchen and with his back to the arresting agents began to stab himself. SA [redacted] and other agents gave several b6 -1 commands to drop the knife and drew their weapons but did not initially fire them. b7C -1
Eventually, as one agent moved closer toward Mr. Meyer, he turned and raised the knife toward that agent and SA [redacted] both of whom had remained near the kitchen doorway. Both agents believed that Mr. Meyers, who had already severely stabbed himself, might next stab an agent. Neither agent had immediate cover. After a quickly issued final order to drop the knife was ignored, SA [redacted] fired three shots. The other agent, who advised that she also intended to fire, was unable to shoot before SA [redacted] had done so and did not fire. A medic on the scene respond quickly after the shooting and the subject who had been shot in the chest, was pronounced dead.

interviews of the other agent witnesses. We appreciate SA [redacted]'s willingness to provide a b7C -1 voluntary statement to help an informed, timely decision on the merits of a criminal investigation. The Inspector's Office should complete its administrative investigation.

Re: Incidents Surrounding the Arrest of Scott Evans (March 6, 2013)

Dear Inspector Davis:

Please be advised that at my request, [redacted] Deputy District Attorney for my office, has reviewed all the statements and other documents contained in the folder you provided regarding the unfortunate events that occurred March 6, 2013 at the residence of Scott Evans, 2332 Stapleton Road, New Market, Tennessee. b6 -4 b7C -4

It appears from this review that there was ample probable cause for the procurement of the federal criminal complaint and search warrant. It further appears that your agents were appropriately equipped with insignias and other indicators of their status as law enforcement officers when they were in the process of serving the criminal complaint and search warrant. It further appears that SA [redacted] relying on the aforesaid insignias as well as verbal announcements made both at the front door of the Evans residence before entry and inside the residence and directed to Scott Evans, reasonably gave notice of his identity as a law enforcement officer and that deadly force might be used b6 -1 b7C -1 unless resistance ceased and that Scott Evans must acquiesce to SA [redacted]'s orders to disarm. As such, SA [redacted]'s actions were in full compliance with Tennessee Code Annotated Section 39-11-620 regarding the use of deadly force by a law enforcement officer in effecting an arrest. b6 -1 b7C -1

Furthermore, for the same reasons and additionally since it also appears that there was a reasonable belief that there was imminent danger of death or serious bodily injury to SA [redacted] SA [redacted] among others, and/or to Scott Evans, SA [redacted]'s actions were in full compliance with Tennessee Code Annotated Sections 39-11-611 and 612 regarding the use of self defense and defense of third persons. b6 -1 b7C -1

Therefore, based on the foregoing, although the incidents of March 6, 2013 unfortunately resulted in the death of Scott Evans, the actions of SA [redacted] were reasonable and justified under and by the circumstances then and there existing. b6 -1 b7C -1

Sincerely,

James B. Dunn

Based upon information provided by your office and consultation with the USAO in Miami, we have determined that the shooting that involved an FBI agent in Miami on July 31, 2013, which resulted in the death of Geraldo Delgato and the wounding of a local task force detective, does not warrant criminal investigation. There is no evidence to support an investigation to determine whether the federal criminal civil rights statutes could have been violated.

Two video recordings from cameras installed outside the Miami home, a "Grow House," where the shooting occurred, provide an unequivocal record of what occurred before and during the exchange of gunfire between the law enforcement officers and the shooting victim. Mr. Delgado initiated the fatal exchange of gunfire by aiming a hand gun at the law enforcement officers as he unexpectedly exited a car parked in the driveway. His aggressive conduct with a dangerous weapon would have created a reasonable fear for the safety of self and others, justifying the a return of gunfire that resulted in Mr. Delgado's death.

Based upon the reports provided by this email, as well as the summary of the incident previously provided, no further DOJ review is necessary of this shooting involving local officers on an FBI task force. Civilian witnesses and the subject himself corroborate the law enforcement officers' account that, while task force officers searched for the fugitive subject, he hid from them in a second story room and ambushed them as they entered. The subject was wounded and he wounded one of the task force officers. A criminal civil rights investigation is not warranted. Please complete your administrative inquiry.

Details:

Serial 20 of captioned case file documents Richmond's report to Inspection Division (INSD) of a shooting incident involving Agent [redacted] on 02/14/2013. As reported in referenced communication, on 2/14/2013 at approximately 9:00pm, Agent [redacted] b6 -1 b7C -1 stopped at an accident where a deer had been struck by a pick up truck. An unknown adult male, operating the pick up truck, had struck the deer and he advised SSA [redacted] that he had called the police. Agent [redacted] observed that the deer was mortally wounded and was attempting to crawl away from the vehicles. Agent [redacted] determined the safest course of action was to dispatch the deer in a safe manner. After ensuring there were no surrounding hazards, Agent [redacted] dispatched the deer using her Bureau issued Glock 22. b6 -1 b7C -1

On 02/19/2013, INSD delegated the investigation of the shooting incident to Richmond Division. In conducting the assigned writer conducted the following interviews, which are serialized separately to the captioned case file:

- 02/28/2013, Officer [redacted] Richmond Police Department (See Serial 21) b6 -2,4 b7C -2,4
- 02/28/2013, [redacted] (See Serial 22)
- 03/01/2013, [redacted] (See Serial 23)

In addition to the above interviews, writer also obtained a Signed Sworn Statement (SSS) from Agent [redacted] on 03/01/2013. On 02/28/2013, Agent [redacted] was provided with a Warning and Assurance to Employee Requested to Provide Information Following a Shooting Incident (FD-927). The SSS and FD-927 are enclosed as 1A exhibits with this communication. b6 -1 b7C -1

Writer completed an FD-1085 and obtained firearms training records for Agent [redacted] The FD-1085 was submitted electronically to INSD by Infopath. The firearms training records are attached to this communication as a 1A exhibit. Writer contacted the Richmond Police Department communications center and identified the responding police officer as Officer [redacted] b6 -1,4 b7C -1,4

Writer's investigation revealed that on 02/14/2013, at approximately 8:00PM to 9:00PM, Agent [redacted] discharged her Bureau-issued weapon, one time, shooting a deer, in an effort to eliminate what Agent [redacted] reasonably assessed to be a threat to public safety. b6 -1 b7C -1

The enclosed SSS and the referenced FD-302s reveal that on 02/14/2013, at approximately 8:00 PM, Agent [redacted] was riding as a passenger in a vehicle driven by [redacted] when she saw a separate vehicle, driven by [redacted] strike a deer. After striking the deer, [redacted] pulled the deer to the right shoulder and called the police. While waiting for police to arrive, Agent [redacted] determined that the b6 -1,2 b7C -1,2 deer presented a threat to oncoming traffic. The deer was badly injured and moving around on the right shoulder. Agent [redacted] informed [redacted] that she intended to shoot the deer. Agent [redacted] fired one round from her Bureau-issued firearm to kill the deer. After killing the deer, Agent [redacted] left the scene, as a passenger in [redacted]'s vehicle, and [redacted] waited for for the police to respond. Sometime after Agent [redacted] departed the scene, Officer [redacted] Richmond Police Department arrived and conducted a field interview of [redacted] Officer [redacted] did not file a police report.

Inspector Chris Davis
Inspection Division

Based upon a review of materials from your shooting inquiry, we have determined, and the USAO for the ND of Illinois concurs, there is insufficient evidence to warrant a federal criminal civil rights investigation into a shooting by two FBI agents in Richmond, Illinois, that resulted the death of Anthony Starnes, on May 10, 2013. The facts support a conclusion that the agents were attempting to thwart a bank robbery, from which Starnes was escaping apprehension, by ramming the agents' vehicle and driving a car toward the agent so as to endanger his life. The local District Attorney has also declined prosecution.

A team of FBI agents followed three men, suspected of involvement in previous armed bank robberies, as they drove in two cars from Chicago to Richmond and deployed their cars in a parking lot near a bank that they intended to rob. While parked in a Honda that was driven by Starnes and was to be used as the get-a-way car, Starnes and another man donned masks. They had three handguns inside the Honda.

The team of FBI agents moved in on the two men in the Honda after an arrest was approved by supervisors. [redacted] b7E -12 [redacted] three agents approached on foot to make the arrest. Commands to "show me your hands" were given and the agents identified themselves as "FBI." The driver elected to attempt to escape in the Honda. He rammed the SUV and accelerated toward one of the agents on foot. That agent and a second agent, who saw that the first agent was in jeopardy, fired multiple shots at the driver of the Honda, striking and killing him.

The occupant of the Honda and the occupant of the second car were arrested and charged with attempted armed robbery. The occupant of the Honda admitted that the three men were preparing to rob the bank while armed and were waiting for customers to vacate the bank.

Given the driver rammed the agent's car, demonstrated an apparent intent to run over an agent with his car, the rapidly unfolding events, the information known to the agents (that the men in the car were about to commit an armed robbery), there is insufficient evidence to support a conclusion that either agent willfully violated the 4th Amendment's requirement of reasonable seizure when he fired at the speeding driver escaping from an attempt to rob a bank while armed.

A federal criminal civil rights investigation of the agents' action is unwarranted. We appreciate the agents voluntary statements that helped us make a fully informed prosecutive decision.

Please continue your administrative review and action.

Subject: New Orleans shooting

Inspector Gregory Bretzing
Inspection Division

Based upon a review of materials from your shooting inquiry, we have determined that there is insufficient evidence to warrant a federal criminal civil rights investigation into a shooting by an FBI agent in New Orleans on July 30, 2013, resulting in the death of Allen Desdunes. An FBI task force team initiated an arrest of Desdunes during a surveillance after he was observed selling narcotics. Desdunes attempt to evade arrest by striking blocking FBI task force cars with his car. An FBI agent fired once after the subject refused commands to stop, continued ramming the blocking law enforcement cars, and appeared to reach for a weapon. The local District Attorney has declined prosecution.

Desdunes was a gang member well known to the FBI. He had previously been arrested on narcotics and weapons charges [redacted] b7D -1
The FBI agent, who shot the subject, had used non-deadly physical force to arrest Desdunes on a prior occasion when he ran from arresting agents.

On July 30, an FBI task force was conducting surveillance on Desdunes in order to plan a later arrest by warrant. During this surveillance, Desdunes was observed selling drugs in a motel parking lot. Based upon that law violation, the surveillance team decided to detain the subject then and there. They were all known to Desdunes because of prior contact with him, but nonetheless donned clothing identifying themselves as police to detain him.

The two agents and a task force officer drove two of their vehicles into the parking lot to box-in Desdunes car. As Desdunes saw the cars approaching, he tried to evade them and attempted to escape in his car. Eventually, the drivers maneuvered the two law enforcement cars and boxed Desdunes' car between them. The two agents and the task force officer exited their cars as Desdunes drove his car alternately in forward and reverse to ram the blocking law enforcement cars. The law enforcement team yelled commands, "don't move," "open the door," "stop," and "put your hands up," and words to that effect. As a result of the first collision, the airbag inflated inside the subject's car, causing further confusion and limiting vision. Nevertheless, Desdunes continued to ignore commands and drove his car back and forth, ramming the other cars. The shooter agent broke the driver's window, pointed his M-4 rifle through the car window at Desdunes, and repeated the commands.

Despite this dramatic show of force, the subject continued to ignore commands and to drive back and forth attempting to open a space between his car and the others. He then reached into the back seat. The shooter proffers that he perceived this action to be a threat to himself and the other officers. The agent was aware that Desdunes had been convicted of carrying a firearm and, based upon that knowledge and the subject's desperate behavior, he believed Desdunes was reaching for a gun. The agent was further alarmed by the subject's unwillingness to submit to the law enforcement show of force. He states that he in fact feared that the subject had reached a gun in the back seat with which he would shoot the agent. The agent moved his body to protect himself and, at the same time, fired one shot. He did not fire again when he saw the subject go limp.

The other two law enforcement officers relate a consistent account. Significantly, both saw the subject reach into the back seat and also thought that the subject was going for a gun. The beliefs were understandable, but mistaken. No weapon was found in the car. However, Desdunes' friend, who was a passenger in his car, provides some supporting information. He observed that Desdunes attempt to evade arrest in his car, heard commands -- the same commands described by the agents -- repeatedly given, and conceded that Desdunes refused to obey the commands. There were no independent witnesses to the events at the time of the shooting. The Inspection Division attempted to interview family members whom claimed to have relevant information, but Desdunes family refused to talk with the FBI.

Based on the available, non-contradicted facts, a federal criminal civil rights investigation of the agent's action is unwarranted. Regardless of the viability of the arrest plan and problems with its execution, the agent's perceived fear that the subject's action posed a deadly threat was not unreasonable. There is insufficient evidence to support a finding that the agent acted with an intent to do anything that he believed to be unlawful, a conclusion necessary to prove a willful violation of the 4th Amendment's requirement of reasonable seizure, a necessary element of 18 USC 242. We appreciate the agent's voluntary statement that permitted a fully informed decision in this matter. Please continue your administrative review and action.

This communication serves to memorialize the SIRT Investigation of the captioned shooting incident involving New York Field Office (NYO) SA [redacted] and the results of the 11/20/2013 SIRG meeting. b6 b7C

On 07/19/2012, the SIRT traveled to SA [redacted] residence, [redacted] New York, to review the scene of the b6 b7C shooting. NYPD's Evidence Response Team processed the scene on 07/18/2012. The SIRT was not allowed entry into SA [redacted] residence. Federal Law Enforcement Officers Association (FLEOA) attorney, [redacted] who represented SA [redacted] advised the SIRT he would not allow SA [redacted] to provide a voluntary statement.

The New York Police Department (NYPD) provided the SIRT a compilation of reports, the [redacted] 911 call, and video surveillance. The SIRT did not interview SA [redacted] The following three paragraphs summarize the shooting incident:

At approximately 5:15 am, on 07/18/2012, an Agent-involved shooting occurred in [redacted] SA [redacted] assigned to the [redacted] was off-duty at his residence, [redacted] New York, when the shooting occurred. At approximately 5:00 a.m., SA [redacted] heard a car alarm activate. Upon looking out of her second story window, she observed two unidentified males attempting to burglarize the family's vehicle, [redacted] began to bang on the window in an attempt to stop the burglary.

SA [redacted] asleep in an adjacent room, was awakened by the commotion, and was advised by [redacted] their vehicle was being burglarized. SA [redacted] went to the bedroom window, raised the blinds and observed a black male wearing a white t-shirt at the rear of their vehicle "pulling" on the trunk. SA [redacted] observed a "shiny" object in the right hand of the subject, which he described as either a ratchet or a knife. SA [redacted] opened the window and yelled "Police, what the fuck are you doing?" SA [redacted] also yelled get away from my car. The subject did not respond and continued to pull on the trunk. SA [redacted] advised the subject took his left hand and placed it in the area of his waistband, while still pulling on the trunk with his right hand.

Based on his experience and training, SA [redacted] believed the

waistband area to be a location where weapons were kept. Upon seeing this, SA [redacted] and removed his Bureau issued service weapon from its holster. SA [redacted] returned to the window with his firearm and found the subject still pulling on the trunk. SA [redacted] again shouted at the subject to move away from his vehicle. Immediately following the command, the subject looked up at SA [redacted] reached to his waistband area and made suspicious movements directed towards him. In response to the subject's actions, SA [redacted] fired one shot from his weapon. Following the shot, the subject fled [redacted]

The SIRG voted regarding the application of deadly force. Eight of 12 voting members determined the use of deadly force by SA [redacted] violated the DOJ Deadly Force policy.

The DOJ Deadly Force Policy provides a core principle that agents "may use deadly force only when necessary, that is, when the officer has a reasonable belief that the subject of such force poses an imminent danger of death or serious physical injury to the officer or to another person."

The United States Supreme Court has explained that "the test of reasonableness under the Fourth Amendment is not capable of precise definition or mechanical application." Graham, 490 U.S. at 396. The Court advised that "proper application requires careful attention to the facts and circumstances of each particular case, including the severity of the crime at issue, whether the suspect poses an immediate threat to the safety of the officers or others, and whether he is actively resisting arrest or attempting to evade arrest by flight." Id. The Court also stated that reasonableness "must be judged from the perspective of a reasonable officer on the scene, rather than with the 20/20 vision of hindsight" and that the "calculus of reasonableness must embody allowance for the fact that police officers are often forced to make split-second judgments-in circumstances that are tense, uncertain, and rapidly evolving-about the amount fo force that is necessary in a particular situation." Id.at 396-97. The ultimate question is "whether the officers' actions are 'objectively reasonable' in light of the facts and circumstances confronting them, without regard to their underlying intent or motivation." Id. at 397.

Some of the factors, while not all-inclusive, cited by the voting members in evaluating the objective reasonableness of SA [redacted] use of deadly force and the application of the DOJ Deadly Force Policy core principle included: (1) insufficient facts showing

b7A

it was reasonable for SA [redacted] to believe that the subject out on the street posed an imminent danger of death or serious bodily injury to SA [redacted] or others; (2) [redacted] was involved in a minor property crime out on the street while SA [redacted] and his family were inside the house on the second floor of the residence; and (3) the actions of SA [redacted] to include the presence of the structure in which SA [redacted] resided, verbal commands issued by SA [redacted] and SA [redacted] ability to safely move away from the window to retrieve his weapon prior to re-engaging the subject and using deadly force.

In particular, the verbal commands issued by SA [redacted] were "Police, What the fuck are you doing," and to get away from his car; these commands did not indicate that SA [redacted] believed that there was an imminent danger to himself or others, but rather that he was concerned about his car. While particular language for verbal commands is not required by the DOJ Deadly Force policy, it was noted during the SIRG that the standard language taught to all new SAs by PAU is "FBI, don't move," followed by commands to the subject such as "FBI, show me your hands," in order to clearly address a threat posed to the agent or others by the movement of a subject. SA [redacted] verbal commands, in contrast, reflected a concern about protecting his vehicle and its contents.

Four members of the SIRG requested further information from SA [redacted] in the form of a voluntary statement, to determine if additional circumstances existed which might be relevant to determining whether SA [redacted] use of deadly force was reasonable. The four voting members who requested additional information agreed that if SA [redacted] did not provide an additional statement that they would have to rely upon the existing record, and based upon the existing record, they would be unanimous in their decision that SA [redacted] failed to adhere to the DOJ deadly force policy.

Chief Inspector [redacted] contacted [redacted] the attorney representing SA [redacted] on 12/10/2013, in an attempt to allow SA

[redacted] to provide a voluntary statement. [redacted] again stated his client would not be available for an interview, absent being compelled. Accordingly, the 12 members voted unanimously regarding the SA [redacted] failure to adhere to the deadly force policy. b6 b7C

On 11/20/2013, the SIRG reviewed the Agent-involved shooting incident with the intent to:

1. Evaluate the application of deadly force. The SIRG unanimously determined the application of deadly force by SA [redacted] on 07/18/2012 was not in compliance with the Department of Justice's deadly force policy. The SIRG made the following observation: b6 b7C

Observation 1: SA [redacted] did not adhere to the deadly force policy. b6 b7C

[redacted] b5 b6 b7C

Instruction 1: AD, INSD, will refer this matter to the IIS for action deemed appropriate.

2. Provide the Director with an evaluative analysis, observations, and recommendations for corrective action from an operational standpoint.

The SIRG made no recommendations or observations concerning the operational techniques used by SA [redacted] during this shooting incident. b6 b7C

3. Provide recommendations concerning training and/or safety issues. The SIRG made the following observation requesting additional training:

Observation 2: SA [redacted] surrendered his weapon without consulting NYO CDC or EM, and did not adhere to NYO's [redacted] b6 b7C b7E

SIRT interviews and analysis of NYPD reports indicated relinquished possession of his Bureau-issued weapon to an outside agency without consulting the appropriate personnel.

Additionally, SIRT interviews revealed SA [redacted] contacted SA personnel, but did not contact the NYOC Duty Agent, and did not secure the scene. b6 b7C

Investigative Period: 07/18/2012 – Present

Synopsis

On July 18, 2012, at approximately 5:15 a.m., an Agent-involved shooting occurred in [redacted]. The Agent involved, SA [redacted] assigned to the [redacted] was off-duty at his residence, [redacted] b6 b7C

At approximately 5:00 a.m., SA [redacted] heard a car alarm. Upon looking out of a second story window of their residence, she observed two unidentified males attempting to burglarize her vehicle. The vehicle was parked directly in front of their residence. [redacted] began to bang on the window in an attempt to stop the subjects. SA [redacted], asleep in an adjacent room, was awakened by the commotion and was advised by [redacted] their vehicle was being burglarized. SA [redacted] looked out of the window, began yelling verbal commands at the subjects and identified himself as a law enforcement officer. One subject turned toward SA [redacted] The subject reached to his waistband area and made suspicious movements directed toward SA [redacted] SA [redacted] armed with his Bureau issued firearm, fired one shot at the subject through the window screen of his second story bedroom window. b6 b7C

Video footage [redacted] two subjects approaching the vicinity of SA [redacted] personally owned vehicle. Approximately two minutes later, the [redacted] two subjects attempting to flee from the vicinity of SA [redacted] vehicle. One subject fell to the ground alongside a light colored truck parked between SA [redacted] Bureau vehicle and personally owned vehicle. The second subject ran back to the first subject and dragged him down the street [redacted] Subsequent investigation by the NYPD revealed both subjects entered a vehicle [redacted] the vehicle departed the scene. b6 b7C

[redacted] called 911. NYPD officers responded to the residence. SA [redacted] advised them he fired his weapon one time. He surrendered his Bureau-issued firearm, as well as the shell casing from the fired round to the NYPD. SA [redacted] was uninjured, but was taken to a local hospital for evaluation as a precautionary measure. b6 b7C

Shortly after the incident, an individual identified as [redacted] arrived at [redacted] for treatment of a gunshot wound to his back. NYPD investigators responded to the hospital and identified [redacted] and [redacted] as the individuals who transported [redacted] to the hospital. b6 b7C

The SIRT dispatched to the NYO during the evening hours of 07/18/2012. Contact was made with NYPD upon arrival at SA [redacted] residence. NYPD officials provided the SIRT with the following information: b6 b7C

At approximately 5:15 am, an Agent-involved shooting occurred in [redacted] SA [redacted] assigned to the [redacted] was off-duty at his residence [redacted] when the shooting occurred. At approximately 5:00 a.m. [redacted] heard a car alarm activate. Upon looking out of her second story window, she observed two unidentified males attempting to burglarize the family's vehicle, [redacted] The vehicle was parked directly in front of their residence. [redacted] began to bang on the window in an attempt to stop the burglary. SA [redacted] asleep in an adjacent room, was awakened by the commotion, and was advised by [redacted] their vehicle was being burglarized. SA [redacted] went to the bedroom window, raised the blinds and observed a black male wearing a white t-shirt at the rear of their vehicle "pulling" on the trunk. SA [redacted] observed a "shiny" object in the right hand of the subject, which he described as either a ratchet or a knife. SA [redacted] opened the window and yelled "Police, what the fuck are you doing?" SA [redacted] stated he yelled the command twice. The subject did not respond and continued to pull on the trunk. SA [redacted] advised the subject took his left hand and placed it in the area of his waistband, while still pulling on the trunk with his right hand. Based on his experience and training, SA [redacted] believed the waistband area to be a location where weapons were kept. Upon seeing this, SA [redacted] went to a drawer beneath his bed and removed his Bureau issued service weapon from its holster, a Glock 23 (SN# [redacted] SA [redacted] returned to the window with his firearm and found the subject still pulling on the trunk. SA [redacted] again shouted at the subject to move away from his vehicle. Immediately following the command, the subject looked up at SA [redacted] reached to his waistband area and made suspicious movements directed towards him. In response to the subject's actions, SA [redacted] fired one shot from his weapon. Following the shot, the subject fled [redacted] b6 b7C

SA [redacted] went outside and found his vehicle had been burglarized and recalled seeing the passenger side window lying on the grass. Additionally, he looked [redacted] observed a male lying near the crosswalk of [redacted] The subject looked towards him and stated, "You're killing me man." SA [redacted] was unsure how many other subjects were in the area and did not go further. Video footage [redacted] a subject, later identified as [redacted] returning to the subject on the ground [redacted] pulled [redacted] across the crosswalk and both men entered a waiting vehicle. SA [redacted] reported seeing a dark colored vehicle, possibly a [redacted] A male exited the passenger side and pulled [redacted] from the ground into the backseat. All subjects entered the vehicle and drove away [redacted]

Upon re-entering his residence, SA [redacted] found [redacted] to be on the telephone with a 911 dispatcher. NYPD officers arrived on-scene within minutes and SA [redacted] identified himself as an FBI Agent. SA [redacted] advised a NYPD Sergeant he shot someone who was dragged into a [redacted] SA [redacted] described the individual he shot as a black male, with a shaved head, wearing a white T-shirt and dark shorts. After being questioned about the status of his weapon, SA [redacted] relinquished it, along with the spent shell casing, to the Sergeant.

Shortly after the incident, [redacted] arrived a [redacted] for treatment of a gunshot wound in his back. NYPD investigators responded to the hospital and identified [redacted] as the individuals who transported [redacted] to the hospital. [redacted] departed the area of the hospital with the vehicle and was not seen until 07/22/2012 when he surrendered to the NYPD's 106th Precinct, to address charges related to the incident.

The SIRT interviewed SA [redacted] Surveillance Team Leader for SA [redacted] SA [redacted] advised he received a call from SA [redacted] who told SA [redacted] he had been involved in a shooting. SA [redacted] unable to reach SA [redacted] immediate supervisor, contacted SA [redacted] a squad member of SA [redacted] and instructed him to respond to SA [redacted] residence.

The SIRT interviewed SA [redacted] who advised he arrived at SA [redacted] residence and observed him to be visibly shaken. He asked SA [redacted] where the shooting incident occurred, in an attempt to determine if the residence was a crime scene. He was unable to remember SA [redacted] response, but recalled he mentioned someone breaking into his car, and feeling he had to shoot. He requested SA [redacted] not provide any further details. He advised on scene NYPD officers he wanted SA [redacted] to go to the hospital and requested they contact an ambulance. He accompanied SA [redacted] in the ambulance to [redacted]

The above-noted information regarding the interviews of SAs [redacted] and [redacted] was documented via FD-302.

As part of the SIRT investigation, a digital copy of a 911 call made by [redacted] on 07/18/2012 was received from the NYPD. As the 911 recording began [redacted] was heard to yell "shoot the car." She identified herself as [redacted] to the 911 operator, provided her address, and told the operator two black males attempted to burglarize her vehicle. She told the 911 operator a [redacted] was headed down [redacted] and "they" picked someone up. She stated there were two or three black males and one of them was possibly injured. She noted [redacted] would be able to tell the police if one of the men was injured. She told the 911 operator [redacted] was outside looking at her car and "they" stole her radio. She then identified [redacted] The 911 operator asked her if any weapons were involved. [redacted] stated [redacted] drew his weapon and fired one shot. She told the 911 operator she did not know if "they" drew a weapon and the incident occurred less than five minutes before the 911 call. b6 b7C

NYO, squad [redacted] began pursuing an AEO investigation [redacted] Agents responded to SA [redacted] residence, [redacted] and [redacted] on the morning of the shooting. SAs [redacted] and [redacted] responded to [redacted] and learned [redacted] was treated for a gunshot wound to the back. The bullet was not removed during surgery due to its proximity to [redacted] spine [redacted] was cleared for interview upon release from surgery at approximately 8:15 a.m. on 07/18/2012. During the interview with SAs [redacted] and [redacted] stated he went to [redacted] with [redacted] and two friends. He told the Agents he was walking in a crosswalk and "got shot." He then terminated the interview due to discomfort from the surgery. b7E b7C b7A

On 07/19/2012, in exchange for immunity from prosecution, SA [redacted] and [redacted] made statements to representatives of the Queens County District Attorney's Office (QCDAO) and the NYPD. SA [redacted] statement was consistent with his statement to NYPD on the morning of the shooting. [redacted] Attorney for SA [redacted] advised neither SA [redacted] nor [redacted] would be available for an interview with the SIRT. As a part of the ongoing 89B investigation, NYO obtained a copy of the NYPD and QCDAO interview of SA [redacted] and [redacted] These interviews were made part of the SIRT's investigation. b6 b7C

As a part of the ongoing 89B investigation, NYO SA [redacted] met with the QCDAO and the attorney for [redacted] on 07/22/2012. In exchange for immunity from prosecution fo [redacted] provided the following information to the QCDAO, which conflicted with the information provided by [redacted] to the FBI on 07/18/2012: [redacted] an [redacted] travelled to [redacted] in the early morning of 07/18/2012 to steal a car stereo and navigation system from a [redacted] similar to the one driven by [redacted] All four men met near the back of SA [redacted] and [redacted] took up look-out positions at the opposite ends o [redacted] an [redacted] used tools, to include a screwdriver, to burglarize the car. [redacted] heard someone shouting at him and [redacted] and then heard a gunshot. All four men began to flee the scene [redacted] realized [redacted] was injured and assisted him as they entered [redacted] After dropping of [redacted] drove away in [redacted] vehicle. b6 b7C

To date, the SIRT is not aware of any evidence indicating the subjects were armed.

Pursuant to a SIRT team request, on 07/19/2012, NYO ERT completed photographs and video of the outside of SA [redacted] residence and began Total Station processing. b6 b7C

On 09/17/2013, in exchange for immunity from prosecution for violation of Title 18, United States Code, Section 1001 [redacted] and [redacted] made statements to the SIRT, the USAO for the Eastern District of New York, and [redacted] Special Legal Counsel, Civil b6 b7C Rights Division, DOJ. [redacted] and [redacted] were interviewed separately in the presence of their attorney [redacted] stated he [redacted] and two friends were searching for a [redacted] similar to the vehicle owned by [redacted] Once they located the [redacted] owned by [redacted] they devised a plan to break into the vehicle to steal the stereo so it could be placed in [redacted] vehicle. [redacted] and one of the friends acted as lookouts while [redacted] broke the passenger side window o[redacted] and entered the vehicle. [redacted] attempted to disarm the vehicle's alarm with a small ratchet. [redacted] used a screwdriver to access and remove the radio. During this time [redacted] moved to the rear wheel of the driver's side of the vehicle. [redacted] heard a male banging on a window and yelling, "What the fuck are you doing?" [redacted] handed the radio to one of the friends who ran away with the stereo. [redacted] hit the horn with his feet while exiting the vehicle, causing the alarm to go off and the lights to flash on the vehicle. He began to run down the street when he heard a gunshot and the [redacted] said "I got shot." In a separate interview [redacted] stated he [redacted] and [redacted] identified as [redacted] y the NYPD) were driving around neighborhoods in two vehicles on the morning of 07/18/2012, looking for [redacted] so they could steal the radio and install it in [redacted] vehicle. Once they found [redacted] which met their criteria, they parked the vehicles and approached the vehicle on foo[redacted] attempted to disarm the alarm with a screwdriver while [redacted] broke the passenger side window and entered the vehicle. [redacted] moved to the rear of the driver's side of the vehicle to act as a lookout. At some point [redacted] activated the vehicle alarm, causing the lights to flash and the horn to go off. [redacted] noticed blinds move in an upstairs window of a house located near the vehicle and heard banging on the window. [redacted] ducked down behind the vehicle. [redacted] heard [redacted] yell, "Let's go," and [redacted] began to run up the street. He heard one shot and fell to the ground. He thought he was shot but did not feel it immediately. [redacted] told [redacted] he was shot and looked back in the direction of where it occurred. He saw a male with a gun pointed in his direction and told the male, "You fucking shot me." [redacted] could not recall if the male responded. [redacted] helped [redacted] into a [redacted] and they drove to the hospital.

AI/TL [redacted]
Assistant Inspector-in-Place (AIIP) [redacted]
AIIP [redacted]

B. Shooting Incident Review Protocol

On 07/18/2012, IIC Davis communicated with NYO Special Agent in Charge (SAC) April D. Brooks to arrange logistics for the SIRT. SAC Brooks served as the point of contact for the SIRT. The SIRT arrived during the evening hours of 07/18/2012. On 07/19/2012, IIC Davis and Inspector [redacted] met with the NYO Assistant Director in Charge (ADIC) Janice K. Fedarcyk to discuss SIRT protocols. IIC Davis was informed the NYPD was conducting a parallel investigation and would provide their reports to the SIRT. ADIC Fedarcyk was advised all statements taken by the SIRT would be provided to the NYPD for inclusion in their investigative file. b6 b7C

On 07/19/2012, IIC Davis met with all SIRT personnel, members of the NYO executive management as well as the squad conducting the Assault on a Federal Officer (AFO) investigation. IIC Davis introduced members of the SIRT and outlined the SIRT protocols. There was an opportunity for dialogue regarding concerns, clarification, or questions prior to the investigation commencing. On 07/19/2012, SIRT team members visited the scene of the shooting along with members of the investigative squad [redacted] and a representative of the NYO Evidence Response Team (ERT). b7E

SA [redacted] through the advice of his attorney [redacted], appeared for an interview with the NYPD and the QCDAO. The SIRT was provided a copy of a summary of the b6 b7C interview. SA [redacted] refused to provide a Signed Sworn Statement to the SIRT. Additional interviews, events and observations were documented in FD-302s. FBI personnel were interviewed and allowed to read the FD-302 documenting their interview and confirm the accuracy of the information provided. b6 b7C

Neither the FD-644 (Warning and Assurance to Employee Requested to Provide Information on a Voluntary Basis) nor the FD-645 (Warning and Assurance to Employee Required to Provide Information) were utilized. The interviews of witnesses were conducted voluntarily. FD-927's (Warning and Assurance to Employee Requested to Provide Information Following a Shooting Incident) were executed for each Agent interview.

On 07/22/2012, an exit brief was provided by IIC Davis to ADIC Fedarcyk and SAC Brooks.

This matter should be closed for the reasons described below:

1. Date of the Incident: July 18, 2012

2. Synopsis of the Facts and Reasons for Closing:

On July 18, 2012, around 5: 15 a.m., in [redacted], FBI Special Agent [redacted] shot and wounded [redacted] while he was involved in the theft of a car radio from the agents' family vehicle parked outside his home. The agent shot through a window screen from a second story room striking [redacted] in the right rear side of his body. [redacted] survived the wound without significant lasting adverse consequences.

The agent claims that, after he was awakened by [redacted] screams from the next room, he looked out the window and saw [redacted] bent down behind the car with a shiny tool, while another man was inside the car. The agent identified himself as "police," ordered the intruders away from the car, and grabbed his service weapon beneath his bed. According to the agent, rather than obey the commands, the man at the rear of the car turned toward the agent with the shiny object in his right hand and reached to his waist band with his left hand for what the agent thought might be a gun. Fearing for himself and [redacted] at the window in the next room, the agent fired one shot at the man [redacted] and [redacted] (inside the car removing the radio) both claim that [redacted] was running away in the street about a car length away from the subject's car when he was shot. Forensic evidence, on the other hand, supports the fact that [redacted] was at or near the rear of the car when the agent fired and wounded him. b6 b7C

The Civil Rights Division and the United States Attorney's Office for the Eastern District of New York carefully reviewed the evidence from the federal investigation and the independent Queens District Attorney's office (Queens DA) investigation to determine whether there was sufficient evidence to prove a federal criminal civil rights violation of the applicable statute, 18 United States Code, Section 242. That evidence included the Queens DA interviews of the agent [redacted] and the [redacted] an FBI/Department attorney interview of the [redacted] the FBI Lab enhancement of a video that recorded the events that appear to occur just after the shooting; and the ballistics testing and analyses performed by the Firearms Analysis Section of the NYPD Lab. The Queens DA declined a criminal prosecution of the FBI agent for any violation of state law. b6 b7C

A violation of the federal criminal civil rights statutes requires proof beyond a reasonable doubt that a subject law enforcement officer acted willfully, that is, with the intent to do something that he knew to be unlawful. Mistake of fact, and even seriously bad judgment, would not establish such willful intent. There is insufficient evidence to refute the agent's claim that he fired his weapon in order to counter what he believed to be a threat to himself and to [redacted] in the window next to him – a thief appearing to be reaching to his waistband to draw a handgun. Accordingly, with the concurrence of the United States Attorney's Office for the Eastern District of New York, it is recommended that there is insufficient evidence to support a violation of Title 18, United States Code, Section 242 beyond a reasonable doubt and the matter should be closed. b6 b7C

3. Predication and Allegations Investigated:

The matter was immediately investigated by the FBI Inspections Division and the Queens District Attorney's office. The agent and [redacted] represented by counsel, were interviewed by Queens DA attorneys and New York Police Department (NYPD) investigators. After [redacted] was located in a hospital, he was interviewed by the FBI. Later, both he and [redacted] both represented by counsel, were also interviewed by the Queens DA and NYPD investigators. b6 b7C

A neighborhood investigation revealed there were no other witnesses to the shooting. Significantly, there was a video recording of events [redacted] the time of the shooting. The frame of the video recording included [redacted] The video was enhanced by the FBI laboratory, providing a slightly better resolution of the recorded events. b6 b7C

Additionally, the agent reenacted the shooting in his bedroom and provided local law enforcement with the window screen through which he fired. Local law enforcement investigators took crime scene photographs of both the inside of the residence as well as the outside street area. They made measurements of relevant distances and conducted ballistics testing on the screen. FBI Inspectors, local investigators, and attorneys from Queens DA and DOJ visited the scene.

The agent an[redacted] as well as both [redacted] declined to testify before Queens grand jury. The Queens DA declined prosecution of the agent and of the [redacted] b6 b7C

[redacted] and [redacted] are represented by an attorney in potential civil litigation. Both [redacted] agreed to be and were interviewed by FBI inspectors and Department attorneys. The attorney representing the agent refused to permit either the agent o[redacted] to be interviewed by the FBI/DOJ. b6 b7C

4. Subject's Version of the Events:

The agent [redacted] advised the Queens DA that she was awake[redacted] room adjacent to the couple's bedroom on the second floor in the front of the house when she heard her car alarm go off at about 5:15 a.m. Looking out the window, she observed two individuals breaking into her car. She yelled to [redacted] who was asleep in bed in the next room. b6 b7C

The agent advised the Queens DA that, after he was alerted by [redacted] he looked out the window and saw one man inside the car and a second man at the rear of the car, holding a silver object. The agent opened the left-hand-most pane of a three-paned bay window and yelled, "Police, get away from the car (or words to that effect)." The men ignored the command. b6 b7C

The agent reached under his bed for his service handgun and pointed it toward the men, repeating his command. The man behind the car (later identified as [redacted] looked up, still holding the object that appeared to the agent to be a tool in his right hand, and reached towards his left rear waistband area, turning his body towards the agent. According to the agent, he believed the man was reaching for a weapon and feared for himself an[redacted] in the adjoining room. He fired one shot at the man. b6 b7C

After he fired the shot, the agent ran downstairs and out the front door. Once outside, he observed a man dragging another man to an automobile in a nearby intersection. Upon seeing more men, the agent returned to his house[redacted] called 911. On a 911 recording [redacted] reports the shooting to the dispatcher. On the same recording, she can be heard yelling to [redacted] imploring him to shoot at the men getting away in a car. b6 b7C

An attorney representing the agent and [redacted] was present when they were both interviewed by the Queens DA office. The agent also conducted a reenactment of the shooting in his bedroom for the Queens DA, again with his attorney present. On that occasion, he also permitted the Queens DA to take custody of the screen with a gunshot hole for examination. b6 b7C

5. Witness Accounts:

Initially, when questioned by FBI agents at the hospital, claimed that he was shot while innocently walking in a crosswalk. Later, while represented by counsel, he and provided a proffer to the Queens DA in which they admitted that they were involved in a theft from the car at the time of the shooting. Later, when interviewed separately by the Queens DA, the accounts evolved. They were initially deceptive about their actions on the night of the incident. Also, their stories were inconsistent. At first told the Queens DA that he was merely passing by the location when he observed another individual breaking into the car and that, when as a good Samaritan he sought to stop him, he was shot later admitted to being actively involved in breaking into the car and trying to steal the radio. After claiming it was a crime of opportunity, ultimately admitted that the car had been spotted on a previous day.

Months later, after the federal government made assurances that would not be prosecuted for previously making a false statement to a federal officer, both were interviewed in the presence of their attorney by an FBI Inspector and Department attorneys. and candidly admitted that, with the help of two accomplices, they broke into the car parked in front of the agent's home and stole its radio. Using a screwdriver, attempted to disable the alarm at the front of the car. He then went to stand at the rear of the car, leaning against it to appear less conspicuous to passers-by. Meanwhile broke out the side window, crawled into the car, removed the radio, and handed it outside to a confederate.

Both were alerted to a pounding on the second floor window of the house in front of which the car was parked. heard pounding only. heard someone yell "get the F - away from the car (or words to that effect)." Both insisted they did not hear anyone yell "police."

claims that he ducked down, trying to hide behind the car, when he heard the pounding at the window. He still had the tool that he used to attempt to disarm the alarm in his hand or pocket. believed that was in possession of a ratchet tool, not the screwdriver, which he carried into the car. Significantly insisted that he never reached for his waist band when he was behind the car.

Both ran away from the car in the same direction – on the sidewalk an in the street. Both claimed they heard a loud boom, later determined by them to be a gunshot estimated that he had run from the rear of the car to a place in the street adjacent to the vehicle parked immediately in front of the burglarized car, when he heard a boom corroborated that, when he heard the boom, he saw, in his peripheral vision, running and falling at the approximate same spot in the street.

When interviewed by federal authorities, recalled falling at the sound of the boom immediately upon being struck by a bullet. However, whe was interviewed earlier by the Queens DA, he stated that, while he had begun to run from the rear of the car, he did not specifically remember where he was when the bullet struck him confirmed later claim that he fell immediately when he was shot at previously indicated location.

Both [redacted] advised tha[redacted] came to the aid of [redacted] and helped him to the nearby intersection. Before getting to the intersection, both men saw a man came out of the house. He was holding a gun and pointing it at them. The man did not say anything. [redacted] ran to get a car parked nearby and with the help of a confederate put [redacted] inside the car at the intersection and drove him to a hospital. b6 b7C

[redacted] was treated for a gunshot wound that entered the right rear side of his body with a trajectory that took the bullet near the spine and causing minor liver damage. He has fully recovered and demonstrates no significantly adverse lasting effects of having been shot. b6 b7C

The Queens DA interviewed the confederates who acted as lookouts during the crime. They concocted conflicting accounts. While it is believed that they were nearby at the time of the shooting, it is not believed that they actually witnessed the shooting.

6. Video and Physical and Forensic Evidence:

Significant physical evidence was collected and forensically analyzed. As part of a canvass by police, video was obtained [redacted] b6 b7C [redacted] Additionally, the victim's sandals and a silver ratchet tool were found in the street adjacent to a truck parked immediately in front of the agent's car in the direction that the [redacted] ran. Finally, the agent provided the window screen with a hole through it from the gunshot he fired to the Queens DA for forensic analysis.

The video does not appear to capture the actual shooting, but it does show [redacted] b6 b7C [redacted] running and then falling to the ground. It initially appeared that the video recorded [redacted] fall to the ground as he was shot. However, other forensic evidence contradicts such an assumption and supports the agent's contention that [redacted] was near the rear of the car when he was shot and then ran a few steps before he fell. In any event, in light of the totality of the physical evidence, the agent's contention that he shot at a man when he was behind the car -- and turning toward him with a hand at his waistband, as the agent further contends -- cannot be refuted beyond a reasonable doubt.

The stationary video camera ran continually. The video frame does not include the [redacted] Instead, it records in its frame [redacted] b6 b7C

The recording shows figures approaching the agent's car. Then, a few seconds after the car alarm engages, a figure, later determined to b[redacted] runs on the street into the [redacted] The figure falls as it crosses in front of a truck parked immediately in front of the agent's car. Thereafter, the video records another figure [redacted] drag the figure that fell down the street to the intersection where a car eventually arrives to carry everyone away. b6 b7C

The distance at which the figure fell is twelve feet from the rear of the agent's car. In that same vicinity [redacted] sandals were discovered in the street next to one another, as well as a silver ratchet. A blood drag was also discovered in the street from that spot to the intersection. b6 b7C

An examination of the agent's bedroom window revealed a tear consistent with a bullet hole in the left-side bay window screen. Weeks later, the agent conducted a reenactment of the shooting for the Queens DA. For the reenactment vehicles were placed where crime scene photographs pictured them at the time of the shooting. Measurements of distances and angles were made from the window to the location at the rear of the car the night of the shooting, as well as to the location where [redacted] sandals were discovered, and the same estimated location where he fell on the video recording. Thereafter, the Firearms Analysis Section of the NYPD Lab conducted forensic ballistic testing with the window screen. Also of forensic significance, there is a large fully-leafed curbside tree in the front yard of the agent's residence that partially blocks the view from the bay window. b6 b7C

We concur with the opinion ultimately reached by the Queens DA. First, after multiple, careful reviews of the FBI lab enhancement of the video, the image is consistent with [redacted] tripping on his sandals, causing him to fall, rather than [redacted] falling from the impact of a bullet strike. Such a bullet impact would have jarred both his body and his feet forward. Instead, in the video recording, [redacted] body falls forward while his feet remain stationary on the street. b6 b7C

Second, the agent had a clear line of site from the window screen through which he shot to the rear of [redacted] car. At the same time, the agent's view of the area from the rear of the car to the location on the street where [redacted] fell would have been obscured by the curbside tree in addition to the window frame and window blinds covering the other parts of the bay window. Due to obstructions, it is highly unlikely that the agent would have been able to hit [redacted] with a gunshot if he shot while [redacted] was in the vicinity where he fell, twelve feet away from the rear of the car. Because of trajectory angles, it seemed almost impossible that the agent could have shot [redacted] anywhere on the street other than at the location at the rear of the [redacted] car. b6 b7C

Finally, to further confirm this conclusion, forensic testing was conducted on the window screen. The actual window screen with the bullet tear hole was taken to the Firearms Analysis Section of the NYPD Lab. Upon examination of the window screen, the bullet hole from the incident was identified and marked. The screen fibers disturbed by the round passing through it were photographed. Then, the angles of fire that were consistent with both the agent's statement and the location at which [redacted] fell, as indicated on the video and by the location of his sandals, were replicated. A weapon and ammunition, which were identical to that used by the agent during the incident, were used to fire through the window screen in an attempt to replicate the hole created at the time of the incident. b6 b7C

The results of the ballistic testing revealed that a hole generated by firing through the screen at an extreme angle (as if to shoot [redacted] where he fell in the videotape) was inconsistent with the hole created during the incident. In fact, it could not have been more different. The hole was much bigger and the fibers when disturbed by the bullet at the extreme angle bent interior on the top and exterior on the bottom of the hole. Yet, the hole created by firing through the screen at an angle consistent with firing toward the rear of the car (the agent's version of the events) generated a tear nearly identical to the original hole in both size and direction of disturbed fibers, all bending outward. Accordingly, the ballistics experts opined that the hole created during the incident was consistent with the agent's account of where the victim was located when the agent fired at him.

7. Legal Issues

To prove a violation of 18 U.S.C. § 242, the applicable federal criminal civil rights statute, the government must prove, beyond a reasonable doubt, that a police officer subject willfully used more force than was reasonably necessary under the circumstances. This burden of proof has both an objective and a subjective component. The reasonableness of the amount of force used is determined objectively and from the perspective of a reasonable officer on the scene, rather than with the 20/20 vision of hindsight. Graham v. Connor, 490 U.S. 386, 396 (1989). Allowance must be made for the fact that law enforcement officials are often forced to make split-second judgments in circumstances that are tense, uncertain, and rapidly evolving. Id. 396-97.

Even if there is evidence of unreasonable force, the government must further show that an officer acted willfully, that is with a bad purpose to violate the law. Screws v. United States, 325 U.S. 91 (1945). Accident, mistake, misperception, fear, or even poor judgment, do not constitute willful conduct prosecutable under the statute. The officer must intend to do that which he knew to be wrong.

8. Conclusion

There is insufficient evidence to refute beyond a reasonable doubt the agent's claim that he fired his weapon in order to eliminate what he believed to be a threat to himself and [redacted] b6 b7C [redacted] in the window next to him – a car thief appearing to be reaching to his waistband to draw a handgun. Forensic evidence supports the agent's claim that he fired one shot at [redacted] who [redacted] was at the rear of [redacted] car. [redacted] admits that he was bent down behind the car when confronted by the agent, just as the agent claims to have seen him. [redacted] admits, and the evidence confirms, that he likely had a silver object in one hand. Even [redacted] is correct, that he did not reach toward his waist band, the agent's contention that he believed that he saw such a movement cannot be disproven. Further, the agent's claim that he was afraid for himself and his family similarly cannot be disproven.

While it is difficult to understand why the agent chose to shoot rather than to remove himself and [redacted] from harm's way, such second guessing does not prove the b6 b7C specific criminal intent beyond a reasonable doubt necessary to prosecute the agent under Title 18, United States Code, Section 242. As indicated in the previous section, accident, mistake, misperception, fear, or even poor judgment, do not establish willful conduct. Accordingly, the evidence does not support a prosecutable violation of federal law and it is recommended that the matter should be closed. The United States Attorney's Office for the Eastern District of New York concurs with this recommendation.

Dear [redacted]

This is to memorialize our prior telephone conversation and to request that you reconsider your earlier decision to decline to permit a voluntary interview by me and the FBI of your client, Special Agent [redacted] and [redacted]

b7C

As you know, the Inspection Division and the Department's Civil Rights Division are conducting a criminal investigation of the July 18, 2012 shooting in which SA [redacted] wounded [redacted] outside the agent's home in [redacted] to determine whether the agent willfully used unreasonable force under color of law in violation of 18 United States Code Section 242. During the Queens District Attorney's criminal investigation, which ultimately concluded with a declination of any charges related to your client's conduct, he spoke with attorneys from that office. While we have been advised of the details of that interview, we would like the same opportunity to hear his account of the events and to question him.

For your information [redacted] attorney has agreed to permit an interview of his client in this federal investigation. While we recognize that your client has a 5th Amendment privilege to decline to provide a voluntary interview, we would obviously prefer to hear all eye witness accounts to assess them in order to make a fully informed decision in this important matter.

We will consider any ground rules for such an interview, except use immunity (no interview will be compelled at this stage of our review). Please advise me of your decision at your earliest convenience or call if you wish to discuss my request further. My office number is [redacted] b6 b7C

PEOPLE V. ADRIAN RICKETTS 2012QN039081
PEOPLE V. ANDRAE RICKETTS 2012QN039274

STATEMENT BY ADA ROBERT HANOPHY (READ INTO THE RECORD)

AT THIS TIME, THE PEOPLE MOVE TO DISMISS BOTH DOCKETS CURRENTLY BEFORE THE COURT. THE DISTRICT ATTORNEY'S OFFICE HAS CONDUCTED AN ALMOST 8 MONTH INVESTIGATION INTO THIS INCIDENT.

WE BELIEVE THE PERTINENT FACTS SURROUNDING THIS INCIDENT TO BE AS FOLLOWS: ON JULY 18, 2012 BROTHERS ANDRAE AND ADRIAN RICKETTS WERE BREAKING INTO AN AUTOMOBILE OWNED BY AN FBI AGENT [redacted]. THEIR ACTS WERE OBSERVED THROUGH THE WINDOW BY THE AGENT'S WIFE WHO WOKE UP HER HUSBAND. THE FBI AGENT YELLED SEVERAL TIMES, "POLICE GET AWAY FROM THE CAR." AT SOME POINT THE FBI AGENT BELIEVED THAT ADRIAN RICKETTS WAS REACHING FOR A WEAPON AND HE FIRED ONE ROUND FROM HIS SERVICE WEAPON, STRIKING ADRIAN RICKETTS IN THE SIDE OF HIS BODY, AFTER WHICH, THE RICKETTS BROTHERS FLED THE SCENE. BOTH RICKETTS BROTHERS AS WELL AS THE FBI AGENT [redacted] AND HIS WIFE HAVE BEEN INTERVIEWED. DURING THE PROGRESSION OF THE INVESTIGATION, THE DISTRICT ATTORNEY'S OFFICE LEARNED THROUGH THEIR ATTORNEYS THAT NEITHER ANDRAE NOR ADRIAN RICKETTS WOULD VOLUNTARILY TESTIFY IN THE GRAND JURY WITHOUT A GRANT OF IMMUNITY. SIMILARLY WE LEARNED FROM THE FBI AGENT'S ATTORNEY LAWRENCE BERGER, THAT THE FBI AGENT [redacted] WOULD NOT TESTIFY BEFORE THE GRAND JURY IF HE WAS REQUIRED TO SIGN A WAIVER OF IMMUNITY. THE DISTRICT ATTORNEY'S OFFICE WILL NOT "CHOOSE SIDES WITH REGARDS TO THIS INCIDENT. IT WAS OUR INTENTION TO SUBMIT THE ENTIRE MATTER TO A GRAND JURY FOR ITS' CONSIDERATION. IT APPEARS THAT THE ATTORNEYS FOR THE AGENT AND THE RICKETTS HAVE AGREED TO HAVE THEIR CLIENTS NOT TESTIFY AGAINST EACH OTHER. THE DISTRICT ATTORNEY'S OFFICE WAS NOT A PARTY TO ANY SUCH ARRANGEMENT. I HAVE CONFERRED WITH MR. BERGER AND MR. DAVID LEVINE WHO REPRESENTS THESE DEFENDANTS. EACH HAS TOLD ME THAT THEY EXPRESSLY ENDORSE DISMISSAL OF THE CASE AGAINST THE RICKETTS BROTHERS AND REALIZE THAT AS A RESULT, A GRAND JURY WILL NOT CONSIDER THE FBI AGENT'S ACTS THAT NIGHT. EACH PARTY FURTHER UNDERSTANDS THE FINALITY OF THIS DISMISSAL AND THAT WE WILL NOT LATER RE- ENTERTAIN ANY COMPLAINTS ARISING FROM THE EVENTS OF JULY 18, 2012.

Synopsis: (U) The Shooting Incident Review Group (SIRG) reviewed a shooting incident that occurred on 10/14/2010, involving Supervisory Special Agent (SSA) [redacted] and Special Agent (SA) [redacted] b6 b7C of the Critical Incident Response Group (CIRG). During the rescue of a kidnapping victim SSA [redacted] fired approximately eight to ten rounds and SA [redacted] fired approximately five rounds, resulting in the death of a subject as well as a dog. SIRG members recommended that no administrative action be taken against SSA [redacted] and SA [redacted] as a result of their involvement in this shooting incident.

Administrative Notes: (U) Reference Report of Former Inspector Aaron T. Ford, dated 10/21/2010.

Details:

This communication was prepared to furnish the analysis, comments, and recommendations of the SIRG with reference to the captioned shooting.

Detail of the shooting Incident

On 10/08/2010, [redacted] a local businessman from a wealthy family in [redacted] was kidnapped. José Antonio Ortíz-Albarrán, [redacted] and an unknown b6 b7C coconspirator were involved in the kidnapping. [redacted] was held hostage at an unknown location and an initial ransom demand of $1 million, later reduced to $250,000, was made. Because Ortiz-Albarran and [redacted] did not wear face coverings there was concern [redacted] may be killed, rather than be released. b6 b7C

At approximately 4:00 p.m. on 10/12/2010, a secure video teleconference (SVTC) was held between San Juan Special Agent in Charge (SAC) Luis S. Fraticelli, Assistant Special Agent in Charge (ASAC) [redacted] ASAC [redacted] San Juan Special Weapons and Tactics (SWAT) Senior Team Leader (STL) [redacted] Hostage Rescue Team (HRT) Special Agent (SA) [redacted] and (Critical Incident Response Group) CIRG personnel Assistant Director (AD) Robert A. Blecksmith, Deputy Assistant Director (DAD) M. Chris Briese, HRT Section Chief (SC) James F. Yacone and HRT Assistant Section Chief (ASC) [redacted] A Type B, partial deployment of HRT resources comprised of fewer operators than a full team, was approved by AD Blecksmith during the SVTC. The deployment was to be immediate, with HRT to arrive in San Juan at approximately 12:50 a.m. on 10/13/2010. b6 b7C

San Juan FBI identified the location where [redacted] was being held hostage at [redacted] As part of the investigation, physical surveillance identified a delivery of a Burger King bag to the [redacted] on the afternoon of 10/13/2010. A proof of life call was received later that evening and during the call [redacted] advised he had eaten Burger King for lunch. With this information SAC Fraticelli, was confident the hostage was being held inside the [redacted] b6 b7C

On 10/13/2010, at approximately 11:00 p.m., an Operations Order prepared by HRT personnel was briefed to SAC Fraticelli, which he verbally approved. SAC Fraticelli advised he would not authorize the execution of the Operations Order until he received confirmation the hostage was located inside of [redacted] The original written b6 b7C

Operations Order bore the approval signatures of SAC Fraticelli, ASAC [redacted] ASAC [redacted] Chief Division Counsel (CDC) [redacted] and ASC [redacted] b6 b7C

The Operations Order was briefed to all HRT members, with each respective Team Leader (TL) briefing the members of their team. Approximately half of the San Juan SWAT Team were responsible for effecting the arrest of [redacted] who was expected to be located other than the [redacted] while the other half of the team was to provide rear security during the operation to be undertaken by HRT. During the briefing the deadly force policy was read verbatim. b6 b7C

After a proof of life call was successfully accomplished, and during which the victim indicated he had eaten Burger King for lunch, SAC Fraticelli directed the Operations Order be executed at approximately 4:00 AM.

ASAC [redacted] served as the On-Scene-Commander. While en route to the scene the Command Post advised ASAC [redacted] that [redacted] was in a Mercedes-Benz, possibly heading towards the [redacted] Because the rescue operation was imminent, ASAC [redacted] instructed SSA [redacted] who was pre-positioned with a Task Force Officer (TFO) at the entrance to the subdivision, to prevent [redacted] from entering. SSA [redacted] directed San Juan SAs to set up a road block on the main road, adjacent to the subdivision entrance. [redacted] rammed the road block, broke through and was pursued. [redacted] was later arrested at another location. b6 b7C

As HRT members entered the rear yard of a residence adjacent to [redacted] multiple motion sensor lights were activated, and the entire yard was illuminated, making it possible for team members to be seen from [redacted] As HRT members positioned themselves, and compensated for the activation of the lights, two dogs, which had started barking when the lights were activated, started to become more agitated and aggressive. Suddenly, the dogs stopped barking and retreated towards a door previously identified as the breach point. SSA [redacted] one of the HRT TLs, saw a man, later identified as b6 b7C

José Antonio Ortíz-Albarrán, exit the residence. SSA [redacted] saw a handgun in the man's right hand. SSA [redacted] announced the presence of the man over the HRT radio. The man began to slowly move away from the door and appeared to be assessing the area. b6 b7C

SSA [redacted] knew his team members were at their last point of concealment before moving into position, could be given the command to execute the rescue operation at any moment, and would be in imminent danger if they proceeded. Additionally, SSA [redacted] was cognizant the armed man could not be allowed back inside the residence because he could injure or kill [redacted] b6 b7C

Through his Night Vision Goggles (NVGs), SSA [redacted] could see the laser of his and SA [redacted] Bureau-issued Hecker&Koch (H&K) 416 weapon on the man. In a loud, clear, commanding voice, SSA [redacted] told the man, "Alto, policia," which he knew to mean, "Stop, police," in Spanish. Immediately after SSA [redacted] said, "Alto, policia," the man, who was still moving away from the door, looked in SSA [redacted] and SA [redacted] direction and stretched his head in a forward motion as if he was attempting to see one or both of them better. As SSA [redacted] began to command "Alto, policia" a second time, the armed man raised his handgun from his hip to his chest level. The barrel of the man's handgun was pointed directly towards SSA [redacted] and SA [redacted] Fearing for his personal safety, SSA [redacted] fired his H&K 416 weapon eight to ten times at the man, and ceased shooting when he and SA [redacted] were no longer in imminent danger. SSA [redacted] saw the man fall backwards onto the ground, with his left shoulder lying in a flower bed. The man's handgun fell to the ground and landed a short distance from his right hand. Simultaneous to SSA [redacted] observations and actions, SA [redacted] saw the man and thought the man could see him. SA [redacted] saw the man raise his weapon and point it in his direction. SA [redacted] called out the observation of the man but, due to the short time period to react, SA [redacted] did not issue verbal commands to the man. SA [redacted] fired his H&K 416 approximately five times at the man. The man was approximately 13-14 yards away from SSA [redacted] and SA [redacted] at the time they fired at him. b6 b7C

The weapons fire indicated a compromise had occurred and the command, "Execute, execute, execute" was broadcast over the HRT radio channel. Immediately, the explosive breaching charges were initiated and all entry team personnel moved forward toward the [redacted] b6 b7C SSA [redacted] held his position and continued to cover the downed man. Out of his peripheral vision, SSA [redacted] saw team members moving down the side perimeter wall and along the back side of the residence. As the assaulters reached the corner of the house near the canopy and side door, the larger of the two dogs began barking wildly and aggressively moving toward the assaulters. SSA [redacted] believed the dog posed an imminent threat to team members. SSA [redacted] used his H&K 416 and fired four to six rounds, striking the dog. Assaulters at the corner of the residence covered the downed man and SSA [redacted] and SA [redacted] crossed into the rear yard of [redacted]

Entry team members located [redacted] and broadcasted "Jackpot" to communicate his safe recovery to other personnel. Entry team members brought [redacted] out of the [redacted] through the side door. [redacted] was attended to by a physician. b6 b7C

The weapon was moved away from the downed man and he was initially assessed by SSA [redacted] a trained Emergency Medical Technician. Once the scene was secured, the man was assessed by the HRT medic, SA [redacted] There was sufficient light for the medical assessment to be conducted and an entry wound to the left side of the man's head could be seen as well as substantial blood in his ear. SSA [redacted] informed SA [redacted] the man showed no signs of life. SA [redacted] checked the man again and determined he had sustained injuries incompatible with life, SA [redacted] exited the residence and informed the physician of his observations of the man. The physician agreed no additional medical efforts would be beneficial to the man because of his gunshot wounds and continued to provide medical attention to the hostage, assisted by SA [redacted] b6 b7C

HRT secured the scene and accounted for all personnel. No law enforcement personnel were injured.

By letter dated 10/19/2011, [redacted] District Attorney in Charge, Department of Justice of Puerto Rico (DJPR), advised no criminal charges would be filed against FBI agents SSA [redacted] and SA [redacted] for the death of José Antonio Ortíz-Albarrán. By letter dated 08/22/2012, the United States Department of Justice, Civil Rights Division, advised a criminal investigation is not warranted in this matter. b6 b7C

On 11/28/2012, the SIRG met to discuss the above-captioned shooting incident. Former Deputy Assistant Director Cory B. Nelson, Inspection Division (INSD), chaired the meeting and was a non-voting member. The following voting members were in attendance: Former Chief Inspector Eric S. Birnbaum, Office of Inspections (OI), INSD; [redacted] Trial Attorney, Criminal Division, United States Department of Justice (USDOJ); [redacted] Trial Attorney, Civil Rights Division, USDOJ; Section Chief (SC) Jayne L. Re: 297-HQ-A1271921-D, 06/06/2013

Observations and Recommendations of the SIRG

The SIRG reviewed the above synopsized incident with the intent to: (1) evaluate the application of deadly force; (2) provide the Director with an evaluative analysis, observations, and recommendations for corrective actions from an operational standpoint (if any); (3) provide recommendations concerning training and/or safety issues; and (4) provide recommendations for administrative action if deemed necessary.

SIRG members unanimously agreed that the use of deadly force employed by the Agents was justified and in conformance with the FBI's deadly force policy. This discussion resulted in the recommendation that no administrative action be taken against SSA [redacted] and SA [redacted] as a result of their involvement in this shooting incident. b6 b7C

No other recommendations or observations were made by SIRG members.

Synopsis: (U) The Shooting Incident Review Group (SIRG) reviewed a shooting incident that occurred on 12/02/2010, involving Supervisory Special Agent (SSA) [redacted] of the Critical Incident Response Group (CIRG). SSA [redacted] accidentally discharged one round from his Bureau-issued Glock, Model 27 pistol while participating in firearms training, injuring his upper right thigh. Details:

This communication was prepared to furnish the analysis, comments, and recommendations of the SIRG with reference to the captioned shooting.

Details of the Shooting Incident

On 12/02/2010, at approximately 2:20 p.m., SSA [redacted] was participating in the Hostage Rescue Team (HRT) firearms training on the HRT range at Quantico, Virginia. While withdrawing his weapon from b6 b7C its holster, SSA [redacted] accidently discharged one round into his upper thigh. b6 b7C

Immediately following the incident Agents participating in firearms training on the same range began to administer first aid. The CIRG, Tactical Section's Physicians Assistant also responded and provided advanced care.

Following the initial treatment, SSA [redacted] was transported to Mary Washington Hospital in Fredericksburg, Virginia, via Bureau helicopter where he was treated and released the same day.

On 12/03/2010, SSA [redacted] firearm was forwarded to the Defensive Systems Unit, Training Division, for inspection to determine if the weapon was working properly. The inspection of the weapon determined the weapon contained dust and lint; the spring loaded bearing and extractor depressor plunger spring had light rust. The weapon also had unauthorized modifications and/or parts including a Scherer floorplate on the magazine and the rear underside of the trigger guard had been modified. However, examination determined the modifications did not contribute to the accidental discharge. b6 b7C

On 11/28/2012, the SIRG met to discuss the above-captioned shooting incident. Former Deputy Assistant Director Cory B. Nelson, Inspection Division (INSD), chaired the meeting and was a non-voting member. The following voting members were in attendance: Former Chief Inspector Eric S. Title: SHOOTING INCIDENT
02/03/2011

Synopsis: The Shooting Incident Review Group (SIRG) reviewed a shooting incident that occurred on 02/03/2011, involving Special Agent (SA) [redacted] of the Milwaukee Division. While conducting a vehicle stop, SA [redacted] fired one round from his Bureau-issued Glock Model 22, .40 caliber pistol, striking the non-complaint subject in the right thumb. SIRG members unanimously recommended that no administrative action be taken against SA [redacted] as a result of his involvement in this shooting incident. b6 b7C

Administrative: Reference report of former Inspector [redacted] dated 07/18/2011. b6 b7C

Details: This communication was prepared to furnish the analysis, comments, and recommendations of the SIRG with reference to the captioned shooting.

Details of the Shooting Incident

On 02/03/2011, at 8:39 a.m., SA [redacted] telephonically requested the assistance of SA [redacted] with the surveillance and eventual arrest of [redacted] the subject of an arrest warrant for a state drug offense. SA [redacted] met with SA [redacted] and Milwaukee Police Department (MPD) Task Force Officer (TFO) [redacted] who b6 b7C

were all members of the High Intensity Drug Trafficking Area/Drug Task Force (HIDTA). The Agents and TFO [redacted] planned to conduct a "traffic stop" to arrest [redacted] Although no written Operations Plan existed, the participants decided TFO [redacted] would initiate the stop of the subject's vehicle, and SA [redacted] would "box in" the vehicle from the front to prevent the subject's escape. b6 b7C

At approximately 9:15 a.m., on 02/03/2011, SAs [redacted] and [redacted] along with TFO [redacted] initiated a surveillance of [redacted] at a residence in [redacted] At approximately 12:00 p.m., SA [redacted] observed the subject exit his residence and enter a green minivan. As the three law enforcement vehicles followed the subject, TFO [redacted] radioed the Agents that he observed [redacted] lean over toward the right side floor board of his vehicle causing SA [redacted] to believe he was hiding drugs or reaching for a weapon. b6 b7C

TFO [redacted] activated his emergency lights and [redacted] immediately pulled over to the right side of the street. TFO [redacted] pulled within approximately eight feet behind [redacted] minivan and SA [redacted] vehicle was approximately eight feet behind [redacted] SA [redacted] pulled in front of the subject vehicle to prevent his escape, quickly exited, and walked toward TFO [redacted] SA [redacted] exited his vehicle and took a position near the rear left corner of his vehicle. As SA [redacted] walked toward the front of the subject vehicle with his weapon drawn, he shouted, "Police, shut off the vehicle, hands, hands." TFO [redacted] ordered [redacted] to exit his vehicle several times; however, [redacted] refused to comply. TFO [redacted] advised [redacted] he was under arrest. SA [redacted] heard TFO [redacted] shouting commands for [redacted] to exit the vehicle, and the subject reply, "No I'm not going to get out," and saw [redacted] rolling up his window. b6 b7C

Law enforcement personnel briefly pursued [redacted] however, lost sight of him in traffic. The pursuit was discontinued and the three law enforcement officers returned to secure the scene. SA [redacted] and TFO [redacted] notified their FBI and HIDTA supervisors of the shooting incident by cell phone. b6 b7C

Within hours, [redacted] was arrested by an FBI Agent and MPD officers assigned to the HIDTA Task Force. Investigators determined SA [redacted] discharged round struck [redacted] right thumb. b6 b7C

On 04/20/2011, [redacted] Milwaukee County District Attorney, opined SA [redacted] "responded to a lethal threat with an appropriate and justifiable use of force, and that the use of force was privileged as self defense and defense of others." b6 b7C

On 05/18/2011, [redacted] United States Department of Justice, Civil Rights Division, advised the facts do not warrant a federal investigation as a potential willful use of unreasonable deadly force. b6 b7C

On 05/22/2012, the SIRG met to discuss the above-captioned shooting incident. Deputy Assistant Director Cory B. Nelson, Inspection Division (INSD), chaired the meeting and was a non-voting member. The following voting members were in attendance: [redacted] Trial Attorney, Civil Rights Division, USDOJ; [redacted] Trial Attorney, Criminal Division, USDOJ; Section Chief (SC) Jayne L. Challman, Violent Criminal Threat Section, Criminal Investigative Division; Unit Chief (UC) [redacted] Practical Applications Unit (PAU), Training Division (TD); UC [redacted] Firearms Training Unit, TD; UC [redacted] Special Weapons and Tactics Operations Unit, Critical Incident Response Group; UC [redacted] Defensive Systems Unit, TD; UC [redacted] Investigative Law Unit, Office of General Counsel (OGC); SSA [redacted] Evidence Response Team Unit, Laboratory Division (LD); and SSA [redacted] CR-2, Washington Field Office. The following non-voting members were also in attendance: Inspectors Robert J. Shields, Jr., and Deirdre L. Fike, Office of Inspections (OI), INSD; Special Assistant [redacted] INSD; Team Leader [redacted] OI, INSD; SSA [redacted] PAU, TD; Management and Program Analysts (MPAs) [redacted] and [redacted] Inspection Management Unit (IMU), Strategic Analysis Section (SAS), INSD. b6 b7C concerning training and/or safety issues; and (4) provide recommendations for administrative action if deemed necessary.

The SIRG reviewed the above synopsized incident with the intent to: (1) evaluate the application of deadly force; (2) provide the Director with an evaluative analysis, observations, and recommendations for corrective actions from an operational standpoint (if any); (3) provide recommendations

SIRG members unanimously agreed that the use of deadly force by SA [redacted] was justified and in conformance with the FBI's deadly force policy. This discussion resulted in the recommendation that no administrative action be taken against SA [redacted] as a result of his involvement in this shooting incident. b6 b7C

SIRG members unanimously adopted the following observations made by the Shooting Incident Review Team:

SA [redacted] did not prepare a written operations plan for the surveillance and arrest of the subject. b6 b7C

A written operations plan was not prepared for the surveillance and arrest of the subject, who had a conviction for carrying a concealed weapon and demonstrated reluctance to cooperate with law enforcement as a source in the past. The plan was finalized and verbally briefed within an approximated 36 to 51 minute window from the time SA [redacted] contacted SA [redacted] on 02/03/2011, at 8:39 a.m., to request his participation in the operation, and the initiation of surveillance at the subject's residence between 9:15-9:30 a.m. There were no exigent circumstances which precluded appropriate preparation of an operation plan. b6 b7C

Corporate Policy Notice 0242N, Requirement for Written Operations Order - Field Operations, dated 07/15/2010, states, in part:

> 8. Policy Statement:
> 8.1 The necessity to have clear, concise, and complete operational plans, in the form of operations orders, is essential to successful arrest and search operations and any other activity in which the practical application of firearms might be reasonably anticipated. Operations orders are the vehicle through which the Case Agent's and/or On-Scene Commander's strategy is reduced to a tactical directive. Their most important function is to ensure success. By standardizing format, the chance for omission of essential data is eliminated thus providing subordinate elements with the complete picture for mission completion.

8.2 Written Operations Orders: Absent exigent circumstances, written operations orders will be prepared prior to conducting arrest and search operations and any other activity in which the practical application of firearms might be reasonably anticipated.

8.3 Exigent Circumstances: Exigent circumstances may necessitate an oral briefing in lieu of the written operations order.

13. Definitions:

13.1 Exigent circumstances: Generally, an emergency, a pressing necessity requiring immediate action.

9. Roles and Responsibilities:
9.1. Case Agent
9.1.1 Responsible for preparing the operations order
9.1.2 Responsible for briefing the operations order

9.2. Substantive Squad Supervisor
9.2.1 GS-14 Supervisory Special Agent responsible for reviewing the operations order

Instruction #1:

That SAC, Milwaukee ensure Milwaukee personnel comply with the above Corporate Policy Notice.

SA [redacted] executed a vehicle block in a manner inconsistent with FBI tactics. b6 b7C

TFO [redacted] activated his emergency lights to initiate a vehicle stop of [redacted] vehicle. [redacted] immediately pulled over toward the snow bank on the right side of the street. TFO [redacted] pulled within approximately eight feet behind [redacted] minivan. SA [redacted] pulled in front of and in alignment with [redacted] vehicle. SA [redacted] backed up and parked within one foot of [redacted] front bumper to "box in" [redacted] vehicle, in order to prevent him from fleeing. SA [redacted] quickly exited his vehicle and stood by the rear of his own vehicle, while TFO [redacted] addressed [redacted] through the driver's window. Once [redacted] decided not to cooperate with TFO [redacted] verbal commands, the positioning of SA [redacted] vehicle, along with the eight feet between [redacted] rear bumper and TFO [redacted] front bumper, afforded [redacted] room to maneuver to flee. b6 b7C

Instruction #2:

That SAC, Milwaukee ensure Agent personnel receive additional training in vehicle stop and vehicle block techniques, consistent with FBI tactics. Task force personnel should be afforded the opportunity to observe FBI tactics to improve interoperability.

OBSERVATION #3:

SA [redacted] did not wear his issued ballistic vest during the operation as mandated by Bureau policy. b6 b7C

After the initial stop of [redacted] vehicle by TFO [redacted] and SA [redacted] maneuvering to block [redacted] vehicle, SA [redacted] stopped approximately eight feet behind TFO [redacted] vehicle. SA [redacted] exited his vehicle, took a position near the rear left corner of his own vehicle, and remained there until [redacted] fled the scene. SA [redacted] was not wearing his ballistic vest; the vest remained on the front seat of SA [redacted] vehicle. [redacted] had a conviction for carrying a concealed weapon and made movements while being stopped, which caused TFO [redacted] to believe he may have been reaching for a weapon. TFO [redacted] immediately announced [redacted] movement on the HIDTA radio to all participants.

The issued ballistic vest can be reconfigured to support surveillance operations by removing the ballistic panels and wearing them in the issued concealment carrier. The outer tactical carrier with FBI markings can be donned over clothing to facilitate identification as law enforcement during the transition from covert to overt activity.

The MIOG, Section 12-13.1 states, in part:

"Wearing of body armor by SA personnel is mandatory during planned arrests, execution of search warrants and surveillances which can reasonably be expected to culminate in a confrontation with armed and dangerous subject(s)."

Instruction #3:

That SAC, Milwaukee ensure all division personnel comply with the above MIOG requirement.

Case ID #: 297-HQ-A1271801-D (U) SHOOTING INCIDENTS

Synopsis: (U) The Shooting Incident Review Group (SIRG) reviewed a shooting incident that occurred in the Oklahoma City Division on 05/04/2011. Special Weapons and Tactic (SWAT) team Special Agents (SAs) [redacted] b6 b7C as well as two Oklahoma Highway Patrol (OHP) Troopers, fired rounds at a subject aiming an AK-47 in the direction of law enforcement personnel. SIRG members recommended that no administrative action be taken against the Agents as a result of their involvement in this shooting incident.

Administrative Notes: (U) Reference report of Inspector [redacted] dated 06/13/2011. b6 b7C

Details:

On 05/03/2011, at approximately 9:42 p.m., Supervisory Special Agent (SSA) [redacted] of the Jacksonville Division, telephonically contacted Oklahoma City ASAC [redacted] and JTTF SSA [redacted] SSA [redacted] advised the Jacksonville Division obtained a federal arrest warrant for Sandlin Matthews Smith, who was considered armed and dangerous, and was wanted for the bombing of a mosque in Jacksonville. SSA [redacted] advised Smith was believed to possess explosives and an AK-47 rifle; was known to abuse drugs and alcohol; and, was possibly suicidal. Smith's cellular telephone was tracked to the vicinity of Enid, Oklahoma. SSA [redacted] advised Smith operated a black Toyota Tundra with a Florida license plate and a b6 b7C silver tool box in the bed. He also provided Smith's drivers license information and a photograph via blackberry.

Assistant Special Agent in Charge (ASAC) [redacted] contacted Special Agent in Charge (SAC) James E. Finch, while SSA [redacted] contacted the Oklahoma Highway Patrol Troop responsible for the Enid territory. SAC Finch was briefed on the information provided by SSA [redacted] and authorized the deployment of the division's SWAT team. ASAC [redacted] was designated the On-Scene Commander (OSC). As SSA [redacted] and ASAC [redacted] proceeded to Enid, SSA [redacted] advised SSA [redacted] that recent information indicated Smith's phone was stationary in the area of Glass Mountain State Park. The SWAT team was redirected by ASAC [redacted] to travel to Glass Mountain, located in Orienta. b6 b7C

Upon arrival in Orienta, ASAC [redacted] and SSA [redacted] met with OHP personnel and established a forward command post. The OHP, with the assistance of a Oklahoma Department of Wildlife Game Warden Officer, established a perimeter around the state park with roadblocks at all exits. b6 b7C

SSA [redacted] continued to relay information as it was obtained through ongoing interviews in the Jacksonville area. Investigation determined Smith made "goodbye" calls and stated he "cannot do twenty," meaning he could not go to prison. Interviews revealed Smith made recent statements referring to dying at the hands of law enforcement because he could not go to prison, and could not kill himself. During the execution of a search warrant at Smith's residence, Agents seized ammunition for a .270 caliber weapon wrapped in tin foil which indicated a triggering device for an Improvised Explosive Device (IED). b6 b7C

Although continuous attempts were made throughout the night to contact Smith via his cellular phone in order to initiate negotiations, Smith never answered. No additional "pinging" was detected, indicating the phone was most likely turned off.

On 05/04/2011, at approximately 1:30 a.m., the Oklahoma Division SWAT team arrived at Glass Mountain and established a joint command post with the OHP.

ASAC [redacted] and Team Leader (TL) [redacted] initially devised a two part plan to apprehend Smith. The first part of the plan established and [redacted] south of Smith's location. The second part of the plan, involved the [redacted] Smith as he was leaving the park. The operation plan was briefed to the entire Oklahoma Division SWAT team and Assistant TL SA [redacted] assigned specific roles to each team member. Team members rehearsed the [redacted] scenario focusing on officer safety concerns due to the intelligence regarding Smith's use of explosives, possession of firearms, drug and alcohol abuse, and his overall mental instability. b6 b7C b7E

At approximately 3:00 a.m., TL [redacted] directed the deployment of a [redacted] comprised of SAs [redacted] and [redacted] to a location atop a large butte which overlooked the area where Smith's cellular telephone last transmitted a signal. The Agents were instructed to search for Smith near the base of the back side of the butte and report on his location; however, due to dangerous conditions they returned before reaching their assigned position. b6 b7C b7E

At approximately 7:00 a.m., the Oklahoma City Division surveillance airplane arrived in the area to assist in the search for Smith and his truck. At approximately 7:15 a.m., the surveillance spotted a vehicle and tent in the same location as the last known Global Positioning Satellite (GPS) coordinates for Smith's telephone. The tent was essentially a one-person cot with a supported fabric cover and flaps to enter and exit. At 7:30 a.m., the [redacted] of SAs [redacted] and [redacted] established an elevated position atop a butte 210 yards south of Smith's tent and vehicle. SAs [redacted] and [redacted] observed and reported the entrance flap of the tent was facing to the north and SA [redacted] observed what he believed to be a subject laying on a cot inside. Between 9:30 and 10:00 a.m., SA [redacted] could see the top b6 b7C b7E of Smith's head inside the tent. Later SA [redacted] observed Smith exit the tent, look around, sit up on the edge of the cot, then lay back down on the cot with his hands across his chest. He saw Smith's head extend outside the tent's door-flap and then quickly retreat inside on at least two occasions. b6 b7C

The operations plan was modified to approach to Smith's position, attempt to engage him verbally, and persuade him to surrender. The plan was to [redacted] From his position, SA [redacted] would verbally guide the drivers of the SWAT vehicles into close proximity of Smith's position. Once vehicles were in place, SA [redacted] was to cover Smith [redacted] with SWAT members [redacted] TL [redacted] was to give verbal commands directing Smith to surrender. The SWAT team was assembled and briefed by TL [redacted] on the modified operations plan which covered all facets of the operation including situation, mission, execution, administration/equipment, and control/communication. Other contingencies were addressed including medical issues, specifically staging an ambulance with paramedics nearby in the event of a critical injury. b6 b7C b7E

Prior to deployment, SSA [redacted] recited the FBI Deadly Force Policy over the FBI radio to all SWAT team members, who responded by affirming their understanding of the policy. b6 b7C

The SWAT team, staged at the Command Post, just outside Glass Mountain State Park, began their approach to Smith's location in the [redacted] shortly before 12:00 p.m. At approximately 12:30 p.m., the SWAT vehicles arrived near Smith's location while Smith remained under surveillance by the [redacted] The [redacted] stopped approximately 40-50 yards away from Smith's location. TL [redacted] identified the presence of the FBI, and gave verbal commands to surrender, including: "Sandlin Smith, you are under arrest. This is the FBI. Please come out of the tent with your hands over your head. We do not want to hurt you." These commands were repeated for over one b6 b7C b7E hour with no response from Smith. OSC [redacted] TL [redacted] and SSA [redacted] considered, based on Smith's drug and alcohol history, Smith may have overdosed, passed out or committed suicide. SAs [redacted] and [redacted] continued to observe Smith while the verbal commands were given and advised TL [redacted] that Smith appeared to be "completely out." As a result, TL [redacted] consulted the OHP Trooper Negotiator regarding options. b6 b7C

After a long period of unsuccessful attempts to engage Smith in conversation, an OHP Lieutenant offered the use of a canine to obtain a response from Smith. TL [redacted] met with the OHP canine handlers, while SA [redacted] continued to use the PA system to call out to Smith. OSC [redacted] approved modifying the plan to use the OHP canine and SWAT personnel to protect the canine unit. b6 b7C

The OHP canine unit personnel met with TL [redacted] to discuss details of the canine unit's operation, including the need for FBI personnel to remain in their positions as motionless as possible. TL [redacted] was briefed on the canine teams ' capabilities, and was advised if Smith was asleep, the canine would not bite. The canine team was provided with an FBI radio for communications and proceeded to Smith's tent. b6 b7C

TL [redacted] advised all SWAT members the Oklahoma Troopers would deploy a canine, and to maintain their positions. The SWAT team was told to remain motionless to prevent the canine from becoming distracted from the intended target. Subsequently, OHP Troopers [redacted] and Canine Trooper [redacted] moved closer to the tent, and noted the positions of the FBI SWAT team positioned east of the tent. Trooper [redacted] obtained target identification with the canine, and deployed the dog which started moving toward the FBI SWAT SAs; however, with a subsequent command the dog turned toward Smith according to Trooper [redacted] it appeared Smith saw the canine advancing and reached down and grabbed a black rifle, with his hand on the pistol grip. Believing Smith posed an imminent threat to law enforcement officers on the scene, Trooper [redacted] fired multiple b6 b7C rounds from his Colt Model M-4, .223 caliber carbine. Trooper [redacted] observed the dog make contact with Smith and retreat. Smith reached into the tent and came out with an assault weapon in his left hand pointing the weapon at the FBI SWAT team. Trooper [redacted] fired four rounds from his Colt Model M-4, .223 caliber carbine. b6 b7C

Observing the subject with a gun and believing he posed an imminent threat to law enforcement officers at the scene, SA [redacted] fired one round from his Colt Model M-4, .223 caliber carbine; SA [redacted] fired multiple rounds from his Rock River Arms Model LAR-15, .223 caliber carbine; SA [redacted] fired multiple rounds from his Colt Model M-4 A1, .223 caliber carbine; SA [redacted] fired one round from his Cot Model M-4 A1, .223 caliber carbine; SA [redacted] fired one round from his Rock River Arms, Model LAR-15, .223 caliber carbine; and SA [redacted] fired one round from his HS Precision Model 2000, .308 caliber sniper rifle. b6 b7C

When the gunfire stopped, Smith was prone, face down next to his tent, with a rifle within his reach. In order to ensure a safe approach, OHP Trooper [redacted] To determine if Smith was feigning injury, Trooper [redacted] discharged a non-lethal [redacted] from a shotgun striking Smith, who did not respond. The FBI SWAT team, using a ballistic shield for protection, approached Smith, removed the rifle and secured him with handcuffs. Agents immediately provided emergency medical assistance to the subject until paramedics arrived and transported him to Fairview Regional Medical Center where Smith was later pronounced decreased. b6 b7C b7E

On 05/09/2012, Assistant District Attorney (ADA) [redacted] opined the shooting was unavoidable and justified, and he declined prosecution. b6 b7C

On 08/07/2012, [redacted] Civil Rights Division, USDOJ advised the incident did not warrant criminal investigation. b6 b7C

On 11/28/2012, the SIRG met to discuss the above-captioned shooting incident. Former Deputy Assistant Director Cory B. Nelson, Inspection Division (INSD), chaired the meeting and was a non-voting member. The following voting members were in attendance: Former Chief Inspector Eric S. Birnbaum, Office of Inspections (OI), INSD; [redacted] Trial Attorney, Criminal Division, United States Department of Justice (USDOJ); [redacted] Trial Attorney, Civil Rights Division, USDOJ; Section Chief (SC) Jayne L. Challman, Violent Criminal Threat Section, Criminal Investigative Division; SC Gregory D. Cox, Global Section, Counterintelligence Division; Supervisory Special Agent (SSA) [redacted] Squad CR-2, Washington Field Office; SSA [redacted] Practical Applications Unit, Training Division (TD); SSA [redacted] Investigative Law Unit, Office of the General Counsel; SSA [redacted] Evidence Response Team, Laboratory Division; SSA [redacted] Special Weapons and Tactics (SWAT) Operations Unit; Critical Incident Response Group (CIRG); SSA [redacted] Firearms Training Unit, TD; and SSA [redacted] Defensive Systems Unit, TD. The following non-voting members were also in attendance: Inspectors [redacted] OI, INSD; Assistant Inspector [redacted] OI, INSD; SSA [redacted] INSD; Unit Chief [redacted] SWAT Operations Unit, CIRG; [redacted] Occupational Safety and Environmental Programs Unit, Facilities and Logistics Services Division; and Management and Program Analyst [redacted] Inspection Management Unit, OI, INSD.

The SIRG reviewed the above synopsized incident with the intent to: (1) evaluate the application of deadly force; (2) provide the Director with an evaluative analysis, observations, and recommendations for corrective actions from an operational standpoint (if any); (3) provide recommendations concerning training and/or safety issues; and (4) provide recommendations for administrative action if deemed necessary.

SIRG members unanimously agreed that the use of deadly force employed by the Agents was justified and in conformance with the FBI's deadly force policy. This discussion resulted in the recommendation that no administrative action be taken against SAs [redacted] as a result of their involvement in this shooting incident. b6 b7C

No other recommendations or observations were made by SIRG members.

On 08/09/2011, at approximately 5:00 a.m., members of the New York Special Weapons and Tactics (SWAT) Team executed an arrest warrant in Yonkers, New York. SWAT breachers knocked on the door of the residence, and announced the presents of the arrest team. After a short time without response, forced entry was made into the residence, utilizing a breaching tool. SA [redacted] was the first to enter the residence followed by SA [redacted] Upon entering the SWAT operators were confronted by an aggressive pit bull dog in the living room area. SA [redacted] observed an individual in a bedroom directly ahead, and started to move across the living room SA [redacted] followed SA [redacted] into the living room and focused his attention on the dog. SA [redacted] ordered the dog to "stay", but the pit bull was unresponsive, and became more agitated. As SA [redacted] moved closer to the bedroom, the pit bull moved towards him while barking, growling and baring its teeth. Once the pit bull stated to move aggressively towards SA [redacted] posing a threat of serious injury to SA [redacted] SA [redacted] fired 2 rounds at the dog. As the pit bull continued to move towards SA [redacted] SA [redacted] fired 2 additional rounds, and one final round, all in rapid succession killing the pit bull.

On 08/29/2011, at approximately 10:40 p.m., SA [redacted] b6 b7C

[redacted] was "dry firing" his weapon inside his apartment. According to SA [redacted] prior to beginning practice, he emptied and rendered his weapon safe. After several successful draws, he reloaded the pistol. Approximately ten minutes later, SA [redacted] decided to practice drawing his weapon again. Dropping the magazine but forgetting to clear the chambered round, he pointed his weapon toward the living room window, and pulled the trigger. The expended round struck the aluminum frame of the window and penetrated through the screen. b6 b7C

SA [redacted] immediately notified Omaha Division management of the incident and advised the management of the apartment complex the following day. b6 b7C

No personal injuries were incurred as a result of SA [redacted] accidental discharge and he paid to have the minimal property damage repaired. b6 b7C

During the apprehension of a violent fugitive Brian Lipp, SA [redacted] fired two rounds from his Bureau-issued Rock River LAR-15 rifle. Detail of the Shooting Incident

Brian Lipp was being sought in connection with a violent crime spree which began on 08/29/2011, with the armed robbery of a Rite-Aid Pharmacy in Toledo, Ohio. Three days later Lipp committed an armed robbery of a drug store and was also suspected of being responsible for a home invasion robbery of [redacted] b6 b7C

On 09/02/2011, Toledo Police Department (TPD) officers responded to reports from a business owner who recognized Lipp near a recycling business in the Toledo area. Responding officers conducted a search using K-9s and helicopters with negative results.

09/03/2011, at approximately 9:17 a.m., Lipp was confronted by a TPD officer while walking near the Towne Square Mall in Toledo. Lipp pointed a weapon at the officer, who took cover as Lipp fled the scene on foot. In a second confrontation with the officer, Lipp was captured on video as he brandished a firearm while the officer sought cover behind a vehicle. Lipp conducted an armed carjacking of a citizen and fled the scene in the stolen vehicle. At approximately 9:28 a.m., responding TPD officers pursued Lipp in the stolen vehicle as he entered the northbound lane of I-75 traveling in a southerly direction. Lipp's actions caused a head-on collision between a responding TPD unit and a civilian motorist which resulted in the motorist death.

At approximately 11:00 a.m., the TPD contacted all available task force personnel, to enlist support in apprehending Lipp. SA [redacted] b6 b7C [redacted] a member of the Northwest Ohio Violent Crimes/Fugitive Safe Streets Task Force, contacted SA [redacted] the Acting Supervisory Special Agent, to request approval to participate in the fugitive investigation. SA [redacted] contacted Assistant Special Agent in Charge (ASAC) [redacted] to provide background information of the situation. ASAC [redacted] concurred with providing FBI assistance and instructed SA [redacted] to determine the task force requirements.

A meeting for all available task force members was scheduled for 11:00 a.m. Prior to leaving his residence, SA [redacted] put on his Bureau-issued ballistic vest and placed his Rock River LAR-15 in the front seat of his vehicle. While traveling towards Toledo, SA [redacted] overheard radio traffic indicating the pursuit of Lipp was headed in his direction. SA [redacted] was traveling southbound on I-75 when the b6 b7C suspect passed him in the northbound lanes being pursued by the TPD and Ohio State Highway Partol (OSHD). SA [redacted] lost visual sighting of the pursuit and heard the radio report of the subject crashing his vehicle. b6 b7C

As SA [redacted] arrived on the scene, law enforcement personnel were observed confronting the subject who was still inside the stolen vehicle. SA [redacted] retrieved his LAR-15 rifle and proceeded to the site to support the responding officers. According to participants interviewed, Brian Lipp was conscious in the vehicle and waving what appeared to be a semi-automatic pistol. Lipp refused to respond to commands of the responding officers. On one occasion officers observed Lipp smoking a "crack-pipe." At 12:03 p.m., Lipp brandished his weapon in a threatening manner to the responding officers, to include SA [redacted] and several shots were fired in response. SA [redacted] fired two rounds from his LAR-14 rifle. b6 b7C

Brian Lipp was pronounced dead at the scene and transported to the Lucas County Coroner's Office. A post mortem examination of Lipp determined neither of the two rounds fired by SA [redacted] struck Lipp. b6 b7C

Synopsis: (U) The shooting Incident Review Group (SIRG) reviewed a serious accident that occurred on 09/13/2011, involving SA [redacted] b6 b7C of the Washington Field Office (WFO). While discussing the functionality of flash bang diversionary devices with another WFO SA, SA [redacted] was severely injured as he handled what he believed to be a used diversionary device. SIRG members unanimously recommended that no administrative action be taken against SA [redacted] as the result of his involvement in this flash-bang incident.

Administrative Notes: (U) Reference Report of Former Inspector [redacted] b6 b7C dated 09/16/2011.

Details:

This communication was prepared to furnish the analysis, comments, and recommendations of the SIRG with reference to the captioned serious accident.

Details of the Serious Accident

By way of background, on 02/12/2011, the WFO Special Weapons and Tactics (SWAT) team took part in an operation in which three flash bang diversionary devices were utilized. At the time of the operation the WFO SWAT team utilized both the NICO flash bang and the Combined device, and SA [redacted] pulled the striker back on the NICO device body and inserted the spoon. SA [redacted] placed a paper clip in the safety pin well of the device, securing the spoon in place. SA [redacted] and SA [redacted] discussed the amount of "give" or slack in the NICO's spoon versus the spoon in the CTS device. SA [redacted] retrieved a CTS device body and spoon from the bag and pulled the striker back on the CTS device and inserted the spoon. SA [redacted] placed a paper clip in the safety pin well of the device, securing the spoon in place. SA [redacted] held the CTS device and SA [redacted] held the NICO device as they discussed the difference in the devices. b6 b7C

SA [redacted] and SA [redacted] discussed different techniques to safely deliver several devices simultaneously by a single operator. SA [redacted] retrieved the second CTS device from the bag and held it close to his body in an attempt to insert the device spoon. SA [redacted] noticed one of the prongs which secured the spoon, was damaged. He held the device in his left hand and pulled the hammer back with his right thumb, attempting to fasten the firing pin behind the remaining prong on the device. While SA [redacted] attempted to reinsert the spoon, the firing pin came forward and struck the striker plate. SA [redacted] had turned away from SA [redacted] then heard the detonation of the device. As he turned back he saw SA [redacted] standing up and looking at his hand. SA [redacted] had powder burns on his hand and face. He looked down, grabbed his side, and fell to the ground. SA [redacted] applied pressure to a wound on his side and SA [redacted] removed his shirt and used it to apply additional pressure. b6 b7C

SA [redacted] was seated in Squad CI-14 area when she heard the device detonate. After she determined an accident had occurred, SA [redacted] called 9-1-1. Her call was routed to the WFO Command and Tactical Operations Center (CTOC) and she was asked for her name and telephone number by the operator. WFO Occupational Health Nurse (OHN) [redacted] called SA [redacted] and asked her to describe what happened. b6 b7C

from SA [redacted] and called the WFO Nurse's Station before she called 9-1-1.

After speaking with OHN [redacted] CTOC Specialist [redacted] called 9-1-1, provided the building address and requested an ambulance. Since CTOC Specialist [redacted] was unable to provide details to the 9-1-1 operator, she transferred the call to the WFO Nurse's Station. The WFO Nurse's Station did not answer the telephone, the call went to voicemail and CTOC Specialist [redacted] had already disconnected. The 9-1-1 operator never received the details of the accident. Two Emergency Medical Technicians, SAs [redacted] and [redacted] and two Paramedics, SAs [redacted] and [redacted] responded to the scene and provided treatment along with OHN [redacted] until an ambulance arrived.

An ambulance from the Washington D.C. Fire Department (WDCFD) arrived with a gurney to transport SA [redacted] but did not have the necessary medical supplies to properly treat him. The ambulance was only a Basic Life Support Unit and the medics were not sufficiently trained to treat SA [redacted] injuries. The WDCFD personnel advised they were not provided specific information regarding the injury prior to their arrival and would have to wait for the arrival of additional WDCFD personnel. As a result, SA [redacted] and OHN [redacted] requested SA [redacted] be transported immediately to George Washington University Hospital. While en route to the hospital, OHN [redacted] and SAs [redacted] continued to provide emergency medical treatment to SA [redacted] wall between his apartment and the neighboring apartment, passing through the back of a closet, and through the closet door before becoming lodged in his front door. Officers from the APD responded and, upon examining the holes, concluded the bullet travelled from the adjacent apartment, [redacted] The APD began a canvass of the apartment building and identified a vehicle in the parking lot registered to [redacted] Additionally, the occupants of [redacted] told the APD they had heard a loud bang approximately a week ago but assumed it was a door slamming.

(U//FOUO) At approximately 9 p.m., SA [redacted] arrived at the apartment complex. Officer [redacted] approached SA [redacted] and asked if he lived in [redacted] SA [redacted] told him he did. SA [redacted] told Officer [redacted] he was an FBI Agent and displayed his credentials. Officer [redacted] explained why they were there. SA [redacted] was asked if he had an accidental discharge in his apartment. He replied he had not. SA [redacted] told Officer [redacted] he lived alone, had left his apartment at approximately 5:30 a.m., and had not returned all day.

(U//FOUO) SA [redacted] gave the APD his apartment key and officers conducted a search for any possible gunshot victims. None were found. Officers could see an apparent bullet hole on the common wall shared by [redacted]

(U//FOUO) SA [redacted] was asked repeatedly whether he knew the origins of the bullet hole. He told the lead Detective, [redacted] he did not. It was suggested SA [redacted] contact his supervisor.

b7C

(U//FOUO) At approximately 9:30 p.m., SA [redacted] contacted his supervisor, A/SSA [redacted] SA [redacted] told A/SSA [redacted] the APD was at his apartment, were investigating an apparent shooting, and there were bullet holes found in both SA [redacted] apartment and those of his neighbor. SA [redacted] told A/SSA [redacted] he did not know what had happened, telling A/SSA [redacted] the APD was looking into the possibility there had been a break-in. A/SSA [redacted] responded to SA [redacted] apartment at SA [redacted] request.

Title: (U//FOUO) Accidental Discharge, SA [redacted] WFO

b7C

(U//FOUO) After speaking with A/SSA [redacted] SA [redacted] was introduced to the ranking officer present, Lieutenant [redacted] Lieutenant [redacted] told SA [redacted] based upon the evidence, it appeared the bullet came from SA [redacted] apartment and asked if there had been an accidental discharge. SA [redacted] said he had no knowledge an accidental discharge. SA [redacted] was further questioned and asked if he had any additional weapons, if he had any visitors, and if anybody, other than himself, had access to his weapon. SA [redacted] said he had no visitors, other than maintenance personnel and a group of friends from a Bible study. SA [redacted] reiterated he did not know what had happened, or who else may have had access to his weapon.

(U//FOUO) The APD secured a search warrant for SA [redacted] apartment, which was executed at approximately 10:15 p.m. In addition to the bullet recovered from [redacted] the APD also seized SA [redacted] Bureau issued firearm, a Glock Model 23, serial number [redacted] No other items were seized by the APD, although digital photographs were taken.

(U//FOUO) At approximately 10:20 p.m. A/SSA [redacted] arrived and, after conferring with APD detectives and officers, spoke privately with SA [redacted] for approximately 40 to 50 minutes.

b7C

(U//FOUO) During his conversation with SA [redacted] A/SSA [redacted] told SA [redacted] to be candid. SA [redacted] had some difficulty recollecting and focusing on specific details of the accidental discharge, which A/SSA [redacted] ascribed to the stress of the presence of the APD. When asked about possibly dry-firing his weapon, SA [redacted] replied he was feeling stressed after dry-firing his weapon the previous week and had a restless night due to a dream about a gunfight. In his SSS, A/SSA [redacted] recounted how SA [redacted] was adamant he did not know what happened, saying if he had done this, he would tell the truth.

(U//FOUO) A/SSA [redacted] continued to encourage SA [redacted] to be candid. Between 11:20 p.m. and 11:30 p.m., SA [redacted] and A/SSA [redacted] returned to SA [redacted] apartment, where APD officers were waiting. The APD officers and detectives did not accept SA [redacted] explanation. They felt it was vague. According to A/SSA [redacted] APD officers warned SA [redacted] if he failed to be candid the police report would reflect his false account. A/SSA [redacted] conferred with SA [redacted] in private, urging him to be candid with the APD. SA [redacted] then fully explained he had an accidental discharge which occurred on 10/17/2012, while dry-firing his weapon. SA [redacted] provided the following account to the APD:

(U//FOUO) On 10/17/2012, SA [redacted] had dry fired his weapon while listening to classical music and watching television. Prior to this SA [redacted] conducted a safety check. SA [redacted] dry fired successfully for several minutes before reloading his weapon and holstering. A short while later, SA [redacted] attempted to dry fire but did not conduct a full safety check. He removed the magazine but did not check the chamber. As a result, a round was discharged.

(U//FOUO) SA [redacted] stated the shell casing fell into his tactical bag, which was sitting on the floor next to him. He subsequently put the casing into his garbage can and later disposed of it in the [redacted] SA [redacted] said he was scared after the accidental discharge [redacted]

(U//FOUO) As the APD completed their interview with SA [redacted] ASAC [redacted] arrived. Prior to his arrival, he had several telephone conversations with A/SSA [redacted] in which he repeatedly directed A/SSA [redacted] to relay to SA [redacted] the importance of telling the truth. A/SSA [redacted] relayed these instructions to SA [redacted] After the APD left, ASAC [redacted] and A/SSA [redacted] spoke with SA [redacted] and explained the administrative process which would occur. ASAC [redacted] made a referral to the Employee Assistance Program.

(U//FOUO) On 03/01/2013, A/SSA [redacted] provided a SSS to INSD. It reflected the following: A/SSA [redacted] repeatedly told SA [redacted] he should cooperate with the APD and be honest. During his telephone conversation, SA [redacted] told him he did not fire his weapon but would admit it if he did. SA [redacted] was adamant he had "nothing to do with this." During their first in person conversation, SA [redacted] told A/SSA [redacted] he did not know what happened, stating he was "an honest guy," and, if he had done this, he would tell the truth.

Re: 297-HQ-A1271970-D, 02/28/2013

b7C

(U//FOUO) On 03/04/2013, ASAC [redacted] provided a SSS to INSD. It reflected the fact he did not have any conversations with SA [redacted] until after SA [redacted] had completed his interview with the APD, by which time SA [redacted] had admitted the accidental discharge.

(U//FOUO) On 03/06/2013, SA [redacted] provided a SSS to INSD. In it he acknowledged the accidental discharge, discussed his embarrassment, and admitted his lack of candor (not under oath). Specifically, he admitted he was not candid when first asked by the APD if "something had happened which caused [his] gun to be discharged." He responded by saying there had been some friends over for Bible study the previous Tuesday (10/16/2012) and apartment maintenance had been checking each apartment's water meters. A detective (SA [redacted] does not recall who) spoke with him in private and attempted to get him to admit what had happened. SA [redacted] said he, "continued to deny any knowledge of the incident." SA [redacted] then contacted A/SSA [redacted] and told him, "I did not know how it happened." A/SSA [redacted] arrived and spoke with SA [redacted] SA [redacted] stated he could not bring himself to be "completely forthright due to being in shock of being questioned and interrogated by the police." After speaking with A/SSA [redacted] for about 30 minutes, they returned to SA [redacted] apartment and spoke with the APD. SA [redacted] stated he tried to tell the truth but was still ashamed and could not say exactly what happened. Lieutenant [redacted] grew frustrated and walked away. SA [redacted] and A/SSA [redacted] again spoke in private, at which time SA [redacted] "finally found the strength to admit what had happened." SA [redacted] and A/SSA [redacted] returned and SA [redacted] admitted the accidental discharge.

(U//FOUO) On 03/19/2013, Assistant Inspector (AI) [redacted] contacted Sergeant [redacted] telephone [redacted] APD. Sergeant [redacted] told AI [redacted] Detective [redacted] determined no charges should be filed. Misdemeanor offenses, of which this was an example, were referred for prosecution at the discretion of the investigating officer. In this case, Detective [redacted] elected not to make a referral. Sergeant [redacted] also provided AI [redacted] with a copy of the complete Incident Report, case number 01-12-144113, which was placed in an FD-340.

Case ID #: 297-HQ-A1271971-D (U) SHOOTING INCIDENTS

Synopsis: (U) The Shooting Incident Review Group (SIRG) reviewed a shooting incident that occurred on 11/02/2012, involving Special Agent (SA) [redacted] while he was assigned to the Hostage Rescue Team (HRT), New Operator Trainee (NOT), Generation 27. SA [redacted] was securing gear and weapons at the conclusion of training in the NOT cage area. As he was attempting to holster his Bureau-issued Glock, Model 27 pistol in an in-the-pants holster, SA [redacted] accidentally discharged one round striking SA [redacted] in the left shoulder. SIRG members recommended that SA [redacted] be censured, suspended from duty for a period of three days, and receive documented remedial firearms training as a result of this shooting incident. b6 b7C

Additionally, based on past precedent, the Internal Investigations Section (IIS), Inspection Division, should levy any additional penalty deemed appropriate to SA [redacted] regarding his unauthorized use of a practice flash bang prior to the accidental discharge. b6 b7C

Administrative Notes: (U) Reference report of Inspector [redacted] [redacted] dated 11/09/2012. b6 b7C

Details:

This communication was prepared to furnish the analysis, comments, and recommendations of the SIRG with reference to the captioned shooting.

Details of the Shooting Incident

On 11/02/2012, the NOT team finished training at approximately 2:30 p.m. The team's day consisted of physical training in the morning, classroom training until 11:00 a.m., an early lunch, Primary Qualification Courses(PQC) with M4 and Glock pistols, and concluded with approximately two hours of Immediate Action Drills. At the conclusion of training, the NOTs were released and told to prepare their equipment for the next week's training before departing for the weekend.

[redacted] (Cages A and B) [redacted] b7E

With the exception of SA [redacted] and SA [redacted] each NOT was at his cage at approximately 2:50 p.m. While SA [redacted] was returning phone calls in the hallway near the break room, SA [redacted] announced to the NOTs in Cage A he was going to "bang" SA [redacted] when he entered Cage A. The other NOTs understood this to mean SA [redacted] was going to toss a practice flash bang device at SA [redacted] as a prank. As SA [redacted] entered Cage A with his head down, he noticed a practice flash bang device rolling at his feet and turned right facing his locker. SA [redacted] did not see who tossed the device at him; however, the device went off between SA [redacted] and SA [redacted] b6 b7C

After tossing the practice flashbang towards SA [redacted] SA [redacted] reached into his locker for his Glock 27 pistol. He held the weapon with the muzzle pointed upwards and conducted a "press check" to determine if the weapon was loaded. SA [redacted] then attempted to holster the weapon in an in-the-pants holster located on the right front of his pants. While lifting his shirt to clear the opening of b6 b7C

the holster, the weapon was pointed towards the entrance of Cage A when one round discharged. SA [redacted] did not remember pulling the trigger. Approximately three to five seconds elapsed between the flashbang detonation and the accidental discharge from SA [redacted] Glock 27 pistol. b6 b7C

The expended round struck SA [redacted] in the left arm stopping in his chest cavity. SA [redacted] did not see who shot him and described the impact as being hit in the arm with a "bean bag." SA [redacted] after feeling the impact, layed down in the entrance of Cage A and was immediately assisted by the other NOTs. SA [redacted] and SA [redacted] left the cage area to notify the medical staff, the front office, and their supervisor of the situation. The other NOTs applied first aid to SA [redacted] for a short period until SA [redacted] and SA [redacted] from the HRT medical program arrived and assumed medical treatment. SA [redacted] was transported by HRT helicpter to Mary Washington Hospital in Fredericksburg, Virginia. b6 b7C

A search of the area by the Evidence Response Team (ERT) and the Shooting Incident Review Team (SIRT) revealed loaded weapons were stored next to or near Simunition weapons. Several cages contained live practice flash bangs. SA [redacted] was aware he had his Glock 27 with live ammunition in his hand and not a Simunition weapon when the accidental discharged occurred. Interviews revealed the NOTs engaged in pranks involving Simunition and practice flash bangs on other occasions within the Medical Annex Building. HRT supervisory staff was unaware of this practice due to the location of the NOTs when out of the training environment and the activity either not being observed or reported. b6 b7C

After SA [redacted] was taken to the hospital, the NOTs were left unsupervised and began cleaning up the scene. SA [redacted] blood was cleaned up and his clothes were placed in a nearby trash can. The expended practice flash bang and its spoon were picked up by the NOTs and placed in an unsecure cabinet in the hallway. Twelve expended practice flash bangs and four spoons were located in the cabinet. b6 b7C

SSA told ASC he would secure the scene after the incident. SSA locked Cage A with a combination lock and left the HRT facility. SA was given the combination by SSA and allowed to enter Cage A to remove personal property without supervision. A log was not kept to document who entered the scene or who removed what item. Several NOTs, including SA entered Cage A without supervision. b6 b7C

Although HRT provided instruction on the use of practice flash bangs, no policy was in place on how to store them. The practice of detonating them outside of the training environment was not approved.

On 11/28/2012, SA firearm was inspected by the Defensive Systems Unit, Training Division, to determine if the weapon was working properly. The inspection of the weapon determined the weapon was dirty with carbon and dry of lubrication. However, the examination determined this did not have any impact on the accidental discharge. b6 b7C

On 03/10/2013, SA was reassigned to the Washington Field Office. b6 b7C

On 05/23/2013, the SIRG met to discuss the above-captioned shooting incident. Acting Assistant Director Robert J. Shields, Inspection Division (INSD), chaired the meeting and was a non-voting member. The following voting members were in attendance: Acting Chief Inspector Howard S. Marshall, Office of Inspections (OI), INSD; Trial Attorney, Criminal Division, United States Department of Justice (USDOJ); Special Legal Counsel, Civil Rights Division, USDOJ; Section Chief (SC) SC Gregory D. Cox, Global Section, Counterintelligence Division; Special Agent (SA) Squad CR-2, Washington Field Office; SSA Practical Applications Unit, Training Division (TD); SSA Investigative Law Unit, Office of the General Counsel; SSA Evidence Response Team, Laboratory Division; SSA Special Weapons and Tactics (SWAT) Operations Unit, Critical Incident Response Group (CIRG); SSA Firearms Training Unit, TD; and SSA Defensive Systems Unit, TD. The b6 b7C following non-voting members were also in attendance: Inspectors [redacted] and [redacted] OI, INSD; Team Leaders [redacted] and [redacted] OI, INSD; SSA [redacted] Defensive Systems Unit, TD ; [redacted] Firearms Training Unit, TD; SSA [redacted] Operations and Training Unit, CIRG; SSA [redacted] Resource Planning Office, Director's Office; SSA [redacted] SWAT Operations Unit, CIRG; [redacted] Occupational Safety and Environmental Programs Unit, Facilities and Logistics Services Division; Management and Program Analyst [redacted] Inspection Analysis Unit, INSD; and Management and Program Analysts [redacted] and [redacted] Inspection Management Unit, INSD.

Observations and Recommendations of the SIRG

The SIRG reviewed the above synopsized incident with the intent to: (1) evaluate the application of deadly force; (2) provide the Director with an evaluative analysis, observations, and recommendations for corrective actions from an operational standpoint (if any); (3) provide recommendations concerning training and/or safety issues; and (4) provide recommendations for administrative action if deemed necessary.

A lengthy discussion ensued regarding the unauthorized use of practice flash bangs by the NOTs before and after training events. Specifically, members discussed SA [redacted] use of a practice flash bang immediately prior to accidentally discharging his firearm, resulting in serious injury to SA [redacted] The members of the SIRG inquired whether the unauthorized use of practice flash bangs would be addressed by the FBI Inspection Division's Internal Investigations Section (IIS). A/AD Robert J. Shields, Jr. advised IIS would review this unauthorized use of government property. In addition, OGC Attorney [redacted] indicated the Department of Justice, Office of Inspector General, would also have the opportunity to review the results of INSD's shooting investigation.

SIRG members unanimously recommended that SA [redacted] be censured, suspended from duty for a period of three days, and receive documented remedial firearms training in regard to this shooting incident. Additionally, based on past precedent, IIS, Inspection Division, should levy any additional penalty deemed appropriate to SA [redacted] regarding his unauthorized use of a practice flash bang prior to the accidental discharge. b6 b7C

SIRG members unanimously adopted the following observations instructions/recommendations of the SIRT:

INSPECTOR'S OBSERVATIONS:

Observation 1: Practice flash bangs and Simunitions were used for unauthorized purposes.

Analysis 1: The SIRT revealed the unauthorized use of practice flash bangs and Simunitions within the designated NOT equipment storage area. The NOTs, in pursuit of humor, detonated practice flash bangs and shot each other with Simunition weapons while within the equipment storage area of the Medical Annex Building. Interviews of the NOTs revealed they engaged previously in these activities as pranks and no one had been injured.

Prior to handling his Glock 27, SA [redacted] admitted to tossing a practice flash bang at SA [redacted] Approximately three to five seconds after the practice flash bang detonated, SA [redacted] unintentionally discharged his Glock 27 striking SA [redacted] b6 b7C

While the investigation did not reveal SA [redacted] handled both the flash bang device and weapon at the same time, the unauthorized activity aided in the distraction of SA [redacted] prior to his unintentional discharge of his firearm. b6 b7C

Recommendation 1: AD, CIRG should ensure HRT property is used for training and operational events only.

Observation 2: Simunitions were stored next to loaded weapons of the same make and caliber within NOTs equipment storage areas.

Analysis 2: During the processing of the scene by ERT, multiple Simunition rounds were noted on the floor of the NOTs equipment area. Simunition weapons were stored next to operational weapons of the same make. At least one of the Simunition weapons was loaded. Even though the Simunition weapons were painted orange, some were missing paint due to use. The duty weapons and Simunition weapons were stored next to each other in the cages or were hanging from the same hook.

Recommendation 2: AD, CIRG should ensure Simunitions (weapons and ammunition) are stored separately from operational weapons.

Observation 3: The NOTs were not properly supervised.

Analysis 3: The NOT supervisor was located in the HRT main building. The NOTs were housed away from supervisors and other HRT operators in [redacted] The NOTs were aware they were not supervised while in [redacted] Interviews of NOTs revealed practice flash bangs were detonated approximately 10 to 12 times in the cage area since the beginning of training. The detonation was loud enough for anyone in the Annex to hear. Interviews of EM and HRT personnel revealed they were unaware of this practice by the NOTs. b7E

Recommendation 3: AD, CIRG should ensure the NOTs are appropriately supervised.

Observation 4: The location of the shooting incident was not properly controlled after the accidental discharge of the weapon.

Analysis 4: The NOTs cleaned up blood and the practice flash bang device after the shooting without direction from the supervisory staff. Interviews revealed SSA [redacted] secured the cage where the shooting took place. SSA [redacted] secured the cage but then gave the NOTs the combination after he left the facility. Several NOTs, including SA [redacted] entered the cage area to retrieve personal items without b6 b7C supervision. No entry log was maintained documenting entry of personnel or documenting what was removed from the area.

Recommendation 4: AD, CIRG should ensure access is controlled to incident sites.

PROCEDURES FOR RESPONDING TO THE INSTRUCTIONS/RECOMMENDATIONS

The Inspection Division (INSD), Inspection Management Unit (IMU) is responsible for ensuring that each Inspection Instruction/Recommendation is satisfactorily resolved. IMU maintains an Inspection Instructions/Recommendations database and provides the INSD Assistant Director (AD) a quarterly report reflecting all outstanding Instructions/Recommendations. The inspection process is not complete until all Instructions/Recommendations have been satisfactorily resolved.

IMU will provide all responses to the Inspector-in-Charge (IIC), who will determine if each Instruction/Recommendation has been resolved or requires further action. Resolution will be based upon specific actions taken rather than a recitation of what actions the division has under consideration or plans to take in the future. If the IIC determines an Instruction/Recommendation has not been resolved, an EC will be forwarded requesting further action or clarification. Upon resolution, all Instructions/Recommendations will be appropriately noted in the database.

AD, CIRG is required to provide detailed responses addressing the Instructions/Recommendations in this EC, pages 6, 7, and 8 including corrective actions taken and/or intended actions with time frames for completion. Each Observation which results in an Instruction/Recommendation must be responded to in a one-page, stand alone response. The Observation and related Instruction/Recommendation is to be recited verbatim from the inspection EC, followed by the division's detailed response. If supporting documentation is available, it should be enclosed with each response.

Synopsis: (U) The Shooting Incident Review Group (SIRG) reviewed a shooting incident that occurred on 11/15/2012, involving Special Agent (SA) [redacted] of the Baltimore Division. During the execution of a search warrant, SA [redacted] fired five rounds from his Bureau-issued Colt M-4, .223 caliber rifle causing superficial injuries to one of the residents. SIRG members recommended that no administrative action be taken against SA [redacted] as a result of his involvement in this shooting incident. b6 b7C

Administrative Notes: (U) Reference report of former Inspector [redacted] dated 05/07/2013. b6 b7C

Details:

This communication was prepared to furnish the analysis, comments, and recommendations of the SIRG with reference to the captioned shooting.

Details of the Shooting Incident

On 11/15/2012, at approximately 6:05 a.m., the Baltimore Special Weapons and Tactic (SWAT) team executed two search warrants in support of a WFO Safe Streets Task Force (SSTF) investigation. The case was predicated on information that [redacted] were operating significant drug networks throughout the D.C. Metro area. These individuals were indicted by a Federal Grand Jury in the District of Columbia and search warrants were obtained for nine locations utilized by members of the criminal organization. Two of the search warrants were for single family residences in [redacted] which would be executed by Baltimore SWAT, Tactical Operations Center (TOC) and Negotiation Operations Center (NOC) teams. b6 b7C

On 11/13/2012, at approximately 1:00 p.m., Baltimore SWAT Senior Team Leader (STL) [redacted] conducted an operations brief. The approved operations order called for Baltimore SWAT to divide into two eight-man entry teams with each team assigned to a residence. The Gold team was designated to enter and secure [redacted] and the Blue team was designated to enter and secure the [redacted] (herein referred to [redacted] Information indicated the primary subject at [redacted] had received prior military training and was armed with an AK-47 and several handguns. Due to the close proximity to [redacted] Baltimore SWAT believed there was a probability weapons may be located at [redacted] as well. b6 b7C

The front door and windows of [redacted] provided a clear view of the front door of [redacted] where the Blue Team would make entry. Baltimore Executive Management (EM) approved a plan for the Blue Team to make entry at [redacted] before the Gold Team entered [redacted] allowing Blue Team operators to avoid exposing themselves to any danger posed by [redacted] The use of [redacted] was authorized for use by both teams. The Blue Team planned to deploy [redacted] inside [redacted] if the knock and announce was not answered and a breach of the door was necessary. If the occupants of [redacted] opened the door when commanded, [redacted] would be deployed in the front yard of [redacted] signaling the Gold Team to enter [redacted] b6 b7C b7E

On 11/15/2012, at approximately 5:00 a.m., Baltimore SWAT, along with the TOC and NOC personnel met at the designated staging area and conducted an operations and safety brief. Upon completion, all members moved to their assigned stations. TOC and NOC were located in the TOC vehicle, while the On-Scene Commander, ASAC [redacted] and SWAT Supervisor, SSA [redacted] positioned themselves in ASAC [redacted] vehicle. Both teams proceeded to the residences utilizing one vehicle arriving at approximately 6:00 a.m. Once there, both teams proceeded to their assignments. b6 b7C

At approximately 6:05 a.m., the Blue Team was positioned at the front door to [redacted] where STL [redacted] initiated the operation. SA [redacted] conducted a knock and announce by yelling, "FBI, search warrant. Come to the door!" SA [redacted] repeated this sequence, after which STL [redacted] counted aloud to 20. No indications of movement were observed in the house at the completion of STL [redacted] count. SA [redacted] was directed by STL [redacted] to forcibly breach the door. After SA [redacted] breached the door, SA [redacted] deployed a [redacted] inside the house. Almost immediately after the [redacted] was tossed, SA [redacted] prematurely entered the residence before the [redacted] detonated and stood in the living room, approximately five feet from the threshold. SA [redacted] observed a female, later identified as [redacted] crouched approximately 20 feet away in an archway inside an alcove which separated the living room from the bedrooms located in the rear of the residence. As SA [redacted] made eye contact with [redacted] he saw a flash of light, heard a loud bang, and felt a strong movement of air on his right side which he perceived to be from a shotgun blast fired at him by [redacted] b6 b7C b7E

SA [redacted] initially fired two shots toward [redacted] and both shots missed her. One embedded in the wall of an unoccupied bedroom in the southeast corner of the home. The other hit the corner of the living room wall, immediately adjacent to the arch. SA [redacted] adjusted his point of aim from right to left, as [redacted] ran back into her bedroom in the northeast corner of the residence. SA [redacted] perceived that [redacted] moved into a stairwell rising to the second floor. The b6 b7C stairwell was between the living room where SA [redacted] was standing, and [redacted] bedroom, and actually descended into the basement. According to SA [redacted] he believed [redacted] would use the stairwell as a position of cover and fire at him and his fellow team members again. SA [redacted] fired three additional rounds at the wall separating the living room from the stairwell. The three rounds missed [redacted] and impacted the living room wall and passed through the stairwell, hitting the opposing wall. One of the rounds also impacted a closet door in the hall area, adjacent to [redacted] bedroom door. b6 b7C

SA [redacted] was the second Agent to enter the residence and overheard SA [redacted] shouting, "shots fired" and, "come out." SA [redacted] moved to cover a second stairwell on the north side of the house, which ascended to the second floor. Five individuals were cleared from the residence. b6 b7C

[redacted] sustained three superficial injuries. She was treated on the scene by Baltimore SWAT medic SA [redacted] and subsequently transported to Prince George's hospital where she was treated for minor abrasions and lacerations to her face and arm and released. b6 b7C

On 02/27/2013, [redacted] Chief, Special Prosecution Unit, Prince George's States Attorney' Office provided a letter declining to prosecute SA [redacted] for discharging his weapon during the execution of the search warrant on 11/15/2012. b6 b7C

On 04/10/2013 [redacted] Special Legal Counsel, Department of Justice, Civil Rights Division, advised the circumstances of the Agent-involved shooting did not warrant a federal criminal investigation. b6 b7C

On 05/23/2013, the SIRG met to discuss the above-captioned shooting incident. Acting Assistant Director Robert J. Shields, Inspection Division (INSD), chaired the meeting and was a non-voting member. The following voting members were in attendance: Acting Chief Inspector Howard S. Marshall, Office of Inspections (OI), INSD; [redacted] Trial b6 b7C

Attorney, Criminal Division, United States Department of Justice (USDOJ); [redacted] Special Legal Counsel, Civil Rights Division, USDOJ; Section Chief (SC) SC Gregory D. Observations and Recommendations of the SIRG

The SIRG reviewed the above synopsized incident with the intent to: (1) evaluate the application of deadly force; (2) provide the Director with an evaluative analysis, observations, and recommendations for corrective actions from an operational standpoint (if any); (3) provide recommendations concerning training and/or safety issues; and (4) provide recommendations for administrative action if deemed necessary.

This discussion resulted in the recommendation that no administrative action be taken against the Agent as a result of his involvement in this serious accident.

SIRG members unanimously adopted the following observations and recommendations of the SIRT:

INSPECTOR'S OBSERVATIONS

Observation #1: Baltimore SWAT operators should receive training on the safe and effective deployment of diversionary devices.

Analysis: Special Weapons and Tactics Policy Implementation Guide (02/29/2012) [redacted] b7E

[redacted] Senior Team Leaders (STLs) or their designees must conduct annual training for each SWAT team member in the use of diversionary devices. The STL must document the annual training and certification in the office SWAT file, using the diversionary device SWAT checklist. The STL must also report to SOU via TRMS that each team's operators have been annually certified. Prior to any training event in which diversionary devices will be used, the team leader, or his/her designee, should cover the delivery sequence "dos and don'ts" for the diversionary device.

SIRT investigation determined SWAT operator SA [redacted] entered the room before [redacted] detonated causing him to take offensive actions due to his belief he was being fired upon. b6 b7C b7E

Recommendation #1: SAC, Baltimore ensure SWAT STL and members are trained on the use of [redacted] and develop protocols to prevent early entry before [redacted] b7E

Recommendation #1a: AD, CIRG ensure SWAT teams are conducting annual training on the use and deployment of [redacted] b7E

PROCEDURES FOR RESPONDING TO THE INSTRUCTIONS AND RECOMMENDATIONS

The Inspection Division (INSD), Inspection Management Unit (IMU) is responsible for ensuring that each Inspection Instruction/Recommendation is satisfactorily resolved. IMU maintains an Inspection Instructions/Recommendations database and provides the INSD Assistant Director (AD) a quarterly report reflecting all outstanding Instructions/Recommendations. The inspection process is not complete until all Instructions/Recommendations have been satisfactorily resolved.

IMU will provide all responses to the Inspector-in-Charge (IIC), who will determine if each Instruction/Recommendation has been resolved or requires further action. Resolution will be based upon specific actions taken rather than a recitation of what actions the division has under consideration or plans to take in the future. If the IIC determines an Instruction/Recommendation has not been resolved, an EC will be forwarded requesting further action or clarification. Upon resolution, all Instructions/Recommendations will be appropriately noted in the database.

SAC, Baltimore is required to provide detailed responses addressing the Instructions/Recommendations in this EC, page 6 including corrective actions taken and/or intended actions with time frames for completion. Each Issue which results in an Instruction/Recommendation must be responded to in a one-page, stand alone response. The Issue and related Instruction/Recommendation is to be recited verbatim from the inspection EC, followed by the division's detailed response. If supporting documentation is available, it should be enclosed with each response.

All initial and follow-up responses must be sent to the IMU on plain bond paper as enclosures to a transmittal EC, directed to Unit Chief [redacted] Inspection Division, Inspection Management Unit, Room [redacted] In addition, after the EC is serialized with the attached responses, please e-mail the Sentinel link to MPA [redacted] b6 b7C

On 12/17/2012, at approximately 4:00 a.m., SA [redacted] was leaving his residence to go to work. As he unlocked his vehicle, SA [redacted] noticed the normally closed gate to the back of b6 b7C his residence was open. SA [redacted] removed his weapon from his ankle holster because he was not comfortable with the gate being open and felt that he should have his weapon out in case there was an intruder. SA [redacted] was standing between his residence and a standalone utility shed, which is located in the middle of the back yard on the right side. He looked at the rear of his residence to see if there were any persons or obvious signs of forced entry to any of the rear residence doors. When he did not see anything, he focused his attention on the shed area and observed an unknown subject standing just outside of the opened shed. SA [redacted] could tell that the subject was a male; however, due to the darkness he could not see whether the subject had any type of weapon in his hands. SA [redacted] yelled "Stop, put your hands up!" As the subject fled towards the rear of the residence, SA [redacted] pursued him to the far right corner of his property. SA [redacted] ran into the subject in the dark, congested corner of the yard. While SA [redacted] was holding his firearm in his right hand, he fell into the subject and struck him in the head with his weapon. SA [redacted] fell to the ground, put both hands out to break his fall, and upon landing he inadvertently pulled the trigger of his pistol.

SA [redacted] chased the subject who had run towards the closest road north of his residence, entered a van, and rapidly drove off. SA [redacted] went back into his residence, called 911, and Miami Division Executive Management.

b7C

The Miami Division Evidence Response Team (ERT) responded and took photos, searched all surrounding properties for damage, and performed a close search utilizing metal detectors for the bullet, but could not locate the expended round. Metro-Dade Police Department (MDPD) responded to SA [redacted] residence in order to take the burglary report. During MDPD's examination of the rear corner of the yard, the shell casing was discovered.

No personal injuries or property damage were incurred as a result of SA [redacted] accidental discharge.

Details of the Shooting Incident

On 04/18/2013, the Tucson Resident Agency conducted quarterly firearms qualification training at the Pima Regional Training Center in Tucson.

According to SA [redacted] upon his arrival to the range, SA [redacted] the Assistant Primary Firearms Instructor (A/PFI), instructed participants to unload their service ammunition. As A/PFI [redacted] provided a round count of ammunition needed for the first practice shoot, SA [redacted] filled his magazines with the designated round count and reloaded his weapon while standing at the ammunition table. A/PFI [redacted] stated he needed to verify the weapon serial numbers of all shooters in the group. While facing in a safe direction, SA [redacted] locked the slide back on his weapon to read the serial number. He walked from the ammunition table to an area away from the participants. Forgetting he placed a loaded magazine into his weapon, SA [redacted] released the slide on his weapon and pressed the trigger causing one round to discharge. SA [redacted] immediately holstered his weapon and waited for the arrival of A/PFI [redacted]

After determining no personal injuries were incurred as a result of SA [redacted] discharge, a decision was made to allow SA [redacted] to complete the firearms training with the group.

Case ID #: 297-HQ-A1271292-D (U) Shooting Incident

Synopsis: (U) The Shooting Incident Review Group (SIRG) reviewed a shooting incident that occurred on 05/30/2013, involving Special Agent (SA) [redacted] of the Cleveland Division. As he reached for his Bureau-issued Glock Model 23 pistol as it fell towards the ground in his office space, SA [redacted] accidentally discharged one round, injuring his right lower leg. SIRG members unanimously recommended that SA [redacted] be censured, suspended from duty for a period of three days, and attend documented remedial firearms training as a result of his involvement in this shooting incident. b6 b7C

Administrative Notes: (U) Reference Electronic Communication (EC) of SA [redacted] dated 06/27/2013. b6 b7C

Details:

This communication was prepared to furnish the analysis, comments, and recommendations of the SIRG with reference to the captioned shooting.

On 05/30/2013, at approximately 4:00 p.m., SA [redacted] was in his office located at the Cleveland Hopkins International Airport. While b6 b7C on the phone with the Evidence Response Team, SA [redacted] decided to sit in the chair at his desk. As he sat down, his holster grabbed at his chair and he partially stood up to remove the holster and pistol from his pants so he could sit down. Unable to get the holster removed from his belt, SA [redacted] removed his gun from the holster to set it on his desk. He lost his grip on the gun and as it fell toward the ground, SA [redacted] reached for it causing a single round to discharge, travel through a desk, and enter his right lower leg. b6 b7C

SA [redacted] left his office to seek assistance at the Transportation Security Administration (TSA) office. Finding the TSA office empty, SA [redacted] returned to his office and contacted his supervisor to advise of the incident. SA [redacted] placed a tourniquet on his leg, called 911, and advised his wife of the incident. b6 b7C

Airport fire and police personnel responded and rendered first aid. Cleveland Division personnel also responded to the scene. SA [redacted] was transported to the MetroHealth Hospital where the round was extracted and he was released from the hospital that evening. b6 b7C

On 08/14/2013, the SIRG met to discuss the above-captioned shooting incident. Acting Assistant Director Robert J. Shields, Jr., Inspection Division (INSD), chaired the meeting and was a non-voting member. The following voting members were in attendance: [redacted] Trial Attorney, Criminal Division, United States Department of Justice (USDOJ); [redacted] Special Legal Counsel, Civil Rights Division, USDOJ; Section Chief (SC) Jayne L. Observations and Recommendations of the SIRG

The SIRG reviewed the above synopsized incident with the intent to: (1) evaluate the application of deadly force; (2) provide the Director with an evaluative analysis, observations, and recommendations for corrective actions from an operational standpoint (if any); (3) provide recommendations concerning training and/or safety issues; and (4) provide recommendations for administrative action if deemed necessary.

SIRG members unanimously agreed that SA [redacted] should be censured, suspended from duty for a period of three days, and attend documented remedial firearms training as a result of his involvement in this shooting incident. b6 b7C

Synopsis: (U) This communication was prepared to furnish the analysis, comments, and recommendations of the Shooting Incident Review Group (SIRG) with respect to the captioned shooting following SIRG meeting held on 11/20/2013.

Reference: 297K-HQ-A2922639 Serial 6 .

Administrative Notes: (U) Reference FD-1085 submitted electronically by SSA dated 07/16/2013. Reference accidental discharge report by SSA dated 07/31/2013.

Details:

On 11/20/2013, the SIRG convened to review a shooting incident which occurred on 07/03/2013, involving Detroit Field Office Senior Supervisory Resident Agent (SSRA) At approximately 9:10 a.m., SSRA accidentally discharged his Glock Model 22 handgun during firearms training. SSRA had un-holstered his weapon to retrieve the serial number in order to enter this information on the shooting log. After SSRA [redacted] removed the weapon from his holster, he proceeded to clear his Glock handgun to ensure it was safe. During this process, SSRA [redacted] pulled the trigger on what he believed was a safe and empty weapon. b6 b7C

On 11/20/2013, the SIRG reviewed the Agent-involved shooting incident with the intent to:

1. Evaluate the application of deadly force. The SIRG determined this incident was not a deadly force issue.

2. Provide the Director with an evaluative analysis, observations, and recommendations for corrective actions from an operational standpoint. The SIRG made no recommendations or observations concerning the operational techniques used by SSRA [redacted] during this accidental discharge. b6 b7C

3. Provide recommendations concerning training and/or safety issues. The SIRG made the following observations requesting additional training.

Observation 1: Detroit Field Office EM was not notified in a timely manner by the Firearms Instructor or SSRA [redacted] regarding the accidental discharge. b6 b7C

Analysis 1: SA [redacted] FD-302 report indicated he was the Firearms Instructor on 07/03/2013. While preparing to brief the Agents, who were at the range for training, SA [redacted] heard a gun shot. SSRA [redacted] then motioned SA [redacted] to his location and told him about the accidental discharge. After ensuring nobody was injured, SA [redacted] continued with the firearms training. At the end of training, SA [redacted] notified the Detroit Field Office's Principal Firearms Instructor (PFI), [redacted] about the accidental discharge. b6 b7C

During her investigation, Supervisory Special Agent (SSA) determined not only did SA fail to report this incident immediately to PFI but SSRA did not report the incident to Assistant Special Agent in Charge (ASAC) until firearms training had concluded. b6 b7C

Recommendation 1: SAC, Detroit Field Office, should ensure all Detroit personnel are appropriately trained regarding the importance of reporting any shooting-related incident to EM immediately after the shooting incident occurred.

Observation 2: Detroit Firearms Instructors did not secure the scene following the accidental discharge.

Analysis 2: After the accidental discharge occurred and after SA and SSRA determined there were no injuries, firearms training continued as scheduled. Detroit Evidence Response Team (ERT) arrived and took control of the scene at approximately 2:30 p.m. Between the time of the actual accidental discharge, approximately 9:10 a.m., and the time ERT arrived to process the scene at approximately 2:30 p.m., the shooting scene was not secured. b6 b7C

Recommendation 2: SAC, Detroit Field Office, should ensure all Detroit personnel are appropriately trained regarding the importance of securing a shooting scene immediately after the shooting incident has occurred.

Observation 3: SSRA practice of pulling the trigger of his weapon as part of the process to determine whether the weapon was empty and safe was in conflict with established procedures and unsafe. b6 b7C

Analysis 3: When SSRA arrived at the range for firearms training, he walked over to one of the cleaning tables and un-holstered his weapon in order to retrieve the serial number. While rendering the weapon safe, SSRA pointed the weapon in what he characterized as a safe direction toward the pavement at the "bottom of a wall" and pulled the trigger on what he believed was an empty weapon. SSRA b6 b7C stated he did this in order to clear the weapon similar to the manner he cleared his weapon on the range or in the gun cleaning room. Following the accidental discharge, an Agent standing nearby observed SSRA [redacted] remove a magazine from his weapon, rack the slide, point the weapon down range, and pull the trigger again. The Agent heard a "click" following SSRA [redacted] second trigger pull. b6 b7C

Recommendation 3: SAC, Detroit Field Office, will ensure SSRA [redacted] attends remedial firearms training. b6 b7C

4. Provide recommendations for administrative action if deemed necessary. The SIRG recommended this matter be referred to the Internal Investigations Section (IIS), Inspection Division (INSD), for any further administrative action.

Deputy Assistant Director Mark Alan Morgan, Inspection Division (INSD), chaired the meeting and was a non-voting member. The following voting members were in attendance: Chief Inspector Robert J. Shields, Office of Inspections (OI), (INSD); [redacted] Trial Attorney, Criminal Division, United States Department of Justice (USDOJ) [redacted] Special Legal Counsel, Civil Rights Division, USDOJ; Section Chief (SC) Jayne L. The following non-voting members were also in attendance: [redacted] Office of Inspector General, USDOJ; Inspectors [redacted] OI, INSD; Team Leaders [redacted] and b6 b7C

3. (U//FOUO) Provide recommendations concerning training and safety issues. The SIRG made the following observation requesting additional training.

Observation 1: PO Mason, while conducting yearly firearms training with the AR-15, suffered an accidental discharge.

Analysis 1: Subsequent to the accidental discharge, at the completion of firearms training, PO [redacted] conducted a safety check and lead firearms instructor PO [redacted] verified a safe and empty weapon. PO [redacted] proceeded to disassemble and clean the firearm and placed it into the crate with the rest of the AR-15 rifles assigned to the FBI Police. b6 b7C

Instruction 1: AD, Security Division will ensure FBI Police personnel are aware weapons involved in accidental discharge matters must be collected and submitted to the Defensive Systems Unit (DSU), Training Division (TD), for a Weapon Serviceability Inspection.

(U//FOUO) On 02/21/2014, the SIRG convened to review a shooting incident which occurred on 08/28/2013, involving New York Field Office (NYFO) Special Agent (SA) [redacted] NYFO, Squad C-26, White b6 b7C

Re: 297J-HQ-A3094975, 04/10/2014

Plains Resident Agency (WPRA), and the Westchester County District Attorney's Office (WCDAO) were conducting a joint gang and narcotics investigation. On 08/28/2013, investigators from WCDAO and officers from the Mount Vernon Police Department planned on arresting a target of this joint investigation, [redacted], who was wanted on a local narcotics warrant. SA [redacted] and SA [redacted] drove to the arrest location, so they could participate in surveillance and conduct the post-arrest interview. While driving past an additional address associated to [redacted] SAs [redacted] and [redacted] observed Hilton standing in front of the house. After momentarily losing sight of [redacted] SAs [redacted] and [redacted] approached the house and walked down the adjacent driveway to the rear of home. While approaching a parked Ford SUV associated to [redacted] Agents heard the vehicle's engine start. SAs [redacted] and [redacted] gave the driver, who was identified as [redacted] verbal commands to turn off the car and get his hands up; however, [redacted] ignored the commands and put the Ford SUV in reverse. Because a WCDAO investigator took a standing position behind the Ford SUV, he was struck twice by the vehicle as it moved backwards. SA [redacted] feared for the investigator's life, so he aimed his pistol at [redacted] Because SA [redacted] was in his sight picture, SA [redacted] fired one round into the rear passenger tire of [redacted] vehicle. When the vehicle did not stop, SA [redacted] immediately fired a second round into the front passenger tire, which stopped the vehicle. [redacted] was then removed from the vehicle and arrested without further incident.

SIRG Observations

(U//FOUO) On 02/21/2014, the SIRG reviewed the Agent-involved shooting incident with the intent to:

1. Evaluate the application of deadly force. The SIRG unanimously determined the application of deadly force by SA [redacted] on 08/28/2013 was in compliance with the Department of Justice's Deadly Force Policy.

b7C

Re: 297J-HQ-A3094975, 04/10/2014

2. Provide the Director with an evaluative analysis, observations, and recommendations for corrective actions from an operational standpoint. Because policy dictates an agent should not fire solely to stop a vehicle, SIRG members had a discussion about the technique used by SA [redacted] Due to the potential cross fire situation if SA [redacted] shot towards the subject instead of the vehicle, SIRG members concurred with the Agent's decision to shoot at the vehicle tires in this situation. By disabling the vehicle, SA [redacted] eliminated the threat of [redacted] vehicle striking and seriously injuring the investigator, who was standing behind the vehicle at the time. Shooting at the tires was not to solely disable the vehicle. In addition, the SIRG made the following observations. b6 b7C

Observation 1: An arrest plan was not produced prior to an arrest operation.

Analysis 1: DIOG Section 19.2.3 provided policy regarding arrest plans:

"The SAC is responsible for ensuring that arrests are carefully and thoroughly planned...Whenever possible, written arrest plans must be prepared prior to conducting law enforcement activities that may result in the arrest of a potentially dangerous subject. Arrest plans must address five topics: Situation, Mission, Execution, Administration and Equipment, and Control and Communications."

In addition, DIOG Section 19.2.4 provided policy guidance regarding joint arrests:

"An SSA may authorize a joint arrest with state and local authorities, United States Marshal's Service (USMS), or other federal law enforcement agencies. In circumstances of joint arrests, the SAC remains responsible to ensure that there is a well-considered arrest plan."

SAs [redacted] and [redacted] participated in the b6 b7C surveillance to locate and arrest [redacted] An arrest plan was not prepared nor did either Agent participate in an arrest briefing before they were involved in the surveillance and arrest of [redacted] b6 b7C

Instruction 1: ADIC, New York will ensure joint arrest plans in support of other law enforcement agencies are well-considered in accordance with DIOG Section 19.2.3 and DIOG Section 19.2.4.

Observation 2: Agents did not participate in an arrest operations briefing prior to participating in the arrest of a violent subject.

Analysis 2: DIOG Section 19.2.3 provided policy regarding arrest plans:

"When briefing the arrest plan, the briefing Agent should stress to the participants of the operation that any arrest has the potential to become dangerous. Exigent circumstances may necessitate an oral briefing in lieu of a written plan, but the oral briefings must address the five topics required to be included in written plans. The planning and execution of arrests, raids, and searches should be assigned to experienced Agents. All arrest plans must be approved by ASACs or their designees."

SAs [redacted] and [redacted] participated in the surveillance to locate and arrest [redacted] An arrest plan was not prepared nor did either Agent participate in an arrest briefing before they were involved in the surveillance and arrest of Hilton. b6 b7C

Instruction 2: ADIC, New York will ensure Agents participate in an operations briefing prior to participating in the arrest of a subject in accordance with DIOG Section 19.2.3.

Observation 3: SA [redacted] NYFO, did not have his handgun immediately accessible during the arrest of [redacted] b6 b7C

Analysis 3: The MIOG, Section 12-2.2 provided policy regarding a handgun being secured:

Re: 297J-HQ-A3094975, 04/10/2014

"SAs must be armed at all times when on official duty. Handguns must be secured to the Agent's person in a holster, handbag or waist (fanny/butt) pack. Immediate access to the handgun and its security are paramount. SAs should consult with the PFI concerning the use of holsters other than their Bureau-issued holster."

SA [redacted] had his Glock 27 handgun holstered on his ankle during the arrest of [redacted] An ankle holster did not afford the Agent immediate access to his handgun should a quick-reaction draw been necessary. b6 b7C

Recommendation 3: ADIC, New York should ensure all personnel wear their pistol in a holster readily accessible during planned activity which can be reasonably expected to culminate in an arrest or when entering a potentially hostile environment where a quick-reaction weapon draw might be necessary.

3. Provide recommendations concerning training and/or safety issues. The SIRG made no training recommendations or observations requesting additional training for the Agent involved in this shooting incident.

4. Provide recommendations for administrative action if deemed necessary. The SIRG recommended no administrative action be taken against SA [redacted] as a result of his involvement in this shooting incident. b6 b7C

Puerto Rico in support of a major takedown of a large-scale drug enterprise operating in San Juan. While entering an assigned arrest location, SA [redacted] was clearing the interior of the residence when he proceeded through a door from the kitchen to an exterior stairwell. As soon as SA [redacted] got to the bottom of the stairwell, a large pit bull breed dog began charging at him. Fearing for his safety and the safety of his fellow SWAT operators, SA [redacted] fired his weapon at the charging dog. After firing three rounds, the dog retreated into a crawl space underneath the house and later died. b6 b7C

SIRG Observations

Synopsis: (U//FOUO) This communication was prepared to furnish the analysis, comments, and recommendations of the Shooting Incident Review Group (SIRG) with respect to the captioned shooting following the SIRG meeting held on 02/21/2014.

Administrative Notes: (U//FOUO) Reference accidental discharge report by SSA [redacted] dated 10/31/2013. b6 b7C

Details:

On 02/21/2014, the SIRG reviewed an accidental discharge that occurred on 09/09/2013, involving SA [redacted] New York Field Office. SA [redacted] was participating in 4th quarter FBI pistol qualification course (PQC) at the Suffolk County Police Range in Westhampton, NY. After firing the first phase of the PQC from the three yard line, SA [redacted] attempted to holster his firearm, when his firearm became hung up on his concealing garment. In an attempt to holster his weapon, SA [redacted] pushed harder while his finger was b6 b7C along the slide of the weapon. This caused an accidental discharge of the weapon. One round was fired, hitting the concrete approximately three feet in front of SA [redacted] firing position. b6 b7C

On 02/21/2014, the SIRG reviewed the Agent-involved shooting incident with the intent to:

1. Evaluate the application of deadly force. The SIRG determined this incident was not a deadly force issue.

2. Provide the Director with an evaluative analysis, observations, and recommendations for corrective actions from an operational standpoint. The SIRG made no recommendations or observations concerning the operational techniques used by SA [redacted] during the shooting incident. b6 b7C

3. Provide recommendations concerning training and safety issues. The SIRG made the following observations requesting additional training.

Observation 1: SA [redacted] experienced an accidental discharge while attempting to holster his weapon at firearms training. b6 b7C

Analysis 1: SA [redacted] attempted to holster his weapon after firing the first phase of the PQC. The weapon became hung up on his concealing garment, causing SA [redacted] to push down harder in an attempt to holster his weapon. This action caused an accidental discharge. b6 b7C

Recommendation 1: ADIC, NY, will ensure SA [redacted] attends remedial firearms training. b6 b7C

Observation 2: Firearms instructors did not secure or photograph the scene, or retain the weapon and holster immediately following the accidental discharge.

Re: 297K-HQ-A3156134, 03/26/2014

Analysis 2: The PQC continued immediately following the accidental discharge. The incident was not reported to the PFI until later that afternoon. The FIs were only then instructed to take possession of SA [redacted] firearm. b6 b7C

Recommendation 2: ADIC, NY, will ensure Shooting Incident Review protocols are followed.

4. Provide recommendations for administrative action if deemed necessary. This matter is being referred to the Internal Investigations Section (IIS), Inspection Division (INSD) for potential administrative action.

Synopsis: (U) This communication was prepared to furnish the analysis, comments, and recommendations of the Shooting Incident Review Group (SIRG) with respect to the captioned shooting following the SIRG meeting held on 1/16/2014.

Reference: 297K-HQ-A3266118 Serial 7

Administrative Notes: (U) Reference FD-1085 submitted electronically by SSA [redacted] dated 10/9/2013. Reference accidental discharge report by SSA [redacted] on 12/20/2013. b6 b7C

Details:

On 1/16/2014, the SIRG reviewed an accidental discharge that occurred on 9/26/2013, involving Special Agent (SA) [redacted] Denver Field Office. Prior to the incident, SA [redacted] was instructed to turn in his personally owned Glock 27 pistol to the Principal Firearms Instructor (PFI), to be sent for service at Quantico, Virginia. SA [redacted] arrived at the range in preparation for firearms training and to turn in his Glock 27. Prior to giving his weapon to the PFI, SA [redacted] removed the weapon from his gun safe located behind the rear passenger seat of his FBI vehicle. SA [redacted] attempted to clear the weapon, while b6 b7C simultaneously pulling the slide and releasing the magazine. SA [redacted] inadvertently pulled the trigger and discharged one round. b6 b7C

SIRG Observations

On 1/16/2014, the SIRG reviewed the Agent-involved shooting incident with the intent to:

1. Evaluate the application of deadly force. The SIRG determined this incident was not a deadly force issue.

2. Provide the Director with an evaluative analysis, observations, and recommendations for corrective actions from an operational standpoint. The SIRG made no recommendations or observations concerning the operational techniques used by SA [redacted] during this shooting incident. b6 b7C

3. Provide recommendations concerning training and/or safety issues. The SIRG made the following observations requesting additional training.

Observation 1: SA [redacted] suffered an accidental discharge while attempting to clear his weapon. b6 b7C

Analysis 1: As SA [redacted] attempted to clear his weapon, he simultaneously pulled the slide to the rear and released the magazine, then pulled the trigger which fired a round into the trunk of his FBI vehicle. b6 b7C

Recommendation 1: SAC, Denver will ensure SA [redacted] attends remedial firearms training. b6 b7C

Observation 2: SA [redacted] did not secure the scene of the accidental discharge. b6 b7C

Analysis 2: After the accidental discharge, SA [redacted] completed firearms training, then drove to his residence. Once home, SA [redacted] b6 b7C discovered damage to his FBI vehicle made by the round. SA [redacted] then drove back to the range and contacted his supervisor. b6 b7C

Recommendation 2: SAC, Denver will ensure his personnel are familiar with the protocols of securing a shooting incident scene.

Observation 3: SA [redacted] failed to notify Denver Management of the accidental discharge in a timely manner. b6 b7C

Analysis 3: After the accidental discharge, SA [redacted] completed firearms training and failed to notify his Supervisor, or notify the PFI who was at the scene. SA [redacted] drove to his residence. Once home, SA [redacted] discovered damage to his FBI vehicle made by the round. SA [redacted] then drove back to the range and contacted his supervisor. b6 b7C

Recommendation 3: SAC, Denver will ensure his personnel report shooting incidents to Denver Management in a timely manner.

4. Provide recommendations for administrative action if deemed necessary. This matter is being referred to the Internal Investigations Section (IIS), Inspection Division (INSD) for potential administrative action.

The SIRG was chaired by non-voting member Deputy Assistant Director Mark Alan Morgan, INSD. The following voting members were in attendance: Chief Inspector Robert J. Synopsis: (U) The Shooting Incident Review Group (SIRG) reviewed a shooting incident that occurred on 01/10/2013, involving Special Agent (SA) [redacted] of the Oklahoma City Division. During the Special Weapons and Tactics (SWAT) firearms training, SA [redacted] fired one round from his Bureau-issued Rock River LAR15, M-4, .223 caliber carbine, striking SA [redacted] in the upper thigh. SIRG members recommended that no administrative action be taken against SA [redacted] as a result of his involvement in this shooting incident. One Observation with an accompanying Instruction was adopted by INSD for the Oklahoma City Division. b6 b7C

Administrative Notes: (U) Reference Electronic Communication of Supervisory Special Agents (SSAs) [redacted] and [redacted] dated 02/05/2013. b6 b7C

Details:

This communication was prepared to furnish the analysis, comments, and recommendations of the SIRG with reference to the captioned shooting.

Oklahoma City SWAT Team Leader SA [redacted] scheduled SWAT training for 01/10/2013. The training included instruction and training regarding the use of flash bang devices and conducting close b6 b7C quarters battle (CQB). On 01/10/2013, SWAT Team members met in the training room in the Oklahoma City Division, where SA [redacted] provided a presentation on the use and deployment of flash bangs. At approximately 10:00 a.m., the team departed for the Edmond (Oklahoma) Police Department (EPD) firearms range. Participants were aware the training would include live flash bangs and live fire CQB exercises. b6 b7C

SA [redacted] conducted demonstrations of the proper handling and deployment of flash bangs in the open range area. Several of the operators with less experience were instructed and allowed to throw live flash bangs. EPD Sergeant [redacted] provided a briefing on use of the shoot house. The interior shoot house rooms were shown to team members, and instruction about which walls should not be shot was provided. It was also noted shots above a specified height should not be made due to the trajectory of the bullet and the height of the earth berm which acts as the backstop for rounds fired. b6 b7C

An examination of the EPD shoot house showed it to be a rectangular fully covered single story structure with a metal roof. The outside dimensions of the shoot house were 60 ft. by 36 ft. The structure had telephone type poles as primary supports. Interior walls were constructed using panels of approximately one quarter inch plywood. The exterior walls of the house were made of fiberboard and 2x4s. The height of the roof, at its peak was approximately 20 ft., with a gap at the top to allow outside light into the house. In the scenario involving this shooting, the house was configured with 16 rooms. Some interior walls of the shoot house had the ability to be moved, reconfiguring the interior layout of the facility. Some walls had doorway gaps in them for "room entry" abilities.

SA [redacted] was responsible for running the training exercises. SA [redacted] was in charge of the entry team and directing tactical responses to the situations constructed by SA [redacted] Both SA [redacted] and SA [redacted] noted exercises would be room entry and clearing. SA [redacted] would make the determination as to the type of entry to be conducted and direct team responses both outside and inside b6 b7C the shoot house. SA [redacted] would set up and designate which rooms were not part of the exercise. The team would enter the shoot house without being supplied a blue print of the current layout or configuration of rooms within the house. There were instances where breaching was a component of the exercise as well as the use of flash bangs. b6 b7C

There were five to seven specific scenarios made in the house with each using all eleven operators. All briefings were conducted orally prior to entry. During the various exercises in the shoot house, there was a limited placement of targets within each scenario. Protocol for entries was described as standard operating procedures, including the weapon (shoulder weapon for these scenarios) having the safety on and the operator's finger off the trigger and outside the trigger guard. It also involved muzzle control. Once a target was identified, the weapon was brought on target, the safety disengaged, and shot(s) fired into the target. Once this was completed, the weapon was returned to safe and the finger placed outside the trigger guard.

During an earlier exercise, a question of not shooting a target was mentioned. SA [redacted] explained to the operators that all "Q" targets were to be considered threats which should be engaged. b6 b7C During the final exercise, team members at the front of the stack entered and secured room A. Members moved up to secured areas to stage for their next assignment on a clearing team. Room B was cleared and secured. SA [redacted] called for the clearing of rooms E and G. SA [redacted] deployed a flash bang in room E. SA [redacted] entered room E and immediately engaged a "Q" target with two shots. SA [redacted] turned to the right, cleared the corner and moved to that corner to complete securing the room. SA [redacted] entered and secured the left side of the room. SA [redacted] entered and filled the middle of the room. Slightly behind, but moving simultaneously to this entry, a group of three operators was moving to enter and secure room G. SA [redacted] entered the room and secured the left side. SA [redacted] entered and moved to the right to secure the corner and SA [redacted] entered to secure the middle of the room. Upon checking the right corner, SA [redacted] observed a target stand with a target attached. The target was not a "Q" target but rather a character target depicting a man holding a handgun. SA [redacted] disengaged the safety from his weapon, fired one shot at the target, then re-engaged the safety, and moved to complete the securing of Room G. b6 b7C

SA [redacted] who remained in room E, stated that something hit him. A "Code RED" real world emergency was called out. SA [redacted] began examining SA [redacted] as SA [redacted] entered to determine what happened. While waiting for the arrival of a medic, SAs [redacted] and [redacted] immediately began applying first aid. SA [redacted] called 911 and requested a helicopter to transport SA [redacted] Edmond Police Department personnel responded to the shoot house as well as emergency personnel from the Edmond Fire Department. SA [redacted] was stabilized and transported to the Oklahoma University Trauma Center. b6 b7C

According to SA [redacted] he believed the target he saw upon entering the room was an imminent threat. He also advised he did not recall any specification or demonstration during the day advising of any specific target being used for the training exercises. SA [redacted] advised he was solely responsible for setting up each scenario as well as any target involved in the exercises. b6 b7C

After the shooting incident, SA [redacted] asked SA [redacted] what happened. SA [redacted] pointed to a target stand with a paper character target attached. SA [redacted] stated he had not previously seen the target or target stand and immediately realized he had overlooked the two items during his walk through of the shoot house prior to the CQB exercise. b6 b7C

On 05/23/2013, the SIRG met to discuss the above-captioned shooting incident. Acting Assistant Director Robert J. Shields, Inspection Division (INSD), chaired the meeting and was a non-voting member. The following voting members were in attendance: Acting Chief Inspector Howard S. Marshall, Office of Inspections (OI), INSD; [redacted] [redacted] Trial Attorney, Criminal Division, United States Department of Justice (USDOJ); [redacted] Special Legal Counsel, Civil Rights b6 b7C

The SIRG reviewed the above synopsized incident with the intent to: (1) provide the Director with an evaluative analysis, observations, and recommendations for corrective actions (if any); (2) provide recommendations concerning training and/or safety issues; and (3) provide recommendations for administrative action if deemed necessary.

This discussion resulted in the recommendation that no administrative action be taken against SA [redacted] as a result of his involvement in this serious accident.

INSD adopted the following Observation and Instruction:

Title: (U) SHOOTING INCIDENT OKLAHOMA CITY DIVISION 01/10/2013
Re: 297-HQ-A1271801-D, 07/28/2013

Inspector's Observation:

Observation: Deficiencies were noted in the adherence to training protocols for live-fire, close quarters combat, shoot house exercises.

Analysis: Interview of Oklahoma City SWAT TL [redacted] who was responsible for running the training exercise at the Edmond PD shoot house, indicated TL [redacted] set up the training scenarios, including the placement of targets in the respective rooms of the shoot house. Following the training accident, SA [redacted] stated he overlooked a character paper target when he conducted a walk-through of the shoot house rooms prior to the CQB exercise. The overlooked target was engaged by SA [redacted] during the exercise, leading to the gunshot wound to SA [redacted]

Instruction: SAC, Oklahoma City will ensure adherence to live-fire shoot house training protocols.

PROCEDURES FOR RESPONDING TO THE INSTRUCTIONS/RECOMMENDATIONS

The Inspection Division (INSD), Inspection Management Unit (IMU) is responsible for ensuring that each Inspection Instruction/Recommendation is satisfactorily resolved. IMU maintains an Instructions/Recommendations database and provides the INSD Assistant Director (AD) a quarterly report reflecting all outstanding Instructions/Recommendations. The inspection process is not complete until all Instructions/Recommendations have been satisfactorily resolved.

IMU will provide field office responses to the Inspector-in-Charge (IIC), who will determine if the Instruction has been resolved or requires further action. Resolution will be based upon specific actions taken rather than a recitation of what actions the division has under consideration or plans to take in the future. If the IIC determines an Instruction/Recommendation has not been resolved, an EC will be forwarded requesting further action or clarification. Upon resolution, all Instructions/Recommendations will be appropriately noted in the database.

SAC, Oklahoma City is required to provide a detailed response addressing the Instruction in this EC, page 6, including corrective actions taken and/or intended actions with time frames for completion. Each Observation which results in an Instruction/ Recommendation must be responded to in a one-page, stand alone response. The Observation and related Instruction is to be recited verbatim from the inspection EC, followed by the division's detailed response (it is not necessary to repeat the analysis section of the Observation in the response). If supporting documentation is available, it should be enclosed with each response.

All initial and follow-up responses must be sent to the IMU on plain bond paper as enclosures to a transmittal EC, directed to Unit Chief [redacted] Inspection Division, Inspection Management Unit, Room [redacted] In addition, after the EC is serialized with the attached responses, please e-mail the Sentinel link to MPA [redacted] b6 b7C

Synopsis: (U) The Shooting Incident Review Group (SIRG) reviewed a shooting incident that occurred on 02/14/2013, involving Supervisory Special Agent (SSA) [redacted] of the Richmond Division. After seeing a vehicle strike a deer, SSA [redacted] fired one round from her Bureau-issued Glock Model 22, .40 caliber pistol, killing the severely injured animal. SIRG members unanimously recommended that no administrative action be taken against SSA [redacted] as a result of her involvement in this shooting incident. b6 b7C

Administrative Notes: (U) Reference Electronic Communications (ECs) of Special Agent (SA) [redacted] and SSA [redacted] dated 02/19/2013 and 03/04/2013, respectively. b6 b7C

Details:

This communication was prepared to furnish the analysis, comments, and recommendations of the SIRG with reference to the captioned shooting.

On 02/14/2013, at approximately 9:00 p.m., as SSA [redacted] was riding in a vehicle driven by another individual, she b6 b7C observed a small truck strike a deer. The unknown male driver (later identified as [redacted] of the truck, as well as the driver of the vehicle in which SSA [redacted] was riding, stopped. SSA [redacted] exited her vehicle as [redacted] exited his truck. SSA [redacted] assisted [redacted] by briefly stopping oncoming traffic while he pulled the injured deer to the right side shoulder of the road. b6 b7C

After the deer was moved to the shoulder of the road, [redacted] called the police to report the incident. He advised SSA [redacted] that the police advised it was going to be a while before a marked unit would respond to the scene. SSA [redacted] observed the deer thrashing about on the side of the road and became concerned that the deer was going to move back into oncoming traffic or cause an accident as a result of the distraction to drivers caused by the deer's actions. b6 b7C

SSA [redacted] expressed her concern and advised [redacted] that she had a concealed weapon and would shoot the deer. After ensuring there was no oncoming traffic or bystanders who would be at risk, SSA [redacted] stood above the deer and fired one round into the back of the deer's head. b6 b7C

[redacted] advised SSA [redacted] he would wait for the police to arrive so he could report the damage to his vehicle. After responding to the scene, the police officer advised that a game warden would be contacted to retrieve the dead deer. b6 b7C

SSA [redacted] advised the Richmond Division Principal Firearms Instructor of the incident the next afternoon. b6 b7C

Observations and Recommendations of the SIRG

The SIRG reviewed the above synopsized incident with the intent to: (1) evaluate the application of deadly force; (2) provide the Director with an evaluative analysis, observations, and recommendations for corrective actions from an operational standpoint (if any); (3) provide recommendations concerning training and/or safety issues; and

1. (U) INSD Shooting Incident Report, dated 10/21/2013.

Details:

On 11/20/2013, the SIRG convened to review a shooting incident which occurred on 03/06/2013, involving Knoxville Field Office Special Agent (SA) [redacted] On 03/04/2013, a criminal complaint and b6 b7C federal arrest warrant were issued against [redacted] for Distribution of Child Pornography and Receipt of Child Pornography. A search warrant was also issued for Evans' residence, [redacted] in order to obtain evidence related to an ongoing child pornography investigation. On 03/06/2013, Agents and Local Law enforcement executed the search warrant on Evans' residence and found Evans in a back bedroom. Evans was holding and pointing a holstered handgun at his head. When Evans made a sudden movement with the handgun, exposing the trigger, SA [redacted] fired three .223 rounds from his Colt M4 rifle. Evans was struck three times and was determined to be deceased at the scene by responding paramedics.

(U//FOUO) On 11/18/2013, SA JN SWAT, discharged seven rounds from his FBI-issued Colt AR-15 at a pit bull breed dog which was attacking SA JN SWAT, during an arrest operation in support of the Little Rock Field Office (LR). The JN SWAT team was

participating in a multiple subject LR arrest operation and was assigned to affect the arrest of subjects [redacted] and [redacted] b6 b7C

(U//FOUO) Upon arrival at [redacted] the residence of [redacted] SA [redacted] and SA [redacted] moved to their assigned position near the corner of the residence. As SA [redacted] entered the yard he saw a pit bull breed dog aggressively advancing towards him. The dog suddenly stopped as it was attached to a restraint. SA [redacted] warned SA [redacted] of the dog's presence and they continued to move towards their assigned position. SA [redacted] while focused on covering Agents assigned to breach the door, heard SA [redacted] scream. SA [redacted] turned to see the dog biting SA [redacted] on the upper right rear thigh. SA [redacted] also observed the dog's restraint had become wrapped around SA [redacted] legs. Recognizing the danger to SA [redacted] SA [redacted] fired a total of seven rounds at the dog, eliminating the threat to SA [redacted] and SA [redacted] b6 b7C

SIRG Observations

(U//FOUO) On 02/14/2012, the SIRG reviewed the Agent-involved shooting incident with the intent to:

1. Evaluate the application of deadly force. The SIRG unanimously determined the application of deadly force by SA [redacted] on 11/22/2013 was in compliance with the Department of Justice's Deadly Force Policy. b6 b7C

2. Provide the Director with an evaluative analysis, observations, and recommendations for corrective action from an operational standpoint. The SIRG made no recommendations or observations concerning the operational techniques used by SA [redacted] during this shooting incident. b6 b7C

3. Provide recommendations concerning training, procedural, and/or safety issues. The SIRG made the following recommendation to Little Rock regarding its post-incident response to the animal shooting:

Observation 1: The scene of the Agent-involved shooting was not secured and subsequently processed by ERT.

Analysis 1: The Inspection Division's Shooting Incident Guide delineates field office response to Agent-involved shooting incidents (AIS). Per the Shooting Incident Guide, Section VIII - E, Field Office Response, the SAC, in the event of an AIS, is responsible for identifying and dispatching an FBI On-Scene Commander (OSC) and the Chief Division Counsel (CDC) or Assistant Chief Division to the scene (A/CDC). CDCs are trained to advise Agents of the shooting incident review process and to assist in seeking emergency legal interim legal representation, as appropriate. The SAC should also deploy the Evidence Response Team (ERT) and any additional supporting personnel to the scene as appropriate. "Minimally, ensure there is FBI ERT involvement at every shooting scene, to include a strong preference for the FBI to have the lead responsibility in shootings involving only FBI Agents." Little Rock did not deploy ERT to process the scene of the animal shooting. There were no photographs, video, or sketches made of the scene at the time of the shooting.

Recommendation 1: SAC, Little Rock should ensure Agent-involved shooting scenes are processed by an FBI Evidence Response Team where possible.

4. Provide recommendations for administrative action if deemed necessary. The SIRG recommended no administrative action be taken against SA [redacted] as a result of his involvement in this shooting incident. b6 b7C

Enclosure(s): Enclosed are the following items:
1. (U//FOUO) Shooting Report dated 01/08/2014

Details:

(U//FOUO) On 02/21/2014, the SIRG convened to review a shooting incident which occurred on 11/22/2013, involving Dallas Field Office (DL) Special Agent (SA) [redacted] On 11/22/2013, at approximately 6:00 PM, SA [redacted] returned to his residence following work and walked b6 b7C to retrieve his mail at the neighborhood community mailbox. While returning to his residence, an American Bulldog appeared at SA [redacted] side. The dog growled and attempted to bite SA [redacted] Despite efforts to separate himself, the dog appeared to be preparing to attack. SA [redacted] fired two rounds from his personally owned Glock 27 handgun, striking the dog twice. The dog was later euthanized by the owners. The owners stated the dog had escaped from its yard and later described the dog as territorial. b6 b7C

(U//FOUO) On 02/21/2014, the SIRG reviewed the Agent-involved shooting incident with the intent to:

1. Evaluate the application of deadly force. The SIRG unanimously determined the application of deadly force by SA [redacted] on 11/22/2013 was in compliance with the Department of Justice's Deadly Force Policy. b6 b7C

2. Provide the Director with an evaluative analysis, observations, and recommendations for corrective action from an operational standpoint. The SIRG made no recommendations or observations concerning the operational techniques used by SA [redacted] during this shooting incident. b6 b7C

3. Provide recommendations concerning training and or/safety issues. The SIRG made the following observations regarding post-shooting incident response protocols:

Observation 1: Dallas dispatched no investigative personnel to the scene of the November 22, 2013 animal shooting involving SA [redacted] b6 b7C

Analysis 1: The Inspection Division's Shooting Incident Guide delineates field office response to Agent-involved shooting incidents (AIS). Per the Shooting Incident Guide, Section VIII - E, Field Office Response, the SAC, in the event of an AIS, is responsible for identifying and dispatching an FBI On-Scene Commander (OSC) and the Chief Division Counsel (CDC) or Assistant Chief Division to the scene (A/CDC). CDCs are trained to advise Agents of the shooting incident review process and to assist in seeking emergency legal interim legal representation, as appropriate. The SAC should also deploy the Evidence Response Team (ERT) and any additional supporting personnel to the scene as appropriate. "Minimally, ensure there is FBI ERT involvement at every shooting scene, to include a strong preference for the FBI to have the lead responsibility in shootings involving only FBI Agents."

Per the Shooting Incident Guide, Section VIII - D, Field Office Response, the OSC is responsible for identifying himself/herself as the senior FBI official on scene as well as requesting additional resources as needed. The OSC shall also preserve the incident scene in its entirety to the extent possible, and ensure discussions with the Agent Shooter are limited to his or her welfare, whether or not the scene is secure, and the status of all subjects.

While there is a distinction between the level of response logically sufficient for an off-duty, Agent-involved animal shooting, in which no injuries were incurred versus an operational Agent-involved shooting, there must be an appropriate level of response by the FBI to any Agent-involved shooting. At a minimum, a reasonable interpretation of the Shooting Incident Guide would have called for an SSA, or an SAC, Dallas designee, to respond to the scene of the incident, in order to ensure investigative requirements were addressed. Further, a Dallas field office representative, other than the Agent involved in the shooting, should be dispatched to ensure assistance and support is made available to the involved Agent.

Instruction 1: SAC, Dallas will ensure appropriate investigative personnel respond to the scene of all Agent involved shooting incidents.

Observation 2: Dallas did not collect the Glock 27 handgun, ammunition, and magazines used in the shooting incident until November 25, 2013.

Analysis 2: The Inspection Division's Shooting Incident Guide delineates field office response to AIS. Per the Shooting Incident Guide, Section VIII - E, Field Office Response, the SAC, in the event of an AIS, will "Make provisions for the collection of weapons, magazines, and ammunition from involved Agents, and the issuance of replacement weapons and ammunition."

SA [redacted] was involved in an Agent-involved shooting at approximately 6:00 PM on Friday, 11/22/2013. No Dallas Field Office personnel responded to the scene. The Glock 27 handgun, ammunition, and magazine were not collected by Dallas Field Office personnel until Monday, November 25, 2013. Appropriate response by Dallas Field Office personnel would have ensured timely collection of the weapon, ammunition, and magazine used in the shooting incident. b6 b7C

Instruction 2: SAC, Dallas will ensure provisions are in place for the prompt collection of weapons and ammunition by FBI personnel from Agents in all Agent involved shooting incidents.

4. Provide recommendations for administrative action if deemed necessary. The SIRG recommended no administrative action be taken against SA [redacted] as a result of his involvement in this shooting incident.

Administrative Notes: (U) Reference FD-1085 submitted electronically by SSA [redacted] dated 12/10/2013. Reference accidental discharge report by SSA [redacted] on 1/8/2014. b6 b7C

Details:

On 1/16/2014, the SIRG reviewed an accidental discharge that occurred on 12/9/2013, involving Special Agent [redacted] Los Angeles Field Office. In preparation for an operation the next day, SA [redacted] was conducting a safety check of his MP5 while at his residence. After SA [redacted] determined the weapon was safe and empty, he inserted a loaded magazine in the weapon and move the slide forward. The slide moved forward slowly and appeared to malfunction. SA [redacted] released the magazine, pulled the slide back, but failed to eject the round from the chamber. SA [redacted] racked the slide several time but did not eject the b6 b7C round. SA [redacted] pointed the weapon at his mattress and pulled the trigger three times and did not hear a click. SA [redacted] pulled the trigger a fourth time and fired one round into his mattress. b6 b7C

SIRG Observations

On 1/16/2014, the SIRG reviewed the Agent-involved shooting incident with the intent to:

1. Evaluate the application of deadly force. The SIRG determined this incident was not a deadly force issue.

2. Provide the Director with an evaluative analysis, observations, and recommendations for corrective actions from an operational standpoint. The SIRG made no recommendations or observations concerning the operational techniques used by SA [redacted] during this shooting incident. b6 b7C

3. Provide recommendations concerning training and/or safety issues. The SIRG made the following observations requesting additional training.

Observation 1:

SA [redacted] suffered an accidental discharge while conducting a safety check on his MP5 weapon. b6 b7C

Analysis 1:

During a safety check, SA [redacted] failed to eject a round from his MP5 after several attempts. SA [redacted] tested the weapon three times by pulling the trigger with no results, yet on the fourth attempt, the weapon fired one round. b6 b7C

Recommendation 1: ADIC, Los Angeles will ensure SA [redacted] attends remedial firearms training. b6 b7C

Observation 2: ADIC, Los Angeles failed to notify Inspection Division

Title: SHOOTING INCIDENT
MILWAUKEE DIVISION
02/03/2011

Synopsis: The Shooting Incident Review Group (SIRG) reviewed a shooting incident that occurred on 02/03/2011, involving Special Agent (SA) [redacted] of the Milwaukee Division. While conducting a vehicle stop, SA [redacted] fired one round from his Bureau-issued Glock Model 22, .40 caliber pistol, striking the non-complaint subject in the right thumb. SIRG members unanimously recommended that no administrative action be taken against SA [redacted] as a result of his involvement in this shooting incident.

Administrative: Reference report of former Inspector April D. Brooks, dated 07/18/2011.

Details: This communication was prepared to furnish the analysis, comments, and recommendations of the SIRG with reference to the captioned shooting.

Details of the Shooting Incident

On 02/03/2011, at 8:39 a.m., SA [redacted] telephonically requested the assistance of SA [redacted] with the surveillance and eventual arrest of [redacted], the subject of an arrest warrant for a state drug offense. SA [redacted] met with SA [redacted] and Milwaukee Police Department (MPD) Task Force Officer (TFO) [redacted] who were all members of the High Intensity Drug Trafficking Area/Drug Task Force (HIDTA). The Agents and TFO planned to conduct a "traffic stop" to arrest Although no written Operations Plan existed, the participants decided TFO would initiate the stop of the subject's vehicle, and SA would "box in" the vehicle from the front to prevent the subject's escape.

At approximately 9:15 a.m., on 02/03/2011, SAs and along with TFO initiated a surveillance of at a residence in Wisconsin. At approximately 12:00 p.m., SA observed the subject exit his residence and enter a green minivan. As the three law enforcement vehicles followed the subject, TFO radioed the Agents that he observed lean over toward the right side floor board of his vehicle causing SA to believe he was hiding drugs or reaching for a weapon.

TFO activated his emergency lights and immediately pulled over to the right side of the street. TFO pulled within approximately eight feet behind minivan and SA vehicle was approximately eight feet behind SA pulled in front of the subject vehicle to prevent his escape, quickly exited, and walked toward TFO SA exited his vehicle and took a position near the rear left corner of his vehicle. As SA walked toward the front of the subject vehicle with his weapon drawn, he shouted, "Police, shut off the vehicle, hands, hands." TFO ordered to exit his vehicle several times; however, refused to comply. TFO advised he was under arrest. SA heard TFO shouting commands for to exit the vehicle, and the subject reply, "No I'm not going to get out," and saw rolling up his window.

abruptly shifted his vehicle into reverse, shifted into drive, and aggressively proceeded forward toward SA As the subject vehicle approached closer, SA braced himself against the hood with his left hand as the front right bumper hit his right shin and slightly spun him. SA planted his feet and fired one round which penetrated the glass of the front passenger side window. fled the scene.

Law enforcement personnel briefly pursued however, lost sight of him in traffic. The pursuit was discontinued and the three law enforcement officers returned to secure the scene. SA and TFO notified their FBI and HIDTA supervisors of the shooting incident by cell phone.

Within hours, [redacted] was arrested by an FBI Agent and MPD officers assigned to the HIDTA Task Force. Investigators determined SA [redacted] discharged round struck [redacted] right thumb.

On 04/20/2011, [redacted] Milwaukee County District Attorney, opined SA [redacted] "responded to a lethal threat with an appropriate and justifiable use of force, and that the use of force was privileged as self defense and defense of others."

On 05/18/2011, [redacted] United States Department of Justice, Civil Rights Division, advised the facts do not warrant a federal investigation as a potential willful use of unreasonable deadly force.

On 05/22/2012, the SIRG met to discuss the above-captioned shooting incident. Deputy Assistant Director Cory B. Nelson, Inspection Division (INSD), chaired the meeting and was a non-voting member. The following voting members were in attendance: [redacted] Trial Attorney, Civil Rights Division, USDOJ; [redacted] Trial Attorney, Criminal Division, USDOJ; Section Chief (SC) [redacted] Violent Criminal Threat Section, Criminal Investigative Division; Unit Chief (UC) [redacted] Practical Applications Unit (PAU), Training Division (TD); UC [redacted] Firearms Training Unit, TD; UC [redacted] Special Weapons and Tactics Operations Unit, Critical Incident Response Group; UC [redacted] Defensive Systems Unit, TD; UC [redacted] Investigative Law Unit, Office of General Counsel (OGC); SSA [redacted] Evidence Response Team Unit, Laboratory Division (LD); and SSA [redacted] CR-2, Washington Field Office. The following non-voting members were also in attendance: Inspectors Robert J. Shields, Jr., and Deirdre L. Observations and Recommendations of the SIRG

concerning training and/or safety issues; and (4) provide recommendations for administrative action if deemed necessary.

SIRG members unanimously agreed that the use of deadly force by SA [redacted] was justified and in conformance with the FBI's deadly force policy. This discussion resulted in the recommendation that no administrative action be taken against SA [redacted] as a result of his involvement in this shooting incident.

SIRG members unanimously adopted the following observations made by the Shooting Incident Review Team:

SA [redacted] did not prepare a written operations plan for the surveillance and arrest of the subject.

A written operations plan was not prepared for the surveillance and arrest of the subject, who had a conviction for carrying a concealed weapon [redacted] The plan was finalized and verbally briefed within an approximated 36 to 51 minute window from the time SA [redacted] contacted SA [redacted] on 02/03/2011, at 8:39 a.m., to request his participation in the operation, and the initiation of surveillance at the subject's residence between 9:15-9:30 a.m. There were no exigent circumstances which precluded appropriate preparation of an operation plan.

Corporate Policy Notice 0242N, Requirement for Written Operations Order - Field Operations, dated 07/15/2010, states, in part:

> 8. Policy Statement:
> 8.1 The necessity to have clear, concise, and complete operational plans, in the form of operations orders, is essential to successful arrest and search operations and any other activity in which the practical application of firearms might be reasonably anticipated. Operations orders are the vehicle through which the Case Agent's and/or On-Scene Commander's strategy is reduced to a tactical directive. Their most important function is to ensure success. By standardizing format, the chance for omission of essential data is eliminated thus providing subordinate elements with the complete picture for mission completion.

8.2 Written Operations Orders: Absent exigent circumstances, written operations orders will be prepared prior to conducting arrest and search operations and any other activity in which the practical application of firearms might be reasonably anticipated.

8.3 Exigent Circumstances: Exigent circumstances may necessitate an oral briefing in lieu of the written operations order.

13. Definitions:

13.1 Exigent circumstances: Generally, an emergency, a pressing necessity requiring immediate action.

9. Roles and Responsibilities:
9.1. Case Agent
9.1.1 Responsible for preparing the operations order
9.1.2 Responsible for briefing the operations order

9.2. Substantive Squad Supervisor
9.2.1 GS-14 Supervisory Special Agent responsible for reviewing the operations order

OBSERVATION #3:

SA [redacted] did not wear his issued ballistic vest during the operation as mandated by Bureau policy.

After the initial stop of [redacted] vehicle by TFO [redacted] and SA [redacted] maneuvering to block [redacted] vehicle, SA [redacted] stopped approximately eight feet behind TFO [redacted] vehicle. SA [redacted] exited his vehicle, took a position near the rear left corner of his own vehicle and remained there until [redacted] fled the scene. SA [redacted] was not wearing his ballistic vest; the vest remained on the front seat of SA [redacted] vehicle. [redacted] had a conviction for carrying a concealed weapon and made movements while being stopped, which caused TFO [redacted] to believe he may have been reaching for a weapon. TFO [redacted] immediately announced [redacted] movement on the HIDTA radio to all participants.

Synopsis: The Shooting Incident Review Group (SIRG) reviewed a shooting incident that occurred on 02/08/2011, involving Special Agent (SA) [redacted] of the Indianapolis Division. While conducting an interview, SA [redacted] fired two rounds from his Glock Model 23, .40 caliber pistol, killing a subject who refused to obey law enforcement commands and was turning toward SA [redacted] with a weapon in his hand. SIRG members unanimously recommended that no administrative action be taken against SA [redacted] as a result of his involvement in this shooting incident.

Administrative: Reference report of former Inspector Michael J. Erbach, dated 02/25/2011.

Details: This communication was prepared to furnish the analysis, comments, and recommendations of the SIRG with reference to the captioned shooting.

Details of the Shooting Incident

FBI SAs and Task Force Officers (TFOs) from the Little Rock and Indianapolis Divisions were conducting an investigation involving the production and distribution of child pornography by an unknown subject. The three Indianapolis Division TFOs consisted of detectives from the Kokomo and Brownsburg, Indiana, Police Departments who were assigned to an Internet Crimes Against Children (ICAC) Task Force sponsored by the United States Attorney in the Southern District of Indiana.

Investigation identified an Internet Protocol (IP) address used to distribute child pornography belonging to an individual named [redacted] Arkansas.

On 02/07/2011, SAs [redacted] and [redacted] of the Indianapolis Division, along with Detectives [redacted] and [redacted] arrived at the Jonesboro, Arkansas Resident Agency (JRA) for a briefing regarding a search warrant which was planned for the morning of 02/08/2011. Also present at the briefing were Little Rock Division SAs [redacted] Supervisory Senior Resident Agent (SSRA) [redacted] an officer from the Arkansas State Police, and an FBI photographer.

On the morning of 02/08/2011, the Indianapolis SAs and TFOs met with Little Rock personnel at the JRA and drove to a gas station where SSRA [redacted] again briefed the operations order including the FBI's Deadly Force Policy. At the conclusion of the briefing, all of the participants proceeded to [redacted] residence. Upon their arrival, it was determined that [redacted] was inside his residence with [redacted] SA [redacted] and Detective [redacted] interviewed [redacted] while SA [redacted] and Detective [redacted] Other members of the search team began searching the residence for evidence of child pornography and an I-Phone which was believed to have been used to access the internet connection at the residence. b6 b7C

Through interviews of the residents, information was developed indicating Brandon Fountain, who lived [redacted] may be the unknown subject involved in the production and distribution of child pornography. Based on this information, team members decided to attempt a knock and talk interview with Brandon Fountain.

At approximately 12:00 p.m., Detectives [redacted] and [redacted] observed Fountain enter his driveway. Approximately one hour later, law enforcement personnel observed Fountain exiting his residence and entering a vehicle. SA [redacted] and Detective [redacted] approached Fountain as he was leaving and introduced themselves. Fountain invited them inside his residence, closed the door, and invited them to sit at a kitchen table. As they sat down, Fountain was asked if he had any weapons in the house at which time he removed a pocket knife from his front pocket and placed it on the table. He also told them there was a ".45" in the top drawer of his dresser and a ".22" in the bedroom across from the bathroom. At that time Detective [redacted] entered the residence and remained standing near the door. SA [redacted] and Detective [redacted] informed Fountain they wanted to talk about some strange internet activity in the neighborhood. During the interview, Fountain made statements consistent with the information the unknown subject had posted on the Internet.

At one point during the interview, Fountain attempted to move to his back bedroom to show law enforcement officers the location of his computer. TFO [redacted] asked Fountain to return to the kitchen table. At approximately 1:22 p.m., SA [redacted] stepped outside to contact AUSA [redacted] to inform him of the information obtained from Fountain. [redacted] advised SA [redacted] that he would begin working on a complaint and also authorized the arrest of Fountain and advised he was preparing a search warrant application for Fountain's residence. SA [redacted] entered Fountain's residence to watch Fountain while SA [redacted] and TFO [redacted] conferred outside.

SA [redacted] and TFO [redacted] re-entered the residence to resume the interview. TFO [redacted] verbally advised Fountain of his rights at which time Fountain waived his rights and signed the Advice of Rights Form. Fountain continued to be cooperative and compliant, and was permitted to get water from his refrigerator several times. SA [redacted] subsequently asked Fountain to bring the water to the table and to stop getting up. A short time later Fountain's telephone rang. He had a short conversation and advised the caller he was being interviewed by the "police."

When TFO [redacted] informed Fountain a search warrant was being obtained for his residence, Fountain confessed to taking photographs of three children with whom he had contact while his girlfriend was babysitting. As Fountain stated he would consent to a search, TFO [redacted] produced a Consent to Search Form, and began explaining it to him. Fountain stated he needed to use the restroom and SA [redacted] agreed to accompany him. As Fountain moved to the restroom, he suddenly ran down the hall and entered the back bedroom with SA [redacted] and TFO [redacted] in pursuit. Fountain slammed the bedroom door behind him with SA [redacted] pursuing and giving verbal commands for him to stop. SA [redacted] opened and entered the bedroom door as Fountain was removing a handgun from a night stand drawer. After repeating verbal commands for Fountain to put his hands up, and while Fountain was turning toward him with the firearm in his hands, SA [redacted] fired two rounds striking Fountain in the rear center torso. Fountain immediately fell to the floor.

TFO [redacted] entered the bedroom just prior to the shooting and upon hearing the commotion from the outside, FBI SAs

[redacted] and [redacted] as well as Arkansas State Police SA [redacted] entered the residence arriving in the bedroom immediately after the shooting. Law enforcement personnel continued to give verbal commands for Fountain to stop moving to which he verbally responded and complied. TFO [redacted] disarmed the subject and SA [redacted] handcuffed him. TFO [redacted] removed a .45 caliber Patriot, semiautomatic handgun and two loaded magazines from the subject.

Emergency medical assistance was requested. The EMTs treated the subject at the scene and advised SA [redacted] the subject was not going to survive. Fountain was transported to the South Mississippi County (SMC) Regional Medical Center in Osceola and airlifted to the SMC Regional Medical Center in Memphis, Tennessee, where he was pronounced dead.

On 06/21/2011, [redacted] District Prosecuting Attorney, Second Judicial District of Arkansas, advised his office reviewed the case and concluded SA [redacted] was justified in using deadly force and that no further review of this matter was necessary.

On 06/30/2011, [redacted] US Department of Justice, Civil Rights Division, advised the matter did not warrant a federal criminal investigation into whether there was a violation of the criminal civil rights statutes.

b7C

On 05/22/2012, the SIRG met to discuss the above-captioned shooting incident. Deputy Assistant Director Cory B. Nelson, Inspection Division (INSD), chaired the meeting and was a non-voting member. The following voting members were in attendance: [redacted] Trial Attorney, Civil Rights Division, USDOJ; [redacted] Trial Attorney, Criminal Division, USDOJ; Section Chief (SC) [redacted] Violent Criminal Threat Section, Criminal Investigative Division; Unit Chief (UC) [redacted] Practical Applications Unit (PAU), Training Division (TD); UC [redacted] Firearms Training Unit, TD; UC [redacted] Special Weapons and Tactics Operations Unit, Critical Incident Response Group; UC [redacted] Defensive Systems Unit, TD; UC [redacted] Investigative Law Unit, Office of General Counsel (OGC); SSA [redacted] Evidence Response Team Unit, Laboratory Division (LD); and SSA [redacted], CR-2, Washington Field Office. The following non-voting members were also in attendance: Inspectors Robert J. Shields, Jr., and Deirdre L. Fike, Office of Inspections (OI), INSD; Special Assistant [redacted] INSD; Team Leader [redacted], OI, INSD; SSA [redacted] PAU, TD; Management and Program Analysts (MPAs)

[redacted] and [redacted] Inspection Management Unit (IMU), Strategic Analysis Section (SAS), INSD.

Observations and Recommendations of the SIRG

The SIRG reviewed the above synopsized incident with the intent to: (1) evaluate the application of deadly force; (2) provide the Director with an evaluative analysis, observations, and recommendations for corrective actions from an operational standpoint (if any); (3) provide recommendations concerning training and/or safety issues; and (4) provide recommendations for administrative action if deemed necessary.

SIRG members unanimously agreed that the use of deadly force by SA [redacted] was justified and in conformance with the FBI's deadly force policy. This discussion resulted in the recommendation that no administrative action be taken against SA [redacted] as a result of his involvement in this shooting incident.

SIRG members unanimously adopted the following observations, instruction, and recommendations made by the Shooting Incident Review Team:

OBSERVATION #1:

FBI personnel were not wearing body armor when the shooting occurred. Although personnel wore body armor at the original search location, all personnel removed their body armor when the site was deemed secure. The investigation proceeded to a second location where the shooting occurred. FBI Policy regarding the wearing of body armor, MIOG, Part 2, 12-13.1(1) states: "Wearing of body armor by SA personnel is mandatory during planned arrests, execution of search warrants and surveillances which can reasonably be expected to culminate in a confrontation with armed and dangerous subject(s)."

Instruction #1: That SAC, Indianapolis and SAC, Little Rock ensure personnel are directed to wear body armor throughout the course of search/arrest operations.

OBSERVATION #2:

The three TFOs participating in the operations were members of the ICAC Task Force in the Indianapolis Division's Area of Responsibility. They were incorporated in the operations order for the execution of the search warrant under the supervision of an FBI SSRA. Unknown to both the Indianapolis and

Little Rock Divisions, the ICAC TFOs were not deputized, and therefore did not have Federal Law Enforcement Officer status. A Memorandum of Understanding (MOU) was not in place between the Indianapolis Division and the ICAC Task Force.

Recommendation #2a: That SAC, Indianapolis ensure an MOU is established between the Indianapolis Division and the ICAC Task Force documenting roles and responsibilities when conducting joint investigations.

Recommendation #2b: That SAC, Indianapolis ensure Indianapolis ICAC Task Force personnel participating in FBI operations are deputized as Federal Law Enforcement Officers prior to their participation in FBI and federal tactical operations.

These observations will be brought to the attention of the SACs of the Little Rock and Indianapolis Divisions with accompanying Instruction/Recommendations.

Synopsis: The Shooting Incident Review Group (SIRG) reviewed a shooting incident that occurred on 06/11/2011, involving Special Agent (SA) [redacted] of the Chicago Division. After removing his Bureau-issued Glock Model 23, .40 caliber pistol from its holster, SA [redacted] slipped and accidentally discharged one round, injuring his toe. SIRG members recommended that SA [redacted] be censured, suspended from duty for a period of three days, and receive documented remedial firearms training in regard to this shooting incident.

Administrative: Reference Electronic Communication of Supervisory Special Agent (SSA) [redacted] dated 07/26/2011.

Details: This communication was prepared to furnish the analysis, comments, and recommendations of the SIRG with reference to the captioned shooting.

Details of the Shooting Incident

On 06/11/2011, after concluding a breakfast meeting with another Agent of the Chicago Division and a Confidential Human Source, SA [redacted] drove to the Chicago office. After leaving his personal property at his desk, SA [redacted] proceeded to the men's restroom and removed his pistol from the holster on his right hip to place it on the back of the commode. After removing the gun from the holster, SA [redacted] slipped causing one round to discharge from the weapon. The expended round grazed SA [redacted] big toe and entered the restroom floor.

SA [redacted] immediately contacted Chicago Division management to advise of the incident. SA [redacted] drove himself to Rush University Medical Center, identified himself to the staff, and explained the circumstances of his injury. SA [redacted] toe was sutured by medical personnel and he was released the same day.

On 05/22/2012, the SIRG met to discuss the above-captioned shooting incident. Deputy Assistant Director Cory B. Nelson, Inspection Division (INSD), chaired the meeting and was a non-voting member. One of the officers radioed Officer [redacted] who was assigned to site patrol, advised him of the situation, and requested that he attempt to locate the wounded deer. After locating the animal, Officer [redacted] determined the injuries were so severe the deer would have to be eliminated. Ensuring no vehicles were approaching, Officer [redacted] fired one round into the deer's shoulder, killing the injured animal. Officer [redacted] contacted his supervisor and advised him of the situation.

On 05/22/2012, the SIRG met to discuss the above-captioned shooting incident. Deputy Assistant Director Cory B. Nelson, Inspection Division (INSD), chaired the meeting and was a non-voting member. The following voting members were in attendance: [redacted] Trial Attorney, Civil Rights Division, USDOJ; [redacted], Trial Attorney, Criminal Division, USDOJ; Section Chief (SC) [redacted] Violent Criminal Threat Section, Criminal Investigative Division; Unit Chief (UC) [redacted] Practical Applications Unit (PAU), Training Division (TD); UC [redacted] Firearms Training Unit, TD; UC [redacted] Special Weapons and Tactics Operations Unit, Critical Incident Response Group; UC [redacted] Defensive Systems Unit, TD; UC [redacted] Investigative Law Unit, Office of General Counsel (OGC); SSA [redacted] Evidence Response Team Unit, Laboratory Division (LD); and SSA [redacted] CR-2, Washington Field Office. Observations and Recommendations of the SIRG

The SIRG reviewed the above synopsized incident with the intent to: (1) evaluate the application of deadly force; (2) provide the Director with an evaluative analysis, observations, and recommendations for corrective actions from an operational standpoint (if any); (3) provide recommendations concerning training and/or safety issues; and (4) provide recommendations for administrative action if deemed necessary.

SIRG members unanimously agreed that the use of deadly force by Police Officer [redacted] was justified and in conformance with the FBI's deadly force policy. This discussion resulted in the recommendation that no administrative action be taken against Officer [redacted] as a result of his involvement in this shooting incident.

MIAMI DIVISION
08/18/2011

Synopsis: The Shooting Incident Review Group (SIRG) reviewed a shooting incident that occurred on 08/18/2011, involving Special Agent (SA) [redacted] of the Miami Division. While preparing for an arrest, SA [redacted] accidentally discharged one round from his Bureau-issued Remington 12 gauge shotgun. SIRG members recommended that SA [redacted] be censured, suspended from duty for a period of three days, and receive documented remedial firearms training in regard to this shooting incident.

Administrative: Reference Electronic Communication of Supervisory Special Agent (SSA) [redacted] dated 09/12/2011.

Details: This communication was prepared to furnish the analysis, comments, and recommendations of the SIRG with reference to the captioned shooting.

On 08/18/2011, at approximately 4:00 a.m., SA [redacted] met Miami Division SA [redacted] and Task Force Officer (TFO) [redacted] at a parking garage used by West Palm Beach Resident Agency (WPBRA) personnel. The SAs and TFO [redacted] were preparing for a joint arrest operation and were gearing up and preparing their weapons for the arrest before proceeding to the Customs and Border Protection office in West Palm Beach.

SA [redacted] pulled his shotgun from the trunk of his vehicle, visually cleared the weapon, installed a sling, and loaded the shotgun with four slugs. SA [redacted] racked the shotgun, loaded a fifth slug, and was going to place the gun inside its case. As SA [redacted] moved the shotgun to the case, one round accidentally discharged.

Although he was unsure of how the accidental discharge occurred, SA [redacted] speculated he was trying to determine if the safety was on when his finger must have went inside the trigger guard, accidentally depressing the trigger.

SA [redacted] and TFO [redacted] heard a loud bang and saw SA [redacted] holding the shotgun. After determining SA [redacted] was not injured, SA [redacted] took the weapon and unloaded the remaining rounds. As they began to look for the expended round, SA [redacted] passed out and collapsed. After SA [redacted] provided assistance to SA [redacted] and determined emergency medical services were not needed, he notified division management of the incident. The expended round was subsequently located in the ceiling of the parking garage.

No personal injuries nor property damage were incurred as a result of SA [redacted] accidental discharge.

On 05/22/2012, the SIRG met to discuss the above-captioned shooting incident. Deputy Assistant Director Cory B. Nelson, Inspection Division (INSD), chaired the meeting and was a non-voting member. Synopsis: The Shooting Incident Review Group (SIRG) reviewed a shooting incident that occurred on 09/07/2011, involving Special Agent (SA) [redacted] of the Miami Division. While conducting dry firing exercises inside his residence, SA [redacted] accidentally discharged one round from his Bureau-issued Glock Model 22, .40 caliber pistol. SIRG members recommended that SA [redacted] be censured, suspended from duty for a period of three days, and receive documented remedial firearms training in regard to this shooting incident.

Administrative: Reference Electronic Communication of Supervisory Special Agent (SSA) [redacted] dated 09/21/2011.

Details: This communication was prepared to furnish the analysis, comments, and recommendations of the SIRG with reference to the captioned shooting.

On the night of 09/07/2011, SA [redacted] was conducting dry firing exercises inside his residence. Due to receiving low qualifying scores on his official firearms qualifications and based on the recommendation of Miami Division Firearms Instructors, SA [redacted] was dry firing to improve his trigger control and hand grip.

In preparation of conducting the dry firing exercise, SA [redacted] unloaded the pistol and ejected the round in the chamber, ensuring the weapon was safe and empty. He dry fired the pistol for approximately five to ten minutes before inserting the magazine into the weapon and releasing the slide forward to place a round in the chamber. As he was preparing to place the gun inside a fanny pack, SA [redacted] decided to feel the difference in the weight of a fully loaded pistol versus an empty one. As he aimed the loaded weapon at the bathroom wall, while concentrating on his grip pressure, one round discharged entering the bathroom wall and exiting to the outside of the residence. Ensuring no personal injuries nor additional property damage were sustained as a result of the discharge, SA [redacted] telephonically contacted his immediate supervisor and reported the incident.

According to SA [redacted] both of his hands were firmly on the weapon at the time of the discharge; however, he could not recall if his finger was on the trigger when the incident occurred. b6 b7C

Synopsis: The Shooting Incident Review Group (SIRG) reviewed a shooting incident that occurred on 10/11/2011, involving Special Agents (SAs) [redacted] and [redacted] of the Norfolk Division. During the execution of an arrest warrant in the Little Rock Division area of responsibility, both Agents returned fire at a subject who fired eight rounds toward law enforcement personnel from inside his residence. SIRG members unanimously recommended that no administrative action be taken against SAs [redacted] and [redacted] as a result of their involvement in this shooting incident.

Administrative: Reference report of Inspector Robert J. Shields, Jr., dated 10/18/2011.

Details: This communication was prepared to furnish the analysis, comments, and recommendations of the SIRG with reference to the captioned shooting.

Details of the Shooting Incident

On 10/11/2011, the Little Rock Division, Arkansas State Police (ASP), 33 FBI Special Weapons and Tactics (SWAT) teams, as well as the ASP SWAT team, conducted "Operation Delta Blues." The purpose of the operation was to serve arrest warrants on 70

subjects who were indicted on federal public corruption, narcotics, and weapon charges.

Multiple briefings were held on 10/06/2011, 10/07/2011, and 10/09/2011, with SWAT Senior Team Leaders (STLs), Assistant Team Leaders (ATLs), and Executive Management of the Little Rock and Louisville Divisions. The briefings included discussion of the targets, time lines, basic SWAT operations, and an overview of the operation.

On 10/10/2011, each SWAT STL was given 20 minutes to present an operations plan to Deputy On-Scene Commander (DOSC) [redacted] and Supervisory Special Agent (SSA) [redacted] Special Operations Unit, Critical Incident Response Group (CIRG), for final approval.

For the phase one Norfolk SWAT target, a "knock and announce" was planned, although a "no knock warrant" was approved. If the subjects [redacted] and [redacted] were noncompliant, a ram would be used to breach the door, followed by a flash bang, and the Norfolk SWAT team entry. Upon approval, STL [redacted] briefed the plan to Norfolk SWAT team, Evidence Response Team (ERT), Arkansas State Police, and Drug Enforcement Agency personnel assigned to the phase one Hillcrest Street location. Case Agent [redacted] was present at the briefing and provided background information. Based on information provided by SA [redacted] if [redacted] Black Mercedes was not at the [redacted] address, it was assumed [redacted] and her two children were not at the residence. During the briefing personnel assignments, vehicle deployment/staging locations, individual safety/tactical equipment requirements, and the FBI Deadly Force Policy were reviewed. During the briefing, the ERT vehicles were advised to stay out of sight of the target house until the scene was cleared by the STL and they were requested via radio. Rehearsals of the entire operation were performed using an outline of the target house painted in the grass.

On 10/11/2011, at approximately 1:00 a.m., the Norfolk SWAT team reported to a specified location at the Memphis International Airport, where required SWAT equipment was inspected and loaded into two vehicles. Communication checks were performed, including a check with the Memphis Division ERT assigned to execute a search at the arrest location. All SWAT and ERT personnel reported to the staging area outside of Marianna, Arkansas. At approximately 4:00 a.m., the execute command was received and the vehicles proceeded to their target locations.

The four-vehicle team approached the target house located on Hillcrest Street, with two ERT vehicles holding a position on Pearl Street. All SWAT personnel exited the vehicles and assumed their assigned positions. Two rear cover team operators reported lights on in the basement. The seven remaining entry team members were stacked along the walkway in front of the house.

The breaching team of Operators [redacted] and [redacted] approached the front door and positioned themselves to the right of the door. Operator [redacted] with a ballistic shield, moved to a position on the front lawn approximately ten feet in front of the front door with Operator [redacted] directly behind him. Operator [redacted] knocked loudly on the door with his baton and announced, "FBI warrant, come to the door" three times. As planned, two other participants activated their vehicle emergency lights to indicate a police presence at the house. Receiving no response from inside, STL [redacted] gave the breach command followed by the breaching of the door with one swing of a single-person ram while Operator [redacted] applied pressure to the lower right side of the door with his left foot.

Simultaneous to the door being breached, eight gunshots were rapidly fired from inside the residence toward the SWAT team. Operator [redacted] returned fire with three shots from his M4. In accordance with the operational plan, a flash bang was thrown into the house through the open front door. STL [redacted] gave the recall order to the team directing members to obtain a position of cover. Multiple SWAT Operators were shouting "shots fired" over the radio. As Operator [redacted] was backing down the front lawn with the light from his M4 directed at the window immediately to the left of the front door, he saw an arm with a weapon in the hand slide the curtains from left to right. [redacted] fired two shots from his M4 at the arm.

As STL [redacted] gave the command to "cover and hold" to the team, Operator [redacted] called out on the radio he was shot. STL [redacted] moved to [redacted] location and provided immediate medical treatment until the arrival of medical personnel. Paramedics assumed care of [redacted] who was subsequently transported by helicopter to the Elvis Presley Memorial Trauma Center in Memphis, Tennessee.

Team members called the subjects out of the house. [redacted] exited first and was taken into custody. She advised law enforcement personnel there were children inside. Approximately three minutes later, [redacted] exited the residence and was arrested.

As participants were clearing the first floor of the residence, Operator [redacted] heard children's voices and instructed the children to approach. Law enforcement personnel maintained custody of the two young children.

On 10/11/2011, [redacted] US Department of Justice, Civil Rights Division, advised no investigation was warranted as no one other than SA [redacted] was injured during the incident.

On 05/22/2012, the SIRG met to discuss the above-captioned shooting incident. Deputy Assistant Director Cory B. Nelson, Inspection Division (INSD), chaired the meeting and was a non-voting member. The following voting members were in attendance: [redacted] Trial Attorney, Civil Rights Division, USDOJ; [redacted] Trial Attorney, Criminal Division, USDOJ; Section Chief (SC) [redacted] Violent Criminal Threat Section, Criminal Investigative Division; Unit Chief (UC) [redacted] Practical Applications Unit (PAU), Training Division (TD); UC [redacted] Firearms Training Unit, TD; UC [redacted] Special Weapons and Tactics Operations Unit, Critical Incident Response Group; UC [redacted] Defensive Systems Unit, TD; UC [redacted] Investigative Law Unit, Office of General Counsel (OGC); SSA [redacted] Evidence Response Team Unit, Laboratory Division (LD); and SSA [redacted] CR-2, Washington Field Office. The SIRG reviewed the above synopsized incident with the intent to: (1) evaluate the application of deadly force; (2) provide the Director with an evaluative analysis, observations, and recommendations for corrective actions from an operational standpoint (if any); (3) provide recommendations concerning training and/or safety issues; and (4) provide recommendations for administrative action if deemed necessary.

SIRG members unanimously agreed that the use of deadly force by SAs [redacted] and [redacted] was justified and in conformance with the FBI's deadly force policy. This discussion resulted in the recommendation that no administrative action be taken against SAs [redacted] and [redacted] as a result of their involvement in this shooting incident.

SIRG members unanimously adopted the following observations, instruction, and recommendations made by the Shooting Incident Review Team:

OBSERVATION #1:

OBSERVATION #2:

The FBI-trained breaching procedure of applying positive pressure or tension on a door to facilitate ramming was not documented in a training manual.

Recommendation #2a: That AD, CIRG ensure the SOU re-evaluates the use of positive pressure when ramming is used to breach a door to determine if the risk of exposing a body part outweighs the improved success of the breach when tension is applied.

Recommendation #2b: That AD, CIRG ensure the SOU documents the use of positive pressure when ramming is used to breach a door if the continued use of this practice is determined.

These observations will be brought to the attention of the AD of the CIRG with accompanying Instruction/Recommendations.

Synopsis: The Shooting Incident Review Group (SIRG) reviewed a shooting incident that occurred on 10/21/2011, involving Special Agent (SA) [redacted] of the Los Angeles Field Office. While performing a function check of her Bureau-issued Glock Model 23, .40 caliber pistol, SA [redacted] accidentally discharged one round inside her residence. SIRG members recommended that SA [redacted] be censured, suspended from duty for a period of three days, and receive documented remedial firearms training in regard to this shooting incident.

Administrative: Reference report of Special Agent in Charge Daphne Hearn, dated 10/25/2011.

Details: This communication was prepared to furnish the analysis, comments, and recommendations of the SIRG with reference to the captioned shooting.

UNCLASSIFIED

At approximately 8:00 p.m., on 10/21/2011, SA [redacted] was cleaning her handgun inside her residence after being at the shooting range earlier that evening. As she completed cleaning the weapon, SA [redacted] realized she did not lubricate it. She disassembled the weapon, applied the lubrication, and reassembled it. After reassembling the weapon, SA [redacted] did a safety check prior to conducting a function check. After completing the safety check, SA [redacted] inserted a magazine into the weapon, pointed it in a safe direction, and performed a function check. During the function check, SA [redacted] pulled the trigger, discharging one round through the dining room rug and into the hardwood floor of her residence.

SA [redacted] notified Los Angeles management of the incident and a team responded to conduct an investigation of the incident.

No personal injuries and minimal property damage were incurred as a result of SA [redacted] accidental discharge.

On 05/22/2012, the SIRG met to discuss the above-captioned shooting incident. Deputy Assistant Director Cory B. Nelson, Inspection Division (INSD), chaired the meeting and was a non-voting member. The following voting members were in attendance: [redacted] Trial Attorney, Civil Rights Division, USDOJ; [redacted] Trial Attorney, Criminal Division, USDOJ; Section Chief (SC) [redacted], Violent Criminal Threat Section, Criminal Investigative Division; Unit Chief (UC) [redacted] Practical Applications Unit (PAU), Training Division (TD); UC [redacted] Firearms Training Unit, TD; UC [redacted] Special Weapons and Tactics Operations Unit, Critical Incident Response Group; UC [redacted] Defensive Systems Unit, TD; UC [redacted] Investigative Law Unit, Office of General Counsel (OGC); SSA [redacted] Evidence Response Team Unit, Laboratory Division (LD); and SSA [redacted] CR-2, Washington Field Office. The following non-voting members were also in attendance: Inspectors Robert J. Shields, Jr., and Deirdre L. Synopsis: The Shooting Incident Review Group (SIRG) reviewed a shooting incident that occurred on 11/10/2011, involving Special Agent (SA) [redacted] of the Little Rock Division. While dry firing his Bureau-issued Glock Model 22, .40 caliber pistol inside office space, SA [redacted] accidentally discharged one round into the floor. SIRG members recommended that SA [redacted] be censured, suspended from duty for a period of three days, and receive documented remedial firearms training in regard to this shooting incident.

Administrative: Reference Electronic Communication of Supervisory Special Agent (SSA) [redacted] dated 11/15/2011.

Details: This communication was prepared to furnish the analysis, comments, and recommendations of the SIRG with reference to the captioned shooting.

On 11/10/2011, in preparation for a squad maintenance shoot scheduled later in the day, SA [redacted] began dry firing his weapon inside the office space at the Fayetteville Resident Agency. SA [redacted] completed his dry firing exercise, reloaded the pistol, and placed it in its holster. Looking for tips on becoming a better shooter, SA [redacted] searched the internet. After reading information regarding stance and trigger press, and forgetting he had loaded his gun after his previous dry firing session, SA [redacted] drew his weapon, pressed the trigger, and accidentally discharged one round into the floor.

SA [redacted] immediately reported the incident to his supervisor. No personal injuries and minimal property damage were incurred as a result of SA [redacted] accidental discharge.

Details of the Shooting Incident

On 11/17/2011, at approximately 6:00 p.m., SA [redacted] was traveling on a road in Boerne, Texas, when he observed two vehicles attempting to slow traffic. One individual approached SA [redacted] vehicle window and explained that a deer had been hit by a car and was laying in the middle of the road. The man also advised local law enforcement authorities were notified; however, he was uncertain if they were going to respond to the scene. After seeing the severely injured deer attempting to stand, SA

[redacted] concluded the deer needed to be immediately removed from the area. Ensuring the safety of the two individuals on the scene, SA [redacted] fired two rounds into the back of the deer's head, killing the injured animal. SA [redacted] removed the deer from the road and departed the scene.

Synopsis: The Shooting Incident Review Group (SIRG) reviewed a shooting incident that occurred on 01/26/2012, involving Special Agent (SA) [redacted] of the New York Field Office. While attempting to holster his Bureau-approved, personally-owned Glock, Model 27 pistol, SA [redacted] accidentally discharged a single round into a tile wall of a restroom. The expended round subsequently struck the bathroom floor. SIRG members recommended that SA [redacted] be censured, suspended from duty for a period of three days, and receive documented remedial firearms training in regard to this shooting incident.

Administrative: Reference Electronic Communications of Special Agent (SA) [redacted] and Supervisory Special Agent [redacted] dated 01/27/2012 and 03/29/2012 respectively.

Details: This communication was prepared to furnish the analysis, comments, and recommendations of the SIRG with reference to the captioned shooting.

On 01/26/2012, at approximately 11:40 a.m., as SA [redacted] was preparing to use a bathroom at the Columbia Grammar and Preparatory School, he unholstered his weapon and placed it on top of a trash can. After utilizing the facility, SA [redacted] who was wearing a left handed Galco, leather, in the pants holster, retrieved his weapon. As he attempted to holster the weapon while standing in a crouched position, one round accidentally discharged striking a tiled wall.

SA [redacted] was the only person in the bathroom. The Director of the school was standing outside the bathroom door and was aware of the discharge. No personal injuries and minimal property damage were incurred as a result of this shooting incident.

SA [redacted] informed his immediate supervisor who dispatched two SAs to the scene to conduct the investigation. According to SA [redacted] his finger was placed outside of the trigger along the slide when the weapon discharged.

SA [redacted] weapon, magazine, and holster were forwarded to the Defensive Systems Unit Gunsmiths for examination. The weapon was inspected and test fired and was found to meet all factory specifications as designed.

02/03/2011

Synopsis: The Shooting Incident Review Group (SIRG) reviewed a shooting incident that occurred on 02/03/2011, involving Special Agent (SA) [redacted] of the Milwaukee Division. While conducting a vehicle stop, SA [redacted] fired one round from his Bureau-issued Glock Model 22, .40 caliber pistol, striking the non-complaint subject in the right thumb. SIRG members unanimously recommended that no administrative action be taken against SA [redacted] as a result of his involvement in this shooting incident.

Administrative: Reference report of former Inspector April D. Brooks, dated 07/18/2011.

Details: This communication was prepared to furnish the analysis, comments, and recommendations of the SIRG with reference to the captioned shooting.

Details of the Shooting Incident

On 02/03/2011, at 8:39 a.m., SA [redacted] telephonically requested the assistance of SA [redacted] with the surveillance and eventual arrest of [redacted], the subject of an arrest warrant for a state drug offense. SA [redacted] met with SA [redacted] and Milwaukee Police Department (MPD) Task Force Officer (TFO) [redacted] who were all members of the High Intensity Drug Trafficking Area/Drug Task Force (HIDTA). The Agents and TFO planned to conduct a "traffic stop" to arrest Although no written Operations Plan existed, the participants decided TFO would initiate the stop of the subject's vehicle, and SA would "box in" the vehicle from the front to prevent the subject's escape.

At approximately 9:15 a.m., on 02/03/2011, SAs and along with TFO initiated a surveillance of at a residence in Wisconsin. At approximately 12:00 p.m., SA observed the subject exit his residence and enter a green minivan. As the three law enforcement vehicles followed the subject, TFO radioed the Agents that he observed lean over toward the right side floor board of his vehicle causing SA to believe he was hiding drugs or reaching for a weapon.

TFO activated his emergency lights and immediately pulled over to the right side of the street. TFO pulled within approximately eight feet behind minivan and SA vehicle was approximately eight feet behind SA pulled in front of the subject vehicle to prevent his escape, quickly exited, and walked toward TFO SA exited his vehicle and took a position near the rear left corner of his vehicle. As SA walked toward the front of the subject vehicle with his weapon drawn, he shouted, "Police, shut off the vehicle, hands, hands." TFO ordered to exit his vehicle several times; however, refused to comply. TFO advised he was under arrest. SA heard TFO shouting commands for to exit the vehicle, and the subject reply, "No I'm not going to get out," and saw rolling up his window.

abruptly shifted his vehicle into reverse, shifted into drive, and aggressively proceeded forward toward SA As the subject vehicle approached closer, SA braced himself against the hood with his left hand as the front right bumper hit his right shin and slightly spun him. SA planted his feet and fired one round which penetrated the glass of the front passenger side window. fled the scene.

Law enforcement personnel briefly pursued however, lost sight of him in traffic. The pursuit was discontinued and the three law enforcement officers returned to secure the scene. SA and TFO notified their FBI and HIDTA supervisors of the shooting incident by cell phone.

Within hours, [redacted] was arrested by an FBI Agent and MPD officers assigned to the HIDTA Task Force. Investigators determined SA [redacted] discharged round struck [redacted] right thumb.

On 04/20/2011, [redacted] Milwaukee County District Attorney, opined SA [redacted] "responded to a lethal threat with an appropriate and justifiable use of force, and that the use of force was privileged as self defense and defense of others."

On 05/18/2011, [redacted] United States Department of Justice, Civil Rights Division, advised the facts do not warrant a federal investigation as a potential willful use of unreasonable deadly force.

On 05/22/2012, the SIRG met to discuss the above-captioned shooting incident. Deputy Assistant Director Cory B. Nelson, Inspection Division (INSD), chaired the meeting and was a non-voting member. The following voting members were in attendance: [redacted] Trial Attorney, Civil Rights Division, USDOJ; [redacted] Trial Attorney, Criminal Division, USDOJ; Section Chief (SC) [redacted] Violent Criminal Threat Section, Criminal Investigative Division; Unit Chief (UC) [redacted] Practical Applications Unit (PAU), Training Division (TD); UC [redacted] Firearms Training Unit, TD; UC [redacted] Special Weapons and Tactics Operations Unit, Critical Incident Response Group; UC [redacted] Defensive Systems Unit, TD; UC [redacted] Investigative Law Unit, Office of General Counsel (OGC); SSA [redacted] Evidence Response Team Unit, Laboratory Division (LD); and SSA [redacted] CR-2, Washington Field Office. SIRG members unanimously agreed that the use of deadly force by SA [redacted] was justified and in conformance with the FBI's deadly force policy. This discussion resulted in the recommendation that no administrative action be taken against SA [redacted] as a result of his involvement in this shooting incident.

SIRG members unanimously adopted the following observations made by the Shooting Incident Review Team:

b6

SA [redacted] did not prepare a written operations plan for the surveillance and arrest of the subject.

A written operations plan was not prepared for the surveillance and arrest of the subject, who had a conviction for carrying a concealed weapon [redacted] The plan was finalized and verbally briefed within an approximated 36 to 51 minute window from the time SA [redacted] contacted SA [redacted] on 02/03/2011, at 8:39 a.m., to request his participation in the operation, and the initiation of surveillance at the subject's residence between 9:15-9:30 a.m. There were no exigent circumstances which precluded appropriate preparation of an operation plan.

Corporate Policy Notice 0242N, Requirement for Written Operations Order - Field Operations, dated 07/15/2010, states, in part:

> 8. Policy Statement:
> 8.1 The necessity to have clear, concise, and complete operational plans, in the form of operations orders, is essential to successful arrest and search operations and any other activity in which the practical application of firearms might be reasonably anticipated. Operations orders are the vehicle through which the Case Agent's and/or On-Scene Commander's strategy is reduced to a tactical directive. Their most important function is to ensure success. By standardizing format, the chance for omission of essential data is eliminated thus providing subordinate elements with the complete picture for mission completion.

8.2 Written Operations Orders: Absent exigent circumstances, written operations orders will be prepared prior to conducting arrest and search operations and any other activity in which the practical application of firearms might be reasonably anticipated.

8.3 Exigent Circumstances: Exigent circumstances may necessitate an oral briefing in lieu of the written operations order.

13. Definitions:

13.1 Exigent circumstances: Generally, an emergency, a pressing necessity requiring immediate action.

9. Roles and Responsibilities:
9.1. Case Agent
9.1.1 Responsible for preparing the operations order
9.1.2 Responsible for briefing the operations order

9.2. Substantive Squad Supervisor
9.2.1 GS-14 Supervisory Special Agent responsible for reviewing the operations order

After the initial stop of [redacted] vehicle by TFO [redacted] and SA [redacted] maneuvering to block [redacted] vehicle, SA [redacted] stopped approximately eight feet behind TFO [redacted] vehicle. SA [redacted] exited his vehicle, took a position near the rear left corner of his own vehicle and remained there until [redacted] fled the scene. SA [redacted] was not wearing his ballistic vest; the vest remained on the front seat of SA [redacted] vehicle. [redacted] had a conviction for carrying a concealed weapon and made movements while being stopped, which caused TFO [redacted] to believe he may have been reaching for a weapon. TFO [redacted] immediately announced [redacted] movement on the HIDTA radio to all participants.

Synopsis: The Shooting Incident Review Group (SIRG) reviewed a shooting incident that occurred on 02/08/2011, involving Special Agent (SA) [redacted] of the Indianapolis Division. While conducting an interview, SA [redacted] fired two rounds from his Glock Model 23, .40 caliber pistol, killing a subject who refused to obey law enforcement commands and was turning toward SA [redacted] with a weapon in his hand. SIRG members unanimously recommended that no administrative action be taken against SA [redacted] as a result of his involvement in this shooting incident.

Administrative: Reference report of former Inspector Michael J. Erbach, dated 02/25/2011.

Details: This communication was prepared to furnish the analysis, comments, and recommendations of the SIRG with reference to the captioned shooting.

Details of the Shooting Incident

FBI SAs and Task Force Officers (TFOs) from the Little Rock and Indianapolis Divisions were conducting an investigation involving the production and distribution of child pornography by an unknown subject. The three Indianapolis Division TFOs consisted of detectives from the Kokomo and Brownsburg, Indiana, Police Departments who were assigned to an Internet Crimes Against Children (ICAC) Task Force sponsored by the United States Attorney in the Southern District of Indiana.

Investigation identified an Internet Protocol (IP) address used to distribute child pornography belonging to an individual named [redacted] Arkansas.

On 02/07/2011, SAs [redacted] and [redacted] of the Indianapolis Division, along with Detectives [redacted] and [redacted] arrived at the Jonesboro, Arkansas Resident Agency (JRA) for a briefing regarding a search warrant which was planned for the morning of 02/08/2011. Also present at the briefing were Little Rock Division SAs [redacted] Supervisory Senior Resident Agent (SSRA) [redacted] an officer from the Arkansas State Police, and an FBI photographer.

On the morning of 02/08/2011, the Indianapolis SAs and TFOs met with Little Rock personnel at the JRA and drove to a gas station where SSRA [redacted] again briefed the operations order including the FBI's Deadly Force Policy. At the conclusion of the briefing, all of the participants proceeded to [redacted] residence. Upon their arrival, it was determined that [redacted] was inside his residence with [redacted] SA [redacted] and Detective [redacted] interviewed [redacted] while SA [redacted] and Detective [redacted] Other members of the search team began searching the residence for evidence of child pornography and an I-Phone which was believed to have been used to access the internet connection at the residence. b6 b7C

Through interviews of the residents, information was developed indicating Brandon Fountain, who lived [redacted] may be the unknown subject involved in the production and distribution of child pornography. Based on this information, team members decided to attempt a knock and talk interview with Brandon Fountain.

At approximately 12:00 p.m., Detectives [redacted] and [redacted] observed Fountain enter his driveway. Approximately one hour later, law enforcement personnel observed Fountain exiting his residence and entering a vehicle. SA [redacted] and Detective [redacted] approached Fountain as he was leaving and introduced themselves. Fountain invited them inside his residence, closed the door, and invited them to sit at a kitchen table. As they sat down, Fountain was asked if he had any weapons in the house at which time he removed a pocket knife from his front pocket and placed it on the table. He also told them there was a ".45" in the top drawer of his dresser and a ".22" in the bedroom across from the bathroom. At that time Detective [redacted] entered the residence and remained standing near the door. SA [redacted] and Detective [redacted] informed Fountain they wanted to talk about some strange internet activity in the neighborhood. During the interview, Fountain made statements consistent with the information the unknown subject had posted on the Internet.

At one point during the interview, Fountain attempted to move to his back bedroom to show law enforcement officers the location of his computer. TFO [redacted] asked Fountain to return to the kitchen table. At approximately 1:22 p.m., SA [redacted] stepped outside to contact AUSA [redacted] to inform him of the information obtained from Fountain. [redacted] advised SA [redacted] that he would begin working on a complaint and also authorized the arrest of Fountain and advised he was preparing a search warrant application for Fountain's residence. SA [redacted] entered Fountain's residence to watch Fountain while SA [redacted] and TFO [redacted] conferred outside.

SA [redacted] and TFO [redacted] re-entered the residence to resume the interview. TFO [redacted] verbally advised Fountain of his rights at which time Fountain waived his rights and signed the Advice of Rights Form. Fountain continued to be cooperative and compliant, and was permitted to get water from his refrigerator several times. SA [redacted] subsequently asked Fountain to bring the water to the table and to stop getting up. A short time later Fountain's telephone rang. He had a short conversation and advised the caller he was being interviewed by the "police."

When TFO [redacted] informed Fountain a search warrant was being obtained for his residence, Fountain confessed to taking photographs of three children with whom he had contact while his girlfriend was babysitting. As Fountain stated he would consent to a search, TFO [redacted] produced a Consent to Search Form, and began explaining it to him. Fountain stated he needed to use the restroom and SA [redacted] agreed to accompany him. As Fountain moved to the restroom, he suddenly ran down the hall and entered the back bedroom with SA [redacted] and TFO [redacted] in pursuit. Fountain slammed the bedroom door behind him with SA [redacted] pursuing and giving verbal commands for him to stop. SA [redacted] opened and entered the bedroom door as Fountain was removing a handgun from a night stand drawer. After repeating verbal commands for Fountain to put his hands up, and while Fountain was turning toward him with the firearm in his hands, SA [redacted] fired two rounds striking Fountain in the rear center torso. Fountain immediately fell to the floor.

TFO [redacted] entered the bedroom just prior to the shooting and upon hearing the commotion from the outside, FBI SAs

[redacted] and [redacted] as well as Arkansas State Police SA [redacted] entered the residence arriving in the bedroom immediately after the shooting. Law enforcement personnel continued to give verbal commands for Fountain to stop moving to which he verbally responded and complied. TFO [redacted] disarmed the subject and SA [redacted] handcuffed him. TFO [redacted] removed a .45 caliber Patriot, semiautomatic handgun and two loaded magazines from the subject.

Emergency medical assistance was requested. The EMTs treated the subject at the scene and advised SA [redacted] the subject was not going to survive. Fountain was transported to the South Mississippi County (SMC) Regional Medical Center in Osceola and airlifted to the SMC Regional Medical Center in Memphis, Tennessee, where he was pronounced dead.

On 06/21/2011, [redacted] District Prosecuting Attorney, Second Judicial District of Arkansas, advised his office reviewed the case and concluded SA [redacted] was justified in using deadly force and that no further review of this matter was necessary.

On 06/30/2011, [redacted] US Department of Justice, Civil Rights Division, advised the matter did not warrant a federal criminal investigation into whether there was a violation of the criminal civil rights statutes.

b7C

On 05/22/2012, the SIRG met to discuss the above-captioned shooting incident. Deputy Assistant Director Cory B. Nelson, Inspection Division (INSD), chaired the meeting and was a non-voting member. The following voting members were in attendance: [redacted] Trial Attorney, Civil Rights Division, USDOJ; [redacted] Trial Attorney, Criminal Division, USDOJ; Section Chief (SC) [redacted] Violent Criminal Threat Section, Criminal Investigative Division; Unit Chief (UC) [redacted] Practical Applications Unit (PAU), Training Division (TD); UC [redacted] Firearms Training Unit, TD; UC [redacted] Special Weapons and Tactics Operations Unit, Critical Incident Response Group; UC [redacted] Defensive Systems Unit, TD; UC [redacted] Investigative Law Unit, Office of General Counsel (OGC); SSA [redacted] Evidence Response Team Unit, Laboratory Division (LD); and SSA [redacted], CR-2, Washington Field Office. The following non-voting members were also in attendance: Inspectors Robert J. Shields, Jr., and Deirdre L. Fike, Office of Inspections (OI), INSD; Special Assistant [redacted] INSD; Team Leader [redacted], OI, INSD; SSA [redacted] PAU, TD; Management and Program Analysts (MPAs)

[redacted] and [redacted] Inspection Management Unit (IMU), Strategic Analysis Section (SAS), INSD.

Observations and Recommendations of the SIRG

The SIRG reviewed the above synopsized incident with the intent to: (1) evaluate the application of deadly force; (2) provide the Director with an evaluative analysis, observations, and recommendations for corrective actions from an operational standpoint (if any); (3) provide recommendations concerning training and/or safety issues; and (4) provide recommendations for administrative action if deemed necessary.

SIRG members unanimously agreed that the use of deadly force by SA [redacted] was justified and in conformance with the FBI's deadly force policy. This discussion resulted in the recommendation that no administrative action be taken against SA [redacted] as a result of his involvement in this shooting incident.

SIRG members unanimously adopted the following observations, instruction, and recommendations made by the Shooting Incident Review Team:

OBSERVATION #1:

FBI personnel were not wearing body armor when the shooting occurred. Although personnel wore body armor at the original search location, all personnel removed their body armor when the site was deemed secure. The investigation proceeded to a second location where the shooting occurred. FBI Policy regarding the wearing of body armor, MIOG, Part 2, 12-13.1(1) states: "Wearing of body armor by SA personnel is mandatory during planned arrests, execution of search warrants and surveillances which can reasonably be expected to culminate in a confrontation with armed and dangerous subject(s)."

Instruction #1: That SAC, Indianapolis and SAC, Little Rock ensure personnel are directed to wear body armor throughout the course of search/arrest operations.

OBSERVATION #2:

The three TFOs participating in the operations were members of the ICAC Task Force in the Indianapolis Division's Area of Responsibility. They were incorporated in the operations order for the execution of the search warrant under the supervision of an FBI SSRA. Unknown to both the Indianapolis and

Little Rock Divisions, the ICAC TFOs were not deputized, and therefore did not have Federal Law Enforcement Officer status. A Memorandum of Understanding (MOU) was not in place between the Indianapolis Division and the ICAC Task Force.

Recommendation #2a: That SAC, Indianapolis ensure an MOU is established between the Indianapolis Division and the ICAC Task Force documenting roles and responsibilities when conducting joint investigations.

Recommendation #2b: That SAC, Indianapolis ensure Indianapolis ICAC Task Force personnel participating in FBI operations are deputized as Federal Law Enforcement Officers prior to their participation in FBI and federal tactical operations.

These observations will be brought to the attention of the SACs of the Little Rock and Indianapolis Divisions with accompanying Instruction/Recommendations.

Synopsis: The Shooting Incident Review Group (SIRG) reviewed a shooting incident that occurred on 06/11/2011, involving Special Agent (SA) [redacted] of the Chicago Division. After removing his Bureau-issued Glock Model 23, .40 caliber pistol from its holster, SA [redacted] slipped and accidentally discharged one round, injuring his toe. SIRG members recommended that SA [redacted] be censured, suspended from duty for a period of three days, and receive documented remedial firearms training in regard to this shooting incident.

Administrative: Reference Electronic Communication of Supervisory Special Agent (SSA) [redacted] dated 07/26/2011.

Details: This communication was prepared to furnish the analysis, comments, and recommendations of the SIRG with reference to the captioned shooting.

Details of the Shooting Incident

On 06/11/2011, after concluding a breakfast meeting with another Agent of the Chicago Division and a Confidential Human Source, SA [redacted] drove to the Chicago office. After leaving his personal property at his desk, SA [redacted] proceeded to the men's restroom and removed his pistol from the holster on his right hip to place it on the back of the commode. After removing the gun from the holster, SA [redacted] slipped causing one round to discharge from the weapon. The expended round grazed SA [redacted] big toe and entered the restroom floor.

SA [redacted] immediately contacted Chicago Division management to advise of the incident. SA [redacted] drove himself to Rush University Medical Center, identified himself to the staff, and explained the circumstances of his injury. SA [redacted] toe was sutured by medical personnel and he was released the same day.

On 05/22/2012, the SIRG met to discuss the above-captioned shooting incident. Deputy Assistant Director Cory B. Nelson, Inspection Division (INSD), chaired the meeting and was a non-voting member. Title: SHOOTING INCIDENT
08/18/2011

Synopsis: The Shooting Incident Review Group (SIRG) reviewed a shooting incident that occurred on 08/18/2011, involving Special Agent (SA) [redacted] of the Miami Division. While preparing for an arrest, SA [redacted] accidentally discharged one round from his Bureau-issued Remington 12 gauge shotgun. SIRG members recommended that SA [redacted] be censured, suspended from duty for a period of three days, and receive documented remedial firearms training in regard to this shooting incident.

Administrative: Reference Electronic Communication of Supervisory Special Agent (SSA) [redacted] dated 09/12/2011.

Details: This communication was prepared to furnish the analysis, comments, and recommendations of the SIRG with reference to the captioned shooting.

On 08/18/2011, at approximately 4:00 a.m., SA [redacted] met Miami Division SA [redacted] and Task Force Officer (TFO) [redacted] at a parking garage used by West Palm Beach Resident Agency (WPBRA) personnel. The SAs and TFO [redacted] were preparing for a joint arrest operation and were gearing up and preparing their weapons for the arrest before proceeding to the Customs and Border Protection office in West Palm Beach.

SA [redacted] pulled his shotgun from the trunk of his vehicle, visually cleared the weapon, installed a sling, and loaded the shotgun with four slugs. SA [redacted] racked the shotgun, loaded a fifth slug, and was going to place the gun inside its case. As SA [redacted] moved the shotgun to the case, one round accidentally discharged.

Although he was unsure of how the accidental discharge occurred, SA [redacted] speculated he was trying to determine if the safety was on when his finger must have went inside the trigger guard, accidentally depressing the trigger.

SA [redacted] and TFO [redacted] heard a loud bang and saw SA [redacted] holding the shotgun. After determining SA [redacted] was not injured, SA [redacted] took the weapon and unloaded the remaining rounds. As they began to look for the expended round, SA [redacted] passed out and collapsed. After SA [redacted] provided assistance to SA [redacted] and determined emergency medical services were not needed, he notified division management of the incident. The expended round was subsequently located in the ceiling of the parking garage.

No personal injuries nor property damage were incurred as a result of SA [redacted] accidental discharge.

The SIRG reviewed the above synopsized incident with the intent to: (1) evaluate the application of deadly force; (2) provide the Director with an evaluative analysis, observations, and recommendations for corrective actions from an operational standpoint (if any); (3) provide recommendations concerning training and/or safety issues; and (4) provide recommendations for administrative action if deemed necessary.

SIRG members unanimously agreed that the use of deadly force by SA [redacted] was justified and in conformance with the FBI's deadly force policy. This discussion resulted in the recommendation that no administrative action be taken against SA [redacted] as a result of her involvement in this shooting incident.

Synopsis: The Shooting Incident Review Group (SIRG) reviewed a shooting incident that occurred on 08/29/2011, involving Special Agent (SA) [redacted] of the Chicago Division. While disassembling his Glock Model 22, pistol for cleaning, SA [redacted] pulled the trigger, resulting in the accidental discharge of one round. SIRG members recommended that SA [redacted] be censured, suspended from duty for a period of three days, and receive documented remedial firearms training in regard to this shooting incident.

Administrative: Reference Electronic Communication of Supervisory Special Agent (SSA) [redacted] dated 09/08/2011.

Details: This communication was prepared to furnish the analysis, comments, and recommendations of the SIRG with reference to the captioned shooting.

Details of the Shooting Incident

On 08/29/2011, SA [redacted] squad had a range day at the Chicago Division's firing range. Following the last training cycle, the group did not clear their weapons on the line. According to SA [redacted] he policed the range with other individuals, and cleaned an MP5 in the cleaning room. A short time later, SA [redacted] proceeded to the charging barrel to safely disassemble his pistol for cleaning. As he pulled the trigger, one round discharged into the charging barrel.

No personal injuries were incurred as a result of SA [redacted] accidental discharge. He immediately notified Chicago Division management of the incident.

On 05/22/2012, the SIRG met to discuss the above-captioned shooting incident. Deputy Assistant Director Cory B. Nelson, Inspection Division (INSD), chaired the meeting and was a non-voting member. Synopsis: The Shooting Incident Review Group (SIRG) reviewed a shooting incident that occurred on 09/07/2011, involving Special Agent (SA) [redacted] of the Miami Division. While conducting dry firing exercises inside his residence, SA [redacted] accidentally discharged one round from his Bureau-issued Glock Model 22, .40 caliber pistol. SIRG members recommended that SA [redacted] be censured, suspended from duty for a period of three days, and receive documented remedial firearms training in regard to this shooting incident.

Administrative: Reference Electronic Communication of Supervisory Special Agent (SSA) [redacted] dated 09/21/2011.

Details: This communication was prepared to furnish the analysis, comments, and recommendations of the SIRG with reference to the captioned shooting.

On the night of 09/07/2011, SA [redacted] was conducting dry firing exercises inside his residence. Due to receiving low qualifying scores on his official firearms qualifications and based on the recommendation of Miami Division Firearms Instructors, SA [redacted] was dry firing to improve his trigger control and hand grip.

In preparation of conducting the dry firing exercise, SA [redacted] unloaded the pistol and ejected the round in the chamber, ensuring the weapon was safe and empty. He dry fired the pistol for approximately five to ten minutes before inserting the magazine into the weapon and releasing the slide forward to place a round in the chamber. As he was preparing to place the gun inside a fanny pack, SA [redacted] decided to feel the difference in the weight of a fully loaded pistol versus an empty one. As he aimed the loaded weapon at the bathroom wall, while concentrating on his grip pressure, one round discharged entering the bathroom wall and exiting to the outside of the residence. Ensuring no personal injuries nor additional property damage were sustained as a result of the discharge, SA [redacted] telephonically contacted his immediate supervisor and reported the incident.

According to SA [redacted] both of his hands were firmly on the weapon at the time of the discharge; however, he could not recall if his finger was on the trigger when the incident occurred. b6 b7C

b6

Synopsis: The Shooting Incident Review Group (SIRG) reviewed a shooting incident that occurred on 10/11/2011, involving Special Agents (SAs) [redacted] and [redacted] of the Norfolk Division. During the execution of an arrest warrant in the Little Rock Division area of responsibility, both Agents returned fire at a subject who fired eight rounds toward law enforcement personnel from inside his residence. SIRG members unanimously recommended that no administrative action be taken against SAs [redacted] and [redacted] as a result of their involvement in this shooting incident.

Administrative: Reference report of Inspector Robert J. Shields, Jr., dated 10/18/2011.

Details: This communication was prepared to furnish the analysis, comments, and recommendations of the SIRG with reference to the captioned shooting.

Details of the Shooting Incident

On 10/11/2011, the Little Rock Division, Arkansas State Police (ASP), 33 FBI Special Weapons and Tactics (SWAT) teams, as well as the ASP SWAT team, conducted "Operation Delta Blues." The purpose of the operation was to serve arrest warrants on 70

subjects who were indicted on federal public corruption, narcotics, and weapon charges.

Multiple briefings were held on 10/06/2011, 10/07/2011, and 10/09/2011, with SWAT Senior Team Leaders (STLs), Assistant Team Leaders (ATLs), and Executive Management of the Little Rock and Louisville Divisions. The briefings included discussion of the targets, time lines, basic SWAT operations, and an overview of the operation.

On 10/10/2011, each SWAT STL was given 20 minutes to present an operations plan to Deputy On-Scene Commander (DOSC) [redacted] and Supervisory Special Agent (SSA) [redacted] Special Operations Unit, Critical Incident Response Group (CIRG), for final approval.

For the phase one Norfolk SWAT target, a "knock and announce" was planned, although a "no knock warrant" was approved. If the subjects [redacted] and [redacted] were noncompliant, a ram would be used to breach the door, followed by a flash bang, and the Norfolk SWAT team entry. Upon approval, STL [redacted] briefed the plan to Norfolk SWAT team, Evidence Response Team (ERT), Arkansas State Police, and Drug Enforcement Agency personnel assigned to the phase one Hillcrest Street location. Case Agent [redacted] was present at the briefing and provided background information. Based on information provided by SA [redacted] if [redacted] Black Mercedes was not at the [redacted] address, it was assumed [redacted] and her two children were not at the residence. During the briefing personnel assignments, vehicle deployment/staging locations, individual safety/tactical equipment requirements, and the FBI Deadly Force Policy were reviewed. During the briefing, the ERT vehicles were advised to stay out of sight of the target house until the scene was cleared by the STL and they were requested via radio. Rehearsals of the entire operation were performed using an outline of the target house painted in the grass.

On 10/11/2011, at approximately 1:00 a.m., the Norfolk SWAT team reported to a specified location at the Memphis International Airport, where required SWAT equipment was inspected and loaded into two vehicles. Communication checks were performed, including a check with the Memphis Division ERT assigned to execute a search at the arrest location. All SWAT and ERT personnel reported to the staging area outside of Marianna, Arkansas. At approximately 4:00 a.m., the execute command was received and the vehicles proceeded to their target locations.

The four-vehicle team approached the target house located on Hillcrest Street, with two ERT vehicles holding a position on Pearl Street. All SWAT personnel exited the vehicles and assumed their assigned positions. Two rear cover team operators reported lights on in the basement. The seven remaining entry team members were stacked along the walkway in front of the house.

The breaching team of Operators [redacted] and [redacted] approached the front door and positioned themselves to the right of the door. Operator [redacted] with a ballistic shield, moved to a position on the front lawn approximately ten feet in front of the front door with Operator [redacted] directly behind him. Operator [redacted] knocked loudly on the door with his baton and announced, "FBI warrant, come to the door" three times. As planned, two other participants activated their vehicle emergency lights to indicate a police presence at the house. Receiving no response from inside, STL [redacted] gave the breach command followed by the breaching of the door with one swing of a single-person ram while Operator [redacted] applied pressure to the lower right side of the door with his left foot.

Simultaneous to the door being breached, eight gunshots were rapidly fired from inside the residence toward the SWAT team. Operator [redacted] returned fire with three shots from his M4. In accordance with the operational plan, a flash bang was thrown into the house through the open front door. STL [redacted] gave the recall order to the team directing members to obtain a position of cover. Multiple SWAT Operators were shouting "shots fired" over the radio. As Operator [redacted] was backing down the front lawn with the light from his M4 directed at the window immediately to the left of the front door, he saw an arm with a weapon in the hand slide the curtains from left to right. [redacted] fired two shots from his M4 at the arm.

As STL [redacted] gave the command to "cover and hold" to the team, Operator [redacted] called out on the radio he was shot. STL [redacted] moved to [redacted] location and provided immediate medical treatment until the arrival of medical personnel. Paramedics assumed care of [redacted] who was subsequently transported by helicopter to the Elvis Presley Memorial Trauma Center in Memphis, Tennessee.

Team members called the subjects out of the house. [redacted] exited first and was taken into custody. She advised law enforcement personnel there were children inside. Approximately three minutes later, [redacted] exited the residence and was arrested.

As participants were clearing the first floor of the residence, Operator [redacted] heard children's voices and instructed the children to approach. Law enforcement personnel maintained custody of the two young children.

On 10/11/2011, [redacted] US Department of Justice, Civil Rights Division, advised no investigation was warranted as no one other than SA [redacted] was injured during the incident.

On 05/22/2012, the SIRG met to discuss the above-captioned shooting incident. Deputy Assistant Director Cory B. Nelson, Inspection Division (INSD), chaired the meeting and was a non-voting member. The following voting members were in attendance: [redacted] Trial Attorney, Civil Rights Division, USDOJ; [redacted] Trial Attorney, Criminal Division, USDOJ; Section Chief (SC) [redacted] Violent Criminal Threat Section, Criminal Investigative Division; Unit Chief (UC) [redacted] Practical Applications Unit (PAU), Training Division (TD); UC [redacted] Firearms Training Unit, TD; UC [redacted] Special Weapons and Tactics Operations Unit, Critical Incident Response Group; UC [redacted] Defensive Systems Unit, TD; UC [redacted] Investigative Law Unit, Office of General Counsel (OGC); SSA [redacted] Evidence Response Team Unit, Laboratory Division (LD); and SSA [redacted] CR-2, Washington Field Office. The following non-voting members were also in attendance: Inspectors Robert J. Shields, Jr., and Deirdre L. Fike, Office of Inspections (OI), INSD; Special Assistant [redacted] INSD; Team Leader [redacted] OI, INSD; SSA [redacted] PAU, TD; Management and Program Analysts (MPAs) [redacted] and [redacted] Inspection Management Unit (IMU), Strategic Analysis Section (SAS), INSD.

Observations and Recommendations of the SIRG

The SIRG reviewed the above synopsized incident with the intent to: (1) evaluate the application of deadly force; (2) provide the Director with an evaluative analysis, observations, and recommendations for corrective actions from an operational standpoint (if any); (3) provide recommendations concerning training and/or safety issues; and (4) provide recommendations for administrative action if deemed necessary.

SIRG members unanimously agreed that the use of deadly force by SAs [redacted] and [redacted] was justified and in conformance with the FBI's deadly force policy. This discussion resulted in the recommendation that no administrative action be taken against SAs [redacted] and [redacted] as a result of their involvement in this shooting incident.

SIRG members unanimously adopted the following observations, instruction, and recommendations made by the Shooting Incident Review Team:

b6

OBSERVATION #2:

The FBI-trained breaching procedure of applying positive pressure or tension on a door to facilitate ramming was not documented in a training manual.

Recommendation #2a: That AD, CIRG ensure the SOU re-evaluates the use of positive pressure when ramming is used to breach a door to determine if the risk of exposing a body part outweighs the improved success of the breach when tension is applied.

Recommendation #2b: That AD, CIRG ensure the SOU documents the use of positive pressure when ramming is used to breach a door if the continued use of this practice is determined.

These observations will be brought to the attention of the AD of the CIRG with accompanying Instruction/Recommendations.

At approximately 8:00 p.m., on 10/21/2011, SA [redacted] was cleaning her handgun inside her residence after being at the shooting range earlier that evening. As she completed cleaning the weapon, SA [redacted] realized she did not lubricate it. She disassembled the weapon, applied the lubrication, and reassembled it. After reassembling the weapon, SA [redacted] did a safety check prior to conducting a function check. After completing the safety check, SA [redacted] inserted a magazine into the weapon, pointed it in a safe direction, and performed a function check. During the function check, SA [redacted] pulled the trigger, discharging one round through the dining room rug and into the hardwood floor of her residence.

SA [redacted] notified Los Angeles management of the incident and a team responded to conduct an investigation of the incident.

No personal injuries and minimal property damage were incurred as a result of SA [redacted] accidental discharge.

On 05/22/2012, the SIRG met to discuss the above-captioned shooting incident. Deputy Assistant Director Cory B. Nelson, Inspection Division (INSD), chaired the meeting and was a non-voting member. Synopsis: The Shooting Incident Review Group (SIRG) reviewed a shooting incident that occurred on 11/10/2011, involving Special Agent (SA) [redacted] of the Little Rock Division. While dry firing his Bureau-issued Glock Model 22, .40 caliber pistol inside office space, SA [redacted] accidentally discharged one round into the floor. SIRG members recommended that SA [redacted] be censured, suspended from duty for a period of three days, and receive documented remedial firearms training in regard to this shooting incident.

Administrative: Reference Electronic Communication of Supervisory Special Agent (SSA) [redacted] dated 11/15/2011.

Details: This communication was prepared to furnish the analysis, comments, and recommendations of the SIRG with reference to the captioned shooting.

On 11/10/2011, in preparation for a squad maintenance shoot scheduled later in the day, SA [redacted] began dry firing his weapon inside the office space at the Fayetteville Resident Agency. SA [redacted] completed his dry firing exercise, reloaded the pistol, and placed it in its holster. Looking for tips on becoming a better shooter, SA [redacted] searched the internet. After reading information regarding stance and trigger press, and forgetting he had loaded his gun after his previous dry firing session, SA [redacted] drew his weapon, pressed the trigger, and accidentally discharged one round into the floor.

SA [redacted] immediately reported the incident to his supervisor. No personal injuries and minimal property damage were incurred as a result of SA [redacted] accidental discharge.

On 05/22/2012, the SIRG met to discuss the above-captioned shooting incident. Deputy Assistant Director Cory B. Nelson, Inspection Division (INSD), chaired the meeting and was a non-voting member. Administrative: Reference Electronic Communication of Special Agent (SA) [redacted] dated 11/21/2011.

Details: This communication was prepared to furnish the analysis, comments, and recommendations of the SIRG with reference to the captioned shooting.

Details of the Shooting Incident

On 11/17/2011, at approximately 6:00 p.m., SA [redacted] was traveling on a road in Boerne, Texas, when he observed two vehicles attempting to slow traffic. One individual approached SA [redacted] vehicle window and explained that a deer had been hit by a car and was laying in the middle of the road. The man also advised local law enforcement authorities were notified; however, he was uncertain if they were going to respond to the scene. After seeing the severely injured deer attempting to stand, SA [redacted] concluded the deer needed to be immediately removed from the area. Ensuring the safety of the two individuals on the scene, SA [redacted] fired two rounds into the back of the deer's head, killing the injured animal. SA [redacted] removed the deer from the road and departed the scene.

On 05/22/2012, the SIRG met to discuss the above-captioned shooting incident. Deputy Assistant Director Cory B. Nelson, Inspection Division (INSD), chaired the meeting and was a non-voting member. The following voting members were in attendance: [redacted] Trial Attorney, Civil Rights Division, USDOJ; [redacted] Trial Attorney, Criminal Division, USDOJ; Section Chief (SC) [redacted] Violent Criminal Threat Section, Criminal Investigative Division; Unit Chief (UC) [redacted] Practical Applications Unit (PAU), Training Division (TD); UC [redacted] Firearms Training Unit, TD; UC [redacted] Special Weapons and Tactics Operations Unit, Critical Incident Response Group; UC [redacted] Defensive Systems Unit, TD; UC [redacted] Investigative Law Unit, Office of General Counsel (OGC); SSA [redacted] Evidence Response Team Unit, Laboratory Division (LD); and SSA [redacted] CR-2, Washington Field Office. Synopsis: The Shooting Incident Review Group (SIRG) reviewed a shooting incident that occurred on 01/26/2012, involving Special Agent (SA) [redacted] of the New York Field Office. While attempting to holster his Bureau-approved, personally-owned Glock, Model 27 pistol, SA [redacted] accidentally discharged a single round into a tile wall of a restroom. The expended round subsequently struck the bathroom floor. SIRG members recommended that SA [redacted] be censured, suspended from duty for a period of three days, and receive documented remedial firearms training in regard to this shooting incident.

Administrative: Reference Electronic Communications of Special Agent (SA) [redacted] and Supervisory Special Agent [redacted] dated 01/27/2012 and 03/29/2012 respectively.

Details: This communication was prepared to furnish the analysis, comments, and recommendations of the SIRG with reference to the captioned shooting.

On 01/26/2012, at approximately 11:40 a.m., as SA [redacted] was preparing to use a bathroom at the Columbia Grammar and Preparatory School, he unholstered his weapon and placed it on top of a trash can. After utilizing the facility, SA [redacted] who was wearing a left handed Galco, leather, in the pants holster, retrieved his weapon. As he attempted to holster the weapon while standing in a crouched position, one round accidentally discharged striking a tiled wall.

SA [redacted] was the only person in the bathroom. The Director of the school was standing outside the bathroom door and was aware of the discharge. No personal injuries and minimal property damage were incurred as a result of this shooting incident.

SA [redacted] informed his immediate supervisor who dispatched two SAs to the scene to conduct the investigation. According to SA [redacted] his finger was placed outside of the trigger along the slide when the weapon discharged.

SA [redacted] weapon, magazine, and holster were forwarded to the Defensive Systems Unit Gunsmiths for examination. The weapon was inspected and test fired and was found to meet all factory specifications as designed.

Details of the Shooting Incident

On 01/04/2011, at approximately 9:45 a.m., the FBI Police Unit received a complaint of a pack of dogs attacking and killing a coyote near the "Central Plant." Two officers initially responded, located the severely injured coyote, and observed a pack of dogs on a hillside a short distance away.

UNCLASSIFIED

Additional officers arrived and a discussion ensued regarding appropriate action to resolve the situation. One officer advised he had visited the daycare facility earlier in the morning and was informed of employees' concerns regarding a pack of dogs in the area.

The officers returned to the location of the injured coyote and determined the animal's injuries were so severe, it would have to be eliminated. The coyote was moved to a safe location and shot and killed by Officer [redacted]. The animal was transported to a laboratory for rabies testing.

Details of the Shooting Incident

On 05/05/2011, at approximately 5:50 p.m., SSA [redacted] his two young children, and the family dog were walking in their neighborhood. As they were walking SSA [redacted] observed an unattended dog across the street proceeding towards them. As a precaution, SSA [redacted] placed one son behind him and pointed the other son, located in the stroller, away from the approaching dog. The unattended dog lunged toward SSA [redacted] dog resulting in a struggle between the dogs. The aggressive dog knocked over the stroller holding SSA [redacted] young son. As SSA [redacted] picked the stroller up, he saw the dog coming back towards him and his children. Concerned for the safety of his children and himself SSA [redacted] fired one round, killing the dog.

SSA [redacted] immediately called 911 and advised he had shot a dog. The Prince George's County Sheriff's Office responded to the scene within minutes. Based upon interviews with SSA [redacted] and two witnesses to the incident, the officers determined SSA [redacted] actions were justified.

Administrative: Reference Communication of Supervisory Senior Resident Agent (SSRA) [redacted] dated 02/24/2011.

Details: This communication was prepared to furnish the analysis, comments, and recommendations of the SIRG with reference to the captioned shooting.

Details of the Shooting Incident

On the morning of 02/11/2011, members of the New Haven Division SWAT team arrived at an outdoor training facility in Middletown, Connecticut to conduct SWAT training. The range was surrounded by a chain link fence topped with razor wire. Upon arrival, SWAT team members unlocked the auto entrance into the range and saw a female deer with three fawns inside of the range compound.

The animals were located in the middle of the firearms range and had to be removed before training could begin. As personnel approached, the deer panicked and ran away crashing into the fence. One of the fawns was lying on its side, bleeding and unable to get up. As they approached the injured fawn, the Agents realized the animal was suffering and could not survive the accident. At that time, SA [redacted] advised he would euthanize the animal.

On 03/19/2010, at approximately 2:30 p.m., SSA [redacted] accidentally discharged his weapon in the gun cleaning room at the FBI Academy.

Upon completion of scheduled firearms training and range clean-up, SSA [redacted] was issued new service ammunition. With the intent of cleaning his weapon at a later time, SSA [redacted] loaded his magazines. As his co-workers were proceeding to the gun cleaning room, SSA [redacted] decided he would join them and clean his weapon. b6 b7C

SSA [redacted] entered the cleaning room, approached the safety wall, and began the disassembly process for the weapon. When he drew the slide of the weapon to the rear to inspect the breech of the barrel, he noted there were no rounds in the chamber. Forgetting to inspect the magazine well, he did not see over the ejection port that he had a loaded magazine in the weapon. SSA [redacted] dropped the slide on what he thought was an empty chamber and pulled the trigger. As he pulled the trigger, the chambered round discharged into the safety wall. b6 b7C

No personal injury was incurred as a result of SSA [redacted] accidental discharge.

SSA [redacted] weapon was inspected by the Academy armorers for any malfunction, and it was determined to be in proper working order.

On 08/10/2010, the SIRG met to discuss the above-captioned shooting incident. Deputy Assistant Director Jennifer Smith Love chaired the meeting and was a non-voting member. The following voting members were in attendance: Chief Inspector Donald E. Synopsis: The Shooting Incident Review Group (SIRG) reviewed a shooting incident that occurred on 08/30/2010, involving Special Agent (SA) [redacted] of the Chicago Division. While on vacation in the Cleveland Division territory, SA [redacted] and a friend were victims of an armed robbery. SA [redacted] fired four rounds from his personally-owned, Bureau-approved Glock 27 pistol, injuring one of the subjects. SIRG members recommended that no administrative action be taken against SA [redacted] as a result of his involvement in this shooting incident.

Administrative: Reference report of Inspector-in-Charge April D. Brooks, dated 02/03/2011.

Details: This communication was prepared to furnish the analysis, comments, and recommendations of the SIRG with reference to the captioned shooting.

Details of the Shooting Incident

On 08/30/2010, SA [redacted] of the Chicago Division was visiting [redacted] a childhood friend residing in [redacted] Ohio. Following dinner at a local restaurant, SA [redacted] and [redacted] walked through a neighborhood park toward [redacted] residence. Before exiting the park, they were approached from behind by two young males, one armed with a pistol, who robbed both victims of their personal property, including SA [redacted] credentials and badge.

The unarmed subject, later identified as [redacted] forcibly removed SA [redacted] property from his pockets. SA [redacted] attempted to turn in order to see the subject's face; however, the armed subject, later identified as [redacted] observed his action, pointed his weapon directly at SA [redacted] face and said, "Put your fucking hands up or I'll blow your brains out." [redacted] did not search the waistband area of SA [redacted] and was unaware he was wearing a weapon. [redacted] began running away from the victims toward stairs leading up a steep embankment and out of the park. [redacted], began backing away from SA [redacted] and [redacted] while continuing to point his weapon at them. SA [redacted] quickly drew his weapon and yelled, "Police, get down." [redacted] was noncompliant and continued pointing his weapon at the victims. Believing both he and his friend were in imminent danger of death or serious injury, SA [redacted] fired three rounds at [redacted] who immediately turned and started running toward the stairs leading out of the park. SA [redacted] chased [redacted] up the stairs which led up the embankment to an adjacent roadway. Yelling several times for the subject to stop with negative results, SA [redacted] observed [redacted] turn towards him while raising his hand containing his weapon. SA [redacted] fired one additional round at [redacted].

Both subjects continued to run between residences and into back yards causing SA [redacted] to lose sight of them. SA [redacted] stopped his pursuit of the subjects and contacted police. Before he talked to anyone at 911, SA [redacted] saw a marked unit from the Cleveland Heights Police Department (CHPD), stopped the patrol car, identified himself as a law enforcement officer, and provided details of the incident. Responding police officers subsequently located [redacted] and his accomplice who were each charged with two counts of robbery in juvenile court. A third person was arrested; however, it was determined he did not participate in the armed robbery and all charges were dismissed.

Medical reports indicated [redacted] sustained gunshot wounds to his right thigh and right rear shoulder. On 09/06/2010, [redacted] was released from the hospital and placed in juvenile detention pending his criminal proceedings.

It was subsequently determined [redacted] was armed with a Crossman pellet pistol during the robbery. The victims' property was recovered by law enforcement personnel.

The City of Cleveland Heights, Ohio Law Department, was advised the CHPD conducted an investigation and determined the shooting was justified. Based on the CHPD finding, the matter was not presented to the Prosecutor's Office for review.

On 11/29/2010, the US Department of Justice, Civil Rights Division, advised the facts of the case did not warrant a federal investigation.

On 08/09/2011, the SIRG met to discuss the above-captioned shooting incident. Acting Assistant Director Jennifer Smith Love, Inspection Division (INSD), chaired the meeting and was a non-voting member. The following voting members were in attendance: Kenneth L. Moore, Chief Inspector, Office of Inspections (OI), INSD; [redacted] Trial Attorney, Civil Rights Division, USDOJ; [redacted] Trial Attorney, Criminal Division, USDOJ; Assistant Section Chief (SC) [redacted] Violent Criminal Threat Section, Criminal Investigative Division; SC Robert Allan Jones, CD-2, Counterintelligence Division; Acting Unit Chief (UC) [redacted] Defensive Systems Unit, Training Division (TD); Acting UC [redacted] Special Weapons and Tactics Operations Unit, Critical Incident Response Group; SSA [redacted] Investigative Law Unit, Office of General Counsel (OGC); Acting UC [redacted] Evidence Response Team Unit (ERTU), Laboratory Division (LD); and SSA [redacted] CR-2, Washington Field Office. The following non-voting members were also in attendance: Inspectors April D. Brooks, Joseph S. Campbell, Deirdre L. Fike, and Stephen E. Richardson, OI, INSD; Special Assistant [redacted] INSD; UC [redacted] Strategic Analysis Section (SAS), Inspection Management Unit (IMU), INSD; SSA [redacted] SAS, Inspection Analysis Unit (IAU), INSD; Management and Program Analysts (MPAs) [redacted], SAS, IAU, INSD; and [redacted] SAS, IMU, INSD.

The SIRG reviewed the above synopsized incident with the intent to: (1) evaluate the application of deadly force; (2) provide the Director with an evaluative analysis, observations, and recommendations for corrective actions from an operational standpoint (if any); (3) provide recommendations concerning training and/or safety issues; and (4) provide recommendations for administrative action if deemed necessary.

SIRG members unanimously agreed that the use of deadly force by SA [redacted] was justified and in conformance with the FBI's deadly force policy. This discussion resulted in the recommendation that no administrative action be taken against SA [redacted] as a result of his involvement in this shooting incident.

Details of the Shooting Incident

On 11/24/2011, at approximately 7:30 p.m., SA [redacted] was watching television inside his residence. According to SA [redacted] he stood up, retrieved his service weapon, and attempted to place it in the right rear pocket of his jeans. As he was placing the gun in the pocket, one round accidentally discharged striking his leg. SA [redacted] advised his finger was not on the trigger and believed the handle of his knife caught the gun's trigger causing the discharge. b6 b7C

SA [redacted] advised his wife of the incident and she called 911. Medical personnel, as well as members of the local Sheriff's Office responded to the scene and transported SA [redacted] by ambulance to the St. Mary's Corwin Hospital. SA [redacted] was discharged from the hospital on 11/27/2010, and expected to make a full recovery.

On 08/09/2011, the SIRG met to discuss the above-captioned shooting incident. Synopsis: The Shooting Incident Review Group (SIRG) reviewed a shooting incident that occurred on 05/09/2010, involving Special Agent (SA) [redacted] of the Honolulu Division. While touring various scenic areas in the Honolulu area, SA [redacted] shot and wounded a subject who raised his weapon toward him. SIRG members recommended that no administrative action be taken against SA [redacted] as a result of his involvement in this shooting incident.

Administrative: Reference report of Inspector-in-Charge April D. Brooks, dated 05/24/2011.

Details: This communication was prepared to furnish the analysis, comments, and recommendations of the SIRG with reference to the captioned shooting.

b6

Details of the Shooting Incident

On 05/09/2010, SA [redacted] and [redacted] were touring various scenic areas in Honolulu. As they drove up Tantalus Drive, they came upon a group of people with cars parked in a lookout area. Several people were waving at them excitedly and SA [redacted] rolled down her window to ask what was happening. An individual told them a man was at the next lookout waving a gun at bystanders. SA [redacted] exited his car to speak with the individuals about the situation. After determining someone had called 911, SA [redacted] requested a description of the man possessing the gun. As one individual stated the man was in a white truck, SA [redacted] turned and saw a white truck traveling down the hill towards his location. As the white truck approached, SA [redacted] took cover behind the engine block of a remaining car with a man and woman inside.

SA [redacted] observed a man exit the truck with what he believed to be a large handgun. The subject was yelling at the people and holding the handgun in plain view as he walked to the front of his vehicle. SA [redacted] pulled his weapon from its holster and yelled "FBI. Drop your weapon," or words to that effect. The subject, later identified as [redacted], began to raise his weapon at SA [redacted]. Believing his life was in imminent danger, SA [redacted] fired five rounds from his personally owned, Bureau-approved, Glock 27 pistol. [redacted] slumped to the ground and SA [redacted] again ordered him to drop his weapon and lie down on the ground with his arms extended. As the subject obeyed all law enforcement commands, SA [redacted] conducted a tactical reload and asked a witness to assist him in handcuffing [redacted]. SA [redacted] approached and removed [redacted] weapon from the area. [redacted] which SA [redacted] SA [redacted] asked [redacted] why he had been waving a gun around, and he responded in words to the effect of "I am trying to commit suicide."

SA [redacted] conducted a high risk search of [redacted] and found a key chain attached to a belt keeper and a "leatherman" knife/tool in a pouch and removed both.

HPD officers arrived and secured the scene. [redacted] was transported by ambulance to the Queen's Medical Center in critical condition and was later released to the psychiatric ward.

On 10/01/2010, HPD Chief of Police Louis M. Kealoha advised the HPD did not conduct a criminal investigation into the actions of SA [redacted]. Additionally, the case was not referred to the Department of the Prosecuting Attorney because SA [redacted] was not considered a suspect.

On 05/09/2010, [redacted] Special Legal Counsel, Civil Rights Division, Department of Justice, advised the shooting did not fall under the Color of Law violation because the agent was off-duty at the time of the incident.

On 08/09/2011, the SIRG met to discuss the above-captioned shooting incident. Acting Assistant Director Jennifer Smith Love, Inspection Division (INSD), chaired the meeting and was a non-voting member. The following voting members were in attendance: Kenneth L. Title: SHOOTING INCIDENT
LAS VEGAS DIVISION
09/17/2010

Synopsis: The Shooting Incident Review Group (SIRG) reviewed a shooting incident that occurred on 09/17/2010, involving Special Agent (SA) [redacted] of the Las Vegas Division. Two days after attending a Special Weapons and Tactics (SWAT) training session, SA [redacted] was preparing to clean his SWAT-issued Springfield 1911A1 pistol. While in the process of removing the weapon from its holster, SA [redacted] accidentally discharged one round through a metal gun cleaning table. SIRG members recommended that SA [redacted] be censured, suspended from duty for a period of three days, and receive documented remedial firearms training in regard to this shooting incident.

Administrative: Reference Electronic Communication of Supervisory Special Agent (SSA) [redacted] dated 10/06/2010.

Details: This communication was prepared to furnish the analysis, comments, and recommendations of the SIRG with reference to the captioned shooting.

UNCLASSIFIED

On 09/15/2010, SA [redacted] attended SWAT training, qualifying with his SWAT-issued Springfield 1911A1 pistol. At the conclusion of the training, SA [redacted] departed the training area without cleaning or replacing service ammunition into the weapon. His pistol remained uncleaned, loaded with training ammunition, and stored inside a gun vault inside his Bureau vehicle.

On 09/17/2010, at approximately 7:30 a.m., SA [redacted] reported to the Las Vegas Division and retrieved his M-4 rifle and Springfield pistol from his vehicle. After visually verifying the rifle was clear and the bolt locked back, SA [redacted] picked up the holstered pistol which had a magazine inserted. He did not clear the pistol at that time, and carried both weapons to the gun cleaning area. SA [redacted] placed his rifle on one cleaning bench and his pistol on a second bench. Realizing he left his rifle cleaning equipment inside his vehicle, SA [redacted] left both weapons on the gun cleaning benches to retrieve his cleaning equipment.

Upon his return to the cleaning area, SA [redacted] partially disassembled his M-4 rifle then moved to the second bench and retrieved his holstered pistol, while talking to SA [redacted]. He picked up his pistol from the bench with his right hand, pointed it in a safe direction, and began to remove it from the holster. According to SA [redacted] "I had the grip of the weapon in my right hand and I was holding the holster in my left hand, in an upside down 'U'. I broke the thumb break of the holster, depressed the magazine catch to remove the magazine, and then pressed down on the safety. I released the safety in order to lock the slide back, expel any unused ammunition, and then perform a visual clear of the barrel. As I continued to remove the weapon from the holster a round was discharged; I had never fully removed the weapon from the holster."

After the discharge, SA [redacted] put the weapon down and checked to ensure SA [redacted] was okay. No personal injury and minimal property damage were incurred as a result of SA [redacted] accidental discharge.

b7C

On 12/07/2010, the SIRG met to discuss the above-captioned shooting incident. Chief Inspector Donald E. Oswald, Office of Inspections (OI), Inspection Division (INSD), chaired the meeting and was a non-voting member. The following voting members were in attendance: [redacted], Trial Attorney, Civil Rights Division, USDOJ; [redacted] Trial Attorney, Criminal Division, USDOJ; Assistant Section Chief (SC) [redacted]

12/20/2010

Synopsis: The Shooting Incident Review Group (SIRG) reviewed a shooting incident that occurred on 12/20/2010, involving Special Agent (SA) [redacted] of the New York Field Office. SA [redacted] fired three rounds from her Bureau-issued Glock Model 22, .40 caliber pistol at two aggressive and unleashed approaching dogs. SIRG members recommended that no administrative action be taken against SA [redacted] as a result of her involvement in this shooting incident. b6 b7C

Administrative: Reference Electronic Communication of Supervisory Special Agents (SSAs) [redacted] and [redacted] dated 02/07/2011.

Details: This communication was prepared to furnish the analysis, comments, and recommendations of the SIRG with reference to the captioned shooting.

Details of the Shooting Incident

On 12/20/2010, at approximately 8:45 p.m., SA [redacted] and her mother were loading SA [redacted] vehicle with recently purchased items. During the process, SA [redacted] observed a male with two large, unleashed dogs in the parking lot. SA [redacted] opened her knapsack and flipped the thumb brake from the holster of her weapon. At that time, the dogs charged toward SA [redacted] and her mother. Fearing for their safety, SA [redacted] drew her weapon and fired three rounds at the dogs. Both dogs retreated and returned to their owner.

No personal injuries or property damage were incurred as a result of this shooting incident.

On 08/09/2011, the SIRG met to discuss the above-captioned shooting incident. Acting Assistant Director Jennifer Smith Love, Inspection Division (INSD), chaired the meeting and was a non-voting member. The following voting members were in attendance: Kenneth L. b7C

Synopsis: The Shooting Incident Review Group (SIRG) reviewed a shooting incident that occurred on 05/04/2010, involving Special Agent (SA) [redacted] of the New York Field Office. As SA [redacted] was conducting a second safety check of his weapon prior to departing a friend's residence, he accidentally discharged one round from his Bureau-issued Glock Model 22, .40 caliber pistol. SIRG members recommended that SA [redacted] be censured, suspended from duty for a period of three days, and receive documented remedial firearms training in regard to this shooting incident.

Administrative: Reference Electronic Communication of Supervisory Special Agent (SSA) [redacted] dated 06/30/2010.

Details: This communication was prepared to furnish the analysis, comments, and recommendations of the SIRG with reference to the captioned shooting.

UNCLASSIFIED

On 05/04/2010, SA [redacted] accidentally discharged one round from his Bureau-issued weapon into a drawer of a cabinet located at a friend's residence.

According to SA [redacted] he arrived in [redacted] Massachusetts at approximately 4:15 p.m., to attend the funeral of a friend. After inquiring about the planned events of the evening, he asked [redacted] the occupant of the residence, if he had a safe place to store his weapon. [redacted] advised he stored a friend's police-issued weapon on occasion, and felt comfortable storing SA [redacted] weapon in his home because no children were present and he had the only key to the residence.

SA [redacted] prepared his weapon for storage, placed it in a winter style bomber cap, and placed it in a small cabinet in the kitchen.

At approximately 4:30 p.m., before departing the residence, SA [redacted] rechecked the weapon after everyone except Leighton exited the residence. He removed the weapon from the cabinet and proceeded to remove it from the holster at a downward angle. SA [redacted] felt pressure on the trigger and saw a flash from the muzzle. He put the weapon down, surveyed the area, cleared the weapon, and conducted a function check. SA [redacted] stated the weapon operated correctly. It appeared as though SA [redacted] did not remove the magazine after clearing the chamber prior to storing the weapon.

SA [redacted] surveyed the area and located a hole through a desk and the wall. He immediately contacted his supervisor to report the incident.

No personal injury and minimal property damage were incurred as a result of SA [redacted] accidental discharge.

On 08/10/2010, the SIRG met to discuss the above-captioned shooting incident. Deputy Assistant Director Jennifer Smith Love chaired the meeting and was a non-voting member. The following voting members were in attendance: Chief Inspector Donald E. Oswald, Office of Inspections, Inspection Division (INSD); [redacted] Trial Attorney, Civil Rights Division, USDOJ; [redacted] Trial Attorney, Criminal Division, USDOJ; Assistant Section Chief (SC) [redacted] Violent Crime Section, Criminal Investigative Division; Unit Chief (UC) [redacted] Firearms Training Unit, Training Division (TD); UC [redacted] Defensive Systems Unit, TD; Supervisory Special Agent (SSA) [redacted], Special Weapons and Tactics

Operations Unit, Critical Incident Response Group; SSA [redacted] Investigative Law Unit, Office of General Counsel; SSA [redacted] Evidence Response Team Unit, Laboratory Division; and SSA [redacted] CR-2, Washington Field Office. The following non-voting members were also in attendance: Management and Program Analysts (MPAs) [redacted] and [redacted] Inspection Management Unit (IMU), Strategic Analysis Section, INSD. b6 b7C

The SIRG reviewed the above synopsized incident with the intent to: (1) evaluate the application of deadly force; (2) provide the Director with an evaluative analysis, observations, and recommendations for corrective actions from an operational standpoint (if any); (3) provide recommendations concerning training and/or safety issues; and (4) provide recommendations for administrative action if deemed necessary. b6 b7C

SIRG members unanimously recommended that SA [redacted] be censured, suspended from duty for a period of three days, and receive documented remedial firearms training in regard to this shooting incident.

The only observation pertained to SA [redacted] weapon not being submitted to the Weapons Management Facility (WMF) for examination. In order to ensure the FBI exercises due diligence in all accidental discharges, all weapons involved in accidental discharges should be returned expeditiously to the WMF for inspection and documentation. This examination will ensure all mechanical aspects of the weapon are within factory tolerances and no, as yet undetected mechanical malfunction exists that may have contributed to the accidental discharge. This matter will be discussed with the Assistant Director in Charge (ADIC) of the New York Field Office.

Synopsis: The Shooting Incident Review Group (SIRG) reviewed a shooting incident that occurred on 09/16/2010, involving Special Agent (SA) [redacted] of the Pittsburgh Division. While preparing her Bureau-issued Glock Model 22, .40 caliber semi-automatic pistol for cleaning, SA [redacted] accidentally discharged one round into a "clearing trap". SIRG members recommended that SA [redacted] be censured, suspended from duty for a period of three days, and receive documented remedial firearms training in regard to this shooting incident.

Administrative: Reference Electronic Communication of Supervisory Special Agent (SSA) [redacted] dated 10/04/2010.

Details: This communication was prepared to furnish the analysis, comments, and recommendations of the SIRG with reference to the captioned shooting.

UNCLASSIFIED

On 09/16/2010, SA [redacted] accidentally discharged her weapon in the gun cleaning room at the range.

Upon completion of firearms training and range clean-up, SA [redacted] dropped the magazine from her weapon and proceeded to the gun cleaning room. She entered the gun cleaning room, placed the barrel of the weapon into the canister used for clearing weapons prior to cleaning, and pulled the trigger in order to disassemble the weapon for cleaning. As she pulled the trigger, a round discharged into the canister.

No personal injury or property damage was incurred as a result of SA [redacted] accidental discharge.

SA [redacted] weapon was inspected by the Academy armorers for any malfunction, and it was determined to be in proper working order. b6 b7C

On 12/07/2010, the SIRG met to discuss the above-captioned shooting incident. Chief Inspector Donald E. Oswald, Office of Inspections (OI), Inspection Division (INSD), chaired the meeting and was a non-voting member. The following voting members were in attendance: [redacted] Trial Attorney, Civil Rights Division, USDOJ; [redacted] Trial Attorney, Criminal Division, USDOJ; Assistant Section Chief (SC) [redacted] Violent Crimes Section, Criminal Investigative Division; Unit Chief (UC) [redacted] Firearms Training Unit, Training Division (TD); UC [redacted] Defensive Systems Unit, TD; UC [redacted] Special Weapons and Tactics Operations Unit, Critical Incident Response Group; SSA [redacted] Investigative Law Unit, Office of General Counsel (OGC); SSA [redacted] Evidence Response Team Unit (ERTU), Laboratory Division (LD); SSA [redacted] Practical Applications Unit, TD; and SSA [redacted] CR-2, Washington Field Office. SIRG members unanimously recommended that SA [redacted] be censured, suspended from duty for a period of three days, and receive documented remedial firearms training in regard to this shooting incident.

SIRG members made one observation regarding this incident which pertained to a safety check of SA [redacted] weapon not being conducted. In an EC dated 12/15/2009, the Training Division provided the following guidance to all offices regarding the administration of the Firearms Training Program: b6 b7C

> At the conclusion of firearms training shooters will conduct a safety check. Prior to holstering or removing weapons from the firing line, a final safety check of all weapons must be conducted by a Firearms Instructor.
> Shooters must also conduct a safety check immediately prior to disassembly for cleaning.

Although not specified in the documentation submitted regarding the accidental discharge, it was noted by SIRG members that proper safety checks were not conducted upon completion of firearms training by SA [redacted] nor the Firearms Instructor.

Synopsis: The Shooting Incident Review Group (SIRG) reviewed a shooting incident that occurred on 03/11/2010, involving Special Agent (SA) [redacted] of the San Antonio Division. While preparing her Bureau-issued Glock Model 17, nine millimeter pistol for cleaning, SA [redacted] accidentally discharged one round. SIRG members recommended that SA [redacted] be censured, suspended from duty for a period of three days, and receive documented remedial firearms training in regard to this shooting incident.

Administrative: Reference Electronic Communication (EC) of Assistant Special Agent in Charge (ASAC) [redacted] dated 03/15/2010.

Details: This communication was prepared to furnish the analysis, comments, and recommendations of the SIRG with reference to the captioned shooting.

UNCLASSIFIED

On 03/11/2010, SA [redacted] completed mandatory firearms qualification. Preparing to clean her weapon, SA [redacted] removed the gun from its holster to begin the disassembly process. Knowing the magazine had been removed, SA [redacted] pulled the trigger, accidentally discharging one round which traveled through the bottom portion of a wooden table and struck the concrete.

According to SA [redacted], because there was no magazine in the weapon, it did not occur to her that she had not performed a safety check and did not realize a live round was in the weapon's chamber.

No personal injury and minimal property damage were incurred as a result of SA [redacted] accidental discharge.

On 08/10/2010, the SIRG met to discuss the above-captioned shooting incident. Deputy Assistant Director Jennifer Smith Love chaired the meeting and was a non-voting member. The following voting members were in attendance: Chief Inspector Donald E. SIRG members unanimously recommended that SA [redacted] be censured, suspended from duty for a period of three days, and receive documented remedial firearms training in regard to this shooting incident.

SIRG members made two observations regarding this incident. The first observation pertained to a safety check of SA [redacted] weapon not being conducted. In an EC dated 12/15/2009, the Training Division provided the following guidance to all offices regarding the administration of the Firearms Training Program:

> At the conclusion of firearms training shooters will conduct a safety check. Prior to holstering or removing weapons from the firing line, a final safety check of all weapons must be conducted by a Firearms Instructor.
> Shooters must also conduct a safety check immediately prior to disassembly for cleaning.

It was noted by SIRG members that proper safety checks were not conducted upon completion of firearms training by SA [redacted] nor the Firearms Instructor.

The second observation pertained to SA [redacted] weapon not being submitted to the Weapons Management Facility (WMF) for examination. In order to ensure the FBI exercises due diligence in all accidental discharges, all weapons involved in accidental discharges should be returned expeditiously to the WMF for inspection and documentation. This examination will ensure all mechanical aspects of the weapon are within factory tolerances and no, as yet undetected mechanical malfunction exists that may have contributed to the accidental discharge. These observations will be discussed with the Special Agent in Charge of the San Antonio Division.

Details of the Shooting Incident

On 10/31/2010, at approximately 10:15 p.m., PO [redacted] attended his quarterly firearms qualifications at the FBIHQ indoor range. Although PO [redacted] pistol misfired three times during his qualification, he qualified on his first attempt.

As PO [redacted] departed the range to go to his post, he walked by the gun cleaning room. Seeing the room was dark and empty, he decided to put oil on the rails and slide of the weapon. He removed the magazine and turned to the wall to break down the pistol. As he pulled the trigger in order to release the slide, one round discharged through the cleaning table with a fragment lodging in the wall behind the table.

No personal injuries were incurred as a result of PO [redacted] accidental discharge. b6 b7C

On 03/20/2010, at approximately 11:00 a.m., SA [redacted] accidentally discharged his personally-owned, Bureau-approved Glock Model 21, pistol inside his hotel room.

On the morning of 03/20/2010, SA [redacted] unloaded his pistol, conducted a safety check, and practiced "dry firing". Upon completion of his "dry firing", SA [redacted] reloaded the weapon and took a shower. A short time later SA [redacted] decided to "dry fire" again and as he pressed the trigger, one round discharged striking a mirror. SA [redacted] realized the weapon contained a magazine and he failed to conduct a safety check before "dry firing" the second time.

No personal injuries were incurred as a result of SA [redacted] accidental discharge, and property damage was minimal.

SA [redacted] weapon was inspected by Defensive Systems Unit Gunsmith [redacted], and determined to be in proper working order.

Synopsis: The Shooting Incident Review Group (SIRG) reviewed a shooting incident that occurred on 10/28/2009, involving Detroit Special Weapons and Tactics (SWAT) Special Agent (SA) [redacted] Critical Incident Response Group (CIRG), Hostage Rescue Team (HRT) Supervisory Special Agent (SSA) [redacted] and HRT SAs [redacted] and [redacted] During the execution of federal arrest warrants, the four Agents returned fire killing a subject who fired three rounds in their direction and resulted in the death of an HRT K-9. SIRG members unanimously concluded that the use of deadly force by the Agents was justified and no administrative action should be taken against any Agent involved in this shooting incident.

Administrative: Reference report of Inspector Kenneth L. Moore, dated 12/17/2009.

Details: This communication was prepared to furnish the analysis, comments, and recommendations of the SIRG with reference to the captioned shooting.

Details of the Shooting Incident

On 10/28/2009, during the execution of federal arrest warrants at a planned undercover meeting, Luqman Ameen Abdullah, also know as Christopher Thomas, was shot and killed by members of the Detroit Division SWAT team and the CIRG, HRT. Four Agents returned fire after the subject fired three rounds from his Glock nine millimeter weapon in the direction of the Agents which resulted in the death of an HRT K-9.

Abdullah was the leader of a nationwide radical fundamentalist Sunni group whose primary mission was to establish an "Ummah," a separate Islamic state inside the United States governed by Shariah Law. Investigation revealed Abdullah and his followers, many of whom were convicted felons, trained regularly in the use of firearms, martial arts, and sword fighting. Additionally, investigation determined Abdullah advocated violence against the government and law enforcement.

In October 2008, the Detroit Division initiated an Undercover Operation (UCO) targeting Abdullah who, along with his associates, were knowingly involved in receiving and selling stolen property from interstate shipments.

On 10/21/2009, a briefing regarding the impending arrests of Abdullah and his associates was held at an [redacted] The briefing was held to review the operations order, tactical assignments, and conduct rehearsals of possible arrest scenarios [redacted] Additionally, Acting Associate Division Counsel SA [redacted], Assistant Special Agent in Charge (ASAC) [redacted] provided Special Agent in Charge (SAC) Andrew G. Arena with a summary and progress of the plan. SAC Arena requested that ASAC [redacted] determine if any alternative methods of conducting the arrests or locations for conducting the arrests provided a safer scenario. ASAC [redacted] directed SSA [redacted] and the Detroit SWAT Team to explore other options for the arrests for consideration by SAC Arena.

On 10/22/2009, ASAC [redacted] SSA [redacted] SA [redacted] and SWAT Senior Team Leader (STL) [redacted] met with SAC Arena to discuss [redacted]

On 10/27/2009, an all participant briefing was held to review the operations order, assignments, contingency plans, and the FBI's Deadly Force Policy. Following the briefing, an executive briefing regarding the arrest plan was provided to senior members of the Dearborn Police Department (DPD), Detroit PD, and the Wayne County Sheriff's Office.

On the evening of 10/27/2009, ASAC [redacted] received an email message from case Agent [redacted] regarding new information obtained from [redacted]

On 10/28/2009, at approximately 8:00 a.m., Detroit SWAT and HRT teams assembled at the designated staging area. STL conducted a mission brief and received brief backs [redacted] b6 b7C b7E Prior to the departure of assembled personnel, SAC Arena addressed the group reminding them to have trigger and mission discipline and remain focused on their assignments.

At approximately 9:30 a.m., the tactical teams were transported covertly to [redacted] At the completion of the briefing, SWAT and HRT operators proceeded to their assigned positions in the warehouse awaiting the arrival of the subjects.

At approximately 11:45 a.m., Abdullah and four companions arrived at the warehouse [redacted] b7D b7E

STL [redacted] assumed control of the scene and began counting down from five. When the count reached one, HRT SA [redacted] detonated diversionary devices and STL [redacted] instructed the arrest team to "execute." The tactical teams quickly exited their rooms and moved to cover positions. The b6 b7C diversionary devices startled and disoriented the subjects who attempted to find hiding places and/or exit the warehouse through a locked door. All of the subjects were forced to return to the immediate loading dock area of the warehouse.

At the command, "shields up," three shield teams advanced forward while the K-9 team moved forward toward the north wall, in the direction of the subjects. As the arrest team moved forward, loud and repetitive commands of "FBI, get down," were given. As the K-9 team reached the end of the counter near the trailer bay doors, the remainder of the arrest team cleared the danger areas and formed a half circle. According to the participants, repeated loud and clear verbal commands were given to the subjects, identifying the arrest team as FBI and instructing the subjects to assume a prone position with their hands visible. As the commands were given, three of the five subjects assumed prone positions in front of the trailer containing the televisions. A fourth subject laid prone behind a pallet partially loaded with televisions; however, Abdullah continued to disobey law enforcement commands. He moved into the trailer containing the televisions, peering out as arrest team members approached. As law enforcement personnel continued shouting commands, Abdullah moved into a prone position hiding his hands beneath his body. Law enforcement personnel instructed Abdullah to expose his hands and was told if he continued to disobey commands, a dog would be released. Abdullah maintained his position with his hands tucked underneath his body. HRT SA [redacted] was told to move up with HRT K-9 "Freddy." SSA [redacted] and SA [redacted] moved forward with SA [redacted] to serve as his cover team.

After Abdullah failed to comply with additional commands, SA [redacted] released "Freddy" towards Abdullah. "Freddy" bit the subject in the upper portion of his left arm and the palm of his left hand. SA [redacted] observed what appeared to be a Glock pistol in Abdullah's right hand and yelled "gun, gun." Abdullah fired three rounds, striking the K-9 at least twice. Fearing for their lives as well as the safety of other team members, four arrest team members returned fire striking Abdullah with each round. b6 b7C

SAs [redacted] and [redacted] moved into the trailer to secure Abdullah. Rolling him onto his chest and handcuffing him, SA [redacted] recovered the subject's weapon and SA [redacted] cleared the weapon. At that time, SA [redacted] a SWAT Operator/Tactical EMT, conducted an initial assessment and advised Abdullah was deceased. The remaining four subjects were handcuffed and turned over to the prisoner handling team.

Shortly after the shooting incident, STL [redacted] advised the Command Post/Tactical Operations Center and the arrest team members at the scene that Adbullah and "Freddy" had been shot, five subjects were in custody and a MEDIVAC was needed for the K-9. "Freddy" was transported via HRT helicopter to the Veterinarian Emergency Service for treatment; however, he died as a result of his injuries.

STL [redacted] controlled the scene and arranged for members of the HVA to respond to the warehouse to assess the subject. HVA responded at approximately 12:17 p.m.; however, they were initially prohibited from entering the scene for approximately ten minutes by the DPD who had units controlling the perimeter. DPD units were not familiar with the HVA's role and were unaware they had been contracted by the FBI to provide emergency medical services. SA [redacted] subsequently noticed the HVA was waiting to gain access to the scene and arranged for HVA Paramedics to enter the warehouse. Paramedics determined the subject was deceased and assessed there was no need to attempt resuscitation.

On 10/30/2009, Wayne County Prosecuting Attorney [redacted] was briefed on the incident. [redacted] recused her office based on the long-term federal nature of the investigation, classified portions of the investigation, and her belief that her office would not have complete access to possible federal grand jury or Title III information. Prosecuting Attorney [redacted] requested the Office of the Attorney General for the State of Michigan conduct an investigation.

On 11/04/2009, Inspector Moore and DPD command staff met with the Bureau Chief of the Michigan Attorney General's Office and provided a briefing of the incident to him and staff members. A second meeting was scheduled for 11/09/2009, to allow a representative of the Attorney General's Office to review signed sworn statements and other evidence.

On 10/13/2010, the Civil Rights Division, United States Department of Justice, concluded no federally prosecutable civil rights violation associated with the evidence existed.

On 12/07/2010, the SIRG met to discuss the above-captioned shooting incident. Chief Inspector Donald E. Oswald, Office of Inspections (OI), Inspection Division (INSD), chaired the meeting and was a non-voting member. The following voting members were in attendance: [redacted] Trial Attorney, Civil Rights Division, USDOJ; [redacted] Trial Attorney, Criminal Division, USDOJ; Assistant Section Chief (SC) [redacted] Violent Crimes Section, Criminal Investigative Division; Unit

The SIRG reviewed the above synopsized incident with the intent to: (1) evaluate the application of deadly force; (2) provide the Director with an evaluative analysis, observations, and recommendations for corrective actions from an operational standpoint (if any); (3) provide recommendations concerning training and/or safety issues; and (4) provide recommendations for administrative action if deemed necessary.

Inspector Kenneth L. Moore, who conducted the shooting investigation, provided SIRG attendees an in-depth review of the incident, including video taken during the operation.

SIRG members unanimously concurred that the use of deadly force by the Agents was justified and in conformance with the FBI's Deadly Force Policy. This resulted in the recommendation that no administrative action should be taken against SSA [redacted] SA [redacted] SA [redacted] and SA [redacted] as a result of their involvement in this shooting incident.

SIRG members unanimously adopted the following observation/ instruction identified by the Shooting Incident Review Team (SIRT):

OBSERVATION #1: SA [redacted] CIRG, HRT, did not wear his issued ballistic vest during the operation as mandated by Bureau policy.

The Manual of Investigative Operations and Guidelines (MIOG) states "Wearing of body armor by SA personnel is mandatory during planned arrests, execution of search warrants and surveillances which can reasonable be expected to culminate in a confrontation with armed and dangerous subject(s)."

INSTRUCTION: That Assistant Director (AD), CIRG, ensure all HRT Operators comply with the MIOG requirement if sniper operator's role changes in a mission.

This matter will be discussed with the AD, CIRG, to ensure future compliance.

Additional areas of discussion centered around [redacted] as well as the utilization of less than lethal force methods during the apprehension of subjects.

[redacted] b7E

A second DOJ representative noted the operator had no cover and questioned why an available ballistic shield was not used during the operation. Members advised that once deadly force is applicable, a shield protects the person holding the shield but does not protect all persons involved. The second comment made by the attendee pertained to less than lethal options that could have been used instead of deadly force. Members emphasized the fact that use of a canine was a less lethal option and the distance was too large for the user of tasers.

DETROIT DIVISION
12/22/2009

Synopsis: The Shooting Incident Review Group (SIRG) reviewed a shooting incident that occurred on 12/22/2009, involving Special Agent (SA) [redacted] of the Detroit Division. During the apprehension of a subject who escaped custody while in the Flint, Michigan Resident Agency (FRA), SA [redacted] fired five rounds from his Bureau-issued Colt, model M4A1 rifle, killing the subject. SIRG members unanimously recommended that no administrative action be taken against SA [redacted] as a result of his involvement in this shooting incident. b6 b7C

Administrative: Reference report of Inspector Joseph S. Campbell, dated 12/22/2010.

Details: This communication was prepared to furnish the analysis, comments, and recommendations of the SIRG with reference to the captioned shooting.

Details of the Shooting Incident

In December 2009, a member of the Genesee County Safe Streets Task Force (GCSSTF) briefed FRA Supervisory Senior Resident Agent (SSRA) [redacted] on the status of a [redacted] investigation. According to Task Force Officer (TFO) [redacted] enough probable cause existed to arrest Kenneth Mose-Alce Muse III for the state criminal charge of [redacted] b6 b7A b7C

UNCLASSIFIED

On 12/21/2009, TFOs [redacted], and [redacted] verbally discussed an arrest plan to apprehend Muse. After running various database checks, the TFOs began surveillance of Muse's last known address in Flint. TFO [redacted] also contacted Parole Agent (PA) [redacted] of the Flint Parole Office. In order to arrest Muse in a relatively secure and safe location, TFO [redacted] requested that PA [redacted] telephonically contact Muse to schedule a ruse parole meeting for the morning of 12/22/2009, at the Flint Parole Office. TFO [redacted] subsequently briefed SSRA [redacted] about the arrest plan. b6 b7C

On 12/21/2009, TFO [redacted] obtained a search warrant for Muse's last known residence and drafted a state criminal arrest affidavit to obtain an arrest warrant for Muse which was to be issued the following morning. On 12/22/2009, while waiting for the judge, TFO [redacted] coordinated Muse's planned appearance at the parole office with TFOs [redacted] and [redacted]. TFO [redacted] instructed them to arrest Muse on probable cause if he arrived at the parole office prior to the issuance of the arrest warrant. b6 b7C

A short time later, PA [redacted] telephoned TFO [redacted] and informed him Muse had arrived 15 minutes early and was accompanied by his mother and girlfriend. TFOs [redacted] and [redacted] observed Muse's arrival, entered the parole office, arrested him, and transported him to the FRA while TFO [redacted] obtained the arrest warrant.

Upon arrival at the FRA, Muse was escorted and placed in the polygraph/processing room by TFO [redacted]. The subject was placed in a chair with one wrist handcuffed to a wall mounted restraint bar and his opposite wrist unsecured. TFO [redacted] remained in the room with Muse and awaited TFO [redacted] arrival. b6 b7C

At approximately 11:00 a.m., TFO [redacted] arrived at the FRA with the authorized arrest warrant for Muse and SSRA [redacted] departed for an unrelated meeting. TFOs [redacted] and [redacted] escorted Muse from the polygraph/processing room to a small interview/conference room for interrogation. Muse stated he did not want to go back to prison and although [redacted] b7A

Muse's mother and girlfriend arrived at the FRA to obtain information on Muse. A short time later, Muse's long-time associate, [redacted] arrived. TFO [redacted] met with the subject's mother and girlfriend and escorted them to the room where Muse had been interrogated. In the presence of TFOs [redacted] and [redacted] they were permitted to speak to Muse. Following a brief conversation, the subject's girlfriend was escorted back to the b6 b7C lobby. TFO [redacted] escorted Muse from the interview room back to the polygraph/processing room, placed him in a chair, and secured and handcuffed one of his wrists to the wall mounted restraint bar. TFO [redacted], the last official responsible for securing Muse, exited the room leaving him unattended.

At that point, TFOs [redacted] and [redacted] interviewed [redacted] who stated she was familiar with [redacted] and advised she [redacted] declared she knew nothing [redacted] when he arrived at her residence [redacted] TFO [redacted] finished his line of questioning and exited the room leaving [redacted] and TFO [redacted] in the interview room. b6 b7A b7C

Although handcuffed and restrained by one wrist to the wall mounted restraint bar, Muse was able to slip his wrist from the handcuff and free himself. Muse exited the security door leading to the RA lobby, met his girlfriend, and they proceeded to the RA parking lot.

At approximately 12:40 p.m., TFO [redacted] looked inside the room where Muse had been restrained and saw he was gone. TFO [redacted] immediately checked the adjoining areas and telephonically contacted TFO [redacted] to advise of Muse's escape. After determining the Chevrolet Avalanche belonging to Muse's mother was not in the parking lot, TFO [redacted] radioed police dispatch and placed a lookout for the vehicle. b6 b7C

SA [redacted] entered the FRA breakroom and requested that SSRA [redacted] meet him in the hallway to discuss the situation. After learning of Muse's escape, SSRA [redacted] advised Principal Relief Supervisor [redacted] and SA [redacted] of the situation. SSRA [redacted] also advised he had to leave the RA for a scheduled appointment in the Detroit office. TFO [redacted] also advised SSRA [redacted] of Muse's escape and was told to, "find Muse and inform of his capture!" SSRA [redacted] indicated he would, "take care of the FBI side." At that time, SSRA [redacted] did not notify the ASAC or SAC of the escape. b6 b7C

TFOs [redacted] and [redacted] and SA [redacted] prepared for the prior planned search warrant at Muse's last known residence. It was anticipated Muse may have stopped at the residence following his escape. A verbal operations plan was developed for the potential search and apprehension of Muse at his residence.

Upon their arrival, TFOs [redacted] and [redacted] knocked and announced the presence of law enforcement. Inside the residence were [redacted] an unidentified female, and the female's infant. TFOs and Agents secured the perimeter of the residence and conducted a search. Three firearms were found and confiscated; however, Muse was not located.

At approximately 2:00 p.m., SA [redacted] and TFOs [redacted] and [redacted] observed the black colored Chevrolet Avalanche being driven in the vicinity of Winona Street. SA [redacted] called SA [redacted] requesting his assistance and attempts were made to locate a marked police vehicle to find and stop the subject vehicle. Before the marked police vehicle arrived, the Avalanche pulled into a driveway and stopped. The three occupants of the vehicle were called out into the street. After interviews of the occupants were completed, two were taken to another location while the third, who claimed to have knowledge of Muse's location, stayed with TFO [redacted]

TFO [redacted] informed TFO [redacted] the confidential source recently observed Muse at the Vincent Court Apartments in Flint. Although no specific apartment was identified, a general description of the building was relayed. SAs [redacted] and [redacted] as well as TFO [redacted] departed the FRA enroute to the apartments. Additionally, SAs [redacted] and [redacted] along with TFO [redacted] proceeded to the apartment complex.

Efforts were coordinated to surround the perimeter of the apartments with additional uniformed law enforcement personnel. SAs [redacted] and [redacted], as well as TFOs [redacted] and [redacted] initially set up surveillance outside the gate of the apartments. The complex consisted of three separate building structures, each containing multiple townhouse style floor plans.

Based on the initial description of the apartment provided by TFO [redacted] it was believed that Muse may have been secluded in the south building structure. When the marked OGCS patrol vehicles arrived in the vicinity, SAs [redacted], and [redacted] advanced forward into the complex concealing themselves behind a metal garbage dumpster. SA [redacted] and TFO [redacted] set up a rear perimeter around the side and rear of the south building structure while TFO [redacted] remained on the street just outside the complex.

TFO [redacted] arrived at the complex with the confidential source who identified the specific location where Muse was last observed. TFO [redacted] relocated the source at an undisclosed

b7C

b6
b7C

b6

location, returned to the scene, and parked in front of the complex.

Genesee County Assistant Prosecuting Attorney (APA) [redacted] overheard the radio traffic and telephone calls and observed text/email messages on TFO [redacted] Blackberry device. Based on the information at hand, combined with the historical information from the 2004 Bradley robbery/homicide, Muse's recent escape, and the recovery of firearms, APA [redacted] immediately authorized an exigent circumstances entry of the location to apprehend Muse.

Shortly after 2:30 p.m., TFO [redacted] exited his vehicle and without stopping or communicating, walked past all law enforcement personnel set up at the adjacent south building structure and proceeded to the east building structure. Displaying only his agency badge, TFO [redacted] knocked on the door of [redacted] SAs [redacted] and [redacted] followed by other law enforcement personnel, left their concealed positions to assist TFO [redacted] SA [redacted] and TFO [redacted] moved to cover the rear of the east building structure.

After TFO [redacted] knocked on the apartment door, a juvenile African American female opened the door. TFO [redacted] identified himself and asked if Muse was inside the apartment. After replying negatively, the juvenile indicated [redacted] (Muse) was upstairs by pointing in that direction. TFO [redacted] followed by SAs [redacted] and [redacted] along with OGCS Deputies [redacted] and [redacted] entered the apartment after being permitted entry by the juvenile. After a short interview with the juvenile, the law enforcement team moved forward to conduct a safety check of the residence.

SAs [redacted] and [redacted] moved along the wall on the main floor toward the kitchen area, clearing the dining room/kitchen area. As the main floor was being cleared, TFO [redacted] SA [redacted] Deputy [redacted] and Deputy [redacted] ascended the stairway toward the upstairs level accompanied by the juvenile. Team members announced, "Sheriff's Office" and "Police" on multiple occasions while calling out Muse's name. As SA [redacted] entered one bedroom, he was met by a female, later identified as [redacted] who was escorted to another room with the juvenile. Observing the subject in a crouched position behind one of the beds, SA [redacted] directed Muse to show his hands. Ignoring law enforcement commands, Muse aggressively lunged toward SA [redacted] and attempted to grab his rifle. As SA [redacted] and Muse began to scuffle, SA [redacted] fell to the floor with Muse on top of him. Perceiving an imminent threat of death or serious bodily harm, SA [redacted] fired five rounds striking Muse. TFO [redacted] heard the commotion and ran to assist SA [redacted] firing two rounds from his pistol. One round struck Muse in the back of the head and the second round struck SA [redacted] in the foot.

Due to the absence of emergency medical services at the scene, SAs [redacted] and [redacted] were driven to a hospital in a patrol vehicle. An OGCS Deputy/Paramedic, who had assisted with providing perimeter support during the arrest, determined Muse was not breathing. She telephoned a Hurley Medical Center Emergency Room physician to advise of her assessment. The doctor concurred and pronounced Muse deceased. b6 b7C

SA [redacted] recovered from his injury.

Immediately following the shooting, SA [redacted] attempted to telephone SSRA [redacted] to advise of the incident. The call failed and SA [redacted] telephonically contacted SA [redacted] at the FRA who contacted SSRA [redacted] at the Detroit Field Office and informed him of the incident. SSRA [redacted] personally contacted Special Agent in Charge (SAC) Andrew G. Arena and Assistant Special Agents in Charge (ASACs) [redacted] and [redacted] to advise of the incident. b6 b7C

On 12/22/2010,Genesee County Prosecutor [redacted] advised his office would not authorize criminal charges against Special Agent [redacted] for his actions in this incident. On 11/22/2010, Deputy Chief [redacted] Criminal Section, U.S. Department of Justice (USDOJ), recommended the matter be closed due to insufficient evidence to support a prosecution under the criminal civil rights statutes.

On 08/09/2011, the SIRG met to discuss the above-captioned shooting incident. Acting Assistant Director Jennifer Smith Love, Inspection Division (INSD), chaired the meeting and was a non-voting member. The following voting members were in attendance: Kenneth L. Moore, Chief Inspector, Office of Inspections (OI), INSD; [redacted] Trial Attorney, Civil Rights Division, USDOJ; [redacted] Trial Attorney, Criminal Division, USDOJ; Assistant Section Chief (SC) [redacted] Violent Criminal Threat Section, Criminal Investigative Division; SC Robert Allan Jones, CD-2, Counterintelligence Division; Acting Unit Chief (UC) [redacted] Defensive Systems Unit, Training Division (TD); Acting UC [redacted] Special Weapons and Tactics Operations Unit, Critical Incident Response Group; SSA [redacted] Investigative Law Unit, Office of General Counsel (OGC); Acting UC [redacted] Evidence Response Team Unit (ERTU), Laboratory Division (LD); and SSA [redacted] CR-2, Washington Field Office. The following non-voting members were also in attendance: Inspectors April D. b6 b7C

Brooks, Joseph S. Campbell, Deirdre L. Pike, and Stephen E. Richardson, OI, INSD; Special Assistant [redacted] INSD; UC [redacted] Strategic Analysis Section (SAS); Inspection Management Unit (IMU), INSD; SSA [redacted] SAS, Inspection Analysis Unit (IAU), INSD; Management and Program Analysts (MPAs) [redacted] SAS, IAU, INSD; and [redacted] SAS, IMU, INSD. b6 b7C

Observations and Recommendations of the SIRG

The SIRG reviewed the above synopsized incident with the intent to: (1) evaluate the application of deadly force; (2) provide the Director with an evaluative analysis, observations, and recommendations for corrective actions from an operational standpoint (if any); (3) provide recommendations concerning training and/or safety issues; and (4) provide recommendations for administrative action if deemed necessary.

Subsequent to an overview of the incident provided by Inspector Campbell, SIRG members unanimously agreed that the use of deadly force by SA [redacted] was justified and in conformance with the FBI's deadly force policy. This discussion resulted in the recommendation that no administrative action be taken against SA [redacted] as a result of his involvement in this shooting incident. b6 b7C

SIRG members unanimously adopted the following observations and recommendations of the Shooting Incident Review Team:

OBSERVATION #1: Subject Kenneth Moses-Alice Muse III, while in custody, was left unattended in the FRA.

After Muse was interviewed by TFOs [redacted] and [redacted] he was escorted back to the polygraph/processing room. While in the polygraph/processing room, TFO [redacted] placed Muse in a chair, and with a set of handcuffs, secured and handcuffed one of Muse's wrists to a wall mounted restraint bar; Muse's opposite wrist remained unsecured. TFO [redacted] then left the room leaving Muse unattended. b6 b7C

Standard law enforcement practice indicates law enforcement officers are responsible for the welfare and condition of any prisoner brought into a temporary holding facility (the supervision, welfare, and security of that prisoner) until turned over to another law enforcement official, detention facility, or released. Prisoners, while present in an unmonitored temporary holding facility, should not be left unattended. Law enforcement officers, while in such a facility, must maintain close guard over prisoners at all times. Additionally, handcuffs are only a temporary restraining device and should not be intended for long term immobilization. Law enforcement officers should still remain vigilant over such temporarily restrained prisoners as a prisoner could cause injury to themselves in an attempt to defeat the restraining device or escape. Though immobilized, a prisoner should continue to be evaluated as a threat to the safety of themselves, the law enforcement official, or to the public at large.

RECOMMENDATION #1: That SAC, Detroit ensure all law enforcement personnel (Agents and Task Force Officers) are aware of the necessity to safeguard persons in temporary custody as a deterrent to injury or an escape attempt.

OBSERVATION #2: Prior to the arrest of Kenneth Moses-Alce Muse III, a verbal Operations Plan did not exist.

Prior to the entry of the 1222 Vincent Court Apartment, FRA and GCSSTF personnel did not develop an oral operations plan understood by appropriate law enforcement participants. According to MIOG, Part II, Section 11-1.1, "Certain situations may necessitate an oral briefing in lieu of the written plan in exigent circumstances. Any oral briefing should follow the requirements of written briefings by addressing five categories, specifically, Situation, Mission, Execution, Administration and Equipment, and Control and Communications."

By properly planning and preparing for arrest situations, the safety and effectiveness of Agents and officers can be enhanced during high-risk situations. Understanding that in this exigent circumstance a written plan would have been problematic, efforts should have been made to organize law enforcement participants and develop an oral plan to encourage safe and coordinated law enforcement activity. Activities that may result in the arrest of a potentially dangerous subject (as defined in MIOG) include: service of an arrest warrant; service of a search warrant at an occupied residence or building; and vehicle stops and surveillances conducted with the intent or reasonable likelihood of a resulting arrest of a dangerous subject.

INSTRUCTION #2: That SAC, Detroit ensure all FRA and GCSSTF sworn law enforcement personnel comply with the above MIOG requirement.

OBSERVATION #3: The FRA failed to establish and maintain leadership responsibility following the escape of Kenneth Moses-Alce Muse III, from the FRA.

When a subject in custody escapes from an FBI maintained facility, an increased risk of harm to the public and additional criminal activity is created. This necessitates expedient action by law enforcement to quickly resolve this matter. To ensure the most effective execution of this action, FBI leadership must engage and take control of the situation. This control should include directing organized interagency efforts and communication with partner agency command personnel to ensure a coordinated, safe, and successful outcome.

After being informed of a subject in custody escaping from an FBI maintained facility, the FRA SSRA opted to travel to Headquarters City to obtain evidence to be returned to the FRA, a matter of less importance which could have been rescheduled. When a dangerous assignment arises in which the practical application of firearms might be reasonably anticipated, the supervising official should take personal responsibility. The supervisor or his/her designated representative must assume leadership in such incidents where liaison and multi-agency coordination may be necessary. Additionally, the supervisor should oversee the planning and conduct of the operation at hand, as it is his/her responsibility to ensure all participants are aware of their roles and adhering to agency policy and procedure.

RECOMMENDATION #3: That SAC, Detroit Field Office, ensure supervisory personnel are aware of their leadership responsibilities during a crisis incident.

OBSERVATION #4: Upon the escape of a prisoner from an FBI maintained facility, Executive Management overseeing the facility was not appropriately notified of the incident.

With the exception of the Flint SSRA, notification to Detroit Field Office Executive Management (EM) as it pertained to an escaped prisoner from an FBI maintained facility was not communicated. It was not until after the shooting incident occurred that information relating to the initial escape was briefed to EM. As a result, coordinating efforts between jurisdictional law enforcement agencies occurred only after the shooting incident.

RECOMMENDATION #4: That SAC, Detroit ensure appropriate notifications are made to EM following the escape of prisoners from FBI space or personnel.

OBSERVATION #5: Upon being permitted entry, Agents and law enforcement officers failed to restrict movement and control of a non-law enforcement individual, thus jeopardizing the safety of those present; both officers and individuals.

As law enforcement officers announced their presence at the residence, a juvenile female was initially encountered. The juvenile indicated the subject was located in the upstairs area of the residence. After a brief interview and being permitted entry inside the residence, Agents and officers began to conduct a "safety clear" of the residence in order to secure the scene for further investigation. The juvenile was permitted to accompany the Agents and officers to the upstairs level. When Agents and officers encountered the suspect, an altercation quickly ensued which was followed by gunshots. As a result, the suspect in this matter was mortally wounded, and one Agent sustained injury. By being permitted to accompany the law enforcement team to the upstairs level, the juvenile was placed in a position of potential danger and/or capable of interfering in tactical law enforcement action.

Restricting the movement of non-law enforcement personnel for safety purposes and when tactical action is a possibility is an important function of responding Agent(s)/officer(s). Additionally, restricting the movement of non-law enforcement personnel is essential to maintaining crime scene integrity, officer safety, safeguarding evidence, and minimizing contamination.

RECOMMENDATION #5: That SAC, Detroit ensure Special Agents and Task Force Officers are aware of the necessity of securing and controlling non-law enforcement personnel for safety purposes and when tactical action is a possibility.

Synopsis: The Shooting Incident Review Group (SIRG) reviewed a shooting incident that occurred on 11/25/2009, involving Special Agent (SA) [redacted] of the Tampa Division. Prior to participating in firearms training, SA [redacted] accidentally discharged one round from his Glock Model 23, .40 caliber semi-automatic pistol. SIRG members recommended that SA [redacted] be censured, suspended from duty for a period of three days, and receive documented remedial firearms training in regard to this shooting incident.

Administrative: Reference Electronic Communication of Supervisory Special Agent (SSA) [redacted] dated 02/02/2010.

Details: This communication was prepared to furnish the analysis, comments, and recommendations of the SIRG with reference to the captioned shooting.

On 11/25/2009, quarterly firearms training was conducted for the Sarasota, Fort Myers, and Naples, Florida, Resident Agencies (RAs). Due to strong thunderstorms in the area, SA [redacted] arrived at the training facility after qualifications began and proceeded to a covered staging area located to the rear of the 50 yard line firing point. As he arrived at the staging area, other Agents were located at the ten or five yard line.

In preparation for his first Pistol Qualification Course (PQC), SA [redacted] left the covered staging area, faced away from the shooters on the firing line, and drew his pistol to practice sight acquisition. While looking through his sights, SA [redacted] pressed the trigger of his pistol causing one round to discharge. SA [redacted] stated his weapon was pointed at an angle toward the ground; however, the expended round could not be located.

No personal injury nor property damage was identified as a result of SA [redacted] accidental discharge.

On 08/10/2010, the SIRG met to discuss the above-captioned shooting incident. Deputy Assistant Director Jennifer Smith Love chaired the meeting and was a non-voting member. The following voting members were in attendance: Chief Inspector Donald E. Oswald, Office of Inspections, Inspection Division (INSD); [redacted] Trial Attorney, Civil Rights Division, USDOJ; [redacted], Trial Attorney, Criminal Division, USDOJ; Assistant Section Chief (SC) [redacted] Violent Crime Section, Criminal Investigative Division; Unit Chief (UC) [redacted] Firearms Training Unit, Training Division (TD); UC [redacted] Defensive Systems Unit, TD; Supervisory Special Agent (SSA) [redacted] Special Weapons and Tactics Operations Unit, Critical Incident Response Group; SSA [redacted] Investigative Law Unit, Office of General Counsel; SSA [redacted] Evidence Response Team Unit, Laboratory Division; and SSA [redacted] CR-2, Washington Field Office. The following non-voting members were also in attendance: Management and Program Analysts (MPAs) [redacted] and [redacted] Inspection Management Unit (IMU), Strategic Analysis Section, INSD.

Observations and Recommendations of the SIRG

The SIRG reviewed the above synopsized incident with the intent to: (1) evaluate the application of deadly force;

(2) provide the Director with an evaluative analysis, observations, and recommendations for corrective actions from an operational standpoint (if any); (3) provide recommendations concerning training and/or safety issues; and (4) provide recommendations for administrative action if deemed necessary.

SIRG members unanimously recommended that SA [redacted] be censured, suspended from duty for a period of three days, and receive documented remedial firearms training in regard to this shooting incident. b6 b7C

The only observation made by SIRG members pertained to SA [redacted] who upon arriving late to a firearms training event, drew and manipulated a weapon from behind the firing line while other participants were shooting downrange from his position. SIRG members emphasized the fact that firearms instructors have control of the range and any manipulation of firearms within the training facility. This matter will be discussed with the Tampa Division Special Agent in Charge.

While working with local law enforcement authorities in Operation WAVE (Working Against Violent Elements), Agents from the Fairview Heights Resident Agency (FHRA) were conducting investigations into gang/drug related activity in East St. Louis, Illinois.

On 02/02/2010, Federal, state, and local law enforcement personnel attempted to interview four individuals located inside a vehicle in the vicinity of a reported open air drug market. The four individuals fled the scene and were subsequently stopped several blocks away. Two of the subjects were detained by local authorities and two fled the scene on foot.

Investigation determined a nearby residence was connected with the subjects. Three State Troopers along with FBI SA [redacted] proceeded to the identified residence to conduct further investigation. SA [redacted] and Sgt. [redacted] approached the front door of the residence while two state troopers proceeded to the rear of the house. As SA [redacted] and Sgt. [redacted] knocked and announced their presence a subject, later identified as [redacted] appeared inside the front door. Law enforcement personnel repeatedly announced "Police" and ordered the subject to show both hands. [redacted] refused to comply with law enforcement commands and was observed holding a black semi-automatic pistol in his right hand.

Believing their lives were in danger as [redacted] raised his pistol toward them, SA [redacted] and Sgt. [redacted] fired multiple rounds, injuring the subject.

Emergency Medical Services were notified and [redacted] was transported to the Kenneth Hall Regional Hospital for treatment of multiple gunshot wounds. Once stabilized, he was transported to the St. Louis University Hospital for surgical procedures. [redacted] was released from the hospital on 02/18/2010, and arrested upon his release. b6 b7C

Captain [redacted] advised the ISP preferred the investigation be adjudicated by the Federal Southern District of Illinois. Captain [redacted] advised it was not necessary to obtain a local prosecutive opinion from the St. Clair County District Attorney. On 03/09/2010, a declination of prosecution was received from the United States Department of Justice, Civil Rights Division, regarding the action of law enforcement personnel discharging their weapons.

On 08/10/2010, the SIRG met to discuss the above-captioned shooting incident. Deputy Assistant Director Jennifer Smith Love chaired the meeting and was a non-voting member. The following voting members were in attendance: Chief Inspector [redacted] Office of Inspections, Inspection Division (INSD); [redacted] Trial Attorney, Civil Rights Division, USDOJ; [redacted] Trial Attorney, Criminal Division, USDOJ; Assistant Section Chief (SC) [redacted] Violent Crime Section, Criminal Investigative Division; Unit Chief (UC) [redacted] Firearms Training Unit, Training Division (TD); UC [redacted] Defensive Systems Unit, TD; Supervisory Special Agent (SSA) [redacted] Special Weapons and Tactics Operations Unit, Critical Incident Response Group; SSA [redacted] Investigative Law Unit, Office of General Counsel; SSA [redacted] Evidence Response Team Unit, Laboratory Division; and SSA [redacted] CR-2, Washington Field Office. The following non-voting members were also in attendance: Management and Program Analysts (MPAs) [redacted] and [redacted] Inspection Management Unit (IMU), Strategic Analysis Section, INSD. b6 b7C

The SIRG reviewed the above synopsized incident with the intent to: (1) evaluate the application of deadly force; (2) provide the Director with an evaluative analysis, observations, and recommendations for corrective actions from an operational standpoint (if any); (3) provide recommendations concerning training and/or safety issues; and (4) provide recommendations for administrative action if deemed necessary.

SIRG members unanimously agreed that the use of deadly force by SA [redacted] was justified and in conformance with the FBI's deadly force policy.

SIRG members unanimously adopted the following recommendation of the Shooting Incident Review Team: b6 b7C

RECOMMENDATION: SAC, Springfield should consider documenting a WAVE initiative Standard Operations Order (SOO) detailing the roles of FBI personnel. The SOO should contain the FBI's Deadly Force Policy and the locations of all trauma centers, including their levels. The SOO should also include guidance regarding mobile arrest scenarios as well as criteria which would trigger the utilization of a Special Weapons and Tactics (SWAT) team. Additionally, it should include criteria regarding ASAC and SAC notification of initiative operations. All FBI personnel participating in the initiative should be presented with and briefed on the SOO.

This matter will be discussed with the Special Agent in Charge of the Springfield Division.

On 05/19/2010, he was traveling with SSA [redacted] a Washington Field Office supervisor who was attending a training conference on the base. SA [redacted] and SSA [redacted] were departing the AFB in SA [redacted] Bureau vehicle. As they approached the Dale Mabry Gate, AFB Security Forces (SF) initiated "lock down" procedures resulting in the closure of all entries and exits to the base. SA [redacted] drove around stopped traffic near the guard house, identified himself and SSA [redacted] as FBI Agents, and asked if assistance was needed. A SF officer advised shots had been fired on the base and the subject, later identified as Ronald James Bullock, was on a motorcycle being pursued by other officers toward their location. The officer asked SA [redacted] and SSA [redacted] if they were in possession of long guns. SA [redacted] advised he had a long gun, parked his vehicle, and retrieved his FBI-issued M-4 from the rear storage container of the vehicle. SA [redacted] put on a Special Weapons and Tactics (SWAT) tactical belt and holster which contained his Bureau-issued Glock pistol, three extra magazines, handcuffs, baton, and mace. SSA [redacted] assumed a position of cover next to SA [redacted] vehicle. b6 b7C

Officers continued pursuit of Bullock while SA [redacted] and SSA [redacted] assumed positions of cover. As Bullock struck a perimeter barrier cable with his motorcycle, seven officers engaged in the pursuit exited their vehicles and assumed positions behind him. Bullock crossed the barrier cable, produced a knife, and threatened SF personnel. He proceeded in the direction of SF officers and SA [redacted] As Bullock advanced, officers verbally directed him to drop the knife and get on the ground. Bullock continued his approach, making threatening gestures with the knife as he shouted "kill me, just kill me." SA [redacted] yelled, "FBI, drop the knife, drop the knife." Failing to obey all law enforcement commands, Bullock briskly moved toward SA [redacted] As he moved within three to four feet of SA [redacted] and continued to make threatening movements with his knife, SA [redacted] feared for his life and fired two rounds from his M-4 striking Bullock in the chest. b6 b7C

Immediately following the shooting, two SF officers approached Bullock who was face down on the ground. Bullock struggled with the officers as they attempted to remove the knife from his hand and apply handcuffs. After a short struggle, the knife was removed from Bullock's hand and he was handcuffed with his hands behind his back. One officer rolled Bullock onto his back and checked for a pulse with negative results. SF personnel began cardiopulmonary resuscitation until Emergency Medical Service personnel arrived and determined Bullock was deceased.

On 11/04/2010, the Hillsborough County State Attorney opined SA [redacted] actions did not violate Florida state statutes and declined prosecution in this matter. On 08/18/2010, the United States Department of Justice, Civil Rights Division, advised no federal criminal investigation was warranted regarding the actions of SA [redacted] during this incident.

On 12/07/2010, the SIRG met to discuss the above-captioned shooting incident. Chief Inspector [redacted] Office of Inspections (OI), Inspection Division (INSD), chaired the meeting and was a non-voting member. The following voting members were in attendance: [redacted] Trial Attorney, Civil Rights Division, USDOJ; [redacted] Trial Attorney, Criminal Division, USDOJ; Assistant Section Chief (SC) [redacted] Violent Crimes Section, Criminal Investigative Division; Unit Chief (UC) [redacted] Firearms Training Unit, Training Division (TD); UC [redacted] Defensive Systems Unit, TD; UC [redacted] Special Weapons and Tactics Operations Unit, Critical Incident Response Group; SSA [redacted] Investigative Law Unit, Office of General Counsel (OGC); SSA [redacted] Evidence Response Team Unit (ERTU), Laboratory Division (LD); SSA [redacted], Practical Applications Unit, TD; and SSA [redacted] CR-2, Washington Field Office. Chief Inspector [redacted] provided a brief overview of the incident to SIRG members.

SIRG members unanimously agreed that the use of deadly force by SA [redacted] was justified and in conformance with the FBI's Deadly Force Policy. This discussion resulted in the recommendation that no administrative action be taken against SA [redacted] as a result of his use of deadly force in this shooting incident. b6 b7C

On 06/16/2010, members of the New York Special Weapons and Tactics (SWAT) Team executed an arrest warrant in Jamaica, New York. SWAT operators [redacted] and [redacted] were assigned to the rear perimeter of the residence. SAs [redacted] and [redacted] placed two ladders against a large opaque fence located at the rear of the property which was approximately six feet tall with overgrown vegetation covering the entire fence.

At approximately 4:44 a.m., the house was breached and flashbangs were deployed inside the residence and the back yard due to the presence of a dog pen containing pit bull dogs as well as additional loose dogs in the yard. As the flashbangs were deployed in the yard, a large pit bull jumped on the dog house and attempted to jump the fence to attack SA [redacted]. The charging dog forced SA [redacted] to jump off of his ladder to avoid injury. Fearing for SA [redacted] safety, SA [redacted] fired three rounds killing the dog.

On 12/07/2010, the SIRG met to discuss the above-captioned shooting incident. Title: SHOOTING INQUIRY
REPORT OF SHOOTING INCIDENT
LOS ANGELES FIELD OFFICE
NOVEMBER 18, 2009

Character: ADMINISTRATIVE INQUIRY

b6
b7C

Synopsis: Special Agent (SA) [redacted] was at his home in Yorba Linda, California, at 2:00 a.m. on November 18, 2009, preparing to depart for a SWAT operation. SA [redacted] placed two gear bags, one of which contained his FBI credentials and his Bureau issued Springfield SWAT pistol, along with a cooler in his garage, then partially opened the roll-up garage door to exit the garage on foot and retrieve his drug detection trained canine from the backyard. As he neared his backyard, SA [redacted] observed a pickup truck, with at least two individuals in it, U-turn at the cul-de-sac adjacent to his home and drive back past his home. SA [redacted] returned to his garage a minute or two later and encountered three white males in his garage. SA [redacted] drew his Bureau approved, personally owned, Sig Sauer P229, .40 caliber pistol and confronted the subjects. SA [redacted] became involved in a physical altercation with one of the subjects as the other two ran from the garage. SA [redacted] subsequently chased the third subject from the garage to a pickup truck, where the other two were waiting. SA [redacted] attempted to stop the subjects from departing by reaching into the truck to remove the keys from the ignition. However, the driver put the truck into gear and steered into SA [redacted] while accelerating. SA [redacted] feared he would be killed or seriously injured, so he fired six rounds in rapid succession, hitting the rear window once, the tailgate three times, and both right tires before he determined the threat was no longer imminent. No one was injured by the shots, but SA [redacted] sustained minor injuries during the struggle.

DETAILS:

Special Agent (SA) [redacted] entered on duty on May 23, 1999. He was assigned to the Washington Field Office (WFO) after completing New Agents Training at Quantico, Virginia. While assigned to WFO, he served on an applicant squad, a violent gang squad, and a fugitive task force. SA [redacted] joined the WFO SWAT Team as an operator in April 2002. He transferred to the Los Angeles Field

Office in November 2003 and was assigned to work violent gang investigations. He was assigned to Squad 3 in the West Covina Resident Agency and served as the Violent Gang and Safe Streets Task Force coordinator. Since approximately February 2006, SA [redacted] has been a SWAT operator in the Los Angeles Field Office. In addition to SWAT training, SA [redacted] has received Safe Streets and a variety of other training related to tactics and violent crime. SA [redacted] has extensive investigative and arrest experience.

On November 17, 2009, SA [redacted] participated in early morning SWAT operations with the Los Angeles Field Office SWAT Team. On November 18, 2009, SA [redacted] was again scheduled to participate in SWAT operations which required his presence at a 3:30 a.m. briefing. Therefore, SA [redacted] went to bed in his home at [redacted] Yorba Linda, California, at 6:30 p.m. (Pacific Standard Time) on November 17, 2009. He slept soundly until he awakened at 1:15 a.m. on November 18, 2009. SA [redacted] got ready for work and began to depart the residence at 2:00 a.m. SA [redacted] was wearing green military-style cargo pants and a green jacket. He was not wearing anything that would identify him as an FBI Agent. However, he was wearing an in-the-pants holster holding a Bureau approved, personally owned, Sig Sauer P229, .40 caliber pistol, on the right side of his waist. The pistol, which holds 12 rounds in the magazine and one in the chamber, was fully loaded with Bureau issued ammunition.

SA [redacted] exited through his kitchen into the attached, two car, garage. The kitchen door enters the garage through the east corner. The roll-up, two car garage door is on the northwest wall and there is a window on the southwest wall. SA [redacted] wife's sport utility vehicle, a silver Acura MDX, was parked in the garage, nose pointed in, on the left side, along the northeast wall. The right parking space was not occupied by a vehicle. Once in the garage, SA [redacted] placed a cooler, a backpack, and a "Blackhawk" gear bag on an exercise mat, which was on the floor on the right or southwest side of his garage. The backpack was unzipped and contained, among other items, SA [redacted] FBI credentials and his FBI issued Springfield Arms, model 1911, .45 caliber pistol. The pistol was fully loaded and in a holster on the top of the backpack. SA [redacted] made one more trip into the house to retrieve his keys, then returned to the garage to complete his departure.

SA [redacted] partially opened the roll-up garage door by using his automatic garage door opener. SA [redacted] stopped the door from raising when the door was approximately three to four feet above ground level. The interior garage door light was illuminated and there was also an exterior floodlight illuminated. SA [redacted] ducked under the partially opened door to retrieve his narcotic detection trained canine, which was housed in the backyard, before loading his gear into his Bureau vehicle. SA [redacted] residence is the last home on the southeast side of the street, and there is a cul-de-sac just west of his residence. There are no houses situated directly on the cul-de-sac. SA [redacted] walked alongside the south side of his home as he walked east to the backyard. As he neared the southeast corner of the residence, he observed a light colored Ford F-150 pickup truck drive down the street and U-turn at the cul-de-sac. The truck continued back in a northeast direction, past SA [redacted] residence and out of his view. SA [redacted] observed a white male in the front passenger seat and the driver also appeared to be a white male. SA [redacted] stopped and watched the vehicle for about five seconds because his neighbor had been burglarized. SA [redacted] did not believe the occupants of the truck could have seen him. SA [redacted] continued into the backyard, opened a gate, and retrieved his canine from a temporary holding pen, situated just inside the gate. He attached a leash to the canine and brought her into the front yard by the partially opened garage door. Although the canine was not barking, she was excited and there was some noise made by the metal rings that attach her leash to her collar.

As he approached the south end of his partially opened garage door, he heard an unknown male voice coming from within. The only other occupants of the residence were SA [redacted] wife and his [redacted] SA [redacted] knelt down and looked into the garage, seeing a pair of legs standing in the garage just a few feet from the roll-up door. SA [redacted] drew his Sig Sauer pistol and ducked back into the garage. SA [redacted] found himself standing arms length from a white male, hereafter referred to as Subject #1. SA [redacted] held his pistol in his right hand, but retracted and close to his shoulder, and he extended his left hand in a defensive position for protection. SA [redacted] identified himself and issued a command of "police, don't move." SA [redacted] repeated the command and then noticed another subject, hereafter referred to as Subject #2, standing on the exercise mat next to his backpack that held his Springfield pistol and his FBI credentials. Subject #2 was looking down at the backpack and his body was facing northeast toward the Acura. Due to the positioning of Subject #2, SA [redacted] feared that Subject #2 may have taken his Springfield pistol. SA [redacted] continued to order the two subjects to get down, repeatedly identifying himself as the police. Both subjects froze, but neither obeyed his commands to get down.

SA [redacted] continued to issue similar commands to both subjects, when he observed a third subject, hereafter referred to as Subject #3. Subject #3 was standing on the step that leads from the garage into the kitchen. Subject #3 was looking at SA [redacted] and the kitchen door was ajar. SA [redacted] could not be sure if he left the door ajar, or whether Subject #3 had opened the door. SA [redacted] then began addressing his commands to all three subjects. SA [redacted] was concerned for his wife and [redacted] who were in the house, and he feared that the subjects, who clearly outnumbered him, may have possession of his Springfield pistol. SA [redacted] did not see the pistol in their hands and did not know for sure if they had taken the pistol.

Subject #3 then ran along the north wall, on the other side of the Acura and toward the roll-up door, which was still partially opened. SA [redacted] feared that Subject #3 was moving into a tactical position, and he also observed that Subjects #1 and #2 started approaching him. Subject #2 then moved toward the garage door while Subject #1 rushed and attacked SA [redacted] SA [redacted] continued to hold his pistol in his right hand in a retracted position, and he grabbed Subject #1 by the hair and began pushing him back and down with his left hand. SA [redacted] did not fire his weapon, but tried to maintain awareness of all three subjects while he moved into a defensive position, and pushed Subject #1 to the ground. Subject #1 grabbed SA [redacted] around the waist, in a bear hug, as SA [redacted] struggled to push him away. SA [redacted] recalled that the struggle knocked things over in the garage. Subject #1 then "bucked up" and began swinging at SA [redacted] SA [redacted] did not recall getting hit, but later realized that he had a bump and some swelling on his forehead. Subject #1 grabbed the right sleeve of SA [redacted] jacket, near his forearm, while SA [redacted] continued to hold his pistol with his right hand. At that point, SA [redacted] began swinging at the head of Subject #1 with his left fist, possibly hitting Subject #1 in the head. SA [redacted] did not fire at the subject because he feared that Subject #1 was so close that the round could hit both of them. SA [redacted] was able to push Subject #1 away and issue further commands of "police, get down" or something similar. Subject #1 then ran from the garage. This struggle lasted approximately 10-15 seconds.

SA [redacted] conducted a quick scan of the garage for other subjects, then began to pursue the subjects, fearing that they may have his Bureau-issued Springfield pistol. He pursued Subject #1, who was only about 15 yards in front of him, but was running north at a full sprint in front of SA [redacted] house. Subject #1 was running toward the Ford F-150 pickup truck that SA [redacted] had observed earlier. The truck was parked on the south side of the street approximately 3-4 houses northeast of SA [redacted] residence. Subject #1 opened the driver's door and got in, then closed the door as SA [redacted] was at the left rear of the truck. As SA [redacted] arrived at the driver's door, he observed that the driver's window was rolled down about half way. SA [redacted] stood by the left front quarter panel, facing the driver, as the mirror pressed into his left side lower back. Subject #1 attempted to roll the window up, as SA [redacted] reached in and held the window open with his left hand. SA [redacted] continued to hold his pistol in his right hand and in a retracted position by his right shoulder. SA [redacted] ordered the subjects to get out of the truck and continued to identify himself as the police. SA [redacted] commands were issued forcefully and probably included some obscenities. SA [redacted] observed three white males in the truck, with two in the front seats and one in the right rear seat of the extended cab.

SA [redacted] realized the truck was running, so he reached in with his left hand and attempted to remove the keys from the ignition. SA [redacted] was pressed tight against the truck, with his left hand over the steering column. SA [redacted] continued to order the subjects out of the truck as he tried to remove the keys, and Subject #1 slapped at his arm, while the others were yelling. SA [redacted] heard the engine race and feared that he may be killed if he didn't get the keys out of the ignition. At that point, SA [redacted] was still pressed tightly against the truck, with his left arm inside the truck, almost to his shoulder. SA [redacted] heard the engine race as Subject #1 turned the steering wheel sharply to the left, toward SA [redacted] SA [redacted] heard a bang as the truck's manual transmission was shifted into gear, and he believed Subject #1 was trying to run him down. The truck lurched to the left, pressing against SA [redacted] body, while his left arm was caught within the driver's window. The truck continued moving into SA [redacted] chest, striking his left leg and throwing him off balance. As his face was pressed against the truck and his arm was still inside the window, SA [redacted] made the decision to shoot at the driver because he feared that he was in imminent danger, and going to be killed. SA [redacted] fired six rounds from his Sig Sauer pistol in very quick succession, less than two seconds. Even after his arm was freed from the window his body continued to come into contact with the truck as it accelerated in his direction. The first shots were fired one handed with his right hand, but his left arm was freed from the window and SA [redacted] ended in a standing two handed shooting position. SA [redacted] stopped firing when the truck was five to seven yards away and he realized he was no longer in imminent danger.

SA [redacted] ran back toward his house and tried to call 911 while running, but his cell phone would not work. He checked the garage to ensure there were no other subjects present. SA [redacted] checked to see if his Springfield pistol was missing, and found that it was still in the backpack in his garage. He then asked his wife to call 911, but subsequently called himself when he realized that his wife did not know what had happened. After describing the events to the 911 operator, SA [redacted] unloaded his Sig Sauer and placed in on the kitchen counter to comply with a request made by the 911 operator.

The Brea Police Department (BPD), which contracts with the City of Yorba Linda to provide police services, responded, cordoned off most of the street, and conducted a neighborhood canvass for witnesses. SA [redacted] also provided a short, public safety, statement to the BPD. SA [redacted] advised the first responding officer that he had slight pain in his lower back. SA [redacted] did not believe that anything was missing from his home.

At approximately 6:00 a.m. that same morning, the BPD received a citizen's report of a suspicious vehicle, a truck with possible bullet holes, which was located at [redacted] Yorba Linda, California. The BPD responded and located the vehicle, which was a Ford F-150 pickup truck, California registration [redacted] The truck's rear window was shattered, and there appeared to be three bullet holes in the tailgate and two deflated tires on the right side of the vehicle. The pickup truck was registered to [redacted] Drive, Yorba Linda, California. The BPD arranged for SA [redacted] to view the vehicle and he identified it as the same vehicle that the subjects had fled in.

[redacted] was contacted by the BPD and advised that her pickup truck had been found on a street in Yorba Linda and it had bullet holes in it. [redacted] advised that her son [redacted] had been out with the pickup truck, but he was upstairs in their home. Subject [redacted] was contacted by the BPD, who informed him of the damage to the truck and asked if he was okay. [redacted] stated that he was okay, then spontaneously stated that he didn't have the key. [redacted] stated that he had been using the pickup truck until 11:30 p.m. on 11/17/2009, but he left it parked on Valley View, near his home. [redacted] claimed that he walked to [redacted] home and stayed there until 5:30 a.m. [redacted] could not explain what happened to the truck key after he parked and locked the truck, but admitted that none if his other keys were missing. [redacted] did admit that he was with [redacted] and [redacted] during the previous evening. [redacted] denied being involved in the burglary/assault, but made a statement which indicated he was aware that the truck had been shot while driving away. [redacted] was subsequently arrested by the BPD and he requested an attorney after being advised of his Miranda Rights. [redacted] is described as a white, male, DOB [redacted], height 5'7", weight 155 pounds.

[redacted] was interviewed by the BPD and he admitted knowledge of the incident, but denied involvement. [redacted] identified [redacted], and [redacted] as being in the truck that evening. [redacted] had spoken with [redacted] and [redacted] after the incident, and both admitted that they had been shot at, but no one was hurt. When [redacted] asked why someone had shot at them, [redacted] mentioned something about a garage, but could not recall the details of what [redacted] had said. [redacted] made similar statements and advised [redacted] that the tires had been shot out.

[redacted] was contacted by the BPD and FBI and placed under arrest by the BPD. [redacted] originally requested an attorney when contacted, but reconsidered after speaking with his father. He subsequently spoke with the police and FBI at the BPD station. [redacted] admitted that he was in the truck and riding around with [redacted] and [redacted] asked the other three, "you want me to go up on Valley View?" [redacted] understood [redacted] comment as an offer to break into something. The four subsequently drove down a cul-de-sac in Yorba Linda, U-turned at the end of the cul-de-sac, and passed by a partially opened garage door. The garage door was approximately half way up, and the light was on inside the garage. [redacted] pulled over and asked [redacted] if he wanted to hit it. [redacted] advised that he and [redacted] exited the pickup truck, while [redacted] and [redacted] stayed in the truck. [redacted] stated that [redacted] went into the garage, under the door [redacted] saw a dog coming around the corner and a leash, while he stayed at the door. [redacted] saw a guy (SA [redacted]) come around and he had a gun. [redacted] yelled "run" and he began to run toward the truck. [redacted] heard SA [redacted] saying "get on the ground." [redacted] heard SA [redacted] say other things, including "what are you doing, get on the ground."

[redacted] ran to the truck and got in the passenger side. [redacted] got back in the driver's side door and closed the door; however, the window was down. According to [redacted] once the door was closed, SA [redacted] came up to the driver's door and pointed the gun at [redacted] head, saying "I'm going to fucking kill you! Get out of the fucking truck." [redacted] heard [redacted] tell SA [redacted] "I give up, just don't shoot." [redacted] observed SA [redacted] reach inside the truck, as if he was trying to put the truck in "Park." [redacted] also stated that SA [redacted] was leaping through the door and had [redacted] in some sort of headlock. [redacted] claimed that [redacted] put up one hand, as if to give up, while he slowly placed the key into the ignition with his other hand. SA [redacted] stated, "I'm going to shoot you if you drive off." [redacted] recalled that SA [redacted] arms were in the vehicle as [redacted] began to drive off, and SA [redacted] was screaming that he was going to kill [redacted] drove off and [redacted] heard 5-7 gunshots, with some striking the truck as he ducked for cover. b6 b7C

[redacted] advised that no one was hurt from the gunshots. However, one bullet struck where [redacted] was sitting and [redacted] felt something, but there were no marks on his person. After leaving the area, they headed toward [redacted] condominium complex, but could start to feel the truck lean to one side. [redacted] surmised that the truck was leaning because the tires had been shot out. [redacted] dropped them all off and said he had to find a place to park the truck.

[redacted] did not get into a physical altercation with SA [redacted] and he did not believe [redacted] did either. [redacted] did not hear SA [redacted] say "Police" during the incident. [redacted] is described as a white, male, DOB [redacted] height 6'0", weight 140 pounds.

[redacted] was also arrested by the BPD and he admitted that [redacted] and he were in the vehicle. [redacted] said he was sleeping in the back of the truck when he awoke and saw "some guy" (SA [redacted] with a gun to [redacted] head, and yelling "get out of the car." [redacted] claimed that he was riding around with the other three, falling in and out of sleep. He recalled ending up in a cul-de-sac, but he fell asleep shortly after getting into the cul-de-sac. When he woke up, SA [redacted] was yelling, "get out of the car, get out of the car, I'm going to kill you, get out of the car!" [redacted] believes that SA [redacted] may have stuck his hand in the truck and struck [redacted] is described as a white, male, DOB [redacted] height 5'8", weight 160 pounds.

Assistant District Attorney (ADA) [redacted] Orange County District Attorney's Office (OCDAO), was initially assigned to handle the home invasion investigation. He believed that another attorney from the OCDAO would be assigned to determine whether SA [redacted] had violated any California state laws when he fired his weapon. On December 11, 2009, ADA [redacted] advised that he was also assigned the task of determining whether SA [redacted] had violated any laws of the State of California. ADA [redacted] advised that, based on a review of the evidence, and absent forensic evidence to the contrary, SA [redacted] would not be charged with any crimes for the shooting incident. ADA [redacted] also stated that [redacted] and [redacted] had been formally charged with burglary and assault and were in custody, even though SA [redacted] was unable to identify either of them. ADA [redacted] advised that both were charged because [redacted] placed himself at the garage and he placed [redacted] in the garage. SA [redacted] fought with one subject in the garage, then chased him to the driver's seat of the truck, and [redacted] also placed [redacted] in the driver's seat of the truck. ADA [redacted] advised that because SA [redacted] could not identify [redacted] and no one placed [redacted] in, or at, the garage, the charges against [redacted] will not be pursued further unless forensic evidence is developed to place [redacted] at SA [redacted] garage. According to [redacted] and [redacted] remained in the truck throughout the incident. [redacted] was interviewed by the BPD, but not arrested. BPD advised that [redacted] was essentially homeless, having been thrown out of his parents' home. [redacted] was using the vehicle as a warm place to get some sleep that evening. b6 b7C

A review of criminal records for the three subjects indicated that there were no records for [redacted] had prior convictions for burglary, receiving stolen property, possession of marijuana, driving under the influence of alcohol or drugs, possession of a controlled substance, and a probation violation. [redacted] was on probation at the time of the incident and had other arrests for which he was not convicted. [redacted] had no convictions, but had been arrested for burglary. [redacted] had a conviction for possession of burglary tools, although the sentence was vacated.

On January 4, 2010, [redacted] and [redacted] entered guilty pleas felony first-degree residential burglary. They were both sentenced to two years in prison.

INSPECTOR'S OBSERVATION:

Observation: SA [redacted] failed to maintain control of one of his firearms, leaving it in an unattended backpack on the floor of his open garage.

Recommendation: ADIC, Los Angeles, should ensure Special Agent personnel are reminded to maintain control of their firearms at all times.

Synopsis: The Shooting Incident Review Group (SIRG) reviewed a shooting incident that occurred on 10/08/2009, involving Special Agent (SA) [redacted] of the Denver Division. SA [redacted] shot and killed an aggressive skunk while walking his two dogs in a rural area of Wyoming. SIRG members recommended that no administrative action be taken against SA [redacted] as a result of his involvement in this shooting incident.

Administrative: Reference Electronic Communication of Supervisory Special Agent (SSA) [redacted] dated 10/14/2009.

Details: This communication was prepared to furnish the analysis, comments, and recommendations of the SIRG with reference to the captioned shooting.

On the evening of 10/08/2009, SA [redacted] was walking his two dogs in a rural area of Wyoming. A skunk exhibiting aggressive behavior attacked one of the dogs and then sprayed SA [redacted] and both dogs. After the dog freed itself, the skunk continued its aggressive behavior toward SA [redacted] and his dogs. SA [redacted], who believed the skunk was rabid, fired two rounds from his Bureau issued Glock 22 pistol, killing the skunk. b6 b7C

SA [redacted] transported his dog to a veterinarian for treatment. The veterinarian instructed him to transport the deceased skunk to his office and the test determined the skunk was not rabid.

On 03/03/2010, the SIRG met to discuss the above-captioned shooting incident. Deputy Assistant Director Jennifer Smith Love observed while Chief Inspector Mary E. Galligan, Inspection Division (INSD), chaired the meeting and was a non-voting member. The following voting members were in attendance: [redacted] Special Legal Counsel, Civil Rights Division, USDOJ; [redacted], Trial Attorney, Criminal Division, USDOJ; Section Chief (SC) Ralph Butler, CD-1, Eurasian Section, Counterintelligence Division; SC David J. Johnson, Violent Crimes Section, Criminal Investigative Division; Unit Chief (UC) [redacted] Firearms Training Unit, Training Division (TD); UC [redacted], Defensive Systems Unit, TD; UC [redacted] Special Weapons and Tactics Operations Unit, Critical Incident Response Group; Supervisory Special Agent (SSA) [redacted], Practical Applications Unit, TD; SSA [redacted] Investigative Law Unit, Office of General Counsel; SSA [redacted], Evidence Response Team, Laboratory Division; and SSA [redacted] CR-2, Washington Field Office. The following non-voting members were also in attendance: Inspectors [redacted] and [redacted] Office of Inspections (OI), INSD; Management and Program Analyst (MPA) [redacted] Inspection Management Unit (IMU), Strategic Analysis Section (SAS), INSD; and MPA [redacted] IMU, SAS, INSD. b6 b7C

The SIRG reviewed the above synopsized incident with the intent to: (1) evaluate the application of deadly force; (2) provide the Director with an evaluative analysis, observations, and recommendations for corrective actions from an operational standpoint (if any); (3) provide recommendations concerning training and/or safety issues; and (4) provide recommendations for administrative action if deemed necessary.

SIRG members unanimously agreed that the use of deadly force by SA [redacted] was justified and in conformance with the FBI's deadly force policy. This discussion resulted in the recommendation that no administrative action be taken against SA [redacted] as a result of his involvement in this shooting incident. b6 b7C

On 10/16/2009, Philadelphia Division SAs and members of the Philadelphia Police Narcotics Field Unit executed a search warrant at a Philadelphia address. At approximately 5:30 p.m., personnel made entry into the house and observed a subject, later identified as [redacted] flee down to the basement area. SA [redacted] and SA [redacted] were the first Agents to enter the house and immediately took a position at the top of the basement stairs. Both Agents yelled commands to the subject to show his hands and surrender himself. An aggressive pit bull charged up the basement stairs toward SAs [redacted] and [redacted]. Fearing for their safety, as well as the safety of other Agents, SA [redacted] fired two rounds from his Colt, M-4 rifle and SA [redacted] fired one or two rounds from his Colt, M-16 rifle, fatally wounding the dog. b6 b7C

On 11/02/2009, Team Leaders conducted joint site surveys of the respective targets and met to discuss a plan to ensure the safety of all participants.

On 11/03/2009, SA [redacted] provided a briefing to Agents assigned to his team and advised a large dog was located on the property.

On 11/04/2009, members of both teams met at the San Leandro Police Department for a final joint briefing, with SA [redacted] providing an overview of the case. After approximately 15 minutes the teams separated and SA [redacted] provided a final briefing for his team, including a review of the FBI Deadly Force Policy. The team's mission was to gain access to the property, conduct a knock and announce, secure the residence, arrest the subject, and conduct a search of the property. To gain access to the property, the team had to get over a four foot tall metal fence with pointed steel tips. SA [redacted] reiterated the fact that a large dog was located on the property and offered local officers a fire extinguisher to scare the dog away, if necessary.

The local officers decided to gain entry to the yard by placing a ladder over the spiked fence, and at approximately 6:01 a.m., officers led the team over the fence and into the yard. SA [redacted] called out that a large dog was located at the top of the stairs. As team members scaled the fence and stood on the property, the growling and barking dog continued moving down the stairs toward the entry team. Fearing for his safety, as well as the safety of team members, a local detective fired one round from his service weapon striking the dog in the muzzle. The dog stopped its approach and laid down. SA [redacted] provided cover as the team moved past the dog and continued with the entry.

After the team entered the residence, the dog moved under a truck with SA [redacted] continuing to watch to ensure it did not pose a threat to any team members. After the residence was secured, an Animal Control Officer (ACO) was requested to take care of the injured dog. The ACO retrieved a snare pole from her vehicle and requested that the Agents provide protection to her in case the dog tried to attack. A lengthy struggle by the ACO to secure the aggressive dog proved unsuccessful. Fearing for her safety, the ACO requested that Agents shoot the dog. Based on the ACO's request, SA [redacted] visually cleared the area, provided a verbal warning to others, and fired one round from his FBI-issued Glock 22, .40 caliber pistol, striking the dog in the head. Although not dead, the dog became subdued. At that point, the ACO attempted to get the cable loop around the dog's head, but the dog inserted a paw inside the cable loop. After a second struggle to gain control, the dog again became aggressive and began biting at the ACO's snare pole. At that point, the ACO requested that the Agents shoot the dog in the heart and lungs. SA [redacted] fired one round from his Bureau-issued Glock 22, .40 caliber pistol, hitting the dog's body. The dog continued to advance towards the ACO as she continued to struggle to gain control. The ACO requested that SA [redacted] shoot the dog again and SA [redacted] second round slowed the dog which stopped its attack on the ACO. The ACO instructed Agents to place a second snare pole around the dog's head while she obtained her euthanasia kit and set up the drugs to euthanize the dog.

On 03/03/2010, the SIRG met to discuss the above-captioned shooting incident. Deputy Assistant Director Jennifer Smith Love observed while Chief Inspector Mary E. Galligan, Inspection Division (INSD), chaired the meeting and was a non-voting member. The following voting members were in attendance: Barry Kowalski, Special Legal Counsel, Civil Rights Division, USDOJ; [redacted], Trial Attorney, Criminal Division, USDOJ; Section Chief (SC) Ralph Butler, CD-1, Eurasian Section, Counterintelligence Division; SC David J. Johnson, Violent Crimes Section, Criminal Investigative Division; Unit Chief (UC) [redacted] Firearms Training Unit, Training Division (TD); UC [redacted] Defensive Systems Unit, TD; UC [redacted] Special Weapons and Tactics Operations Unit, Critical Incident Response Group; Supervisory Special Agent (SSA) [redacted] Practical Applications Unit, TD; SSA [redacted] Investigative Law Unit, Office of General Counsel; SSA [redacted] Evidence Response Team, Laboratory Division; and SSA [redacted], CR-2, Washington Field Office. The following non-voting members were also in attendance: Inspectors [redacted] and [redacted] Office of Inspections (OI), INSD; Management and Program Analyst (MPA) [redacted] Inspection Management Unit (IMU), Strategic Analysis Section (SAS), INSD; and MPA [redacted], IMU, SAS, INSD.

Observations and Recommendations of the SIRG

The SIRG reviewed the above synopsized incident with the intent to: (1) evaluate the application of deadly force;

SIRG members unanimously concurred that the use of deadly force by SAs [redacted] and [redacted] was justified and in conformance with the FBI's deadly force policy. This discussion resulted in the recommendation that no administrative action be taken against either Agent as a result of their involvement in this shooting incident.

Title: SHOOTING INQUIRY
REPORT OF SHOOTING INCIDENT
PHILADELPHIA DIVISION
02/09/2009

Character: ADMINISTRATIVE INQUIRY

Synopsis: Subsequent to an armed bank robbery of TD Bank, 2520 Grant Avenue, Philadelphia, PA, on February 6, 2009, a confidential source provided information to the Philadelphia Division of the FBI that "Danny" LNU had robbed a bank earlier in the day. Logical investigation conducted by FBI Philadelphia led to the identification of Danny LNU as Daniel Trinsey, white male, date of birth November 12, 1960. Further investigation by FBI Philadelphia also resulted in probable cause to believe Trinsey was the individual responsible for the TD Bank robbery on February 6, 2009. A query of law enforcement data bases revealed an active State of Pennsylvania arrest warrant for Trinsey for parole violation, where the underlying charge was robbery of a dwelling with a weapon.

On Monday, February 9, 2009, the source began to participate in consensual telephone calls with Trinsey, during which Trinsey advised he was going to commit another armed robbery. As a result, Philadelphia Division's Squad C4, Violent Crimes Task Force, established surveillance in the vicinity of [redacted] Philadelphia, PA, a single family home ("the residence") believed to be occupied by Trinsey. The surveillance team consisted of eight FBI agents and seven Detectives from the Philadelphia Police Department (PPD), all of whom were Task Force Officers (TFOs) assigned to Squad C4. Surveillance identified Trinsey was in fact in the residence.

During the surveillance, the source was in frequent telephonic contact with Trinsey. The source updated Squad C4 members regularly during the surveillance via cell phone. The source advised Trinsey was most likely armed, and planned to rob either a bank or a drug location. The source advised Trinsey had said he would shoot the individuals he intended to rob if necessary, and he was not going back to jail. These updates regarding Trinsey's intentions were passed on via radio to all the Task Force personnel participating in the surveillance of Trinsey's residence.

This document contains neither recommendations nor conclusions of the FBI. It is the property of the FBI and is loaned to your agency; it and its contents are not to be distributed outside your agency.

As the surveillance proceeded, Squad C4 members formulated a verbal plan over their squad radios to arrest Trinsey on the State warrant when he exited the residence. At approximately 3:00 pm, Trinsey came out of the residence carrying a duffle bag, and began to walk across the driveway of the residence, westbound toward Verree Road. Task Force personnel confronted Trinsey, identified themselves as police officers, and ordered Trinsey to stop and get on the ground. Trinsey dropped his duffle bag on the driveway and began to walk slowly backward toward the residence. Agents and Detectives from the arrest team continued to order Trinsey to stop and get on the ground. Trinsey continued to ignore the commands. He then stopped and looked from side to side, apparently surveying the arrest team. Trinsey then reached into his waist band and removed what appeared, to multiple arrest team members, to be a handgun. Trinsey raised the gun, initially pointed in the direction of two PPD Detectives west of the residence. Trinsey then turned the weapon toward a group of seven Agents to the east. In fear for their lives and the lives of their partners, three Agents and one PPD Detective fired their weapons at Trinsey (a total of seventeen rounds). Trinsey fell face down on the front lawn of the residence, and was later pronounced dead at the scene. The weapon was later determined to be a toy handgun. Examination of evidence photographs and witness statements confirmed the authentic appearance of the handgun.

DETAILS:

For background purposes, the Agents identified as firing their weapons during this shooting incident were SA [redacted] SA [redacted] and SA [redacted]

SA [redacted] entered on duty as an SA with the FBI on November 24, 1996. Upon graduation from the FBI Academy, SA [redacted] was assigned for three months to the Philadelphia Division's New Town Square RA. From approximately June 1997 until present, SA [redacted] has been assigned to Philadelphia's Violent Crimes/Fugitive Task Force, Squad C4. SA [redacted] has been a member of the Philadelphia Special Weapons And Tactics Team (SWAT) since October 1998. Prior to entering on duty with the FBI, SA [redacted] served as a Police Officer with the Baltimore County Police Department (BCPD) for approximately seven years. During his tenure with the BCPD, SA [redacted] spent approximately six and one half years as a patrol officer, and six months as a vice and narcotics detective. b6 b7C

SA [redacted] entered on duty as an SA with the FBI on April 4, 2004. Upon graduation from the FBI Academy, SA [redacted] was assigned to the Philadelphia Division's Major Theft Squad, C2. From October 2005 until present, SA [redacted] has been assigned to Squad C4. Prior to entering on duty with the FBI, SA [redacted] served as a State Trooper with the Maryland State Police (MSP) for approximately ten years. During his tenure with the MSP, SA [redacted] spent approximately five years in patrol and five years as an auto theft investigator.

SA [redacted] entered on duty as an SA with the FBI on July 14, 1991. Upon graduation from the FBI Academy, SA [redacted] was assigned to the Philadelphia Division's Labor Racketeering Squad for approximately six months and then the Major Theft Squad for approximately 11 years. From June 2003 until present, SA [redacted] has been assigned to Squad C4. SA [redacted] has been member of the Philadelphia SWAT Team since October 1993, and has been certified as an FBI Tactical Instructor since April 2002. Prior to entering on duty with the

The SIRT determined that Squad C4 was a very active Violent Crimes/Fugitive Task Force, which engaged in arrest, search, and surveillance operations on a weekly basis. A vast majority of the operations involved violent, armed and dangerous subjects. The Task Force was comprised of FBI SAs and Detectives from the Philadelphia Police Department (PPD). The Task Force consistently engaged in arrests and searches as a team, affording personnel the opportunity to become familiar with one another and their tactical capabilities. Additionally, the SIRT determined that SAs on the squad routinely participated in firearms together, where they often practiced arrest scenarios.

On Friday February 6, 2009 at approximately 7:00 pm, SA [redacted] was notified by the Philadelphia Division's switch board operator that the TD Bank, 2520 Grant Avenue, Philadelphia, PA, had been robbed. SA [redacted] the Squad C4 Bank Robbery Coordinator, telephonically contacted his partner, PPD Detective (Det.) [redacted] and requested Det. [redacted] respond with him to the scene of the bank robbery. Due to prior commitments, Detective [redacted] was unable to accompany SA [redacted] to the robbery. SA [redacted] then responded alone, where he met with uniformed officers of the PPD.

Witness interviews conducted by SA [redacted] revealed the bank robbery subject entered the bank, stood in the teller feeder line, and waited for the next available teller. When the next teller (a female) became available, the subject approached the teller, displayed a handgun, and demanded "big bills." The teller handed the subject a $100.00 bill. This only agitated the subject, who demanded more money. The teller then gave the subject approximately $1,550 in cash and a wrapped bundle of one dollar bills. As he was departing the bank, the subject dropped the $100.00 bill and the wrapped one dollar bills. Witnesses described the robber as a white male, 5'6" to 6', between thirty and fifty years of age, wearing a dark hooded sweatshirt with white lining inside, a dark colored skull (knit) cap, khaki colored pants, a winter type brown glove on his left hand, and a white surgical glove on his right hand. Witnesses also noted the subject had a prominently chipped top front tooth, and drove a black or blue two door vehicle.

While SA [redacted] was still at TD Bank, SA [redacted] received a telephone call from a closed CHS who reported he knew an individual who had some "hot" information. The former CHS then placed a three way call between himself/herself, SA [redacted] and this individual (hereafter referred to as the "source"). During the call, the source advised he was interested in providing information regarding a robbery in return for consideration of a Rule 35 (a motion requesting a reduction in sentence) [redacted] who was incarcerated in federal prison. No promises were made to the source, and the source proceeded to furnish information regarding an individual whom he knew as "Danny" LNU [redacted]

b7D

The source described Danny as a white male, with "messed up teeth." [redacted] he was dressed in tan pants, a hooded sweatshirt and was wearing latex gloves. The source also provided two telephone numbers to SA [redacted] one of which was an older cellular telephone number for Danny and the other was the current cellular telephone number being utilized by Danny. The source advised that Danny drove a blue Acura, and provided a license plate number for the vehicle.

While talking with the source, SA received an e-mail over his blackberry from SA regarding the bank robbery at the TD Bank on North Grant Avenue. This prompted SA to telephonically contact SA During the telephone call, SA provided SA several details of the TD Bank robbery which included the robber's description and a description of the getaway vehicle. SA in turn briefed SA regarding the information he had received from the source. The Agents began to suspect Danny LNU as the robber of the TD Bank, and focused their attention on identifying him. b6 b7C

After speaking with SA SA met with the source and they drove to the vicinity of Philadelphia, PA. The source identified the address as the location at which he had previously seen Danny park his vehicle. During this meeting, the source also visually identified the Acura he had seen Danny drive, and corrected the prior license tag he had provided. SA requested a query of the tag, and identified the vehicle was registered to SA then called PPD and requested any information they could obtain on

Later in the evening, SA received an e-mail on his blackberry from SA which contained a bank surveillance video photograph of the subject who had committed the robbery of the TD Bank. SA then met with the source, and showed the photograph to the source. The source identified the individual in the surveillance photograph as Danny. The source further advised the hooded sweatshirt in the photograph was identical to the sweatshirt At the direction of SA the source tried to telephonically contact Danny several times, with no success.

The source also informed SA that Danny had committed other bank robberies in the past, had robbed an unidentified drug store where he disarmed an employee, and that he was planning on robbing the Verree Health Mart on Saturday, February 7, 2009. SA alerted PPD Detectives to the potential for a robbery at the Verree Health Mart. b6 b7C b7D

On SA was contacted by the source. The source patched SA into two separate three way telephone calls between the source and Danny. SA was unable to record these telephone calls. During the first telephone call, SA overheard Danny imply to the source that he had committed a robbery, and that the proceeds from the robbery were minimal. During the second phone call, SA overheard Danny tell the source that he (Danny) had lost his gun, and requested that the source assist him in acquiring a handgun which was larger than a .38 caliber.

On February 8, 2009, SA conducted multiple database checks from the information he had been provided by the source to date, and ultimately identified an individual named Daniel Trinsey with an active Pennsylvania State arrest warrant for a parole violation. The underlying charge was robbery of a residence with a weapon. SA then prepared a photo spread with Trinsey's photograph and showed the photo spread to two of the TD Bank tellers and one of the bank managers. None of the bank employees could identify Trinsey as the robber.

Following the meeting with the bank tellers, SA [redacted] met with the source. The source showed SA [redacted] SA [redacted] noted the photograph of Danny clearly depicted him with a chipped front tooth. Based on all the information he had collected to date, SA [redacted] became convinced that Trinsey was the individual responsible for the robbery of TD Bank. SA [redacted] then provided the source with a tape recorder and instructions to record his future telephonic conversations with Trinsey. b6 b7C b7D

On Monday, February 9, 2009, at approximately 11:00 am, SA [redacted] and Det. [redacted] PPD, volunteered to transport a female witness to federal court who was being prepared to testify in a case for SA [redacted] The Squad C4 Supervisor, SSA [redacted] was out of the division, and SA [redacted] was the acting supervisor that day. When SA [redacted] and Det. [redacted] went to the basement parking garage of the Philadelphia Division, they found SA [redacted] vehicle was blocked in a parking space by another vehicle. SA [redacted] then obtained permission to utilize Det. [redacted] vehicle (a black Nissan Altima) instead. Inasmuch as this was a routine witness transport assignment, SA [redacted] left his tactical equipment behind in his assigned Bureau vehicle.

At approximately 11:55 am, SA [redacted] received a telephone call from the source. The source advised Trinsey was about to commit another bank robbery. SA [redacted] was in court preparing to start a trial at the time, so he asked SA [redacted] to contact Det. [redacted] and request he (Det. [redacted] deal with the source. SA [redacted] then thoroughly briefed the U.S. Attorney's Office (USAO) Violent Crimes prosecutor he was working with regarding the FBI's development of the cooperating source, and the consensual monitoring plan. The USAO concurred with the consensual monitoring of the source's telephone conversations with Trinsey. b6 b7C

Just prior to arriving at the female witnesses' home, SA [redacted] and Det. [redacted] were advised the witness had arranged other transportation to court. SA [redacted] telephoned the source, who subsequently advised Trinsey had planned to rob the PNC Bank on Cottman Avenue, Philadelphia, PA. The source further advised Trinsey was located at [redacted] Avenue, Philadelphia, PA, and was trying to recruit a getaway driver.

SA [redacted] and Det. [redacted] then proceeded to the vicinity of Borbeck Avenue. While en route, SA [redacted] notified Acting Assistant Special Agent in Charge (A/ASAC) [redacted] ia telephone regarding the armed robbery of TD Bank on Friday evening, and of SA [redacted] development of a source who was in current communication with the subject. SA [redacted] advised A/ASAC [redacted] the subject (Trinsey) was believed to be residing at [redacted] Avenue, and was planning to commit another robbery later in the day. SA [redacted] informed A/ASAC [redacted] hat the plan was to arrest Trinsey on an outstanding arrest warrant for a parole violation in order to prevent the bank robbery he was planning. SA [redacted] and A/ASAC [redacted] iscussed that Trinsey was considered armed and dangerous in the context of all operations, given he (Trinsey) had utilized a weapon during the perpetration of the TD Bank robbery on February 6, 2009.

A/ASAC [redacted] id not direct a written operations plan be prepared due to the overall fluid nature of the operation. Although the source information was somewhat specific concerning the residence of Trinsey and his intent to commit another robbery, Agents were unaware of exactly when Trinsey would execute his plan, and his plans were likely to change rapidly and unexpectedly. A/ASAC [redacted] asked SA [redacted] if he needed additional resources to handle the operation. SA [redacted] advised A/ASAC Cosenza Squad C4 had sufficient personnel. A/ASAC [redacted] stated he was confident in the on-scene command and control capabilities of SA [redacted] as the acting Squad Supervisor, and SA [redacted] as case agent for this operation.

Det. [redacted] requested additional Squad C4 resources be directed to the area of [redacted] Avenue. SA [redacted] telephoned Sergeant (Sgt.) [redacted] PPD, who was at the FBI office, and requested he have all available C-4 personnel rally in the vicinity of Borbeck Avenue. b6 b7C

Upon arrival at [redacted] Avenue, SA [redacted] and Det. [redacted] conducted a reconnaissance of the area which surrounded Trinsey's home and started to develop a plan to effect the arrest of Trinsey. They surveyed the area looking for any alleyways with access to [redacted] Avenue, identification of the bordering streets, and positively identified the residence of [redacted] Avenue. This reconnaissance was done in preparation for the arrival of the other responding Task Force personnel so assignments could be properly made. SA [redacted] and Det. [redacted] then parked their vehicle on Rising Sun Avenue, just south of Borbeck Avenue. This allowed them to see the front door of [redacted] Avenue.

While en route to the vicinity of Borbeck Avenue, SA [redacted] continued to receive text messages from Det. [redacted] updating him on the situation. Det. [redacted] advised Trinsey was still believed to be in the house at [redacted] Avenue, he did not have a gun yet, and that he still needed a getaway driver. While waiting at the Rite Aid Pharmacy near Borbeck Avenue to meet with Squad C4 personnel, SA [redacted] used his wireless laptop and printer to access the Pennsylvania Justice Network (JNet) and download a photograph of Trinsey. SA [redacted] printed several copies for the team. SA [redacted] was then advised Task Force members Det. [redacted], Det. [redacted], and Sgt. [redacted] had arrived together in Sgt. [redacted] vehicle. They were positioned on Borbeck Avenue near Verree Road, and had established surveillance on the residence.

At approximately 1:00 pm, SA [redacted] asked Det. [redacted] to team up with him so there would be two Task Force members in each vehicle while they waited for the remainder of the team to arrive. Det. [redacted] and SA [redacted] met at the corner of Borbeck Avenue and Verree Road, and they drove together in SA [redacted] vehicle looking for a good spot from which to watch the rear of Trinsey's house. SA [redacted] also noted that SA [redacted] and Det. [redacted] had established an eye on the front of the house from their position on Rising Sun Avenue, South of Borbeck Avenue. Personnel from C-4 began arriving in the area and were communicating via PPD police radio, on channel "Major Crimes One "(MC1). At this point, Det. [redacted] reported over MC1 he had arrived in the area. b6 b7C

SA [redacted] and Det. [redacted] took up a position to the rear of [redacted] Avenue on Griffith Street. This location afforded SA [redacted] and Det. [redacted] an excellent view of the rear door to [redacted] Avenue. Upon establishing this position, SA [redacted] noted while the storm door to the rear of the house was closed, the rear door stood partially open.

Just prior to 2:00 pm, SA [redacted] contacted SA [redacted] via blackberry and requested he assist with the arrest operation. SA [redacted] requested SA [redacted] bring "long guns." SA telephoned SA and requested additional details and then handed the phone to SA who was the senior Agent present in the squad area. SA spoke to SA and fully briefed SA on the situation. SA told SA SA had learned through contact with the source Trinsey was now planning on committing either a bank robbery or a home invasion of drug dealers. SA stated Trinsey either had, or was attempting to obtain, a gun, and was awaiting the arrival of a getaway driver at his residence.

Based on the briefing from SA SA directed those persons present in the C4 squad area to gather their equipment and proceed to the vicinity of Borbeck Avenue. SA proceeded in his vehicle, armed with an M4. SSA advised he approved the issuing of M4s to non-SWAT SAs on C4 due to the violent crime mission of the squad. b6 b7C

SA teamed up with SA SA and SA in SA assigned black Chevrolet Suburban. The Agents were seated as follows: SA was in the rear passenger seat, SA was in the driver's side rear seat, SA was driving, and SA was in the front passenger seat. SA was armed with an M4.

SA had received a blackberry message regarding the impending arrest of Trinsey from SA while in the parking garage of the FBI office. He observed SA and his team preparing to respond as well, and he changed his clothing and responded to Borbeck Avenue. As a member of Squad C4, SA was armed with his approved M4. SA teamed up with Det. and drove to the vicinity of Borbeck Avenue in Det. vehicle. While en route to Borbeck Avenue, radio transmissions were overheard by the responding agents which explained Trinsey had planned on committing another bank robbery and another subject was to arrive at the residence, possibly with a bag of weapons.

During the approximate twenty minute drive to Borbeck Avenue, SA was monitoring channel MC1. While en route to Borbeck Avenue, SA was receiving information from SA regarding the positioning of people on scene. SA advised SA he had a photograph of Trinsey, and directed SA to position his vehicle in the vicinity of Rising Sun Avenue and Borbeck Avenue.

At approximately the source had a three way telephone call with Trinsey (monitored by SA During the call Trinsey stated that he had arranged a getaway driver and had obtained "heat", which SA interpreted to mean a handgun. During this call, Trinsey also asked the source if he had "heat." While SA was speaking with the source, Det communicated with SA on at least two occasions, and relayed the updated information regarding Trinsey. SA in turn provided the information via radio to the personnel on scene, and to those responding. b6 b7C b7D

At approximately 2:08 pm, SA sent Trinsey's PPD arrest photo to the Squad C4 arrest team via their blackberries. SA distributed the photograph in this manner because he wanted to ensure everyone who was going to participate in the arrest of Trinsey knew what he looked like, and also because he realized it was impractical to try to hand out the hard copy of the photos he had printed earlier in his vehicle.

While SA [redacted] and his team were proceeding to Borbeck Avenue, SA [redacted] recalled receiving information over the radio from either SA [redacted] or Det. [redacted] who advised the source was talking directly to Trinsey, and had told the source he had been in jail and was never going back. Sgt. [redacted] broadcasted over radio channel MC1 Trinsey was leaving the house in a blue Acura with an unknown male. Trinsey returned minutes later in the blue Acura with the male and a second unknown male. Trinsey parked the blue Acura directly in front of [redacted] Avenue facing eastbound in the westbound lane of Borbeck Avenue, and the three went inside the house.

SA [redacted] and his team arrived in the area of Borbeck Avenue a few minutes after Trinsey returned to the residence. As SA [redacted] and Det. [redacted] arrived, they were instructed to take up a position in the area of Verree Road and Borbeck Avenue. They were instructed to block the intersection of Borbeck Avenue and Verree Road of any vehicle or pedestrian traffic when the command to "execute" was given. SA [redacted] the last person to arrive on scene, was directed to the rear of [redacted] Avenue and staged in the 900 Block of Griffith Street. This allowed him to see the northwest corner of the residence.

Once the black Suburban arrived in the area, SA [redacted] had the vehicle positioned facing southwest on Rising Sun Avenue a few car lengths from the intersection of Borbeck Avenue. Behind the black Suburban was Det. [redacted] A blue Tahoe driven by Det. [redacted] was parked on Borbeck Avenue facing westbound, east of Rising Sun Avenue. The black Nissan occupied by SA [redacted] and Det. [redacted] was staged on Rising Sun Avenue just south of the intersection with Borbeck Avenue. A vehicle occupied by Sgt. [redacted] and Det. [redacted] was on Borbeck Avenue west of [redacted] Avenue. A vehicle occupied by SA [redacted] and Det. [redacted] was positioned on Verree Road to the north of Borbeck Avenue facing south. Lastly, SA [redacted] vehicle, and the vehicle occupied by SA [redacted] and Det. [redacted] were positioned to the rear of the [redacted] Avenue on Griffith Street.

At approximately 2:35 pm, the perimeter around [redacted] Avenue was effectively established. The weather at the time was determined to be partly sunny, approximately 49 degrees Fahrenheit. SA [redacted] called over MC1 and asked how the team intended to effect the arrest of Trinsey. Sgt. [redacted] then stated that the plan would be if Trinsey and the two unknown males left the house and headed for the blue Acura, all three would be stopped as they were preparing to get into the car. The contingency plan was if Trinsey and the others were able to get into the car before the arrest team could converge and make the arrest, the personnel on Rising Sun Avenue would drive west on Borbeck Avenue and block the Acura from leaving east on Borbeck. Sgt. [redacted] and Det. [redacted] vehicle, along with SA [redacted] and Det. [redacted] vehicle, would block the Acura from gaining access to Verree Road. SA [redacted] designated the Suburban as the primary arrest vehicle which would come from Rising Sun Avenue on to Borbeck Avenue, along with Det. [redacted] blue Tahoe. The two SUVs would pull onto Borbeck Avenue and block the road preventing the Acura from leaving to the east, and also providing cover for the law enforcement personnel in those vehicles. SA [redacted] instructed SA [redacted] to concentrate on his role as the driver, and reminded all occupants of the Suburban to take up a position of cover upon exiting the vehicle. Sgt [redacted] announced he would give the "execute" signal over the radio, based on him having the primary eye on the front of the residence.

Through both visual and radio contact, SA [redacted], SA [redacted] and SA [redacted] were confident the placement of the vehicles, as stated above, had established a tight perimeter around [redacted] Avenue, and the Task Force personnel were stationed appropriately to effectively conduct the arrest of Trinsey.

Shortly after 3:00 pm, Sgt [redacted] called out on the radio that Trinsey was leaving the house alone carrying a duffle bag. Sgt. [redacted] monitored Trinsey's movements, and when he got to the corner of the yard west of the Acura, Sgt. [redacted] gave the command over the radio to execute the arrest. The black Suburban and blue Tahoe moved westbound on Borbeck Avenue. The Nissan fell in behind the Suburban and the Tahoe. The black Suburban was slightly ahead of the blue Tahoe, and slowed to allow the blue Tahoe to catch up so the road could be effectively blocked as verbally planned. SA [redacted] and Det [redacted] also moved their vehicle in to the rear of the Suburban and the Tahoe, and stopped in the middle of Borbeck Avenue. b6 b7C

SA [redacted], Det. [redacted], and SA [redacted] exited their vehicles behind [redacted] Avenue, and began to move toward the rear of the residence. Det [redacted] and SA [redacted] blocked the intersection of Verree Road and Borbeck Avenue preventing both vehicular and pedestrian traffic from going east on Borbeck Avenue. Det [redacted] blocked traffic from entering Borbeck Avenue to the east from Rising Sun Avenue.

As the Suburban stopped, SA [redacted] and SA [redacted] took up an initial position utilizing the engine block of the vehicle, on the driver's side, for cover. SA [redacted] and SA [redacted] also exited the Suburban. SA [redacted] took a position of cover behind a telephone pole in front of [redacted] Avenue. As SA [redacted] exited the Suburban, he observed Sgt. [redacted] yelling "Police Get Down, Let me see your hands!" SA [redacted] observed Trinsey looking at Sgt. [redacted] SA [redacted] advised, at this time, he was recalling from his training and experience a subject in this situation would typically do one of three things: 1) they could run; 2) they could comply with the commands and give up, or; 3) they could choose to stand and fight. SA [redacted] thought since Trinsey was not running or complying, he was going to fight.

Commands by Task Force personnel such as "FBI," "Police," "stop,", and "get down on the ground," continued to be yelled at Trinsey. Trinsey was still facing Sgt [redacted] and Det [redacted] at this time. Trinsey then walked backward away from Sgt. [redacted] and Det. [redacted], stood still for a moment, and then began moving his head and upper torso back and forth, appearing to scan the area. Trinsey then dropped the bag and reached into his waist band. Trinsey pulled out what appeared to be a back semi-automatic pistol (latter determined to be a toy or replica handgun). Trinsey raised the weapon in the direction of the law enforcement personnel on the scene, first in the direction of Sgt. [redacted] and Det [redacted] to the west. He then turned slightly and pointed the weapon toward SA [redacted], SA [redacted], Det. [redacted] SA [redacted], SA [redacted], and SA [redacted] to the east.

SAs [redacted] and [redacted] fired their weapons at Trinsey multiple times. SAs [redacted] and [redacted] each stated, at the time, they were in fear for their lives and the lives of their fellow law enforcement officers when Trinsey removed the weapon from his waist band and pointed it in their direction. b6 b7C

Det. [redacted], in a statement to Sgt. [redacted] as part of the PPD shooting investigation, advised he fired one round from his 9mm hand gun at Trinsey because Trinsey had pointed a gun at him.

Trinsey fell to the ground on his face. When the gunfire stopped, SA [redacted] told everyone to hold their positions so they could assess the threat. SA [redacted] noted Trinsey had blood coming from his nose, but he was still moving. He also observed the gun was very close to Trinsey's right hand. Additionally, there were still unknown individuals in the house who presented a potential threat to the personnel on the scene. After a moment, SA [redacted] directed SA [redacted] and Sgt. [redacted] to holster their weapons and prepare to handcuff Trinsey. SA [redacted] moved forward and handcuffed Trinsey.

After the shooting stopped, SA [redacted] Det. [redacted] and SA [redacted] entered the residence to secure the subjects inside. In the living room they encountered two males and one female. The female was moving toward the front door. The two males were secured by SA [redacted]. Once the males were handcuffed, they were left with Det. [redacted]. SA [redacted] and SA [redacted] cleared the remainder of the home. When SA [redacted] and SA [redacted] returned to the living room area of the home, other law enforcement personnel were inside the house. The female had run from the house in an effort to secure her dog, and was sitting on a bench outside of the front of the home.

Det. [redacted] called for medical assistance. SA [redacted] a trained paramedic, saw Trinsey laying face down in the front yard. He rolled him into the recovery position, and checked his airway and pulse with negative results. SA [redacted] believed Trinsey was dead and waited for paramedics to arrive. He searched Trinsey for additional weapons with negative results, but did locate some money and other miscellaneous personal items. SA [redacted] remained with Trinsey until paramedics arrived. The paramedics determined Trinsey was deceased. At this point, Trinsey's body was covered with a sheet.

While waiting for the paramedics to arrive, SA [redacted] asked SA [redacted] to secure the handgun. SA [redacted] photographed the weapon, and as he placed the weapon in an evidence bag, he realized it was a plastic toy gun. Examination of photographs of the gun by the SIRT confirmed the authentic appearance of the "handgun."

A search of Trinsey's duffle bag by PPD Homicide Detectives revealed items which matched the clothing worn by the subject in the TD Bank robbery on February 6, 2009. Items recovered included a black hooded jacket, a black wool/knit cap, brown gloves, and latex gloves.

The PPD's Homicide Unit responded to the scene, as is protocol for all law enforcement involved shootings in the city of Philadelphia. The PPD's Mobile Crime Scene Unit in coordination with FBI Philadelphia's ERT conducted the crime scene survey. Seventeen shell casings were recovered from the scene. One 9 mm shell casing was recovered from in front of [redacted] Avenue, to the west of the residence near where Det. [redacted] exited his vehicle. Nine .40 caliber and seven .223 mm shell casings were recovered in front of [redacted] Avenue. These shell casings were all located in the vicinity of the blue Acura and the telephone pole, near where SA [redacted], SA [redacted] and SA [redacted] advised they had fired their weapons.

At the time of the shooting, SA [redacted] was armed with his FBI issued M-4

(serial#: 5632901). SA [redacted] stated he believed he fired approximately four rounds from a distance of 15 to 20 feet. His weapon and magazine were secured by ERT SA [redacted] following the shooting. One round was in the chamber of the weapon, and seven rounds were in the magazine. SA [redacted] advised he typically loaded his magazines with 25 rounds, but had not counted the rounds inside of the magazine when loading his M-4 before the shooting, thus he was uncertain of the number of rounds in the magazine. According to PPD crime scene reports, seven .223 mm shell casings were recovered at the scene. A PPD ballistic comparison of the recovered .223 mm shell casings with the M-4 carried by SA [redacted] on the day of the shooting indicated the casings were most likely were fired from the M-4. The PPD's ballistic analysis did confirm two projectiles removed from Trinsey's right arm were fired from the M-4 carried by SA [redacted] Additionally, the ballistic report stated that one .223 projectile fired from SA [redacted] s M4 was found under Trinsey's body at the scene (possibly a through and through round).

SA [redacted] was armed with his Glock 22 pistol (serial #: GMU111 ) at the time of the shooting. SA [redacted] advised he had loaded his weapon to capacity with 16 rounds of .40 caliber ammunition. SA [redacted] was approximately 25 feet away from Trinsey behind a position of cover near the blue Acura when he fired four to five shots from his weapon at Trinsey. SA [redacted] weapon was secured and examined by ERT SA [redacted] after the shooting, and found to have one round in the chamber and nine rounds in the magazine. A ballistic analysis completed by PPD revealed five of nine .40 caliber shell casings recovered from the scene were fired from SA [redacted] Glock 22 pistol.

SA [redacted] was armed with his Glock 27 personally owned, FBI approved handgun, (serial #: LLP570 ). SA [redacted] was in a kneeling position behind a telephone pole approximately fifteen to twenty feet away from Trinsey when he fired his weapon. SA [redacted] advised his Glock 27 was loaded with nine rounds at the time of the shooting. SA [redacted] weapon was secured and examined by ERT SA [redacted], and found to have one round in the chamber and four rounds in the magazine. A ballistic examination completed by PPD determined four of the nine .40 caliber shell casings recovered at the scene were fired from SA [redacted] personally owned Glock 27.

As previously stated, Det [redacted] advised Sgt. [redacted], as part of the PPD shooting investigation, he fired one round from his 9 mm handgun.

Interviews of all eight FBI personnel present at the shooting revealed all personnel were wearing some form of insignia which identified them as FBI or police officers. All FBI personnel, with the exception of SA [redacted] were wearing ballistic vests, with FBI lettering either in yellow or black on the exterior of the vests. One agent also wore a raid jacket on the outside of his vest which identified him as FBI, and two of the eight agents also had their FBI badge clipped to their belts. SA [redacted] had left his protective equipment in his assigned vehicle when he departed the office earlier in the day to pick up a witness for court. Because of the fast moving events, SA [redacted] was unable to retrieve his equipment.

PPD Homicide Detectives identified the other occupants of [redacted] Avenue as [redacted] son), and [redacted] Investigation revealed they were not part of Trinsey's planned robbery. [redacted] had met Trinsey one week earlier and had offered to let him stay at her house, where she lived with [redacted] was identified as a friend [redacted]

[redacted] advised he saw Trinsey with a black gun inside his waistband as he was leaving the house. [redacted] also heard police outside saying, "Get down, get down!" [redacted] said those commands were then followed by gunshots. [redacted] said he saw Trinsey leave the house with a red bag. Shortly after Trinsey left the house, [redacted] heard people yelling, "Get Down, get down, get on the ground!" [redacted] said he looked out the front door and then heard gunshots. [redacted] stated she was in the back bedroom of [redacted] when Trinsey came to the door with a red and black colored bag and told her he was leaving. [redacted] then heard what she described as popping sounds. [redacted] then came to her room and advised her Trinsey had been shot. b6 b7C

A neighborhood canvass conducted by PPD's Homicide Detectives resulted in the identification of a witness to the shooting: [redacted] white male, age 72, [redacted] Avenue, Philadelphia, PA (directly across the street from [redacted] Avenue). [redacted] was walking back from his mailbox when he saw a male carrying a red duffle bag. [redacted] saw the man stop for a minute and look around first in the direction of Verree Road. [redacted] observed several police officers with their guns drawn, yelling "Police!" and "Get down!" [redacted] then saw the subject look around and look in the direction of the police behind him. The subject then reached into his jacket with his right hand and pulled out a black gun. [redacted] said the shooting then began and he saw the subject fall to the ground.

Trinsey was determined to have an extensive criminal record dating back to 1979. Trinsey had been convicted of possession with intent to distribute a controlled substance, theft, resisting arrest, bank robbery, simple assault, aggravated assault, burglary and robbery. The SIRT verified that at the time of the shooting, there was an active State of Pennsylvania arrest warrant for Trinsey for parole violation, where the underlying charge was robbery of a residence with a weapon. Additionally, the National Crime Information Center (NCIC) printout which identified the active warrant for Trinsey, listed a caution advisory that Trinsey had violent tendencies and was known to abuse drugs.

The City of Philadelphia, Office of the Medical Examiner (OME) conducted an autopsy and toxicology report. The autopsy findings stated Trinsey had been shot seven separate times, and the cause of death was identified as multiple gunshot wounds. The manner of death was classified as Homicide. The autopsy report detailed the following wounds: a gunshot entry wound to the left shoulder which exited the right side of the body and reentered the right arm, where a bullet was recovered; a gunshot entry wound to the left shoulder which exited the right side of body and reentered the right arm were a bullet was recovered; a gunshot entry wound to the lateral left chest which did not exit and resulted in the recovery of two bullet fragments; a gunshot entry wound and exit to the right arm where no bullet or bullet fragments were recovered; a gunshot entrance wound to the right hip which exited the right buttock and no bullet or fragments were recovered; a gunshot wound to the posterior left shoulder which resulted in the recovery of a bullet from the lateral right back; a gunshot entry wound to the left back which exited the mid left back and no bullet or bullet fragment was recovered. The toxicology report from the OME showed there was a presence of narcotics in Trinsey's urine which included cocaine, codeine, methamphetamine and oxycodeine. b6 b7C

In summary, the FBI Philadelphia Division's Violent Crimes Task Force went to [redacted] Philadelphia, PA on February 9, 2009 in an effort to locate and arrest

Daniel Trinsey on an active arrest warrant for parole violation. The Task Force planned the arrest under time sensitive conditions in order to prevent Trinsey from effecting an armed robbery. At the time of the operation, the Task Force collectively believed Trinsey had committed an armed bank robbery three days earlier, and was actively planning a second robbery. b6 b7C b7D [redacted] Additionally, at the time, the Task Force believed Trinsey was either armed, or in the process of locating a firearm, and was gathering co-conspirators to assist him in the robbery. Finally, the Task Force was aware Trinsey had made statements to the source that he would not go back to prison. Review of the recorded conversations between Trinsey and the source by the SIRT verified the information which the source had provided to law enforcement prior to the shooting.

The Task Force confirmed Trinsey was inside of the house and established a robust perimeter around the residence. When Trinsey departed the residence at approximately 3:00 pm, he was confronted by the Task Force at gun point. The Task Force appropriately identified themselves as Police and FBI, and ordered Trinsey to the ground. Trinsey failed to comply with the law enforcement commands and reached into his waist band with his right hand and removed a black handgun, later determined to be a toy or replica weapon. Trinsey raised the handgun in the direction of law enforcement personnel, threatening the lives of multiple Task Force members. In order to defend themselves and their team mates, four Task Force personnel fired their weapons at Trinsey (a total of 17 times) until he collapsed to the ground. Trinsey was later pronounced dead at the scene.

b6 b7C The City of Philadelphia District Attorney's Office (PDAO), reviewed a report of this incident prepared by the Philadelphia Police Department. On September 10, 2009, the PDAO issued a written opinion that SAs [redacted] and [redacted] were "justified in discharging their weapons under 18 Pa. C.S.A., section 505, Use of Force in Self Protection; and 18 Pa. C.S.A., section 508, Use of Force in Law Enforcement." The PDAO advised they subsequently closed their investigation of this matter..

This report was forwarded to Deputy Chief [redacted], Criminal Section, Department of Justice, for federal prosecutive opinion. A decision is pending.

Title: SHOOTING INQUIRY
REPORT OF SHOOTING INCIDENT
NEW HAVEN DIVISION
02/04/2009

Character: ADMINISTRATIVE INQUIRY

Synopsis: On February 4, 2009, the New Haven Division of the Federal Bureau of Investigation (FBI) executed a large scale, multi agency, arrest and search operation targeting 44 federally indicted subjects in an Organized Crime Drug Enforcement Task Force (OCDETF) investigation codename [redacted]

During the entry of one target location in Bridgeport, Connecticut, SA [redacted] a member of the New Haven SWAT team, accidentally discharged (AD) his M16A1 conversion carbine weapon (hereafter referred to as "M-4"). The AD resulted in one .223 caliber round striking subject [redacted] was transported to Saint Vincent Medical Center (SVMC) in Bridgeport, Connecticut, for treatment of a non-life threatening wound. b6 b7C b7E

DETAILS:

On January 29, 2009, a Federal Grand Jury sitting in New Haven, Connecticut returned indictments on 44 subjects for felony drug conspiracy and distribution charges.

The indicted subjects were members or associates of the [redacted] Drug Trafficking Organization (DTO), considered to be the most significant suppliers of narcotics in and around the Bridgeport, Connecticut area. In addition, ongoing and past investigations revealed that many members of the [redacted] DTO had extensive criminal histories of violence and drug trafficking activity. One member, [redacted] was believed to be responsible for the first homicide in 2009 in Bridgeport, Connecticut.

The New Haven Division targeted this violent DTO through an OCDETF investigation codename [redacted] Information developed through authorized wiretaps, confidential human sources, and from other law enforcement agencies, indicated that several subjects met the "higher than normal risk" criteria as defined by the Manual of Investigative Operations and Guidelines. These risks included violent criminal histories, possession of weapons by the subjects, presence of weapons at target locations, difficult breaching obstacles, and the presence of dogs used for protection.

Based on the above, New Haven Division determined the circumstances necessitated the utilization of Special Weapons And Tactics (SWAT) teams to plan and execute arrests and searches at seven locations to reduce the risk to agents, innocent persons, and subjects. The New Haven Division coordinated this operation with the Critical Incident Response Group (CIRG), SWAT Operations Unit (SOU), beginning in December 2008. It was determined that SWAT teams from New Haven, New York, Boston and Albany Divisions, along with SWAT teams from the Connecticut State Police (CSP) and the Bridgeport Police Department (BPD) would jointly participate in the operation.

One of the subjects indicted in this investigation was [redacted] was indicted for conspiracy to possess with intent to distribute and conspiracy to distribute heroin and cocaine base, in violation of Title 21 United States Code, Section 846.

A review of [redacted] criminal history revealed the following: 1) arrested 06/13/2003, possession of narcotics, sale of hallucinogenic/narcotic substance; 2) arrested 08/31/2003, possession of narcotics, sale of hallucinogenic/narcotic substance, interfering/resistance; 3) arrested 01/22/2004, sale of illegal drug, sale of hallucinogenic/narcotic substance; 4) 01/20/2006, operating a motor vehicle without a license, run(ning) from police, probation violation; 5) 01/20/2006 criminal use of motor vehicle without permission, larceny 2, interfering/resisting; 6) arrested 01/21/2007, breach of peace, interfering/resistence; 7) arrested 07/12/2008, run(ning) from police, failure to appear; 8) arrested 07/12/2008, interfering/resistence, reckless endangerment, risk of injury, breach of peace; 9) arrested 10/14/2008, interfering/resistence; 10) arrested 10/21/2008, evade-injury/property, under suspension, run(ning) police; 11) sale of illegal drug, sale of hallucinogenic/narcotic substance. b6 b7C

On February 3, 2009, the final New Haven FBI SWAT Operations Order was approved by New Haven Division Special Agent in Charge (SAC) Kimberly K. Mertz. The SWAT Operations Order identified the following locations and assignments in Bridgeport, Connecticut, for SWAT operations:

| Location | SWAT team |
|---|---|
| 1. [redacted] | New York |
| 2. | New York |
| 3. | New Haven/Albany |
| 4. | Boston |
| 5. | Boston |
| 6. | CT State Police |
| 7. | Bridgeport PD |

Investigation determined that [redacted] Bridgeport, Connecticut, was a location where drugs were stored by the DTO. As such, it was the target of a federal search warrant. Although subjects were known to frequent the location from time to time, it was not a specific residence of any of the subjects.

On February 3, 2009, at 3:00 p.m., all team leaders (SWAT and Non-SWAT) participated in an operational briefing held at the Marriott hotel, 180 Hawley Lane, Trumbull, Connecticut. Following this briefing, at 4:30 p.m., there was an all SWAT operator briefing at the same location which included updated case information, brief-backs, and tactical rehearsals.

On February 4, 2009, at 4:00 a.m., there was an all hands briefing for all personnel involved in the operation at Sacred Heart University, 5151 Park Avenue, Fairfield, Connecticut. At approximately 5:45 a.m., all tactical teams were in position at their designated staging locations. The National Weather Service website indicated the weather conditions on February 4, 2009, at 5:52 a.m., taken at the Sikorsky Memorial Airport in Bridgeport, Connecticut, was 19 degrees Fahrenheit, wind out of the North at 14 mph, and overcast skies with visibility at ten miles.

At approximately 6:00 a.m., the order was given for the SWAT teams to commence their respective tactical operations at the above listed locations.

The following New Haven (NH) and Albany (AL) SWAT team members were assigned and participated in the execution of the search warrant at [redacted] Bridgeport, Connecticut:

| Name | Division /Assignment |
|---|---|
| SA [redacted] | Albany / Perimeter |
| SA | Albany Paramedic / Perimeter |
| SA | New Haven / Perimeter |
| SA | Albany / Perimeter |

The NH/AL SWAT team initiated their operation by breaching the ground floor entry door of the location. They entered the building, secured the hallway, and then ascended the stairway to the second floor. The entry team assembled near [redacted] in the following order: 1) SA [redacted] 2) SA [redacted] 3) SA [redacted] 4) SA [redacted] 5) SA [redacted] 6) SA [redacted] 7) SA [redacted] 8) SA [redacted] and 9) SA [redacted] (Medic). SA [redacted] (Breacher), who was positioned on the opposite side of the apartment door, knocked and announced "FBI." After receiving no response, SA [redacted] breached the door to [redacted] with a one man ram. SA [redacted] then tossed a diversionary device into the apartment. The device detonated, and SA [redacted] followed by SAs [redacted] and [redacted], entered the apartment.

SA [redacted] moved directly forward, announced "FBI - get down", and utilizing the flashlight on his M-4 rifle, observed a subject, later identified as [redacted] moving away from him. Because of his momentum and close proximity to [redacted] SA [redacted] made a decision to go "hands on" with the subject in order to secure him. Just as SA [redacted] was preparing to place his M-4 rifle to his side, he tripped and fell towards the floor. Unbeknownst to SA [redacted] there was a box spring and mattress on the floor of the apartment just to the right of the doorway. SA [redacted] made contact with the mattress at or below his knees, well below his line of sight. With the momentum of his movement toward the subject, the contact with the mattress caused SA [redacted] to lose his balance and fall forward.

SA [redacted] braced himself for the fall while attempting to maintain positioning and control of his M-4 rifle. SA [redacted] reasserted his right hand grip on the M-4 rifle as he fell. SA [redacted] advised that his M-4 rifle was on "safe" prior to entering the apartment. SA [redacted] believed the motion of his hand carried the safety into the "fire" position and led to inadvertent contact with the trigger. The weapon discharged one round at some point during SA [redacted] fall, but he did not recall the exact moment.

SA [redacted] got back on his feet and visually reacquired [redacted] who had also fallen to the ground. SA [redacted] positioned himself over [redacted] to ensure he was subdued when he noticed [redacted] was wounded. SA [redacted] lifted the subject's t-shirt and observed what appeared to be a gunshot wound somewhere above the waistline. SA [redacted] recalled that someone in the room called for the SWAT medic and an ambulance.

SA [redacted] had followed SA [redacted] into the apartment after the detonation of the diversionary device. SA [redacted] turned to the right to cover the far corner of the room. Upon making his turn to the right, SA [redacted] made contact at or below the knees with the same mattress that was on the floor. This contact caused him to momentarily lose his balance. He then stepped on top of, and over the mattress to cover the far corner of the room. SA [redacted] saw a subject, out of the corner of his eye, who appeared to be moving in front of, and to SA [redacted] right.

After crossing the bed and reaching the other side, SA [redacted] heard a gun shot. He did not observe a muzzle blast. He looked toward the subject who was on the ground to see if he was a threat, and determined he was not. SA [redacted] continued to clear his area until it was determined the subject had been wounded.

SA [redacted] had followed SAs [redacted] and [redacted] into the apartment. He observed SA [redacted] moving straight ahead and SA [redacted] turning to the right, so he filled the gap between SAs [redacted] and [redacted] Upon entering the room, SA [redacted] heard a "pop" and saw a flash of light. SA [redacted] did not know if it was a muzzle blast from a firearm or a flashlight being turned on.

After taking a couple of steps into the room, SA [redacted] noticed SA [redacted] was on his knees on top of a subject who was on the ground. SA [redacted] moved closer to SA [redacted] to check for any weapons near the subject. SA [redacted] noticed a small red circle on the subject's back and thought the subject may have been shot. He did not recall any comments being made at this time, except for the subject crying out in pain and cursing.

SA [redacted] advised he did not observe any other members of the entry team that were behind him enter the room, as the space was very small. He heard someone call out for a "cuffer" and SA [redacted] entered the room and placed handcuffs on the subject.

Team Leader SA [redacted] was positioned in the tactical formation outside of apartment #6 when he heard the detonation of the diversionary device. A few seconds later, SA [redacted] heard a gun shot. When SA [redacted] entered the apartment he observed the subject lying on the floor with a small hole in his right side. SA [redacted] called for the medic, and SA [redacted] (Medic) immediately responded from the hallway. SA [redacted] began to administer first aid to the subject. SA [redacted] then radioed the Command Post/Tactical Operations Center (CP/TOC) and advised: "shot fired, subject down, send ambulance." SA [redacted] directed SAs [redacted] and [redacted] to leave the apartment. SA [redacted] established control over the scene by limiting access to the apartment and ensuring overall security of the building.

SA [redacted] advised he had been positioned in the tactical formation outside [redacted] when he heard explosions he assumed were diversionary devices. Shortly thereafter, SA [redacted] heard someone say "medic up," which meant someone was injured. SA [redacted] immediately made his way into the apartment. He observed the apartment to be dark, with a thick layer of smoke. SA [redacted] observed the apartment was cramped and the only source of light was from SWAT team operators' flashlights.

SA [redacted] observed [redacted] lying on his side in a somewhat prone position. He observed a SWAT team operator placing handcuffs on this subject. SA [redacted] assessed [redacted] injuries noting he was responsive to verbal stimulus. He checked the subject's vital signs and determined he was probably in shock. SA [redacted] observed what appeared to be an entry wound on the right side of [redacted] body and an apparent exit wound on the left flank. SA [redacted] stated it appeared to be a "through and through" wound associated with the lower abdomen, and very survivable. SA [redacted] did not detect signs of internal injuries.

SA [redacted] requested the assistance of the other medic on the team, SA [redacted] to bring additional equipment including oxygen and a backboard. SAs [redacted] and [redacted] continued to administer aid to [redacted] until a civilian ambulance arrived. [redacted] was placed in the ambulance, and SA [redacted] rode with the subject to Saint Vincent's Medical Center (SVMC) in Bridgeport, Connecticut.

The CP/TOC advised SA [redacted] the Connecticut State Police (CSP) Quick Reaction Force (QRF) would be arriving at the apartment to take control of the scene. The CSP QRF arrived at the apartment at approximately 6:50 a.m., and SA [redacted] turned the scene over to them. SA [redacted] then instructed the SWAT team to withdraw from the scene.

The CSP, Western District, Major Crimes Squad (MCS), processed the shooting scene at [redacted] based on a state search warrant. Examination of the scene revealed a bullet hole in a window on the far wall of the apartment opposite the front door. The spent .223 caliber shell casing from SA [redacted] M-4 was recovered. All evidence/items collected by the CSP MCS were turned over to the New Haven Division Evidence Response Team (ERT). A neighborhood canvas was conducted for possible witnesses to the shooting and none were identified. Additionally, the bullet from SA [redacted] M-4 could not be located. No collateral damage was observed outside [redacted] from where the round exited the apartment window. b6 b7C

Upon completion of the state search warrant, the CSP MCS turned the scene over to the NH ERT which executed the federal search warrant for the apartment, pursuant to the underlying criminal investigation of the [redacted] DTO. The NH ERT recovered, among other things, approximately $785 in cash, and various documents and cell phones.

Trooper [redacted] of the CSP MCS responded to SVMC, 2800 Main Street, Bridgeport, Connecticut, and obtained a written statement from [redacted] In his statement, [redacted] said he was asleep at approximately 6:00 a.m. when he heard a loud bang and got up to look out the window. When he turned away from the window he saw a masked man coming through the apartment door. He saw other men as well, and knew they were police officers because they had uniforms with the word "Police." He saw a flash and then fell to the ground. He thought he had been struck with a "tazer" and felt a burning pain in his back. He did not hear a gun shot and did not realize he had been shot. After he fell on the floor, his hands were then handcuffed behind his back. He was then transported to the hospital. [redacted] signed a medical release form authorizing the SVMC to release his medical records to the CSP.

On February 5, 2009, [redacted] was presented before a U.S. Magistrate Judge in his hospital room at SVMC. [redacted] was then remanded to the custody of the United States Marshal's Service (USMS). On February 6, 2009, [redacted] was released from the SVMC and remains in the custody of the USMS.

On February 8, 2009, Dr [redacted] Surgeon, SVMC, was interviewed concerning [redacted]. Dr [redacted] advised he was the attending Emergency Room physician on February 4, 2009, when [redacted] was admitted with a gunshot wound. Dr. [redacted] indicated [redacted] suffered a non-life threatening gun shot wound to his abdomen, with the round entering [redacted] right front abdomen and exiting his right rear flank. [redacted] was described by Dr [redacted] as being heavy, and due to the location of the wound, the round had not penetrated or damaged any vital organs. Dr [redacted] further stated [redacted] had some bruising of his kidney from the percussion of the round, but indicated the wounds were of a non-life threatening nature and that the kidney would heal itself within days. Medical records concerning the treatment of [redacted] were obtained from Saint Vincent's Hospital and made a part of the SIRT report. b6 b7C

The M16A1 conversion carbine rifle utilized by SA [redacted] was forwarded to the FBI's Defensive Systems Unit (DSU), Quantico, Virginia for technical inspection. The technical inspection was conducted by Gunsmith [redacted] The results of the inspection were documented in an EC dated 04/17/2009, and reported the following:

"A visual inspection of the exterior of the weapon noted no mechanical deficiencies. It was noted an H&K MP-5 sling was attached to the weapon and that a plastic cable tie had been used to affix the rear portion of this sling to the weapon.

A visual inspection and disassembly of the internal mechanics of the weapon similarly noted no deficiencies, only that the chamber and bolt carrier were dirty. The weapon was found to be fully functional, with all safety and operating mechanisms working properly and within factory specifications. The selector lever was found to have positive engagement in both the safe and semi-automatic positions and the trigger weight was measured at 7.5 pounds."

The Inspection Division requested DSU to determine if it was possible for the weapon's trigger to be pressed simultaneously with the selector lever being moved from the safe position. Gunsmith [redacted] advised the selector lever on all Colt style carbines (such as the M16A1), when positively engaged in the safe mode, is designed to completely block the trigger tail from moving upward. It is this blocking of the trigger tail that makes the weapon safe. Once the selector lever is rotated from the positive safe position (off safe) absolute blocking is no longer possible. b6 b7C

The EC from DSU also stated:

"When tested with a National Rifle Association (NRA) trigger weight set, and the selector lever staged approximately half-way between the safe and semi-automatic positions, the New Haven Division weapon required 27 pounds of force applied to the trigger to cause the hammer to move to the forward position. With the selector lever staged approximately two-thirds the distance between the positive safe and positive semi-automatic positions, the weapon required 15.5 pounds of force to cause the hammer to move to the forward position. It should be noted that normal trigger weight, as established by Colt, is 5.5-8.5 pounds."

Title: SHOOTING INQUIRY
REPORT OF SHOOTING INCIDENT
LITTLE ROCK DIVISION, TEXARKANA RESIDENT AGENCY
02/13/2009

Character: ADMINISTRATIVE INQUIRY

Synopsis: Jeremy Ray Reed was charged with Possession of a Firearm by a Person After a Court Order Prohibiting Same, in violation of Title 18, United States Code, Sections 922(g)(8) and 924(a)(2). On February 4, 2009, an attempt to serve a federal arrest warrant on Jeremy Reed was made by law enforcement officers. On that day, it was reported that Jeremy Reed was residing at his grandfather's residence, located on the property of 138 Highway 71 North, Ashdown, Arkansas. The arrest team primarily consisted of two FBI Special Agents and two local police officers. Upon arriving on the scene, and after securing the perimeter, an Agent identified himself as a federal law enforcement officer to Jeremy Reed, while Jeremy Reed was inside the residence of the grandfather. Upon being notified of the presence of law enforcement officers, Jeremy Reed exited the residence carrying a long gun and began to flee to the residence belonging to Jeremy Reed's mother, which was located nearby on the same property. Upon fleeing the grandfather's residence, and while attempting to gain entry into the mother's residence, firearms were discharged when Jeremy Reed, who failed to heed law enforcement commands to drop his weapon, pointed his weapon in a threatening manner in the direction of the law enforcement officers. A total of five shots were fired. One shot was fired by Jeremy Reed, two shots were fired by a local police officer, and two shots were fired by Special Agent (SA) [redacted] of the Little Rock Field Office, Texarkana, Resident Agency (RA). None of the law enforcement officers were struck. Jeremy Reed, struck by buckshot from one of the shots fired by the local police officer, sustained non-life threatening injuries. Subsequent to being struck by buckshot, Jeremy Reed gained entry into his mother's residence. After gaining entry into his mother's residence, SAs [redacted] and [redacted] and a local Sheriff initiated negotiations with Jeremy Reed in an attempt to gain his surrender. Jeremy Reed refused to surrender and sustained a fatal, self-inflicted gun shot wound. Jeremy Reed was pronounced dead on February 4, 2009, at 11:12 p.m. b6 b7C

DETAILS:

On October 21, 2005, Jeremy Reed allegedly assaulted his spouse at the Electric Cowboy in Texarkana, Arkansas. Jeremy Reed crossed the state line into Texas while transporting his spouse to Ogden, Arkansas, where he allegedly continued to assault her. The spouse of Jeremy Reed was treated at a hospital emergency room and she later filed charges against Jeremy Reed for 3rd Degree Domestic Battery. A state protective order was subsequently issued against Jeremy Reed in Little River County Arkansas. Based on provisions of the state protective order, Jeremy Reed was prohibited from receiving or possessing a firearm under Title 18, United States Code, Section 922.

On March 3, 2006, Jeremy Reed posted bond after being arrested by the Texarkana Arkansas Police Department (TAPD) on the Domestic Battery charge.

On August 5, 2007, the TAPD was notified that Ashdown Police Department (APD), Ashdown, Arkansas was in possession of an arrest warrant for Jeremy Reed, who was, at that time, reportedly in Texarkana, Arkansas. The warrant pertained to Jeremy Reed allegedly "pistol whipping" an individual in Ashdown, Arkansas. In addition, the TAPD was warned Jeremy Reed was in possession of a handgun. Ultimately, TAPD officers located Jeremy Reed in Texarkana. Although he was armed with a loaded handgun and resisted arrest, Jeremy Reed was disarmed and taken into custody.

On August 15, 2007, an Assistant United States Attorney (AUSA) was made aware of the matter and expressed intent to prosecute Jeremy Reed upon confirmation that he violated federal criminal statutes.

On June 25, 2008, an Indictment was filed with the U.S. District Court, Western District of Arkansas, Texarkana Division, which consisted of One Count, which asserted: "On or about August 5, 2007, in the Western District of Arkansas, Texarkana Division, the defendant, Jeremy Ray Reed, who was subject to a court order issued by the Little River County Circuit Court on November 29, 2005, in case number DR2005-155-2, which was issued after a hearing of which he received actual notice, and at which he had an opportunity to participate, restraining him from harassing or threatening an intimate partner, that by its terms explicitly prohibited the use, attempted use, or threatened use of physical force against such intimate partner that would reasonably be expected to cause bodily injury, or that included a finding that the defendant was a credible threat to the physical safety of the intimate partner, did knowingly possess a firearm, specifically an HR .22 caliber revolver, serial number AC32264, which had been shipped and transported in interstate commerce, in violation of Title 18, United States Code, Sections 922(g)(8) and 924(a)(2)."

On July 08, 2008, the United States District Court, Western District of Arkansas, Texarkana Division, issued a federal arrest warrant for Jeremy Ray Reed charging him with Possession of a Firearm by a Person After a Court Order Prohibiting Same, in violation of Title 18, United States Code, Sections 922(g)(8) and 924(a)(2). b6 b7C

On February 4, 2009, at approximately 12:30 p.m., FBI SA [redacted] Little Rock Field Office, Texarkana Resident Agency (TRA), was advised by APD Detective [redacted] that information had been received indicating that Mr. [redacted] the grandfather of Jeremy Reed, was near death and was being treated at St. Michael's Hospital, 2600 St. Michael Drive, Texarkana, Texas. Detective [redacted] opined that Jeremy Reed would likely be visiting his grandfather at the hospital. SA [redacted] and SA [redacted] also assigned to the Little Rock Field Office, Texarkana RA, proceeded to the hospital. While en route, the SA's contacted Texarkana Texas Police Department (TTPD) dispatch and requested TTPD assist in the location and potential arrest of Jeremy Reed. FBI SA [redacted] Dallas Field Office, co-located at the TRA, was also notified and responded to the hospital. Upon arriving at the hospital, SAs [redacted] and [redacted] met with uniformed TTPD officers and, after briefing them on the matter pertaining to Jeremy Reed, proceeded immediately to the nursing station on the 6th floor of St Michael's Hospital where [redacted] was receiving medical attention. SA [redacted] met with the nursing staff caring for [redacted] The nurses were shown a photograph of Jeremy Reed and confirmed the individual in the photograph was the same person that had been visiting [redacted]. In addition, it was learned that Jeremy Reed departed the hospital approximately 30 minutes prior to the arrival of the SAs. The SAs then showed a photograph of Jeremy Reed to a hospital security guard. The hospital security guard stated he thought Jeremy Reed was in the hospital cafeteria. The SAs then proceeded to the cafeteria, but Jeremy Reed was not found. The SAs provided the security guard with an FBI business card and Blackberry telephone number, and the guard advised he would notify them immediately should Jeremy Reed return to the hospital. A photograph of Jeremy Reed and FBI business card were also provided to the nursing staff and they were asked to call if Jeremy Reed returned. Thereafter, a search of the hospital parking lot was conducted in attempt to locate Jeremy Reed, but he was not found. The SAs then returned to the TRA.

On February 4, 2009, at approximately 6:20 p.m., APD Detective [redacted] was telephonically contacted by City of Ashdown Mayor Earnest Wayne Reed who is Jeremy Reed's uncle. Mayor Reed advised Detective [redacted] that Jeremy Reed was threatening his (Jeremy Reed's) mother, [redacted] his sister, and his children. Mayor Reed also advised Detective [redacted] that Jeremy Reed had barricaded himself in his grandfather's residence, located at [redacted] Ashdown, Arkansas, and that Jeremy Reed had informed his mother he would kill anybody who tried to remove him from the residence. Mayor Reed also advised Detective [redacted] that during a prior conservation, Jeremy Reed had stated he would kill any police officer who tried to take him into custody and would then kill himself. At the conclusion of his conversation with Mayor Reed, Detective [redacted] contacted the Little River County Sheriff's Office (LRSO) and discussed the matter with Sheriff Danny Russell, inasmuch as [redacted] Ashdown, Arkansas, is located a short distance outside the city limits of Ashdown, Arkansas.

On February 4, 2009, at approximately 6:30 p.m., APD Detective [redacted] telephonically contacted the TRA and spoke with SA [redacted] Detective [redacted] advised SA [redacted] that Jeremy Reed had barricaded himself in his grandfather's residence, that he reportedly had a shotgun, and that he was reportedly threatening to kill his family. SA's [redacted] and [redacted] responded immediately to the LRSO, which is located in Ashdown. En route to the LRSO, SA [redacted] telephonically notified Senior Supervisory Resident Agency (SSRA) [redacted] who was physically located at Fort Smith, Arkansas, which is located several hours away from Ashdown. As SSRA [redacted] was already familiar with the Jeremy Reed matter, SA [redacted] provided an update on the latest developments. SSRA [redacted] encouraged SA [redacted] a Special Weapons And Tactics (SWAT) Operator, to utilize SWAT, if possible and appropriate. SSRA [redacted] requested SA [redacted] keep him advised of developments and advised SA [redacted] he fully supported the TRA's efforts to work in concert with local authorities to resolve the matter. SA [redacted] then contacted LR Headquarters City SWAT Team Leader SA [redacted], who, like SSRA [redacted] was previously briefed on the Jeremy Reed matter. SA [redacted] made SA [redacted] aware that SWAT Team assistance may be needed. Upon arriving at the LRSO, SA's [redacted] and [redacted], and Detective [redacted] discussed the situation and developed a verbal operational plan in the presence of LRSO deputies, as well as in the presence of APD Detective [redacted]. The operational plan included a strategy to access and secure the premises, assess the situation, and extricate family members.

On February 04, 2009, also sometime around 6:30 p.m., Detective [redacted] telephonically contacted Sheriff Russell. Detective [redacted] advised Sheriff Russell he had received information that Jeremy Reed was at his grandfather's residence, and Jeremy Reed had made several threats indicating he would kill his entire family, kill any police officer that tried to arrest him, and kill himself as well. Sheriff Russell and Detective [redacted] agreed it would be prudent to establish perimeter security on the property. Sheriff Russel met at the LRSO with Detective [redacted] APD Detective [redacted] SA [redacted] and SA [redacted]. Afterwards, Sheriff Russell proceeded to the area and established surveillance of the driveway leading to the property and awaited the arrival of other law enforcement personnel.

On February 4, 2009, while Detective [redacted] was still at the LRSO with SA's [redacted] and [redacted], and Detective [redacted] Mayor Reed telephonically re-contacted Detective [redacted] Mayor Reed advised Detective [redacted] that his (Mayor Reed's) wife was on the telephone with [redacted] the mother of Jeremy Reed, who informed Mayor Reed's wife that Jeremy Reed was barricaded in his grandfather's house, was in possession of a shotgun, and was threatening to kill [redacted], his two children and another child, and himself. Mayor Reed also informed Detective [redacted] that Jeremy Reed was kicking at the walls of the grandfathers residence, and [redacted] was anxious for law enforcement to arrive. Mayor Reed asked Detective [redacted] for immediate law enforcement assistance in resolving this matter. While still at the LRSO, SA [redacted] telephonically contacted [redacted] SA [redacted] was advised by [redacted] that she, her mother (the grandmother of Jeremy Reed), two children belonging to Jeremy Reed, and another child were in a mobile home trailer, which was also located on the [redacted] property approximately 70 feet away from Jeremy Reed's grandfather's house. [redacted] also advised SA [redacted] that Jeremy Reed was armed with a shotgun, he was knocking holes in walls, and that she feared for her life. [redacted] while still on the telephone with SA [redacted] stated on two occasions, "I've already signed my death warrant." [redacted] then became distraught to the point that she was unable to speak, and asked SA [redacted] to speak with her mother (who was also in the trailer). SA [redacted] asked [redacted] mother if they were all capable of exiting the trailer through the back door, and advised them to go the end of the driveway and meet Sheriff Russell. While on the telephone, SA [redacted] could hear some minor commotion in the background, and [redacted] mother advised SA [redacted] they were all exiting the trailer.

Sheriff Russell had established a staging area near the property and instructed his deputies to assemble there. Sheriff Russell positioned his patrol unit on the side of the road south of the driveway leading to the property. After a brief time had elapsed, Detective [redacted] telephonically contacted Sheriff Russell and advised that SA [redacted] had spoken to [redacted] by telephone and had convinced her to take her family and leave the property, and that [redacted] and her family would be leaving the property by way of motor vehicle. Detective [redacted] requested Sheriff Russell stop the vehicle of [redacted] upon its departure from the property. Detective [redacted] then proceeded to the staging area where Sheriff Russell was located. Subsequently, Sheriff Russell observed a vehicle transiting the driveway, leaving the property, and accessing a major roadway. Sheriff Russell followed the vehicle to a safe location and effected a traffic stop. Sheriff Russell then escorted [redacted] her mother, and the three children back to a staging area south of the driveway leading to the property. At about this same time, SA's [redacted] and [redacted] as well as APD officers arrived at the scene.

Upon arriving at the staging area, SAs [redacted] and [redacted] checked their operational equipment, and discussed an operational plan with local law enforcement officers at the scene. It was determined SA [redacted] a trained FBI Crisis Negotiator, would communicate with [redacted] in an attempt to gain relevant intelligence in the event negotiations with Jeremy Reed ensued. It was also determined SA [redacted] and Detective [redacted] would approach the area of the house and trailer to establish a perimeter and initiate surveillance, as SA [redacted] was most familiar with the area.

SA [redacted] and Detective [redacted], under cover of darkness and natural foliage, approached first the house belonging to the grandfather and made a sweep of the north, east, and south sides of the house. There were no lights visible, and no apparent activity inside. SA [redacted] and [redacted] established static surveillance, with Detective [redacted] positioned on the west side of the residence and SA [redacted] positioned on the east side of the residence. b6 b7C

After debriefing [redacted] SA [redacted] and Detective [redacted] walked down the driveway of the property and positioned themselves at the south end of the house; this location also positioned them facing the front of the trailer parked adjacent to the house. This position was maintained for a period of time, with no activity being noticed within the house.

It appeared to SA [redacted] the house was unoccupied, and considering the possibility Jeremy Reed had left the property before the arrival of law enforcement, or that Jeremy Reed had committed suicide, SA [redacted] decided to try to contact Jeremy Reed before any request was made for SWAT deployment. SA [redacted] telephonically contacted SA [redacted] and advised he was in a position to knock on the door of the house. SA [redacted] pulsed his flashlight in the direction of SA [redacted] to indicate his position.

SA [redacted] went to the north side of the residence and again pulsed his flashlight to indicate his position to other law enforcement personnel. SA [redacted] could see Detective [redacted] from his position. SA [redacted] then banged on a window and announced his presence and then calling out to Jeremy Reed by name. SA [redacted] "knocked and announced" on two occasions. Detective [redacted] heard a voice from inside the residence respond, "Come get me." Detective [redacted] heard SA [redacted] and the occupant of the residence having dialogue.

According to SA [redacted] and to the best of his recollection, the following dialogue between he and Jeremy Reed took place:

Reed: Who is it?
[redacted]: It's [redacted] with the FBI. b6 b7C
Reed: What do you want?
[redacted] Jeremy, we need to talk to you.
Reed: I'm not coming out. You're going to have to come in and get me.
[redacted] Jeremy, we're not going to come in and get you. The police have your house surrounded. Jeremy, we've already talked about this. We have a warrant.
Reed: Yeah I know, but I'm not coming out. You're going to have to come in and get me. You just need to go away and leave me alone.
[redacted] Jeremy, you know we can't do that.

SA [redacted] believed Jeremy Reed was moving inside the house and coming very close to his location and became concerned Jeremy Reed was targeting his position. SA [redacted] then discontinued the conversation and quickly moved away from the house into the brush. SA [redacted] had not observed any doors on the north side of the residence. SA [redacted] was concerned Jeremy Reed would try to escape and, therefore, he moved to a position covering the southeast side of the residence.

As SA [redacted] confirmed Jeremy Reed was inside the house, he notified SA [redacted] he was going to contact the SWAT team. SA [redacted] then contacted SWAT Assistant Team Leader SA [redacted] (as SWAT Team Leader SA [redacted] was out of town), and requested deployment of SWAT to the location. SA [redacted] advised SA [redacted] there was no reason for the on-scene law enforcement officers to make entry into the house, and the best option was for them to maintain the perimeter until FBI SWAT arrived on scene. SA [redacted] requested SA [redacted] to contact SSRA [redacted] and provide him with an update on the situation. SA [redacted] advised SA [redacted] he contacted the Little Rock SWAT Team, and further advised it would take the SWAT team three to four hours to arrive on scene. b6 b7C

SA [redacted] advised SA [redacted] he was going to meet with Sheriff Russell to brief him on the situation and coordinate a negotiation strategy. Afterwards, SA [redacted] heard a noise near the house and he observed Jeremy Reed now outside the residence, with a long gun in his hand while looking around and walking toward the adjacent trailer. SA [redacted] then shouted, "Jeremy, drop your weapon!" Jeremy Reed did not comply and instead began running toward the trailer. SA [redacted] lost sight of Jeremy Reed, but again shouted, "Jeremy, drop your weapon!" Still unable to see Jeremy Reed, SA [redacted] shouted "Drop your weapon" once again. Detective [redacted] heard something to the effect of SA [redacted] yelling at Jeremy Reed to drop his gun and get down. Detective [redacted] then observed Jeremy Reed, carrying a long gun that was believed to be a shotgun, moving towards the trailer.

SA [redacted] attempted to regain visual sighting of Jeremy Reed by maneuvering in the direction of where he had previously observed Jeremy Reed. SA [redacted] then heard a loud "boom" which he believed was a shotgun being discharged, which he thought was initiated by Detective [redacted] as it came from near Detective [redacted] location. SA [redacted] then regained sight of Jeremy Reed, observing Jeremy Reed standing on the steps at the front of the trailer. SA [redacted] observed Jeremy Reed holding the long gun horizontally. SA [redacted] now fearing for the safety of the other law enforcement officers, raised his Bureau issued rifle in preparation to engage Jeremy Reed. SA [redacted] then heard the sound of Jeremy Reed discharging his weapon, and visually observed a muzzle-flash from Jeremy Reed's location. SA [redacted] then brought his M-4 rifle into firing position and noticed the reticle of the EO Tech electronic sight was not illuminated. Since the rear factory sight had been removed to accommodate the EO Tech sight, SA [redacted] used the EO Tech sight as a rear peep sight, centered the top of the front sight post in the glass display of the EO Tech sight, put the front sight post at the center of mass of Jeremy Reed, and then fired his M-4 rifle. Jeremy Reed did not react. SA [redacted] then held the front sight post slightly lower and fired his M-4 rifle a second time and observed Jeremy Reed flinch. Jeremy Reed then entered the front door of the trailer, and SA [redacted] lost sight of him. Almost simultaneous to firing his M-4 rifle the second time, SA [redacted] heard a shotgun blast from the right of his position and heard someone state, "I hit him." (SA [redacted] later learned it was Detective [redacted] who fired his shotgun, and the buckshot from the shotgun fired by Detective [redacted] struck Jeremy Reed.) b6 b7C

SA [redacted] then moved to a position on the east side of the trailer and checked to ensure Jeremy Reed had not escaped out the back of the trailer. SA [redacted] then heard Jeremy Reed moving around inside the trailer. SA [redacted] also heard Jeremy Reed moaning and heard him yell, "I'm bleeding out!" SA [redacted] then yelled for Jeremy Reed to come out of the trailer in order to receive medical assistance. Jeremy Reed responded he was not coming out, and stated again that he was shot and was "bleeding out." SA believed Jeremy Reed was moving westward inside the trailer, and thinking he might come out the front of the trailer, SA began to move along the north side (front) of the trailer toward the front door.

During the time Jeremy Reed was moving from the house to the trailer, SA was discussing the situation with Sheriff Russell. Upon hearing gunfire, Sheriff Russell and SA entered Sheriff Russell's vehicle and proceeded toward the house and the trailer. Once near the two residences, and upon exiting the vehicle, SA called out to Detective to determine if he was alright. Detective indicated he was alright and then briefed SA as to what had just transpired, and indicated that Jeremy Reed had taken refuge in the trailer. At that time, SA observed SA moving in the direction of the trailer. b6 b7C

SA continued to attempt to convince Jeremy Reed to leave the trailer in order to receive medical attention. Subsequently, SA informed Jeremy Reed that he was having trouble hearing him and was going to push the front door open a little so he could understand him better. Upon pushing the door open, through the hinge gap between the door and the door frame, SA was able to see Jeremy Reed. SA observed that Jeremy Reed had sustained injuries to his right wrist and right thigh. SA also observed Jeremy Reed was holding his weapon by the barrel with his left hand. It appeared to SA that Jeremy Reed was no longer wanting to engage law enforcement personnel. SA again offered medical assistance to Jeremy Reed and Reed again refused. It was about this time SA joined SA outside the trailer, near the front door.

SAs and each called out to Jeremy Reed, and SA could hear moaning coming from within the trailer. At one point, SA heard Jeremy Reed state "man, I'm bleeding out." SAs and negotiated with Jeremy Reed, encouraging him to exit the trailer so he could be taken to a hospital. Jeremy Reed refused to leave the trailer and at one point commented, "I'm going to finish myself off." Jeremy Reed also stated there was no way he was going back to jail.

SAs and continued to negotiate and offer assistance, and Reed continued to refuse. At this point, Jeremy Reed stated, "You sons of bitches shot me and I'm bleeding out." SA opened the door a littler wider in effort to get a better view of Jeremy Reed. SA observed Jeremy Reed in the hallway of the trailer with blood stains on the right leg of his jeans. Based on his crisis negotiation training, SA believed the longer Jeremy Reed was engaged and talking, the more likely he was to surrender. Therefore, SA attempted to maintain ongoing dialogue with Jeremy Reed. All-the-while, Jeremy Reed refused to exit the trailer.

During the stand off, Jeremy Reed stated he had taken sixty-five pills, including Xanax. SA observed Jeremy Reed become unsteady on his feet. Jeremy Reed then threatened suicide. SA then observed Jeremy Reed put the shotgun down. SA subsequently advised Jeremy Reed he was going to take one step into the living room and talk to him face to face. SAs and now positioned in the doorway of the trailer, observed Jeremy Reed walking periodically from the hallway to a room adjacent to the hallway. On two occasions Jeremy Reed walked out of the adjacent room with the shotgun, holding the barrel end with his left hand. On one occasion, Jeremy Reed walked out with the shotgun pointing toward the floor of the trailer. All-the-while, SAs and being at the doorway of the trailer, continued to negotiate with Jeremy Reed. b6 b7C

As SAs [redacted] and [redacted] continued to negotiate with Jeremy Reed, SA [redacted] requested Sheriff Russell to come to the door of the trailer to assist in the negotiation for Jeremy Reed's surrender, as the Sheriff and Jeremy Reed were very familiar with each other. Sheriff Russell complied and thereafter participated in the negotiation. After nearly an hour, SAs [redacted] and [redacted] noticed a change in Jeremy Reed's demeanor. Jeremy Reed then walked into the room adjacent to the hallway of the trailer and closed the door. Within seconds, a muffled blast was heard by SAs [redacted] and [redacted] as well as by Sheriff Russell. Detective's [redacted] and [redacted] outside the trailer, also heard the muffled blast. SA [redacted] called out to Jeremy Reed by name a number of times, but Jeremy Reed did not respond. As this time, Detective [redacted] used his police radio to request an ambulance. SA's [redacted] and [redacted] entered the adjacent room saw Jeremy Reed's body slumped in a chair. It was obvious to SA's [redacted] and [redacted] that Jeremy Reed placed the barrel of the shotgun under his chin and discharged the weapon. Detective [redacted] was subsequently advised of the details, and he then contacted the LRSO Dispatcher and requested a Coroner. He also requested an Arkansas State Police (ASP) Investigator be dispatched to the scene.

On February 4, 2009, at 10:50 p.m., the LRSO Dispatcher contacted ASP Senior Special Agent (SSA) [redacted] for assistance. ASP SSA [redacted] then contacted his supervisor, ASP Sergeant [redacted] and advised him of the matter. At approximately 11:16 p.m., ASP SSA [redacted] arrived on scene. ASP SSA [redacted], being assisted by ASP SA's [redacted] and [redacted] as well as ASP Sergeant [redacted], conducted a State of Arkansas Crime Scene Search and initiated a Death Investigation.

[redacted] M.D., Associate Medical Examiner, Arkansas State Crime Laboratory, issued a report advising an examination was conducted on February 06, 2009 on decedent Jeremy Reed. Jeremy Reed was pronounced dead at 11:12 p.m. on February 4, 2009, at [redacted] Ashdown, Arkansas. The manner of death was determined to be suicide, with the cause of death being a shotgun wound to the neck.

On February 13, 2009 [redacted] Prosecuting Attorney, Judicial District 9th West, State of Arkansas, advised ASP SSA [redacted], with respect to his Death Investigation of Jeremy Reed, "Pursuant to our telephone conversation today, I am writing to notify you that I have reviewed the Arkansas State Police's investigative file in regards to this matter. After review of the statements from the witnesses, the pictures and diagrams of the scene, I do not find that the police officers or the agents (sic) from the Federal Bureau of Investigations (sic) did anything to violate Arkansas criminal law."

CHICAGO DIVISION
08/14/2009

Synopsis: The Shooting Incident Review Group (SIRG) reviewed a shooting incident that occurred on 08/14/2009, involving Special Agent (SA) [redacted] During the execution of an arrest warrant, SA [redacted] fired five rounds from his Bureau-issued Colt Model M1641, .223 caliber carbine killing an attacking bull dog. SIRG members recommended that no administrative action be taken against SA [redacted] as a result of his involvement in this shooting incident.

Administrative: Reference Electronic Communication of Supervisory Special Agent (SSA) [redacted] dated 08/17/2009.

Details: This communication was prepared to furnish the analysis, comments, and recommendations of the SIRG with reference to the captioned shooting.

Details of the Shooting Incident

On 08/14/2009, at approximately 6:00 p.m., members of the Violent Crimes Task Force executed an arrest warrant for [redacted] who was wanted for a number of bank robberies. Investigation determined [redacted] was inside a residence located in Chicago.

Upon arrival at the residence, SA [redacted] knocked on the door of the residence and announced law enforcement presence. Receiving no response, SA [redacted] noticed the door was ajar and pushed it open. As the door opened, a large white bull dog charged at the arrest team. SA [redacted] yelled "dog" and kicked at the animal which continued to attack. SA [redacted] located directly behind SA [redacted] pulled him away from the dog and fired five rounds killing the dog.

After the shots were fired, a number of individuals exited the residence through the back door. Perimeter Agents detained the individuals, conducted interviews, and determined [redacted] was located in the basement of the residence. The subject surrendered and was taken into custody without further incident.

On 12/03/2009, the SIRG met to discuss the above-captioned shooting incident. Acting Deputy Assistant Director Mary E. Galligan, Inspection Division (INSD), chaired the meeting and was a non-voting member. The following voting members were in attendance: Barry Kowalski, Special Legal Counsel, Civil Rights Division, USDOJ; [redacted] Trial Attorney, Criminal Division, USDOJ; Inspector Donald E. Oswald, Office of Inspections, INSD; Section Chief (SC) Ralph Butler, CD-1, Eurasian Section, Counterintelligence Division; SC David J. Re: 297-HQ-A1271285-D, 12/11/2009

SIRG members unanimously concurred that the use of deadly force by SA [redacted] was justified and in conformance with the FBI's deadly force policy. This discussion resulted in the recommendation that no administrative action be taken against SA [redacted] as a result of his involvement in this shooting incident. b6 b7C

08/12/2009

Synopsis: The Shooting Incident Review Group (SIRG) reviewed a shooting incident that occurred on 08/12/2009, involving Special Agent (SA [redacted] While securing a rear perimeter area during the execution of a search warrant, SA [redacted] fired two rounds from his Bureau-issued Glock Model 22 pistol, injuring an attacking pit bull dog. SIRG members recommended that no administrative action be taken against SA [redacted] as a result of his involvement in this shooting incident.

Administrative: Reference report of Assistant Special Agent in Charge James L. Struyk, dated 08/12/2009.

Details: This communication was prepared to furnish the analysis, comments, and recommendations of the SIRG with reference to the captioned shooting.

Details of the Shooting Incident

On 08/12/2009, SA [redacted] participated in the execution of a state search warrant. At approximately 9:00 a.m., a briefing was held at the Los Angeles Police Department in Culver City. At the conclusion of the briefing, SA [redacted] and approximately 30 other law enforcement personnel proceeded to the location to execute the search warrant.

At approximately 10:30 a.m., the entry team approached the initial entry point to the business. A locked white metal security door had recently been installed and a decision was made to enter through the preplanned secondary entry point while SA [redacted], Internal Revenue Service (IRS) Agent [redacted] and a local police officer maintained the perimeter at the security door. As the entry team went to the secondary entry point, a construction worker appeared at the security door, complied with the law enforcement command to unlock the metal door, and was subsequently detained. SA [redacted] proceeded down a narrow path while SA [redacted] maintained his position at the security door. Moments later SA [redacted] observed SA [redacted] running toward him yelling "dog, dog" and observed a large pit bull dog chasing and growling at SA [redacted] As SA [redacted] passed SA [redacted] position, SA [redacted] fired two rounds causing the injured dog to retreat.

On 12/03/2009, the SIRG met to discuss the above-captioned shooting incident. Acting Deputy Assistant Director Mary E. Galligan, Inspection Division (INSD), chaired the meeting and was a non-voting member. The following voting members were in attendance: Barry Kowalski, Special Legal Counsel, Civil Rights Division, USDOJ; [redacted] Trial Attorney, Criminal Division, USDOJ; Inspector Donald E. Oswald, Office of Inspections, INSD; Section Chief (SC) Ralph Butler, CD-1, Eurasian Section, Counterintelligence Division; SC David J. ## Observations and Recommendations of the SIRG concerning training and/or safety issues; and (4) provide recommendations for administrative action if deemed necessary.

SIRG members unanimously agreed that the use of deadly force by SA [redacted] was justified and in conformance with the FBI's deadly force policy. This discussion resulted in the recommendation that no administrative action be taken against SA [redacted] as a result of his involvement in this shooting incident. b6 b7C

Synopsis: The Shooting Incident Review Group (SIRG) reviewed a shooting incident that occurred on 08/07/2009, involving Law Enforcement Specialist (LES) [redacted] LES [redacted] fired one round from his Glock Model 23, .40 caliber S&W pistol killing a severely injured deer. SIRG members recommended that no administrative action be taken against LES [redacted] as a result of his involvement in this shooting incident.

Administrative: Reference report of Assistant Director Brian D. Lamkin, dated 08/10/2009.

Details: This communication was prepared to furnish the analysis, comments, and recommendations of the SIRG with reference to the captioned shooting.

Details of the Shooting Incident

On 08/07/2009, at approximately 5:45 a.m., LES [redacted] was driving to work at the FBI Academy when he encountered a U. S. Marine standing next to an injured female deer. The Marine was in the oncoming lane of traffic using a flashlight to signal traffic to slow down because the deer was struggling to stand and was dragging itself across the roadway.

Due to the darkness, increasing traffic, lack of emergency lights, and location of the deer, LES [redacted] shot and

09/11/2009

Synopsis: The Shooting Incident Review Group (SIRG) reviewed a shooting incident that occurred on 09/11/2009, involving Special Agent (SA) [redacted]. While conducting a cellular telephone tracking operation, SA [redacted] fired two rounds from his Bureau-issued Glock Model 22, .40 caliber pistol at a subject who was backing a vehicle toward him and a local police officer. SIRG members recommended that no administrative action be taken against SA [redacted] as a result of his involvement in this shooting incident.

Administrative: Reference Electronic Communication of Supervisory Special Agent [redacted], dated 11/17/2009.

Details: This communication was prepared to furnish the analysis, comments, and recommendations of the SIRG with reference to the captioned shooting.

Details of the Shooting Incident

On 09/11/2009, Agents and Task Force Officers (TFOs) were conducting a cellular telephone tracking operation on fugitive [redacted]. During the operation, [redacted] parked his vehicle and Detective [redacted] parked the tracking vehicle directly behind him. SA [redacted] and Detective [redacted] exited their vehicle while issuing commands to the subject. Detective [redacted] was positioned behind the rear passenger side of the subject vehicle and SA [redacted] was situated along the passenger side. In an attempt to seek cover, SA [redacted] repositioned himself to the rear passenger side forcing Detective [redacted] to the rear of the vehicle.

Attempting to prevent the subject from leaving the area, Detective [redacted] repositioned the tracking vehicle along the side of the subject's vehicle. [redacted] placed his car in reverse and backed toward Detective [redacted] and SA [redacted] Believing both were in imminent danger of being injured or killed, SA [redacted] fired two rounds at the subject.

[redacted] was not struck by the fired rounds and fled the scene. His vehicle was recovered by local police and the two expended rounds were recovered from the rear of the vehicle.

On 12/03/2009, the SIRG met to discuss the above-captioned shooting incident. Acting Deputy Assistant Director Mary E. ## Details of the Shooting Incident

On 03/07/2009, as SA [redacted] was hiking along a highway outside of Woodward, Oklahoma, a large mixed breed dog approached him in a menacing manner. SA [redacted] looked around to determine if the dog's owner was in the area, however, the nearest house was approximately two hundred yards away from his location. SA [redacted] attempted to continue his walk several times; however, each time he turned his back to the animal, the dog aggressively charged him. After several attempts to leave the area, SA [redacted] turned and continued to walk toward town. He heard the dog barking in

REPORT OF SHOOTING INCIDENT
BUFFALO DIVISION
02/26/2009

Character: SHOOTING INCIDENT REVIEW

Synopsis: The Buffalo Division conducted an investigation entitled [redacted] which focused on the cocaine distribution activities of the "31 Street Gang," also known for extreme violence, including several murders. In January 2009, a joint law enforcement operation was conceived to obtain and simultaneously execute 34 arrest warrants, 11 search warrants for residences, and five search warrants for vehicles. Execution of the operation occurred on Thursday, February 26, 2009, and involved the FBI's Buffalo Division, New York State Police (NYSP), City of Buffalo Police, and numerous other federal, state, and local agencies. During the operation, the Buffalo Division's SWAT Team was assigned to clear two residences, in both of which were thought to live potentially armed subjects. Both residences located in the City of Buffalo were to be searched following clearing by the SWAT Team.

The first residence cleared by the SWAT Team was located at [redacted] and was executed as planned. The second residence was located at [redacted] where recent intelligence indicated the subject had obtained an assault rifle and two hand guns. The SWAT Team deployed a flash bang grenade and made entry into the residence. As the SWAT Team entered the living room, two SWAT operators broke off from the stack to clear a room along the right side wall of the living room. The remainder of the team proceeded through the living room to the threshold of the dining room located behind the living room. Within the dining room, there was a closet at the far left corner of the room, a hallway at the far right corner leading to the kitchen, and another doorway along the right side wall. Several operators stacked at the threshold between the living and dining rooms and began providing cover on the dining room and the far doorways, while one of the operators, SA [redacted] moved into the dining room. As he entered the dining room, SA [redacted] observed a cloth covering the doorway along the right wall billow out slightly into the dining room. Believing someone was in the adjacent room, SA [redacted] pulled down the covering, and conducted a quick peek into the room. SA [redacted] was unaware this doorway was a second entrance into the same room SWAT operators had previously entered from the living room.

During the quick peek, SA [redacted] saw the silhouette of a man holding an assault rifle which was moving up and down as if being handled by an untrained person. SA [redacted] immediately backed away, took a tactical crouching position and fired at what he believed to be an armed subject about to engage his weapon. Unknown to SA [redacted] SA [redacted] one of the SWAT operators clearing the room along the right side wall of the living room, had inadvertently passed the covered doorway and was standing on a box spring and two mattresses, which were located in front of a closet he was attempting to clear. SA [redacted] fired four rounds from his M-4 .223 caliber rifle, the first two of which struck the adjacent room's exterior wall and window, and embedded into the neighboring house at [redacted] After slightly adjusting his aim, SA [redacted] fired a third round which first penetrated the door jam, and then struck SA [redacted], but was stopped by [redacted] tactical vest in the kidney area. SA [redacted] forth round struck SA [redacted] in the shoulder with the bullet eventually lodging in his neck. SA [redacted] was immediately attended to by the SWAT Team's Medic and a special medical response team trauma surgeon, following which he was transported to a nearby trauma center. He was released from the hospital on Saturday, February 28, 2009, and was expected to make a full recovery. b6 b7C

DETAILS OF OPERATION:

On April 10, 2007, the Buffalo Division's Violent Crime/Organized Crime Squad (Squad Four) opened an OCDETF investigation, [redacted] involving the "31 Street Gang." The "31 Street Gang" was known to be a violent gang involved primarily in cocaine distribution. During the investigation [redacted] Title IIIs were initiated on numerous members of the gang to [redacted] and [redacted] Numerous controlled drug purchases, physical surveillances and electronic tracking devices were utilized during the investigation. The Buffalo Division operated [redacted] who targeted the gang and obtained additional intelligence. Use of the various investigative techniques identified the scope of the cocaine trafficking conspiracy by the gang, as well as numerous gang members and gang associates. In addition to cocaine trafficking, the "31 Street Gang" was believed to be involved in violent assaults, homicides, and money laundering. In June 2008, the OCDETF investigation involving the "31 Street Gang" was selected by FBIHQ as a Top 30 FBI gang investigation. b3 b6 b7C b7D

[redacted]

In February 2009, subsequent to the vehicle stop, a decision was made by the investigators to arrest all identified subjects. A contributing factor in this decision was one of the main subjects, [redacted] was becoming increasingly aware of surveillance and began confronting surveillance teams. On February 24, 2009, the Buffalo Division obtained 34 federal arrest warrants for members and associates of the "31 Street Gang" and 17 federal search warrants.

SWAT TEAM PREPARATIONS

SA [redacted] became the Buffalo Division SWAT Team Leader (TL) in June 2008. TL [redacted] had been a member of the team since 2001. Since assuming the role of TL, he led two SWAT operations prior to the captioned operation. The SWAT Team trained three days each month and one full week each year. A training matrix was used to determine what training was necessary to fulfill FBI requirements and the specific needs of the Buffalo Division, from which the training schedule for the year was established. In November 2008, the Chief Division Counsel (CDC) provided training on the FBI's Deadly Force Policy to the SWAT Team. The SWAT Team conducted firearms and tactics training on a regular basis, including standard operating procedures (SOP) for weapons handling. The SWAT Team SOP for weapons handling concurred with FBI policy. b6 b7C

On Monday, February 23, 2009, the SWAT Team held regularly scheduled training at the Alden SWAT Training facility owned by Erie County, NY. The facility was equipped with pistol and rifle ranges, as well as a shooting house. Training consisted of discussions on various topics from the recent SWAT TL Conference. One of the items discussed was the weapon safety manipulations policy, which TL [redacted] reviewed with the participating members of the SWAT Team. Training was provided on the HK gas gun, including familiarization fire and qualifications. The team also reviewed Close Quarters Battle (CQB) techniques, specifically movement in hallways, at doorways, and at room entrances. Link-up procedures were also discussed. While TL [redacted] attended a meeting on the upcoming operation from 10:30 a.m. to 12:30 p.m., SA [redacted] conducted M-4 training drills with the SWAT Team.

During the afternoon portion of the training, TL [redacted] fully briefed the Operations Plan using a PowerPoint presentation. Included in the presentation were a target matrix describing potential threats at each location, identification of the assembly area location, maps, intelligence on the subjects sought at each address, photographs of each subject, aerial photographs of each location, reconnaissance and site survey data for each location, and weather information for the date of the operation. Paper copies of the presentation or the draft Operations Plan were not provided during the briefing. After the briefing, a rehearsal was conducted for each location. The shoot-house was utilized to simulate the first location [redacted] and the "Hogan's Alley" range was utilized to simulate the [redacted] location. The SWAT Team rehearsed vehicle positioning, positions inside vehicles, dismount, approach, assigned positions, actions at the entry points, and breach procedures. b6 b7C

Due to the overall intelligence regarding the subjects of the investigation and information which indicated subjects at the [redacted] location were expected to be armed, TL [redacted] felt an entry utilizing the deployment of a flash bang grenade was the best method to use for the SWAT entry. TL [redacted] felt it was the safest method by which to execute the search, as it would provide an element of surprise and provide the SWAT Team a tactical advantage.

TL [redacted] completed the Operations Plan on Tuesday, February 24, 2009. On Wednesday, February 25, 2009, he briefed SSA [redacted], the SWAT Team Coordinator and Squad 4 supervisor. Subsequently, they both briefed ASAC Richard W. Kollmar and ASAC

[redacted] on the plan. During the briefing, TL [redacted] requested approval for the deployment of flash bang grenades inside each of the two residences. Although the Operations Plan did not require the use of flash bangs in the interior portion of the houses, he requested the approval in case a situation arose that called for such use. ASAC Kollmar approved the deployment of flash bang grenades. ASAC Kollmar provided both verbal and written approval of the SWAT Operations Plan at that time. SAC Laurie Bennett approved the Operations Plan later that day. The final approved version of the Operations Plan was uploaded to the SWAT folder on the Buffalo Division's Shared Drive, where team members could access it. SWAT Team members were also sent an e-mail with a copy of the Operations PowerPoint presentation by TL [redacted]

In order to rehearse closer to the actual day of the operation, the SWAT Team scheduled a rehearsal for the early morning on the day of the operation. In preparation for the rehearsal, TL [redacted] utilized chalk to draw distinct mock-ups of the front of [redacted] and [redacted] on the floor of the Electronic Technicians (ET) bay. The outlines included the front of each residence, window locations, porches, front entrances, and stairs.

EARLY MORNING OPERATIONS: FEBRUARY 26, 2009

On Thursday, February 26, 2009, SWAT Team members arrived at the field office around 3:30 a.m., to get dressed for the operation. They had been directed to arrive by 3:45 a.m. The SWAT Team dressed in the same uniforms, which consisted of green BDUs, olive drab SWAT tactical vest with plates inserted, black tactical boots, black balaclava, flight gloves, kevlar helmet, goggles, crotch protector, and knee pads. SA [redacted] wore a green flight suit, as he did not possess BDUs. The rear perimeter team, SA [redacted] and SA [redacted] wore black vests, as they did not have olive drab vests. Each SWAT Team member had their issued Glock pistol and M-4 rifle, and extra loaded magazines for each. Each operator also had a flashlight, either attached to one or both weapons, and/or a tactical light. They were also equipped with Pelcor hearing protection devices.

When the team reported, SA [redacted] advised TL [redacted] that he had injured himself and asked to be removed from the entry team. SA [redacted] was moved to the SWAT driver position and SA [redacted] was moved to the number six position in the entry team line-up. All SWAT Team members involved in the operation rehearsed their planned entries and breaching options by walking through the chalk mock-ups in the ET bay from approximately 4:30 a.m. until almost 5:00 a.m. Prior to the rehearsal, SA [redacted] provided additional information from his CHS to the SWAT Team that [redacted] who resided at [redacted] recently came into possession of an AK-47 or AR-15 assault rifle and two handguns, which had been brought to [redacted] SA [redacted] received this information the day prior to the operation.

At 5:00 a.m., there was a general briefing at the Buffalo Field Office for all personnel involved in the operation. Some SWAT Team members attended this briefing, while others did not or attended only a portion of the briefing. SAC Bennett, SSA [redacted] and the case Agent made remarks and provided information about the operation. The 34 arrest teams were also present for the briefing. Each arrest team had completed their own briefing on Wednesday, February 25, 2009. CDC David Szumski reviewed the FBI's Deadly Force Policy at the 5:00 a.m. briefing, and advised officers of other departments to follow their own Deadly Force Policy. During or shortly after the 5:00 a.m. briefing, TL [redacted] briefed the NYSP troopers regarding escorting the SWAT Team on the operation. TL advised the NYSP to turn on the emergency lights of their vehicles when the SWAT Team made entry.

362 EMSLIE STREET

At the conclusion of the briefing, the SWAT Team proceeded to A federal arrest warrant had been issued for residen and a federal search warrant had been issued for the premises. A pair of Deputy United States Marshals had taken up a position in a backyard adjacent to The Marshals were confronted by a Great Dane, which they shot and killed. In spite of this event, it was determined by ASAC Kollmar, On-Scene Commander, the execution of the warrants at could proceed as planned. b6 b7C

At approximately 6:00 a.m., entry was achieved a and the subject was located and apprehended. Three babies were found inside the premises. The Operations Order called for an arrest team to be on scene to deal with matters such as this, but the team did not arrive as scheduled. As a result, the SWAT Team was required to remain in control of until the arrest team arrived. It took approximately one hour for the SWAT Team to complete operations a

There was no set time for the SWAT Team to arrive a for the second operation. However, according to interviews of SWAT Team members, both operations were to be conducted prior to daylight. The late arrival of the arrest team made this virtually impossible. When interviewed, some SWAT Team members indicated they felt a sense of urgency to get to the location.

Upon concluding the operation a TL conducted an after action debriefing with the team and then directed the sniper/observers, SA and SA to to conduct an advance surveillance on the house.

STREET

At approximately 7:15 a.m., the sniper/observers arrived in the vicinity of and approached the residence from a direction which allowed them to observe the right side of the house. They observed lights on inside the front room at the residence and reported the information to TL via radio channel T-5, dedicated to internal SWAT Team communications. The sniper/observers pulled their vehicle alongside the curb in front of a large brick building adjacent to a short distance from the target house which provided cover and concealment, and waited for the arrival of the rest of the team. b6 b7C

The remaining SWAT operators were en route in the SWAT van driven by SA SA drove the SWAT truck equipped with a winch, and brought along SA and SA the rear perimeter observers. Both SWAT vehicles stopped in front of a warehouse located on Smith Street directly behind the residence, where SWAT Team members repositioned in the vehicles, and deployed the rear perimeter observers to a surveillance position on the warehouse roof. The warehouse rooftop provided a direct view of the backyard of the residence at Upon notification of the SWAT Team's imminent arrival, SA [redacted] and [redacted] staged on the sidewalk adjacent to [redacted] and awaited the remainder of the team. The SWAT van and the winch truck moved into position, and subsequently two marked NYSP vehicles blocked off each end of Coit street. ASAC Kollmar's vehicle was in front of the NYSP vehicle at the intersection of Howard Street and Coit Street. The SWAT Team exited their vehicles, off-loaded their gear, and stacked-up along the large brick building adjacent to the residence. The order of the stack on the sidewalk was SA [redacted] (position #1), SA [redacted] (position #2), SA [redacted] (position #3), SA [redacted] (position #4), TL [redacted] (position #5), SA [redacted] position #6), SA [redacted] (position #7), SA [redacted] (position #8), SA [redacted] (position #9), SA [redacted] (breacher/position #10), SA [redacted] (breacher/position #11), SA [redacted] (position #12/winch truck driver), SA [redacted] (SWAT van driver), and SA [redacted] (SWAT Medic/left side security).

Once in position, SA [redacted] initiated the ready check and when the check was complete, TL [redacted] gave the order to the team to advance toward the door of the house. The team moved deliberately toward the front steps of the residence covering all visible windows. SA [redacted] moved up the front stairs positioning himself against the banister on the right, assessed the door and announced "FBI Search Warrant." SA [redacted] and SA [redacted] then left their positions in the stack formation and moved toward the front door to position themselves for its breach. The NYSP vehicles activated their emergency lights at this time. Simultaneously, multiple SWAT Team members announced "FBI Search Warrant"and SA [redacted] (position #8) left his position in the stack to take a position near the winch truck in case the initial breach attempt was unsuccessful and a chain needed to be attached to the outer metal security door and winch truck to pull the door from its hinges. The stack order at the time just prior to breaching action was SA [redacted] (position #1), SA [redacted] (position #2), SA [redacted] (position #3), SA [redacted] (position #4), TL [redacted] (position #5), SA [redacted] (position #6), SA [redacted] (position #7), and SA [redacted] (position #8).

SA [redacted] set the Halligan tool at the storm door/door jam gap and SA [redacted] struck the Halligan tool with a ram. The storm door opened outward from this strike. SA [redacted] hit the front door two or three times with the ram and the door opened inward. SA [redacted] entered the vestibule and observed a closed door to the left, consistent with the limited intelligence available on the house layout. SA [redacted] called for a secondary breach, but turned the door knob and found it unlocked. SA [redacted] opened the secondary door and SA [redacted] called for a flash bang grenade. SA [redacted] deployed a flash bang grenade into the living room. The grenade detonated a few feet past the secondary doorway in the living room resulting in a significant amount of smoke. SA [redacted] entered the living room first, SA [redacted] second, SA [redacted] third, and SA [redacted] fourth.

The lighting conditions in the living room were moderate. SA [redacted] moved from the secondary doorway along the wall parallel to the street and yelling "FBI Search Warrant" until reaching the room's corner. SA [redacted] took a position by a couch at a secondary doorway and identified a long hallway going from the living room, through a dining room, and into a kitchen. The dining room was dark, but the kitchen area was well-lit. SA [redacted] moved farther into the living room along the couch and SAs [redacted] and [redacted] identified a doorway to the right, off of the living room. SA [redacted] called out for another SWAT operator. SA [redacted] acknowledged and moved to the doorway to the right off of the living room which was later identified as a bedroom. SA [redacted] and SA [redacted] passed SA [redacted] on the right and

b6

entered the bedroom yelling "FBI Search Warrant." SA [redacted] entered the bedroom first and went to the far wall of the room, SA [redacted] entered the bedroom second, button-hooked left and stayed to the interior wall.

SA [redacted] trained his weapon on the hallway through the dining room and into the kitchen area and called, "I'm long," while moving to a position at the doorway to the dining room. From this position, SA [redacted] looked into the dining room and identified a cloth covering over a doorway to the right and called out identifying the door and the need for two SWAT operators. SA [redacted] moved from his position in the corner of the living room and posted adjacent to SA [redacted], and said "got one." SA [redacted] responded, "no, need two." Subsequently, SA [redacted] identified the cloth covered doorway on the right. Light from the kitchen made for dim lighting in the dining room. SA [redacted] and SA [redacted] considered the doorway on the right to be an entrance for a second room on the right, and therefore considered it an unaddressed danger area.

SHOOTING OF SA [redacted]

Simultaneous with the advance of SA [redacted] and SA [redacted], SA [redacted] and SA [redacted], having made entry into the bedroom, advanced through the bedroom. The lighting conditions in the bedroom were dim to moderate. SA [redacted] moved through the doorway to the far wall and identified a long room with several mattresses and a closet at far right and. SA [redacted] moved from the doorway to the near wall, and identified same. SA [redacted] saw a doorway on the left covered by a cloth, but believed it to be a doorway where other SWAT operators were on the other side. He did not believe it to be a danger area and therefore did not call it out to SA [redacted] SA [redacted] moved along the far wall, weapon trained on the closet, intermittently employing the tactical light on his M-4. SA [redacted] moved more slowly along the interior wall and did not engage his tactical light. SA [redacted] advanced towards the closet along a path blocked by three stacked mattresses that had a height of one foot and seven inches off the floor. Having a blind-covered window on his right and a covered doorway on his left, SA [redacted] stepped onto the mattress and continued to move toward the closet. SA [redacted] stated he did not initially see the doorway or else he would not have moved in front of it. SA [redacted] moved short of the stacked mattresses and stayed along the interior wall.

SA [redacted] moved forward into the dining room along the wall adjacent to the bedroom, tactically slicing to address the cloth covered doorway on the right in a semi-crouched position with the tactical light of his M-4 engaged. SA [redacted] observed the cloth covering the doorway flutter or billow into the dining room, and according to his statement, yelled "show me your hands," and observed the cloth covering return to its original position. SA [redacted] reached out with his left hand, pulled the cloth covering down, and did a quick peek into the bedroom. SA [redacted] identified a pair of hands holding an assault rifle with its barrel parallel to the exterior wall, in front of the blinds-covered bedroom window. SA [redacted] further observed the assault rifle to be bobbing up and down as if being fumbled with by an untrained operator (actually SA [redacted] walking across the mattresses.) SA [redacted] did not identify the individual as SA [redacted]

SA [redacted] took his M-4 to the high-ready position, stepped out pivoting away from the bedroom doorway in transition towards a kneeling position, while disengaging the safety. SA [redacted] fired four rounds in rapid succession to address what he believed to be a subject preparing to engage a high-powered weapon against him and other SWAT Team operators.

Nearly all witnesses described hearing three or four gunshots. SA [redacted] was described as falling backwards just after firing the shots. He was making noises described as high-pitched moaning. He was thought to have been shot. The SWAT Team had only been in the residence approximately 15 seconds at this point. SWAT Team members yelled repeatedly, "Where's the shooter?," and, "Who has the shooter?" TL [redacted] and SA [redacted] asked SA [redacted] where he had been hit and if he could move, but received no response. TL [redacted] and SA [redacted] had coverage on the room SA [redacted] was in, and could see it was clear, but did not know if there were threats in the adjacent rooms. SA [redacted] and TL [redacted] quickly grabbed SA [redacted] and pulled him into the living room near the large couch. b6 b7C

Immediately after the gunfire, SA [redacted] who was behind TL [redacted] in the stack on the living room door, turned to his right and saw SA [redacted] fall face down next to the feet of SA [redacted]. He believed SA [redacted] had been shot, as SA [redacted] was lying on the floor and not moving. SA [redacted] yelled for help and pulled SA [redacted] to the doorway of the bedroom. SA [redacted] immediately went into the room, grabbed SA [redacted] vest and dragged him to the front entrance of the house, which had been identified as the casualty collection point during briefings prior to the operation.

The SWAT TL thought two operators had been shot, and believed there was still an active shooter in the house. TL [redacted] instructed the interior team to continue clearing the residence and he disengaged from the stack to go to the casualty collection point to identify which operator had been shot. SA [redacted] was instructed to stay with SA [redacted]. After several moments, SA [redacted] was heard crying out, "I shot [redacted] I shot [redacted]" At that time, SA [redacted] secured SA [redacted] M-4 and pistol.

The SWAT Team cleared the rest of the house and located no occupants. After the house was cleared, TL [redacted] gathered the team in the living room for a debrief. During SA [redacted] portion of the debrief, he was able to make a statement to the effect he had shot SA [redacted]

MEDICAL / MANAGEMENT RESPONSE

Medical response planning and efforts at the scene were noteworthy. A detailed medical response plan was incorporated within the SWAT Team Operations Plan. As part of their medical response plan, the Buffalo Division coordinated with local medical entities and arranged for a Specialized Medical Response Team (SMART) to be on standby for the operation. This resulted in an ambulance and a trauma surgeon assigned to SMART arriving on scene within approximately two to four minutes. Initially, the SWAT Team's Medic, SA [redacted] was on scene and provided immediate treatment to SA [redacted] Within minutes, the SMART arrived. A trauma surgeon also assigned to SMART arrived approximately two minutes later. SA [redacted] was transported to the Erie County Medical Center (ECMC) at 462 Grider Street, Buffalo, NY. With police escort, SA [redacted] arrived at the hospital within four to five minutes and was taken immediately to the trauma room. An MRI administered at the hospital revealed the trajectory of the bullet caused non-life threatening tissue and skeletal damage. SA [redacted] was transported separately to the ECMC, as indicated in the SWAT Operations Plan. b6 b7C

SAC Bennett responded immediately to the scene and shortly thereafter responded to the hospital. EM notified the families of both Agents. Each of the Agents were allowed, with the concurrence of the SAC, to speak with each other, which proved extremely helpful in relieving the anxiety of the incident. The meeting also immediately aided the emotional well-being of both. SA [redacted] was provided with the services of a hospital staff psychiatrist and EAP counselor [redacted] who had been deployed to the Buffalo Division to assist employees with the trauma stemming from the Continental Flight 3407 crash on February 13, 2009. The crash incident required the employees of the field office to work and process the crash site. SA [redacted] stated the ability to talk with EAP in the hospital was helpful to his emotional well-being. b6 b7C

POST SHOOTING

TL [redacted] had a standard procedure for an operational debrief following the execution of a mission. The TL held a debrief with the entire SWAT Team, including SA [redacted] once the [redacted] location was secured. This allowed an opportunity to establish what occurred during the incident, pause any potential rumors, provide welfare status to the entire team, inform the team of SA [redacted] last known medical status, and provide procedural guidance to the team as a whole.

At the scene, it was determined rounds from the shooting incident had impacted and penetrated the neighboring residence [redacted]. Buffalo Division's EM acknowledged the potential for collateral casualties and ensured a welfare check was conducted at [redacted]

The Buffalo Division's Evidence Response Team (ERT) was called to [redacted] by SSA [redacted] Upon arrival, the ERT was not allowed to enter the residence while the SWAT Team conducted their debrief. It was evident that there was a lack of clarity with the team as to whether or not ERT would be processing the scene. ASAC Kollmar clarified ERT would process the scene and gave the approval to do so.

The scheduled search for drug evidence commenced by the previously assigned search team for [redacted] This coincided and, at times, overlapped with the processing of the shooting event by those assigned to do so. In one instance, Agents assigned to the shooting scene processing departed the [redacted] location and allowed the drug search team full access to all areas of the residence. The Agents assigned to the shooting event returned and had to replace moved items to complete their processing. b6 b7C

Agents assigned to the shooting investigation were unaware of the extent the scene needed to be processed and the detail needed in reporting due to unfamiliarity with a Shooting Incident Response involving an FBI Agent. As a result, the scene was prematurely released and a consent to search had to be subsequently obtained from the subject to reenter [redacted] on February 28, 2009, to obtain a scale drawing, generate a recreation of the shooting scene, and take additional photographs. If the subject would have been uncooperative, a thorough and detailed review of the shooting scene would not have been possible.

SA [redacted] vest and SA [redacted] weapon were maintained by the SWAT Team in the team's gun locker at the Buffalo Field Office. ERT obtained and entered SA

[redacted] M-4 and ballistic vest into evidence on March 2, 2009, four days after the shooting incident.

The U.S. Naval Observatory, Astronomical Applications Department provided the following information regarding the weather for Buffalo, NY on February 26, 2009: the morning temperature was in the low 40's and the sky was overcast. The phase of the moon was a waxing crescent with 3% of the moon's visible disk illuminated. Civil twilight was at 6:27 a.m. and sunrise was at 6:56 a.m.

SUMMARY

In summary, Buffalo Division's SWAT Team operator SA [redacted] while participating in the clearing of a house at which a federal search warrant was being executed, mistakenly identified SA [redacted] as a threat. SA [redacted] fired four rounds from his M-4 rifle to neutralize the threat, hitting it twice. The individual was subsequently identified as fellow SWAT Team operator SA [redacted] who was clearing the room in which SA [redacted] had looked and mis-identified as a threat.

Based on investigation subsequent to the shooting incident, the SIRT identified potential factors which may have played a contributing role in the shooting of SA [redacted] including:

- [redacted] - The first house cleared by the SWAT Team had a similar physical layout as the location, but had two small bedrooms instead of one long bedroom with two doorways. This different layout contributed to both Agents' inaccurate situational awareness.

- SA [redacted] while clearing the long bedroom at [redacted] experienced tunnel vision, focusing on a far closet and failing to notice the danger area to his left. The tunnel vision was caused by him focusing on the closet as the only perceived threat. He inadvertently stood in front of the danger area (the sheet-covered doorway) while attempting to clear the closet.

- SA [redacted] failed to verbally call out a "danger area" (doorway left) he observed in the bedroom which could have prevented SA [redacted] from crossing in front of it as SA [redacted] attempted to clear the bedroom closet.

- Intelligence received the morning of the operation indicated the resident of [redacted] had recently obtained an AK-47 or AR-15 assault rifle and two hand guns.

- SA [redacted] misidentified SA [redacted] as an armed subject, and shot SA [redacted] before full target acquisition.

INSPECTOR'S OBSERVATIONS:

The SIRT identified the following issues:

Issue #1: A Buffalo Division SWAT operator shot another SWAT operator while executing a federal search warrant.

Title: SHOOTING INCIDENT
BUFFALO DIVISION
02/26/2009

Synopsis: The Shooting Incident Review Group (SIRG) reviewed a shooting incident that occurred on 02/26/2009, involving Special Agent (SA) [redacted]. During the execution of a search warrant, SA [redacted] fired four rounds from his Bureau-issued Colt .223 caliber, Model M4A1 carbine. One of the rounds fired by SA [redacted] resulted in an injury to SA [redacted]. SIRG members recommended that no administrative action be taken against SA [redacted] as a result of his involvement in this shooting incident.

Administrative: Reference report of Inspector [redacted] dated 05/13/2009.

Details: This communication was prepared to furnish the analysis, comments, and recommendations of the SIRG with reference to the captioned shooting.

Details of the Shooting Incident

The Buffalo Division conducted an investigation focusing on the cocaine distribution activities of the "31 Street Gang" who were known for extreme violence, including several murders. In January 2009, a joint law enforcement operation was planned to obtain and simultaneously executive 34 arrest warrants, 11 search warrants for residences, and five search warrants for vehicles.

On 02/26/2009, Agents of the Buffalo Division, as well as officers of the New York State Police, City of Buffalo Police, and numerous other federal, state, and local agencies executed the operation. Members of the Buffalo Division's Special Weapons and Tactics (SWAT) Team were assigned to clear two residences where potentially armed subjects were thought to reside. Both residences were to be searched following clearing by the SWAT Team.

The first residence was cleared and the operation was executed as planned. Investigation indicated a subject residing in the second residence had obtained an assault rifle and two handguns. The SWAT Team deployed a flash bang grenade and entered the residence. As the team entered the living room, two SWAT operators broke off from the group to clear a room along the right side wall of the living room. The remainder of the team proceeded through the living room to the threshold of the dining room which was located behind the living room. Within the dining room, a closet was located at the far left corner, a hallway was located at the far right corner leading to the kitchen, and another doorway was located along the right side wall. Several operators stacked at the threshold between the living and dining rooms and provided cover on the dining room and far doorways, while SA [redacted] moved into the dining room. As he entered the room, SA [redacted] observed a cloth covering the doorway along the right wall billow out into the dining room. Believing someone was in the adjacent room, SA [redacted] pulled down the covering and peeked into the room. SA [redacted] was unaware this doorway was a second entrance into the same room SWAT operators previously entered from the living room.

During his quick look, SA [redacted] saw the silhouette of a man holding an assault rifle which was moving up and down as if being handled by an untrained person. SA [redacted] immediately backed away, assumed a tactical crouching position, and fired at what he believed to be an armed subject about to engage his weapon. Although unknown to SA [redacted] SA [redacted] one of the SWAT operators clearing the room along the right side wall of the living room, had inadvertently passed the covered doorway and was standing on a box spring and two mattresses which were located in front of a closet he was attempting to clear. SA [redacted] fired four rounds from his M-4, .223 caliber rifle. The first two rounds struck the adjacent room's exterior wall and window, and embedded into a neighboring house. After slightly adjusting his aim, SA [redacted] fired a third round which first penetrated the door jam, and struck SA [redacted] The round was stopped by SA [redacted] tactical vest in the kidney area. SA [redacted] fourth round struck SA [redacted] in the shoulder with the bullet eventually lodging in his neck.

SA [redacted] received immediate medical assistance from the SWAT Team's medic and a special medical response team trauma surgeon. He was subsequently transported to a nearby trauma center where he received medical treatment and was released on 02/28/2009. SA [redacted] was expected to make a full recovery from his injury. b6 b7C

The Buffalo District Attorney opined his office had no interest in this matter, nor was an investigation into this shooting incident opened by the Buffalo Police Department. By email dated 05/08/2009, the DOJ Civil Rights Division advised no criminal investigation was warranted regarding this shooting incident.

On 09/09/2009, the SIRG met to discuss the above-captioned shooting incident. Deputy Assistant Director Michael S. Clemens, Inspection Division (INSD), chaired the meeting and was a non-voting member. The following voting members were in attendance: [redacted] Special Legal Counsel, Civil Rights Division, USDOJ; [redacted] Attorney, Criminal Division, USDOJ; Chief Inspector [redacted] Office of Inspections, INSD; Section Chief (SC) Robert Anderson, Jr., CD-4, Counterespionage Section, Counterintelligence Division; SC David J. Johnson, Violent Crimes Section, Criminal Investigative Division; Unit Chief (UC) [redacted] Firearms Training Unit, Training Division (TD); SSA [redacted], Practical Applications Unit, TD; UC [redacted] Special Weapons and Tactics Operations Unit, Critical Incident Response Group; UC [redacted] Defensive Systems Unit, TD; SSA [redacted] Investigative Law Unit, Office of General Counsel; and SSA [redacted] CR-2, Washington Field Office. The following non-voting members were also in attendance: SC Ellen B. Icochea, Strategic Analysis Section (SAS), INSD; UC [redacted] Inspection Management Unit (IMU), SAS, INSD; SSA [redacted] Inspection Analysis Unit (IAU), SAS, INSD; Management and Program Analyst (MAPA) [redacted] IAU, SAS, INSD; MAPA [redacted] IMU, SAS, INSD; MAPA [redacted] IAU, SAS, INSD; and MAPA [redacted] IMU, SAS, INSD. b6 b7C

Observations and Recommendations of the SIRG

The SIRG reviewed the above synopsized incident with the intent to: (1) evaluate the application of deadly force; (2) provide the Director with an evaluative analysis, observations, and recommendations for corrective actions from an operational standpoint (if any); (3) provide recommendations concerning training and/or safety issues; and (4) provide recommendations for administrative action if deemed necessary.

Subsequent to an overview of the incident provided by Inspector [redacted] SIRG members unanimously agreed that the use of deadly force by SA [redacted] was justified and in conformance with the FBI's deadly force policy. This discussion resulted in the recommendation that no administrative action be taken against SA [redacted] as a result of his involvement in this shooting incident. b6 b7C

SIRG members discussed the fact that a modified dynamic entry procedure was used instead of a slower, methodical entry causing increased pressure on participants. Contributing factors in this incident included a modified layout of the house, SA [redacted] did not acquire full target acquisition before firing, and SA [redacted] did not realize he was in a danger area.

The SWAT Operations representative opined SA [redacted] made an error in judgment and target acquisition. Emphasis was placed on the fact that a Senior Team Leader has the responsibility to ensure individuals are ready to participate in operations and all training is up-to-date.

The main concern of attendees pertained to the decrease in training Bureau-wide, including target identification drills. Members opined the decrease in overall training may be a causal factor in the increase of "blue on blue" and "friendly fire" incidents. SIRG attendees emphasized the need for increased Bureau-wide training.

Synopsis: The Shooting Incident Review Group (SIRG) reviewed a shooting incident that occurred on 02/04/2009, involving Special Agent (SA). During the execution of a federal arrest warrant, SA fired two rounds from his Colt M4, .223 caliber rifle. Although SA rounds did not injure the subject, he was subsequently shot and injured by a local police officer. In addition to incurring non life threatening injuries, Reed sustained a fatal self-inflicted gun shot wound to the neck. SIRG members recommended that no administrative action be taken against SA as a result of his involvement in this shooting incident.

On 07/08/2008, a federal arrest warrant was issued charging Jeremy Ray Reed with Possession of a Firearm by a Person After a Court Order Prohibiting Same.

On 02/04/2009, SA [redacted] assigned to the Texarkana Resident Agency (TRA), was advised by local authorities that information indicated [redacted] the grandfather of Jeremy Reed, was near death and being treated at St. Michael's Hospital in Texarkana, Texas. Local authorities believed Reed would likely be visiting his grandfather at the hospital.

While en route to the hospital, SAs [redacted] and [redacted] contacted Texarkana Texas Police Department (TTPD) dispatch and requested assistance in locating and arresting Jeremy Reed. SA [redacted] a Dallas Agent who is co-located at the TRA, was also notified and responded to the hospital. Upon arriving at the hospital, SAs [redacted], and [redacted] met with uniformed TTPD officers to brief them on the matter and proceeded to the nurses station. The nurses confirmed the individual in the photograph shown by the Agents had visited [redacted] and further investigation revealed the subject left the hospital approximately 30 minutes before the Agents' arrival.

At approximately 6:20 p.m., Ashdown Police Department (APD) Detective [redacted] was telephonically contacted by the city Mayor, who is the subject's uncle. He advised Reed barricaded himself inside his grandfather's residence, threatened his family, and stated he would kill anybody who tried to remove him from the residence. Additionally, the subject stated he would kill any police officer who tried to take him into custody and would then kill himself.

At approximately 6:30 p.m., Detective [redacted] telephonically advised SA [redacted] of the situation. SAs [redacted] and [redacted] responded immediately to the Little River County Sheriff's Office (LRSO) and SA [redacted] telephonically notified Senior Supervisory Resident Agent (SSRA) [redacted] of the developments. SSRA [redacted] encouraged SA [redacted] a Special Weapons and Tactics (SWAT) Operator, to utilize SWAT if possible and appropriate. SSRA [redacted] requested that SA [redacted] keep him advised of developments and supported efforts to work in concert with local authorities. SA [redacted] contacted SWAT Team Leader SA [redacted] who was also familiar with the investigation, and advised SWAT assistance may be needed. Upon arriving at the

LRSO SA [redacted] SA [redacted] and Detective [redacted] discussed the situation and developed a verbal operations plan (OP). The OP included a strategy to access and secure the premises, assess the situation, and extricate family members.

Detective [redacted] contacted Sheriff Russell and advised him of the situation. Agreeing it would be feasible to establish perimeter security on the property, Sheriff Russell met with Detective [redacted] Detective [redacted] and SAs [redacted] and [redacted] Sheriff Russell proceeded to the area and established surveillance of the driveway leading to the property while awaiting the arrival of additional law enforcement personnel. b6 b7C

While Detective [redacted] remained at the LRSO with SAs [redacted] and [redacted] and Detective [redacted] Mayor Reed contacted Detective [redacted] requesting immediate law enforcement assistance. He advised his wife was on the telephone with Jeremy Reed's mother who confirmed the subject was barricaded in his grandfather's house, possessed a shotgun, and was threatening to kill her, his two children, another child, and himself. SA [redacted] contacted [redacted] who advised she, her mother, two children belonging to Jeremy Reed, and another child, were in a mobile home located approximately 70 feet away from Jeremy Reed's grandfather's house. She stated Jeremy was armed with a shotgun, was knocking holes in the wall, and advised she feared for her life. [redacted] stated, "I've already signed my death warrant." Becoming distraught and unable to speak, she asked SA [redacted] to speak with her mother. SA [redacted] asked [redacted] mother if they were all capable of exiting the trailer through the back door. He told them to go to the end of the driveway and meet Sheriff Russell. SA [redacted] heard minor commotion in the background and [redacted] mother advised they were all exiting the trailer. b6 b7C

Detective [redacted] contacted Sheriff Russell and advised SA [redacted] had spoken to [redacted] by phone and convinced her to take her family and leave the property. He advised she and her family would be leaving the property in a vehicle and requested that Sheriff Russell stop the vehicle upon departure from the property. At that time Sheriff Russell observed a vehicle moving in the driveway which left the property and accessed a major roadway. Sheriff Russell effected a traffic stop and escorted the occupants to the staging area.

Upon arriving at the staging area, SAs [redacted] and [redacted] checked their operational equipment and discussed the OP with local law enforcement officers. It was decided that SA [redacted], a trained FBI Crisis Negotiator, would communicate with [redacted] in an attempt to gain relevant intelligence should negotiations with Jeremy Reed occur. SA [redacted] and Detective [redacted] would establish a perimeter and initiate surveillance at the house and trailer. b6 b7C

SA [redacted] and Detective [redacted] approached the house and made a sweep of the north, east, and south sides. With no lights visible and no apparent activity inside, SA [redacted] and Detective [redacted] established static surveillance, with Detective [redacted] on the west side and SA [redacted] on the east side.

After debriefing [redacted] SA [redacted] and Detective [redacted] proceeded to the south end of the house which faced the front of the trailer. The house appeared to be unoccupied and SA [redacted] considered the possibility Reed had left the property or committed suicide. He decided to attempt to contact Reed before requesting SWAT deployment. SA [redacted] contacted SA [redacted] and advised he was in a position to knock on the door of the house. SA [redacted] banged on a window, announced his presence, and called out to Jeremy Reed. Detective [redacted] heard a voice from inside the residence respond, "Come get me."

When SA [redacted] confirmed Reed was inside the house, he contacted SWAT Assistant Team Leader SA [redacted], and requested deployment of the SWAT team. SA [redacted] advised SA [redacted] there was no reason for the on-scene law enforcement officers to make entry into the house, and the best option was for them to maintain the perimeter until SWAT arrived. SA [redacted] requested that SA [redacted] contact SSRA [redacted] and update him on the situation. SA [redacted] advised SA [redacted] he contacted the SWAT Team and it would take three to four hours for their arrival. SA [redacted] advised he was going to brief Sheriff Russell on the situation and coordinate a negotiation strategy.

SA [redacted] heard a noise near the house and observed Reed outside the residence with a long gun in his hand looking around and walking toward the trailer. SA [redacted] shouted, "Jeremy, drop your weapon!" Reed did not comply and began running toward the trailer. SA [redacted] lost sight of Reed, and again shouted "Jeremy, drop your weapon!" Unable to see the subject, SA [redacted] again shouted "Drop you weapon." According to Detective [redacted] he heard SA [redacted] yelling at Reed to drop his b6 b7C gun and get down. Detective [redacted] then observed Jeremy Reed carrying a long gun while moving toward the trailer.

As SA [redacted] attempted to regain visual sighting of Reed, he heard a loud "boom" that he believed was a shotgun being discharged. SA [redacted] observed Reed standing on the steps at the front of the trailer holding his gun horizontally. Fearing for the safety of law enforcement personnel, SA [redacted] raised his Bureau-issued rifle, heard Reed discharge his weapon, and observed a muzzle-flash from Reed's location. SA [redacted] brought his M-4 rifle into firing position and noticed the reticle of the EO Tech electronic sight was not illuminated. Since the rear factory sight had been removed to accommodate the EO Tech sight, SA [redacted] used the EO Tech sight as a rear peep sight, centered the top of the front sight post in the glass display of the EO Tech sight, put the front sight post at the center of mass of Reed and fired one round. When Reed did not react, SA [redacted] held the front sight post slightly lower and fired a second time. He observed Jeremy Reed flinch and enter the front door of the trailer. As he fired his rifle the second time, SA [redacted] heard a shotgun blast from his right and heard someone state, "I hit him." SA [redacted] later learned it was Detective [redacted] who fired his shotgun and the buckshot struck Jeremy Reed.

SA [redacted] moved to a position on the east side of the trailer and checked to ensure Reed had not escaped. He heard Reed moving around inside the trailer moaning and heard him yell "I'm bleeding out!" SA [redacted] instructed Reed to exit the trailer in order to receive medical assistance and Reed responded he was not coming out. Reed stated again that he was shot and "bleeding out."

Upon hearing gunfire, Sheriff Russell and SA [redacted] drove toward the house and the trailer. SA [redacted] called out to Detective [redacted] who advised he was okay and briefed SA [redacted] on the events.

While continuing to convince Reed to leave the trailer for medical attention, SA [redacted] told him he was having trouble hearing him and was going to push the front door open. As he pushed the door open, SA [redacted] saw Reed had injuries to his right wrist and thigh and observed him holding his weapon by the barrel with his left hand. It appeared Reed no longer wanted to engage law enforcement personnel and SA [redacted] again offered medical assistance which was refused.

SA [redacted] joined SA [redacted] outside the trailer and each of them called out to Reed. SA [redacted] could hear moaning from within the trailer and heard Reed state, "man I'm, I'm bleeding out." SAs [redacted] and [redacted] negotiated with Reed, encouraging him to exit the trailer so he could be taken to a hospital. Reed refused to leave the trailer and commented, "I'm going to finish myself off." Reed also stated there was no way he was going back to jail and stated, "You sons of bitches shot me and I'm bleeding out." As SA [redacted] opened the door a little wider, SA [redacted] observed Reed in the hallway with blood stains on his jeans. Based on his crisis negotiation training, SA [redacted] believed the longer Reed was engaged and talking, the more likely he was to surrender. b6 b7C

Reed stated he had taken 65 pills, including Xanax, and threatened suicide. SA [redacted] observed Reed put his shotgun down and told him he was going to take one step into the living room and talk to him face-to-face. SAs [redacted] and [redacted] continued to negotiate with Reed and SA [redacted] requested Sheriff Russell's assistance since he and Reed were familiar with each other. Approximately one hour later, SAs [redacted] and [redacted] noticed a change in Reed's demeanor. Reed walked into a room adjacent to the hallway of the trailer, closed the door, and within seconds, a muffled blast was heard. SA [redacted] called out to Reed a number of times, receiving no response. SAs [redacted] and [redacted] entered the room and saw Reed's body slumped in a chair.

An ambulance, coroner, and Arkansas State Police investigator were dispatched to the scene.

It was subsequently determined Jeremy Reed died as a result of a self-inflicted shotgun wound to the neck.

On 09/09/2009, the SIRG met to discuss the above-captioned shooting incident. Former Deputy Assistant Director Michael S. Clemens, Inspection Division (INSD), chaired the meeting and was a non-voting member. Observations and Recommendations of the SIRG

The SIRG reviewed the above synopsized incident with the intent to: (1) evaluate the application of deadly force; (2) provide the Director with an evaluative analysis, observations, and recommendations for corrective actions from an operational standpoint (if any); (3) provide recommendations concerning training and/or safety issues; and (4) provide recommendations for administrative action if deemed necessary.

SIRG members unanimously agreed that the use of deadly force by SA [redacted] was justified and in conformance with the FBI's deadly force policy. This discussion resulted in the recommendation that no administrative action be taken against SA [redacted] as a result of his involvement in this shooting incident.

The only observation made by the SIRG pertained to SA [redacted] removal of the factory installed standard rear sight to facilitate the installation of the EO Tech holographic sight on his Bureau-issued M-4 rifle. The Manual of Investigative Operations and Guidelines, Part 2, Section 12-3(5) states, "Any changes or alterations to any assigned weapon must be authorized by the Firearms Training Unit and must be accomplished by the Weapons Management Facility at Quantico. Exceptions to this requirement must be requested in writing and approved by the Weapons Management Facility." This matter will be discussed with the Special Agent in Charge of the Little Rock Division to ensure proper procedures are followed regarding changes or alterations to assigned weapons.

Title: SHOOTING INCIDENT
SAN FRANCISCO DIVISION
11/04/2009

Synopsis: The Shooting Incident Review Group (SIRG) reviewed a shooting incident that occurred on 11/04/2009, involving Special Agents (SAs) [redacted] and [redacted] During the execution of search and arrest warrants, SA [redacted] fired two rounds and SA [redacted] fired one round at an aggressive pit bull dog. SIRG members recommended that no administrative action be taken against SAs [redacted] and [redacted] as a result of their involvement in this shooting incident.

Administrative: Reference Electronic Communication of Assistant Special Agent in Charge (ASAC) Thomas P. Ravenelle, dated 12/21/2009.

Details: This communication was prepared to furnish the analysis, comments, and recommendations of the SIRG with reference to the captioned shooting.

Details of the Shooting Incident

In connection with a Mexican Drug Trafficking Organization investigation, San Francisco Agents, along with other Federal and local law enforcement officers, planned to execute search and arrest warrants at two locations on 11/04/2009.

On 11/02/2009, Team Leaders conducted joint site surveys of the respective targets and met to discuss a plan to ensure the safety of all participants.

On 11/03/2009, SA [redacted] provided a briefing to Agents assigned to his team and advised a large dog was located on the property.

On 11/04/2009, members of both teams met at the San Leandro Police Department for a final joint briefing, with SA [redacted] providing an overview of the case. After approximately 15 minutes the teams separated and SA [redacted] provided a final briefing for his team, including a review of the FBI Deadly Force Policy. The team's mission was to gain access to the property, conduct a knock and announce, secure the residence, arrest the subject, and conduct a search of the property. To gain access to the property, the team had to get over a four foot tall metal fence with pointed steel tips. SA [redacted] reiterated the fact that a large dog was located on the property and offered local officers a fire extinguisher to scare the dog away, if necessary. b6 b7C

The local officers decided to gain entry to the yard by placing a ladder over the spiked fence, and at approximately 6:01 a.m., officers led the team over the fence and into the yard. SA [redacted] called out that a large dog was located at the top of the stairs. As team members scaled the fence and stood on the property, the growling and barking dog continued moving down the stairs toward the entry team. Fearing for his safety, as well as the safety of team members, a local detective fired one round from his service weapon striking the dog in the muzzle. The dog stopped its approach and laid down. SA [redacted] provided cover as the team moved past the dog and continued with the entry.

After the team entered the residence, the dog moved under a truck with SA [redacted] continuing to watch to ensure it did not pose a threat to any team members. After the residence was secured, an Animal Control Officer (ACO) was requested to take care of the injured dog. The ACO retrieved a snare pole from her vehicle and requested that the Agents provide protection to her in case the dog tried to attack. A lengthy struggle by the ACO to secure the aggressive dog proved unsuccessful. Fearing for her safety, the ACO requested that Agents shoot the dog. Based on the ACO's request, SA [redacted] visually cleared the area, provided a verbal warning to others, and fired one round from his FBI-issued Glock 22, .40 caliber b6 b7C pistol, striking the dog in the head. Although not dead, the dog became subdued. At that point, the ACO attempted to get the cable loop around the dog's head, but the dog inserted a paw inside the cable loop. After a second struggle to gain control, the dog again became aggressive and began biting at the ACO's snare pole. At that point, the ACO requested that the Agents shoot the dog in the heart and lungs. SA [redacted] fired one round from his Bureau-issued Glock 22, .40 caliber pistol, hitting the dog's body. The dog continued to advance towards the ACO as she continued to struggle to gain control. The ACO requested that SA [redacted] shoot the dog again and SA [redacted] second round slowed the dog which stopped its attack on the ACO. The ACO instructed Agents to place a second snare pole around the dog's head while she obtained her euthanasia kit and set up the drugs to euthanize the dog. b6 b7C

On 03/03/2010, the SIRG met to discuss the above-captioned shooting incident. Deputy Assistant Director Jennifer Smith Love observed while Chief Inspector [redacted] Inspection Division (INSD), chaired the meeting and was a non-voting member. The following voting members were in attendance: [redacted] Special Legal Counsel, Civil Rights Division, USDOJ; [redacted] Trial Attorney, Criminal Division, USDOJ; Section Chief (SC) Ralph Butler, CD-1, Eurasian Section, Counterintelligence Division; SC David J. Johnson, Violent Crimes Section, Criminal Investigative Division; Unit Chief (UC) [redacted] Firearms Training Unit, Training Division (TD); UC [redacted] Defensive Systems Unit, TD; UC [redacted] Special Weapons and Tactics Operations Unit, Critical Incident Response Group; Supervisory Special Agent (SSA) [redacted], Practical Applications Unit, TD; SSA [redacted] Investigative Law Unit, Office of General Counsel; SSA [redacted] Evidence Response Team, Laboratory Division; and SSA [redacted] CR-2, Washington Field Office. The following non-voting members were also in attendance: Inspectors [redacted] and [redacted] Office of Inspections (OI), INSD; Management and Program Analyst (MPA) [redacted] Inspection Management Unit (IMU), Strategic Analysis Section (SAS), INSD; and MPA [redacted] IMU, SAS, INSD. b6 b7C

(2) provide the Director with an evaluative analysis, observations, and recommendations for corrective actions from an operational standpoint (if any); (3) provide recommendations concerning training and/or safety issues; and (4) provide recommendations for administrative action if deemed necessary.

SIRG members unanimously concurred that the use of deadly force by SAs [redacted] and [redacted] was justified and in conformance with the FBI's deadly force policy. This discussion resulted in the recommendation that no administrative action be taken against either Agent as a result of their involvement in this shooting incident. b6 b7C

Synopsis: The Shooting Incident Review Group (SIRG) reviewed a shooting incident that occurred on 09/21/2009, involving Special Agents (SAs) [redacted] and [redacted] of the Dallas Division. During the attempted arrest of a bank robbery fugitive, SAs [redacted] and [redacted] along with local law enforcement personnel, returned multiple rounds of fire after the suspect fired through a locked bedroom door. SIRG members unanimously recommended that no administrative action be taken against SAs [redacted] and [redacted] as a result of their involvement in this shooting incident.

Details: This communication was prepared to furnish the analysis, comments, and recommendations of the SIRG with reference to the captioned shooting.

UNCLASSIFIED

The Dallas Division Safe Streets Task Force (SSTF) conducted a bank robbery investigation of Jerry Lee Gray, who was believed to be responsible for 11 bank robberies.

Subsequent investigation confirmed Gray's participation in at least one of the robberies and the Dallas SSTF requested the placement of Gray's photograph on six electronic billboards throughout the Dallas metropolitan area. The placement of the photographs resulted in a witness's recognition of Gray as the occupant of an apartment in Dallas.

In an attempt to execute a federal arrest warrant issued for Gray, an Operations Plan was executed and a verbal operations plan briefing was held at 5:00 p.m., on 09/21/2009. During the briefing, assignments and positions were made for members of two teams responsible for the surveillance of two locations. Each team member received maps, photographs of Gray, and a copy of the arrest warrant. Team members discussed Gray's brother who was similar in appearance to him and was reportedly mentally unstable, the need for clothing identifying team personnel as law enforcement, Gray's display of weapons during robberies, as well as his propensity for violence.

Both teams met at a McDonald's restaurant and a re-briefing of the Operations Plan was conducted which included two members absent from the original briefing. During the second briefing, the Deadly Force Policy was reiterated to all participants.

At approximately 7:00 p.m., surveillance of two locations frequented by Gray was established. Although Gray was not located at either of the two addresses, information obtained revealed Gray's current location, a description of his vehicle, and confirmed he was currently located inside his apartment.

Believing all arrest team personnel were needed on the arrest at the identified location, Acting Supervisory Special Agent (A/SSA [redacted] directed a task force officer (TFO) to lead the caravan to the subject's identified location. At 9:20 p.m., A/SSA [redacted] advised the Command and Tactical Operations Center (CTOC), the team was en route to Gray's location. b6 b7C

As the caravan entered the apartment complex through the east gate, several Dallas Police Department (DPD) officers were present at the apartment complex in response to an unrelated shooting incident. A/SSA [redacted] advised the DPD officers they were attempting to locate a bank robbery suspect and asked the officers to assist with the outer perimeter.

A green Hyundai, believed to be Gray's, was parked near a dumpster. At that time, A/SSA [redacted] ordered the team to spread out and enter the complex and attempt to locate Gray's apartment. Additionally, the team was told to secure the second floor of the complex based on the description of Gray's residence.

Upon entering the complex, TFO [redacted] and SA [redacted] questioned a man, who identified himself as the Maintenance Manager for the complex. SA [redacted] and TFO [redacted] described Gray and showed the [redacted] a photograph of Gray. [redacted] confirmed Gray was the occupant of Apartment [redacted] and verified Gray was currently located inside the apartment. Two additional apartment residents also identified Gray from photographs and verified his apartment as [redacted]

Two TFOs took positions at the front door of Gray's apartment with A/SSA [redacted] A/SSA [redacted] announced, "FBI, police, open the door, we have a warrant," several times while one of the TFOs used his foot to knock on the door. TFO [redacted] indicated he was ready for entry and A/SSA [redacted] called out for Gray to "get on the ground and put your hands up," before instructing a TFO to breach the door.

As the door was breached with a single strike, A/SSA [redacted] entered the apartment and proceeded to a position to the right while one TFO went to the left, and three Agents followed [redacted]. Law enforcement personnel repeatedly announced "FBI, we have a warrant." After securing several smaller areas, A/SSA [redacted] asked TFO [redacted] to breach the door of a locked bedroom. TFO [redacted] hit the door once and the ram penetrated the hollow-core door. As TFO [redacted] made contact with the door a second time, a shot came from inside the bedroom hitting him in the right side below his vest. TFO [redacted] went down immediately, stumbled backwards, and fell to the floor saying, "I'm hit." A/SSA [redacted] saw the muzzle flash from the back of the bedroom near the window and was hit in the left side of his body armor with the second shotgun blast from the bedroom. A/SSA [redacted] was knocked off of his feet by the impact of the shotgun blast.

SA [redacted] entered the apartment as the bedroom door was breached and positioned himself to the left of the bedroom door behind SA [redacted] and TFO [redacted] TFO [redacted] fired his M-4 into the bedroom and SA [redacted] fired from his MP-5 toward the threat inside the bedroom, while A/SSA [redacted] and TFO [redacted] moved back into the living room area. A/SSA [redacted] saw muzzle flashes from the subject and believed he was still taking fire from the bedroom. He saw the outline of a person during each muzzle flash and believed multiple people were in the bedroom.

When the firing stopped, A/SSA [redacted] stood up. SA [redacted] thought he heard another type of firearm being fired from within the bedroom. As SA [redacted] and TFOs [redacted] and [redacted] heard the subject fire again from the bedroom, a second volley of gunfire ensued. SA [redacted] fired his MP-5 toward the threat in the bedroom until the weapon's bolt locked back. All firing stopped. b6 b7C

A/SSA [redacted] began removing his team members, and the DPD Special Weapons and Tactics (SWAT), as well as medical assistance, were requested. SA [redacted] called the CTOC to advise of the shooting and a trained FBI Negotiator unsuccessfully attempted to make verbal contact with Gray.

Team members voiced concern regarding the safety of anyone occupying the adjoining apartment. Forced entry was made into the adjoining apartment in order to conduct a welfare check; however, no one was located inside the apartment.

Immediate medical assistance was provided to TFO [redacted] until the ambulance arrived. TFO [redacted] was transported to a local hospital for medical assistance.

TFO [redacted] sustained internal and external pellet wounds from the subject's shotgun and was also transported to a local hospital by ambulance.

Dallas Division Executive Management (EM) arrived on the scene as well as DPD SWAT team members. After unsuccessfully attempting verbal communication with Gray, a camera-equipped search robot was sent into the residence. The camera showed Gray motionless on the bedroom floor. The robot nudged Gray's leg with no response. An entry team entered the apartment and a tactical physician pronounced Gray dead at the scene. After being examined, it was determined that A/SSA [redacted] received a dimple in his right bicep from a gun pellet.

On 10/11/2009, TFO [redacted] was released from the hospital. He received long-term damage as a result of his abdominal wounds from the shotgun blast.

An autopsy determined Gray died as a result of multiple gunshot wounds.

On 05/19/2010, the case was presented to the Dallas County Grand Jury and a no-bill of indictment was returned, finding no misuse of force or any prosecutable criminal offense. On 06/18/2010, the United States Department of Justice, Civil Rights Division, advised no federal criminal investigation was warranted regarding the actions of law enforcement personnel discharging their weapons.

On 08/10/2010, the SIRG met to discuss the above-captioned shooting incident. Deputy Assistant Director Jennifer Smith Love chaired the meeting and was a non-voting member. The following voting members were in attendance: Chief Inspector [redacted] Office of Inspections, Inspection Division (INSD); [redacted] Trial Attorney, Civil Rights Division, USDOJ; [redacted] Trial Attorney, Criminal Division, USDOJ; Assistant Section Chief (SC) [redacted] Violent Crime Section, Criminal Investigative Division; Unit Chief (UC) [redacted], Firearms Training Unit, Training Division (TD); UC [redacted] Defensive Systems Unit, TD; Supervisory Special Agent (SSA) [redacted] Special Weapons and Tactics Operations Unit, Critical Incident Response Group; SSA [redacted] Investigative Law Unit, Office of General Counsel; SSA [redacted] Evidence Response Team Unit, Laboratory Division; and SSA [redacted] CR-2, Washington Field Office. The following non-voting members were also in attendance: Management and Program Analysts (MPAs) [redacted] and [redacted] Inspection Management Unit (IMU), Strategic Analysis Section, INSD.

Observations and Recommendations of the SIRG

b7C

The SIRG reviewed the above synopsized incident with the intent to: (1) evaluate the application of deadly force; (2) provide the Director with an evaluative analysis, observations, and recommendations for corrective actions from an operational standpoint (if any); (3) provide recommendations concerning training and/or safety issues; and (4) provide recommendations for administrative action if deemed necessary.

SIRG members unanimously agreed that the use of deadly force by SAs [redacted] and [redacted] was justified and in conformance with the FBI's Deadly Force Policy. This discussion resulted in the recommendation that no administrative action be taken against the Agents as a result of their involvement in this shooting incident.

SIRG members commented on the importance of utilizing body armor and noted the use of body armor saved A/SSA [redacted] from serious injury during this incident. SIRG members unanimously adopted the following observations and recommendations of the Shooting Incident Review Team:

OBSERVATION #1: The operation leading up to the shooting was a planned arrest situation and was not considered an exigent circumstance. The written operations plan, which was not reviewed by Executive Management (EM), did not address contingencies for commonly confronted scenarios such as a barricaded subject.

RECOMMENDATION: SAC, Dallas should direct SSAs, A/SSAs, and Relief Supervisors to develop detailed operations plans containing specific contingencies which could be expected to be confronted in a planned arrest situation, particularly commonly confronted scenarios such as a barricaded subject and flight. Additionally, SAC, Dallas should require written operations plans for planned arrests be reviewed and approved by EM in advance of the execution of the operation.

OBSERVATION #2: During the course of their investigation on the evening of 09/21/2009, the Dallas SSTF identified with a high level of confidence, a third location determined to be Gray's current residence. A/SSA [redacted] notified the Dallas operations center of his plans to divert the team to this third location to locate and arrest Gray; however, he did not notify or consult with ASAC Blaise F. Mikulewicz before proceeding to Gray's residence and executing an arrest operation. b6 b7C

RECOMMENDATION: SAC, Dallas should direct SSAs, A/SSAs, and Relief Supervisors to notify and consult with EM, absent exigent circumstances, when operational developments dictate a diversion from a pre-approved operations plan.

OBSERVATION #3: On its own initiative, the Dallas SSTF developed and engaged in team tactical skills training, including officer down drills, breaching, surveillance, shield use and law enforcement clearing, and felony vehicle stops. Several of these skills were successfully employed by the arrest team in the execution of the operation on 09/21/2009.

RECOMMENDATION: SAC, Dallas should continue to support the tactical skills training by the SSTF and encourage its adaptation by other squads and task forces as a best practice.

The last item discussed by SIRG members pertained to comments provided in an FD-302 by SA [redacted] the Dallas Division's Principal Firearms Instructor (PFI). SIRG members opined that any issues identified by PFI [redacted] regarding range time, as well as consultation issues with the Chief Division Counsel regarding Deadly Force Policy training, should be resolved with Dallas Division EM. This matter will be brought to the attention of the Dallas Division Special Agent in Charge. b6 b7C

02/09/2009

Synopsis: The Shooting Incident Review Group (SIRG) reviewed a shooting incident that occurred on 02/09/2009, involving Special Agents (SAs) [redacted] and [redacted] of the Philadelphia Division. During the attempted arrest of a suspected bank robber who was non-compliant and raised a gun toward law enforcement personnel, the Agents and one Philadelphia Police Department (PPD) Detective fired multiple shots, killing the suspect. SIRG members unanimously recommended that no administrative action be taken against SAs [redacted], and [redacted] as a result of their involvement in this shooting incident.

Administrative: Reference report of former Inspector [redacted] dated 02/09/2009.

Details: This communication was prepared to furnish the analysis, comments, and recommendations of the SIRG with reference to the captioned shooting.

UNCLASSIFIED

Subsequent to an armed bank robbery on 02/06/2009, information was provided to the Philadelphia Division that "Danny" LNU robbed a bank earlier that day. Investigation identified "Danny" LNU as Daniel Trinsey, who was believed to be the bank robber. A query of law enforcement data bases revealed an active State of Pennsylvania arrest warrant for Trinsey for parole violation pertaining to a previous robbery of a dwelling with a weapon charge.

On 02/09/2009, a source participated in consensual telephone calls with Trinsey who advised he was going to commit another armed robbery. Based on information provided by Trinsey during these calls, members of the Violent Crimes Task Force established surveillance near a Philadelphia residence believed to be occupied by the subject. Surveillance determined Trinsey was inside the residence and information was received that he was most likely armed and planned to rob either a bank or a drug location. Additionally, task force members were advised Trinsey said he would shoot the individuals he intended to rob if necessary, and he was not going back to jail.

As the surveillance continued, task force members formulated a verbal plan over squad radios to arrest Trinsey on the state warrant as he exited the residence. At approximately 3:00 p.m., Trinsey exited the residence carrying a duffle bag and walked across the driveway toward a road. At that time, task force personnel confronted Trinsey, identified themselves as police officers, and ordered him to stop and get on the ground. Trinsey dropped his duffle bag on the driveway and began to slowly walk backward toward the residence while law enforcement officers continued to order him to stop and get on the ground. Trinsey continued to ignore law enforcement commands, stopped and looked from side to side, reached into his waist band, and removed what appeared to be a handgun. Trinsey raised the gun and initially pointed in the direction of two PPD detectives, then turned the weapon toward a group of seven Agents. Fearing for their lives, as well as the lives of their partners, SAs [redacted] and [redacted] as well as PPD Detective [redacted] fired a total of 17 rounds at Trinsey. The subject fell face down on the front lawn and was pronounced dead at the scene. b6 b7C

SA [redacted] instructed everyone to hold their positions until he assessed the threat. He observed the subject moving and also noted the subject's gun was very close to his hand. Moments later, SA [redacted] directed SA [redacted] and Sergeant [redacted] to holster their weapons and handcuff the subject.

SA [redacted] a trained paramedic, checked the subject's airway and pulse with negative results. He remained with Trinsey until paramedics arrived and determined the subject was deceased. Subsequent examination of the subject's weapon determined it was a toy handgun.

The Medical Examiner conducted an autopsy and toxicology examination which revealed Trinsey had been shot seven times, and the cause of death was identified as multiple gunshot wounds. The toxicology report showed a presence of narcotics including cocaine, codeine, methamphetamine and oxycodeine. b6 b7C

On 09/10/2009, the City of Philadelphia District Attorney's Office issued a written opinion that SAs [redacted] and [redacted] were justified in discharging their weapons, and closed its investigation into the matter. On 12/01/2009, a declination of prosecution was received from the United States Department of Justice, Civil Rights Division, regarding the actions of law enforcement personnel discharging their weapons.

On 03/03/2010, the SIRG met to discuss the above-captioned shooting incident. Deputy Assistant Director Jennifer Smith Love observed while Chief Inspector [redacted] Inspection Division (INSD), chaired the meeting and was a non-voting member. The following voting members were in attendance: [redacted], Special Legal Counsel, Civil Rights Division, USDOJ; [redacted], Trial Attorney, Criminal Division, USDOJ; Section Chief (SC) Ralph Butler, CD-1, Eurasian Section, Counterintelligence Division; SC David J. Johnson, Violent Crimes Section, Criminal Investigative Division; Unit Chief (UC) [redacted] Firearms Training Unit, Training Division (TD); UC [redacted] Defensive Systems Unit, TD; UC [redacted] Special Weapons and Tactics Operations Unit, Critical Incident Response Group; Supervisory Special Agent (SSA) [redacted], Practical Applications Unit, TD; SSA [redacted] Investigative Law Unit, Office of General Counsel; SSA [redacted] Evidence Response Team, Laboratory Division; and SSA [redacted] CR-2, Washington Field Office. The following non-voting members were also in attendance: Inspectors [redacted] and [redacted] Office of Inspections (OI), INSD; Management and Program Analyst (MPA) [redacted] Inspection Management Unit (IMU), Strategic Analysis Section (SAS), INSD; and MPA [redacted] IMU, SAS, INSD. b6 b7C

The SIRG reviewed the above synopsized incident with the intent to: (1) evaluate the application of deadly force; (2) provide the Director with an evaluative analysis, observations, and recommendations for corrective actions from an operational standpoint (if any); (3) provide recommendations concerning training and/or safety issues; and (4) provide recommendations for administrative action if deemed necessary.

SIRG members unanimously agreed that the use of deadly force by SAs [redacted], and [redacted] was justified and in conformance with the FBI's deadly force policy. This discussion resulted in the recommendation that no administrative action be taken against the Agents as a result of their involvement in this shooting incident. b6 b7C

Noting SA [redacted] was not utilizing body armor at the time of the incident, SIRG members unanimously adopted the following recommendation of the Shooting Incident Review Team:

RECOMMENDATION: SAC, Philadelphia will ensure all division personnel are reminded the use of body armor during arrest operations is mandatory.

During the discussion of this incident, a SIRG member commented on the effective use of a blackberry to transmit the subject's photograph to members of the arrest team ensuring all participants could identify the subject. This matter will be discussed with the Special Agent in Charge of the Philadelphia Division.

Synopsis: The Shooting Incident Review Group (SIRG) reviewed a shooting incident that occurred on 11/18/2009, involving Special Agent (SA) [redacted] While preparing to depart for a Special Weapons and Tactics (SWAT) operation, SA [redacted] encountered three subjects in the garage of his home. SA [redacted] fired six rounds from his personally-owned, Bureau-approved Sig Sauer model P229, .40 caliber semi-automatic pistol at the subjects. SIRG members recommended that no administrative action be taken against SA [redacted] as a result of his involvement in this shooting incident.

Administrative: Reference report of Inspector-in-Place [redacted] dated 12/28/2009.

Details: This communication was prepared to furnish the analysis, comments, and recommendations of the SIRG with reference to the captioned shooting.

Details of the Shooting Incident

b7C

On 11/18/2009, while preparing for participation in early morning SWAT operations, SA [redacted] dressed for work and exited his kitchen into an attached, two-car garage. Although not wearing anything identifying himself as an FBI Agent, SA [redacted] was wearing an in-the-pants holster containing a Bureau-approved, personally-owned, Sig Sauer P229, .40 caliber pistol. The pistol was fully loaded with Bureau-issued ammunition with 12 rounds in the magazine and one in the chamber.

SA [redacted] exited through his kitchen into the garage. Once in the garage, SA [redacted] placed a cooler, a backpack, and a "Blackhawk" gear bag on an exercise mat. The backpack was unzipped and contained SA [redacted] FBI credentials and his Bureau-issued Springfield Arms, Model 1911, .45 caliber pistol which was fully loaded and in a holster on top of the backpack. After re-entering his residence to retrieve his keys, SA [redacted] returned to the garage and partially opened the roll-up garage door. He ducked under the partially opened door to retrieve his narcotic detection trained canine from the backyard before loading his gear into the Bureau vehicle. As SA [redacted] walked to the corner of his residence, he observed a light colored truck drive down the street and make a U-turn. Although the truck continued past SA [redacted] residence and out of view, he observed a male in the front passenger seat and the driver of the vehicle. Due to a recent burglary in his neighborhood, SA [redacted] watched the vehicle for about five seconds. Believing the occupants of the truck did not see him, SA [redacted] continued into the backyard, leashed his dog, and took the dog into the front yard near the partially opened garage door. As he approached the garage door, SA [redacted] heard an unknown male voice coming from within the garage. Knowing no other males were in his household, SA [redacted] knelt down, looked into the garage, and saw a pair of legs standing in the garage just a few feet from the door. SA [redacted] drew his pistol, entered the garage, and stood a short distance from the white, male subject. SA [redacted] identified himself and stated, "police, don't move." As SA [redacted] repeated the command a second time, he noticed a second subject standing on the exercise mat near his backpack containing his pistol and FBI credentials. As SA [redacted] continued to order both subjects to get down, they froze but did not obey his commands.

While continuing to issue verbal commands to the first two subjects, SA [redacted] observed a third subject standing on a step leading from the garage into the kitchen where the door was ajar. The third subject was looking at SA [redacted] who did not know if he left the kitchen door ajar or if the subject had opened it.

At that point, fearing for the safety of his wife and daughter inside the residence, SA [redacted] addressed his commands to the three subjects. The third subject ran toward the garage door while the first two subjects began approaching SA [redacted] The second subject moved toward the garage door while the first subject rushed and attacked SA [redacted] who held his pistol in his right hand while grabbing the subject by the hair and began pushing him back and down toward the floor. SA [redacted] attempted to maintain awareness of all three subjects while he moved into a defensive position, pushing the first subject to the ground. The subject grabbed SA [redacted] around the waist in a bear hug while SA [redacted] struggled to push him away. The subject began swinging at SA [redacted] and grabbed the right sleeve of his jacket. Following a short struggle, with SA [redacted] issuing further commands, the subject ran from the garage.

SA [redacted] scanned his garage and determined the three subjects fled; however, was concerned they may have taken his pistol from the backpack. He pursued the first subject who was approximately 15 yards in front of him and running toward the suspect vehicle. The subject opened the driver's door of the truck, entered, and closed the door. As SA [redacted] arrived at the driver's door, the window was partially down. He stood by the left front panel facing the driver. The driver attempted to close the window as SA [redacted] reached in and held the window open and demanded that the subjects exit the vehicle.

Realizing the truck's engine was running, SA [redacted] reached in and attempted to remove the keys from the ignition. SA [redacted] continued to order the subjects from the vehicle as he attempted to remove the keys. Two of the subjects were yelling and one subject began slapping SA [redacted] arm. SA [redacted] heard the vehicle's engine race and believed he may be killed if he didn't get the keys out of the ignition. SA [redacted] was pressed tightly against the truck with his left arm inside. As the driver turned the steering wheel sharply to the left toward SA [redacted] he heard a bang as the transmission shifted into gear and believed the subject was attempting to run him down. The truck lurched to the left, pressing against SA [redacted] body while his left arm was caught in the driver's window. The truck continued moving into SA [redacted] chest, striking his left leg and throwing him off balance. Fearing for his life, SA [redacted] fired six rounds from his Sig Sauer pistol until the truck was approximately seven yards away from him.

SA [redacted] ran toward his house while dialing 911; however, his cell phone was not working. He checked his garage to ensure no other subjects were inside and also verified his pistol was still in his backpack inside the garage. After calling the police, SA [redacted] unloaded his pistol and placed it on the kitchen counter to comply with the 911 operator's request.

The Brea Police Department (BPD) arrived on the scene and conducted a neighborhood canvass for witnesses. At approximately 6:00 a.m., the BPD received a report of a suspicious vehicle, with possible bullet holes, located in the area. The BPD located the vehicle and SA [redacted] identified it as the same vehicle the subjects occupied.

The owner of the vehicle was contacted and she advised her son, [redacted] had been out in the truck but was currently located inside her residence. [redacted] admitted he and three other individuals had been together the night before but denied involvement in the burglary/assault. [redacted] as well as two of the other subjects, was subsequently arrested. [redacted] and one other subject were formally charged with burglary and assault, and entered guilty pleas to felony first-degree residential burglary. Both were sentenced to two years in prison. b6 b7C

On 01/27/2010, a declination of prosecution was received from the United States Department of Justice, Civil Rights Division, regarding the actions of SA [redacted] in this incident.

On 03/03/2010, the SIRG met to discuss the above-captioned shooting incident. Deputy Assistant Director Jennifer Smith Love observed while Chief Inspector [redacted] Inspection Division (INSD), chaired the meeting and was a non-voting member. The following voting members were in attendance: [redacted], Special Legal Counsel, Civil Rights Division, USDOJ; [redacted] Trial Attorney, Criminal Division, USDOJ; Section Chief (SC) Ralph Butler, CD-1, Eurasian Section, Counterintelligence Division; SC David J. Observations and Recommendations of the SIRG

The SIRG reviewed the above synopsized incident with the intent to: (1) evaluate the application of deadly force; (2) provide the Director with an evaluative analysis, observations, and recommendations for corrective actions from an operational standpoint (if any); (3) provide recommendations concerning training and/or safety issues; and (4) provide recommendations for administrative action if deemed necessary.

SIRG members unanimously concurred that the use of deadly force by SA [redacted] was justified and in conformance with the FBI's deadly force policy. This discussion resulted in the recommendation that no administrative action be taken against SA [redacted] as a result of his involvement in this shooting incident.

The Inspector's observation was discussed regarding SA [redacted] failure to maintain control of one of his firearms, leaving it in an unattended backpack on the floor of his open garage. Members noted SA [redacted] was retrieving his dog to complete the loading of his vehicle and deemed his actions appropriate. This discussion resulted in an agreement that the Inspection Division will place a reminder on its website advising all Agents to be cognizant of the location and security of their weapons at all times. b6 b7C

KANSAS CITY DIVISION
11/01/2009

Synopsis: The Shooting Incident Review Group (SIRG) reviewed a shooting incident that occurred on 11/01/2009, involving Special Agents (SAs) [redacted], [redacted] and [redacted] of the Kansas City Division. Each Agent fired multiple rounds at a subject who had shot at a task force officer (TFO). SIRG members unanimously recommended that no administrative action be taken against SAs [redacted] and [redacted] as a result of their involvement in this shooting incident.

Administrative: Reference report of Inspector [redacted] dated 03/01/2010.

Details: This communication was prepared to furnish the analysis, comments, and recommendations of the SIRG with reference to the captioned shooting.

Details of the Shooting Incident

Pursuant to an Unlawful Flight to Avoid Prosecution (UFAP) warrant, the Kansas City Division's Violent Crime Task Force (VCTF) planned the arrest of [redacted] a convicted felon who was known to be armed and dangerous.

[redacted] b6 b7C b7D

On 11/01/2009, at approximately 3:30 p.m., an arrest team, consisting of a TFO and six Agents, was advised of an arrest briefing at the Overland Park, Kansas, Police Department (OPKPD). During the oral briefing, which was provided by SA [redacted] and TFO [redacted] photographs were provided of the subject, his girlfriend, and vehicles associated with [redacted] TFO [redacted] advised of [redacted] criminal background involving weapons violations, crimes of violence, possession of a bullet proof vest, methamphetamine use, and his access to various weapons, including a MAC-11 type gun. Utilizing a diagram, SA [redacted] explained where he wanted personnel positioned during the operation and provided photographs of the location. SA [redacted] did not have a written operations plan but referred to the task force "Standard Operating Procedure" (SOP). According to SA [redacted] the Task Force arrested many fugitives with backgrounds similar to [redacted] therefore, he did not believe written guidance beyond the SOP was needed. Acting Supervisory Special Agent (A/SSA) [redacted] was the only management official notified regarding the arrest plan since personnel considered it a "routine" arrest, making use of the SOP. b6 b7C

As arrest team members moved their vehicles into position at the third location, [redacted] backed their vehicles into spaces in the parking lot. As the arrest team van approached, they saw [redacted] vehicle. [redacted] girlfriend, who was located inside his vehicle, yelled to [redacted] that she suspected the approaching unmarked van was a law enforcement vehicle. As team members exited the van to arrest him, [redacted] ran back to his vehicle, entered, closed the driver's side door, and displayed a handgun, pointing it in the direction of a TFO. As the TFO observed [redacted] pointing the weapon at him, he dove for cover at the front of [redacted] vehicle. Evidence indicated [redacted] fired at the TFO resulting in three of the arrest team Agents returning fire. [redacted] who was shot multiple times, was arrested, provided medical care, and transported to the Overland Park Regional Medical Center. [redacted] was released from the hospital on 11/07/2009.

FBI, Laboratory Division analysis revealed SA [redacted] fired seven rounds from his Springfield Professional, .45 ACP revolver, SA [redacted] fired 18 rounds from his Colt M4, .223 caliber rifle, and SA [redacted] fired four rounds from his Springfield, .45 ACP revolver. Analysis also determined a pistol recovered from the interior of [redacted] vehicle was fired twice.

On 06/29/2010, Johnson County, Kansas, District Attorney [redacted] determined the use of deadly force by SAs [redacted], and [redacted] was legal and justified under Kansas statutes. On 05/24/2010, the United States Department of Justice, Civil Rights Division, determined insufficient evidence existed to warrant a criminal investigation in this matter.

On 12/07/2010, the SIRG met to discuss the above-captioned shooting incident. Chief Inspector [redacted] Office of Inspections (OI), Inspection Division (INSD), chaired the meeting and was a non-voting member. The following voting members were in attendance: [redacted] Trial Attorney, Civil Rights Division, USDOJ; [redacted] Trial Attorney, Criminal Division, USDOJ; Assistant Section Chief (SC) [redacted] Violent Crimes Section, Criminal Investigative Division; Unit Chief (UC) [redacted] Firearms Training Unit, Training Division (TD); UC [redacted] Defensive Systems Unit, TD; UC [redacted] Special Weapons and Tactics Operations Unit, Critical Incident Response Group; SSA [redacted] Investigative Law Unit, Office of General Counsel (OGC); SSA [redacted] Evidence Response Team Unit (ERTU), Laboratory Division (LD); SSA [redacted], Practical Applications Unit, TD; and SSA [redacted] CR-2, Washington Field Office. Inspectors [redacted] and [redacted] attended to present the Kansas City and Detroit shootings to board members. The following non-voting members were also in attendance: Inspector [redacted] OI, INSD; SSA [redacted] ERTU, LD; SSA [redacted], Legal Instruction Unit, OGC; UC [redacted], Strategic Analysis Section (SAS), Inspection Management Unit (IMU), INSD; UC [redacted] SAS, Inspection Analysis Unit (IAU), INSD; Management and Program Analysts (MPAs) [redacted] SAS, IAU; [redacted] Special Advisor, INSD; [redacted] SAS, IMU, INSD; and [redacted] SAS, IMU, INSD.

Observations and Recommendations of the SIRG

The SIRG reviewed the above synopsized incident with the intent to: (1) evaluate the application of deadly force; (2) provide the Director with an evaluative analysis, observations, and recommendations for corrective actions from an operational standpoint (if any); (3) provide recommendations concerning training and/or safety issues; and (4) provide recommendations for administrative action if deemed necessary.

Inspector [redacted] who led the Shooting Incident Review Team (SIRT), provided an overview of the incident to SIRG members.

SIRG members unanimously agreed that the use of deadly force by SAs [redacted], [redacted] and [redacted] was justified and in conformance with the FBI's Deadly Force Policy. This discussion resulted in the recommendation that no administrative action be taken against any of the Agents as a result of their involvement in this shooting incident. b6 b7C

SIRG members unanimously adopted the following observations and recommendations of the SIRT:

OBSERVATION #1: Ballistic protective vests (BPVs) were not worn by two occupants in the arrest team van.

INSTRUCTION #1: Every indication was that this arrest was "reasonably" going to involve a violent altercation. Under such circumstances, it is imperative Executive Managers and SSAs in the Kansas City Division ensure all personnel wear BPVs in accordance with the MIOG, or that BPVs are immediately available.

OBSERVATION #2: The written SOP utilized by the Task Force, dated 03/10/2009, was inadequate to support the 11/01/2009 arrest circumstances. The SOP provided sufficient guidance regarding static arrest sites and vehicle pursuits, but it did not provide sufficient guidance regarding mobile arrests. The SOP, authored by SA [redacted], had the following sections: Arrest Plan Brief, Uniform and Equipment, Target Location Surveillance, Movement To The Objective, Deployment and Entry, Special Considerations, Contingencies, Transportation of Arrestees, Vehicle Stops, Vehicle Pursuits, Pre-Arrest SOPs, and Post Arrest SOPs. b6 b7C

The SOP did not include the FBI's Deadly Force Policy. Additionally, numerous arrest team members stated the FBI's Deadly Force Policy was not discussed in detail at the pre-arrest briefing and SA [redacted] had advised the arrest might require deadly force and they "all know the policy." Numerous arrest team members stated they were familiar with the Deadly Force Policy, since it had been briefed extensively relative to another arrest two weeks before the 11/01/2009 arrest.

The SOP did not provide specific guidance regarding what criteria would require Special Weapons and Tactics (SWAT) utilization for an arrest. It did not provide a sufficient Medical Response plan. The "Emergency Medical Situation" section stated, should a medical emergency occur, 911 should be called immediately. This was insufficient because it did not include the location of the nearest trauma facility.

The Violent Crimes Section, Criminal Investigative Division (CID), indicated to the SIRT it had issued no guidance to the field regarding the use of SOPs versus formalized Operation Plans. CID delegated this specific authority to field offices and the respective Special Agents in Charge (SACs).

RECOMMENDATION #2: The Kansas City Division should make the Task Force SOP a more detailed and versatile document. At a minimum, the FBI's Deadly Force Policy and the locations of all trauma centers, including their levels, should be added. The SOP should also include guidance regarding mobile arrest scenarios as well as criteria which would trigger the utilization of a SWAT team. In addition, it should include criteria guiding when the Assistant Special Agent in Charge (ASAC) and SAC should be notified of an arrest. All participants in task force arrests should be briefed on the SOP before arrest scenarios.

During this discussion, SIRG members commented on the use of the Standard Operating Plan utilized by task force personnel. SIRG members emphasized the availability of the fillable Form FD-888, Law Enforcement Operations Order. Completion of this form would provide relevant information to all involved participants.

OBSERVATION #3: Better post incident care needs to be provided to personnel.

The overall medical response planning for this operation was inadequate. Following the oral briefing provided by SA [redacted] and TFO [redacted] Captain [redacted] Overland Park Police Department (OPPD), arranged for an ambulance to be staged in the vicinity of the operation. After [redacted] was in custody and his truck was cleared, Sergeant [redacted] OPPD, requested medical assistance, which arrived a short time later. Additionally, once the scene was secure, SA [redacted] checked to see if any arrest team personnel were injured.

After the arrest, SA [redacted] had a significant amount of blood on both hands from [redacted] which transferred to SA [redacted] when he pulled [redacted] from the truck. SA [redacted] provided hand sanitizer to SA [redacted] and the responding ambulance personnel provided him with some antiseptic foam. SA [redacted] became concerned after the shooting because he could not obtain information regarding [redacted] HIV status. SA [redacted] also believed [redacted] (subject's girlfriend) was HIV positive. Although SA [redacted] did not have any open wounds, he was still concerned about follow-up treatment after coming into contact with [redacted] and [redacted] b6 b7C

Additionally, while at the scene SA [redacted] told ASAC Jones he was fine. However, during his interview with the SIRT and in his Signed Sworn Statement he said, after arriving home his "ears began to hurt and there was a ringing sensation. My ears are still ringing (11/08/2009) as a result of the shooting incident."

RECOMMENDATION #3: Following a shooting incident, it is the responsibility of Executive Management to ensure adequate experts such as Blood Borne Pathogen Coordinator, Medic, and Nurse are made available to all involved personnel, ensuring the timely identification and resolution of medical issues.

Synopsis: The Shooting Incident Review Group (SIRG) reviewed a shooting incident that occurred on 04/13/2008, involving Special Agent (SA) [redacted] While visiting a friend, SA [redacted] fired two rounds from her Bureau-issued Glock Model 22, .40 caliber pistol injuring an aggressive pitbull dog. SIRG members recommended that no administrative action be taken against SA [redacted] as a result of her involvement in this shooting incident.

Administrative: Reference Electronic Communication of Supervisory Special Agent (SSA) [redacted] dated 04/17/2008.

Details: This communication was prepared to furnish the analysis, comments, and recommendations of the SIRG with reference to the captioned shooting.

Details of the Shooting Incident

On 04/13/2008, SA [redacted] visited [redacted] a friend who owned a small dog. Anticipating being away from her residence for several hours, SA [redacted] rode with [redacted] to take the dog to the residence of [redacted] and [redacted].

Approximately three hours later, SA [redacted] and [redacted] completed their errands and returned to the [redacted]s residence to retrieve the dog. SA [redacted] remained inside the vehicle while [redacted] proceeded to the front door of the residence. As SA [redacted] sat in the vehicle, she observed a red truck park down the street and a male known as [redacted] along with a dog, exit the truck. At that time, [redacted] returned to her vehicle to ask SA [redacted] a question and re-entered the [redacted] residence.

A few moments later, SA [redacted] observed [redacted], and [redacted] exit the residence with [redacted] guiding [redacted] dog on a leash. As they walked down the steps toward the vehicle, SA [redacted] advised [redacted] that [redacted] dog was rapidly approaching. b6 b7C

As [redacted] and the [redacted] attempted to create a playful environment for the dogs, SA [redacted] noticed [redacted] pitbull dog was not being playful and was attacking [redacted] the [redacted] and [redacted]s dog. As [redacted] and [redacted] attempted to protect the small dog, the pitbull lunged at [redacted] Commands from [redacted] and the [redacted], along with physical force, seemed to make the pitbull more aggravated and vicious. Additionally, the owner of the pitbull did not come to the scene of the incident despite hearing and seeing the activity. Ensuring all individuals were in a safe area and fearing for her safety, as well as the safety of others, SA [redacted] retrieved her weapon and fired two rounds injuring the pitbull dog who ceased its attack.

The local police and animal control authorities were notified of the incident. The injured pitbull dog was removed from the scene by local animal control authorities.

On 08/19/2008, the SIRG met to discuss the above-captioned shooting incident. Deputy Assistant Director Michael S. Clemens, Inspection Division (INSD), chaired the meeting and was a non-voting member. The following voting members were in attendance: [redacted], Trial Attorney, Civil Rights Division, USDOJ; [redacted], Trial Attorney, Gang Squad, USDOJ; Section Chief (SC) Robert Anderson, Jr., CD-4, Counterespionage Section, Counterintelligence Division; SC Thomas A. Nunemaker, Violent Crimes Section, Criminal Investigative Division (CID); Unit Chief (UC) [redacted] Firearms Training Unit, Training Division (TD); UC [redacted] Defensive Systems Unit, TD; Acting UC [redacted] Practical Applications Unit, TD; Acting UC [redacted] Special Weapons and Tactics Operations Unit, Critical Incident Response Group; SSA [redacted] Investigative Law Unit, Office of General Counsel; and SSA [redacted] CR-2, Washington Field Office. Management Program Analyst [redacted] Inspection Management Unit, OI, INSD, a non-voting member, was also in attendance. b6 b7C

The SIRG reviewed the above synopsized incident with the intent to: (1) evaluate the application of deadly force; (2) provide the Director with an evaluative analysis, observations, and recommendations for corrective actions from an operational standpoint (if any); (3) provide recommendations concerning training and/or safety issues; and (4) provide recommendations for administrative action if deemed necessary.

SIRG members unanimously agreed that the use of deadly force by SA [redacted] was justified. This discussion resulted in the recommendation that no administrative action be taken against SA [redacted] as a result of her involvement in this shooting incident. b6 b7C

REPORT OF SHOOTING INCIDENT
PHILADELPHIA DIVISION
01/28/2008

Character: ADMINISTRATIVE INQUIRY

Synopsis: Darius Hill was the subject of a child pornography investigation. On January 28, 2008, a federal search warrant was served at Hill's residence in Perkasie, Pennsylvania. The search team was composed of six Agents and four uniformed police officers. The subject's wife opened the kitchen door to allow the team to enter. As the team was clearing the second floor, the subject was observed with a pistol. The subject began to point the pistol at himself. The Agents, from behind concealment, ordered the subject to drop the weapon. The Agents negotiated with the subject for approximately 15 to 20 minutes and threatened suicide. The subject made a threatening movement by lowering the weapon towards the Agents. The Agents, feeling their lives were in danger, fired at the subject. After the initial Agent fired and hit Hill, the subject was still able to place his weapon into his mouth and fire one shot while also being struck four additional times by the Agents' rounds. Agents attempted to render aid to the subject. Paramedics pronounced the subject dead at the scene.

DETAILS:

On January 2, 2008, the Philadelphia Division (PH), Ft. Washington Resident Agency (RA), received a lead from the Innocent Images National Initiative (IINI) Unit in Calverton, Maryland. The lead reported an Internet Crimes Against Children (ICAC) Task Force in Utah, working in an undercover capacity, determined a computer registered to 836 Callowhill Road, Perkasie, Pennsylvania, was engaged in criminal activity relating to child pornography. Darius Theodore Hill resided at the residence and was believed to be the individual communicating with the undercover Utah officer. The lead was assigned to SA [redacted] who worked with the United States Attorney's Office to obtain a search warrant to seize computers located in the residence.

This document contains neither recommendations nor conclusions of the FBI. It is the property of the FBI and is loaned to your agency; it and its contents are not to be distributed outside your agency.

SA [redacted] spent several days to freshen the probable cause for the search warrant. SA [redacted] obtained up to date computer logs from JINI in reference to current conversations from the undercover Utah officer. SA [redacted] also conducted criminal background checks on the subject. The subject had a felony criminal record from his time in the military for selling stolen military weapons and also had a complaint filed with the Hilltown Township Police Department (HTPD) for improper sexual contact with a minor.

The search warrant affidavit was prepared and presented to the Assistant United States Attorney (AUSA) on Wednesday, 1/23/2008. On Friday, 1/25/2008, a federal search was authorized by a Federal Magistrate Judge, Eastern District of Pennsylvania. Also on Friday, 1/25/2008, SA [redacted] contacted Ft. Washington RA Agents to request assistance on serving the search warrant on Monday, 1/28/2008.

At 3:00 pm, 1/28/2008, the search team assembled at the HTPD for a briefing. Present were FBI SAs [redacted] and [redacted] as well as Hilltown Township Police Lieutenant (Lt.) [redacted] The briefing was led by SA [redacted] which included providing copies of the warrant and affidavit; description and photograph of Hill; Hill's criminal history; search/entry team roles and assignments; notification of potential children in the residence; description of items to be seized; and a contingency plan on breaching the residence if needed to preserve evidence. There was no written operation plan for the search warrant, nor was there a specific briefing on the FBI's Deadly Force Policy. SA [redacted] arrived late to the briefing, due to being in court, and received a briefing from SA [redacted] prior to the execution of the warrant.

The plan was to execute the warrant when the subject was at his residence in an attempt to interview him regarding his involvement in child pornography. There were no locations for a static surveillance near the residence, so the team conducted drive-by surveillances every twenty to thirty minutes to determine if the subject was home. The initial drive-by was conducted by SA [redacted] just prior to his search warrant briefing.

At 6:00 pm, SA [redacted] received information from the undercover Utah officer that Hill's computer was online. This was an indication that Hill was at the residence.

The team re-assembled at the HTPD. SA [redacted] briefed three additional uniformed police officers who joined the team to assist. The additional officers were [redacted] and [redacted] The team lined up the vehicles consisting of two FBI vehicles and three marked Hilltown Township cruisers, and proceeded to the location which was a short distance from the HTPD.

At 6:30 pm, the team arrived at the location. SA [redacted] SA [redacted] SA [redacted] SA [redacted] Lt. [redacted] and Officer [redacted] approached the front door, while SA [redacted] and Officers [redacted] and [redacted] went to the side door. SA [redacted] was on the northwest corner of the house. As the team approached the front door, the subject was observed through a window and motioned the team to go to the side door.

The team at the side door then made contact with the subject's [redacted] and entered the residence. As the team entered [redacted] and [redacted] were in the kitchen area and were advised the FBI had a search warrant for the residence. Agents asked [redacted] where Darius was, and she indicated she thought he was in the front of the residence.

As the team proceeded to the front of the residence, Hill was heard upstairs. Officer [redacted] was at the base of the stairs, located in the center of the home, and yelled up to Hill telling him it was the police/FBI serving a search warrant and ordered him to come downstairs.

Hill did not respond to the verbal commands, so Officer [redacted] and SA [redacted] ascended the stairs. Upon arrival on the upstairs landing, they cleared a bedroom to their left. Then, both law enforcement officers looked down a hallway to their right and observed Hill standing in the master bedroom doorway with a pistol pointed under his chin. He was threatening to shoot himself, and SA [redacted] began to negotiate with him to put the gun down. Officer [redacted] went down the stairs to get [redacted] and [redacted] out of the house. Officer [redacted] placed [redacted] and [redacted] in a cruiser, then took them to the HTPD. b6 b7C

SA [redacted] continued to negotiate with Hill, advising him to put the gun down and show his hands. Hill stated, "I've been through this before. I'm not going back to jail. I might as well just end it now." During the negotiations, SA [redacted] came up the stairs to provide backup for SA [redacted] Hill was standing in the doorway of the bedroom which was located approximately 12 to 14 feet from where the Agents were located.

Although only SAs [redacted] and [redacted] were on the second floor with Hill, other Agents and officers on-scene and located at the base of the stairwell overheard Hill's statements. The Agents and officers heard the following:

- SA [redacted] heard SA [redacted] talking to Hill telling him, "we can't talk to you when you have a gun. Take your finger off the trigger. No one is going to be arrested, this is strictly a search warrant. Put the gun down." SA [redacted] could barely hear Hill, but heard Hill say, "being arrested and suicide."
- SA [redacted] heard Hill and he sounded agitated. Hill was speaking as if he had an object in his mouth. Hill said, "don't rush me man... don't come in here... I know you guys don't want suicide by cop."
- SA [redacted] heard Hill say, "no, I won't drop it."
- Officer [redacted] heard Hill say, "suicide by cop."

SA [redacted] continued to negotiate with Hill for approximately 15 to 20 minutes. Throughout the negotiations, Hill continued to put the weapon in his mouth and point it under his chin. Hill was facing the Agents during most of the negotiations, but did occasionally move around the room. SA [redacted] was originally at the top of the stairs peering around a corner wall to view Hill. SA [redacted] moved across the hall into the laundry room to obtain a better view of Hill. SA [redacted] then moved up the steps into the position vacated by SA [redacted]

SA [redacted] continued to give Hill commands to drop the weapon, and Hill continued to say he was not going back (to jail). He stated, "NCIS screwed me" [the Naval Criminal Investigative Service (NCIS) conducted the investigation resulting in Hill's felony conviction and four years incarceration sentence]. At one point Hill said, "what is this going to be, suicide by cop?" After the dialogue continued for several more minutes, Hill said, "I'm going to blow my brains out by this window because I don't want to make a mess." SA [redacted] b6 b7C told Hill they were only there to seize his computers and not arrest him. At this point, there was a noticeable change in Hill's demeanor. Hill became very quiet and began to back up towards the bedroom window.

Around this time, SA [redacted] who was on the upstairs landing lost sight of Hill. To improve his tactical position, SA [redacted] crossed the hallway into the laundry room doorway with SA [redacted]. SA [redacted] was in a low kneel position while SA [redacted] was in the standing high position.

According to SA [redacted], Hill's comments conveyed he felt there was no way out of the situation. SA [redacted] reminded SA [redacted] that they could not "out react this guy." SA [redacted] reminded himself of training exercises demonstrating law enforcement officers can't react fast enough if an armed subject makes the first move to shoot, which included scenarios with suicidal subjects. b6 b7C

As Hill backed towards the window, he faced the Agents in what SA [redacted] perceived as a combat stance. Although Hill was clearly making suicidal comments and pointing his weapon to his head, SA [redacted] felt Hill was preparing for a gun battle with the Agents. SA [redacted] based this on Hill's repeated suicidal comments were becoming suspect because he had plenty of opportunity to actually commit suicide; Hill moved to close proximity of an egress point, the window; and Hill held the weapon in a combat grip.

Hill lowered the weapon from his chin towards the Agents. This caused both SA [redacted] and SA [redacted] to fear for their lives. SA [redacted] fired the first round striking Hill in the chest. Hill was able to place his weapon back in his mouth and fire one round. SAs [redacted] and [redacted] thought Hill was returning fire, and SA [redacted] fired one additional round and SA [redacted] fired five rounds. All rounds were fired in approximately two seconds. Hill was struck a total of five times by Agents' rounds.

Hill had six wounds located as follows: intra-oral (mouth) close contact entry wound with exit wound out of the back of his head; right thumb with re-entry into right chest; left chest; left ear/neck/chest; left neck/chest; and right thigh. The intra-oral wound was Hill's self-inflicted shot, and the bullet exited hitting the window frame and splintered. A bullet was recovered in each of the other five wounds: two rounds were from SA [redacted] weapon and three rounds from SA [redacted] weapon. SA [redacted] other two rounds cleanly pierced the bedroom window to the exterior of the house and were not recovered. Recovery of shell casings confirmed eight shots were fired (Hill - one; SA [redacted] - five; and SA [redacted] - two). b6 b7C

SA [redacted] and [redacted] approached Hill, kicked his weapon away, and began to render aid. SA [redacted] called for a medic, checked Hill's pulse, but was not able to locate any signs of life from Hill. SA [redacted] then told Lt. [redacted] who had come up the stairs, to take control of the scene. Paramedics arrived a short time later and pronounced Hill dead.

The Bucks County District Attorney's Office Investigators responded, as is protocol for all law enforcement involved shootings in Bucks County. The investigators conducted the crime scene and interviews of Hill's wife and all of the HTPD officers at the scene.

The toxicology report was negative for drugs or alcohol in Hill's system.

Based on investigation subsequent to the shooting incident, the SIRT identified potential factors which may provide indicators as to why Hill reacted so violently to law enforcement during the execution of a lawful search warrant, which included:

- A forensic computer exam of Hill's computer seized during the search warrant revealed 300,000 graphic images of child pornography and 5000 videos of child pornography, incest, and bestiality.
- [redacted] revealed Hill threatened suicide during their marriage, to include placing a handgun to his head.
- Hill was suspected of molesting [redacted] who is the [redacted] of his [redacted]
- Hill was suspected of molesting [redacted] from [redacted]
- According to a family member, Hill's wife sent him cell phone text messages on the day of the shooting about getting a divorce.

On 02/15/2008, the Bucks County Attorney's Office, Bucks County, Pennsylvania, declined local prosecution. On 04/07/2008, the Department of Justice declined federal prosecution.

In summary, subject Hill fled to a bedroom as Agents executed a lawful federal search warrant at his residence. Hill obtained a weapon and threatened to kill himself. After 15-20 minutes of negotiations, Hill began to point the weapon in the direction of the Agents. Agents, in fear of their lives, fired striking Hill. After being shot, Hill was able to place his weapon in his mouth and fire one round. Agents, thinking they were being shot at, fired six additional rounds at Hill.

INSPECTOR'S OBSERVATIONS:

The SIRT identified the following issue:

Issue #1: The search warrant plan was not converted into a written operation plan, nor did the plan require Agents to wear body armor or marked law enforcement clothing and did not provide a FBI Deadly Force Policy brief.

The case Agent and all team members conducted an oral brief prior to the search warrant. The case Agent personally briefed one Agent who missed the brief due to a court appearance, as well as three local officers assisting. The plan was thorough and complete, with three exceptions. The plan did not require Agents to wear body armor or marked law enforcement clothing and did not provide a FBI Deadly Force Policy brief. None of the six Agents participating wore body armor or marked law enforcement clothing. Additionally, the plan was not converted to a written format. A written plan could have added value by: 1) stimulating rigorous thought by the case Agent working through a standardized format which could lead to plan improvements/refinements; and 2) allows for independent review by more experienced managers; and 3) facilitates a complete and thorough oral pre-operation brief.

10/01/2007

Synopsis: The Shooting Incident Review Group (SIRG) reviewed a shooting incident that occurred on 10/01/2007, involving Special Agent (SA) [redacted]. During the attempted arrest of two subjects, SA [redacted] fired six rounds from his Glock Model 22, .40 caliber pistol at a second subject who was firing at law enforcement personnel from inside a business establishment. SIRG members recommended that no administrative action be taken against SA [redacted] as a result of his involvement in this shooting incident.

Administrative: Reference New Haven Division Electronic Communications of Supervisory Special Agent (SSA) [redacted] dated 10/02/2007 and 10/11/2007, and subsequent Connecticut State Police report.

b7C

Details: This communication was prepared to furnish the analysis, comments, and recommendations of the SIRG with reference to the captioned shooting.

Details of the Shooting Incident

In September 2007, three local Police Departments (PDs) requested the assistance of two SAs assigned to the Bridgeport Resident Agency regarding an interview of the subject of a local investigation involving illegal gambling. The Bridgeport Agents had an extensive background in conducting Organized Crime investigations, and it was believed the subject was associated with Organized Crime members in another county.

A second request was received from the Branford PD requesting the assistance of personnel for general manpower needed to search two locations. The requests resulted in six SAs attending a briefing of the operation at the Trumbull PD during the evening of 10/01/2007. At approximately 6:30 p.m., a briefing of the operation was conducted and a summary assignment sheet was drafted and discussed. Five of the six Agents were assigned to the subject's Trumbull residence search location to assist with the search after the residence was secured and conduct interviews. SA [redacted] a Probationary Agent, was assigned to the team responsible for searching a Mobil gas station in Bridgeport.

Upon arrival at the gas station, two Trumbull Police officers attempted to secure the individuals located inside the business. While the first subject who was standing in the doorway raised his hands over his head to surrender, the second subject began firing on law enforcement personnel. SA [redacted] along with other local officers located outside, returned fire injuring the shooter in the hand and arm.

Since the incident was not related to a pending FBI or FBI task force investigation, the crime scene was processed by the Connecticut State Police (CSP) Major Crimes Unit and the investigation was conducted by the CSP. b6 b7C

According to SA [redacted] at approximately 8:30 p.m., on 10/01/2007, an Agent located at the subject's residence advised him team members were walking up to the primary search location and that SA [redacted] team should execute the search warrant at the second location. The group drove to the location in three unmarked police vehicles and one marked Bridgeport Police Department vehicle. SA [redacted] wearing a blue protective vest with large yellow letters "FBI," exited the unmarked van and followed a local officer toward the front door of the business. The local officer had his service weapon drawn from its holster holding it against his leg pointed toward the ground. SA [redacted] drew his weapon and held it in a similar manner as they walked toward the open door of the gas station. SA [redacted] heard someone say, "Police Officers; search warrant," and an individual standing in the doorway raised his hands over his head to surrender. He also observed a second person moving in a back room; however, stayed focused on the individual who was surrendering.

As the local officer reached the man in the doorway, he passed him to other officers. At that point, SA [redacted] saw a muzzle flash from the interior of the room and knew someone was shooting at law enforcement personnel. He moved to his left for cover and fired six shots through the glass window into the interior of the room. A local officer instructed SA [redacted] to move back and he moved behind a police vehicle to insert a new magazine into his weapon.

SA [redacted] observed a local officer handcuff the man in the doorway. Additional officers were yelling, "police, police" and instructing the shooter to drop the gun and come out. At that point, SA [redacted] was instructed to get behind a civilian vehicle parked on an adjoining street to ensure the shooter did not attempt to flee out the back door. Within moments, the individual inside the gas station was arrested. As officers were attempting to handcuff the subject, it was determined he had been shot in the arm.

A ballistics examination did not make a conclusive match between the bullet extracted from the victim's wrist and SA [redacted] weapon.

On 05/19/2009, a declination of prosecution was received from the United States Department of Justice, Civil Rights Division, regarding the actions of SA [redacted]

On 05/28/2009, the SIRG met to discuss the above-captioned shooting incident. Deputy Assistant Director Michael S. Clemens, Inspection Division (INSD), chaired the meeting and was a non-voting member. The following voting members were in attendance: [redacted], Special Legal Counsel, Civil Rights Division, USDOJ; [redacted], Attorney, Criminal Division, USDOJ; Section Chief (SC) Robert Anderson, Jr., CD-4, Counterespionage Section, Counterintelligence Division; SC David J. Observations and Recommendations of the SIRG

The SIRG reviewed the above synopsized incident with the intent to: (1) evaluate the application of deadly force; (2) provide the Director with an evaluative analysis, observations, and recommendations for corrective actions from an operational standpoint (if any); (3) provide recommendations concerning training and/or safety issues; and (4) provide recommendations for administrative action if deemed necessary.

SIRG members unanimously agreed that the use of deadly force by SA [redacted] was justified and in conformance with the FBI's deadly force policy. This discussion resulted in the recommendation that no administrative action be taken against SA [redacted] as a result of his involvement in this shooting incident. b6 b7C

Members made several observations regarding the incident including the fact that although a clear threat existed, SA [redacted] fired six rounds toward a muzzle flash he saw through a window without acquiring target identification.

The second observation pertained to the fact that New Haven Executive Management was not aware FBI personnel were on the scene when the incident occurred. Both observations will be discussed with the Special Agent in Charge of the New Haven Division.

CHICAGO DIVISION
07/10/2008

Synopsis: The Shooting Incident Review Group (SIRG) reviewed a shooting incident that occurred on 07/10/2008, involving Special Agent (SA) [redacted] During the forced entry of a residence in an attempt to locate a kidnaping victim, SA [redacted] and two local law enforcement officers shot and killed two aggressive dogs. SIRG members recommended that no administrative action be taken against SA [redacted] as a result of his involvement in this shooting incident.

b7C

Details: This communication was prepared to furnish the analysis, comments, and recommendations of the SIRG with reference to the captioned shooting.

Details of the Shooting Incident

On 07/10/2008, an unknown number of armed subjects abducted the fiancé of a bank employee and threatened to kill the victim unless the bank employee removed all of the money from the vault of the bank where she was employed.

An arranged drop was executed where money, along with a tracking device, was placed in a bag and dropped in a predesignated area. After the subjects retrieved the money, they were followed to a residence in Chicago where a number of individuals were observed entering the residence. Due to exigent circumstances related to recent threats made to the victim's fiancé, and fear the tracking device would be located by the assailants, forcible entry was made into the residence. Law enforcement officers located the kidnaping victim bound to a chair with duct tape wrapped around his head and covering his eyes.

During the clearing of the residence, Agents and local officers encountered two large pit bull dogs upon entry into an upstairs bedroom where one of the assailants was hiding. Fearing for their safety when the dogs lunged toward them, SA [redacted] and two local officers shot and killed the dogs. Law enforcement personnel continued to clear the residence and ultimately located and arrested five subjects hiding in various locations on the second floor. Additionally, a sixth subject was arrested during a traffic stop as he attempted to flee the scene.

On 01/30/2009, the SIRG met to discuss the above-captioned shooting incident. Deputy Assistant Director Michael S. Clemens, Inspection Division (INSD), chaired the meeting and was a non-voting member. The following voting members were in attendance: [redacted], Special Legal Counsel, Civil Rights Division, USDOJ; [redacted], Attorney, Criminal Division, USDOJ; Chief Inspector Patrick James Maley, Office of Inspections (OI), INSD; Section Chief (SC) Jill Marie Eulitz, CD-1, Eurasian Section, Counterintelligence Division; A/SC Ronald J. Title: SHOOTING INQUIRY
MIAMI DIVISION
07/01/2008

Character: SHOOTING INCIDENT REVIEW

Synopsis: On February 19, 2008, a Gang/Criminal Enterprise investigation was initiated by the West Palm Beach Resident Agency (WPBRA), Miami Division. The investigation targeted a violent criminal enterprise associated with drug trafficking activities in the area of West Palm Beach, Florida. The investigation was conducted by Agents and officers of the WPBRA Safe Streets Task Force.

[redacted]

[redacted] During these contacts, [redacted] purported he had "goons with guns, AK-47's, Uzi's, big pistols, guns," who would carry out the CHS's robbery plan of the drug dealer. These facts, coupled with intelligence on the day of the operation of the subjects carrying large caliber weapons, created an extremely high threat level in the minds of the SWAT team at the time of the confrontation with subjects on July 01, 2008.

[redacted]

This document contains neither recommendations nor conclusions of the FBI. It is the property of the FBI and is loaned to your agency; it and its contents are not to be distributed outside your agency.

[redacted] Earlier in the evening, the FBI Miami SWAT team had deployed operators onto the roof tops of the two warehouse buildings and an adjacent building.

[redacted] drove [redacted] Caldwell, and [redacted] to the warehouse complex of the fictitious drug dealer. [redacted] remained in his vehicle outside the warehouse while [redacted] and [redacted] both armed with handguns, and Caldwell, armed with a rifle, entered into the fenced parking lot of the warehouse complex. As the subjects neared one of the warehouse building doors, a FBI SWAT operator yelled to the men, "FBI, don't move," at which time [redacted] dropped to the ground. Caldwell, still carrying a rifle, and [redacted] still armed with a pistol, disregarded the warnings and ran towards the operators on the opposite building, which was also in the direction of the gate opening.

b7D

FBI SWAT operators observed two non-compliant, armed individuals, who intelligence described as having high powered weapons, attempting to gain a position of tactical advantage. This caused concern for the imminent threat to the safety of law enforcement personnel in the outer perimeter and the danger these men posed to the civilian population in the immediate area, as well as the threat posed to SWAT operators. To eliminate this threat, FBI SWAT operators fired a total of fifty six (56) rounds at the two men who posed the greatest threat. [redacted] received numerous bullet wounds, to include leg wounds requiring the amputation of his left leg below the knee. Caldwell received numerous bullet wounds and was pronounced dead at the scene. [redacted], who dropped to the ground after FBI commands, was hit with one .223 caliber bullet, likely a ricochet, that penetrated one leg then lodged in his other leg. [redacted] attempted to flee the location in his vehicle, but his vehicle was struck and disabled by another motorist. He was then arrested by the West Palm Beach Police Department SWAT team which secured the operation's outer perimeter.

DETAILS:

On February 19, 2008, a Gang/Criminal Enterprise investigation (281D-MM-110766) was initiated targeting a violent gang/criminal enterprise associated with drug trafficking activities in and around West Palm Beach, Florida. The investigation was assigned to SA [redacted] and SA [redacted] of the WPBRA, who were assigned to the FBI WPBRA Safe Street Task Force (SSTF). The identified gangs, "Ace Click" and "44 Live", had an aggregate membership of sixty four individuals suspected of being involved in drug trafficking, robberies, shootings, burglaries, and weapons offenses. This investigation was approved as an Organized Crime Drug Enforcement Task Force (OCDETF) investigation (# FCFLS1604) on May 05, 2008, and the case classification changed requiring a new case file number of 245D-MM-110766.

On June 25, 2008, A/SSA [redacted] SA [redacted] and Detective [redacted] WPBPD, provided a briefing to AUSA [redacted] United States Attorney's Office (USAO), Southern District of Florida. Based upon the presentation, AUSA [redacted] opined he foresaw no issues of entrapment.

On June 25, 2008, SA [redacted] prepared an Operations Plan (OP) for the proposed arrest of [redacted] and his unidentified accomplices while committing the purported robbery. A/SSA [redacted] submitted the OP for review to A/ASAC [redacted] inasmuch as ASAC Parlave was on travel at the time. A/ASAC [redacted] submitted the OP to SAC Jonathan L. Solomon for his review and approval.

On June 25, 2008, [redacted] was fully identified as [redacted] Pompano Beach, Florida, with a date of birth of [redacted] had an extensive drug criminal history.

[redacted] was identified on the day the OP was prepared. At that time, there was no specific intelligence connecting [redacted] to a known drug trafficking organization (DTO) or an armed robbery crew. The basis for the operation was to arrest [redacted] and his unidentified "gangsters" based on [redacted] representation he had "AK-47's, Uzi's, guns, and big pistols" [redacted] According to the SAC and other division personnel, South Florida had experienced an increased frequency of violence with high powered weapons, thus the division felt compelled to address the potential public safety threat from [redacted] and his unknown accomplices in an expeditious manner.

On June 26, 2008, SWAT Senior Team Leader (STL) [redacted] began preparing a plan to effect the arrest o[redacted] and his unidentified accomplices. SA [redacted], SA [redacted] and Detective [redacted] met with WPBPD SWAT leadership, discussed the tactical operation, and delineated assignments and responsibilities for the respective SWAT teams. It was determined during the meeting FBI SWAT would be responsible for the inner perimeter of the arrest location and WPBPD SWAT would be responsible for the outer perimeter of the arrest location. In furtherance of the planned operation, STL [redacted] and SA [redacted] conducted a site survey of the arrest location.

On June 27, 2008, STL [redacted] prepared an FBI SWAT OP which documented areas of responsibility for both the FBI and WPBPD tactical components. The OP was submitted by SSA [redacted] to Administrative A/ASA[redacted] and then forwarded to SAC Jonathan I. Solomon. The OP review group, comprised of STL [redacted] A/ASAC [redacted] and A/ASAC [redacted] briefed SAC Solomon regarding the tactical considerations of the OP. After consultation with the group, SAC Solomon concurred and approved the OP.

On June 30, 2008, a detailed OP briefing was conducted at the Miami Division Field Office; in attendance were SA [redacted] STL [redacted] and SSA [redacted] STL [redacted] met and briefed ASAC Parlave, who was assigned as the On Scene Commander for the operation. ASAC Parlave also conducted a conference call with A/SSA [redacted] nd SA [redacted] to discuss the OP.

On the same day at 8:00 p.m., an OP briefing was conducted by STL [redacted] for the SWAT team at the WPBPD [redacted] West Palm Beach, Florida. The OP briefing was conducted at the approximate time of the planned robbery to allow SWAT operators to observe the lighting conditions at the location as it would potentially appear at the time of the operation. The SWAT OP briefing and rehearsals were conducted for approximately two hours. As previously discussed, FBI SWAT would be responsible for activities within the inner perimeter, and WPBPD SWAT team would be responsible for the outer perimeter. During the briefing, STL [redacted] advised FBI SWAT operators to be familiar with and to further review the FBI Deadly Force Policy.

b6
b7D

The FBI SWAT Blue Team would take positions on the rooftops of the North and South buildings in the warehouse complex, 1118 Old Okeechobee Road, West Palm Beach, as well as on the rooftop of a one story warehouse building west of the warehouse complex, 1109 Old Okeechobee Road. The FBI SWAT Gold Team would be responsible for securing the subjects upon completion of the operation. The Gold Team would be staged in a room inside the South building. A decision was made to partially close the western gate of warehouse complex and secure it with a lock and chain to prevent entry by a vehicle and require the subjects to slip through a small opening. [redacted] which would be provided to [redacted] for his use in committing the planned robbery.

b7D

At 5:00 p.m., STL [redacted] ASAC Parlave, and Agents of the WPBRA arrived at the WPBPD to attend an OP briefing. During this briefing, SA [redacted] and Detective [redacted] provided an overview of the investigation to the Agents of WPBRA, WPBPD SWAT, WPBPD surveillance, and WPBPD command staff. The CHS and UCE were introduced to the Agents and officers to minimize the potential for misidentification during the operation.

At 8:00 p.m., the FBI SWAT team staged at the WPBPD garage and were provided an additional briefing on the SWAT OP, as well as provided updated intelligence information. STL [redacted] again briefed the FBI Deadly Force Policy. Upon completion of the briefing, FBI SWAT members proceeded to the WPBPD undercover warehouse complex. FBI SWAT was split into two teams, the Gold Team and Blue Team. The Gold Team was comprised of SAs [redacted] and [redacted] The Gold Team was divided into four, three operator arrest teams. The Gold Team was deployed inside the South building and would respond when directed to secure the subjects. SA [redacted] was also staged with the Gold Team as a communication link to the Tactical Operations Center (TOC).

Blue Team members deployed on the South building were SAs [redacted] and [redacted] WPBPD SWAT snipers [redacted] and [redacted] were deployed on the rooftop of the South building to cover the rear of the South building overlooking Old Okeechobee Road. STL [redacted] and ASAC Parlave also took positions on the South building where they monitored a Remington Ball camera covering the warehouse complex interior parking lot. The actions of the subjects as viewed through the Remington Ball camera were not recorded. STL [redacted] and ASAC Parlave monitored the main FBI and WPBPD operations radio channels, then STL [redacted] relayed relevant information to FBI SWAT operators via the FBI SWAT simplex channel.

Blue Team SWAT members deployed on the roof of the North building were SAs [redacted] and [redacted] Blue Team SWAT members deployed on the roof of a warehouse building west of the warehouse complex, 1109 Old Okeechobee Road, were SAs [redacted] and [redacted]

SAs [redacted] and [redacted] were located in the TOC vehicle located in the vicinity of Clare Avenue, West Palm Beach, Florida. Also in the vehicle were A/SSA [redacted] and SA [redacted] WPBRA. b6 b7C

WPBPD SWAT operators were staged in two WPBPD vehicles. One located on Clare Avenue and the other on Frederick Street, both within close proximity to the warehouse complex.

The WPBPD SWAT Command Staff was located in a WPBPD vehicle located at the Holiday Inn on Belvedere Road, West Palm Beach. The vehicle was occupied by WPBPD Captain [redacted] Captain [redacted] Sergeant [redacted] and Sergeant [redacted] WPBPD Command Staff would monitor the communications being received through a transmitter worn by the UCE. The monitored communications would then be relayed to all personnel monitoring the WPBPD operations radio channels. Additionally, approximately fifteen unmarked WPBPD units had established stationary surveillance along the anticipated route of [redacted] and his accomplices from the Holiday Inn to the warehouse complex.

At 10:15 p.m., the Broward County Sheriff's Office (BCSO) surveillance, which had been surveilling [redacted] since 4:40 p.m., reported [redacted] and other subjects traveling northbound on Interstate 95 North in a gold Hyundai approaching West Palm Beach. At 10:17 p.m., [redacted] and other subjects arrived at the Holiday Inn, Belvedere Road, West Palm Beach, [redacted] Upon their arrival at the Holiday Inn, the BCSO terminated their surveillance.

[redacted] b6 b7C b7D

At 10:43 p.m., the FBI TOC broadcasted and logged the vehicle with all four subjects was anticipated to arrive at the warehouse complex within three minutes and they were armed with long guns. This was relayed to the SWAT team by STL

At 10:46 p.m., Caldwell, and exited the vehicle, while remained in the vehicle. They entered the warehouse complex parking lot through a gate locked with a chain, but the chain had sufficient slack to let a person slip through a small opening. The order of entry was carrying a set of bolt cutters and a concealed handgun, carrying a handgun, and Caldwell carrying a long rifle. followed by Caldwell and walked towards the door of the North building. All three were observed entering the parking lot by both STL and ASAC Parlave, who monitored their movements with the use of a Remington Ball camera. Both ASAC Parlave and STL observed all three subjects enter into the parking lot with what they believed to be weapons.

At 10:47 p.m., after and Caldwell got near the North building door and was halfway from the gate opening and the North building, ASAC Parlave gave the execution order to STL who then communicated the order to FBI SWAT operators. The SWAT operators had been advised via radio by STL all three subjects were armed, inasmuch as all operators were secreted to prevent silhouetting which also prevented operators from directly observing the subjects entering the warehouse complex.

SA stood up from his position on the South building and in a loud clear voice stated, "FBI, get down." At this point, was at the North building door and Caldwell was several feet behind was 25 feet from the same door, which was about halfway between the gate opening and the door. All three subjects turned towards the South building, dropped to the ground while Caldwell and ran in the direction of the Agents located on the South building which was also in the direction of the gate opening. Caldwell and disobeyed SA commands and continued to run towards the South building and the opening in the gate with guns in hand. Agents believed the non-compliant, armed Caldwell and were moving to a position of tactical advantage and/or presented a grave danger to the public and other law enforcement officers. Eight Agents from the roof tops of the North and South buildings discharged their weapons at Caldwell and and one Agent from the West building discharged his weapon at after he exited the warehouse complex and moved towards concealment of a truck parked on Old Okeechobee Road.

He then proceeded to move towards a truck parked on Old Okeechobee Road when he succumbed to his wounds and collapsed next to the truck. received numerous bullet wounds, to include legs wounds requiring his left leg to be amputated below the knee. Caldwell received numerous bullet wounds, collapsed in the gate opening, and was pronounced dead at the scene. who dropped to the ground after FBI commands, was hit with one .223 caliber bullet, likely a ricochet, that penetrated one leg then lodged in his other leg [redacted] attempted to flee the location in his vehicle, but his vehicle was struck and disabled by another motorist. He was then arrested by the WPBPD SWAT which secured the operation's outer perimeter.

A total of 56 .223 caliber rounds were fired, and there was no evidence the subjects discharged their weapons. The shooting lasted less than five seconds. Streetlight illumination created good lighting conditions in the warehouse complex and on Old Okeechobee Road outside the warehouse complex's gate. SWAT operators had mounted lights on their weapons, but did not use light enhancing scopes. b6 b7C

There were 15 FBI Agents and two WPBPD SWAT operators on top of the three building rooftops during the incident. Ten FBI Agents provided voluntary statements, as did both WPBPD SWAT operators. Of the 10 FBI voluntary statements, four were from Agents who discharged their weapons. Five Agents, all of whom discharged their weapons, did not elect to provide voluntary statements.

Each of the four witnesses providing voluntary statements and discharging their weapons will be summarized in detailed. Unique information from the other eight witnesses providing voluntary statements but did not discharge their weapons will be set forth, as well as a voluntary observations made by subject Anthony Jackson subsequent to the shooting incident.

Agents Discharging Their Weapon

- SA [redacted] discharged his weapon and was located on the South building. He clearly heard SA [redacted] commands. When SA [redacted] stood up from his position, he observed the subject closest to the North building door, presumably [redacted] but was unable to determine if he had a weapon. The second subject, presumably Caldwell, was holding what appeared to be a long gun, and the third subject, presumably [redacted] was closest to the gate opening holding a pistol. SA [redacted] observed a gold vehicle on Old Okeechobee Road parked by the gate opening with no one outside the vehicle. After hearing SA [redacted] commands, he observed all three subjects turn towards the South building and run in the direction of the Agents. SA [redacted] heard gunfire from FBI SWAT operators to his right on the rooftop as [redacted] holding a pistol, ran towards the opening of the parking lot gate. SA [redacted] shouted numerous times for the subject to stop and drop his weapon, but [redacted] left through the front gate opening and attempted to enter the gold Hyundai but it pulled away heading northbound. [redacted] then ran towards a parked truck, which caused SA [redacted] to fire two or three rounds from his M-4 rifle. SA [redacted] felt these shots incapacitated the subject because he fell in the street. SA [redacted] discharged his weapon because [redacted] attempted to run to a stationary vehicle would have given him tactical advantage, exposing the SWAT operators who were without cover or concealment. SA [redacted] believed other SWAT operators on the roof top of the North building were in imminent danger due to the lack of cover and concealment caused by the angle of the roof. The subject presented an imminent threat to the WPBPD SWAT members responsible for the outer perimeter, as well as the community at large had the subject escaped. b6 b7C

- SA [redacted] discharged his weapon and was located on the South building. As the three subjects entered the warehouse complex, STL [redacted] radioed the subjects were armed. SA [redacted] gave the FBI's initial commands by stating, "FBI, get down." The subjects spun around and ran directly towards the South building which was also towards the gate opening. He observed one subject with a long gun. He had been trained that anyone moving aggressively with a weapon could gain a position of tactical advantage. The subjects also presented a grave danger to the public and other law enforcement officers if they fled from the confined area of the warehouse complex. He fired two to four rounds from his M-4 rifle. He aimed at the subject with the long gun, presumably Caldwell, and he may have shifted to a second subject. The gold Hyundai drove northbound; he covered it but did not shoot.

- SA [redacted] discharged his weapon and was located on the South building. When SA [redacted] stood up, he observed three subjects. One subject, presumably [redacted] had a bolt cutter and possibly something in his other hand. He then heard SA [redacted] commands, and the other two subjects, presumably Caldwell and [redacted] turned and sprinted towards the SWAT team on the South building. SA [redacted] observed one individual as he turned with a long gun in his hand and the other appeared to have a pistol in his hand. SA [redacted] believed that the subjects were running to gain a tactical advantage of either cover or concealment and felt an imminent danger and threat from the subjects. SA [redacted] fired two to three rounds from his M-4 rifle at the subject, presumably Caldwell, who was carrying the long gun. He did not fire at the subject with the handgun inasmuch as the subject left SA [redacted] area of responsibility (AOR).

b7C

- SA [redacted] discharged his weapon and was located on the North building. He heard SA [redacted] commands to the three subjects. SA [redacted] began to hear gunfire when he observed the subject, presumably [redacted] armed with a handgun moving towards the gate, then through the gate, eventually reaching [redacted] gold Hyundai parked on Old Okeechobee Road. SA [redacted] believed [redacted] was moving towards a position of tactical advantage, or retrieving more weapons from the vehicle. At that time he had only been able to account for two subjects and was expecting four. SA [redacted] believed there was an imminent threat if the subject had reached the vehicle. SA [redacted] fired two to three rounds from his M-4 rifle at the subject, presumably [redacted] as he approached the passenger side door of [redacted] vehicle.

Agents Not Discharging Their Weapons

- SA [redacted] was on the South building and did not fire his weapon. The only subject in his AOR was the subject with the bolt cutters, presumably [redacted] who did not appear to have a weapon.

- SA [redacted] was on the North building and did not fire his weapon. His radio was inadvertently on the wrong channel and he did not hear the "execute" radio signal. He only realized the operation had begun after he heard discharges from M-4 rifles. Due to his radio malfunction, all the weapons firing was complete before he was able to get to the edge of the roof. Upon getting to his assigned position, he saw a subject down just outside the gate opening and the gold Hyundai speeding northbound on Old Okeechobee Road. He saw a subject run on Old Okeechobee Road, just underneath his position and took cover behind a truck. SA called out commands as did SA on the West building. SA maintained cover on this area until four WPBPD SWAT operators secured the subject.

- SA was on the West building and did not fire his weapon. He was new to the SWAT team, and was positioned behind the other two SWAT operators on the West building. When he reached the edge of the rooftop to observe the warehouse complex and Old Okeechobee Road, SA observed one subject, presumably Caldwell, down in the gate opening, and a second subject, presumably down next to a truck on Old Okeechobee Road.

- STL and ASAC Parlave were on the South building and did not fire their weapons. Both were next to each other behind the SWAT operators. They both only moved forward to view the warehouse complex and Old Okeechobee Road after the firing had ceased and all subjects were down and not moving.

- SA was on the West building and did not fire his weapon. After SA shouted out commands, he heard gunfire. When SA got to his position, he saw one subject, presumably Caldwell, laying in the gate opening. He saw another subject, presumably fleeing northbound on Old Okeechobee Road, then someone shot him in the leg and he fell to the ground. SA did not fire because he did not see any weapons on the subjects.

- Officer and Officer were on the South building behind the FBI SWAT team which at the roof's edge facing the parking lot. While on the roof prior to the operation, both heard over the WPBPD radio that subjects were armed with large caliber weapons. Both officers reported an FBI Agent giving loud and clear commands to the subjects. Both officers could not observe the subjects from their vantage points. Both did observe the gold Hyundai drive northbound on Old Okeechobee Road. Officer reported seeing a subject down on Old Okeechobee Road, and then he called in perimeter WPBPD officers to secure the subject.

SA , SA , SA , SA and SA all discharged their weapons and did not provide voluntary statements. All five Agents requested to be compelled to provide a statement, which are not contained in this report.

SA , SA , and SA were on the South building and SA was on the North building. The Agents and officers on the South and North buildings who submitted to voluntary interviews provided consistent statements on non-compliant, armed subjects running towards a position of tactical advantage and/or presented a grave danger to the public and other law enforcement officers. An inference can be made that these four Agents had similar observations which predicated them firing their weapons.

SA was on the West building with two other SWAT operators, SA and SA both of whom did not fire their weapons. SA initial observation of the warehouse complex and Old Okeechobee Road was after all the subjects were down. SA saw only one moving subject, presumably and did not shoot because he did not see a weapon. At the time of the initial FBI commands, had a pistol in his hand. The pistol was found in the parking lot of the warehouse complex, not far from position at the time of commands. did not have a weapon on his person when secured on Old Okeechobee Road near the truck. However, two other SWAT operators, SA (South building) and SA (North building), both observed with a pistol in his hands while inside the warehouse complex and both fired on after he exited the gate opening and ran northbound on Old Okeechobee Road believing was still carrying the pistol. SA even verbally coordinated with SA on the west building because SA could not see as he got near the truck. SA was presumably aware all subjects were armed when entering the warehouse complex based on STL radio traffic and he likely saw two other SWAT operators who observed the shooting inside warehouse complex firing on as he ran northbound. b6 b7C

He and the citizen driver suffered no major injuries.

The WPBPD Crime Scene Unit, with assistance from the Miami Division ERT, processed the scene for evidentiary purposes which resulted in the recovery of a Hi Point Model 995, 9mm rifle; a Smith and Wesson model 30, .38 caliber revolver; a Lorcin Model L380, .380 caliber pistol; a Halloween mask; and fifty-six (56) .223 caliber shell casings. Based on the results of the recovery of weapons and shell casings, the subjects appeared not to have fired their weapons.

FBI Laboratory ballistic tests determined the 56 shell casings, all .223 caliber were traced to the following Agents weapons: SA (13); SA (2); SA (3); SA (3); SA (6); SA (10); SA (10); SA (4); and unknown (3). Of the bullets/bullet fragments recovered from the subjects, only one bullet from Caldwell was positively identified by the FBI Laboratory with an FBI weapon, which belonged to SA Violation of Title 18 U.S.C. 841 (a)(1) and 846, conspiracy to possess with the intent to distribute cocaine.

On July 04, 2008, [redacted] was contacted at the Saint Mary's Medical Center, 901 45th Street, West Palm Beach, Florida. [redacted] waived his rights and was interviewed concerning the shooting incident which occurred on July 01, 2008. [redacted] stated that he, along with Caldwell [redacted] and his [redacted] went to the location to commit a robbery of an unknown individual. [redacted] advised the intended victim would have money and between six and eight kilograms of cocaine. [redacted] had placed three weapons in the vehicle for their use, to include a .38 caliber revolver, a black 9mm pistol, and a long black gun. [redacted] was going to be unarmed and remain in the vehicle as a getaway driver. [redacted] further stated there was a Halloween mask in the vehicle for him to wear during the robbery. [redacted] described Caldwell as "crazy" and a "shooter," and [redacted] believed he could "out run bullets." [redacted] stated that prior to the robbery they were told the intended victim may have a dog [redacted] stated Caldwell responded it did not matter, because he (Caldwell) "will shoot anything that moved." b6 b7C

[redacted] stated when he got to the door of the building, he knew something was wrong and then heard someone yell what he thought was "FBI" or "Police," followed by a command to "get down, get down." [redacted] stated as soon as he heard the commands, he saw [redacted] run and realizing it was the police, threw the bolt cutters down to the ground and dropped. [redacted] understood from his prison experience, when he heard the command to "get down," it was law enforcement. [redacted] believed he received adequate time to comply with the commands before he heard any shooting. [redacted] also saw law enforcement looking people in helmets, vests, and guns with lights on the rooftops. [redacted] further stated when he saw the large law enforcement presence he knew his brother must have "talked them up big, they had big guns."

All four subjects had criminal histories. Cory Caldwell, date of birth 08/22/1989, had four arrests, to include aggravated battery, battery, resisting an officer, and trespassing. [redacted] date of birth [redacted] had three arrests, to include cocaine possession, attempted murder, and failure to appear. [redacted] date of birth [redacted], had eight arrests, to include resisting an officer (2), cocaine trafficking (2), gambling, concealed weapon, aggravated fleeing and eluding, and disorderly conduct. [redacted] date of birth [redacted] had thirteen arrests, to include drug trafficking (3), drug possession (8), burglary/aggravated assault, and resisting an officer. b6 b7C

INSPECTOR'S OBSERVATION:

The Inspector did not identify any issues with this shooting incident. The Miami Division developed an outstanding OP and executed the plan in a highly effective and efficient manner.

Details of the Shooting Incident

On 06/18/2008, members of the Milwaukee Division Special Weapons and Tactics (SWAT) team executed a Federal search warrant in Racine, Wisconsin. SA [redacted] knocked on the door of the residence and announced the presence of the search team. After a short time with no response from inside the residence, forced entry was made utilizing a breaching tool. After the initial entry, a pit bull dog was encountered and moved to a cage by SWAT team members. As SWAT team members cleared the basement of the residence, they encountered a large Rottweiler dog. A diversionary device was deployed, however, the dog did not retreat and advanced on SWAT team members. The dog eventually exited the basement and ran toward SA [redacted] location. SA [redacted] yelled at the dog to stop and the dog stopped approximately ten feet away. A few seconds later, the dog advanced toward SA [redacted] who had turned and retreated to stairs leading to a porch at the front of the target residence. As the dog began to climb the stairs toward law enforcement personnel, SA [redacted] fired five rounds from his Springfield Armory 1911 Professional, .45 gauge pistol instantly killing the dog.

The Countrywide Humane Society responded to the scene and removed the dog.

On 01/30/2009, the SIRG met to discuss the above-captioned shooting incident. Deputy Assistant Director Michael S. Clemens, Inspection Division (INSD), chaired the meeting and was a non-voting member. The following voting members were in attendance: [redacted], Special Legal Counsel, Civil Rights Division, USDOJ; [redacted], Attorney, Criminal Division, USDOJ; Chief Inspector Patrick James Maley, Office of Inspections (OI), INSD; Section Chief (SC) Jill Marie Eulitz, CD-1, Eurasian Section, Counterintelligence Division; A/SC [redacted], Violent Crimes Section, Criminal Investigative Division; Unit Chief (UC) [redacted], Firearms Training Unit, Training Division (TD); UC [redacted], Defensive Systems Unit, TD; UC [redacted], Practical Applications Unit, TD; UC [redacted], Special Weapons and Tactics Operations Unit, Critical Incident Response Group; SSA [redacted], Investigative Law Unit, Office of General Counsel; SSA [redacted], Evidence Response Team Unit, Laboratory Division; and SSA [redacted], CR-2, Washington Field Office. Observations and Recommendations of the SIRG

concerning training and/or safety issues; and (4) provide recommendations for administrative action if deemed necessary.

SIRG members unanimously agreed that the use of deadly force by SA [redacted] was justified and in conformance with the FBI's deadly force policy. This discussion resulted in the recommendation that no administrative action be taken against SA [redacted] as a result of his involvement in this shooting incident. b6 b7C

Details of the Shooting Incident

On 05/08/2008, at 6:39 a.m., Agents and task force officers (TFOs) executed a search warrant at a residence in Brandywine, Maryland, targeting a cocaine distribution enterprise operating in the Washington, D.C., metropolitan area.

At 6:00 a.m., on 05/08/2008, SA [redacted] a designated Team Leader, conducted a tactical briefing with participants. During the briefing, SA [redacted] reviewed the operations order, specifically discussed entry team assignments, and ensured members of the search team received and understood their assignments.

At approximately 6:20 a.m., the operational team departed the staging area and traveled to stage near the target residence. Team members approached the residence on foot and established a tactical formation in front of the house as well as perimeter security around the house. At 6:39 a.m., SA [redacted] gave the command to execute the warrant. He knocked on the door and announced, "FBI...Search Warrant." Within minutes a female resident answered the door. The team entered and began clearing the residence. While in the kitchen area, SA [redacted] saw a shed that needed to be secured before a detailed search of the residence could be safely conducted. SAs [redacted] and [redacted] proceeded to the rear of the residence to clear the shed. After clearing the shed, the Agents discussed the fact that source information indicated a makeshift firing range may be located on the property or at a nearby residence belonging to [redacted] which was searched the previous day with no firing range located. SA [redacted] was also aware of intelligence indicating the targets of the search warrant investigation were firing their weapons in the rear of a residence.

SA [redacted] returned to the residence to assist with the search while SAs [redacted] and [redacted] remained toward the rear of the house where they discovered a gravel road leading into a wooded area. They began a perimeter sweep of the gravel road for additional potentially hazardous buildings, and as they walked into the wooded lot, it became apparent there was enough room in the back for a small firearms-type range. As the Agents continued down the road, they heard rustling and the clanking sound of chains. As they rounded the corner, the Agents observed a white pitbull on top of another dog playing in a pit. The Agents stopped and without warning, the pitbull looked up and ran straight toward SAs [redacted] and [redacted] The Agents drew their weapons and as the dog got approximately ten to twelve yards from SAs [redacted] and [redacted] SA [redacted] fired one shot from his Springfield Model 1911, .45 caliber pistol. The dog changed course but continued toward the Agents from a different direction. Fearing for their safety, SA [redacted] fired one round from his Glock Model 21, .45 caliber pistol and SA [redacted] fired a second shot at the dog. The pitbull stopped and retreated back to the tree line.

It was later determined one of the expended rounds wounded the dog's front paw. The Prince George's County Humane Society responded to the scene and removed the injured dog, as well as three additional pitbulls.

REPORT OF SHOOTING INCIDENT
KANSAS CITY DIVISION
12/17/2008

Character: SHOOTING INCIDENT REVIEW

Synopsis: The Kansas City Division Violent Crimes/Fugitive Task Force initiated a fugitive investigation to locate and apprehend Terry G. Gordon, Jr., wanted by Wyandotte County, Kansas police for rape and aggravated indecent liberties with a child. A vehicle associated with the subject was located and, on 12/17/2008, agents and task force officers assembled at the residence where the vehicle was parked. The six law enforcement agents and officers knocked on doors and windows of the residence while calling out to the subject. After approximately 30 minutes, task force personnel forced entry to the residence and encountered an adult female who denied the subject's presence; however the female's child indicated the subject was hiding upstairs. b6 b7C

Several task force personnel ascended the narrow stairs to a second floor landing and observed Gordon sitting on the floor of an adjacent bedroom with a revolver pointed to his head. Task force personnel engaged Gordon in dialogue in an attempt to disarm him. After noticing his grip on the weapon and demeanor change, one FBI agent fired two rounds at Gordon almost simultaneously with Gordon shooting himself in the right temple. A Missouri State Highway Patrol trooper also fired a single round at Gordon. The subject's self-inflicted wound was fatal. He was struck in the throat and lower neck by law enforcement gunfire.

DETAILS:

On 12/16/2008, the Kansas City Division Violent Crimes/Fugitive Task Force (VC/FTF) supervisor opened a fugitive investigation to locate and apprehend Terry G. Gordon, Jr., white male, date of birth 07/05/1977, who was wanted by Wyandotte County, Kansas authorities for felony rape and felony aggravated indecent liberties with a child. The same day, Task Force Officer (TFO) [redacted] a Kansas

City, Kansas Police Department (KCKPD) detective who had referred the local warrant to the VC/FTF and was assigned to the investigation, identified a potential location for the subject in that city. Personnel assigned to the VC/FTF worked throughout the day in support of another FBI task force and late that evening agreed to meet nearby the location the next morning in anticipation of a potential arrest.

On 12/17/2008 at approximately 6:00 a.m., as other VC/FTF personnel were heading toward the pre-arrest meeting site, TFO contacted the FBI radio operator to confirm the active warrant for Gordon. He again traveled to the suspect location, a two story wood framed single family residence located at 480 Shawnee Road, Kansas City, Kansas and observed what he believed was the subject's vehicle parked in the driveway. TFO maintained surveillance on the residence and kept the VC/FTF Coordinator, FBI Special Agent updated on his observations.

Before 6:30 a.m., SA drove to the target location and replaced TFO in maintaining surveillance so TFO could brief other VC/FTF personnel at the meeting site. By that time, Kansas City, Missouri Police Department Detectives and both VC/FTF TFOs, and FBI SA had arrived at the staging location. An additional TFO, Missouri State Highway Patrol Trooper was enroute but his arrival was delayed by weather-related road conditions.

TFO conducted a pre-arrest briefing with TFOs and and SA He circulated booking photographs of Terry Gordon from prior arrests, displayed a copy of an NCIC wanted person printout, described the target residence, indicated the possible presence of a female and child in the residence, and indicated vehicles in the driveway were registered to the female and Gordon. Collectively, the assembled personnel checked their equipment.

Out of concern that neighbors in the area might alert Gordon to the law enforcement presence, at about 7:20 a.m., SA radioed instructions to the assembled VC/FTF personnel to move to the residence to effect Gordon's arrest. SA drove from his surveillance location to the residence and activated his vehicle's emergency lights, then taking up a position to the rear of the single family, wood frame structure. As the other VC/FTF personnel arrived, TFOs initially went to the rear of the house and replaced SA who proceeded to the front. TFO took up a position on the front right of the house, while TFO and SA went to the front porch. TFO began knocking on the front door and announcing, "police." Shortly after the team's arrival at the residence, they were joined by TFO .

After knocking on the front door and announcing the police presence multiple times, TFO and others began loudly knocking on all doors and windows of the residence, announcing, "police" and calling for Gordon by name. With no response from inside the residence, TFO observed a female neighbor entering her vehicle two houses to the west of the target residence. He approached the neighbor who confirmed the likelihood of Gordon's presence at the residence, which TFO related to others on the arrest team.

SA heard movement within the house and SA heard noises coming from the front right. The Agents advised the others of their perceptions. Based upon information in his possession at the time, SA [redacted] assessed that the target location was likely to be [redacted] residence and decided to make forced entry. SA [redacted] returned to his vehicle, retrieved a battering ram and proceeded to the back door. Prior to utilizing the ram, TFO [redacted] checked the back door and was able to open it without force. TFO [redacted] yelled into the house before the law enforcement entry, instructing that it was the police and for Gordon to come out. With no response, TFO [redacted] announced that the police were coming in.

Within moments of the entire arrest team making entry, an adult female, later identified as [redacted] was observed near a bed in the rear of the house, attempting to conceal herself between a bed and nearby television set. As TFO [redacted] instructed [redacted] to stand up and show her hands, which were concealed, he observed a male child, later identified as her son, [redacted] with her. When [redacted] was fully visible, TFO [redacted] noticed she was holding her hand over the child's mouth. [redacted] said she didn't answer the door as she didn't know who they (the police) were. She then asked TFO [redacted] for a display of credentials or badges. TFO [redacted] pointed to his outer garment chest, revealing his KCKPD badge emblem and opened his jacket revealing further police markings on his vest. He then proceeded to display his badge.

When questioned about Gordon's presence in the residence [redacted] provided vague and deceptive responses. Upon further questioning and with a search of the first floor yielding no subject, the child [redacted] indicated Gordon was upstairs or "hiding upstairs." TFO [redacted] then inquired of [redacted] whether Gordon had a gun, and she indicated he did not. When asked again, [redacted] said Gordon sold his gun to make bond or pay for a lawyer. Prior to conducting a search of 2nd floor, SA [redacted] asked TFO [redacted] to handcuff [redacted] to eliminate her as a potential threat to the law enforcement personnel.

Prior to moving up the stairs, at least one of the TFOs heard movement from the second floor of the residence. The arrest team continued to call up the stairs in attempting to secure Gordon's surrender. SA [redacted] led the search of the second floor. He initially surveyed the upstairs from the lower level, noting closed doors directly in front of the top of the stairs and to the left of the stairs, with an open door to the right. He announced his observations to the other officers. Still receiving no response from their calls to Gordon, SA [redacted] climbed the stairs followed by TFOs [redacted] and [redacted] and SA [redacted]

At the top of the stairs, SA [redacted] immediately observed Terry Gordon sitting cross-legged on the floor, about 10 feet into the bedroom, holding a revolver pointed at his right temple. SA [redacted] moved to the right door jamb while instructing Gordon to drop his weapon. SA [redacted] was carrying his issued .45 caliber Springfield pistol, serial number CRG 2711, equipped with an issued TLR-2 laser sight and tactical light. SA [redacted] activated the laser and initially aimed the laser indicator on Gordon's chest but moved it to his chin after thinking a chest shot might not fully incapacitate Gordon. He also focused on Gordon's revolver and assessed that it was not a toy gun. SA [redacted] was joined at the top of the stairs by Trooper [redacted] who positioned himself behind the left door jamb, and TFO [redacted] who was to SA [redacted] lower left.

Gordon was again instructed by SA [redacted] to drop his gun and responded, "I am not going to prison for 25 years." Within seconds of this exchange, SA [redacted] noticed Gordon grimace and move his finger, which had been resting on the trigger guard, to the trigger. He dropped his elbow, which had been upraised, and tightened his grip on the gun, leading SA [redacted] to believe Gordon might be turning the gun toward the law enforcement personnel. Similarly, TFO [redacted] noticed the motion of Gordon's right arm and believed Gordon was about to shoot. TFO [redacted] assessed Gordon's manner as one of defiance, rather than resignation and anticipated Gordon was about to turn his weapon on the law enforcement personnel. SA [redacted] fired two rounds and heard Gordon's weapon fire as well. A fourth shot, by Trooper [redacted] from his .40 caliber Glock 22, serial number KTW401, was fired at approximately the same time.

TFO [redacted] recalled Gordon's weapon firing first and he saw a spray of blood exiting the left side of Gordon's head. He recalled the law enforcement volley was fired just after Gordon's round.

Gordon slumped backward with his hand still on the pistol which was now lying on his chest. The law enforcement personnel observed blood from both a head wound and one on Gordon's neck. SA [redacted] instructed the others to hold their positions while he continued to call for Gordon to drop the weapon. With no response, he then closed the distance to disarm and handcuff the subject. SA [redacted] took Gordon's revolver and laid it on floor away from Gordon and TFO [redacted] handcuffed him to eliminate any further threat. SA [redacted] then moved Gordon to a supine position to facilitate his labored breathing.

TFO [redacted] immediately radioed the Kansas City Police dispatch, at 7:53 a.m., and requested a response to the location by additional personnel. KCKPD dispatch records indicated a "shots fired" entry at 7:53 a.m. followed by an "officer involved shooting" entry one minute later. Fire unit EMS 10 was dispatched to the scene at 7:54 a.m., arriving about six minutes later. EMS 10 was enroute with Gordon to the University of Kansas Medical Center (UKMC) at 8:21 a.m. and arrived there at 8:26 a.m. A Fire Department Prehospital Care Report indicated Gordon was supine and unresponsive when EMS arrived. He had a pulse with his breathing described as "agonal."

An autopsy of Terry Gordon was conducted in Topeka, Kansas by [redacted] M.D. on 12/17/2008. Gordon's death was preliminarily determined to be a suicide. The cause of death was multiple gunshot wounds (GSWs). Gordon had a contact GSW, entering just forward and above his right ear and exiting above and slightly behind his left ear. A second round struck Gordon in the throat, traveled downward and rearward, passing across multiple vertebrae and through the upper and lower lobes of his lung before coming to rest after the jacket and core separated. A third GSW struck Gordon in the left base of his neck, passing through flesh from front to back. This round exited the residence and was not recovered.

The final autopsy report, dated February 13, 2009, found Gordon had: 1) a contact perforating gunshot of the right temple, 2) a penetrating gunshot of the neck and chest, 3) a perforating gunshot of the left base of the neck, 4) a presumptively positive urine drug screen, and 5) a left frontal subarachnoid cyst (regarded as a structural anomaly of the left frontal lobe of the brain). Autopsy results yielded a toxicological examination that was negative for alcohol and screened drugs.

Recovered at the scene was a .38 caliber Smith and Wesson model 36 five-shot revolver, serial number 1J07171. Forensic analysis by the Johnson County, Kansas Criminalistics Laboratory determined the spent round recovered from a roof stud behind the north wall of the second floor bedroom was fired by the .38 caliber revolver. Forensic analysis of the expended round recovered from Gordon's body determined the bullet jacket was fired by SA [redacted] .45 Springfield Armory pistol. The lead bullet core was determined to be unsuitable for comparison as it lacked identifiable characteristics. b6 b7C

INSPECTOR OBSERVATIONS:

Issue 1: There was little indicia of flight by subject Terry Gordon, and little indicia significant investigative skill or resources had to be expended in his apprehension, leading to the concern that the Kansas City VC/FTF was setting a low threshold for fugitive preliminary inquiry status.

The fugitive investigation involving Terry Gordon was limited and brief. Gordon had multiple prior contacts with local law enforcement in the Kansas City area, many of which involved or were linked to the address where this incident occurred, making it evident that this was Gordon's primary residence. In effect, Gordon was a fugitive in name only as he was essentially hiding in plain sight. In light of the relatively obvious nature of Gordon's location, the indicators of flight appeared to consist of standardized fugitive vernacular rather than true descriptors particular to this subject. Among the indicators were that the jurisdiction where Gordon was wanted was close to the border of another state. This statement was accurate but would also be true of every Kansas City, Kansas or Kansas City, Missouri wanted person. The relative ease by which the VC/FTF located Gordon raised questions about the potential waste of highly trained task force resources on cases where there were few indicators of suspected or actual flight. The Criminal Investigative Division has, in the past, made clear its intention not to have Violent Crimes or Fugitive Task Forces become "warrant squads." Kansas City should ensure that does not become the case.

Additionally and tied to the foregoing, with the very limited effort required to locate Terry Gordon, it was evident that little thought was given to obtaining for review his many prior law enforcement contacts. Had the VC/FTF engaged in such a review, it would have been apparent that he had prior law enforcement contacts involving the possession or use of a firearm. Armed with this knowledge, the VC/FTF investigators might have engaged in a different course of action to secure his arrest. At a minimum, armed with knowledge of Gordon's past possession or use of firearms, TFO [redacted] would likely have donned his ballistic vest prior to engaging his colleagues at the Gordon residence.

Recommendation 1: That the Kansas City Division ensure its VC/FTF is following documented protocols for adopting fugitive investigations to ensure theirs does not become a warrant squad.

Recommendation 1a: That the Kansas City VC/FTF ensure thorough fugitive investigation is conducted to ensure a robust knowledge and understanding of the subject's capabilities and propensity for a violent encounter.

Issue 2: Adherence to VC/FTF standard operating procedures.

Title: SHOOTING INQUIRY
REPORT OF SHOOTING INCIDENT
COLUMBIA DIVISION
11/28/2008

Character: ADMINISTRATIVE INQUIRY

Synopsis: [redacted] was shot by SA [redacted] on November 28, 2008 after being caught peeping into SA [redacted] residence window and, when confronted, making a physical contact with SA [redacted] gun shot injury was not life threatening.

DETAILS:

On November 28, 2008, at approximately 9:15 PM, SA [redacted] was at home with [redacted] After hearing her dog, which is locked up in a pen just outside of her house, barking continuously, she went outside and let the dog out of the pen. SA [redacted] then returned inside. Few moments later, SA [redacted] heard her dog barking and growling again, so she and [redacted] went back outside with a flash light.

Her dog thereafter led them to the bushes on the side of her house near a window. Both SA [redacted] and Ms [redacted] heard rustling noise in the bushes which appeared to indicate a large moving object. They immediately went back inside the house and SA [redacted] returned outside to the area with her Bureau issued SIG Sauer 228 9mm handgun. Ms. [redacted] also returned with her cellular phone. Using her flash light, SA [redacted] found a man in a dark clothing in the bushes. SA [redacted] gave several verbal commands to come out with his hands visible. However, he came out continuing to walk toward SA [redacted] At this point, SA [redacted] could not see the man's hands and he was just a few feet from her. SA [redacted] then reached to grab the man's hand but he pulled away, struggling with her. He then lifted his hand up toward SA [redacted] Fearing for her life and danger to her family, SA [redacted] fired one round, striking the man in his right buttocks. While this was going on, Ms. [redacted] alled 911 from her cellular phone. She was also able to observe the incident and hear the struggle.

After being shot, the man tried to walk away as SA [redacted] continued to command the man to get down on the ground. He kept walking around. Assisted by Ms. [redacted] SA [redacted] grabbed the man and forced him down on the ground. While Ms. [redacted] had control of the man on the ground, SA [redacted] retrieved her handcuffs and placed it on his wrists. At this point, SA [redacted] realized the man was her neighbor who lived a few houses down. The man was later identified as [redacted] DOB [redacted] tall, 165 lbs, residing at [redacted] Fountain Inn, SC 29644. b6 b7C

Greenville County Sheriff's Office responded to the scene and investigated the incident. CDC Tom O'Neill of the Columbia Division also arrived at the scene. A voluntary written statements were provided by SA [redacted] and Ms. [redacted] a neighbor who resides across the street, also provided a written statement regarding his encounter with a possible trespassing by the same individual that same evening.

Mr. [redacted] was arrested and taken to the local hospital where he was treated for his gun shot injury. He was subsequently charged with Peeping Tom, and Assault and Battery of a High and Aggravated Nature.

Subsequent investigation by the Greenville Sheriff's Office revealed Mr. [redacted] admitted to looking into SA [redacted] residence window that evening and having seen SA [redacted] riding her horses and in her car in the past. He also admitted knowing SA [redacted] as "the lady cop." In addition, struggle between SA [redacted] and Mr. [redacted] can be heard on the 911 audio recording.

On December 11, 2008, State of South Carolina Solicitor, Thirteenth Judicial Circuit, recommended no criminal charges against SA [redacted]

Title: SHOOTING INQUIRY
REPORT OF SHOOTING INCIDENT
CHARLOTTE DIVISION
12/03/2008

Character: ADMINISTRATIVE INQUIRY

Synopsis: This shooting incident was the result of an attempted arrest of Bank Robbery suspect [redacted]

DETAILS:

In November 2008, SA [redacted] hereafter referred to as SA [redacted], had been investigating [redacted] hereafter referred to as [redacted] a black male, date of birth [redacted] approximately 5'8" in height, weighing about 205-210 lbs, having a heavy muscular build. [redacted] was a convicted felon and was suspected in numerous armed bank robberies, in addition to several local armed robberies. According to SA [redacted] appeared much larger and more muscular in person than he had appeared in the latest North Carolina Department of Corrections photographs.

On November 7, 2008, a bank robbery occurred at the Wachovia Bank, 1501 South Cannon Boulevard, Kannapolis, North Carolina. During the robbery, the suspect displayed a silver handgun and forced all the occupants of the bank to the floor. The suspect was given a package of money, including a dye pack, by the victim teller. Based on the investigation by SA [redacted] and the Kannapolis Police Department (KPD), SA [redacted] developed [redacted] as a suspect in this bank robbery. Based on the evidence developed by SA [redacted] a State arrest warrant was obtained for [redacted] for the November 7, 2008 robbery. b6 b7C

SA [redacted] also learned soon after the warrant was issued that [redacted] a girlfriend of [redacted] had bailed [redacted] out of jail on a prior robbery warrant that had already been executed by the Stallings, North Carolina, Police Department. [redacted] had been arrested for an armed robbery of a payroll check cashing business where the victim was duct taped.

On November 21, 2008, the Charlotte-Mecklenburg Police Department (CMPD), utilizing the CMPD Violent Criminal Apprehension Team (VCAT), arrested [redacted] at [redacted] Drive, Apartment [redacted], which is located in the McAlpine Ridge Apartment complex in Charlotte. After [redacted] was apprehended, it was determined that [redacted] lived at the apartment with [redacted] Investigators also learned that [redacted] and [redacted] had a daughter together. [redacted] provided consent for a search and KPD officers and SA [redacted] determined that [redacted] had been living at the apartment. The searching officers found a bag that contained dye stained currency (believed to be proceeds of the bank robbery), a 9mm Taurus handgun, and a .45 caliber Smith and Wesson handgun with red dye located on the weapon (believed to be the weapon used in the bank robbery). Investigators also located numerous rounds of extra ammunition for the handguns. b6 b7C

Following [redacted] arrest, he was transported directly to Kannapolis, North Carolina, where he provided a statement to SA [redacted] admitted that he had committed the November 7, 2008, Wachovia Bank robbery and that he had brought a loaded .45 caliber handgun into the bank. [redacted] stated that he always carries his weapon loaded so that people will take him seriously.

[redacted] was also questioned by SA [redacted] after the November 21, 2008, arrest. During her questioning, she admitted that she assisted [redacted] in staging a Ford Escort in anticipation of the November 7, 2008, bank robbery. [redacted] had general knowledge that [redacted] planned to rob the bank. During this questioning, [redacted] told SA [redacted] that [redacted] "always has a gun." [redacted] also indicated that [redacted] slept with a gun on the night stand and carried the weapon outside the apartment even though he was a convicted felon. b6 b7C

Following the interview on November 21, 2008, SA [redacted] and Detective [redacted] of the Concord Police Department conducted a logical analysis of available information to determine if [redacted] had committed other robberies. SA [redacted] and [redacted] realized that [redacted] had a tattoo on his neck. That tattoo was consistent with another series of armed bank robberies in the Charlotte, North Carolina, area. In total, SA [redacted] and Detective [redacted] believed that [redacted] committed seven armed bank robberies.

SA [redacted] went back to the jail where [redacted] was being held in an attempt to question [redacted] regarding the other bank robberies [redacted] invoked his right to counsel at some point during the interview. SA [redacted] advised [redacted] that the FBI intended to indict [redacted] for the other bank robberies in the near future.

On December 2, 2008, SA [redacted] traveled to the United States Attorney's Office (USAO) for the Middle District of North Carolina to meet with Assistant United States Attorney (AUSA) [redacted] The AUSA agreed to federally indict [redacted] at the next meeting of the Grand Jury in December for the bank robberies. At the time, SA [redacted] did not expect [redacted] would be able to make the $110,000 bond on the state charges. b6 b7C

On December 3, 2008, Detective [redacted] contacted SA [redacted] and advised SA [redacted] that [redacted] had made bond and had been released from jail in Cabarrus County. SA [redacted] immediately contacted AUSA [redacted] and requested authority to arrest [redacted] based on probable cause for the federal bank robberies. AUSA [redacted] concurred and authorized SA [redacted] to arrest [redacted] for federal bank robbery charges. AUSA [redacted] confirmed this via email at 12:53 PM.

On December 3, 2008, at about the same time AUSA [redacted] had authorized a probable cause arrest, SA [redacted] learned that Detective [redacted] had obtained a new State arrest warrant, authorizing the arrest of [redacted] on bank robbery charges in violation of North Carolina law. b6 b7C

At approximately 1:30 PM, on December 3, 2008, SA [redacted] contacted [redacted] via cell phone [redacted] at Wackenhut Security, [redacted] employer, to inquire as to what time she would get off from work. [redacted] advised SA [redacted] that [redacted] got off work at 3:00 PM. This contact is also corroborated via email.

At the same time, SA [redacted] contacted Supervisory Special Agent [redacted] to advise his supervisor of the situation and determine whether it would be feasible to surveil [redacted] in an attempt to locate [redacted]

At approximately 1:30-1:45 PM, SA [redacted] traveled to the McAlpine Ridge Apartments. SA [redacted] expected to meet Detective [redacted] at the apartment complex. SA [redacted] drove to an area in close proximity to [redacted], the apartment building where [redacted] and [redacted] had resided. SA [redacted] scanned the parking lot for the vehicle that he knew [redacted] to drive, which was a gold Chevrolet Tahoe. SA [redacted] did not see [redacted] vehicle in the parking lot in front of the apartment building. SA [redacted] then backed his Bureau vehicle into a parking space near the front entrance of the apartment building and waited for Detective [redacted]

While watching the front of the building, SA [redacted] witnessed [redacted] exiting the breeze way of the building where he had lived and been arrested on November 21, 2008. SA [redacted] immediately called Detective [redacted] by phone to advise Detective [redacted] that [redacted] was at the apartment complex. SA [redacted] also needed to determine [redacted]'s proximity to the apartment complex. Detective [redacted] was near the intersection of interstate 485 and Independence Blvd., which was approximately 15 minutes from the McAlpine Apartment complex. After communicating with Detective [redacted] via cell phone, [redacted] lost sight of [redacted] had been making his way on foot towards another set of apartments located directly behind where SA [redacted] was parked. SA [redacted] felt that [redacted] was overdressed for the weather conditions at the time, having on a heavy black p-coat and a black knit hat, along with blue jeans and boots. SA [redacted] was concerned that [redacted] was armed and was possibly in the process of committing another armed robbery. SA [redacted] also felt that [redacted] saw him at that time. SA [redacted] then drove his Bureau vehicle towards the only entrance/exit to the apartment complex in an attempt to stop [redacted] from exiting.

While driving toward the front of the complex, SA [redacted] located [redacted] driving the Chevrolet Tahoe that SA [redacted] knew belonged to [redacted] At first, SA [redacted] thought that the SUV might not be [redacted]'s because he saw a handicap placard hanging from the rear view mirror. As the vehicle got closer to SA [redacted]'s Bureau vehicle [redacted] was traveling in a direction consistent with exiting the apartment complex), SA [redacted] recognized [redacted] as the driver of the vehicle and started driving towards [redacted]'s vehicle. SA [redacted] drove his Bureau vehicle toward [redacted]'s vehicle, in a head-on position, in an attempt to stop [redacted] from fleeing.

[redacted] initially stopped his vehicle. SA [redacted] exited his vehicle and gave commands for [redacted] to stop and to turn his ignition off. [redacted] was aware of SA [redacted] identity from a previous lengthy interview. In addition, SA [redacted] had his FBI badge/shield affixed to his belt. [redacted] froze, then reached down with his right hand as though he was reaching for a weapon. SA [redacted] then drew his weapon and stepped out from behind his car door, ordering [redacted] to turn off the ignition of his vehicle two separate times. SA [redacted] was positioned between [redacted] vehicle and his vehicle at this time. [redacted] reached his right hand up and placed the car in gear. [redacted] initially went backwards for a short distance and then revved his engine and drove his vehicle straight towards SA [redacted] SA [redacted] heard the tires squeal as he fled on foot towards his left, successfully evading being hit by [redacted] vehicle. SA [redacted] positioned himself behind the tail end of a parked vehicle and observed [redacted] vehicle traveling back into the apartment complex at a high rate of speed.

After [redacted] fled in his vehicle, SA [redacted] re-entered his Bureau vehicle and drove directly to the only entrance/exit for the apartment complex. The route that SA [redacted] took to the only entrance/exit was the most direct route and SA [redacted] was fairly certain that he would arrive in time to block the exit. At approximately 2:20 PM, SA [redacted] called 911 and provided the operator with information regarding the situation and also [redacted] description and current location. SA [redacted] became aware that there was a possibility that [redacted] fled on foot. SA [redacted] drove through the exit of the complex and traveled on Krefeld Drive towards the intersection of Krefeld and E. Independence Boulevard.

As SA [redacted] reached the intersection of Krefeld and E. Independence Boulevard, he saw [redacted] on foot at the base of the embankment, about ten feet from the shoulder of E. Independence Boulevard. SA [redacted] felt he was going to cross E. Independence Boulevard, so he positioned himself where he could drive across E. Independence Boulevard to keep [redacted] in sight until backup arrived. At that time, [redacted] saw SA [redacted] and stopped. SA [redacted] then drove westbound on E. Independence Boulevard (opposite the normal flow of traffic) on the shoulder and turn lane to Krefeld Drive, the entire time keeping an eye on [redacted] As he was driving toward [redacted] he could see [redacted] digging with both hands for something in the outside pockets of his coat. [redacted] was standing so that his right side was pointing toward SA [redacted] SA [redacted] observed something in [redacted] right hand that was slightly lighter in color than the coat. At that time, SA [redacted] believed that the object in his right hand was quite possibly a firearm. As SA [redacted] continued to drive toward [redacted] turned and began climbing back up the embankment toward the apartment complex. [redacted] left side was pointed toward SA [redacted] at this time. SA [redacted] stopped his vehicle short of [redacted] and was positioned where [redacted] was in approximately the ten o'clock position from his location and direction. SA [redacted] then drew his weapon and pointed it at [redacted] At this time SA [redacted] was either sitting in the front drivers' seat of his bureau vehicle, pointing the weapon through the open window, or he had opened the car door and partially exited the vehicle, but SA

[redacted] cannot remember his exact position. SA [redacted] shouted [redacted] stop," at which time [redacted] stopped and quickly turned his upper torso toward SA [redacted] in an aggressive manner. At that time, based on all the information SA [redacted] had received on [redacted] carrying a loaded firearm, his proclivity for violence, his criminal history, and having seen something previously in his right hand which he now believed to have been a firearm based on his aggressive, non-compliant behavior, SA [redacted] felt [redacted] was turning to shoot him. SA [redacted] then fired his bureau issued Glock .40 caliber handgun at [redacted] twice. SA [redacted] then looked over his weapon and saw [redacted] running over the crest of the hill.

SA [redacted] continued his call with the 911 operator and advised her that he had just fired shots at [redacted] SA [redacted] then drove to the entrance of the apartment complex, but was unable to gain entry due to same being a gated community. SA [redacted] conducted a vehicle search of a black Chrysler 300 exiting the apartment complex to make sure that [redacted] had not secreted himself in the vehicle in an effort to escape. The search produced negative results. In subsequent interviews, the driver and passenger of this vehicle advised an individual fitting the description of [redacted] told them the Feds were after him and asked them for a ride.

While still in close proximity to the entrance of the apartment complex, a black female, accompanied by a uniformed CMPD police officer, approached SA [redacted]. This black female informed SA [redacted] she had found an undetermined amount of dye stained paper currency in a plastic bag on the ground in front of the apartment building where [redacted] had been seen. SA [redacted] took custody of the currency from the witness, placed the currency in his vehicle and permitted the witness to be interviewed by CMPD police officers.

Responding CMPD units established a perimeter around the McAlpine Ridge Apartments. CMPD Detectives established visual contact on [redacted] apartment. A CMPD canine unit searched the area [redacted] was last seen with negative results. A neighborhood canvas was also conducted of apartments along [redacted] probable path following the shooting. This canvas yielded negative results.

Agents made contact with [redacted] to determine [redacted] residency at her apartment, along with obtaining a consent to search her apartment. [redacted] was escorted to the McAlpine Ridge Apartments where she eventually gave consent to search her apartment and she confirmed that [redacted] had stayed at her apartment the previous evening and was at her apartment when she left for work that morning.

Based on [redacted] consent, the CMPD SWAT Team made entry and cleared Malachi's apartment with negative results for [redacted] The Charlotte Division Evidence Response Team (ERT) conducted a search in the general area where [redacted] was last seen, along with the area where SA [redacted] discharged his weapon. Two .40 caliber shell casing were recovered in the area SA [redacted] was positioned when he fired his weapon. ERT recovered an oil filter wrench from the woods in the general area of [redacted] position during his confrontation with SA [redacted] ERT then conducted a search of [redacted] apartment and recovered clothing similar in description to the clothing SA [redacted] reported [redacted] was wearing during his confrontation with SA [redacted] that day. ERT also recovered [redacted] cell phone from the apartment. A visual inspection of [redacted] clothing by ERT members found no indication of the presence of blood or damage consistent with the impact of a bullet. Additionally, an inventory search was conducted of [redacted] Tahoe which yielded negative results.

At 11:30 PM, CMPD 911 dispatch received a call that [redacted] had been hiding in another apartment in the [redacted] Ridge Apartments and had just fled on foot. Additional searches were conducted which met with negative results. Investigation determined that [redacted] had entered this apartment on a ruse and had held the occupants of the apartment against their will until law enforcement had left the area.

On 1/26/2009, at approximately 11:15pm, the Cheraw, South Carolina (SC) Police Department responded to reports of a shooting at [redacted], Cheraw, SC. The resident of that address, [redacted] advised that [redacted] who is the former boyfriend of her daughter, [redacted], forced his way into their home looking for [redacted] had a pistol and confronted [redacted] and [redacted] in [redacted] bedroom. [redacted] asked [redacted] if he was sleeping with his girlfriend. [redacted] struck [redacted] and then shot [redacted] in the neck. [redacted] made [redacted] lay on the floor and duct taped her hands together. [redacted] made [redacted] leave with him and got the keys to a 1999 burgundy Dodge van. They drove away from the residence in that van.

Subsequent investigation located the Dodge van nearby and a witness advised that they saw an individual fitting [redacted] description in a white Ford Focus with SC tag [redacted] That license plate is registered to a 2008 Ford Focus owned by PV

Holding Corporation, 141 Industrial Park Road, Suite 11, Greer, SC and was entered into NCIC. A witness advised that [redacted] stated he was a bondsman looking for a fugitive and had parked that vehicle at a nearby vacant house and watched [redacted] residence since the afternoon of 1/26/2009.

Cheraw PD provided South Carolina Law Enforcement Division (SLED) Fugitive Task Force with possible cell phone numbers that [redacted] was using, [redacted] and [redacted] cell phone [redacted] to track them. During the morning of 1/27/2009, SLED advised that they were hitting a cell tower in the Charlotte, NC, area. Investigation determined that [redacted] was talking to her family members and advising them [redacted] wanted to see their three year old daughter. At approximately 11:30 AM, [redacted] released [redacted] at a Walmart parking lot in Union County, NC. [redacted] advised that [redacted] was still driving the stolen car and was in possession of a firearm. She also advised that [redacted] was continuing to commit robberies to support himself. This kidnapping is being investigated by the Columbia Division, 7A-CO-31728.

On this same date, [redacted] was arrested without incident by the Atlanta Police Department. A subsequent search of the stolen vehicle he was driving yielded a loaded 9 mm handgun. [redacted] was interviewed by FBI Atlanta and gave a full confession to multiple armed bank robberies and the kidnapping. An attempt was made to re-interview [redacted] regarding the confrontation with SA [redacted], through his attorney, [redacted] refused this interview.

[redacted] has been positively identified by witnesses as having committed a series of GNC store robberies in North Carolina. In the GNC robbery in Lexington, NC, the 18 year old female clerk was raped with a handgun. Investigation continues regarding additional robberies linked to [redacted]

Details of the Shooting Incident

On 11/14/2008, at approximately 9:00 a.m., members of the Violent Crimes Task Force executed an arrest warrant at a residence in Chicago where a murder suspect was located.

Team Leader [redacted] knocked on the door of the residence and announced the presence of law enforcement personnel. While awaiting a response, law enforcement officers observed an individual inside the residence running toward the stairs. Entry was gained to the house and SA [redacted] and SA [redacted] walked up the stairs located approximately four feet inside the front door. SA [redacted] ordered the subject to stop and control his dog. A pit bull dog, with teeth bared, charged down the stairs toward the Agents. SA [redacted] fired one round injuring and slowing the dog's advance. The dog continued toward the Agents in an aggressive manner and SA [redacted] fired a second round striking the dog in the head. The fatally wounded dog fell to the bottom of the stairs. The subject was located and taken into custody without further incident.

Chicago Animal Control was notified and removed the dog from the residence.

On 01/30/2009, the SIRG met to discuss the above-captioned shooting incident. Deputy Assistant Director Michael S. Clemens, Inspection Division (INSD), chaired the meeting and was a non-voting member. The following voting members were in attendance: [redacted], Special Legal Counsel, Civil Rights Division, USDOJ; [redacted], Attorney, Criminal Division, USDOJ; Chief Inspector Patrick James Maley, Office of Inspections (OI), INSD; Section Chief (SC) Jill Marie Eulitz, CD-1, Eurasian Section, Counterintelligence Division; A/SC [redacted], Violent Crimes Section, Criminal Investigative Division; Unit Chief (UC) [redacted], Firearms Training Unit, Training Division (TD); UC [redacted], Defensive Systems Unit, TD; UC [redacted], Practical Applications Unit, TD; UC [redacted], Special Weapons and Tactics Operations Unit, Critical Incident Response Group; SSA [redacted], Investigative Law Unit, Office of General Counsel; SSA [redacted], Evidence Response Team Unit, Laboratory Division; and SSA [redacted], CR-2, Washington Field Office. ## Details of the Shooting Incident

On 11/29/2008, ALAT [redacted], his eight year old son, and Office Assistant [redacted] were hiking in a remote location of the Andean Mountains in Colombia approximately twenty miles from the city of Bogota.

ALAT [redacted] and his party left their vehicle on the one dirt road within the park at approximately 11:00 a.m., and hiked until they reached a mountain peak with an altitude of approximately 12,500 feet.

The hikers began their return trip to the car about 3:00 p.m. ALAT [redacted] son became sick slowing the group's return and darkness set in around 5:30 p.m. The group continued hiking toward the vehicle when clouds moved in and lowered visibility to less than ten feet, completely blocking the outline of the mountains they were using as reference points to guide them safely to the vehicle.

ALAT [redacted] believed he was approximately one mile from the vehicle, but coupled with no visibility due to clouds, no trail to follow, rocks, water obstacles, cliffs, and darkness, decided it was too dangerous to continue walking and risking injury or worsening the situation. The first thought was to spend the night in the forest and wait for daylight to continue to the vehicle. Within a short time, the initial onset of hypothermia was apparent and ALAT [redacted] decided the best course of action was to call for help.

Because of the extremely remote location, no cell phone coverage was available, no people were in the area, and no flashlight was available. Due to the wet conditions, the ground cover was soaked and a fire could not be started. Using a SAT phone, ALAT [redacted] called Marine Post One at the United States Embassy in Bogota and advised of his emergency. He also contacted the United States Military 24/7 watch-standers who in turn contacted the Director for the Personnel Recovery Center. A request was made for the hiking party's location; however, ALAT [redacted] left his hand-held GPS device in the vehicle and could not provide any information. When advised that search personnel could not locate them because of the remoteness, ALAT [redacted] stated he would activate the emergency beacon he had with him that was registered to the personnel recovery center. ALAT [redacted] was unable to locate the emergency beacon within his back pack. He was advised the search parties were in the area but could not locate them. In order to facilitate rescue, ALAT [redacted] fired several rounds at a time so the search teams could triangulate the sound and locate the group.

The search party arrived and took all hikers to a vehicle where a rescue medic was present. The medic evaluated members of the group and determined no hospitalization was needed.

attendance: [redacted] Special Legal Counsel, Civil Rights Division, USDOJ; [redacted] Attorney, Criminal Division, USDOJ; Section Chief (SC) Robert Anderson, Jr., CD-4, Counterespionage Section, Counterintelligence Division; SC David J. Johnson, Violent Crimes Section, Criminal Investigative Division; Unit Chief (UC) [redacted] Firearms Training Unit, Training Division (TD); UC [redacted] Practical Applications Unit, TD; UC [redacted] Defensive Systems Unit, TD; SSA [redacted] Evidence Response Team Unit, Laboratory Division; SSA [redacted] Special Weapons and Tactics Operations Unit, Critical Incident Response Group; SSA [redacted] Investigative Law Unit, Office of General Counsel; and SSA [redacted] CR-17, Washington Field Office. UC [redacted] Inspection Management Unit (IMU), OI, INSD, and Management Program Analyst [redacted] IMU, OI, INSD, non-voting members, were also in attendance.

The SIRG reviewed the above synopsized incident with the intent to: (1) evaluate the application of deadly force; (2) provide the Director with an evaluative analysis, observations, and recommendations for corrective actions from an operational standpoint (if any); (3) provide recommendations concerning training and/or safety issues; and (4) provide recommendations for administrative action if deemed necessary.

SIRG members unanimously agreed that ALAT [redacted] took appropriate steps to ensure the safety of himself and others in the group. This discussion resulted in the recommendation that no administrative action be taken against ALAT [redacted] as a result of his involvement in this incident.

03/10/2008 AND 12/16/2008

Synopsis: The Shooting Incident Review Group (SIRG) reviewed two shooting incidents that occurred on 03/10/2008 and 12/16/2008, involving Special Agent (SA) [redacted] During the execution of federal search warrants on 03/10/2008, SA [redacted] fired two rounds from his personally owned Glock Model 21, .45 caliber pistol killing a pit bull that had retreated to a position under a table in a second floor bedroom. On 12/16/2008, during the execution of a federal arrest warrant, SA [redacted] fired seven rounds from his Glock Model 21, killing a pit bull dog inside the residence from which the fugitive was extracted. SIRG members recommended no administrative action be taken against SA [redacted] as a result of his involvement in these shooting incidents.

Details of the 03/10/2008 Shooting Incident

On 03/10/2008, Agents from the Safe Streets Gang Task Force executed federal search warrants at two locations in the District of Columbia. The warrants sought evidence in connection with a College Park, Maryland, homicide investigation.

Prior to the execution of the search warrants, SA [redacted] briefed the operations order on the searches. Although not listed in the operations order, SA [redacted] was present for the verbal briefing provided by SA [redacted] prior to the execution of the warrants.

SA [redacted] knocked on the front door and announced "FBI." After approximately one to two minutes and after receiving no response, the front entrance was mechanically breached using a ram. Prior to entry into the residence, Agents heard a dog barking inside the residence. SA [redacted] was the first to enter the residence and provided tactical security for the first floor. SA [redacted] was the second search team member to enter and tactically cleared an adjacent room. The dog continued to bark from an upstairs location and SA [redacted] observed an unrestrained dog at the top of the stairs.

The entry/search team proceeded up the stairs and SA [redacted] observed the dog retreat out of sight. SA [redacted] advised team members he would handle the dog to allow other personnel to safely clear the upstairs rooms.

SA [redacted] approached the room he saw the dog enter. As he entered, he noticed the dog backed into a corner. According to SA [redacted] the dog began to bark and growl at him in such a manner that he feared for his safety. SA [redacted] fired two rounds and saw one round impact above the dog's shoulder but did not see the other round impact. SA [redacted] believed the dog died immediately and he continued to clear the residence.

Upon completion of the search, the scene was turned over to SSA [redacted] for completion of the shooting investigation. ASAC Stephen E. Vogt arrived at the residence after the search was concluded. As a result of the incident, ASAC Vogt advised SSA [redacted] to instruct Agents on his squad to implement better plans to deal with dogs by using fire extinguishers or some other means other than lethal force. He also told SSA [redacted] to move SA [redacted] to the perimeter during entries. SSA [redacted] advised SA [redacted] not to be involved in any more dog shootings and, on at least two additional occasions after this incident, instructed SA [redacted] to move back in the line on the entry team.

Following this incident, WFO Criminal Division policy was promulgated requiring all pre-arrest briefings to include specific instructions for the safe and non-lethal handling of dogs at locations where the presence of dogs was suspected. Subsequent to the March 2008 incident, SA [redacted] was personally advised by SSA [redacted] that shooting a dog was a measure of last resort. Additionally, in several discussions at squad meetings, SSA [redacted] directed squad members regarding the need to develop appropriate contingency plans for dogs and that the use of deadly force, even against dogs, had to be within the parameters of the FBI's Deadly Force Policy.

WFO Criminal Division policy required a written Operations Plan (OP) for all field operations to include arrests, searches, surveillance, and all other coordinated tactical squad operations. The written plan was required to be specific in nature detailing suspect information, personnel assignments, and security concerns associated with the arrest. The plans were to be approved by the SSA and ASAC and a copy left on file with WFO Command Tactical Operations Center.

Details of the 12/16/2008 Shooting Incident

On 11/21/2008, SA [redacted] obtained a federal arrest warrant for [redacted] an associate of a street level drug distribution organization operating in the southeast D.C. area. SA [redacted] drafted and approved an OP for [redacted] arrest and forwarded it to ASAC Vogt for review and approval. The date of the planned operation was on or about 11/24/2008, and the OP was approved by ASAC Vogt.

On 12/16/2008, when a federal indictment was returned on [redacted], SAs [redacted] and [redacted] advised SSA [redacted] the squad would attempt to arrest the subject using the 11/24/2008 OP. SSA [redacted] verbally approved the arrest.

At approximately 10:30 a.m., on 12/16/2008, SAs [redacted] and [redacted] conducted a pre-arrest briefing; however, they did not utilize the previously approved OP in the briefing nor was any other written OP generated. A picture of the subject was shown to members present for the briefing, personnel were made aware of [redacted] criminal history, and SA [redacted] verbally briefed that dogs would likely be present at the residences associated with [redacted] No plan was discussed regarding how to deal with dogs should they pose a danger to arrest team members. [redacted] was not located at the first location; therefore, arrest team personnel proceeded to a second location frequented by him.

Members of the arrest team approached the front and rear of the residence and SA [redacted] knocked on the front door and announced police. When [redacted] opened the door, SA [redacted] pulled him from the doorway threshold and passed him to SA [redacted] who restrained him. Seconds later, SA [redacted] fired his Glock Model 21, .45 caliber handgun several times (later determined to be seven rounds).

According to SA [redacted] as he pulled the subject out of the front door, he observed a pit bull inside the residence crouched, growling, and showing its teeth. He also saw a stairway leading to the second floor of the residence. Concerned an attack from the dog was imminent and seeing the area behind the dog was clear of individuals, SA [redacted] fired his weapon. The dog began retreating up the stairs; however, SA [redacted] feared a wounded dog roaming through the house would be dangerous so he continued to shoot the dog as it retreated up the stairs. The dog succumbed to its injuries and collapsed at the base of the stairs. At that time, SA [redacted] observed a female occupant standing on the far side of the room with a small child, away from his direct line of fire. SA [redacted] proceeded to the second floor of the residence where he discovered a second child in a bedroom.

Subsequent to the 12/16/2008 dog shooting incident by SA [redacted], the Washington Field Office (WFO) requested that the Inspection Division conduct an administrative inquiry into the circumstances surrounding this shooting, as well as a series of dog shootings which occurred during the execution of arrest and search warrants. All of the incidents involved SA [redacted] C. [redacted] who was assigned to Squad CR-6.

On 09/09/2009, the SIRG met to discuss the above-captioned shooting incidents. Deputy Assistant Director Michael S. Clemens, Inspection Division (INSD), chaired the meeting and was a non-voting member. The following voting members were in attendance: [redacted], Special Legal Counsel, Civil Rights Division, USDOJ; [redacted], Attorney, Criminal Division, USDOJ; Chief Inspector Mary E. Observations and Recommendations of the SIRG

The SIRG reviewed the above synopsized incidents with the intent to: (1) evaluate the application of deadly force; (2) provide the Director with an evaluative analysis, observations, and recommendations for corrective actions from an operational standpoint (if any); (3) provide recommendations concerning training and/or safety issues; and (4) provide recommendations for administrative action if deemed necessary.

The administrative inquiry, led by Inspector Ronald T. Hosko, determined SA [redacted] shot and killed six dogs since 2001, with two additional dogs potentially being shot had a supervisor not intervened. Three of the shooting incidents were previously discussed by the SIRG and determined to be justified.

Inspector [redacted] presented the results of his administrative inquiry to SIRG members. Discussions with the Training Division's Practical Applications Unit and Firearms Training Unit, as well as the Special Weapons and Tactics (SWAT) Operations Unit, Critical Incident Response Group, determined no current policy exists regarding the handling of dangerous animals or when deadly force should be used against dogs, outside the Deadly Force Policy. However, techniques have evolved which are taught at Quantico to include the use of ballistic shields and these training doctrines are applied in field offices via 194 tactical instructors.

After a lengthy discussion regarding the shooting incidents, SIRG members unanimously agreed that the use of deadly force in the 03/10/2008, incident was justified and in conformance with the deadly force policy. It was also determined the use of deadly force in the 12/16/2008 incident was justified, by a majority of the vote.

It was noted that SA [redacted] fired his weapon seven times into a residence occupied by a female and several minor children to neutralize the perceived threat to his arrest team. Two metal bullet fragments were located in the vicinity of the couch where the female and two of her children were located. SA [redacted] exercised questionable judgement in planning this arrest knowing, before his arrival at the target location, a probability existed both children and dogs would be present. b6 b7C

Discussion revolved around the fact that a deadly force threat must exist before the trigger is pulled. According to the Practical Applications Unit representative, New Agent Trainees are trained to arrest and control suspects with hands and voice. It was also noted that [redacted] put others at risk by removing the suspect from the doorway and focusing his attention on the dog. One member opined [redacted] had the option of neutralizing the threat posed by the dog by closing the door after he obtained control of the subject. Members agreed with the concept of "gathering good intelligence and good planning results in sound decisions."

It is entirely foreseeable that anyone entering an inner city residence occupied by a pit bull would encounter an animal that barks or growls in an agitated manner, postures itself in a threatening way, or even attacks. SIRG members emphasized that an animal should be neutralized if it is a threat to individuals on the scene; however, shooting a dog because it is believed to be an impediment to the execution of an arrest or search warrant is not an acceptable practice.

Since no written policy currently exists, either in the FBI or the WFO, directly addressing the use of force when confronting dogs during the execution of an arrest or search warrant, SIRG members adopted the following recommendations of the Shooting Incident Review Team:

RECOMMENDATION: That the Training Division develop and promulgate, in conjunction with the CIRG and OGC, a policy addressing the use of deadly force with respect to animals.

Re: 297-HQ-A1271895-D, 11/12/2008

On 01/02/2008, the Philadelphia Division received information that an Internet Crimes Against Children Task Force determined a computer registered to an address in Perkasie, Pennsylvania, was engaged in criminal activity relating to child pornography. Investigation determined Darius Theodore Hill resided at the address and was believed to be the individual communicating with an undercover officer.

SA [redacted], who was assigned the lead, obtained a search warrant to seize computers located inside the suspect's residence. He also determined Hill had a felony criminal record for selling stolen military weapons and also had a complaint filed with a local police department for improper sexual contact with a minor. b6 b7C

On 01/25/2008, a federal search warrant was authorized and SA [redacted] contacted the Fort Washington Resident Agency (FWRA) for assistance on serving the warrant on 01/28/2008.

At 3:00 p.m., on 01/28/2008, the search team assembled at the Hilltown Township Police Department (HTPD) for a briefing. Participants included SA [redacted], four additional FBI Agents, and one Lieutenant from the HTPD. SA [redacted] led a briefing which included providing copies of the warrant and affidavit, a description and photograph of Hill, his criminal history, search/entry team roles and assignments, notification of potential children in the residence, a description of items to be seized, and a contingency plan on breaching the residence, if needed. During the briefing, SA [redacted] provided no written operations plan for the search warrant nor did he provide a specific briefing on the FBI's Deadly Force Policy. SA [redacted], who arrived late due to a court appearance, received a briefing from SA [redacted] prior to the execution of the search warrant.

The plan was to execute the search warrant while Hill was at his residence. Law enforcement personnel conducted drive-by surveillances approximately every thirty minutes during the afternoon in an effort to determine if Hill was home. At 6:00 p.m., information was received that Hill's computer was online, indicating he was inside his residence. b6 b7C

The team reconvened at the HTPD where SA [redacted] briefed three additional uniformed officers who were assisting with the search warrant. The team, consisting of two FBI vehicles and three marked HTPD cruisers, proceeded to the subject's residence. At 6:30 p.m., the team arrived at the subject's residence with four Agents and two HTPD officers approaching the front door, one SA and two HTPD officers approaching the side door, and one SA on the northwest corner of the house. As the team approached the front door, they saw Hill through a window and he motioned the team to go to the side door.

As the team at the side door made contact with Hill's wife and entered the residence, they observed two children in the kitchen area with her. [redacted] was advised the FBI had a search warrant for the residence and when asked where Darius was, she indicated she thought he was in the front of the residence.

As the team proceeded to the front of the house, Hill was heard upstairs. An HTPD officer located at the base of the stairs yelled to Hill telling him the police/FBI were serving a search warrant and ordered him to come downstairs. SA [redacted] and the HTPD officer ascended the stairs due to Hill not responding to the command to come downstairs. As they arrived on the upstairs landing, they cleared one bedroom, looked down the hallway to their right and observed Hill standing in the master bedroom doorway with a pistol pointed under his chin. Hill was threatening to shoot himself and as SA [redacted] began to negotiate with him to put the gun down, the HTPD officer returned downstairs to remove Hill's wife and children from the residence.

As SA [redacted] continued negotiations with the subject, SA [redacted] came up the stairs to provide backup. Hill stated, "I've been through this before. I'm not going back to jail. I might as well just end it now." Throughout SA [redacted] fifteen to twenty minute negotiation with Hill, he continued to put his weapon inside his mouth and point it under his chin. SA [redacted] continued to give commands to Hill to drop his weapon. After several moments of conversation between [redacted] and Hill, he said, "I'm going to blow my brains out by this window because I don't want to make a mess." SA [redacted] explained to Hill they were only there to seize his computers and not arrest him. Hill became very quiet and began to back toward the bedroom window facing the Agents in what SA [redacted] believed to be a combat stance. Although Hill was making suicidal comments and pointing his weapon to his head, SA [redacted] believed Hill was preparing for a gun battle with SA [redacted] and himself. At that point, Hill lowered the weapon from his chin toward SAs [redacted] and [redacted] causing both Agents to fear for their lives. SA [redacted] fired the first round striking Hill in the chest. Hill was able to place his weapon in his mouth and fire one round. Believing Hill was returning fire, SA [redacted] fired one additional round and SA [redacted] fired five rounds.

SAs [redacted] and [redacted] approached the subject, kicked his weapon away, and began to render first aid. SA [redacted] called for a medic who arrived a short time later and pronounced Hill dead.

It was determined that in addition to the round fired by Hill, both rounds fired by SA [redacted] struck the subject as well as three of the five rounds fired by SA [redacted]

On 02/15/2008, the Bucks County Attorney's Office declined local prosecution. On 08/07/2008, a declination of prosecution was received from the United States Department of Justice, Civil Rights Division, regarding the actions of SAs [redacted] and [redacted] in this shooting incident.

On 08/19/2008, the SIRG met to discuss the above-captioned shooting incident. Deputy Assistant Director Michael S. Clemens, Inspection Division (INSD), chaired the meeting and was a non-voting member. The following voting members were in attendance: [redacted] Trial Attorney, Civil Rights Division, USDOJ; [redacted] Trial Attorney, Gang Squad, USDOJ; Section Chief (SC) Robert Anderson, Jr., CD-4, Counterespionage Section, Counterintelligence Division; SC Thomas A. Nunemaker, Violent Crimes Section, Criminal Investigative Division (CID); Unit Chief (UC) [redacted], Firearms Training Unit, Training Division (TD); UC [redacted], Defensive Systems Unit, TD; Acting UC [redacted] Practical Applications Unit, TD; Acting UC [redacted] Special Weapons and Tactics Operations Unit, Critical Incident Response Group; SSA [redacted], Investigative Law Unit, Office of General Counsel; and SSA [redacted], CR-2, Washington Field Office. Management Program Analyst [redacted] Inspection Management Unit, OI, INSD, a non-voting member, was also in attendance.

Observations and Recommendations of the SIRG

The SIRG reviewed the above synopsized incident with the intent to: (1) evaluate the application of deadly force; (2) provide the Director with an evaluative analysis, observations, and recommendations for corrective actions from an operational standpoint (if any); (3) provide recommendations concerning training and/or safety issues; and (4) provide recommendations for administrative action if deemed necessary.

SIRG members unanimously agreed that the use of deadly force by SAs [redacted] and [redacted] was justified and in conformance with the FBI's deadly force policy. This discussion resulted in the recommendation that no administrative action be taken against either Agent as a result of their involvement in this shooting incident. b6 b7C

SIRG members thoroughly discussed the fact that the search warrant plan was not converted into a written operations plan. Additionally, the plan did not require Agents to wear body armor or marked law enforcement clothing. Although thorough and complete, a written plan could have added value by stimulating thought by the Case Agent that could possibly lead to plan improvements; allows for an independent review by more experienced managers; and facilitates a complete and thorough oral pre-operation brief. Members noted the Philadelphia Division policy requiring a written operations plan, including a Deadly Force Policy brief as well as body armor for all arrests and search warrants. Although the Case Agent was aware of the division's policy, he considered the Innocent Images National Initiative search warrant for computers as a low risk search warrant and decided a written operations plan was not needed. Although the consequences for violating division policy did not impact the ultimate outcome, the potential for catastrophic operational failure and law enforcement injuries was high. Members opined a simple Bureau-wide documented policy on written operation plans is needed. This discussion resulted in adoption of the INSD recommendation #1a contained in the FD-204 Shooting Incident Report that the AD, CIRG, in collaboration with experienced field managers, develop and promulgate to all offices clear policy regarding the necessity and use of written operation plans.

MIAMI DIVISION
07/01/2008

Synopsis: The Shooting Incident Review Group (SIRG) reviewed a shooting incident that occurred on 07/01/2008, involving Special Agents(SAs) [redacted] and [redacted] During the planned arrest of members of a violent criminal enterprise associated with drug trafficking activities, Agents shot and killed one subject and wounded two others. SIRG members recommended that no administrative action be taken against the Agents as a result of their involvement in this shooting incident.

Administrative: Reference report of Chief Inspector [redacted] dated 09/17/2008.

Details: This communication was prepared to furnish the analysis, comments, and recommendations of the SIRG with reference to the captioned shooting.

Details of the Shooting Incident

On 02/19/2008, a Gang/Criminal Enterprise investigation was initiated by the West Palm Beach Resident Agency (WPBRA). The investigation, conducted by Agents and officers of the WPBRA Safe Streets Task Force, targeted a violent criminal enterprise associated with drug trafficking activities in the area of West Palm Beach.

[redacted] purported he had "goons with guns, AK-47's, Uzi's, big pistols, guns," who would carry out [redacted] robbery plan of the drug dealer.

On 06/25/2008, [redacted] LNU was fully identified as [redacted], date of birth [redacted] of Pompano Beach. Investigation revealed [redacted] had an extensive drug criminal history. SA [redacted] prepared an Operations Plan (OP) for the proposed arrest of [redacted] and his unidentified accomplices while committing the purported robbery. At that time, there was no specific intelligence connecting [redacted] to a known drug trafficking organization (DTO) or an armed robbery crew. The basis for the operation was to arrest [redacted] and his unidentified "gangsters" based on [redacted] representation he had "AK-47's, Uzi's, guns, and big pistols" in six meetings, four telephonic and two in-person, with [redacted] UCE. According to the Special Agent in Charge (SAC) and other division personnel, South Florida had experienced an increased frequency of violence with high-powered weapons, thus the division felt compelled to address the potential public safety threat from [redacted] and his unknown accomplices in an expeditious manner.

On 06/26/2008, SWAT Senior Team Leader (STL) [redacted] began preparing a plan to effect the arrest of [redacted] and his unidentified accomplices. SA [redacted] SA [redacted] and Detective [redacted] met with WPBPD SWAT leadership, discussed the tactical operation, and delineated assignments and responsibilities for the respective SWAT teams. It was determined during the meeting FBI SWAT would be responsible for the inner perimeter of the arrest location and WPBPD SWAT would be responsible for the outer perimeter of the arrest location. b6 b7C b7D

In furtherance of the planned operation, STL [redacted] and SA [redacted] conducted a site survey of the arrest location.

On 06/27/2008, STL [redacted] prepared an FBI SWAT OP which documented areas of responsibility for both the FBI and WPBPD tactical components. b6 b7C b7D

On 06/30/2008, a detailed OP briefing was conducted at the Miami Field Office with SA [redacted] STL [redacted] and SSA [redacted] Additionally, [redacted]

At 8:00 p.m., an OP briefing was conducted by STL [redacted] for the SWAT team at the WPBPD undercover warehouse. The OP briefing was conducted at the approximate time of the planned robbery to allow SWAT operators to observe the lighting conditions at the location as it would potentially appear at the time of the operation. The SWAT OP briefing and rehearsals were conducted for approximately two hours. As previously discussed, FBI SWAT would be responsible for activities within the inner perimeter, and WPBPD SWAT team would be responsible for the outer perimeter. During the briefing, STL [redacted] advised FBI SWAT operators to be familiar with and to further review the FBI Deadly Force Policy.

The FBI SWAT Blue Team would take positions on the rooftops of the North and South buildings in the warehouse complex, as well as on the rooftop of a one story warehouse building located west of the warehouse complex. The FBI SWAT Gold Team would be responsible for securing the subjects upon completion of the operation. The Gold Team would be staged in a room inside the South building. A decision was made to partially close the western gate of the warehouse complex and secure it with a lock and chain to prevent entry by a vehicle and require the subjects to slip through a small opening. [redacted] which would be provided to [redacted] for his use in committing the planned robbery. b6 b7C b7E

At 5:00 p.m., STL [redacted], ASAC Parlave, and Agents of the WPBRA arrived at the WPBPD to attend an OP briefing. During this briefing, SA [redacted] and Detective [redacted] provided an overview of the investigation to the Agents of WPBRA, WPBPD SWAT, WPBPD surveillance, and WPBPD command staff. [redacted] UCE were introduced to the Agents and officers to minimize the potential for misidentification during the operation. b6 b7C b7D

At 8:00 p.m., the FBI SWAT team staged at the WPBPD garage and were provided an additional briefing on the SWAT OP, as well as updated intelligence information. STL [redacted] again briefed the FBI Deadly Force Policy. Upon completion of the briefing, FBI SWAT members proceeded to the WPBPD undercover warehouse complex. FBI SWAT was split into two teams, the Gold Team and Blue Team. The Gold Team was comprised of SAs [redacted] and [redacted] The Gold Team was divided into four, three operator arrest teams. The Gold Team was deployed inside the South building and would respond when directed to secure the subjects. SA [redacted] was also staged with the Gold Team as a communication link to the Tactical Operations Center (TOC).

Blue Team members deployed on the South building were SAs [redacted] and [redacted] WPBPD SWAT snipers [redacted] and [redacted] were deployed on the rooftop of the South building to cover the rear of the South building overlooking Old Okeechobee Road. STL [redacted] and ASAC Parlave also took positions on the South building where they monitored a Remington Ball camera covering the warehouse complex interior parking lot. The actions of the subjects as viewed through the Remington Ball camera were not recorded. STL [redacted] and ASAC Parlave monitored the main FBI and WPBPD operations radio channels, then STL [redacted] relayed relevant b6 b7C information to FBI SWAT operators via the FBI SWAT simplex channel.

Blue Team SWAT members deployed on the roof of the North building were SAs [redacted] and [redacted] Blue Team SWAT members deployed on the roof of a warehouse building west of the warehouse complex were SAs [redacted] and [redacted]

SAs [redacted] and [redacted] were located in the TOC vehicle located in the vicinity of Clare Avenue with A/SSA [redacted] and SA [redacted] WPBRA. b6 b7C

WPBPD SWAT operators were staged in two WPBPD vehicles. One located on Clare Avenue and the other on Frederick Street, both within close proximity to the warehouse complex. The WPBPD SWAT Command Staff was located in a WPBPD vehicle located at the Holiday Inn. The vehicle was occupied by WPBPD Captain [redacted] Captain [redacted] Sergeant [redacted] and Sergeant [redacted] WPBPD Command Staff would monitor the communications being received through a transmitter worn by the UCE. The monitored communications would then be relayed to all personnel monitoring the WPBPD operations radio channels. Additionally, approximately 15 unmarked WPBPD units established stationary surveillance along the anticipated route of [redacted] and his accomplices from the Holiday Inn to the warehouse complex.

At 10:15 p.m., the Broward County Sheriff's Office (BCSO) surveillance, which had been surveilling [redacted] since 4:40 p.m., reported [redacted] and other subjects were traveling northbound on Interstate 95 North in a gold Hyundai approaching West Palm Beach. At 10:17 p.m., [redacted] and his associates arrived at the Holiday Inn in West Palm Beach, to meet with the [redacted] UCE. Upon their arrival at the Holiday Inn, the BCSO terminated their surveillance. b6 b7C b7D

At 10:43 p.m., the FBI TOC broadcasted and logged the vehicle with all four subjects was anticipated to arrive at the warehouse complex within three minutes and they were armed with long guns. This was relayed to the SWAT team by STL [redacted]

At 10:46 p.m. [redacted] Caldwell, and [redacted] exited the vehicle, while [redacted] remained inside. They entered the warehouse complex parking lot through a gate locked with a chain, but the chain had sufficient slack to allow a person to slip through a small opening. The order of entry was [redacted] carrying a set of bolt cutters and a concealed handgun, [redacted] carrying a handgun, and Caldwell carrying a long rifle. [redacted] followed by Caldwell and [redacted] walked toward the door of the North building. All three were observed entering the parking lot by both STL [redacted] and ASAC Parlave, who monitored their movements. ASAC Parlave and STL [redacted] observed the three subjects enter into the parking lot with what they believed to be weapons.

At 10:47 p.m., after [redacted] and Caldwell got near the North building door and [redacted] was halfway from the gate opening and the North building, ASAC Parlave gave the execution order to STL Swinerton who then communicated the order to FBI SWAT operators. The SWAT operators had been advised via radio by STL [redacted] all three subjects were armed, inasmuch as all operators were secreted to prevent silhouetting which also prevented operators from directly observing the subjects entering the warehouse complex.

SA [redacted] stood up from his position on the South building and in a loud clear voice stated, "FBI, get down." At this point, [redacted] was at the North building door and Caldwell was several feet behind [redacted] was 25 feet from the same door, which was about halfway between the gate opening and the door. All three subjects turned toward the South building, [redacted] dropped to the ground while Caldwell and [redacted] ran in the direction of the Agents located on the South building which was also in the direction of the gate opening. Caldwell and [redacted] disobeyed SA [redacted] commands and continued to run toward the South building and the opening in the gate with guns in hand. Agents believed the non-compliant, armed Caldwell and [redacted] were moving to a position of tactical advantage and/or presented a grave danger to the public and other law enforcement officers. Eight Agents from the roof tops of the North and South buildings discharged their weapons at Caldwell and [redacted] and one Agent from the West building discharged his weapon at [redacted] after he exited the warehouse complex and moved toward concealment of a parked truck.

[redacted] was able to get through the gate opening and was reaching for the passenger side rear door handle of the gold Hyundai when it pulled away. He then proceeded to move toward the parked truck when he succumbed to his wounds and collapsed next to the truck. [redacted] received numerous bullet wounds, to include leg wounds, requiring his left leg to be amputated below the knee. Caldwell received numerous bullet wounds, collapsed in the gate opening, and was pronounced dead at the scene. [redacted] who dropped to the ground after FBI commands, was hit with one .223 caliber bullet, likely a ricochet, that penetrated one leg then lodged in his other leg. [redacted] attempted to flee the location, however his vehicle was struck and disabled by another motorist. He was then arrested by the WPBPD SWAT which secured the operation's outer perimeter. A total of 56 .223 caliber rounds were fired with no evidence indicating the subjects discharged their weapons. FBI Laboratory ballistic tests determined the 56 shell casings, all

.223 caliber, were traced to the following Agents weapons: SA [redacted] (13); SA [redacted] (2); SA [redacted] (3); SA [redacted] (5); SA [redacted] (6); SA [redacted] (10); SA [redacted] (10); SA [redacted] (4); and unknown (3). Of the bullets/bullet fragments recovered from the subjects, only one bullet from Caldwell was positively identified by the FBI Laboratory with an FBI weapon, which belonged to SA [redacted]

At approximately 10:51 p.m., after the location was secure, the West Palm Beach Fire Department (FD) was notified and responded to provide medical assistance to the subjects. [redacted] and [redacted] were transported to Saint Mary's Medical Center for further medical treatment. Caldwell was pronounced dead at the scene. [redacted] was transported to Saint Mary's Medical Center after a traffic accident and later placed into custody at the West Palm Beach County Jail.

The West Palm Beach State Attorney opined his office would not review the shooting because it was a federal matter.

On 12/18/2008, a declination of prosecution was received from the United States Department of Justice, Civil Rights Division, regarding the actions of the Agents involved in this shooting incident.

01/30/2009, the SIRG met to discuss the above-captioned shooting incident. Deputy Assistant Director Michael S. Clemens, Inspection Division (INSD), chaired the meeting and was a non-voting member. The following voting members were in attendance: [redacted] Special Legal Counsel, Civil Rights Division, USDOJ; [redacted] Attorney, Criminal Division, USDOJ; Chief Inspector [redacted], Office of Inspections (OI), INSD; Section Chief (SC) Jill Marie Eulitz, CD-1, Eurasian Section, Counterintelligence Division; A/SC [redacted] Violent Crimes Section, Criminal Investigative Division; Unit Chief (UC) [redacted] Firearms Training Unit, Training Division (TD); UC [redacted] Defensive Systems Unit, TD; UC [redacted] Practical Applications Unit, TD; UC [redacted] Special Weapons and Tactics Operations Unit, Critical Incident Response Group; SSA [redacted] Investigative Law Unit, Office of General Counsel; SSA [redacted] Evidence Response Team Unit, Laboratory Division; and SSA [redacted] CR-2, Washington Field Office. Observations and Recommendations of the SIRG

The SIRG reviewed the above synopsized incident with the intent to: (1) evaluate the application of deadly force; (2) provide the Director with an evaluative analysis, observations, and recommendations for corrective actions from an operational standpoint (if any); (3) provide recommendations concerning training and/or safety issues; and (4) provide recommendations for administrative action if deemed necessary.

Prior to the discussion of this shooting incident, SIRG members were provided an overview by Chief Inspector [redacted] b6 b7C

After a lengthy discussion of the incident, SIRG members unanimously agreed that the use of deadly force by SAs [redacted] and [redacted] was justified and in conformance with the FBI's deadly force policy. This discussion resulted in the recommendation that no administrative action be taken against any of the Agents involved in this shooting incident.

SIRG members positively commented on the Miami Division's Operations Plan as well as the execution of the plan.

12/17/2008

Synopsis: The Shooting Incident Review Group (SIRG) reviewed a shooting incident that occurred on 12/17/2008, involving Special Agent (SA) [redacted] During the attempted arrest of a fugitive, SA [redacted] fired two rounds from his Bureau-issued .45 caliber Springfield pistol. In addition to being struck by one of the rounds fired by SA [redacted] the subject shot himself in the right temple. SIRG members recommended that no administrative action be taken against SA [redacted] as a result of his involvement in this shooting incident.

Details: This communication was prepared to furnish the analysis, comments, and recommendations of the SIRG with reference to the captioned shooting.

Details of the Shooting Incident

On 12/16/2008, the Kansas City Division Violent Crimes Fugitive Task Force (VCFTF) initiated a fugitive investigation to locate and apprehend Terry G. Gordon, Jr., who was wanted by local Kansas authorities for rape and aggravated indecent liberties with a child. Task Force Officer (TFO) [redacted]

UNCLASSIFIED

[redacted] a Kansas City, Kansas Police Department (KCKPD) detective, identified a potential location for the subject. Personnel assigned to the VCFTF agreed to meet near the identified location the next morning in anticipation of Gordon's potential arrest.

On 12/17/2008, at approximately 6:00 a.m., as VCFTF personnel were traveling toward the pre-arrest meeting site, TFO [redacted] contacted the FBI radio operator to confirm the active warrant for Gordon. He traveled to the suspect location and observed what he believed to be the subject's vehicle parked in the driveway. TFO [redacted] maintained surveillance on the residence and advised the VCFTF Coordinator, SA [redacted] of his observations.

SA [redacted] drove to the target location and replaced TFO [redacted] in maintaining surveillance to allow TFO [redacted] time to brief other task force personnel at the meeting site. TFO [redacted] conducted a pre-arrest briefing with TFOs [redacted] and [redacted] as well as FBI SA [redacted] He circulated photographs of Gordon, displayed a copy of an NCIC wanted person printout, described the target residence, indicated the possible presence of a female and a child inside the residence, and indicated vehicles in the driveway were registered to the female and Gordon. An additional TFO, Missouri State Highway Patrol Trooper [redacted] was en route but his arrival was delayed by weather-related road conditions.

Concerned that neighbors in the area might alert Gordon to the presence of law enforcement personnel, SA [redacted] radioed instructions to the assembled personnel to move to the residence to effect Gordon's arrest. SA [redacted] drove from his surveillance location to the residence, activated his vehicle's emergency lights, and assumed a position to the rear of the residence. As other task force personnel arrived, TFO [redacted] replaced SA [redacted] at the rear of the residence. SA [redacted] proceeded to the front of the residence and TFO [redacted] assumed a position on the front right of the house, while TFO [redacted] and SA [redacted] went to the front porch. TFO [redacted] knocked on the front door and announced, "police."

After knocking on the front door and announcing police presence multiple times, TFO [redacted] and other personnel began loudly knocking on all of the doors and windows of the residence, announcing, "police," and calling for Gordon. After receiving no response, TFO [redacted] observed a female neighbor entering her vehicle. He approached the neighbor who confirmed the likelihood of Gordon's presence inside the residence.

SA [redacted] heard movement inside the house and SA [redacted] heard noises emitting from the front right area of the residence. Based upon information in his possession at the time, SA [redacted] assessed that the target location was likely to be Gordon's residence and decided to make forced entry. SA [redacted] obtained a battering ram from his vehicle and proceeded to the back door. Prior to utilizing the ram, TFO [redacted] checked the back door and was able to open it without force. TFO [redacted] yelled into the house before entering, advising it was the police and for Gordon to come out. Receiving no response from inside, TFO [redacted] announced police were entering the residence.

Within moments of the arrest team making entry, an adult female, later identified as [redacted] was observed near a bed in the rear of the house, attempting to conceal herself between a bed and nearby television set. As TFO [redacted] instructed [redacted] to stand up and show her hands, he observed a male child with her. TFO [redacted] observed the female holding her hand over the child's mouth. [redacted] advised she did not answer the door because she did not know who they were. At that point, [redacted] requested a display of credentials or badges. TFO [redacted] pointed to his outer garment chest which revealed his KCKPD badge emblem and opened his jacket revealing additional police markings on his vest. He then proceeded to display his badge.

When asked if Gordon was present in the residence, [redacted] provided vague and deceptive responses. During further questioning and after a search of the first floor failed to locate Gordon, the child indicated he was upstairs. TFO [redacted] asked [redacted] if Gordon had a gun and she indicated he did not. To ensure the safety of law enforcement personnel, [redacted] was handcuffed prior to a search of the second floor.

Prior to proceeding upstairs, movement was heard from the second floor. The arrest team called up the stairs attempting to convince Gordon to surrender. SA [redacted] led the search of the second floor, followed by TFOs [redacted] and [redacted] and SA [redacted]

At the top of the stairs, SA [redacted] observed Terry Gordon sitting on the floor of the bedroom, holding a revolver pointed at his right temple. As SA [redacted] moved to the right door jamb, he instructed Gordon to drop his weapon. SA [redacted] activated the laser of his pistol and aimed the laser indicator first on Gordon's chest and then on his chin. SA [redacted] again instructed Gordon to drop his gun. Gordon responded, "I am not going to prison for 25 years." Within seconds of the verbal exchange, SA [redacted] observed Gordon grimace and move his finger, which had been resting on the trigger guard, to the trigger. Gordon dropped his elbow and tightened his grip on the gun, leading SA [redacted] to believe Gordon might be turning the gun toward law enforcement personnel. TFO [redacted] also noticed the motion of Gordon's right arm and believed Gordon was about to shoot. TFO [redacted] assessed Gordon's manner as one of defiance instead of resignation and anticipated Gordon was about to turn his weapon on law enforcement personnel. SA [redacted] fired two rounds and also heard Gordon's weapon fire. A fourth shot was fired by Trooper [redacted] at approximately the same time.

Gordon slumped backward with his hand still on the pistol lying on his chest. SA [redacted] instructed participants to hold their positions while he continued to call for Gordon to drop his weapon. With no response, he proceeded to disarm and handcuff Gordon. SA [redacted] took Gordon's revolver, laid it on the floor, and moved Gordon to a position to facilitate his labored breathing.

Additional law enforcement personnel were requested as well as Emergency Medical Services. The subject was transported to the University of Kansas Medical Center and pronounced dead shortly after his arrival.

By letter dated 03/16/2009, [redacted] District Attorney for the Twenty-Ninth Judicial District of Kansas, documented his investigation into the matter as well as his determination that no criminal liability existed against any law enforcement officers involved in the attempt to arrest Terry Gordon, at which time Gordon committed suicide. On 04/10/2009, DOJ Civil Rights Division telephonically advised there was no cause for a criminal investigation into the shooting incident.

Observations and Recommendations of the SIRG

The SIRG reviewed the above synopsized incident with the intent to: (1) evaluate the application of deadly force; (2) provide the Director with an evaluative analysis, observations, and recommendations for corrective actions from an operational standpoint (if any); (3) provide recommendations concerning training and/or safety issues; and (4) provide recommendations for administrative action if deemed necessary.

Subsequent to an overview of the incident provided by Inspector [redacted] SIRG members unanimously agreed that the use of deadly force by SA [redacted] was justified and in conformance with the FBI's deadly force policy. This discussion resulted in the recommendation that no administrative action be taken against SA [redacted] as a result of his involvement in this shooting incident. b6 b7C

The only comment made regarding the incident was the fact that officers spent one-half hour attempting to obtain entry into the residence which created a greater risk for them being injured. SIRG members unanimously agreed to adopt the following observations of the Shooting Incident Review Team which will be forwarded to the Special Agent in Charge of the Kansas City Division:

ISSUE #1: There was little indicia of flight by subject Terry Gordon, and little indicia significant investigative skill or resources had to be expended in his apprehension, leading to the concern that the Kansas City VCFTF was setting a low threshold for fugitive preliminary inquiry status.

RECOMMENDATION #1a: That the Kansas City Division ensure its VCFTF is following documented protocols for adopting fugitive investigations to ensure it does not become a warrant squad.

RECOMMENDATION #1b: That the Kansas City VCFTF ensure thorough fugitive investigation is conducted to ensure a robust knowledge and understanding of the subject's capabilities and propensity for a violent encounter.

ISSUE #2: Adherence to VCFTF standard operating procedures. The overall planning for the arrest of the subject was found to be typical of an FTF where participants consistently work as a team in a fairly standard manner. In the case of the Kansas City VCFTF, division Executive Management did not require a formally documented arrest plan for such daily arrest opportunities by a team with effective tactical training and known capabilities. Rather Kansas City employed standard operating procedures (SOPs) involving a pre-arrest meeting where the subject's description, photograph, and related intelligence is shared, an approach is developed, and standard equipment and clothing is used. Such can reasonably be utilized in cases involving violent crimes and fugitive task forces, particularly where adherence to the SOPs is rigorous. In this case, the Kansas City VCFTF followed the SOPs to effect what should have been a somewhat standard subject apprehension.

One feature changed and affected both the SOP and the result. Due to weather and traffic, TFO [redacted] arrived late to the subject's residence. Rather than meet with other Agents and TFOs at the rally point, TFO [redacted] drove directly to the target location to join the rest of his team, who were already surrounding the residence. In his haste to support his colleagues, TFO [redacted] failed to wear his body armor. Nor did he have extra magazines, his baton, or OC spray that might have been employed if less than deadly force was needed.

The SIRT noted that at one point during the attempted arrest of Gordon, all of the VCFTF members were inside the residence, leaving no law enforcement perimeter to intercept a fugitive who could have attempted to flee from his hiding spot. Again, rigorous adherence to SOPs should prevent a situation where the law enforcement perimeter breaks down.

The SIRT also noted if TFO [redacted] was further delayed, the remaining VCFTF consisted of only five personnel. Such a limited force increases the prospects for success by a fleeing or resisting subject as well as the physical jeopardy to those chasing or working to apprehend him. In light of limited personnel resources, Kansas City should consider the use of local, marked police units as force multipliers and to enhance identification of the law enforcement team. b6 b7C

RECOMMENDATION #2a: That the Kansas City Division review and, as appropriate, redocument/ repromulgate VCFTF SOPs with respect to having a minimum number of law enforcement personnel on each planned operation and to ensuring a perimeter around a target location.

RECOMMENDATION #2b: That the Kansas City Division review, and as appropriate, redocument/ repromulgate VCFTF SOPs with respect to the use of state or local marked units and personnel to support fugitive apprehension efforts.

Details of the Shooting Incident

On 11/28/2008, at approximately 9:15 p.m., SA [redacted] was at home with her two children and an adult niece. Hearing her dog who was locked in a pen outside of her residence barking continuously, SA [redacted] went outside to release the dog and returned inside. As her dog continued barking and growling, SA [redacted] and her niece went outside with a flashlight.

The dog led SA [redacted] to bushes on the side of her house near a window where she and her niece heard a rustling noise. Both individuals went inside the house and SA [redacted] returned to the outside area with her handgun where she discovered a man in dark clothing in the bushes. SA [redacted] issued verbal commands for the individual to come out with his hands visible; however, the subject came out and walked toward her. SA [redacted] could not see the subject's hands and as he stepped close to her she reached to grab his hands but he pulled away and began struggling with her. Fearing for her safety, as well as the safety of her family, SA [redacted] fired one round striking the subject in his right buttock. As he attempted to walk away, SA [redacted] continued to issue commands for the man to get on the ground. As he continued walking around the area, SA [redacted] and her niece grabbed the subject and forced him to the ground where he was handcuffed. At this point, SA [redacted] recognized the subject as a neighbor who lived a few houses down the street.

The Greenville County Sheriff's Office responded to the scene and the subject was arrested and transported to a local hospital for medical treatment for his gun shot wound.

On 12/11/2008, the State of South Carolina Solicitor recommended no criminal charges against SA [redacted] On 05/18/2009, a declination of prosecution was received from the United States Department of Justice, Civil Rights Division, regarding the actions of SA [redacted]

On 05/28/2009, the SIRG met to discuss the above-captioned shooting incident. Deputy Assistant Director Michael S. Clemens, Inspection Division (INSD), chaired the meeting and was a non-voting member. The following voting members were in attendance: [redacted] Special Legal Counsel, Civil Rights Division, USDOJ; [redacted] Attorney, Criminal Division, USDOJ; Section Chief (SC) Robert Anderson, Jr., CD-4, Counterespionage Section, Counterintelligence Division; SC David J. CHARLOTTE DIVISION
12/03/2008

Synopsis: The Shooting Incident Review Group (SIRG) reviewed a shooting incident that occurred on 12/03/2008, involving Special Agent (SA) [redacted] During the attempted arrest of a fleeing fugitive, SA [redacted] fired two rounds from his Bureau-issued Glock, .40 caliber handgun. SIRG members recommended that no administrative action be taken against SA [redacted] as a result of his involvement in this shooting incident.

Administrative: Reference report of Inspector-in-Place [redacted] dated 03/11/2009.

Details: This communication was prepared to furnish the analysis, comments, and recommendations of the SIRG with reference to the captioned shooting.

Details of the Shooting Incident

In November 2008, SA [redacted] was investigating [redacted], a convicted felon who was a suspect in numerous armed bank robberies as well as local armed robberies.

On 11/07/2008, a bank robbery occurred at a Wachovia Bank in Kannapolis, North Carolina. During the robbery, the suspect displayed a silver handgun and forced all bank occupants to the floor. Investigation by SA [redacted] and the local Police Department developed [redacted] as a suspect in the Kannapolis bank robbery and a state arrest warrant was obtained for [redacted]

On 11/21/2008, [redacted] was arrested in an apartment complex in Charlotte. Subsequent to [redacted] arrest, it was determined that [redacted] lived at the apartment with him and provided consent for a search of the residence. Officers located a bag containing dye-stained currency, a nine millimeter handgun, a .45 caliber Smith and Wesson handgun with red dye located on the weapon, and numerous rounds of ammunition for the handguns. During his statement, [redacted] admitted he committed the 11/07/2008, bank robbery and advised law enforcement personnel he always carried his weapon loaded so people would take him seriously. b6 b7C

When questioned by SA [redacted] admitted she assisted [redacted] in staging a Ford Escort in anticipation of the bank robbery. [redacted] admitted she had general knowledge that [redacted] planned to rob the Wachovia Bank, advised [redacted] "always has a gun," and indicated he slept with a gun on the night stand and carried the weapon outside of the apartment.

Following [redacted] interview, SA [redacted] and a Concord Police Department Detective realized [redacted] had a tattoo on his neck which was consistent with a series of armed bank robberies in the Charlotte area. SA [redacted] returned to the jail in an attempt to question [redacted] about the Charlotte armed robberies; however, at some point during the interview, [redacted] invoked his right to counsel. At that time, SA [redacted] told [redacted] the FBI intended to indict him for the other bank robberies.

On 12/02/2008, SA [redacted] met with an Assistant United States Attorney (AUSA) for the Middle District of North Carolina who agreed to federally indict [redacted] for the bank robberies at the December Grand Jury. b6 b7C

On 12/03/2008, a local detective advised SA [redacted] that [redacted] made bond and was released from jail. SA [redacted] immediately contacted the AUSA requesting concurrence and authority to arrest [redacted] based on probable cause for the federal bank robberies. The AUSA authorized SA [redacted] to arrest [redacted] for federal bank robbery charges and he also learned local authorities obtained a new State arrest warrant authorizing the arrest of [redacted] on bank robbery charges.

At approximately 1:30 p.m., SA [redacted] contacted [redacted] girlfriend's [redacted] employer to obtain her working hours for the day. SA [redacted] learned [redacted] would end her shift at 3:00 p.m., and at that time he notified his supervisor of the situation to determine if it was feasible to surveil [redacted] in an attempt to locate [redacted]. b6 b7C

At approximately 1:45 p.m., SA [redacted] traveled to the apartment where [redacted] and [redacted] resided. Upon his arrival, and while waiting for a local detective, SA [redacted] scanned the parking lot for [redacted] vehicle, identified as a gold Chevrolet Tahoe. SA [redacted] did not observe the subject's vehicle in the parking lot in front of the apartment building and backed his Bureau vehicle into a parking space near the front entrance of the building awaiting the arrival of the detective.

While watching the front of the building, SA [redacted] observed [redacted] exiting the breeze way of the building. He immediately contacted the detective to advise him of [redacted] presence at the apartment complex and determined the detective was approximately 15 minutes away from his location. While on the phone, SA [redacted] lost sight of [redacted] who had been making his way on foot toward another set of apartments located directly behind SA [redacted] location. SA [redacted] believed [redacted] saw him and due to [redacted] apparel was concerned that [redacted] was armed and possibly in the process of committing another armed robbery. SA [redacted] drove his Bureau vehicle toward the only entrance/exit to the apartment complex in an attempt to prevent [redacted] from exiting. While driving toward the front of the complex, SA [redacted] located the subject driving his vehicle toward the complex exit. SA [redacted] drove his vehicle toward the subject vehicle, in a head-on position, in an attempt to stop [redacted] from fleeing. b6 b7C observed [redacted] traveling back into the apartment complex at a high rate of speed.

[redacted] initially stopped his vehicle and SA [redacted] exited his vehicle giving commands for [redacted] to stop and turn his ignition off. [redacted] froze, then reached down with his right hand as though he was reaching for a weapon. SA [redacted] drew his weapon and stepped out from behind his car door, ordering [redacted] to turn off the ignition. SA [redacted] was positioned between his vehicle and the subject vehicle when [redacted] reached up and placed his car in gear and drove backwards for a short distance before revving his engine and driving toward SA [redacted] SA [redacted] heard the vehicle tires squeal as he fled on foot evading being hit by [redacted] vehicle. SA [redacted] positioned himself behind the end of a parked vehicle and

SA [redacted] re-entered his vehicle and drove to the only entrance/exit of the apartment complex believing he would arrive in time to block the subject vehicle. At approximately 2:20 p.m., SA [redacted] called 911 and provided information regarding the situation as well as the description and location of [redacted]. Believing the possibility existed that [redacted] fled on foot, SA [redacted] drove through the apartment complex exit and traveled toward an intersection. As he reached the intersection, SA [redacted] saw [redacted] on foot at the base of an embankment located approximately ten feet from the shoulder of the road. SA [redacted] positioned himself where he could drive across the street to keep [redacted] in sight until additional law enforcement personnel arrived. [redacted] saw SA [redacted] and stopped. SA [redacted] observed [redacted] with both hands inside his coat pockets and later saw something in [redacted] right hand. Believing the object could be a firearm, SA [redacted] continued to drive toward [redacted] who turned and began climbing up the embankment toward the apartment complex with this left side pointed toward SA [redacted] SA [redacted] stopped his vehicle, drew his weapon, pointed it at [redacted] and shouted, [redacted] stop," at which time [redacted] stopped and quickly turned his upper torso toward SA [redacted] in an aggressive manner. Believing that [redacted] was turning to shoot him, SA [redacted] fired two rounds from his Bureau-issued Glock, .40 caliber handgun. SA [redacted] saw [redacted] running over the crest of the hill.

At 11:30 p.m., local police received a call that [redacted] had been hiding in another apartment in the complex and had just fled on foot. Investigation determined [redacted] had fled from SA [redacted] entered an apartment on a ruse, and held the occupants of the apartment against their will until law enforcement personnel left the area.

On 01/27/2009, after being involved in a shooting and kidnaping incident, [redacted] was arrested without incident by the Atlanta, Georgia, Police Department.

04/27/2008

Synopsis: The Shooting Incident Review Group (SIRG) reviewed a shooting incident that occurred on 04/27/2008, involving Special Agent (SA) [redacted]. After being robbed by two individuals, SA [redacted] fired one round from her Bureau-issued Glock, Model 27, .40 caliber pistol, resulting in the death of one of the subjects. SIRG members recommended that no administrative action be taken against SA [redacted] as a result of her involvement in this shooting incident.

Administrative: Reference report of Supervisory Senior Resident Agent [redacted] dated 08/18/2008.

Details: This communication was prepared to furnish the analysis, comments, and recommendations of the SIRG with reference to the captioned shooting.

Details of the Shooting Incident

On 04/27/2008, at approximately 9:28 p.m., SA [redacted] who is assigned to the Los Angeles Field Office (LAFO), was on vacation in Greenville, South Carolina. While standing outside a cultural center, SA [redacted] and two associates were approached by two armed men. The subjects demanded SA [redacted] purse as well as the money and wallets of her two associates. One of the subjects fired one round at the ground directly in front of the victims. After obtaining the victims' property, the subjects turned and moved to a vehicle identified as a Honda Passport. SA [redacted] pursued the subjects and attempted to stop them. Using both hands, SA [redacted] pointed her pistol at the subject who entered the passenger side of the vehicle who was saying something and turned to look at SA [redacted] According to SA [redacted] she was able to see the right side of the subject's body, but could not see his hands. Believing the subject was not complying with her demand to stop as he was turning toward her, and fearing he was attempting to gain access to a weapon in his pocket, SA [redacted] fired one round in the direction of the passenger through the open vehicle window. SA [redacted] attempted a second shot, however the weapon did not fire when she pulled the trigger. As SA [redacted] was attempting to get her weapon to function, the driver of the subject vehicle drove away from the area.

SA [redacted] ensured the safety of her associates and placed a 911 call to local authorities. She provided the responding officers with a description of the vehicle, the tag number, and a description of the subjects.

Investigation revealed SA [redacted] lost her FBI badge, credentials, credit card, handcuffs, and Blackberry, as well as a personal cell phone, credit cards, and money.

On 04/27/2008, investigation determined SA [redacted] FBI-issued cell phone was located in Laurens County; however, the phone was no longer in operation a short time later. Law enforcement authorities also determined the subject vehicle was registered to [redacted] who resided with [redacted] a hair salon operator in Laurens. Local authorities obtained a search warrant for [redacted] residence and hair salon. Documents were obtained at both locations providing cellular telephone numbers for [redacted] and [redacted] Information also revealed [redacted] and [redacted] had lived at several addresses in North Carolina.

On 05/05/2008, the Laurens County Sheriff's Office discovered a badly decomposed body on a remote path in the woods. The unidentified body appeared to have suffered a gunshot wound that grazed the arm and entered one side of the torso and exited the other.

On 05/07/2008, local authorities and Agents of the Greensboro, North Carolina, Resident Agency located, interviewed, and arrested [redacted] During the interview, [redacted] admitted that he took part in the armed robbery of SA [redacted] placed the body of his associate, identified as Luis Sanchez Santos, in the woods in South Carolina; had the vehicle used in the robbery crushed at an impound lot in North Carolina; and he burned SA [redacted] purse and its contents in North Carolina. [redacted] also advised he threw SA [redacted] badge into a ravine and disposed of his weapon on the side of a highway between North and South Carolina.

[redacted] was charged with three counts of armed robbery, one count of possessing a firearm during a violent act, and one count of pointing a firearm at an individual.

On 11/24/2008, a declination of prosecution was received from the United States Department of Justice, Civil Rights Division, regarding the actions of SA [redacted] in this shooting incident.

On 01/30/2009, the SIRG met to discuss the above-captioned shooting incident. Deputy Assistant Director Michael S. Clemens, Inspection Division (INSD), chaired the meeting and was a non-voting member. The following voting members were in attendance: [redacted] Special Legal Counsel, Civil Rights Division, USDOJ; [redacted] Attorney, Criminal Division, USDOJ; Chief Inspector [redacted] Office of Inspections (OI), INSD; Section Chief (SC) Jill Marie Bulitz, CD-1, Eurasian Section, Counterintelligence Division; A/SC [redacted] Violent Crimes Section, Criminal Investigative Division; Unit Chief (UC) [redacted] Firearms Training Unit, Training Division (TD); UC [redacted] Defensive Systems Unit, TD; UC [redacted] Practical Applications Unit, TD; UC [redacted] Special Weapons and Tactics Operations Unit, Critical Incident Response Group; SSA [redacted] Investigative Law Unit, Office of General Counsel; SSA [redacted] Evidence Response Team Unit, Laboratory Division; and SSA [redacted] CR-2, Washington Field Office. UC [redacted], Inspection Management Unit (IMU), OI, INSD, and Management Program Analyst [redacted] IMU, OI, INSD, non-voting members, were also in attendance.

b6

Observations and Recommendations of the SIRG

The SIRG reviewed the above synopsized incident with the intent to: (1) evaluate the application of deadly force; (2) provide the Director with an evaluative analysis, observations, and recommendations for corrective actions from an

SIRG members unanimously agreed that the use of deadly force by SA [redacted] was justified and in conformance with the FBI's deadly force policy. This discussion resulted in the recommendation that no administrative action be taken against SA [redacted] as a result of her involvement in this shooting incident.

The only observation made by SIRG members pertained to the fact that SA [redacted] weapon was not forwarded to the Weapons Management Facility for examination to ensure the weapon was properly functioning. This observation will be added to a "lessons learned" document and appropriately disseminated.

Details: This communication was prepared to furnish the analysis, comments, and recommendations of the SIRG with reference to the captioned shooting.

Details of the Shooting Incident

On 05/04/2007, at approximately 11:30 p.m., SA [redacted] was returning to his residence after completing an evening shift in the New York Field Office (NYFO). As he was traveling on a road in Tewksbury Township, New Jersey, SA [redacted] struck a deer attempting to run across the highway. SA [redacted] exited his vehicle and observed the severely injured deer lying approximately fifteen feet off of the highway. Recognizing the animal was in extreme pain and unlikely to survive, SA [redacted] fired one round into the deer's head instantly killing the deer.

SA [redacted] telephonically contacted local law enforcement personnel to report the incident. Police Department personnel advised they would not respond to the scene since the dead animal was not blocking the roadway and there was no apparent damage to SA [redacted] Bureau vehicle.

On 12/03/2007, the SIRG met to discuss the above-captioned shooting incident. Deputy Assistant Director Michael S. Clemens, Inspection Division (INSD), chaired the meeting and was a non-voting member. The following voting members were in attendance: [redacted] Deputy Chief, Gang Squad, Criminal Division, United States Department of Justice (USDOJ); [redacted] b6 b7C Special Legal Counsel, Civil Rights Division, USDOJ; Michael A. SSA [redacted] and Management Program Analyst (MPA) [redacted] Inspection Management Unit, OI, INSD, non-voting members, were also in attendance.

Observations and Recommendations of the SIRG

The SIRG reviewed the above synopsized incident with the intent to: (1) evaluate the application of deadly force; (2) provide the Director with an evaluative analysis, observations, and recommendations for corrective actions from an operational standpoint (if any); (3) provide recommendations concerning training and/or safety issues; and (4) provide recommendations for administrative action if deemed necessary.

SIRG members unanimously agreed that no administrative action should be taken against SA [redacted] as a result of his involvement in this shooting incident. However, members opined that although SA [redacted] actions were humane, the shooting of the injured deer was not within the current deadly force policy. This matter will be brought to the attention of the Assistant Director in Charge (ADIC) of the NYFO to ensure future compliance with the deadly force policy.

REPORT OF SHOOTING INCIDENT
CINCINNATI DIVISION
04/26/2007

Character: ADMINISTRATIVE INQUIRY

Synopsis: Gerald Mulato was the subject of a Mexican Drug Trafficking Organization investigation. On March 13, 2007, administrative approval was obtain to place Global Positioning Satellite (GPS) tracking devices on two of Mulato's vehicles. On April 26, 2007, a team composed of a Technically Trained Agent (TTA), four Agents, and two Task Force Officers, were in the process of installing a tracking device on Mulato's Mercedes-Benz, which was in the subject's apartment building parking lot. The subject emerged from his apartment building armed with a semi-automatic pistol. The TTA and a cover Agent retreated from the subject's vehicle towards a nearby trash dumpster for cover, while the subject pursued them in an aggressive manner believing they were tampering with his car. The subject pointed his weapon directly at the retreating Agents. Law enforcement commands were made to Mulato by Agents. As the subject was closing in on the Agents behind the dumpster, SA [redacted] who was a perimeter/cover Agent, called out "gun" and illuminated Mulato with his flashlight. Mulato pointed his weapon at [redacted] who was 10-12 yards away without cover. SA [redacted] who feared for his life, fired one round striking the subject in the abdomen. The subject died en route to the hospital.

DETAILS:

On November 6, 2006, the Cincinnati Division (CI) initiated a Racketeering Enterprise Investigation (REI) on a possible Mexican Drug Trafficking Organization (92C-CI-76049). On April 19, 2007, information from the REI was used to initiate a full drug investigation on Mulato (281C-CI-76576). Mulato's drug organization was suspected of being the largest black tar heroin distributor in the Cincinnati, Ohio, area.

Case Agent [redacted] obtained approval to install two GPS tracking devices on two of Geraldo Mulato's vehicles; a Mercedes-Benz and a Chevrolet Caprice. The installation was scheduled for April 26, 2007. Prior to the scheduled installation, TTA and Case Agent met to develop a plan. Pre-operational planning included TTA conducting reconnaissance on similar make and model vehicles to facilitate deployment of the tracking devices on Mulato's vehicles.

On April 26, 2007, at 4:00 a.m., SA TTA SA SA SA , TFO and TFO met for an operational briefing at the McDonalds Restaurant parking lot, Forest Park, Ohio. SA and SA led the briefing. The mission was to install a battery operated GPS tracking device on two of Mulato's vehicles, starting with Mulato's Mercedes-Benz. The Mercedes-Benz was in Mulato's apartment complex parking lot, 1995 Waycross Drive, approximately 40-50 feet from the building's entrance. Mulato's apartment building was three stories. Mulato had a rear, ground level apartment, which was on the opposite side of the building from where the Mercedes-Benz was parked. Mulato did not have a window from his apartment with vision on the parking lot containing the Mercedes-Benz.

TTA was responsible for the actual GPS installation. SA would be TTA immediate proximity cover Agent, and he was positioned near the Mercedes-Benz during the SA would be positioned behind a trash dumpster approximately 25 feet from the Mercedes-Benz. SA SA TFO and TFO would be inside their cars and serve as perimeter surveillance/cover. SA was stationed south of Mulato's apartment parking lot in the adjacent Quail Court parking lot; SA was stationed west in the adjacent 2025 Waycross Drive parking; and, TFOs and were in the same car stationed north in a parking lot near the intersection of Waycross and Sebring Drives.

Everyone on the team, with the exception of SAs and were wearing soft body armor. Everyone was casually dressed without any law enforcement identification on their clothing. Each team member was armed with their service pistol. No team member had covert clothing with the capability to quickly convert to "law enforcement" marked clothing.

At 4:15 a.m., the entire team left the McDonalds. TTA and SAs and were driven into the area in SA Chevrolet Suburban. At 4:20 a.m., everyone was in position, and the GPS installation team walked from SA vehicle in Quail Court to the subject's Mercedes-Benz.

Shortly after TTA initiated the GPS installation from under the Mercedes-Benz, a person, later identified as exited an adjoining apartment building, 1997 Waycross Drive, and went to his car in the same parking lot. SA radioed the signal "clear", which then required TTA and his cover team to clear the area. TTA and SA retreated to the south side of Mulato's apartment building, and SA totally concealed himself behind the trash dumpster. noticed the suspicious individuals in dark clothing, the GPS installation team, and suspected they were burglarizing a car. He called police using "911" to report the suspicious activity. He then sat in his car for several minutes, drove towards the parking lot area containing the Mercedes-Benz and trash dumpster, and then left the lot to go to work.

Shortly after car left the parking lot, Officer Forest Park Police Department (FPPD), approached SA vehicle and requested identification. The officer was responding to the "911" call at 1995 Waycross Drive parking lot by approaching from an adjacent lot, Quail Court, south of the location. The officer became suspicious of SA [redacted] and his vehicle parked in Quail Court. SA [redacted] discretely identified himself, and the officer left the area. Officer [redacted] supervisor, Sergeant [redacted] was planning on approaching the Mercedes-Benz from north of 1995 Waycross Drive, but Officer [redacted] waived him off. However, Sergeant [redacted] and Officer [redacted] remained in the area in case they were needed. Sergeant [redacted] took up a position north of 1995 Waycross Drive, which was the same general location as TFOs [redacted] and [redacted], and Officer [redacted] parked ½ mile further away.

At approximately 4:30 a.m., the GPS installation team resumed their positions. Within several minutes, Mulato was observed by SA [redacted] coming up the interior apartment building stairwell towards the front door. SA [redacted] radioed "clear", which was just prior to Mulato throwing open the door to the apartment building. SA [redacted] heard the slide of Mulato's gun being racked. SA [redacted] observed Mulato aggressively coming out of the door pointing a silver handgun in the direction of the Mercedes-Benz. According to SA [redacted] SA [redacted] said, "he's got a gun," and SA [redacted] recalled someone, possibly SA [redacted] calling out "gun." TTA [redacted] was on his back near the Mercedes-Benz and saw Mulato with a pistol; he grabbed his tech bags and ran past the east side of the dumpster directly towards SA [redacted] vehicle.

SA [redacted] quickly shuffled towards the west side of the dumpster without turning his back on the subject for fear of being shot in the back. SA [redacted] was on the west side of the dumpster, and he saw Mulato in the parking lot moving towards his position as SA [redacted] came around the west side of the dumpster. SA [redacted] saw Mulato with a gun in his hand, his arm extended straight, and pointing the gun in the direction of SAs [redacted] and [redacted] SA [redacted] curled further behind the dumpster, and both he and SA [redacted] lost sight of Mulato who was advancing quickly on the dumpster.

Mulato was yelling in English to the GPS installation team. SA [redacted] heard Mulato say in English, "you trying to steal my shit;" SA [redacted] heard, "you messing with my shit;" and SA [redacted] heard, "that's my car." SA [redacted] heard, "that's my car, mother fucker, that's my fucking car."

As soon as SA [redacted] had cover behind the dumpster, he called out "police" or "FBI" and to "get your hands up." SA [redacted] heard loud voices but was unable to discern what was said. He did hear SA [redacted] shout "drop it" more than once, but was unsure if it was before or after the single gun shot. SA [redacted] heard voices yelling, "FBI" and "gun." SA [redacted] who was running towards the dumpster, heard people yelling, but could not make out what was being said.

SA [redacted] approach from his cover position west of the parking lot, then stood up between two cars 10-12 yards from Mulato. Mulato's weapon was pointed in the direction of the Agents behind the dumpster. SA [redacted] pointed his weapon at Mulato, illuminated Mulato with his flashlight, and called out, "gun" to warn his fellow Agents. Mulato responded by pointing his weapon at SA [redacted] who had no cover between himself and Mulato. SA [redacted] fired one round, hitting Mulato in the stomach, then SA [redacted] yelled again, "FBI, drop the gun." Mulato fell back against his Mercedes Benz, then slid to the ground. He kept the gun in his hand until his buttocks hit the ground, then the gun fell out. SA [redacted] repeated his commands several times until Mulato released the gun. SA [redacted] only fired one round due to the first round immobilizing Mulato, and SA [redacted] was able to move to a position of cover until Mulato dropped the gun.

TFOs [redacted] and [redacted] were approximately 100 yards north of the Mercedes-Benz. They observed the installation team scrambling and someone, later identified as Mulato, chasing them. They were too far away to discern if Mulato had a weapon, but they drove their car to the scene as fast as they could to support the scrambling installation team. En route to the Mercedes-Benz, [redacted] heard one gun shot, but [redacted] did not hear a gunshot.

Sergeant [redacted] FPPD, observed through his night vision scope Agents moving around the parking lot, then an individual ran from the area of 2025 Waycross Drive towards the 1995 Waycross Drive parking lot. SA [redacted]'s perimeter cover assignment was in the vicinity of 2025 Waycross Drive. A second or two later, Sergeant [redacted] saw a muzzle flash and heard one shot. Sergeant [redacted] turned on his emergency lights and drove to the scene. A white car with tinted windows parked near Sergeant [redacted] also started its engine and rushed towards the scene. Upon arrival, Sergeant [redacted] drew his weapon thinking the individuals in this car were attempting to engage the FBI. He ordered them to halt, and TFOs [redacted] and [redacted] identified themselves as FBI.

SA [redacted] began administering chest compressions to Mulato. Sergeant [redacted] provided a medic bag. [redacted], a local fireman and an apartment building resident, assisted with cardio pulmonary resuscitation (CPR) and first aid. The subject was transported by the Forest Park Fire Department and died en route to the hospital.

The time frame from Mulato exiting his apartment building until being shot was estimated at approximately 20 seconds. Given the stressful situation, interviewees measured the time based on their actions, rather than in seconds and minutes. SA [redacted] was able to shuffle at a quick rate approximately 25 feet, then make several law enforcement commands prior to the shot. SA [redacted] was able to run approximately 100 feet before hearing the shot. SA [redacted] was able to put his car in reverse, realize the installation team was not retreating to his car, and then get out of his car to run approximately 50 feet prior to the shot. By the time TFOs [redacted] and [redacted] were able to start their car and drive 100 yards, Mulato was already on the ground shot. [redacted], Mulato's wife, estimated Mulato had just enough time to walk up the apartment's interior steps and into the parking lot before she heard the shot. Sergeant [redacted] observed Agents moving around the parking lot, then someone ran from the area of 2025 Waycross Drive and, within a second or two, fired one shot. SA [redacted] placed the time at 20 seconds. Based on the totality of witness descriptions, the best estimate of the time frame from Mulato exiting his apartment building to being shot was approximately 20 seconds.

Subsequent investigation determined Mulato recently installed a small audio/video camera on the corner of his apartment building. The audio/video camera was near the location where TTA [redacted] and SA [redacted] took cover on the south side of the apartment building due to [redacted] lingering in his car in the parking lot, as well as the FPPD officer approaching SA [redacted] car. Mulato installed the audio/video camera due to frequent break-ins of his multiple vehicles in the parking lot. The camera was targeted on the Mercedes-Benz, and the monitor was in Mulato's bedroom.

According to [redacted], Mulato's wife. Mulato was awaken by a noise from the monitor and observed individuals on the video monitor. He then jumped out of bed, got dressed, grabbed his pistol from under his pillow, and rushed out of the apartment. [redacted] heard who she thought was Mulato, but she was not certain, saying, "It's okay man", then she heard a single gun shot. During the same interview, [redacted] made a conflicting statement saying she heard the shot first, then Mulato saying, "it's okay man", once or twice. She did not hear anything else through the audio monitor. The audio/video system did not have the capability to record.

. A neighborhood canvas was conducted. Residen[redacted] advised he walked to the dumpster prior to the shooting and observed someone in a uniform talking to someone in a white vehicle in the adjacent Quail Court parking lot. [redacted] dumped his trash, and returned to his apartment building, 1997 Waycross Drive, which was attached to Mulato's building, 1995 Waycross Drive. As he neared the entrance to his building, he heard someone yell, "don't... stop..FBI!" He then heard a single gun shot. [redacted] observation of the white vehicle, presumably SA [redacted] vehicle, with a person in uniform, presumably Officer [redacted], adds credibility to [redacted] statement. However, the seven Agents and TFOs who provided statements were all either in or observing the lot which contained the dumpster, yet not one of them saw [redacted] empty his trash in the dumpster, to include SA [redacted] who was using the dumpster as cover and concealment. b6 b7C

Another neighbor, [redacted] advised he has witnessed Mulato and his friends shooting firearms into the air at night on many occasions. Mulato told [redacted] he shot at someone trying to break into his vehicles on a previous occasion.

On the same day after the shooting, the FPPD obtained state search warrants for Mulato's apartment and his 11 vehicles in the parking lot. The search warrants' probable cause was drug related. The search warrants did not locate drugs or weapons.

Immediately following the shooting incident, the Cincinnati Evidence Response Team (ERT) processed the crime scene. One .40 caliber shell casing was recovered on the west side of the parking lot. One bullet projectile was recovered from the victim at the time of the post mortem examination. The Hamilton County Crime Lab determined the projectile had projectile markings similar to test rounds fired from SA [redacted] 40 caliber Glock, but not sufficient for a full identification. The autopsy report determined the cause of death from internal hemorrhaging caused by a gunshot wound to the stomach, which lacerated the right external iliac artery. Mulato's toxicology report identified cocaine in his system.

In summary, subject Mulato brandished a weapon and was moving towards Agents in an aggressive manner. Agents called out a variety of law enforcement commands, as they moved away from the threat. It was possible, maybe even likely, Mulato never comprehended the installation team dressed in casual clothes were law enforcement. Nevertheless, Mulato posed an imminent threat of serious bodily injury to at least SAs [redacted] and [redacted] Additionally, when SA [redacted] onfronted Mulato to interrupt his threat to the Agents behind the dumpster, Mulato pointed his weapon at SA [redacted] SA [redacted] had no cover between Mulato and himself, and Mulato posed an imminent threat of serious bodily injury to SA [redacted] SA [redacted] announced, "gun", then found one round. SA [redacted] continued to call out law enforcement commands until Mulato dropped the weapon. b6 b7C

Synopsis: The Shooting Incident Review Group (SIRG) reviewed a shooting incident that occurred on 04/05/2007. Special Agents (SAs) assigned to the Newark Division Special Weapons and Tactics (SWAT) Team and the Special Operations Group (SOG) initiated a surveillance on a group of violent bank robbers. During the attempted arrest of one of the suspects, SA [redacted] fired three rounds from his M-4 carbine, killing SA Barry Lee Bush. SIRG members recommended that no administrative action be taken against SA [redacted] as a result of his involvement in this shooting incident. AD Perkins however, chose to addend SIRG's findings and refer this matter to OPR for consideration of imposing administrative sanctions.

Administrative: Reference report of Inspector [redacted] dated 08/01/2007.

Details: This communication was prepared to furnish the analysis, comments, and recommendations of the SIRG with reference to the captioned shooting.

Details of the Shooting Incident

Newark Division Agents conducted an investigation for approximately two months into violent bank robberies committed by a gang of Hispanic males. Investigation identified six males who had committed a series of armed bank robberies in Central New Jersey and further revealed the subjects used stolen vehicles while committing the robberies and were heavily armed with a .380 handgun, AK-47 and SKS-type assault rifles. The suspects fired shots while inside the last three banks being robbed.

OAA to ITU 2 2/8/08

On 03/22/2007, the New Jersey Regional Operations Intelligence Center produced an "Alert" which detailed the activity of the bank robbery group and provided information regarding previous bank robberies, suspects with their photographs, as well as weapons and vehicles used during the robberies. The "Alert" was provided to Newark SOG personnel.

Once the subjects were identified by the Newark Division, a written Operations Order (OP Order) was prepared and approved to conduct surveillance on the subjects in order to develop probable cause for their arrest. Physical surveillance was initiated on the main subject, identified as [redacted] Based on the knowledge that the group was most active on Thursdays and Fridays, physical surveillance was established during the week of 03/30/2007, and plans called for the surveillance to continue the Thursday and Friday of the following week of 04/02/2007. The SWAT team was involved in a support role to effect an arrest of the subjects "at the location of the switch car to the stolen car, prior to the commission of the next bank robbery."

Separate written OP Orders were prepared and approved for the SWAT Team, the squad, and the SWAT medics, and the SOG had a written surveillance request. The "Overall Summary of Primary Plan" Section of the squad OP Order specifically stated, "To surveil subject [redacted] and others utilizing aerial and ground units in an effort to develop sufficient probable cause that subjects are attempting and/or conspiring to commit armed bank robbery. To effect safe arrest of subjects by tactical units subsequent to sufficient probable cause and prior to entry into a commercial bank." The contingency section of the OP Order stated, NOTE: - SOG/OR OTHER FBI PERSONNEL (NON-TACTICAL) SHOULD NOT ATTEMPT TO ARREST SUBJECTS UNLESS IN A LIFE THREATENING SITUATION."

The squad OP Order did not specifically instruct Agents to wear ballistic vests; however, the SOG supervisor counseled SOG members to wear their ballistic vests during this operation.

Although OP Orders were prepared and approved, the Newark Division did not hold a joint briefing to include the SOG, SWAT, as well as state and local law enforcement agencies involved in the operation.

The SWAT OP Order instructed team members to wear full tactical gear and indicated the SWAT teams would be split into two vehicles. Although the SWAT OP Order did not include a contingency for the arrest of the subjects if they split into two vehicles which were not together at the time of the arrest, the contingency was discussed and practiced in the early morning hours of 04/05/2007. The SWAT Team OP Order also indicated, "Newark SWAT will maintain a presence in the Command Post (CP) with 1 SSA and another SSA in the Tactical Operations Center (TOC)." It should be noted that on the day of the incident, no SWAT SSA was in the CP or the TOC.

A CP was established at the Franklin Township Resident Agency (FTRA) in Somerset, New Jersey, and was staffed by state and local law enforcement officers involved in the previous bank robbery investigations. The CP was also staffed by the Case Agent, the SOG SSA, SSA [redacted] SA [redacted] of the Red Bank RA (RBRA); SSA [redacted] Acting ASAC (A/ASAC) [redacted] (SSRA of the FTRA), and in the early morning hours, A/ASAC [redacted] A/ASAC [redacted] deployed to the area of the surveillance as the On-Scene Commander (OSC) prior to the shooting incident. Newark established a TOC inside a mobile home located in the parking lot of the FTRA to relay tactical information to the CP. A/ASAC [redacted] (OSC), SSA [redacted] (SWAT Coordinator), and Electronic Technician (ET) [redacted] were in a vehicle in the area of the surveillance and arrest and acted as a mobile CP. Although A/ASAC [redacted] was the OSC, he believed he was "co-commander" with A/ASAC [redacted] who was located in the CP at the FTRA.

Newark Agents conducted physical surveillance as well as cellular phone monitoring of subject [redacted] On 04/04/2007, a physical surveillance was established in the area of [redacted] residence from 7:00 p.m. until 3:00 a.m. on 04/05/2007. Due to unusual activity at the residence, as well as [redacted] cellular phone activity, law enforcement personnel believed the group was planning to commit a robbery on 04/05/2007, resulting in a SOG team re-establishing physical surveillance at 5:00 a.m., on 04/05/2007.

At approximately 9:00 a.m. on 04/05/2007, a second subject, identified as [redacted] arrived at the [redacted] residence in a white Acura vehicle. [redacted] and [redacted] exited the residence, entered the white Acura, and traveled to another residence in New Brunswick, New Jersey, where they spoke to an unidentified individual. [redacted] and [redacted] then proceeded to another location in New Brunswick where another subject, identified as [redacted] loaded what appeared to be a large bag into the rear of the vehicle. The bag appeared to be one in which skis would normally be transported and Newark Agents believed the bag contained long weapons because the group had previously used that type of weapon during robberies. [redacted] entered the vehicle and the three subjects drove to the Bridgewater Commons Mall where they entered a parking garage and shortly thereafter, exited the parking structure. The subjects drove to another area of the mall parking lot near a department store. One of the subjects approached a small black Honda and a short time later left in the black Honda while the remaining two subjects left the area in the white Acura. Law enforcement personnel were aware the subjects were known to steal pre-2001 model Honda vehicles and use them in the commission of the bank robberies. b6 b7C

At 11:00 a.m., a second surveillance team (known as SOG Team 40) arrived in the area to assist the first SOG Team (known as SOG Team 30). SA Barry Lee Bush was part of SOG Team 40. The SOG teams were communicating on the FBI radio system, channel H-3, a narrow-band, simplex, (car-to-car) channel which allowed for a further range of reception. The SWAT Teams were also communicating on the FBI radio system on channel A-3, which was also a simplex, but not narrow-band. The CP was communicating on channel C-1. ET [redacted] had earlier verified communications were established, SWAT radios were properly coded, and ensured each SWAT vehicle had access to each channel.

The SWAT teams started at the FTRA at approximately 6:30 a.m., on 04/05/2007. They briefed at the RA and rehearsed vehicle stops due to the presence of new operators, including SA [redacted] The SWAT teams arrived in the area of the surveillance at approximately 8:00 a.m., and were "shadowing" the SOG teams as they surveilled the subjects. The SWAT teams were to remain close enough to the surveillance activity to be able to respond and effect the arrest of the subjects as they were switching vehicles prior to committing a bank robbery.

The subjects, in two vehicles, arrived at a Shop-Rite store parking lot at approximately 10:40 a.m., and the SWAT Team Leader requested permission from the OSC to "take" the subjects at that time. The SWAT Team Leader was advised that A/ASAC Turkington was seeking telephonic permission from A/ASAC Fuller. According to A/ASAC Turkington, he was reluctant to effect the arrest of the subjects in the parking lot due to the number of citizens in the area and his concern for their safety. The subject in the black Honda exited his vehicle and entered the white Acura which departed the parking lot and traveled west on Route 22. The suspect's vehicle stopped at a bagel store located on Route 22 across from a shopping center where a Commerce Bank was located. The subjects were observed standing in front of the bagel store watching the bank and members of the SOG believed the subjects were casing the Commerce Bank.

A SWAT team remained at the Shop-Rite parking lot and was instructed to identify a lane to facilitate the arrest of the subjects when they returned. While attempting to locate an area to facilitate the arrest, SWAT personnel drove by the empty black Honda and observed the steering column had been broken, an indicator the vehicle was stolen.

The subjects drove to the area of the PNC Bank on Route 22 in Readington Township and began "casing" the PNC Bank. The SWAT van was shadowing the SOG team following the white Acura; however, the SWAT van got stuck in the soft ground of the median while attempting a u-turn.

The subjects drove back to the Shop-Rite shopping center where surveillance observed the white Acura parked next to the black Honda with both vehicle trunks open, but did not observe an exchange between the vehicles. Two of the subjects exited the white Acura, entered the black Honda, and departed the shopping center. Both subject vehicles stopped at a traffic light and the SWAT team again requested permission to "take them down." Before receiving a response, the traffic light turned green and the two subject vehicles proceeded through the light toward the PNC Bank. The subjects drove past the PNC Bank, made a u-turn in order to travel eastbound, pulled into the Arvins Farm and Garden Center, and met in the parking lot. At that time, the CP requested to take the subjects down at that location. Realizing a bank robbery was imminent, A/ASAC Turkington gave SWAT authority to arrest the subjects. As the SWAT team began to move toward the location, the black Honda proceeded east-bound on Route 22 toward the PNC Bank. Prior to the SWAT teams' arrival at the Arvin Farms and Garden Center, SA [redacted] instructed participants to abort the arrest. The SWAT vans passed by the location and made u-turns further down the road. b6 b7C

The subject in the white Acura exited his vehicle and was sitting on the hood of the car talking on his cell phone. The black Honda pulled into a parking lot on Route 22 east, almost directly across from the bank. A few minutes later, the black Honda pulled out of the parking lot onto a side road that intersected with Route 22 and turned left on Route 22. As the black Honda traveled westbound on Route 22, SOG SA [redacted] was behind it followed by Senior SWAT team Leader SA [redacted] Believing he was not involved in the arrest of the subjects, SA [redacted] continued past the PNC bank while SA [redacted] followed the black Honda into the PNC bank parking lot and pulled his Suburban directly behind the black Honda where he and SA [redacted] attempted the arrest of the two subjects inside the Honda.

SOG SSA [redacted], who was in the CP and believed all SWAT personnel were fully engaged with the black Honda, asked SOG personnel over radio channel H-3, "we still have the white Acura out there, who has the white Acura?" SSA [redacted] asked A/ASAC [redacted] "do you want SOG to take the white Acura?" According to SSA [redacted] he recalled A/ASAC [redacted] responded that the SOG team was to "take the white Acura" or effect the arrest of the white Acura." SSA [redacted], over channel H-3, advised SOG to "effect the arrest of the white Acura. SOG has the responsibility for the white Acura." SA [redacted], the SOG Team Leader, responded and asked SSA [redacted] if they wanted the SOG team to "take the white Acura" and SSA [redacted] responded, "yes." b6 b7C

According to A/ASAC [redacted] he heard an SOG radio indicating the black Honda was entering the PNC bank parking lot. Seconds later he heard, [redacted] is right on them" and "the white Acura is across the street." Believing the white Acura to be a threat to the SWAT team arresting the subjects in the black Honda, A/ASAC [redacted] recalled telling SSA [redacted] "if you can take it, take it."

The radio traffic directed at the SOG to "take the subject" occurred over the frequency utilized exclusively by the SOG (H-3) and did not go over the SWAT channel (A-3). According to SSA [redacted] he did not recall hearing the instruction to the SOG to "take the white car." One SWAT team passed the Arvins Farm and Garden Center traveling west on Route 22, made a u-turn, and pulled into the parking lot of the garden center to arrest the subject in the white Acura. The subject, who was standing outside Acura entered the car. One SWAT team van pulled into the parking lot in a position behind the Acura. At the same time, the second SWAT team Suburban pulled directly in front of the Acura. ET [redacted] was located in a vehicle with SSA [redacted] b6 b7C

According to ET [redacted] SSA [redacted] positioned his vehicle to block the street entrance to the PNC bank. In that position ET [redacted] could not see the black subject vehicle; however, he looked across the street and saw the white Acura parked at an angle facing Highway 22 and the Newark Division's gray SWAT van enter the area where the white Acura was parked and loop around to the back. Almost simultaneously, he observed a blue or black SWAT Suburban driving east on Highway 22 and approaching the white Acura. Suddenly, a black Impala passed the SWAT Suburban on the left and turned into the parking lot where the white Acura was located. As the SWAT van struck the white Acura, the black Impala pulled up to the passenger side of the white Acura at a slight angle and at the mid-point of the vehicle.

The white SWAT team van bumped the suspect vehicle into the red SWAT team Suburban, trapping the white Acura. SWAT personnel in the SWAT van were positioned so team members responsible for the passenger side of the Acura exited through the side passenger door of the van and team members responsible for the driver's side of the subject vehicle exited from the rear doors of the van.

According to SA [redacted] he was sitting on a crate facing the side doors of the van having limited vision through the windshield. As SWAT team members were exiting the van, Team Leader SA [redacted] who was sitting in the front passenger seat, leaned out of the window and threw a flash bang over the hood of the van near the driver's door of the subject vehicle. SA [redacted], possessing an M-4 rifle, was the first SWAT member out of the passenger door and was responsible for covering the rear passenger window of the Acura. SA [redacted] also in possession of an M-4, was the second SWAT member to exit the van and was responsible for addressing any threat in a 45 degree angle of the SWAT van and then returning his focus on the front passenger area of the Acura. SA [redacted] was the third SWAT member to exit, also in possession of an M-4, and was responsible for breaking the rear passenger window of the subject vehicle. SA [redacted] had difficulty breaking the vehicle window resulting in Team Leader [redacted] exiting the van and breaking the window of the vehicle with the muzzle of his long gun. As SA [redacted] broke the vehicle window, the magazine fell from his weapon.

As the SWAT team exited their vehicle and at approximately the same time as the flash bang was thrown, a black Chevrolet Impala, driven by SA Bush, was observed almost perpendicular to the passenger side of the white Acura. SA [redacted] who was approximately 11 ½ feet from the black Impala, observed SA Bush exiting the black Impala. SA [redacted] advised radio traffic throughout the day referred to a white car and a black car without stating the make or model of the vehicles used by the subjects and he believed SA Bush's black Impala was the second subject car. SA [redacted] heard what he believed were two gunshots and believed SWAT team personnel were being fired upon. SA [redacted] observed SA Bush pushing open the driver's door with his left hand but could not see his right hand and also observed a dark object at SA Bush's right side. Focusing on SA Bush's right side and not his face, and perceiving a deadly threat combined with his concern that he and his teammates were exposed to a member of the robbery crew, SA [redacted] fired one round at SA Bush. The expended round struck the window glass of the driver's door of

SA Bush's vehicle and shattered the window. Believing SA Bush had returned fire, SA [redacted] stepped to his right to gain distance between himself and his target and fired two additional rounds at SA Bush. SA [redacted] continued to slide to his right, away from the white Acura toward the rear of the black Impala. SA Bush moved to the rear of his vehicle and fell to the ground. Continuing to believe SA Bush was one of the subjects, SA [redacted] yelled commands for SA Bush to get on the ground. SA Bush fell to the ground and as SA [redacted] moved toward him, he observed SA [redacted] with a shotgun trained on SA Bush. Although SA [redacted] had never seen or met either SA Bush or [redacted] based on SA [redacted] movements and actions SA [redacted] knew he was a member of law enforcement. According to SA [redacted] he was wearing an FBI raid jacket and had been in a perimeter covering position before approaching the SA Bush's vehicle.

Although impossible to determine which shot struck and killed SA [redacted] FBI Laboratory results concluded the bullets removed from SA [redacted] body, as well as his vehicle, were fired from SA [redacted] weapon.

Investigation revealed that SA Bush's black Impala was equipped with strobe lights in the headlight and tail light assemblies; however, based on the position of the switches for the strobe lights, it appeared that only the strobe lights in the tail lights were possibly activated. Photographs reflecting the position of the LED switches immediately following the incident determined the switch for the front strobe lights was in the "off" position and the switch for the rear strobe lights was in the "on" position. No witness observed the activated strobe lights on SA Bush's vehicle. One of the rounds fired by SA [redacted] passed through the door of SA Bush's vehicle, entered the dashboard area to the left of the steering wheel and severed the wiring harness of the strobe light switches.

SA Bush was dressed in a gray sweatshirt with no identifying markings indicating he was law enforcement, nor was he wearing a ballistic vest. SA Bush was the only SOG member who pulled directly up to the scene of the arrest. Although other SOG members heard the radio transmission to effect the arrest of the subject in the white Acura, they observed SWAT members making the arrest and did not approach the vehicle. SOG members supported SWAT by covering the perimeter.

Witnesses stated they were not aware SA Bush had been shot but observed him stumble to the rear of his vehicle and fall to the ground. SA Bush's weapon was secured in its holster when he was shot. On scene medical personnel provided immediate medical assistance to SA Bush until a medi-flight helicopter and local ambulance arrived on the scene. SA Bush was transported to the University Medical and Dental of New Jersey where he was pronounced dead.

On 09/28/2007, the SIRG met to discuss the shooting incident. Deputy Assistant Director Michael S. Clemens, Inspection Division (INSD), chaired the meeting and was a non-voting member. The following voting members were in attendance: [redacted] Trial Attorney, Domestic Security Section, Criminal Division, USDOJ; [redacted] Special Legal Counsel, Civil Rights Division, USDOJ; Section Chief (SC) James Casey, Eurasian Section, CD-1, Counterintelligence Division; Acting Assistant Section Chief [redacted] Violent Crimes Section, Criminal Investigative Division; Unit Chief (UC) [redacted] Firearms Training Unit, Training Division (TD); UC [redacted] Defensive Systems Unit, TDD; Acting UC [redacted] Intellini, Special Weapons and Tactics Operations Unit, Critical Incident Response Group; Acting UC [redacted] Practical Applications Unit, TDD; UC [redacted] Investigative Law Unit (ILU), Office of General Counsel (OGC); [redacted] Assistant General Counsel, ILU, OGC; SSA [redacted] Firearms - Toolmarks Unit, Scientific Analysis Section, Laboratory Division; and SSA [redacted] Washington Field Office. Team Leader [redacted] Office of Inspections (OI), Inspection Division (INSD) and Management Program Analyst (MPA) [redacted] Inspection Management Unit, OI, INSD, non-voting members, were also in attendance.

The SIRG reviewed the incident with the intent to: (1) evaluate the application of deadly force; (2) provide the Director with an evaluative analysis, observations, and recommendations for corrective action from an operational standpoint (if any); (3) provide recommendations concerning training and/or safety issues; and (4) provide recommendations for administrative action if deemed necessary.

Prior to the discussion of this incident by SIRG members, Chairman Clemens provided a brief synopsis of the incident as well as the subsequent investigation. Team Leader [redacted] a member of the Shooting Incident Review Team, was also present in the meeting to provide answers and/or clarification to questions posed by members of the board regarding the shooting investigation. General discussion of the incident elicited questions, comments, and concerns by SIRG members. One DOJ representative advised the shooter (SA [redacted] did not see a weapon and questioned the presence of imminent danger. Additionally, he questioned the

Synopsis: Subject Michael Terry Smith was a suspect in an armed bank robbery and made threats to shoot Capital Hill Police Officers, as well as innocent bystanders, on Capital Hill, Washington, D.C. As a result, on 03/22/2007, Baltimore SWAT served a federal search warrant on the subject's residence, a third floor apartment, in Suitland, Maryland. The team knocked and announced their presence. After no reply, the team executed a forced entry into the one bedroom apartment. After proceeding approximately 15 feet into the living room, the subject fired three rounds from a revolver at the Agents. Agents, not in a position of cover, returned fire with four rounds and exited the apartment. The subject then proceeded to the rear of the third floor apartment and seeing SWAT operators in the rear parking lot, fired two more rounds at the operators. SWAT operators from the rear parking lot returned fire with four rounds. Neither the Agents or the subject were injured during this exchange of gunfire. A nine hour stand-off ensued in which negotiations were established with the subject who continually indicated he would not be taken alive. After nine hours and unsuccessful negotiations, CS gas was deployed into the residence in an attempt to force the subject to exit; this was unsuccessful. The subject was waiting to ambush the SWAT entry team at the only point of entry in the third floor apartment, the front door. To enhance SWAT's tactical advantage, [redacted] were utilized to create four portals for limited penetrations into the subject's apartment in the common wall with an adjoining apartment. This created a view for operators to cover the apartment when SWAT entered through the front door to arrest the subject. The subject moved towards one of the limited penetration portals with his .357 revolver in his hand above his waist, out in front of him. A SWAT operator yelled out, "FBI, get down," but Smith disregarded this command and kept coming toward the operator. The SWAT operator was only protected by the concealment of dry wall and he feared for his life, so he fired four rounds from his MP-5 at the subject to eliminate the threat. Smith was struck by three of the rounds; two rounds hit Smith in the chest and one round struck him in the back of the head as he dropped to the floor from the first two shots.

DETAILS:

On January 26, 2006, SA [redacted] Bank Robbery Coordinator, Washington Field Office (WFO), initiated a bank robbery investigation (91A-WF-235694) pertaining to the robbery of the Virginia Commerce Bank, Alexandria, Virginia. The bank was robbed by a white male wearing a suit, fedora hat, black gloves, dark colored trench coat, and armed with a black semi-automatic gun. During the robbery, $89,000.00 was taken.

On February 27, 2007, Capital Hill Tour Guide [redacted] provided the FBI and United States Capital Police (USCP) information on Michael Terry Smith threatening her over their romantic breakup, as well as her suspicions about Smith being involved in bank robberies. [redacted] met Smith on the Internet in June 2006 and began dating him. Smith subsequently relocated from Henderson, North Carolina to apartment #203, Rena Road, Suitland, Maryland. During the course of her relationship with Smith, he told her he had been previously arrested on drug charges, as well as served four years on a federal bank robbery conviction. During his robberies, he wore suits and was known as the pinstriped bank bandit. In addition, Smith always had large sums of money and was in possession of a black semi-automatic gun. [redacted] was shown a photograph from the robbery of the Virginia Commerce Bank on January 26, 2007. She advised the person in the photograph resembled Smith, particularly the clothing and black bag carried by the subject.

On March 6, 2007 [redacted] reported to SA [redacted] that Smith's threats were escalating. On March 4, 2007, Smith told [redacted] if he did not kill himself, he would spend most of his time in jail. He said, "I want to go out," referring to suicide. He followed with, "my first thought is to drive up to the (Capital Hill) barricade and take out as many cops as I can, then kill myself. If not, then somewhere else like Wal-Mart or Target, just to make national news."

During the week after the March 6, 2006 interview, Smith continued to call and send threatening e-mails to [redacted] On March 15, 2007, SA [redacted] learned [redacted] reported to the USCP that Smith's threats towards Capital Hill were increasing in specificity. Smith planned to give a note to an innocent bystander on Capital Hill and request this person give the note to an USCP officer. The note would state, "the person that is handing you this letter is unaware of its contents and is in no way involved in what is about to happen. I am going to initiate gunfire so that the police will be forced to kill me." Smith further told [redacted] "I am going to give them no choice - that way my mother can collect the insurance money because it will not be suicide. I want it to be a standoff. I want to make sure the media is there. I want everyone to remember that on this day and this year, Michael Smith was at the Capitol and this is where he died."

Based on Smith's threat, an alert regarding this subject was disseminated throughout the USCP. The USCP also requested an arrest warrant for Smith from the District of Columbia. The arrest warrant was denied, since Smith had not committed a crime at any of the U. S. Capitol Buildings.

On March 19, 2007, based on the information received from [redacted] WFO initiated a Conspiracy to Impede or Injure a Federal Officer investigation (89E-WF-235991). SA

[redacted] and Detective [redacted] USCP, met with Assistant United States Attorney (AUSA) [redacted] District of Columbia. Due to the lack of probable cause for an arrest warrant, a strategy was developed to search Smith's apartment and car for a weapon, which would then predicate a felon in possession of a weapon charge. AUSA [redacted] contacted AUSA [redacted], Greenbelt, Maryland, in regard to obtaining search warrants for Smith's apartment and vehicle. AUSA [redacted] concurred with the issuance of the search warrants for violation of felon in possession of a weapon. b6 b7C

On March 20, 2007, search warrants were issued by the United States District Court, District of Maryland, for Smith's apartment #203, 4403 Rena Road, Suitland, Maryland, and his vehicle, a 1987 silver Lincoln Town Car. Due to a statement made by [redacted] regarding Smith's possession of a gun, SA [redacted] requested a "no knock" search warrant from the Greenbelt USAO. The Greenbelt USAO deferred the decision on the basis for a "no knock" to the District of Columbia. The District of Columbia AUSA would not support a "no knock" warrant, so the warrant was obtained without a "no knock" provision.

On March 20, 2007, SA [redacted] prepared an operation plan for the searches and submitted it for approval. The original plan had Agents from WFO making entry and conducting the search. WFO A/ASAC [redacted] reviewed the plan, and based on the tone of Smith's threatening e-mails and the potential for violence, denied the plan and indicated SWAT would serve the warrant. A/ASAC [redacted] contacted the Baltimore Field Office (BA), as the subject's residence was in their territory, and advised BA ASAC Kevin Lewis of the pending operation. ASAC Lewis indicated that BA SWAT would serve the warrant with WFO Agents conducting the search. SA [redacted] submitted a revised operation plan indicating BA SWAT would conduct the entry and WFO Agents would conduct the search. This plan was approved by A/ASAC [redacted]

On March 21, 2007, SA [redacted] met with [redacted] for a pre-operational intelligence debrief. [redacted] advised Smith would be agitated if the police came to his door. On the same date, Smith sent [redacted] two e-mails making increasing threats, "you completely ripped my heart from my chest, and destroyed me, and now you want to make things better, knowing the consequences of fatalities that are going to take place and will be because of you. I do not care about who will get hurt whether it be co-workers or a cop or an innocent bystander, or where it will be, this is not my concern. My concern is that I will make history and never be forgotten." Smith's e-mail further advised, "this is my last letter to you before this happens, see you soon, no wait, you will hear about me soon enough, the end is near." b6 b7C

On the same date at 4:00 p.m., a briefing regarding the execution of only the search warrant was held at WFO, with representatives from USCP. All personnel were provided with a copy of the approved operation plan. During this briefing, information was provided pertaining to the background of the investigation, Smith's criminal history, a possible "Armed and Dangerous" status, the deadly force policy, and a contingency plan to obtain a Maryland state arrest warrant prior to the search warrants for the recent e-mail threats.

On the same date, SA [redacted] spoke with SA [redacted], Senior Team Leader, BA SWAT, via the telephone and briefed him regarding the ongoing investigation. SA [redacted] inquired as to why a "no knock" search warrant was not obtained. SA [redacted] advised that an attempt had been made to obtain one; however, the request was denied by the USAO in the District of Columbia. A copy of the operation plan was provided to SA [redacted] SA [redacted] was advised BA SWAT would complete a separate SWAT operation plan to execute the search warrant. WFO would conduct the search of Smith's vehicle and search Smith's residence after secured by BA SWAT. b6 b7C

During the evening hours, on same date, and after reviewing the recent e-mails from Smith, A/ASAC [redacted] and SA [redacted] telephoned AUSA [redacted] to again request a "no knock" search warrant and the request was denied. AUSA [redacted] conferred with her supervisor, [redacted] who advised "no knock" search warrants were not even issued in drug cases in the District of Columbia.

On the same date, SA [redacted] contacted Detective [redacted] Prince George's County Police (PGCP), in regard to the escalation of the violent threats [redacted] received from Smith. On the evening of the same date, Detective [redacted] interviewed [redacted] in an attempt to obtain a state arrest warrant for Smith, based on these threats. In the early morning hours of March 22, 2007, Detective [redacted] informed SA [redacted] that he was unable to obtain an arrest warrant, but would only be able to get a summons issued for Smith pertaining to the threats.

On the same date, SA [redacted] prepared a written SWAT operation plan for the execution of a WFO search warrant at the apartment occupied by Smith. The operation plan was forwarded to ASAC Frank Goetz who sent SA [redacted] an e-mail approving the plan.

On Thursday, March 22, 2007, at approximately 5:00 a.m., the BA personnel arrived at the Maryland Sate Police (MSP) barracks in the area of Suitland, Maryland to conduct a pre-operation briefing. The Baltimore Division assembled 20 personnel for the execution of the warrant. ASAC Goetz was the on-scene commander during the initial entry. The perimeter team consisted of SAs [redacted] PGCP TFO [redacted] and a Uniformed PGCP Officer [redacted] The SWAT entry team consisted of SAs [redacted] and Lt. [redacted] from MSP, who was the BA SWAT team medic. SAs [redacted] and [redacted] were agents located in the Tactical Operations Center (TOC), and SAs [redacted] and [redacted] were the Hostage Negotiators on scene. WFO Agents and USCP Officers responsible for the search were also present. b6 b7C

WFO case agent, SA [redacted] provided floor plans, color photograph copies of the apartment complex, and a color photograph of subject Smith. SA [redacted] briefed the written operation plan and sequence of events, as well as the FBI deadly force policy. The entry team then conducted a simulated walk-thru of the entry. SA [redacted] conducted a briefing of the MSP medic assigned to the SWAT team. He conducted a "sound-off" radio check for the TOC and confirmed the TOC was in place prior to the SWAT deployment to the scene. The TOC was located in a SWAT Suburban parked just south of the entrance door of Smith's apartment building.

As required by the search warrant and contained in the operation plan, the team was advised of the "knock and announce" requirement, then wait a reasonable time for Smith to answer the door; if no answer, SWAT would deploy the battering ram to gain entry into Smith's apartment. SA [redacted] briefed the team and gave instructions if shots were fired, the team would fall back to a secure position on the landing below the apartment door. Noise discipline was briefed upon the dismount as Smith was considered armed and dangerous due to a prior felony conviction, as well as his threats to his former girlfriend and USCP Officers.

The rear perimeter team consisted of non-SWAT operators, BA SAs [redacted] and [redacted] These three Agents had an average of two years field experience. They took positions in the rear of the complex, 40 yards across the parking lot from the rear windows of the subject's third floor apartment. The apartment complex was high density, containing numerous rows of three story apartment buildings. The perimeter Agents were positioned behind vehicles for cover, with approximately 15-20 yards between them.

At 6:05 a.m., the BA SWAT team staged on the open air landing outside of Smith's third floor apartment door, and SA [redacted] performed the "knock and announce" three times. After the third "knock and announce", which was approximately 30 seconds from the initial "knock and announce", SA [redacted] gave the command to deploy the ram. It took two hits with the ram on the metal door to breach the door. The first four members of the entry team entered the apartment while continuously identifying themselves as 'FBI, serving a search warrant.' The team moved across the dining room to the kitchen area. The personnel who entered the door and their assignments in order were SA [redacted] (shield), SA [redacted] (cover - long gun), SA [redacted] (commands - long gun), and SA [redacted] (team leader); the other four SWAT operators remained on the landing outside the apartment door.

Upon entering the apartment, it was completely dark. SA [redacted] switched on his ballistic shield light and the light located on his Glock service handgun. SA [redacted] moved into the living room where he was positioned near the hallway and just past the kitchen wall. At this point, SA [redacted] stopped when he saw a hand protruding from the hallway into the living room holding a large silver revolver. SA [redacted] had his ballistic shield in his right hand and .40 caliber Glock model 22 handgun in his left hand. Three rounds were fired from the silver revolver towards the SWAT team without hitting any SWAT operators. SA [redacted] estimated where the subject's body was behind the wall in relationship to where the subject's arm was, then SA [redacted] fired four rounds from his pistol into the wall. The revolver and arm disappeared from view, then SA [redacted] ordered the entry team to pull back. SA [redacted] then called out "shots fired" over the radio.

The SWAT team then moved backwards out of Smith's apartment and down the stairs to the landing on the second floor of the apartment building. On the landing, SA [redacted] was behind the ballistic shield, SA [redacted] (cover - long gun), and SA [redacted] began to yell up to the apartment to try to make contact with the subject and determine if he was hurt. The three Agents began rotating one on the shield and one on the long-gun with one man resting.

Once the shooting in the apartment occurred, ASAC Goetz requested three WFO Agents, who were staged several blocks away, respond to the rear of the building and assist the rear perimeter BA team already in place. SAs [redacted], [redacted], and [redacted] responded to the rear.

At 6:10 a.m., the rear perimeter BA team called out on the radio that the subject was attempting to exit the apartment from his "balcony." The subject was actually attempting to exit through the bedroom window. When the perimeter team called out for subject to halt, the subject swung his arm around towards them as if he had a weapon, and the entire BA perimeter team took cover and lost visual contact. No shots were fired by the subject or the rear perimeter team at this time.

SA sent SWAT SAs and to the rear of the apartment building. SA with a ballistic shield, led the movement of the team toward the back of the building and was focusing on the balcony, where the perimeter team reported the subject was last seen. While covering the subject's balcony, SA observed a white male pull out the screen in the subject's apartment. SA visually identified the white male as Smith, who then immediately fired two shots at the SWAT operators. SA returned fire with two shots from his .45 caliber Glock model 21 pistol. SA who was maintaining cover with an M-4 long-gun, fired one shot at the subject. SAs and maintained their position for approximately five minutes. Then, SA provided cover for SAs and as they moved perpendicularly across the parking lot to take up positions next to the perimeter team. Once SAs and were secured behind cover with the rear perimeter team, SA crawled backwards out of the parking lot back toward the corner of the building.

SAs and maintained their position on the second floor stairs behind the ballistic shield. SA continued to yell up to the apartment to try to talk the subject out of the apartment. Negotiators, SA and SA obtained approval from ASAC Goetz to go forward in order to establish "verbal containment." SA and SA were inserted into the stairwell on the landing below the subject's apartment at 6:25 a.m. Initially, SA was the primary negotiator, with SA as the coach. The subject was on the floor above the two negotiators, with the door partially closed. SA and SA repeatedly made telephone calls to the subject's two known cellular numbers. Calls to one of the telephone numbers went directly to voice mail. Calls to the second cellular telephone number were answered by a recording indicating the subscriber could not be located. From approximately 6:25 a.m. to 9:00 a.m., SA and SA attempted to engage the subject by shouting up the stairwell. Initially, the subject was unresponsive to verbal commands to speak with him. While the negotiators were trying to open dialogue with Smith, Agent personnel began evacuating the adjoining apartments.

Once the initial shooting occurred, ASAC Geotz requested assistance from MSP and PGCP. The PGCP request was for an armored vehicle to safely retrieved the Agents on the rear perimeter. PGCP indicated they could only provide an armored vehicle if they took over the entire scene; the PGCP offer was declined. The Montgomery County Police (MCP) were contacted and agreed to assist with an armored personnel carrier. WFO SWAT was also contacted for additional manpower.

At 8:45 a.m., the MCP SWAT team arrived with the armored vehicle. The armored vehicle extracted the Agents on the rear perimeter and replaced them with SWAT operators.

At 9:00 a.m., the subject responded to SA stating he would speak "face to face", and "come on up, we'll talk." The subject was adamant at this point he was not coming out, but the negotiators could come in. SA advised Smith the negotiators would not be able to talk to him face to face for safety reasons. These exchanges with the subject were done by shouting back and forth between the subject in his third floor apartment with the negotiators on the second floor landing. The subject again became unresponsive.

Additionally at 9:00 a.m., the MSP SWAT team arrived and set up a sniper position in a third floor apartment across the parking lot in the rear of the building which allowed for a level view through the rear windows in Smith's apartment. The MSP snipers indicated they could not get a view of the subject in the apartment due to drawn curtains.

SA [redacted] contacted the apartment complex management supervisor to determine the layout of the apartment building to determine if Smith could get up into the attic or crawl space and get into another apartment. The building engineer indicated from Smith's apartment, it was possible to get up into the crawl space of other apartments on that level, but there was no access connecting apartment buildings. After the meeting with the apartment complex management, the BA SWAT team, with the support of WFO SWAT members, devised a plan to evacuate residents out through windows of adjoining apartments and down a ladder. In one instance, SWAT operators had to cut a hole through drywall of one apartment to remove innocent neighbors out through an adjoining apartment and down a ladder. During this time, SWAT Agents were placed in the apartments directly across and diagonally from the subject's apartment on the third floor to cover Smith's front door.

At 9:37 a.m., Smith threw his wallet, keys, and a note out his apartment door onto the landing. The note instructed the Agents to give the keys to his car to his mother and indicated he was ready to die. Negotiators continued a one way dialogue with Smith.

At 9:40 a.m., BA SAC William D. Chase arrived at the scene from an out of town conference, and he assumed the role of the On-Scene Commander. WFO SAC Jennifer Smith Love had arrived earlier, however, ASAC Goetz remained the On-Scene Commander. b6 b7C

Throughout the next several hours, BA and MSP SWAT were rotating SWAT operators in and out of positions on the stairs below Smith's apartment and throughout the perimeter. Sometime before noon, Lt. [redacted] MSP, indicated their operators had another operation later that evening and would need to be replaced. SA [redacted] began rotating WFO SWAT operators with the BA operators. The shield team in an apartment diagonally across the hall from Smith's apartment consisted of six SWAT members rotating every five to ten minutes. In this position, the team's mission was to utilize a ballistic barricade to cover Smith's apartment front door, and were ready to address him if he exited the apartment.

Between 9:45 a.m. and 10:00 a.m., another hostage negotiator, SA [redacted] arrived in the stairwell. SA [redacted] was then extracted, so she could assume her duties in the Command Post. From that point forward, SA [redacted] remained with SAC Chase, ASAC Goetz, and the SWAT SSA [redacted] SA [redacted] assumed the role as the primary negotiator, and was being coached by SA [redacted]

SA [redacted] advised the subject became more responsive, however distance continued to hamper communications. The subject reported he flushed his cell phone down the toilet. SA [redacted] told the subject that today wasn't turning out the way anyone had expected it to, and the subject replied, "yeah, you guys messed (word substitute) up, you thought this was going to be easy - I like the way it turned out."

At 10:56 a.m., SAC Chase approved the insertion of a "rescue telephone" to enhance communications with the subject. Due to the fact the BA rescue telephone had been damaged in a training exercise the previous week and was inoperable, WFO's rescue telephone was used. This phone was a different model, which was never used by the BA negotiators. The telephone was equipped with covert audio and video surveillance capabilities. The WFO Electronic Technician [redacted] was newly assigned to support the equipment, and had not yet been trained on the operation and maintenance of the rescue telephone. The BA personnel did not know how to operate WFO's covert microphone. BA negotiators were accustomed to an on/off button to operate the covert audio, whereas the WFO system's covert audio operated continuously, unbeknownst to BA, without an on/off button. The negotiators set up the main console in the NOC separate from the TOC, and deployed the auxiliary console to the TOC. In the TOC, ET [redacted] and WFO negotiator SA [redacted] operated the equipment. There was never an attempt, nor capability to record the video feed. ET [redacted] attempted to connect a single handheld recorder retrieved from an Agent's car to record the negotiator and subject conversations. The video feed was intelligence provided to the tactical operators and was primarily monitored by the TOC personnel, BA SAs [redacted] and [redacted]

At 11:33 a.m., the rescue telephone was positioned outside of Smith's door. At 11:45 a.m., Smith reached out and pulled the telephone inside the apartment. SWAT operators provided 15 feet of cable for the telephone in order to control the subject's location in the apartment. Smith immediately picked up the telephone receiver and began speaking with SA [redacted] SAs [redacted] and [redacted] departed the stairwell to the NOC in the parking lot. b6 b7C

SA [redacted] then appointed SA [redacted] to be the team leader in the NOC. SA [redacted] was the primary negotiator on the phone with the subject, and SA [redacted] WFO's lead hostage negotiator, was acting as SA [redacted] coach. SA [redacted] was serving as the negotiator's liaison in the TOC and maintained a telephonic log regarding the negotiations over the rescue telephone. SA [redacted] began audio recording what he thought was the conversation between SA [redacted] and the subject through the auxiliary hostage negotiator console in the TOC at approximately 11:47 a.m. ET [redacted] had connected the recording device into the microphone connection on the video monitor, and, unbeknownst to ET [redacted] or SA [redacted] the recording device was only capturing low level apartment noise and not the negotiators conversation with Smith. b6 b7C

From approximately 11:47 a.m. until 12:45 p.m., Smith spoke continuously with SA [redacted] Smith stated he wanted to die. He told [redacted] he was wearing a suit so he could be a good looking corpse. Although the negotiators did not believe Smith based on the totality of the circumstances, Smith stated he returned fire when the cops came in and shot at him. He said his death would be [redacted] fault. He did not get to go to church to repent his sins. He had thought about taking sleeping pills, but he wanted to go out in a blaze of glory. He stated repeatedly he would not go to prison or to a nut house. SA [redacted] did not feel she was able to develop a rapport with him; she believed Smith had made up his mind he would be killed during the barricade situation. The video feed from the rescue telephone showed Smith sitting in a chair with his weapon pointed towards the door, waiting for the FBI to enter the apartment. At this point, the NOC decided to end the phone call, which was at 12:45 p.m., to conduct an assessment.

SA [redacted] rewound the audio tape to listen to the recorded conversation but couldn't hear anything. ET [redacted] disconnected the recording device from the viewing monitor and connected the recording device to another port on the remote auxiliary console in the TOC, which was later determined to be the covert audio microphone outlet.

At 1:45 p.m., WFO SA [redacted] became the lead negotiator and initiated contact through the rescue telephone with Smith. During this second telephone conversation, Smith advised he had fired two shots when cops entered the apartment, and he thought he was being robbed. Smith knew he would go to jail for a long time; he thought he would have to serve a minimum of ten years. He said the only way for this to end would be for the police to come in and kill him, as payback to [redacted] for ending their relationship. Smith also stated he had previously served four and a half years in prison, and he was too old to go back to prison. Smith wanted the FBI to contact his mother so she could come and get his car after his death. Smith said had been in construction for 25 years, and has endured 42 years of pain, heart break, and struggle, and wanted to stop the pain. b6 b7C

At 2:00 p.m., SAC Chase requested a final assessment from SA [redacted] on the status of negotiations and the likelihood that Smith would surrender. SA [redacted] indicated that the subject was very fatalistic and was not going to surrender. She indicated Smith was not going to commit suicide; wanted a violent confrontation with the FBI; and wanted the FBI to kill him. SA [redacted] based her opinion on the following factors: (1) according to the subject, he took a shower and put on his best suit and indicated he was ready to die; (2) the subject threw out his car keys and wanted his car to be given to his mother upon his death; and (3) the subject had not made any demands or requests during the negotiation process, but continued firm on the fact he was ready to die and wanted the FBI to come and get him. SA [redacted] consulted with the Behavioral Sciences Unit, Critical Incident Response Group (CIRG), who concurred with her assessment that Smith was not coming out nor was he going to surrender. Other negotiators on scene were in agreement with SA [redacted]

In the early afternoon, SA [redacted] WFO SWAT Senior Team Leader [redacted] and BA SWAT SSA [redacted] drafted an incremental plan with graduated sequence of events to decrease Smith's comfort level to the point of surrendering. This four stage plan was developed to resolve the barricade situation inasmuch as the negotiations had been unsuccessful. At any point in this plan, if negotiations became productive, the subsequent stages would be held in abeyance. The four stages were:

b6 b7C b7E

The entire plan was verbally briefed to SACs Chase and Love; SAC Chase approved the plan as briefed.

Factors SAC Chase considered in the course of deciding to end the negotiation phase and begin to apply pressure to Smith to surrender were as follows: (1) escalation of the situation by Smith; (2) concern that Smith could gain a tactical advantage over the FBI by initiating his own action to end the standoff; the subject could go on the offensive and burst out the front door toward Agents, located only 15 feet away, and get off a lucky shot, as well as fire out the rear apartment window at the perimeter team; (3) concern regarding public safety issues, specifically, that children were returning from school and a school bus of special needs children was due to arrive back at the complex soon; (4) the extended displacement of a large number of civilians from the surrounding community; and (5) information provided by a video camera located in the rescue telephone showed the subject taking an offensive position with his gun pointed at the front door anticipating an entry by the FBI.

The following personnel were staged in position prior to the execution of the four phase plan. In apartment #201, diagonally from Smith's apartment, were BA SWAT SA [redacted] WFO SWAT SAs [redacted] and [redacted] and MSP Sergeant [redacted] and Officer [redacted] This team's mission was to cover Smith's door and assist in providing the rolling ballistic bunker as cover for the entry team if Phase Four was implemented. b6 b7C

In apartment #202, directly across from Smith's apartment, were BA SWAT SAs [redacted] (shield) [redacted] (long-gun) [redacted] (Team Leader), and [redacted] (long-gun). This team's mission was to conduct an entry and a slow clear of Smith's apartment if Phase Four was implemented.

In apartment #204, the apartment with the common wall with Smith's apartment #203, were WFO SWAT SAs [redacted] and [redacted] BA SWAT SAs [redacted] and [redacted] MSP Officer [redacted] and MCP Officers [redacted] and [redacted] b7E

The tear gas deployment team was located in the apartment parking lot across from the rear of Smith's apartment building. The team consisted of all WFO SWAT operators, SAs [redacted] and [redacted] as the gas shooters, and a cover team of SAs [redacted] and [redacted].

Sniper positions were held in the apartment complex across the parking lot from the rear of Smith's apartment building. The view of the sniper positions was the rear bedroom window and the balcony. Snipers in place were WFO SWAT SA [redacted] and [redacted].

Agents were positioned on the stairwell to provide cover in case Smith came charging out of his apartment firing, and to provide support upon the entrance of the clearing team after the [redacted]. The Agents were WFO SWAT SAs [redacted]; BA SWAT SAs [redacted]; and MSP Medic Officer [redacted].

At 2:49 p.m., SAC Chase gave approval to initiate Phase One of the plan and the utilities to Smith's apartment were terminated. Negotiators indicated the shut-off of the utilities had no effect upon the subject. Smith stated there was no way he was ever coming out; they would have to come in and kill him; and he had made peace and was ready.

At 3:15 p.m., SAC Chase authorized SWAT to deploy the CS tear gas. A grenade launcher was used to shoot five rounds of gas into the subject's apartment. Four rounds went into the bedroom, and one round into the utility closet off of the balcony. The plan was to move the subject toward the front door. Upon insertion of the first two volleys of gas, an eye-ball camera for enhanced video feed was discretely inserted by a pole through the partially open apartment front door into the living room. However, Smith noticed the eye-camera and fired two shots, with at least one hitting the eye-ball camera. BA SA [redacted] MSP Sergeant [redacted] and MSP Officer [redacted], reported Smith fired one round through the partially open front door into the apartment #201 diagonally across the hall containing Agents and officers who were behind a ballistic barricade. Two or three minutes later, SAC Chase authorized four more canisters of gas to be fired through Smith's rear patio door. The negotiator continued talking to Smith, but he refused to come to the door and the gas appeared to have no effect on him. Two more canisters of gas were then fired into the subject's bedroom and two into the patio door. Negotiations continued, then four additional gas canisters were fired into the apartment. A total of 17 CS gas canisters were fired into the apartment; one canister, the eighteenth, hit an exterior wall and fell harmlessly to the ground.

At 3:30 p.m., Smith was back on the rescue telephone with SA [redacted] Smith was angry about the gas and about the "camera" in his door. The subject was screaming for the cops to come in to kill him, and he was ready to die. Smith then went from being very agitated when the gas was inserted to, as seen from the video feed from the rescue telephone, calmly sitting in a chair near the kitchen with a cloth over his face pointing a gun at the front door. He was not reacting to the gas and did not show any indication of coming out.

At this time, SAC Chase consulted with Lt. [redacted] medic and senior officer on scene for MSP. Lt. [redacted] stated in his experience as a tactical SWAT medic, if the CS gas had no effect on the subject by now, additional gas would not make a difference due to his apparent ability to withstand the effects of the gas and all the windows in the apartment being broken, providing for ventilation of the gas. b6 b7C b7E

Based upon the shots fired by Smith, the lack of effect of the gas upon him, and reports from the TOC that Smith had placed himself into an offensive position near the kitchen, pointing his gun at the door waiting for a SWAT entry, SAC Chase consulted with operational partners, MSP and MCP, on moving to Phase Three. There was agreement with his partners to use the [redacted]

Smith was viewed by FBI Agents through both the partially disabled eye-ball camera and the rescue telephone video feed running, with the revolver in his hand, from near the kitchen into the hallway before losing visual contact. SA [redacted] through his limited penetration port hole in the bathroom, saw Smith coming towards him from the hallway into the bathroom. Smith had his .357 revolver in his hand above his waist, out in front of him. SA [redacted] yelled out "FBI, get down," but Smith completely disregarded his command and kept coming toward him. SA [redacted] was only protected by the concealment of dry wall and he feared for his life, so he fired his 10 mm MP-5 at the subject to eliminate the threat. SA [redacted] fired four rounds; two rounds hit Smith in the chest and one round caused a deep graze wound in the back of the head as he dropped to the floor from the first two shots. FBI Laboratory results matched the two bullets recovered from Smith's chest with SA [redacted] weapon.

There were seven other Agents and officers in apartment #204 with SA [redacted] who were focused on the other three portal holes. No one witnessed SA [redacted] firing his weapon, but MCP Officers [redacted] and MSP Officer [redacted] heard SA [redacted] call out his law enforcement command to Smith. b6 b7C b7E

After the [redacted] the four member entry team in apartment #202 (SAs [redacted] and [redacted] attempted to stage at Smith's front door behind the MSP rolling barricade. However, the barricade was stuck exiting apartment #201, so SA [redacted] pushed the barricade team aside after hearing shots fired, and his team entered the front door using shields. The team entered slowly and cleared the living room, then slowly moved toward the kitchen and down the hall. SA [redacted] called out seeing a male lying face down on the bathroom floor. SA [redacted] saw Smith had a silver revolver in his right hand, and he kicked the gun out of Smith's hand. SA [redacted] grabbed Smith's arms and placed flex cuffs on his wrists. SAs [redacted] and [redacted] cleared the back bedroom and a utility closet. SA [redacted] then called in the medics to provide assistance to Smith. SA [redacted] returned to the bathroom and found a chrome plated .357 magnum revolver with black grips on the bathroom floor. SA [redacted], being a firearms instructor, put on protective gloves and rendered the gun safe by ejecting three fired shells and three live shells from the handgun. He placed the empty gun back on the floor. b6 b7C

Smith was pulled out of the bathroom and placed in the middle of the living-room floor and was attended to by MSP Medic Officer [redacted] who pronounced Smith dead.

Immediately following the shooting incident, the BA Evidence Response Team (ERT), with the assistance of the FBI Laboratory, processed the crime scene. ERT recovered four shell casings from a .40 caliber weapon in the living room area; five .357 caliber shell casings in a closet across from the bathroom; three .45 caliber shell casings and one .223 caliber casing in the parking lot to the west of the apartment; and four 10 mm shell casings in the adjacent apartment #204 near a breach hole into the bathroom. In addition, there were three empty shell casings in a .357 magnum revolver that was in the possession of Smith at the time of the shooting. Locations of shell casings from any semi-automatic or automatic weapons was consistent with witness accounts of events. Several bullet projectiles were also recovered in the apartment. Many of the projectiles were not able to be located or, in some cases, were deemed inaccessible to search personnel.

The FBI Laboratory sent two processing teams to the scene to conduct detailed bullet trajectory measurements and to conduct advanced digital diagram using a Nikon Total Station package. According to the Laboratory Team, there were clear shooting positions that could be identified from the trajectories. These included shooting positions in the living room, the closet across from the bathroom, from the parking lot west of the apartment, and from the adjacent apartment into the bathroom. All recovered firearms and projectiles were submitted to the FBI Laboratory for further analysis and identification.

Interviews of non-law enforcement personnel were conducted at the scene during a neighborhood canvas. In summary, there were no non-law enforcement witnesses to the shooting incident during the initial search warrant or during the shooting of Smith by SA [redacted] later the same day. Several neighbors heard the shots fired and the law enforcement commotion outside of their apartments. One neighbor and friend of [redacted] reported that recently Smith told him that he was "felling suicidal." [redacted] was aware Smith had a .357 revolver. Furthermore, over the prior weekend, Smith told [redacted] that he was going to make history for [redacted], Smith's girlfriend, to remember. b6 b7C

The Office of the General Counsel (OGC) determined the inadvertent Title III did not require any additional action, either administratively or with the court. This was based on the clear pattern of facts illustrating the inadvertent nature of the event, coupled with the only person with standing is deceased.

Title: SHOOTING INQUIRY
REPORT OF SHOOTING INCIDENT
SACRAMENTO DIVISION, FRESNO RESIDENT AGENCY
03/15/2007

Character: ADMINISTRATIVE INQUIRY

Synopsis: On 03/15/2007, the Fresno Methamphetamine Task Force (FMTF), as part of the High Intensity Drug Trafficking Initiative (HIDTA) Task Force, which consisted of personnel from the California Department of Justice, Bureau of Narcotic Enforcement (CAL DOJ/BNE), Fresno Regional Office, United States Drug Enforcement Administration (DEA), Fresno Police Department (FPD), Fresno County Sheriff's Department (FCSD), California Highway Patrol (CHP), Merced County Sheriff's Department (MCSD), Madera County Sheriff's Department (Madera SD), and the Federal Bureau of Investigation (FBI), were attempting to conduct a buy/bust operation in the parking lot of a Burger King located at Fresno and "C" Street in Fresno, California. The target of this operation was [redacted], Hispanic Male, Date of Birth [redacted]. Prior to conducting the operation, a [redacted] b6 b7C b7D The FMTF established a contingency plan to arrest [redacted] upon his arrival in the Burger King parking lot. Upon [redacted] arrival in the parking lot, [redacted] When the arrest team proceeded to execute the arrest, [redacted] who was the driver complied with the officers demands, but the passenger bolted and ran towards Highway 99 and was pursued by SA [redacted] During the foot pursuit, the Hispanic male failed to comply with SA [redacted] demands to "stop." SA [redacted] also noticed that the subject appeared to run with his hand at his waist as though he had a weapon. When SA [redacted] observed the subject turn towards him with a silver gun in hand, SA [redacted] reported firing one shot. Prior to the subject's disappearance in the brush down the embankment, SA [redacted] fired two additional shots. A perimeter was established and FPD local SWAT and K-9 units were deployed. The subject, was later identified as [redacted], was arrested and transported to the University Medical Center (UMC) for medical treatment. b6 b7C

DETAILS:

On 02/26/2007 [redacted] contacted Officer [redacted] and advised that a subject only known to the [redacted] was living in a Fresno, California neighborhood and was distributing large quantities of methamphetamine.

[redacted] began assisting the FMTF in negotiating the purchase of narcotics from the subject known as [redacted] The negotiations were recorded and resulted in the purchase of approximately 15.2 grams of methamphetamine from [redacted] and two unidentified Hispanic male subjects [redacted] During this drug buy, the FMTF surveillance team acquired the vehicle driven by [redacted] The vehicle, a gray Ford Focus, was registered to a [redacted] Fresno, California.

[redacted]

On 03/15/2007, at approximately 6:11 pm, the HIDTA FMTF (investigative team) created an operations plan in which [redacted] would assist the FMTF to conduct a buy/bust. The FMTF consisted of officers/agents from several state, local, and federal agencies and were listed as follows:

1. Sergeant [redacted] FPD Supervisor
2. Officer [redacted] FPD
3. Officer [redacted] FPD
4. Officer [redacted] FPD
5. Officer [redacted] FPD
6. Deputy [redacted] Madera CSD
7. Deputy [redacted] FCSD
8. SA, [redacted] BNE
9. SA [redacted], FBI

[redacted] and [redacted] had been negotiating the purchase of three to four ounces of methamphetamine. [redacted] agreed to sell [redacted] four ounces for a purchase price of $4,444. Based on prior information garnered during the [redacted] and the recorded conversations, Officer [redacted] authored a search warrant which was signed by Honorable Judge Hoff for [redacted] Fresno, California. [redacted] and [redacted] arranged to meet in the Burger King parking lot located at the corner of Fresno Street and "C" Street in Fresno, California.

At approximately 5:00 pm, Officer [redacted] briefed all assisting FMTF personnel regarding the buy/bust. During the briefing, an operations order was distributed to each member of the team and TFS [redacted] gave specific assignments for the buy/bust. The Bust Team consisted of TFS [redacted] and TFAs [redacted] and [redacted]. The Surveillance Team consisted of TFAs [redacted] and [redacted] Officer [redacted] handled [redacted] and would stay with the Surveillance Team. With the exception of Officer [redacted] who was with the [redacted] the remaining FMTF members all wore fully marked tactical gear with the word "POLICE" fully visible on the front and back of their uniforms.

At approximately 5:45 pm, all assisting FMTF members were in position in the parking lot of the Burger King. The [redacted] vehicle was searched for drugs and/or weapons. None were found. [redacted] was equipped with an electronic listening device. While waiting for [redacted] to arrive, [redacted] received a phone call from [redacted] who advised he was on his way. Unaware that he failed to hang up the phone, [redacted] was overheard by [redacted] talking to two unknown males saying that he wanted to rip the [redacted]. The two unknown subjects and [redacted] were overheard saying that they would rip [redacted] when they arrived at the Burger King parking lot.

[redacted] immediately advised Officer [redacted] of what he just heard. Officer [redacted] relayed that information to the Task Force Sergeant (TFS) [redacted], the On-Scene commander. TFS [redacted] advised Officer [redacted] to remove [redacted] off of the lot and to place [redacted] into the vehicle of Officer [redacted] This vehicle was parked adjacent to the Burger King parking lot. The arrest/surveillance teams were instructed to stay in the parking lot so FMTF TFAs could arrest [redacted] and any additional subjects involved in the plan to "rip" [redacted] of his/her money.

b6
b7D

A black Ford Explorer, with California license [redacted] was seen driving through the lot several times. [redacted] positively identified the driver of that vehicle as [redacted] to Officer [redacted] Visible sitting next to [redacted] was an unidentified Hispanic male, later identified as [redacted]. TFS [redacted] advised all FMTF personnel to stay in place and the Bust Team would take [redacted] into custody upon his arrival to the parking lot. SA [redacted] was in the vehicle with Sergeant [redacted] and was seated in the front passenger seat. Behind SA [redacted] was Deputy [redacted] and behind Sergeant [redacted] was Officer [redacted]

When the black Explorer parked, TFS [redacted] gave the bust signal and pulled his unmarked task force vehicle directly behind in order to bumper lock the subjects' vehicle. As the arrest team exited the Bust Team vehicle wearing tactical law enforcement clothing, fully marked with clear "POLICE" insignia, subject [redacted] immediately complied with the arrest orders and was taken into custody without incident. However, the subject passenger, [redacted] exited the vehicle and began running south on the east side of the Burger King restaurant. SA [redacted] began a foot pursuit while identifying himself as law enforcement and ordering [redacted] to stop. Deputy [redacted] also ran after [redacted] but was some distance behind SA [redacted]

During the foot pursuit, Detective [redacted] parralled the chase in his unmarked police vehicle and turned into the path of subject [redacted] in a effort to block his path and/or to stop the pursuit. As Detective [redacted] pulled in front of [redacted] ran into the side of the police vehicle. Detective [redacted] thought [redacted] had been knocked down, but when he exited his vehicle he realized that [redacted] spun around and kept running eastbound towards

Highway 99. It was then Detective [redacted] heard shots fired, saw SA [redacted] a distance behind his vehicle, and observed [redacted] making his way down through the bushes. SA [redacted] and Detective [redacted] did not pursue [redacted] because of the inherent danger. Both observed [redacted] with what appeared to be a shinny gun in [redacted] hand prior to losing visibility of the subject in the brush. Detective [redacted] vehicle sustained scatch marks believed to have come from the weapon carried by [redacted] b6 b7C

SA [redacted] reported seeing [redacted] clutching the waistband of his pants with his right hand while running. [redacted] was approximately 10 yards ahead of SA [redacted] who repeatedly shouted "police" and "stop." After [redacted] path was cut-off by Detective [redacted] vehicle, [redacted] made eye-contact with SA [redacted] during which time SA [redacted] reported seeing a silver semiautomatic handgun in [redacted] hand. The gun was held level to [redacted] torso and pointed outward in a ready to shoot position. Before [redacted] completed his 180 degree turn, toward SA [redacted] SA [redacted] believed if he did not take action that [redacted] was going to shoot him. SA [redacted] stopped running, obtained the shooting stance and fired one round at [redacted] After [redacted] first round was fired, [redacted] did not complete his 180 turn, but ran around the back of the undercover vehicle approaching the edge of the embankment. Fearing that [redacted] would take cover and begin firing at SA [redacted] SA [redacted] then fired two more rounds in succession before [redacted] disappeared into the brushes.

When the remaining arrest team members met up with SA [redacted] and Officer [redacted] they were advised that [redacted] had a gun. A security perimeter was established until additional personnel arrived and could initiate a controlled search for [redacted]

Fresno Police Department SWAT team was activated at approximately 7:00 pm, and deployed to find and arrest [redacted] For safety purposes, all vehicle traffic was stopped surrounding the area. Since the area where [redacted] was last seen was covered with dense vegetation, a Police K-9 was used to help find [redacted] Prior to the search for [redacted] marked police vehicles were used to provide overhead lighting. Multiple K-9 announcements were given from both air (CHP helicopter) and ground using a public access system. The K-9 was released in the area where [redacted] was last seen by SA [redacted] and Detective [redacted]. A struggle was heard and the K-9 and [redacted] were seen coming out of the brush and rolling down the embankment. [redacted] punched the K-9 several times, however, the K-9 bit and held [redacted] left bicep. Once down the hill, [redacted] was arrested at approximately 10:20 pm and medical assistance was obtained for [redacted] injuries. b6 b7C

SA [redacted] positively identified [redacted] in the emergency room of the UMC Hospital as the fleeing subject. SA [redacted] reported that during the identification process, [redacted] "winked" at him leaving him to believe that [redacted] also recognized him. Fresno Police Officers [redacted] and [redacted] were with [redacted] when [redacted] stood from his hospital bed and winked at [redacted] while laughing. b6 b7C

Two of the eight employees of the Burger King witnessed portions of the incident. The manager, [redacted], saw a Hispanic male running fast across the front of the restaurant heading toward Highway 99. He then saw a uniformed police officer chasing the Hispanic male followed by two gunshots. He remained inside the restaurant.

The second employee advised she was working inside Burger King when she heard shouting outside. She heard something to the effect of "get down, get down," "stop," "don't run," and "put your hands up in the air." She looked out and saw a man running by the Burger King holding something in his hand. She then saw the police officer chasing him. The employee was not sure if it was a gun because of how the subject was moving his arms up and down during the pursuit.

During a search subsequent to the arrest of [redacted] a silver and black Bersa .380 caliber semi-automatic pistol with an extended magazine was located in the heavy bushes east of the embankment. The gun contained one live "fed" .380 caliber round in the chamber of the gun and nine rounds of the same ammunition in the extended magazine. It was later determined that the weapon located at the scene, believed to have been carried by [redacted] was reported stolen from the residence of [redacted] in Fresno on 01/16/2007.

No law enforcement or bystanders were injured during this incident. b6 b7C

There were no issues identified by the SIRT.

Title: SHOOTING INQUIRY
REPORT OF SHOOTING INCIDENT
PHILADELPHIA DIVISION
03/15/2007

Character: ADMINISTRATIVE INQUIRY

Synopsis: On 03/15/2007, the Philadelphia Division participated in an undercover operation with Philadelphia Police Department (PPD), Narcotics Field Unit (NFU) as part of the Safe Streets Task Force (SSTF) initiative. The operation utilized [redacted] who had arranged a buy/walk with an unknown male subject for two ounces of cocaine and a 9 mm semiautomatic pistol. After meeting in [redacted] vehicle, the subject and two others attempted to rob [redacted] of $1800. As surveillance converged on [redacted] vehicle, all three subjects exited the vehicle and fled in different directions. One subject fled toward a surveillance team consisting of two FBI Agents and a PPD Sergeant. As the Agents and Sergeant approached and identified themselves, the subject ignored their commands to stop, the subject then reached into his pocket, removing a black cellular telephone. Believing the cellular telephone was a weapon, an Agent fired a single round striking the subject in the upper right chest. The subject was pronounced dead at the scene. b6 b7C b7D

DETAILS:

On 03/15/2007, the Philadelphia Division's Squad 3 took part in an undercover buy/walk operation with the PPD-NFU. This operation was one in a series of operations Squad 3, the Latin Violent Gang Squad, had routinely supported since August 2005. Squad 3 received SSTF designation in February 2007. This particular operation was part of the "Hearts and Minds Program," a comprehensive four-phase program targeting specific areas of Philadelphia and incorporating: 1)intelligence gathering through source development; 2)undercover buys targeting lower-level dealers; 3)execution of search and arrest warrants; and 4)visible uniform presence and positive engagement with the population of the targeted area following the enforcement action. FBI cases were opened on targets developed through this program who merited additional scrutiny.

This document contains neither recommendations nor conclusions of the FBI. It is the property of the FBI and is loaned to your agency; it and its contents are not to be distributed outside your agency.

As part of this initiative, Squad 3 personnel were divided up to work with specific teams within the PPD-NFU. SA [redacted] and SA [redacted] were assigned to work with PPD-NFU Team 2 led by Sergeant [redacted] SA [redacted] entered on duty(EOD)on 03/09/2003 and joined Squad 3 in July 2006 after transferring to the Philadelphia Division from the Baltimore Division. SA [redacted] EOD'd as an Agent on 02/09/1992. She was assigned to the Philadelphia Division on 06/03/1992.

On 03/15/2007, at approximately 1:00p.m., SAs [redacted] and [redacted] and members of the PPD-NFU attended a briefing by Sergeant [redacted] at the PPD-NFU offsite to discuss a buy/walk operation involving one of PPD-NFU's [redacted] The target of the operation was later identified as [redacted] Neither the PPD-NFU nor the FBI prepared a written operations plan for this buy/walk. This was not unusual for joint Squad 3 and PPD-NFU operations, especially for what was described as relatively low-risk events such as buy/walks, which were conducted as often as four times per day. The Squad 3 supervisor, SSA [redacted] and ASAC Ronald T. Hosko noted division policy only required written operations plans in large arrests/searches or events with the potential for generating significant media interest.

b7D

SSA [redacted] was made aware of the operation by SA [redacted] who left him a voice mail on 03/15/2007. ASAC Hosko was not notified of this operation prior to it's execution. SA [redacted] left SSA [redacted] a voice mail stating she and SA [redacted] would be working with PPD-NFU Team 2 on a buy/walk operation. It was anticipated a PPD-NFU [redacted] would purchase two ounces of cocaine, a Beretta 9 mm semiautomatic pistol and be "fronted" an ounce of cocaine by [redacted] had been told by [redacted] the Beretta 9mm would have a fully loaded magazine and one round in the chamber. [redacted] believed the offer to front an ounce of cocaine was unusual and he was concerned [redacted] was intending to rob him. There had been telephonic contact between [redacted] and [redacted] but this was the first buy [redacted] had made from [redacted]

The PPD-NFU had been used in the past by PPD and was deemed reliable and credible by PPD. The $1800 in cash to be exchanged for the weapon and cocaine would be provided by PPD.

After the verbal briefing, SA [redacted], SA [redacted] and Sergeant [redacted] departed the PPD-NFU offsite in SA [redacted] Bureau vehicle, a Ford Explorer and drove to a nearby KFC Restaurant to meet [redacted] Sergeant [redacted] briefed [redacted], then searched him while SAs [redacted] and [redacted] searched the CI's vehicle. [redacted] was then provided $1800 in buy money by Sergeant [redacted] After discussing several options for distress signals, [redacted] agreed to put his hands over his head to signal he needed help. Sergeant [redacted] offered to put an undercover PPD officer with [redacted] but [redacted] declined. Sergeant [redacted] decided not to place a recorder or transmitting device with [redacted] due to this being the first purchase from [redacted] and feared the device(s) would be discovered. b6 b7C b7D

[redacted] had instructed [redacted] to contact him by cellular telephone after exiting I-95 at Allegheny Avenue in Northeast Philadelphia. He also agreed to lift his shirt to indicate he was unarmed before entering [redacted] vehicle.

[redacted] departed the KFC Restaurant enroute to the Allegheny Avenue exit, followed by SA [redacted] SA [redacted] and Sergeant [redacted] in SA [redacted] Bureau vehicle. Three other unmarked PPD surveillance units were also following. After exiting at Allegheny, [redacted] turned on Belgrade Street where he pulled over to the curb to pick up [redacted] who was flagging down [redacted] As pre-planned, [redacted] lifted his shirt and exposed his waist, before getting into the front passenger seat of [redacted] vehicle.

[redacted] pulled away from the curb and drove around the block before parking at the corner of Belgrade and Clearfield Streets. Wade exited and reentered [redacted] vehicle several times while speaking on a cellular telephone. Upon reentering the vehicle, [redacted] drove away and proceeded to Cedar and Ann Streets where subjects [redacted] and [redacted] entered the rear passenger's seat of [redacted] vehicle. [redacted] was seated directly behind [redacted] and [redacted] was seated behind [redacted] [redacted] then drove northbound on Cedar Street and pulled over at the intersection of Cedar and Clearfield Streets. At this point, over the PPD radio, Sergeant [redacted] warned all surveillance units to be alert to indications [redacted] was being robbed. Minutes later, surveillance units which were parked as close as 100 feet away observed the subjects striking [redacted] in the head with their fists. [redacted] was also seen placing his hands over his head. Believing [redacted] was being beaten and robbed, Sergeant [redacted] using the radio instructed the surveillance units to converge on [redacted] vehicle. b6 b7C b7D

Immediately, Sergeant [redacted], SA [redacted], and SA [redacted] leapt from their vehicle which was parked going the opposite direction on the other side of the street approximately 100 yards away from [redacted] vehicle. Although all three brought ballistic protective vests which identified them as law enforcement, they had not donned them prior to exiting the vehicle. b6 b7C b7D

In his statement to the Shooting Review Team (SIRT), SA [redacted] said, "immediately upon exiting my vehicle I began to yell 'Police stop!' I continued to yell this as I ran toward [redacted] vehicle. As I was moving toward [redacted] vehicle and yelling 'Police stop' the individual who was hitting [redacted] stopped and stood still next to [redacted] car. Almost immediately I saw an individual I believed to be a male on the passenger side of the vehicle begin to run in my direction on the sidewalk next to the vehicle. I began to run across the street in an effort to cut off the individual all the time continually yelling 'stop police.' As the individual was running toward the same general direction as myself, he continued to turn his head back and forth looking around. For a brief moment I lost view of the subject when a vehicle I recall as being either a SUV or a van, red in color, came between us. As I started around the corner of the vehicle and anticipated coming face to face with the subject I had my weapon in a two hand grip and raised it pointing toward the subject. When I came around the corner of the vehicle I was about five feet from the subject and I yelled 'police stop' and the individual reached his left hand into the area of his waist band retrieving a dark object which I believed to be a handgun then he appeared to thrust his hand in my direction with the object I believed to be a handgun in his hand. I then fired one shot at the individual. Immediately after firing at the individual he fell to the ground to my right and the 'weapon' fell from his hand.". b6 b7C b7D

In her statement to the SIRT SA [redacted] stated," I immediately exited through the rear driver's door of the Explorer and ran diagonally across the street towards [redacted] vehicle to render assistance. As I did so, I saw the two rear-seat passengers jump from [redacted] vehicle and begin to run. The subject wearing the black jacket ran down the sidewalk in our direction as SA [redacted], Sergeant [redacted], and I began shouting, "Police, Police, Stop, FBI, Freeze!" The neighborhood was quiet that afternoon, and I recalled our voices echoing between the houses on the street. The subject ignored our commands and continued to run down the sidewalk. SA [redacted] was in front of me as I tried to parallel the subject in an effort to cut him off further down the street. There was a red Bronco parked across the street from us and I ran towards the rear of this vehicle since I saw that SA [redacted] would reach the front of the vehicle first. While doing so, I observed the subject reach for his waist and pull out a black object which I immediately thought was a handgun. As I came around the rear of the vehicle with my weapon drawn, I heard a pop and saw the subject was hit in the chest. He staggered, then fell to the sidewalk. I observed what I thought was a weapon laying next to him on the sidewalk. I holstered my weapon and while maintaining my eye on the subject, I knelt down and retrieved the "weapon" from the sidewalk. Only then did I realize what I thought was a weapon was in fact a Motorola cell phone."

In an interview conducted by PPD, Sergeant [redacted] said, "I notified our backup officers over the radio and we exited our auto. Agent [redacted] and myself started hollaring, 'police, police,' as we ran over to [redacted] auto. As we ran over the big white male in the front seat was still punching [redacted] and the two males in the backseat started to exit. The male who was in the rear backseat of the vehicle started running southbound on Cedar Street using the opposite side of the street. This male was reaching into his pocket and Agent [redacted] said, 'let me see your hands.' 'Let me see your hands.' He said it several times. At this point the male took his hand from his pocket and I saw a black object in his hand. I then saw Agent [redacted] shoot one time and the male fell to the ground." Sergeant [redacted] went on to state, "I was just about to shoot the male when Agent [redacted] shot him. At that time, I thought the male had a black gun in his hand." b6 b7C b7D

Immediately following the shooting, PPD Investigators located and interviewed [redacted] was leaving her mother's house on Cedar Street approximately 25 feet from where the shooting occurred. Although [redacted] was not an eyewitness to the shooting she provided the following statement to PPD, "I was inside my mother's house when I heard someone yell, 'freeze, police, get down,' something like that and then I heard a gunshot. I went outside my mother's house to go back to work and I saw a guy on the ground bleeding in front of 3083 Cedar Street and another white male standing there I guess was a Police Officer."

Paramedics from the Philadelphia Fire Department immediately responded to the scene and determined Kopp was deceased. The PPD Crime Scene Search Unit also responded to the scene and conducted a crime scene investigation.

The male who was shot was later identified as Kopp. A search of Kopp revealed a pocket knife in the front left pocket of his pants. The black object Kopp was seen removing from his pocket was a Motorola Cellular telephone. [redacted] was arrested by PPD surveillance units after a short foot pursuit. A search of [redacted] revealed a Walther BB gun. [redacted] was arrested near the b6 b7C

[redacted] vehicle. No cocaine or any other weapons were found on or near Kopp, [redacted] or [redacted]

In an interview with PPD, [redacted] indicated he and Kopp had been asked by [redacted] to help him rob [redacted] He told investigators that he [redacted] and Kopp were never not in possession of handgun nor any cocaine. [redacted] brought the BB gun to "scare" [redacted] refused to be interviewed. b6 b7C b7D

An autopsy performed by the City of Philadelphia's Office of the Medical Examiner determined the manner of Jason Kopp's death to be Homicide. The cause of Jason Kopp's death was determined to be a gunshot wound to the right upper chest which was 1 1/2" from the midline and 12" below the top of the head. The bullet entered the right chest and passed backwards, downwards and leftwards through the right lung, through the aorta, through the spine at the level of the 4th intercostal space and through the left lung before exiting out from the left chest and lodging within the muscles of the left back.

The FBI Laboratory determined the bullet recovered from Kopp's body was fired from SA [redacted] .40 caliber Glock pistol, Model 22, Serial Number EDR782.

Title: SHOOTING INQUIRY REPORT OF SHOOTING INCIDENT CLEVELAND DIVISION
SEPTEMBER 4, 2007

Character: ADMINISTRATIVE INQUIRY

Synopsis: This shooting incident was a direct result of a fugitive investigation, wherein a Safe Streets Task Force (SSFT), the Mahoning Valley Violent Crimes Task Force, which operates out of the Youngstown Resident Agency of the Cleveland Division, was seeking to locate and apprehend [redacted], who had been charged by the local authorities with felonious assault. b6 b7C

The underlying circumstances regarding this offense were that on July 4, 2007 [redacted] became embroiled in an argument with two males at a gas station in Youngstown, Ohio. [redacted] pulled a handgun and, as the males fled the area in their vehicles, he fired numerous rounds at them.

The local authorities requested the Youngstown Resident Agency's SSTF's assistance after charging [redacted] for this act and being unsuccessful in locating him. An 88 preliminary investigation was opened on July 9, 2007 based upon this request. Investigation by members of the SSTF developed information that [redacted] was moving back and forth from Youngstown, Ohio to various locations in the state of Pennsylvania. Accordingly, on August 29, 2007 a federal warrant was issued at Youngstown, Ohio by United States Magistrate Judge George J. Limbert charging [redacted] with Unlawful Flight to Avoid Prosecution in violation of Title 18, United States Code, Section 1073.

On September 4, 2007 investigators learned that

This document contains neither recommendations nor conclusions of the FBI. It is the property of the FBI and is loaned to your agency; it and its contents are not to be distributed outside your agency.

[redacted] was supposedly utilizing a certain cellular telephone.

Based upon this information, technical tracking of that cell phone was initiated on September 4, 2007. At first, the tracking information indicated that the cellular phone was being utilized in the north central area of Youngstown, in the vicinity of a municipal park - Wick Park. This information was developed at approximately 1:00 p.m on September 4, 2007. Continued operation of tracking technology essentially isolated the location of this cellular phone to [redacted]. Based upon this information, SA [redacted] utilized the available Task Force personnel to establish a loose perimeter on that location. SA [redacted] and Task Force Officer (TFO) [redacted] took up a position that provided them with visual surveillance of [redacted]. At approximately 2:15 p.m surveillance observed a Toyota Camry leave [redacted]. In that it was being operated by a male whose description was not consistent with [redacted] the decision was made to stop the vehicle some distance from the residence. (NOTE: [redacted] is one address of a "side-by-side" duplex with two address - [redacted].

The information provided by the operator of this vehicle indicated that [redacted] was very likely in a Toyota Camry behind [redacted].

A plan was formulated wherein a number of Task Force officers would block escape through the rear of the residence to the street behind (or to the east) of the Ohio residence (Elm Street). The remaining Task Force officers and SA [redacted] would approach from the front of the residence in an effort to locate and apprehend [redacted]. This plan had to be communicated to the Task Force members, who had spread out to establish the aforementioned perimeter around [redacted], via radio and cellular phone. Significant radio problems were encountered and therefore some Task Force members had to be briefed via cellular phone.

At approximately 2:30 p.m SA [redacted] gave an order to move up and the respective Task Force units moved towards [redacted]. SA [redacted] arrived first, with TFO [redacted] was observed in a red or burgundy Toyota Camry behind [redacted] Street, with the vehicle parked facing away from the residence. He appeared to be talking on a cell phone and both the driver's window and front passenger window were open. The plan had been for SA [redacted] and TFO [redacted] along with TFOs [redacted] and [redacted] to block in the Camry and effect the arrest. SA [redacted] and TFO [redacted] arrived at the southeast side of [redacted] prior to the other units.

Civilian witnesses and TFOs confirm that SA [redacted] ordered [redacted] out of the car and identified himself as "Police". [redacted] placed the Camry in reverse and, at a high rate of speed, swung the vehicle out of its parked position just missing SA [redacted] who had exited his vehicle to effect the arrest. The Camry turned through an approximately 270 degree arc and stopped, facing SA [redacted] then placed the vehicle in drive and accelerated sharply at SA [redacted] who, at this time, fired five times at [redacted]

The Camry continued on past SA [redacted] coming to a stop approximately 30 yards behind him. SA [redacted] and TFOs removed [redacted] from the vehicle, provided first aid, called for the EMS and made appropriate notifications. He was transported to a local hospital for treatment and surgery. [redacted] had three gunshot wounds to his left arm (two to the wrist and one to the upper arm), one gun shot wound to the right forearm and a superficial wound to his left leg. He would be interviewed on September 6, 2007 and claimed that he only heard an order to "get out of the car", but thought that he was being robbed. He acknowledged that he threw his car into reverse and floored it; he also acknowledged that he then put the car in drive and again floored it. [redacted] stated that at this point he saw a man, whom he realized was police, to his left and front and at this juncture he heard gunfire and was shot. [redacted] also conceded that he was aware of the fact that the police were looking for him and that a 9mm handgun found in the Camry was his.

b6

The only rounds fired in this shooting were the five fired by SA [redacted] who utilized his Bureau issued Colt, M16A1 (or M-4).

Bureau issued ammunition was utilized and the weapon functioned properly. SA [redacted] was qualified on this weapon. SA [redacted] is a member of the Cleveland SWAT team.

The Supervisor of Youngstown, Squad 16, who has responsibility for the SSTF, was on the scene within minutes and insured that Cleveland Executive Management was notified. ASAC Derek M. Siegle responded from Cleveland. FBI ERT personnel and Youngstown Police Department jointly processed the scene.

ST. LOUIS DIVISION
05/30/2007

Synopsis: The Shooting Incident Review Group (SIRG) reviewed a shooting incident that occurred on 05/30/2007, involving Special Agent (SA) [redacted] While he and other law enforcement personnel attempted to arrest a subject wanted on federal and local criminal charges, SA [redacted] fired three rounds from his Bureau-issued Rock River semi-automatic rifle at an unaccompanied, aggressive K-9 dog. SIRG members recommended that no administrative action be taken against SA [redacted] as a result of his involvement in this shooting incident.

Administrative: Reference report of Supervisory Special Agent (SSA) [redacted] dated 06/07/2007.

Details: This communication was prepared to furnish the analysis, comments, and recommendations of the SIRG with reference to the captioned shooting.

Details of the Shooting Incident

On 05/30/2007, SA [redacted] and two additional Safe Streets Task Force (SSTF) officers, met with Sergeant [redacted] of the St. Louis County Police Department, Community Action Team (CAT), as well as K-9 Units. A request was made for the CAT to utilize marked patrol units to initiate a traffic stop of fugitive [redacted]

Sergeant [redacted] and his team were fully briefed regarding the subject's identity as well as his criminal history. SA [redacted] advised all attendees that the subject would probably attempt to run from law enforcement personnel. Sergeant [redacted] advised K-9 Units would be utilized if West attempted to evade arrest or injure law enforcement personnel. Sergeant [redacted] identified one canine as vicious and advised the dog was particularly effective at neutralizing his targets and would not stop biting until pulled off by his handler.

According to one local participant, all personnel present in the briefing were instructed to stay inside their vehicles if K-9s were deployed to avoid confusing the dogs.

Approximately thirty minutes after the briefing Sergeant [redacted] team executed the traffic stop. Prior to his vehicle coming to a complete stop the subject jumped out, rolled down a hill, and fled into a wooded area. Although previously instructed to remain in their vehicles, law enforcement officers exited their vehicles with weapons drawn and ran toward the subject.

As Canine Units searched for the suspect in the heavily vegetated area, SA [redacted] positioned himself along a creek to prevent the subject's escape through the creek. As he was holding his position, SA [redacted] heard what he believed to be local officers to the south of his location, and shouted, "FBI to your front," several times.

During the activity, K-9 Officer [redacted] deployed his dog (previously identified as vicious) approximately 50 yards away from the other K-9 Unit with instructions to search and apprehend. Shortly after deploying his dog, Officer [redacted] observed the dog alert and start running. Officer [redacted] called out, "St. Louis County Police Canine," and heard someone respond, "FBI," from the direction in which the dog was running. Officer [redacted] immediately attempted to recall his dog, but immediately heard one gunshot followed by two additional gunshots. Officer [redacted] recalled his dog again and the dog returned to him.

Officer [redacted] subsequently learned that his canine encountered SA [redacted] in the woods, and advised SA [redacted] could have incurred serious injury had he not shot at the dog.

According to SA [redacted] while holding his position in the vegetated area he could not see other law enforcement personnel. However, he observed the police canine approach him in an aggressive manner, crouch, and prepare to lunge at him. Believing he was in imminent danger of serious physical injury, he fired three rounds from his rifle near the dog's head. As the rounds struck the ground, the dog returned to his handler.

No personal or property damage was incurred as a result of the rounds fired by SA [redacted]

On 02/15/2008, the SIRG met to discuss the above-captioned shooting incident. Deputy Assistant Director Michael S. Clemens, Inspection Division (INSD), chaired the meeting and was a non-voting member. The following voting members were in attendance: [redacted] Deputy Chief, Gang Squad, Criminal Division, United States Department of Justice (USDOJ); [redacted] Special Legal Counsel, Civil Rights Division, USDOJ; Ronald T. Hosko, Inspector, Office of Inspections (OI), INSD; Section Chief (SC) James Casey, Eurasian Section, CD-1, Counterintelligence Division; Unit Chief (UC) [redacted] Firearms Training Unit, Training and Development Division (TDD); UC [redacted] Defensive Systems Unit, TDD; UC [redacted] Indian Country/Special Crimes Unit, Violent Crimes Section, Criminal Investigative Division; UC [redacted] Practical Applications Unit, TDD; Acting UC [redacted] Special Weapons and Tactics Operations Unit, Critical Incident Response Group; SSA [redacted] Firearms - Toolmarks Unit, Scientific Analysis Section, Laboratory Division; SSA [redacted] Investigative Law Unit, Office of General Counsel; and SSA [redacted] Gangs/Criminal Enterprise Section, CID. Management Program Analyst (MPA) [redacted] Inspection Management Unit, OI, INSD, a non-voting member, was also in attendance.

Observations and Recommendations of the SIRG

The SIRG reviewed the above synopsized incident with the intent to: (1) evaluate the application of deadly force; (2) provide the Director with an evaluative analysis, observations, and recommendations for corrective actions from an operational standpoint (if any); (3) provide recommendations concerning training and/or safety issues; and (4) provide recommendations for administrative action if deemed necessary.

b6

SIRG members unanimously agreed that the use of deadly force by SA [redacted], was justified and in conformance with the FBI's deadly force policy. This discussion resulted in the recommendation that no administrative action be taken against SA [redacted] as a result of his involvement in this shooting incident.

The OGC representative voiced concern regarding SA [redacted] putting himself in a dangerous situation since participants were advised to stay inside their vehicles if canines were deployed. Additionally, SA [redacted] had no communication with other law enforcement personnel which resulted in him having to shout his location several times. This matter will be discussed with the Special Agent in Charge of the St. Louis Division.

Details of the Shooting Incident

On 05/11/2007, at approximately 11:00 a.m., members of the Kansas City Special Weapons and Tactics (SWAT) Team executed a search warrant at a Kansas City residence. As the search team approached the rear of the residence, they observed a large brown and white dog attached to a heavy chain. The team stopped its approach, however, the dog turned and raced aggressively toward team members barking and baring his teeth. Although one Agent used his shield to deflect the dog's attack, the dog then attacked SA [redacted] injuring his left hand. SA [redacted] who was directly behind SA [redacted] fired one round striking the dog's paw. The dog immediately ceased its attack on SA [redacted] [redacted] The SWAT Team medic provided immediate assistance to SA hand at the scene and he was seen by a doctor the same day.

The dog was removed by local animal control authorities.

Title: SHOOTING INQUIRY
REPORT OF SHOOTING INCIDENT
DALLAS DIVISION
05/05/2007

Character: ADMINISTRATIVE INQUIRY

Synopsis: This shooting incident occurred while a team of FBI Agents, task force officers, and Richardson Police Department Officers were attempting to arrest a subject at the Wal-Mart Parking lot, 1521 Cockrell Hill Road, Dallas, Texas, during an active, violent kidnaping investigation. As part of the plan, the subject(s) delivered a "drop vehicle" to an agreed-upon location for the purpose of having ransom money and methamphetamine placed in the vehicle to secure the release of the victim. One subject parked the "drop vehicle" near surveilling SAs. A second suspect vehicle parked parallel to the "drop vehicle." The driver of the "drop vehicle" ran when approached by SAs. The second vehicle sped off. The running subject subsequently boarded a third suspect vehicle as a R-front passenger. This third vehicle then drove at FBI SAs who fired at the subject driver. Two SAs discharged their weapons. Three shots taken by one SA struck the subject driver resulting in his death. The subject passenger was unharmed. Subsequent investigation led to the arrest of five involved kidnaping subjects, the seizure of four firearms and ammunition, and the rescue of the kidnaping victim who had been shot twice and beaten by subjects.

The shooting was recorded by Wal-Mart parking lot surveillance cameras. An aerial photograph of the parking lot is located on page 619 of this report.

This document contains neither recommendations nor conclusions of the FBI. It is the property of the FBI and is loaned to your agency; it and its contents are not to be distributed outside your agency.

DETAILS:

On 05/05/2007, just after midnight, the Dallas Division switchboard operator received a telephone call from the Dallas Police Department (DPD) Communications Center regarding a possible kidnaping matter having taken place in Texas. Information was telephonically forwarded to Dallas FBI Criminal Enterprise (CE) Squad Acting Supervisory Special Agent (A/SSA) [redacted] A/SSA [redacted] was told that according to DPD, a call had been received from a Spanish-speaking male in Mexico who was reporting that his brother had been kidnaped.

A/SSA [redacted] telephonically contacted the DPD Communications Center and spoke to DPD Dispatcher [redacted] an English and Spanish-speaker, who would translate for A/SSA [redacted] during a three-way patch telephone connection to [redacted] the alleged kidnap victim's brother in Mexico. After dropping the three-way connection several times, A/SSA [redacted] telephoned Dallas FBI Assistant Special Agent in Charge (ASAC) Blaise Mikulewicz at approximately 12:30am [05/05/2007], and briefed him on what he knew of the matter at the time. The ASAC concurred with A/SSA [redacted] assessment that the FBI should begin working this as an active kidnaping matter. The ASAC requested he be kept apprised of developments. A/SSA [redacted] telephoned Special Agent (SA) [redacted] of the CE Squad, briefed him on the case, and put him on "stand-by" in the event he and his Spanish-speaking abilities were needed.

A/SSA [redacted] continued to speak to the DPD Dispatcher and learned from her that the kidnap victim's name was [redacted] Also, the kidnapers were demanding $250,000 or they would kill the victim. A/SSA [redacted] through the DPD Dispatcher, asked [redacted] to have the subjects put the victim on the phone as a "proof of life." During one communication, the subject(s) repeated their demand for $250,000 or an equivalent amount in drugs. At approximately 1:00am [05/05/2007], the DPD Dispatcher reported to A/SSA [redacted] that the subject(s) did put the victim, [redacted], on the phone with the brother in Mexico. The Dispatcher further translated for A/SSA [redacted] that [redacted] said that [redacted] [victim's brother] should pay the money.

During one of the three-way conversations, A/SSA [redacted] learned that the kidnapers had mentioned Richardson, Texas [suburb of Dallas]. A/SSA [redacted] called the Richardson Police Department (RPD) and learned from RPD Sergeant [redacted] that the RPD had responded to a possible kidnaping/shooting which occurred on 05/04/2007. A/SSA [redacted] spoke to RPD Sergeant [redacted] and learned that the RPD was investigating a possible kidnaping, but that the RPD did not know the kidnaping victim's name. A/SSA [redacted] advised that he shared information with Sergeant [redacted] including the victim's name and cellular telephone number. A/SSA [redacted] learned that the RPD had responded to a call where gunfire had been reported coming from a residence, an adult male was seen being forced into a vehicle, and that another shot was heard coming from within this vehicle before it left the area slowly. Sergeant [redacted] indicated that more assistance would be needed and A/SSA [redacted] offered to send CE Squad personnel to assist in the kidnaping investigation. b6 b7C

At approximately 2:00am [05/05/2007], A/SSA [redacted] again telephoned SA [redacted] and dispatched him to the RPD. One other SA and Taskforce Officer (TFO) [redacted] were also dispatched to the RPD. ASAC Mikulewicz was called and briefed. ASAC Mikulewicz noted that it was his experience having worked kidnaping and extortion matters that having shots fired, the subjects not covering their faces, and the fact that they drove away slowly, caused him to believe that the kidnaping victim was either injured or in great danger.

During follow-up telephone calls with RPD Sergeant [redacted] A/SSA [redacted] learned that DEA possibly had information regarding the kidnaping but that DEA would not divulge the information to the RPD because the RPD did not have the proper clearances. Sergeant [redacted] provided A/SSA [redacted] a telephone number to call at DEA. A/SSA [redacted] spoke to a DEA SA and learned that DEA was aware of the kidnaping and that the victim was alive and within one mile of the original kidnaping location, [redacted] Richardson, Texas. The exact location of the victim was not determined at this time. The information was characterized by the DEA SA as "third hand" which led A/SSA [redacted] to believe that DEA or another government agency had a wiretap on a telephone. A/SSA [redacted] provided the victim's Nextel telephone number to DEA and learned that this number was not the target of a wiretap. The subject(s) were using the victim's Nextel telephone to communicate demands.

A/SSA [redacted] continued to brief ASAC Mikulewicz who concurred that the kidnaping investigation should continue. A/SSA [redacted] continued to call out investigative resources to include Technically Trained Agents (TTAs) and on-call Duty Agents. A/SSA [redacted] contacted a Northern District of Texas AUSA at her residence and briefed her on the case. A/SSA [redacted] requested emergency authority to establish a "pen register" and "tracking order" targeting [redacted] b3 b6 b7C

As the investigation progressed, SA [redacted] communicated to A/SSA [redacted] that a money drop might have to be made. A/SSA [redacted] contacted ASAC Mikulewicz to request additional Agents be dispatched. The ASAC concurred. At approximately 3:30am [05/05/2007], A/SSA [redacted] made a request of the Dallas Office that all CE Squad personnel be notified by text message and instructed to respond to the RPD.

At approximately 4:00am [05/05/2007] A/SSA [redacted] reported to the Dallas FBI Office to continue coordinating the investigation. He inserted TFO [redacted] in an undercover capacity to act as the kidnaping victim's cousin. This insertion was coordinated with the victim's brother in Mexico who told the subject(s) that the "victim's cousin" [TFO [redacted] in Texas would deal with them. TFO [redacted] hereafter the Undercover Employee (UCE), began speaking directly with the kidnapers via a Nextel telephone using its "push-to-talk" feature. b6 b7C

A/SSA [redacted] began to write an Operational Plan with the assistance of ASAC Mikulewicz. At this point, ASAC Mikulewicz was briefed by A/SSA [redacted] to include being advised that the UCE's negotiations had reached a point where the subject(s)' demands were now fixed at $70,000 in cash and three pounds of methamphetamine for the release of the victim. The TTAs were still attempting to locate the position of the subject(s)' cellphone communications through technical means.

At approximately 6:00am [05/05/2007], ASAC Mikulewicz and A/SSA [redacted] telephonically briefed Special Agent in Charge (SAC) Robert E. Casey, Jr., on the status of the investigation. The SAC concurred with the direction and actions taken by the investigators thus far. ASAC Mikulewicz secured $3,000 from the Dallas Division's safe such that a "money drop" package with weights and transmitter could be constructed in case needed.

As a safety precaution, ASAC Mikulewicz assembled all SA and non-FBI personnel involved in the operation at the Dallas FBI Office such that all could see one and other. Due to the fast-moving nature of the operation, the ASAC allowed A/SSA [redacted] to hand write the operations order which the ASAC read and approved. b6 b7C

At 7:00am, ASAC Mikulewicz and A/SSA [redacted] initiated a briefing of all parties involved with the exception of two of the TTAs who were occupied with tracking the telephone used by the subject(s). During the briefing, members of the RPD briefed the attendees on the background of the case, including that the subjects should be considered armed and dangerous; that shots had been fired during the abduction; that the subjects repeatedly threatened to kill the victim of the kidnaping if the ransom was not paid; and that the subjects threatened to kill the UCE if he missed the deadlines set by the subjects.

A/SSA [redacted] followed with a verbal briefing to the law enforcement contingent where he outlined four scenarios which included: 1) If the operation was successful in identifying a residence where the subject(s)/victim were located, SWAT would be activated to conduct the entry and rescue of the victim, 2) If the operation was successful in identifying a residence and the victim was in imminent danger of being killed, the operational team comprised of CE Squad personnel would make the entry to rescue the victim, 3) If the operation was successful in locating the subject(s)' vehicle prior to the "money drop," a felony traffic stop would be conducted, and 4) If the operation was not successful in locating either a residence or a vehicle, negotiations with the subject(s) would continue, a money drop would be arranged, and a felony traffic stop would be conducted when the subject(s) attempted to pick up the money.

ASAC Mikulewicz followed with instructions to those present that if the scenarios involving traffic stops developed, personnel were not to engage in high-speed pursuits. The tracking device placed in the money drop package would be relied on to identify the direction of travel and the location of the subject(s)/victim. Precise assignments for personnel were made were possible. Due to the fluid nature of the multiple-scenario operation, precise assignments would be contingent on the position of the team members at the time of an arrest or takedown.

ASAC Mikulewicz had each member of the team identify themselves, identify their roles, and brief back their responsibility within the scenarios. The ASAC additionally had each of the participants put on the clothing that they would be wearing during the operation. He emphasized that the team members should be aware of cross-fire issues, cover and other safety issues. ASAC Mikulewicz cited that he was ensuring that a tragic friendly-fire circumstance similar to one where an SA was killed in New Jersey could not happen.

A/SSA [redacted] briefed the attendees on the FBI's Deadly Force Policy and told local officers to adhere to their respective departmental policies. b6 b7C

At approximately 8:00am [05/05/2007], ASAC Mikulewicz, A/SSA [redacted] and SA [redacted] traveled together to the area of Ledbetter Drive and Lancaster Road in Dallas where the TTAs last reported that the cellphone signal of interest had been detected. Other SAs and officers deployed to the area as well. After an approximate 40 to 45 minute search of a trailer park area where the signal of interest had been emanating, ASAC Mikulewicz and A/SSA [redacted] collectively decided that the "money drop" scenario would be employed. A/SSA [redacted] directed the teams to move the Wal-Mart located at Interstate-30 and Cockrell Hill Road, a location where the subjects had told the UCE, that the "money drop" would occur. The address of the Wal-Mart was 1521 Cockrell Hill Road, Dallas, Texas.

At 8:48am [05/05/2007], ASAC Mikulewicz telephonically briefed SAC Casey on the latest developments, to include that neither the subject(s)' car nor trailer, had been located. Also briefed was that the "money drop" scenario would be implemented. SAC Casey concurred with this decision. ASAC Mikulewicz discussed with the SAC that the UCE would place the drop package in or near the subject(s)' "money drop" vehicle, but not in the trunk given a concern that the tracking signal could be lost. The UCE was aware of this. An SA would be secreted in the UCE's vehicle as protective cover for the UCE. The UCE was to clear out of the area and a felony traffic stop would be conducted when the subject(s) attempted to retrieve the package. A vehicle (Buick LaCrosse) operated by SAs [redacted] and [redacted] and the vehicle in which the ASAC, A/SSA [redacted] and SA [redacted] (a Chevrolet Suburban) would approach the drop vehicle from the rear. The plan briefed to the SAC included a third blocking vehicle to approach from the front. This vehicle would be identified when it was determined which vehicle had the best vantage point once the location of the drop vehicle was known. The remaining vehicles would secure the perimeter. After the subject(s) were arrested, they would be interviewed in an attempt to locate and rescue the victim. The SAC concurred with this plan.

The ASAC and A/SSA [redacted] discussed a multiple subject vehicle scenario and agreed to stay with the drop vehicle in hopes of having it eventually lead them to the victim. A/SSA [redacted] supervisor of the operation, positioned the vehicle (Suburban) in which he, the ASAC and SA [redacted] were in, at the southwest section of the parking lot. A/SSA [redacted] broadcasted his location to other units and directed other units to strategic areas within the Wal-Mart parking lot area. As units arrived, A/SSA [redacted] directed those units via radio to ensure all entrance and exit routes were covered. TTAs [redacted] and [redacted] were in the area monitoring for the signal of the subject(s)' cellular telephone with which the UCE was in contact. A/SSA [redacted] directed the UCE to position his vehicle in an open parking area to the north of the Wal-Mart Store, a distance from the Wal-Mart building.

At approximately 8:52am [05/05/2007] SAC Casey called the ASAC for an update. The operations plan remained unchanged. The UCE continued his telephonic communications with the subject(s) via the "push-to-talk" feature, and continually updated A/SSA [redacted] of the contents of these conversations. The subject(s) continued to threaten to kill the kidnap victim and the UCE if the money drop wasn't properly made. Other teams of SAs/officers in the area continued to proactively monitor the activity in the area of the Wal-Mart parking lot and report results by radio.

At approximately 10:34am [05/05/2007], TTA [redacted] alerted that the cellular telephone signal of interest was active near the Ledbetter Drive trailer park and that the signal was moving. ASAC Mikulewicz immediately called SAC Casey and updated him. The SAC approved the operation and requested that he be notified in the event of a change, a money drop, or an arrest. The TTAs updated operational SAs/officers by radio broadcast that the subject(s) were "ten minutes out" [ten minutes away], "they are in the parking lot" and "they are behind the Wal-Mart." During this time, the UCE communicated to A/SSA [redacted] that the subject(s) had advised that the "drop vehicle" was a grey Mitsubishi.

At approximately 11:00am [05/05/2007] TTA [redacted] advised over the Bureau radio that the cellular telephone in contact with the UCE was active behind the Wal-Mart and that the TTAs had observed a suspicious vehicle in the area associating with a Chevrolet Blazer. TTA [redacted] next advised that he saw a grey Mitsubishi with the Blazer and that both were traveling northbound next to the Wal-Mart, apparently together. ASAC Mikulewicz looked over his right shoulder and saw a grey Mitsubishi approaching from the right, followed by a Blazer. A/SSA [redacted] made radio broadcast updates to SA/Officers about the approaching vehicles. A/SSA [redacted] discussed with ASAC Mikulweicz that he thought it was the right opportunity to move towards the Mitsubishi to which the ASAC agreed. The Mitsubishi, a 1994 4-door grey sedan, parked in the same row a few [three or four] parking slots away from the vehicle in which the ASAC and A/SSA were parked. The Mitsubishi was blocked to the front by another parked civilian vehicle. The Blazer pulled up along the left side of the Mitsubishi, not blocked to the front.

ASAC Mikulewicz gave A/SSA [redacted] the authorization to deploy the arrest plan. A/SSA [redacted] radioed to the other operational team members where the Mitsubishi was and that a felony car stop on the Mitsubishi would be initiated. A/SSA [redacted] broadcasted the deploy instruction by saying "execute, execute, execute" over the radio. Unbeknownst to A/SSA [redacted] not all of the SAs/Officers were aware of where to go when the order was given. A/SSA [redacted] next moved his vehicle from its parked position, drove a short distance [three or four parking stall widths] and bumped into the Mitsubishi from the rear blocking it in. A/SSA [redacted] exited his vehicle identified himself by yelling FBI and by yelling arrest commands in Spanish and English to the subject driver of the Mitsubishi. ASAC Mikulewicz also exited the vehicle and started to back A/SSA [redacted] The subject driver of the Mitsubishi, later identified as Subject [redacted] [hereafter Subject [redacted], exited the Mitsubishi and quickly tried to enter the passenger door of the adjacent Blazer, disregarding arrest commands being given by A/SSA [redacted]. The subject driver of the Blazer, later identified as Subject [redacted] [hereafter Subject [redacted], quickly sped away, leaving Subject [redacted] behind. Subject [redacted] next ran eastbound through the parking lot refusing to yield to A/SSA [redacted] arrest commands. A/SSA [redacted] gave chase through the congested parking lot while ASAC Mikulewicz initially observed the fleeing Blazer to determine its direction of flight before joining the foot pursuit. A/SSA [redacted] estimated that he was 40 to 50 yards behind Subject [redacted]

SA [redacted], positioned northeast of the location where A/SSA [redacted] and the parked Mitsubishi were, heard TTA [redacted] broadcast that a "cell phone hit" was received from the vicinity of two cars coming into the Wal-Mart parking lot on the west side of the Wal-Mart building. SA [redacted] heard A/SSA [redacted] broadcast that the kidnaper's vehicle was driving behind him [A/SSA [redacted] and then SA [redacted] recalled hearing A/SSA [redacted] give the order to "execute, execute, execute." SA [redacted] knew A/SSA [redacted] was positioned in the southwest corner area of the

Wal-Mart parking lot, but could not see him. SA [redacted] driver of the vehicle SA [redacted] was a passenger in, drove south through the parking lot. SA [redacted] saw A/SSA [redacted] Chevrolet Suburban bump into the Mitsubishi and also saw a Blazer drive off.

SA [redacted] saw the driver of the Mitsubishi, Subject [redacted] get out of the Mitsubishi and start running eastbound through the parking lot in front of SAs [redacted] and [redacted] SA [redacted] left his position in the Bureau vehicle and began chasing Subject [redacted] through the parking lot at about a 90 degree angle to the path of fleeing Subject [redacted]. SA [redacted] could see A/SSA [redacted] running behind Subject [redacted] SA [redacted] was yelling arrest commands to Subject [redacted] as were other agents believed to be A/SSA [redacted] and SA [redacted] SA [redacted] ran from within a row of parked cars and saw Subject [redacted] attempting to get into the passenger side of a black Ford Mustang automobile. SA [redacted] was yelling "FBI, get down" at Subject [redacted] who looked directly at SA [redacted] and got into the Mustang. In his Signed Sworn Statement (SSS) SA [redacted] stated that he was one aisle length away (about 15 feet) when the Mustang began to move west right toward him. The Mustang was not turning and he believed the driver intended to run him down. He stated that he was face to face with the driver of the Mustang and that he feared for his life. As the Mustang drove toward SA [redacted] SA [redacted] began firing. Certain views of the recorded event depict the Mustang driving toward SA [redacted] SA [redacted] did not recall looking at the sights of his MP-5 [H&K, MP-5, 10mm shoulder weapon] and was deliberately holding the muzzle low to avoid hitting any of the customers in the parking lot. In his SSS he further stated that he initially fired four rounds with the intent of hitting the driver and, although he was not shooting at the tires, he recalled seeing a bullet strike on one of the front tires. Further contained in SA [redacted] SSS was that after he fired the first four rounds the Mustang began to turn south. SA [redacted] feared for the safety of the Agents coming in from his right, as the Mustang was now in a position to run them down. SA [redacted] ran around the rear of the Mustang and continued to fire his MP-5. SA [redacted] stated that all of his shots were taken with the intent to hit the driver [of the Mustang]. SA [redacted] stated that he could not see clearly through the driver or passenger side Mustang windows due to the dark tinting. SA [redacted] saw a bullet hit the driver side of the Mustang in the vicinity of the gas tank near the rear tire.

At this point, SA [redacted] heard other gunfire from A/SSA [redacted] SA [redacted] stated in his SSS that he believed the Mustang posed a threat to A/SSA [redacted] because the driver still had both hands firmly on the steering wheel and was driving directly toward him [A/SSA [redacted]]. SA [redacted] stopped firing because A/SSA [redacted] was now in his line of fire.

A/SSA [redacted] while chasing Subject [redacted] a distance of approximately 188 yards through a congested parking lot, noted that Subject [redacted] appeared to be headed toward a black Ford Mustang. A/SSA [redacted] saw Subject [redacted] for several seconds attempt to enter the passenger door of a stopped Mustang. Once Subject [redacted] got into the Mustang, the car started off at a "a high rate of speed" in a westerly direction. A/SSA [redacted] heard gunfire and saw SA [redacted] come into his line of sight. As A/SSA [redacted] emerged from a row of parked cars he saw the Mustang turning down the parking aisle towards him [A/SSA [redacted]. A/SSA [redacted] estimated the speed of the Mustang as between 15 and 20 miles per hour. From a forward position not directly in front of the approaching Mustang, A/SSA [redacted] saw the right front passenger, Subject [redacted] through the Mustang's windshield with his hands up. The Mustang's driver, identified as Gerardo Torres, aka Gerardo Diaz, [hereafter Subject Diaz], had both hands on the steering wheel and A/SSA [redacted] recalled that Subject Diaz was looking directly at him and turned the Mustang directly towards A/SSA [redacted]. In his SSS, A/SSA [redacted] stated that he felt that he [Subject Diaz] was going to try and run him over and that he was trying to kill or injure him by running him over. A/SSA [redacted] fired three shots at close range from his LAR-15 rifle through the windshield striking Subject Diaz three times in the upper right chest, center chest, and lower abdomen. Subject [redacted] was not injured. No other passengers were in the car. The Mustang continued a short distance and bumped into a parked car. A/SSA [redacted] extracted Subject Diaz through the Mustang's open driver's door and administered first aid. Subject Diaz died as a result of his injuries from gunfire from A/SSA [redacted] LAR-15. A/SSA [redacted] received a cut to a hand. It is believed this occurred during the extraction of Subject Diaz from the Mustang.

Contemporaneous with the foot pursuit of Subject [redacted], Subject [redacted] attempted to flee the scene in a 1994 Chevrolet S-10 Blazer, Texas license [redacted]. This was the vehicle which accompanied Subject [redacted] and the grey Mitsubishi to the "money drop" site. This vehicle fled southbound along the west side of the Wal-Mart Building, turned eastbound and continued behind the Wal-Mart at a high rate of speed. Subject [redacted] became involved in a three-car crash at the intersection of Adler Drive and Cockrell Hill Road. RPD officers and SA [redacted] who were following Subject [redacted] as he tried to flee, caught up to Subject [redacted] at the accident scene and arrested him. One loaded, stolen .380 pistol was found on the street at the accident scene, and one loaded 9mm pistol was found in the console of the Blazer. There were no other occupants in the Blazer at the time of the collision.

After questioning of Subject [redacted] Dallas SAs and local officers were able to locate and rescue the kidnaping Victim [redacted] within a house trailer at [redacted] Dallas, Texas. The victim was found in a bathtub bound and hooded. He had been shot twice and beaten. The victim was taken to a local hospital by ambulance. Subject [redacted] was arrested in the house trailer. Subjects [redacted] and [redacted] were arrested trying to leave the area in a vehicle. Among other things seized by investigators were one Ruger .357 magnum revolver, one SKS 7.62 caliber rifle, ammunition [.25, .380. 9mm, .357 magnum calibers], a magazine with 7.62 caliber ammunition, and a machete.

On 07/17/2007, Subjects [redacted]

b7C

[redacted] and [redacted] each pled guilty in U.S. District Court, Northern District of Texas, to one count of conspiracy to commit kidnaping, one count of kidnaping, one count of using interstate communication facilities to demand ransom, and one count of using, carrying, and brandishing a firearm during or in relation to a crime of violence. On 8/07/2007, Subject [redacted] pled guilty to misprision of a felony. b6 b7C

Subsequent analysis revealed that the R-front tire and wheel of the Mustang appeared to have been impacted twice by projectiles. FBI laboratory determined that specimen Q5, "Bullet from inside passenger side front wheel (1B22, E038621244, Item 5)" was fired from Item K-4, 10mm, Auto Heckler & Koch rifle, Model MP5/10, Serial Number 68-2726), the MP-5 carried by SA [redacted] The source of the second apparent projectile impact was not positively determined.

The left-rear passenger side wheel was determined to have been impacted twice by firearms projectiles. FBI Laboratory Specimen Q8, "Bullet from drivers side rear rim (1B22, E03862124, Item 7)" was a jacketed hollow-point bullet which is consistent in its remaining observable and measurable physical characteristics with the .40 caliber (10mm) family. The projectile was fired from a barrel rifled with six grooves, with a right hand twist. The measurable General Rifling Characteristics (GRC) for this projectile were like those of the MP-5 carried by SA [redacted] but could not be identified as having come from that weapon. Projectiles from the MP-5 carried by SA [redacted] were not found either inside of the Mustang or its driver.

Laboratory Specimen Q43, "Bullet removed from red Ford Escort (1B12,E03862115, Item 17)" was determined to have been fired from the MP-5 carried by SA [redacted] Specimen Q42, "Bullet removed from red Ford Escort (1B12,E03862115, Item 1) similar in GRCs to those of the SA [redacted] MP-5 but not identified as having been fired from that weapon. Both of these bullets impacted the Ford Escort at "upward" angles suggesting that these two projectiles ricocheted upward from the pavement prior to striking the rear bumper and trunk lid of the Ford Escort. The Ford Escort was diagonally parked forward of the Mustang in the parking aisle down which the Mustang was headed at the time of the shooting. Other 10mm projectile specimens submitted for analyses were not positively identified as having been fired from the MP-5 carried by SA [redacted] b6 b7C

Serial Number CM 36332, the rifle carried by A/SSA [redacted] The cause of death was attributed to multiple gunshot wounds.

In addition to the entry wounds caused by Q1, Q2, and Q3, the autopsy report notes "Gunshot Wound #5". This injury was articulated as, "...a gunshot wound of entrance of the left forearm, located 4 inches above the wrist and 1-1/4 inches to the right of midline when the arm is in anatomic position. The entrance wound measures 3/4 inch in greatest dimension. Noted surrounding and below this wound are multiple abrasions and an exit defect. This exit defect is present 1 inch above the wrist and measures ½ inch in greatest dimension. Inasmuch as all three bullets fired by A/SSA [redacted] were recovered in areas consistent with the known position of the shooter (A/SSA [redacted] and the seated position of Subject Diaz, coupled with the identified entry point of "Gunshot Wound #5" being inconsistent with the shooting position of A/SSA [redacted] it is suggested that the L-forearm gunshot injury identified during autopsy as "Gunshot Wound #5" originated from SA [redacted] MP-5. A corresponding projectile for this wound was not recovered. It is noted that SA [redacted] did fire his MP-5 from a position behind the driver. From this position, a projectile fired from SA [redacted] MP-5 could have caused "Gunshot Wound #5" which took a path in an "elbow toward wrist" direction in Subject Diaz's L-forearm.

The autopsy report further noted two "Blunt Force Injuries" articulated as follows: "The right side of the chest shows two horizontally oriented abrasions that measure 1-1/2 inches and 1 inch respectively." Photographs of these wounds were examined extensively as were the corresponding damage to FBI Laboratory Specimen Q149, "Shirt form subject GERARDO DIAZ-RUIZ (1B18, E03862141, Item 7)." The Laboratory found lead residues which are consistent with the passage of a bullet around the perimeter of the hole in the shirt (Q149) which corresponded to the "upper hole" and the 1-1/2 inch abrasion. Based on the recovery of projectiles fired by A/SSA [redacted] as stated above, and absent any other known source of force which would cause this type of deposit of lead laterally on the shirt and trauma of this type to Subject Diaz's R-chest area, it is suggested that these "Blunt Force Injuries" could have been caused by projectiles fired from the MP-5 carried by SA [redacted] Corresponding firearms projectiles, secondary projectiles or debris capable of causing these "Blunt Force Injuries" were not identified.

As noted on the video recorded account of the shooting, the opportunity for the "Blunt Force Injuries" to have been caused by projectiles from the MP-5 was as SA [redacted] moved from the R-front passenger side toward the rear of the Mustang and the Mustang turned to the left causing the passenger door to swing open. In his SSS, SA [redacted] stated that he could not see clearly through the driver or passenger side Mustang widows due to the dark tinting. It is submitted that SA [redacted] fired through the Mustang's passenger door opening as the door swung open during the left turn. Window glass on the passenger side was not broken and the passenger window was up. These shots possibly caused the "Blunt Force Injuries" grazing Subject Diaz twice along the R-chest. Regarding SA [redacted] statement of not being able to see in through the driver's window because of the tint, yet able to see Subject Diaz's hands high on the steering wheel when Subject Diaz drove at A/SSA [redacted] it is submitted that SA [redacted] saw this through an approximate eight inch space caused by the driver's window being approximately half way open (down) when SA [redacted] stood to the rear-side area of the Mustang. Upon examination, the driver's window was determined to have been approximately half open at the time of the shooting. The driver's window was also determined to have been broken at some point prior to A/SSA [redacted] extracting Subject Diaz from the driver's seat area of the Mustang. Neither the FBI Laboratory analyses nor interview could establish definitively how and when this window was broken.

Four separate areas of notable trauma were identified within the autopsy report as "Puncture Wounds." All four appear in the upper chest area and measure 3/8 to ½ inch in their greatest dimension and between 1/4 and ½ inch in depth. As of this writing, the source of these trauma points are not known. No foreign objects were found within these wounds.

In his SSS, A/SSA [redacted] stated that he saw through the windshield that the passenger [Subject [redacted] had his hands up. The driver had both hands high on the steering wheel and was looking directly at A/SSA [redacted]. As the Mustang continued forward the driver turned the Mustang towards A/SSA [redacted] and A/SSA [redacted] felt that he [Subject Diaz] was going to try and run A/SSA [redacted] over. A/SSA [redacted] believed the driver was clearly trying to kill or injure him by running him over and that he was in fear of his life. As noted on the video account of the shooting, the Mustang is shown to veer toward A/SSA [redacted] prior to A/SSA [redacted] firing his LAR-15 at Subject Diaz. A/SSA [redacted] did not recall if the Mustang struck him, but realized the next day that his left knee was sore and that the Mustang may have hit him.

During interview, Subject [redacted] [R-front passenger in the Mustang] stated after being admonished of his Miranda Rights, he entered the Mustang and that Gerardo [Subject Diaz] attempted to drive away in order to escape the area. Subject [redacted] also advised that as Subject Diaz was driving away, and as Subject [redacted] saw all of the FBI Agents with guns ordering them to stop, Subject [redacted] told Subject Diaz to stop or they [FBI Agents] were going to shoot them. Subject [redacted] continued by stating that Subject Diaz pointed the vehicle in the direction of an FBI Agent, who Subject [redacted] described as being tall, white, and with blonde hair, and continued driving. A/SSA [redacted] fits this description. In his statement, Subject [redacted] stated that the Mustang was going to hit the FBI Agent and the FBI Agent had to fire his gun to defend himself. Subject [redacted] further advised that he would have done the same thing himself had he been in the FBI Agent's position.

Case ID #: 297-HQ-A1271286-D

Title: SHOOTING INCIDENT
CINCINNATI DIVISION
04/26/2007

Synopsis: The Shooting Incident Review Group (SIRG) reviewed a shooting incident that occurred on 04/26/2007, involving Special Agent (SA [redacted]. While participating in the attempted installation of a Global Positioning Satellite (GPS) tracking device, SA [redacted] fired one round from his Bureau-issued Glock Model 27, .40 caliber pistol, killing an individual who was brandishing a weapon at him. SIRG members recommended that no administrative action be taken against SA [redacted] as a result of his involvement in this shooting incident.

Administrative: Reference report of Chief Inspector [redacted] dated 07/24/2007.

Details: This communication was prepared to furnish the analysis, comments, and recommendations of the SIRG with reference to the captioned shooting.

Details of the Shooting Incident

While conducting an investigation into a drug organization suspected of being the largest black tar heroin distributor in the Cincinnati, Ohio, area, approval was obtained to install two GPS tracking devices on two vehicles belonging to Gerald Mulato. Installation of the GPS tracking devices was scheduled for 04/26/2007.

On 04/26/2007, SAs [redacted] and [redacted] led an operational briefing which included three additional Agents and two Task Force officers (TFOs). Mulato's Mercedes Benz was located in the parking lot approximately 40-50 feet from the building entrance of his apartment complex. Investigation revealed Mulato had a rear, ground-level apartment which was located on the opposite side of the building of the subject vehicle's location. Law enforcement personnel also knew Mulato did not have a window in his apartment to view the vehicle. The plan called for Technically Trained Agent (TTA) [redacted] to conduct the GPS installation, with SA [redacted] serving as his immediate proximity cover Agent. SA [redacted] would be positioned near the subject vehicle during the installation while SA [redacted] would be positioned approximately 25 feet away behind a trash dumpster. SAs [redacted] and [redacted], as well as TFOs [redacted] and [redacted] would be located inside their vehicles and serve as perimeter surveillance/cover.

At 4:15 a.m., TTA [redacted] SA [redacted] and SA [redacted] were driven to SA [redacted] Chevrolet Suburban. At 4:20 a.m., with all team members in position, the GPS installation team walked from SA [redacted] vehicle to the subject vehicle.

Shortly after TTA [redacted] initiated the GPS installation a person, subsequently identified as [redacted] exited an adjoining apartment building and proceeded to his vehicle in the parking lot where the subject vehicle was located. SA [redacted] radioed the signal "clear," which required TTA [redacted] and his cover team to clear the area. [redacted] noticed the suspicious individuals wearing dark clothing, and believing they were burglarizing a vehicle, called 911 to report suspicious activity before leaving the area.

In response to the 911 suspicious activity call, an officer of the Forest Park Police Department (FPPD) responded, approached SA [redacted] vehicle, and requested identification. SA [redacted] discretely identified himself and the FPPD officer departed; however, he and his Sergeant remained in the area to render assistance if necessary.

At approximately 4:30 a.m., the installation team resumed their positions. Within several minutes, SA [redacted] observed Mulato coming up the interior apartment building stairwell toward the front door. SA [redacted] radioed "clear," seconds prior to Mulato throwing open the door to the apartment building. SA [redacted] heard Mulato rack the slide of his weapon and SA [redacted] saw Mulato aggressively exiting the door pointing a silver handgun in the direction of the subject vehicle. At that moment, according to SA [redacted] SA [redacted] said, "he's got a gun." SA [redacted] also recalled someone calling out, "gun." TTA [redacted] was on his back near the subject vehicle and observed Mulato with a pistol. [redacted] grabbed his tech bags and ran past the east side of the dumpster toward SA [redacted] vehicle. b6 b7C

SA [redacted] quickly proceeded to the west side of the dumpster without turning his back fearing Mulato would shoot him in the back. SA [redacted] was located on the west side of the dumpster and observed Mulato in the parking lot moving toward his position as SA [redacted] came around the west side of the dumpster. Seeing Mulato with a gun in his hand with his arm extended straight, and pointing the weapon toward SAs [redacted] and [redacted] SA [redacted] curled further behind the dumpster. Both Agents lost sight of the suspect who was advancing quickly toward the dumpster. SA [redacted] heard Mulato yell, "you trying to steal my shit"; SA [redacted] heard, "you messing with my shit"; and SA [redacted] heard the subject say, "that's my car." SA [redacted] heard, "that's my car, mother fucker, that's my fucking car."

As soon as SA [redacted] had cover behind the dumpster, he called out "police" or "FBI" and to "get your hands up." SA [redacted] heard loud voices but could not determine what was said. He did hear SA [redacted] shout, "drop it" more than once, however, was unsure if it was before or after he heard the single gun shot. SA [redacted] heard voices yelling, "FBI" and "gun." As SA [redacted] was running toward the dumpster, he heard yelling but did not know what was being said. SA [redacted] approached from his cover position and stood between two cars located approximately ten to twelve yards from Mulato, who had his weapon pointed in the direction of the Agents behind the dumpster. SA [redacted] pointed his weapon at Mulato, illuminated him with his flashlight, and called out, "gun" to warn other law enforcement personnel in the area. Mulato responded by pointing his weapon at SA [redacted] who had no cover between himself and the subject. SA [redacted] fired one round, hitting Mulato in the stomach and again yelled, FBI, drop the gun." Mulato immediately fell backward against his vehicle and slid toward the ground, maintaining possession of his weapon until he hit the ground. b6 b7C

SA [redacted] administered chest compressions to Mulato while FPPD Sergeant [redacted] provided a medic bag. A local fireman, a resident in the apartment complex, assisted with cardio pulmonary resuscitation and first aid. Mulato was transported by the Forest Park Fire Department and died en route to the hospital.

On 07/09/2007, Hamilton County Prosecuting Attorney [redacted] provided a declination of prosecution regarding the actions of SA [redacted] On 12/13/2007, a declination of prosecution was received from the United States Department of Justice, Civil Rights Division, regarding the actions of SA [redacted] in this shooting incident. b6 b7C

On 05/13/2008, the SIRG met to discuss the above-captioned shooting incident. Deputy Assistant Director Michael S. Clemens, Inspection Division (INSD), chaired the meeting and was a non-voting member. The following voting members were in attendance: [redacted] Deputy Chief, Criminal Section, Civil Rights Division, USDOJ; [redacted], Chief Inspector, Office of Inspections (OI), INSD; Assistant Section Chief (ASC) [redacted] Violent Crimes Section, Criminal Investigative Division; Unit Chief (UC) [redacted] Firearms Training Unit, Training Division (TD); UC [redacted] Defensive Systems Unit, TD; UC [redacted] Investigative Law Unit, Office of General Counsel; UC [redacted] Practical Applications Unit, TD; Acting UC [redacted] Special Weapons and Tactics Operations Unit, Critical Incident Response Group; SSA [redacted], Firearms - Toolmarks Unit, Scientific Analysis Section, Laboratory Division; and SSA [redacted] CR-2, Washington Field Office. Re: 297-HQ-A1271286-D, 06/27/2008

Prior to the discussion of this incident by SIRG members, Chief Inspector [redacted] Inspector-in-Charge of the investigation of the shooting incident, provided an overview of this incident.

SIRG members unanimously agreed that the use of deadly force by SA [redacted] was justified and in conformance with the FBI's deadly force policy. This discussion resulted in the recommendation that no administrative action be taken against SA [redacted] as a result of his involvement in this shooting incident.

Members noted the absence of a written operation plan and emphasized no current policy exists regarding technical installations.

The SIRG recognized installation team members conducted a thorough and complete oral briefing prior to the attempted GPS installation; however, the plan did not include notification to local law enforcement which could have resulted in officer safety issues. This matter will be discussed with the Special Agent in Charge of the Cincinnati Division.

Details of the Shooting Incident

On 01/26/2006, the Washington Field Office (WFO) Bank Robbery Coordinator initiated an investigation pertaining to the robbery of the Virginia Commerce Bank in Alexandria, Virginia. The bank was robbed by a white male wearing a suit, fedora hat, black gloves, dark colored trench coat, and was armed with a black semi-automatic gun.

On 02/27/2007, [redacted] provided information to the FBI and United States Capitol Police (USCP) regarding Michael Terry Smith, who threatened her due to a romantic breakup. [redacted] advised law enforcement authorities she believed Smith was involved in bank robberies. According to [redacted] she met Smith on the Internet in June 2006, and began dating him. During the course of their relationship, Smith told her he had previously been arrested on drug charges and served four years on a federal bank robbery conviction. He told [redacted] he wore suits during the bank robberies and was known as the pinstriped bank bandit. Additionally [redacted] advised Smith always had large sums of money and possessed a black semi-automatic gun.

On 03/06/2007, [redacted] advised WFO SA [redacted] that Smith's threats were escalating and several days earlier said that if he did not kill himself, he would spend most of his time in jail. According to [redacted] Smith said, "I want to go out," referring to suicide. He followed that statement with, "my first thought is to drive up to the (Capitol Hill) barricade and take out as many cops as I can, then kill myself. If not, then somewhere else like Wal-Mart or Target, just to make national news."

The following week, Smith continued to call and send threatening e-mails to [redacted] On 03/15/2007, SA [redacted] learned [redacted] reported to the USCP that Smith's threats toward Capitol Hill were increasing in specificity. Smith planned to give a note to an innocent bystander on Capitol Hill and ask this person to give the note to a USCP officer. The note would state, "the person that is handing you this letter is unaware of its contents and is in no way involved in what is about to happen. I am going to initiate gunfire so that the police will be forced to kill me." Smith also told [redacted] "I am going to give them no choice - that way my mother can collect the insurance money because it will not be suicide. I want to be in a standoff. I want to make sure the media is there. I want everyone to remember that on this day and this year, Michael Smith was at the Capitol and this is where he died."

Based on Smith's threat, an alert was disseminated throughout the USCP. The USCP also requested an arrest warrant for Smith, however, it was denied.

Re: 297-HQ-A1270951-D, 09/08/2008

On 03/19/2007, based on information provided by [redacted] the WFO initiated a Conspiracy to Impede or Injure a Federal Officer investigation. SA [redacted] and Detective [redacted] of the USCP met with Assistant United States Attorney (AUSA) [redacted] in Washington. Due to the lack of probable cause for an arrest warrant, a strategy was developed to search Smith's apartment and car for a weapon, which would then predicate a felon in possession of a weapon charge. AUSA [redacted] contacted AUSA [redacted] in Greenbelt, Maryland, regarding obtaining search warrants for Smith's apartment and vehicle. AUSA [redacted] concurred with the issuance of the search warrants and on 03/20/2007, search warrants were issued for Smith's apartment in Suitland, Maryland, as well as his vehicle which was identified as a 1987 Lincoln Town Car. b6 b7C

On 03/20/2007, SA [redacted] prepared an operation plan for the search and submitted it for approval. Discussions with the WFO Acting Assistant Special Agent in Charge (A/ASAC) and Baltimore ASAC Kevin Lewis, led to the decision that the Baltimore Special Weapons and Tactics (SWAT) Team would serve the warrant with WFO Agents conducting the search.

During a pre-operational intelligence debrief on 03/21/2007, [redacted] advised SA [redacted] that Smith would be agitated if the police came to his door. Additionally, Smith sent [redacted] two e-mails on the same day making increasing threats.

At 4:00 p.m., on 03/21/2007, a briefing regarding the execution of the search warrant was held at WFO, with representatives from the USCP. All personnel were provided a copy of the approved operation plan. During the briefing, information was provided pertaining to the background of the investigation, Smith's criminal history, a possible "Armed and Dangerous" status, the deadly force policy, and a contingency plan to obtain a Maryland state arrest warrant prior to the search warrants for the recent e-mail threats. b6 b7C

On 03/21/2007, SA [redacted] telephonically spoke with SA [redacted], Senior Team Leader of the Baltimore SWAT Team, and briefed him regarding the investigation. SA [redacted] inquired as to why a "no knock" search warrant was not obtained and SA [redacted] explained that an attempt was made to obtain one; however, the request was denied by the United States Attorney's Office in Washington. A copy of the operation plan was provided to SA [redacted] who advised SA [redacted] the Baltimore SWAT Team would complete a separate SWAT operation plan to execute the search warrant. The plan called for WFO personnel to conduct the search of Smith's vehicle and residence after being secured by the Baltimore SWAT Team.

On 03/22/2007, at approximately 5:00 a.m., Baltimore personnel arrived at the Maryland State Police (MSP) barracks in Suitland to conduct a pre-operation briefing. SA [redacted] provided floor plans, color copies of the apartment complex and a photograph of Smith. SA [redacted] briefed the written operation plan and sequence of events, as well as the FBI deadly force policy. The entry team conducted a simulated walk-thru of the entry. SA [redacted] conducted a briefing of the MSP medic assigned to the SWAT Team, a "sound-off" radio check for the Tactical Operations Center (TOC), and confirmed the TOC, which was located in a SWAT Suburban parked south of the entrance door of Smith's apartment building, was in place prior to the SWAT deployment to the scene. The team was advised of the "knock and announce" requirement and that if, after a reasonable time Smith failed to answer the door, the SWAT team would deploy the battering ram to gain entry into the apartment. SA [redacted] told team members if shots were fired, the team would fall back to a secure position on the landing below the apartment door.

The rear perimeter team consisted of three Baltimore Division non-SWAT operators with an average of two years field experience. They took positions in the rear of the complex, 40 yards across the parking lot from the rear windows of the subject's third floor apartment. The perimeter Agents were positioned behind vehicles with approximately fifteen to twenty yards between them.

At 6:05 a.m., the SWAT team staged on the open air landing outside of Smith's third floor apartment door where a "knock and announce" was performed three times. After the third "knock and announce", SA [redacted] gave the command to deploy the ram. The first four members of the entry team entered the apartment while continuously identifying themselves as 'FBI, serving a search warrant.'

Upon entering the completely dark apartment, SA [redacted] switched on his ballistic shield light as well as the light located on his handgun. SA [redacted] moved into the living room and stopped when he saw a hand, holding a large silver revolver, protruding from the hallway into the living room. The subject fired three rounds toward the SWAT team. SA [redacted] estimated the location of the subject's body behind the wall, and fired four rounds from his Glock Model 22, .40 caliber pistol into the wall.

The arm and revolver disappeared from view and SA [redacted] ordered the entry team to pull back while he called out "shots fired" over the radio. b6 b7C

The SWAT team moved out of Smith's apartment and down the stairs to the second floor landing of the apartment building. While on the landing three Agents yelled up to the third floor apartment in an attempt to determine if Smith was hurt.

When the shooting began inside the apartment, Baltimore ASAC Frank Goetz, the on-scene commander during the initial entry, requested three WFO Agents to respond to the rear of the building and assist the rear perimeter team already in place. He also requested assistance from the Maryland State Police (MSP) and the Prince George's County Police Department (PGCPD). ASAC Goetz requested that the PGCPD provide an armored vehicle to safely retrieve the Agents on the rear perimeter. The PGCPD offered to provide an armored vehicle if they took over the entire scene, however, the offer was declined. The Montgomery County Police (MCP) was contacted and agreed to assist with an armored personnel carrier. A request was also made for additional resources from the WFO SWAT team.

At 6:10 a.m., the rear perimeter team called out on the radio that the subject was attempting to exit the apartment from his balcony. It was subsequently determined Smith was attempting to exit through the bedroom window. When the perimeter team called for the subject to halt, Smith swung his arm around toward them as if he had a weapon. The Baltimore perimeter team took cover and lost visual contact of the suspect. SA [redacted] sent three SWAT Agents to the rear of the apartment building where they were focusing on the balcony where the subject was last seen. While covering the balcony, SA [redacted] observed a white male pull out the screen in the subject's apartment. SA [redacted] visually identified the white male as Smith, who then immediately fired two shots at the SWAT operators. SA [redacted] fired two shots from his Glock Model 21, .45 caliber pistol and SA [redacted] fired one round from his Colt Model M-4 carbine. SAs [redacted] and [redacted] maintained their positions for approximately five minutes and SA [redacted] provided cover for SAs [redacted] and [redacted] as they moved perpendicularly across the parking lot to assume positions next to the perimeter team. b6 b7C

The three Agents located on the second floor apartment landing maintained their positions behind the ballistic shield. One Agent continued to yell up to the apartment in an attempt to talk the subject out of the apartment. Telephone calls were repeatedly made to two cellular numbers belonging to the subject. Calls to one number went directly to voice mail while calls to the second number were answered by a recording indicating the subscriber could not be located.

At 8:45 a.m., the MCP SWAT team arrived with the armored vehicle and retrieved the Agents on the rear perimeter replacing them with SWAT operators.

At 9:00 a.m., the subject responded to SA [redacted] stating he would speak "face to face", and "come on up, we'll talk." The subject was adamant he was not coming out but the negotiators could come in. SA [redacted] advised the subject negotiators would not be able to talk to him face to face for safety reasons resulting in the subject becoming unresponsive.

During this time, the MSP SWAT team arrived and set up a sniper position in a third floor apartment across the parking lot in the rear of the building which allowed for a view through the rear windows of Smith's apartment. The MSP snipers advised they could not get a view of the subject in the apartment because of closed curtains.

SA [redacted] contacted the apartment complex management supervisor to determine the layout of the apartment building and if it was possible for Smith to get into the attic or crawl space and enter another apartment. The building engineer indicated Smith could get into the crawl space of other apartments on that level, however, he would not have access to connecting apartment buildings. Law enforcement officers evacuated residents through windows of adjoining apartments. SWAT Agents were placed in the apartments located directly across and diagonally from the Smith's apartment on the third floor in order to cover his front door.

At 9:37 a.m., Smith threw his wallet, keys, and a note onto the landing. The note instructed the Agents to give the keys to his vehicle to his mother and indicated he was ready to die. Negotiators continued a one-way dialogue with Smith.

Throughout the next several hours, SWAT operators were rotating in and out of positions and hostage negotiator SA [redacted] arrived on the scene. According to SA [redacted] the subject became more responsive although distance hampered communications. Smith told Agents he had flushed his cell phone down the toilet.

At 10:56 a.m., Baltimore SAC William Chase approved the insertion of a "rescue telephone" to enhance communications with Smith. Due to the Baltimore Division rescue telephone being damaged a week earlier, WFO's rescue phone was used which was a different model and had never been used by the Baltimore negotiators. The telephone was equipped with covert audio and video surveillance capabilities. WFO Electronic Technician (ET) [redacted] was newly assigned to support the equipment and had not yet been trained on the operation and maintenance of the rescue telephone. At 11:33 a.m., the rescue telephone was positioned outside of Smith's apartment door. At 11:45 a.m., Smith reached out, pulled the telephone inside the apartment, and immediately picked up the telephone receiver and began speaking with SA [redacted] SA [redacted] was serving as the negotiator's liaison in the TOC and maintained notes and a "telephone log" regarding the negotiations over the rescue telephone. SA [redacted] began audio recording what he thought was the conversation between SA [redacted] and Smith through the auxiliary hostage negotiator console. ET [redacted] had connected the recording device into the microphone connection on the video monitor and neither ET [redacted] or SA [redacted] were aware the recording device was only capturing low level apartment noise and not the negotiator's conversation with Smith.

Smith spoke continuously with SA [redacted] for approximately one hour and told her he wanted to die. He told SA [redacted] he was wearing a suit so he could be a good looking corpse. Smith stated he returned fire when the cops came in and shot at him, his death would be [redacted] fault, he did not get to go to church to repent his sins, and that he had thought about taking sleeping pills but he wanted to go out in a blaze of glory. He stated repeatedly he would not go to prison or to a nut house. SA [redacted] did not believe she was able to develop a rapport with Smith and believed he had made up his mind he would be killed during the barricade situation. The video feed from the rescue telephone showed Smith sitting in a chair with his weapon pointed towards the door, waiting for the FBI to enter the apartment. At this point, the phone call with Smith ended and a decision was made to conduct an assessment.

SA [redacted] rewound the audio tape to listen to the recorded conversation but couldn't hear anything. ET [redacted] disconnected the recording device from the viewing monitor and connected the recording device to another port on the remote auxiliary console in the TOC, which was later determined to be the covert audio microphone outlet.

At 1:45 p.m., WFO SA [redacted], became the lead negotiator and initiated contact Smith through the rescue telephone. During this conversation, Smith advised he fired two shots when cops entered the apartment because he thought he was being robbed. Smith stated the only way for this to end would be for the police to come in and kill him, as a payback to [redacted] for ending their relationship. Smith also stated he had previously served four and a half years in prison, and he was too old to go back to prison. Smith asked the FBI to contact his mother so she could come and get his car after his death.

At 2:00 p.m., SAC Chase requested a final assessment from SA [redacted] on the status of the negotiations and the likelihood that Smith would surrender. SA [redacted] indicated the subject was very skeptical and was not going to surrender. SA [redacted] indicated Smith was not going to commit suicide, he wanted a violent confrontation with the FBI, and wanted the FBI to kill him.

b7E

At 2:49 p.m., SAC Chase gave approval to initiate Phase One of the plan and the utilities to Smith's apartment were terminated. Negotiators indicated Phase One did not affect the subject and Smith stated there was no way he was ever coming out, they would have to come in and kill him, and he had made peace and was ready.

At 3:15 p.m., SAC Chase authorized SWAT to deploy the tear gas. A grenade launcher was used to shoot five rounds of gas into Smith's apartment. Four rounds went into the bedroom and one round went into the utility closet off of the balcony. Upon insertion of the first two volleys of gas, an eye-ball camera was discretely inserted by a pole through the partially open apartment front door into the living room. Smith noticed the eye-camera and fired two shots. Seventeen gas canisters were fired into the apartment with no reaction shown by Smith.

At approximately 3:30 p.m., Smith, who was angry about the gas and the "camera" in his door, was on the telephone with SA [redacted] Smith was screaming for the cops to come in and kill him and he was ready to die. Smith went from being very agitated to calmly sitting in a chair near the kitchen with a cloth over his face pointing a gun at the front door and showing no indication of coming out.

Based upon the shots fired by Smith, the lack of effect of the gas upon him, and reports that he placed himself into an offensive position near the kitchen, pointing his gun at the door waiting for a SWAT entry, [redacted] b6 b7C b7E

[redacted] were a hole in the bedroom closet and a hole in the bathroom wall. [redacted]

Utilizing the partially disabled eye-ball camera and the rescue telephone video feed, Agents observed Smith with a revolver in his hand running from near the kitchen into the hallway before losing visual contact. SA [redacted] through his limited port hole in the bathroom, saw Smith coming toward him from the hallway. Smith had his .357 revolver in his hand above his waist in front of him. SA [redacted] yelled out, "FBI, get down," but Smith completely disregarded his command and continued toward SA [redacted] SA [redacted] was only protected by the concealment of dry wall, and fearing for his life, fired four rounds from his MP-5. Two rounds hit Smith in the chest and one round caused a deep graze wound in the back of Smith's head as he dropped to the floor from the first two shots. After ensuring Smith was secured, SA [redacted] called the medics to provide assistance. b6 b7C

Although four Agents fired their weapons during the incident, investigation determined only the rounds fired by SA [redacted] struck Smith who died on the scene.

On 06/10/2008,a declination of prosecution was received from the United States Department of Justice, Civil Rights Division, regarding the actions of the Agents involved in this shooting incident.

Re: 297-HQ-A1270951-D, 09/08/2008

On 08/19/2008, the SIRG met to discuss the above-captioned shooting incident. Deputy Assistant Director Michael S. Clemens, Inspection Division (INSD), chaired the meeting and was a non-voting member. The following voting members were in attendance: [redacted] Trial Attorney, Civil Rights Division, USDOJ; [redacted] Trial Attorney, Gang Squad, USDOJ; Section Chief (SC) Robert Anderson, Jr., CD-4, Counterespionage Section, Counterintelligence Division; SC Thomas A. Nunemaker, Violent Crimes Section, Criminal Investigative Division (CID); Unit Chief (UC) [redacted] Firearms Training Unit, Training Division (TD); UC [redacted] Defensive Systems Unit, TD; Acting UC [redacted] Practical Applications Unit, TD; Acting UC [redacted] Special Weapons and Tactics Operations Unit, Critical Incident Response Group; SSA [redacted] Investigative Law Unit, Office of General Counsel; and SSA [redacted] CR-2, Washington Field Office. Management Program Analyst [redacted] Inspection Management Unit, OI, INSD, a non-voting member, was also in attendance. b6 b7C

Observations and Recommendations of the SIRG

The SIRG reviewed the above synopsized incident with the intent to: (1) evaluate the application of deadly force; (2) provide the Director with an evaluative analysis, observations, and recommendations for corrective actions from an operational standpoint (if any); (3) provide recommendations concerning training and/or safety issues; and (4) provide recommendations for administrative action if deemed necessary.

SIRG members unanimously agreed that the use of deadly force by SAs [redacted] and [redacted] was justified and in conformance with the FBI's deadly force policy. This discussion resulted in the recommendation that no administrative action be taken against the four Agents as a result of their involvement in this shooting incident. b6 b7C

The next area of discussion pertained to the lack of FBI policy regarding the use of local and state law enforcement explosive breaching techniques in joint FBI investigations. The CIRG representative agreed that standard operating procedures are needed for these situations; however, emphasized that explosives are available for use if contact is made with the Hostage Rescue Team. Emphasis was placed on the fact that the FBI is not thoroughly knowledgeable of the capabilities of state and local authorities nor the frequency and types of training received at the state and local levels. The CIRG representative advised that although the current CIRG position is not to use state and local explosive techniques, SACs have the authority to dictate their use which occurred during this incident. This discussion led to the recommendation that the CIRG develop and promulgate policy regarding the use of local and state SWAT team explosive breaching techniques on FBI operations.

The last area of discussion by the SIRG centered around the use of the rescue phone by on-scene personnel. It was noted by the Shooting Incident Review Team that the hostage negotiation component violated standard protocols by not making two audio tapes of the hostage negotiations from the rescue telephone. The rescue telephone console was deployed without any recorders resulting in the use of a handheld recorder from an Agent's vehicle to attempt to make one recording. The Baltimore rescue telephone was damaged one week prior to this incident resulting in personnel using the WFO rescue telephone during the operation. The lack of knowledge by on-scene personnel regarding the proper operation of the telephone led to the missed opportunity of deploying the covert microphone. Hostage negotiators from Baltimore and the WFO were unable to determine how the covert microphone on the rescue telephone worked resulting in the technique not being deployed. It was also noted by SIRG members that the hostage negotiators did not have the capabilities of recording the video feed from the rescue phone. This discussion resulted in the recommendation that standard operating procedures be promulgated to all offices regarding the use and capabilities of rescue telephones.

In anticipation of a buy/bust operation planned for 03/15/2007, [redacted]

On 03/15/2007, members of the FMTF created an operations plan [redacted] which was to take place in a Burger King parking lot. [redacted] was equipped with an electronic listening device prior to receiving a telephone call from [redacted] advising he was on his way to the designated location. Unaware he failed to hang up the phone, [redacted] was overheard by [redacted] talking to two unknown males saying he wanted to "rip" [redacted]. The two unknown subjects and [redacted] were overheard saying they would "rip" [redacted] when they arrived at the parking lot.

[redacted] notified law enforcement personnel of the information which was relayed to the On-Scene Commander. Instructions were given to remove [redacted] from the parking lot and place him into a law enforcement vehicle. The arrest/surveillance teams were instructed to stay in the parking lot to effect the arrest of [redacted] and any additional subjects involved in the plan to "rip" [redacted] of his money.

A black Ford Explorer, with [redacted] identified as the driver, was observed traveling through the parking lot several times before being parked. Task Force Sergeant [redacted] gave the bust signal and pulled his unmarked vehicle directly behind the parked Explorer. As the arrest team exited their vehicle, [redacted] immediately complied with law enforcement commands and was taken into custody without incident. The passenger of the subject vehicle, subsequently identified as [redacted] exited and began running with SA [redacted] in foot pursuit. SA [redacted] identified himself as law enforcement and ordered [redacted] to stop, however, [redacted] failed to comply with the command. Detective [redacted] paralleled the foot chase in his unmarked police vehicle and turned into the path of the subject in an effort to block his path. As Detective [redacted] pulled in front of the subject, [redacted] ran into the side of the police vehicle. Believing the subject had been knocked down, Detective [redacted] exited his vehicle and realized the subject had spun around and continued running. Detective [redacted] heard shots fired and observed SA [redacted] behind his vehicle and the subject escaping through bushes.

According to SA [redacted] he saw the subject clutching the waistband of his pants with his right hand while running. After [redacted] escape path was cut off by Detective [redacted] vehicle, he made eye contact with SA [redacted] SA [redacted] saw a silver semiautomatic handgun pointed outward in a ready-to-shoot position. Fearing for his safety, SA [redacted] stopped running, obtained the shooting stance, and fired one round at the subject. The fleeing subject ran behind Detective [redacted] vehicle approaching the edge of an embankment. Fearing the subject would take cover and fire at law enforcement personnel, SA [redacted] fired two additional rounds before the subject disappeared into the bushes.

The Fresno Police Department Special Weapons and Tactics team, as well as a Police K-9, was activated and deployed to apprehend the subject. Following a struggle with the K-9, [redacted] was subsequently arrested and transported to the University Medical Center for treatment of numerous lacerations and puncture wounds on his left arm and a gunshot wound to his outer left mid thigh.

On 09/16/2008, a declination of prosecution was received from the United States Department of Justice, Civil Rights Division, regarding the actions of SA [redacted] in this shooting incident.

01/30/2009, the SIRG met to discuss the above-captioned shooting incident. Deputy Assistant Director Michael S. Clemens, Inspection Division (INSD), chaired the meeting and was a non-voting member. The following voting members were in attendance: [redacted] Special Legal Counsel, Civil Rights Division, USDOJ; [redacted] Attorney, Criminal Division, USDOJ; Chief Inspector [redacted], Office of Inspections (OI), INSD; Section Chief (SC) Jill Marie Eulitz, CD-1, Eurasian Section, Counterintelligence Division; A/SC [redacted] Violent Crimes Section, Criminal Investigative Division; Unit Chief (UC) [redacted] Firearms Training Unit, Training Division (TD); UC [redacted] Defensive Systems Unit, TD; UC [redacted] Practical Applications Unit, TD; UC [redacted] Special Weapons and Tactics Operations Unit, Critical Incident Response Group; SSA [redacted], Investigative Law Unit, Office of General Counsel; SSA [redacted] Evidence Response Team Unit, Laboratory Division; and SSA [redacted], CR-2, Washington Field Office. Synopsis: The Shooting Incident Review Group (SIRG) reviewed a shooting incident that occurred on 03/15/2007, involving Special Agent (SA) [redacted]. During an attempted arrest, SA [redacted] fired one round from his Bureau-issued Glock Model 22, .40 caliber pistol, killing a subject who made a furtive movement toward his waistband as he was fleeing from the scene of an attempted robbery [redacted] SIRG members recommended that no administrative action be taken against SA [redacted] as a result of his involvement in this shooting incident.

Administrative: Reference report of former Inspector [redacted] dated 05/07/2007.

Details: This communication was prepared to furnish the analysis, comments, and recommendations of the SIRG with reference to the captioned shooting.

Details of the Shooting Incident

On 03/15/2007, Agents of the Philadelphia Division participated in an undercover buy/walk operation with the Philadelphia Police Department (PPD), Narcotics Field Unit (NFU). The operation was one in a series of operations routinely supported by Agents assigned to Squad 3, a Safe Streets Task Force (SSTF). As part of the initiative, Squad 3 personnel were designated to work with specific teams within the PPD, NFU.

Although no written operations plan was prepared for the operation, SAs [redacted] and [redacted], as well as members of the PPD-NFU, attended a briefing on 03/15/2007, at the

PPD-NFU offsite to discuss a buy/walk operation involving a [redacted] The operation called for [redacted] to purchase two ounces of cocaine, a Beretta 9 millimeter semi-automatic pistol with a fully loaded magazine and one round in the chamber, and be "fronted" an additional ounce of cocaine by a subject identified as [redacted]

As the briefing concluded, SA [redacted] telephonically advised her supervisor of the intended plan, and SAs [redacted] and [redacted], as well as Sergeant [redacted] met [redacted] Sergeant [redacted] briefed [redacted] and searched him while SAs [redacted] and [redacted] searched his vehicle. [redacted] voiced his concern several times that the subject possibly intended to rob him because it was very unusual to "front" narcotics to an unknown individual. [redacted] was making from [redacted] law enforcement personnel elected not to use a recorder or transmitting device. [redacted] agreed he would put his hands over his head to signal law enforcement officers if he needed help and was subsequently provided $1,800 to make the purchase.

[redacted] departed the area in his vehicle followed by SA [redacted], SA [redacted] and Sergeant [redacted] in one vehicle, as well as three additional unmarked PPD surveillance units. [redacted] proceeded to the identified meeting area and pulled to the curb to pick up [redacted] who was flagging him down. [redacted] lifted his shirt and exposed his waist indicating he was not carrying a weapon before getting into the front passenger seat of [redacted]'s vehicle. [redacted] pulled away from the curb and drove around the block before parking at the corner of Belgrade and Clearfield Streets. While talking on his cell phone, [redacted] exited and re-entered [redacted] vehicle several times. Upon his final entry into the vehicle, [redacted] drove away and proceeded to Cedar and Ann Streets where subjects Jason Kopp and [redacted] entered the rear passenger seat. [redacted] drove away and again pulled over at the intersection of Cedar and Clearfield Streets. Moments later, surveillance units observed the subjects striking [redacted] in the head with their fists. Believing [redacted] was being beaten and robbed, Sergeant [redacted] instructed the surveillance units to converge on the vehicle to assist [redacted] and arrest the subjects.

Sergeant [redacted] SA [redacted] and SA [redacted] immediately exited their vehicle. SA [redacted] began to yell, "police stop," and continued to yell as he approached [redacted] vehicle. SA [redacted] observed Jason Kopp run toward his direction on the sidewalk near [redacted] vehicle. SA [redacted] ran across the street in an attempt to block Kopp from leaving the scene while continuing to yell, "police stop." SA [redacted] momentarily lost sight of Kopp due to a parked vehicle; however, put himself in a firing position in anticipation of coming face-to-face with him. As SA [redacted] came around the corner of the vehicle, he was approximately five feet from Kopp. SA [redacted] again yelled, "police stop." Kopp reached into the area of his waist band retrieving a dark object which SA [redacted] believed was a handgun. While holding the dark object, Kopp thrust his hand in SA [redacted]'s direction. Believing he was in imminent danger of death or serious injury, SA [redacted] fired one shot killing the subject.

According to SA [redacted] she was running behind SA [redacted] and also attempted to cut the subject off from escape. SA [redacted] observed the subject reach for his waist and pull out a black object which she immediately believed was a handgun. She heard a "pop" and saw the subject was hit in the chest. According to SA [redacted] the subject staggered and fell to the sidewalk. Seeing what she believed to be a weapon lying on the sidewalk next to the subject, SA [redacted] proceeded to retrieve the "weapon" and determined the object was a cell phone. b6 b7C

According to Sergeant [redacted] he observed the subject's actions and stated he was preparing to shoot the subject when SA [redacted] shot him.

Medical personnel immediately responded to the scene and determined the subject was deceased.

On 08/02/2007, a declination of prosecution was received from the United States Department of Justice, Civil Rights Division, regarding the actions of SA [redacted] in this shooting incident.

On 02/15/2008, the SIRG met to discuss the above-captioned shooting incident. Deputy Assistant Director Michael S. Clemens, Inspection Division (INSD), chaired the meeting and was a non-voting member. The following voting members were in attendance: [redacted] Deputy Chief, Gang Squad, Criminal Division, United States Department of Justice (USDOJ); [redacted] Special Legal Counsel, Civil Rights Division, USDOJ; Section Chief (SC) James Casey, Eurasian Section, CD-1, Counterintelligence Division; Unit Chief (UC) [redacted] Firearms Training Unit, Training and Development Division (TDD); UC [redacted], Defensive Systems Unit, TDD; UC [redacted] Indian Country/Special Crimes Unit, Violent Crimes Section, Criminal Investigative Division; UC [redacted] Practical Applications Unit, TDD; Acting UC [redacted] Special Weapons and Tactics Operations Unit, Critical Incident Response Group; SSA [redacted] Firearms - Toolmarks Unit, Scientific Analysis Section, Laboratory Division; SSA [redacted], Investigative Law Unit, Office of General b6 b7C

Counsel; and SSA [redacted] Gangs/Criminal Enterprise Section, CID. [redacted] Inspector, Office of Inspections (OI), INSD, and Management Program Analyst (MPA) [redacted] Inspection Management Unit, OI, INSD, non-voting members, were also in attendance.

Observations and Recommendations of the SIRG

b7C

The SIRG reviewed the above synopsized incident with the intent to: (1) evaluate the application of deadly force; (2) provide the Director with an evaluative analysis, observations, and recommendations for corrective actions from an operational standpoint (if any); (3) provide recommendations concerning training and/or safety issues; and (4) provide recommendations for administrative action if deemed necessary.

SIRG members unanimously agreed that the use of deadly force by SA [redacted] was justified and in conformance with the FBI's deadly force policy. This discussion resulted in the recommendation that no administrative action be taken against SA [redacted] as a result of his involvement in this shooting incident.

The discussion of the incident addressed several areas of concern by SIRG members. The first area pertained to the fact that neither SA [redacted] nor SA [redacted] utilized any type of protective body armor during this incident. According to SA [redacted] he was not wearing any clothing identifying himself as a law enforcement officer, nor was he wearing his bullet protective vest. The operation was intended to be a buy/walk and he did not want to wear any identifying clothing which could reveal his presence in the area. The discussion resulted in one SIRG member asking if the Bureau was providing proper equipment to Agents in the field, i.e., covert protective armor. A TDD representative advised field offices are provided Electronic Communications regarding procedures for obtaining this type of equipment and furthermore, if a request is made, the equipment is provided. The SIRG Chairman advised this topic would be included for discussion at the scheduled conference for all Special Agents in Charge (SACs).

The second area of discussion centered around the lack of a pre-approved Operations (OPs) plan. The former SAC of the Philadelphia Division advised the Shooting Incident Review Team (SIRT) that although the squad Supervisory Special Agent is informed of every operation, "buy/walk" operations involving limited risks do not have a written OPs plan since most are PPD-NFU operations utilizing PPD-NFU cooperating witnesses and funds.

One TDD representative reiterated that written OPs plans are required if it is a Bureau operation; however, an oral OPs plan is acceptable for a non-Bureau operation. The CIRG representative emphasized there may not have been sufficient time for a detailed, approved OPs plan. Several members opined this operation should not have been considered "low risk" since a loaded gun was part of the operation. These areas of concern will be discussed with the SAC of the Philadelphia Division.

The last comment made pertained to the shooting incident report. The OGC representative noted the report included unnecessary career board notes.

Details of the Shooting Incident

The Mahoning Valley Violent Crimes Task Force was seeking to locate and apprehend [redacted] a subject charged with felonious assault by local authorities. The Task Force requested the assistance of the Youngstown Resident Agency (YRA) Safe Streets Task Force (SSTF) in locating and apprehending the subject.

Investigation by the SSTF revealed [redacted] was moving back and forth from Youngstown, Ohio to various locations in the State of Pennsylvania. Subsequently, a federal warrant was issued on 08/29/2007, charging [redacted] with Unlawful Flight to Avoid Prosecution.

On 09/04/2007, investigators learned that [redacted] was supposedly utilizing a particular cellular phone. Technical tracking of the phone was initiated which subsequently determined the phone was located at [redacted] in Youngstown. SA [redacted] utilized available task force personnel to establish a loose perimeter on the location, while he and Task Force Officer (TFO) [redacted] assumed a position providing them with visual surveillance of the location. b6 b7C

At approximately 2:15 p.m., a Toyota Camry left the location and was eventually stopped. The operator of the Camry indicated to law enforcement personnel that the subject [redacted] was probably in a Toyota Camry located behind [redacted]

A plan was formulated and called for a number of TFOs to block any escape through the rear of the residence while the remaining TFOs and SA [redacted] would approach from the front of the residence. The plan had to be communicated via radio and cellular phone to the Task Force members who had spread out to establish the perimeter.

At approximately 2:30 p.m., SA [redacted] instructed participants to move up and the units moved toward the Ohio Street residence. SA [redacted] and TFO [redacted] arrived first and observed the subject in a red/burgundy Toyota Camry behind the residence with the vehicle parked facing away from the residence. He appeared to be talking on a cell phone with the driver's window and front passenger window of the vehicle open. The plan called for SA [redacted] and TFOs [redacted] and [redacted] to block the Camry and effect the arrest of [redacted] b6 b7C

SA [redacted] and TFO [redacted] arrived at the southeast side of the residence before other units. SA [redacted] identified himself as law enforcement and ordered the subject out of the vehicle. [redacted] placed the Camry in reverse and swung the vehicle from its parked position at a high rate of speed, nearly striking SA [redacted] The subject turned the vehicle through an approximately 270 degree arc and stopped, facing SA [redacted] placed the vehicle in drive and quickly accelerated toward SA [redacted]. Fearing for his safety, SA [redacted] fired five rounds from his Bureau-issued Colt .223 rifle. The subject vehicle continued past SA [redacted] and stopped approximately thirty yards behind him. SA [redacted] and the TFOs removed [redacted] from the vehicle, provided first aid, and called for the Emergency Medical Service. [redacted] was transported to a local hospital where he underwent surgery and was treated for three gunshot wounds to his left arm, one gunshot wound to the right forearm, and a superficial wound to his left leg.

On 10/12/2007, Assistant Mahoning County Prosecutor [redacted] advised he had reviewed the facts of the shooting with local authorities and discussed the matter with the Mahoning County Prosecutor. Mr. [redacted] advised his office was not going to take any action regarding SA [redacted] in this matter. On 12/13/2007, a declination of prosecution was received from the United States Department of Justice, Civil Rights Division, regarding the actions of SA [redacted] in this shooting incident. b6 b7C

On 05/13/2008, the SIRG met to discuss the above-captioned shooting incident. Deputy Assistant Director Michael S. Clemens, Inspection Division (INSD), chaired the meeting and was a non-voting member. The following voting members were in attendance: [redacted] Deputy Chief, Criminal Section, Civil Rights Division, USDOJ; [redacted] Chief Inspector, Office of Inspections (OI), INSD; Assistant Section Chief (ASC) [redacted] Violent Crimes Section, Criminal Investigative Division; Unit Chief (UC) [redacted] Firearms Training Unit, Training Division (TD); UC [redacted] Defensive Systems Unit, TD; UC [redacted], Investigative Law Unit, Office of General Counsel; UC [redacted] Practical Applications Unit, TD; Acting UC [redacted] Special Weapons and Tactics Operations Unit, Critical Incident Response Group; SSA [redacted], Firearms - Toolmarks Unit, Scientific Analysis Section, Laboratory Division; and SSA [redacted] CR-2, Washington Field Office. Inspector [redacted] OI, INSD, and Management Program Analyst (MPA) [redacted] Inspection Management Unit, OI, INSD, non-voting members, were also in attendance. b6 b7C

The SIRG reviewed the above synopsized incident with the intent to: (1) evaluate the application of deadly force;

(2) provide the Director with an evaluative analysis, observations, and recommendations for corrective actions from an operational standpoint (if any); (3) provide recommendations concerning training and/or safety issues; and (4) provide recommendations for administrative action if deemed necessary.

SIRG members unanimously agreed that the use of deadly force by SA [redacted] was justified and in conformance with the FBI's deadly force policy. This discussion resulted in the recommendation that no administrative action be taken against SA [redacted] as a result of his involvement in this shooting incident. b6 b7C

05/05/2007

Synopsis: The Shooting Incident Review Group (SIRG) reviewed a shooting incident that occurred on 05/05/2007, involving Special Agent (SA) [redacted] and Acting Supervisory Special Agent (A/SSA) [redacted]. During the attempted arrest of subjects involved in a violent kidnaping, SA [redacted] and A/SSA [redacted] fired multiple shots from their Bureau-issued weapons, resulting in the death of one of the suspects. SIRG members recommended that no administrative action be taken against SA [redacted] and A/SSA [redacted] as a result of their involvement in this shooting incident.

Administrative: Reference report of Inspector [redacted] dated 07/23/2007.

Details: This communication was prepared to furnish the analysis, comments, and recommendations of the SIRG with reference to the captioned shooting.

Details of the Shooting Incident

Just after midnight on 05/05/2007, the Dallas Division switchboard received a telephone call from the Dallas Police Department (DPD) regarding a possible kidnaping matter. Information regarding the matter was telephonically forwarded to

A/SSA [redacted] who was advised that according to the DPD, a call had been received from a Spanish-speaking male in Mexico reporting his brother had been kidnaped.

A/SSA [redacted] telephonically contacted the DPD Communications Center and spoke to a bilingual dispatcher who advised she would translate for A/SSA [redacted] during a three-way patch telephone call to the alleged kidnap victim's brother, [redacted], in Mexico. A/SSA [redacted] subsequently advised Assistant Special Agent in Charge (ASAC) Blaise Mikulewicz of the developments in the case. Both A/SSA [redacted] and ASAC Mikulewicz agreed that the FBI should begin working this as an active kidnaping matter. b6 b7C

A/SSA [redacted] continued speaking with the DPD dispatcher and learned that the kidnap victim's name was [redacted] and the kidnapers were demanding $250,000 or they would kill the victim. A/SSA [redacted] through the DPD dispatcher, asked [redacted] to have the subjects put the victim on the phone as a "proof of life." During a subsequent communication, the subject(s) repeated their demand for $250,000 or an equivalent amount in drugs.

At approximately 1:00 a.m., the dispatcher advised A/SSA [redacted] that the subject(s) did not put the victim on the phone with his brother. The dispatcher further advised that the victim said that [redacted] (victim's brother) should pay the money.

During one of the three-way conversations, A/SSA [redacted] learned that the kidnapers had mentioned Richardson, Texas, a suburb of Dallas. A/SSA [redacted] contacted the Richardson Police Department (RPD) and learned that the department had responded to a possible kidnaping/shooting on 05/04/2007. The RPD advised they were investigating a possible kidnaping; however, the victim's name was unknown. A/SSA [redacted] shared his known information with RPD [redacted] including the victim's name and cellular telephone number. A/SSA [redacted] learned that the RPD had responded to a call where gunfire had been reported coming from a residence, an adult male was seen being forced into a vehicle, and that another shot was heard coming from within the subject vehicle before it slowly left the area. Sergeant [redacted] indicated the RPD needed additional assistance and A/SSA [redacted] offered to send FBI personnel to assist in the kidnaping investigation. Two Agents and one Task Force officer (TFO) were subsequently instructed to respond to the RPD to provide assistance. b6 b7C

During subsequent telephone calls with Sergeant [redacted] A/SSA [redacted] learned that the Drug Enforcement Administration (DEA) possibly had information regarding the kidnaping; however, they would not divulge the information to the RPD due to inadequate clearances by police personnel. A/SSA [redacted] spoke to a DEA Agent and learned the DEA was aware of the kidnaping and that the victim was alive and within one mile of the original kidnaping location in Richardson. The DEA SA characterized his information as "third hand". b6 b7C

A/SSA [redacted] continued to notify ASAC Mikulewicz and obtained his concurrence that the investigation should continue. A/SSA [redacted] called out additional investigative resources and contacted a Northern District of Texas Assistant United States Attorney and briefed her on the investigation. A/SSA [redacted] requested emergency authority to utilize sophisticated investigative techniques targeting the kidnaping victim's telephone.

SA [redacted] who was assisting the RPD, advised A/SSA [redacted] that a money drop might have to be made. With the concurrence of ASAC Mikulewicz, all Dallas Division Criminal Enterprise squad personnel were instructed to respond to the RPD. At approximately 4:00 a.m., A/SSA [redacted] responded to the Dallas office to continue coordinating the investigation. He inserted a TFO in an Undercover Employee (UCE) capacity to act as the kidnaping victim's cousin. This action was coordinated with the victim's brother in Mexico who further advised the subject(s) that the "victim's cousin" in Texas would deal with them. The UCE began speaking directly with the kidnapers via a Nextel telephone using its "push-to-talk" feature.

A/SSA [redacted] with the ASAC's assistance, proceeded to write an Operational Plan (OP). A/SSA [redacted] briefed ASAC Mikulewicz including the fact that the UCE's negotiations had reached a point where the subject(s)' demands were now fixed at $70,000 in cash and three pounds of methamphetamine for the victim's release. b6 b7C

At approximately 6:00 a.m., ASAC Mikulewicz and A/SSA [redacted] telephonically briefed the SAC who concurred with the direction of the investigation as well as the actions taken. ASAC Mikulewicz secured $3,000 from the Dallas Division's safe to prepare a "money drop" package with weights and transmitter, if needed. ASAC Mikulewicz assembled all SA and non-FBI personnel involved in the operation at the Dallas Office. Due to the fast-moving nature of the operation, the ASAC allowed A/SSA [redacted] to hand write the operations order which was subsequently read and approved by ASAC Mikulewicz.

At 7:00 a.m., ASAC Mikulewicz and A/SSA [redacted] initiated a briefing of all personnel involved with the exception of two Technically Trained Agents (TTAs) who continued to track the telephone used by the subject(s). During the briefing, members of the RPD briefed participants on the background of the case, including the fact the subjects should be considered armed and dangerous; shots had been fired during the abduction of the victim; the subjects repeatedly threatened to kill the victim if the ransom was not paid; and the subjects threatened to kill the UCE if he missed the deadlines set by the subjects. b6 b7C

A/SSA [redacted] followed with a verbal briefing to participants outlining four scenarios. ASAC Mikulewicz further advised the participants if the scenarios involving traffic stops developed, personnel were not to engage in high-speed pursuits. The tracking device placed in the "money drop" package would be relied on to identify the direction of travel and the location of the subject(s)/victim. Precise assignments for personnel were made where possible; however, due to the fluid nature of the multiple-scenario operation, assignments were contingent on the position of team members at the time of arrest or takedown.

ASAC Mikulewicz had team members identify themselves, identify their roles, and brief back their responsibility within the scenarios. Additionally, he had each participant put on the clothing they would be wearing during the operation and emphasized team members should be aware of cross-fire issues, cover, and other safety issues.

At approximately 8:00 a.m., ASAC Mikulewicz, A/SSA [redacted] and SA [redacted] traveled together to an area in Dallas where the TTAs last reported the cellphone signal of interest had been detected. Other Agents and officers deployed to the area as well and conducted an extensive search of a trailer park area where the signal of interest had been emanating. b6 b7C

ASAC Mikulewicz and A/SSA [redacted] collectively decided the "money drop" scenario would be employed. A/SSA [redacted] directed the teams to move to the Wal-Mart located at Interstate 30 and Cockrell Hill Road. This location had been identified by the subject(s) as the location of the "money drop."

At 8:48 a.m., ASAC Mikulewicz telephonically briefed the SAC who concurred with the actions taken. He discussed with the SAC the fact that the UCE would place the drop package in or near the subject(s)' "money drop" vehicle, but not in the trunk due to a concern the tracking signal could be lost. An Agent would be concealed in the UCE's vehicle as a protective cover. The UCE was to clear out of the area after the "money drop" was made and a felony traffic stop would be conducted when the subject(s) attempted to retrieve the package.

At approximately 10:34 a.m., a TTA alerted that the cellular telephone signal of interest was active near the trailer park and that the signal was moving. The TTAs updated operational Agents and officers by radio that the subject(s) were ten minutes away, they were in the parking lot, and that they were behind the Wal-Mart. The UCE also advised A/SSA [redacted] the subject(s) advised the "drop vehicle" was a gray Mitsubishi.

At approximately 11:00 a.m., a TTA advised via Bureau radio that the cellular telephone in contact with the UCE was active behind the Wal-Mart and that the TTAs observed a suspicious vehicle in the area associating with a Chevrolet Blazer. TTA [redacted] subsequently advised he saw a gray Mitsubishi with the Blazer and that both were traveling northbound next to the Wal-Mart. ASAC Mikulewicz looked over his right shoulder and observed a gray Mitsubishi approaching, followed by a Blazer. A/SSA [redacted] provided radio broadcast updates to participants regarding the approaching vehicles. A/SSA [redacted] discussed the matter with ASAC Mikulewicz and both believed it was the right opportunity to move toward the Mitsubishi which was parked three or four parking slots away from their vehicle on the same row. The front of the Mitsubishi was blocked by a civilian vehicle and the Blazer pulled along the left side.

ASAC Mikulewicz gave A/SSA [redacted] authorization to deploy the arrest plan. A/SSA [redacted] radioed the operational team members of the Mitsubishi's location and further advised a felony car stop would be initiated. He also broadcasted the deploy instruction by saying, "execute, execute, execute." As he issued the execute instruction, A/SSA [redacted] was unaware that a number of the participants did not know where to go when the order was given. A/SSA [redacted] moved his vehicle from its parked position, drove a short distance, and bumped into the Mitsubishi from the rear, blocking it in. A/SSA [redacted] exited his vehicle, identified himself by yelling FBI, and yelled arrest commands in Spanish and English to the driver of the Mitsubishi.

ASAC Mikulewicz also exited the vehicle and began providing backup for A/SSA [redacted]. The driver of the Mitsubishi, later identified as [redacted] ignored the arrest commands, exited the Mitsubishi and attempted to enter the passenger door of the Blazer. The driver of the Blazer, later identified as [redacted] quickly sped away leaving [redacted] in the parking lot. [redacted] ran eastbound through the parking lot refusing to yield to law enforcement commands and A/SSA [redacted] gave chase through the parking lot while ASAC Mikulewicz observed the fleeing Blazer to determine its direction before joining in the foot pursuit.

SA [redacted] who was positioned northeast of A/SSA [redacted] location, heard TTA [redacted] broadcast that a "cell phone hit" was received from the vicinity of two vehicles coming into the Wal-Mart parking lot on the west side of the building. SA [redacted] heard A/SSA [redacted] broadcast that the kidnaper's vehicle was driving behind him and then recalled hearing A/SSA [redacted] give the execute order. SA [redacted] was aware A/SSA [redacted] was positioned in the southwest corner of the parking lot, but could not see him. As SA [redacted] and SA [redacted] drove south through the parking lot, they observed A/SSA [redacted] bump into the Mitsubishi and saw the Blazer drive off. SA [redacted] observed the driver of the Mitsubishi get of out his vehicle and run through the parking lot in front of he and SA [redacted]. SA [redacted] exited his vehicle and joined in the foot chase of the subject. SA [redacted] along with other law enforcement personnel, continued to yell arrest commands to [redacted]. SA [redacted] observed the subject attempting to enter into the passenger side of a black Ford Mustang. SA [redacted] was yelling, "FBI, get down" at [redacted] who looked directly at SA [redacted] and entered the Mustang. According to SA [redacted], he was approximately fifteen feet away when the Mustang began to move toward him. He stated he was face-to-face with the driver of the Mustang, and believing the driver was going to run him down, SA [redacted] began firing rounds from his MP-5 shoulder weapon. According to SA [redacted] he did not recall looking at the sights of his weapon but deliberately held the muzzle low to avoid hitting any individuals in the parking lot. SA [redacted] advised he initially fired four rounds with the intent of hitting the driver although he recalled seeing a bullet strike one of the front tires of the subject vehicle. As he fired the first four rounds, SA [redacted] advised the Mustang began to turn south. Knowing other Agents were approaching the scene and the Mustang was in a position to run them down, SA [redacted] ran to the rear of the Mustang and continued firing his weapon.

b7C

Although he heard other gunfire from A/SSA [redacted] SA [redacted] believed the Mustang posed a threat to A/SSA [redacted] because the driver still had both hands firmly on the steering wheel and was driving toward [redacted] As A/SSA [redacted] entered his line of fire, SA [redacted] ceased firing. When A/SSA [redacted] emerged from a row of parked vehicles, he noticed the Mustang turning down the parking aisle toward him. He noted the right front passenger through the windshield with his hands up. The driver of the vehicle, later identified as Gerardo Torres aka Gerardo Diaz, had both hands on the steering wheel and was looking directly at him. Fearing for his safety, A/SSA [redacted] fired three shots from his LAR-15 rifle through the windshield of the vehicle, hitting the driver three times. The Mustang continued a short distance and bumped into a parked vehicle. A/SSA [redacted] removed the driver of the vehicle through the open door and administered first aid. The driver died as a result of injuries sustained from A/SSA [redacted] gunfire.

b6

The fleeing Blazer became involved in a three-car crash and the driver was subsequently arrested by law enforcement personnel.

Law enforcement personnel located and rescued the kidnaping victim who was transported to a local hospital for treatment of two gunshot wounds as well as other physical injuries received from being beaten. Three additional subjects were arrested and numerous weapons were located in the house trailer.

An autopsy determined the deceased subject was shot four times, three of which were identified by the Laboratory Division as having been fired by a .223 Remington caliber Rock River Arms rifle, Model LAR-15, which was the weapon utilized by A/SSA [redacted] during the incident.

On 04/25/2008, [redacted] Division Chief, Public Integrity Division, Dallas County District Attorney's Office, advised SA [redacted] and A/SSA [redacted] were no-billed in the case. On 03/21/2008, a declination of prosecution was received from the United States Department of Justice, Civil Rights Division, regarding the actions of SA [redacted] and A/SSA [redacted] in this shooting incident.

On 05/13/2008, the SIRG met to discuss the above-captioned shooting incident. Deputy Assistant Director Michael S. Clemens, Inspection Division (INSD), chaired the meeting and was a non-voting member. The following voting members were in attendance: [redacted] Deputy Chief, Criminal Section, Civil Rights Division, USDOJ; [redacted] Chief Inspector, Office of Inspections (OI), INSD; Assistant Section Chief (ASC) [redacted] Violent Crimes Section, Criminal Investigative Division; Unit Chief (UC) [redacted] Firearms Training Unit, Training Division (TD); UC [redacted] Defensive Systems Unit, TD; UC [redacted] Investigative Law Unit, Office of General Counsel; UC [redacted] Practical Applications Unit, TD; Acting UC [redacted] Special Weapons and Tactics Operations Unit, Critical Incident Response Group; SSA [redacted] Firearms - Toolmarks Unit, Scientific Analysis Section, Laboratory Division; and SSA [redacted] CR-2, Washington Field Office. Inspector [redacted] OI, INSD, and Management Program Analyst (MPA) [redacted] Inspection Management Unit, OI, INSD, non-voting members, were also in attendance. b6 b7C

Observations and Recommendations of the SIRG

The SIRG reviewed the above synopsized incident with the intent to: (1) evaluate the application of deadly force; (2) provide the Director with an evaluative analysis, observations, and recommendations for corrective actions from an operational standpoint (if any); (3) provide recommendations concerning training and/or safety issues; and (4) provide recommendations for administrative action if deemed necessary.

Prior to the discussion of this incident by SIRG members, Inspector [redacted] Inspector-in-Charge of the shooting investigation, provided a detailed overview of the incident. Inspector [redacted] explained to the SIRG members that his investigation revealed radio communications among the field/operational teams were not effectively utilized to keep law enforcement personnel apprised of developments or deployment instructions prior to the "execute" order being given to initiate the felony car stop. Inspector [redacted] also noted SA [redacted] intentionally fired his shoulder weapon low of his target in an attempt to avoid hitting customers in the parking lot area. The Special Agent in Charge of the Dallas Division was aware of the issued identified by the Shooting Incident Review Team. b6 b7C

SIRG members unanimously agreed that the use of deadly force by SA [redacted] and A/SSA [redacted] was justified and in conformance with the FBI's deadly force policy.

Title: SHOOTING INQUIRY
REPORT OF SHOOTING INCIDENT,
COLUMBIA DIVISION;
10/20/2006

b6
b7C

Character: ADMINISTRATIVE INQUIRY

Synopsis: On 10/20/2006, a Columbia Police Officer relayed source reporting to the Columbia Division that federal fugitive [redacted] was observed in the vicinity of the Colony Apartments, Columbia, South Carolina. Two Agents responded and confirmed that an individual matching [redacted] description was in the area. The squad Supervisor and an additional Agent also responded to the area and they collectively planned to arrest [redacted] on the street in front of the housing complex. However, when they returned to the area [redacted] was no longer present. The Agents decided to question [redacted] sister who lived in the complex. Two Agents approached the front door while the Supervisor and one Agent went to the rear of the apartment. As Agents peered into the open front door, they observed the fugitive inside the unit. They stepped inside, identified themselves as FBI Agents and repeatedly instructed him to raise his hands. The subject raised his left hand, but bladed his body and then moved his right hand near his waistband in a furtive manner. One Agent fired a single round from his Glock 22 pistol striking the subject in the chest. The Agents secured the subject and conducted a security sweep of the unit. They summoned Emergency Medical Support and applied first aid. The subject was transported via ambulance to Palmetto Richland Memorial Hospital and treated for the gunshot wound.

DETAILS:

On 11/23/2004, the Columbia Division initiated a violent gang investigation focusing on a local faction of the Bloods Street Gang [redacted] In January 2006, a multi-defendant federal indictment was returned in U.S. District Court, District of South Carolina, charging several members of the criminal enterprise with violations of Title 21, but leaving other known subjects on the street. b2 b7A

On 07/18/2006, in a superceding indictment, Omeksa [redacted] aka [redacted] and 15 others were charged with violations of Title 21. On 07/21/2006, [redacted] was indicted on three counts of violating Title 21, USC, Section 841(a)(1) and 841 (b)(1)(C). On 07/21/2006, following the issuance of a warrant for his arrest, [redacted] was entered into NCIC as a wanted person. b6 b7C

The investigation of [redacted] continued beyond the date of his indictment. In the intervening time, Moaney was the subject of informant reporting, subject proffers, defendant debriefings and a Safe Streets Task Force referral to the U.S. Marshal Service Fugitive Task Force to facilitate his apprehension. Information and intelligence received by the Columbia Division indicated [redacted] regularly carried and/or possessed weapons; on at least one occasion, he had discussed executing a firebomb attack on a Columbia Police Department (CPD) Safe Streets Task Force Officer; and had made a statement to a Columbia Police Officer that he would not return to jail. b6 b7C

On 10/20/2006, between 3:00 pm and 3:30 pm, Columbia Police Sergeant [redacted] telephonically contacted Columbia Division Special Agent [redacted] (EOD 07/14/2002) and advised him that a source just reported [redacted] was near [redacted] sister's residence in the Colony Apartments. SA [redacted] had information [redacted] sister [redacted] also known as [redacted] resided at [redacted] in the Colony Apartments Complex. SA [redacted] was engaged in trial preparation, therefore, he relayed the information to SA [redacted] (EOD 01/11/2004). SA [redacted] called Sgt. [redacted] who advised [redacted] was just seen at [redacted] wearing a striped shirt and jeans. A short time later, SAs [redacted] and [redacted] drove bureau vehicles from the Columbia Field Office to the Colony apartment complex in an attempt to corroborate the source information.

Upon arriving in the area of the Colony Apartments, SAs [redacted] and [redacted] attempted to gain entry to the nearby Columbia Police Substation to view the CCTV coverage of areas within the Colony Apartments complex. The Substation was locked, therefore, SAs [redacted] and [redacted] decided to drive past the 7000 block of Bailey Street parking area in an attempt to spot [redacted] Their initial attempt failed to spot the subject. On a second drive passed the area, Agents spotted an individual fitting the physical description of [redacted] wearing the same clothing the source had described. This individual was standing in the parking lot in front of [redacted] Street. The person the Agents observed was also wearing a white baseball cap. The Agents drove back to the CPD Substation and telephonically contacted their supervisor, SSA [redacted] (EOD 11/04/1990) and Special Agent [redacted] (EOD 03/12/2000) for backup. SA [redacted] and SA [redacted] were assigned as co-case Agents on the referenced gang investigation. b6 b7C

While at the CPD Substation, SA [redacted] was recontacted by Sgt. [redacted] who confirmed [redacted] was seen in the area and was wearing a striped shirt, blue jeans and a white baseball cap. Meanwhile, SA [redacted] arrived at the CPD Substation and SA [redacted] sketched the spot where he and SA [redacted] observed the subject. The Agents made a tentative arrest plan pending the review and approval of their Supervisor.

SSA [redacted] arrived at the CPD Substation approximately ten minutes after SA [redacted] The Agents orally presented the arrest plan to SSA [redacted] and utilized the sketch to show where [redacted] had been observed. The plan was for all four Agents to drive toward [redacted] in a single unmarked car as though they were potential drug purchasers. They were to quickly exit the vehicle and surprise the subject in order to effect his arrest. SSA [redacted] approved the arrest plan, however, did not notify ASAC Maley of the plan to arrest [redacted] an armed and dangerous federal fugitive. After donning their tactical vests, marked with prominent FBI letters, they drove in SA [redacted] bureau car to where they had last seen the subject. They drove through the parking lot, but did not see [redacted] The Agents returned to the CPD Substation to discuss other options to locate [redacted] The decision was made to go to [redacted] residence and ask where her brother [redacted] might be located. Knowing the possibility existed that [redacted] might be in the apartment, the Agents planned an overt approach. They drove a known law enforcement vehicle into the parking lot outside [redacted] and quickly approach the apartment covering both front and rear of the unit. b6 b7C

At approximately 5:45 pm, with clear visibility and 60 degree weather, the Agents drove in SA [redacted] bureau vehicle into the parking lot adjacent to the 7000 block apartments within the Colony complex. SAs [redacted] and [redacted] proceeded to the front of the apartment and SSA [redacted] and SA [redacted] moved to cover the back door.

Moments prior to the Agents reaching [redacted] Street, an unknown male approached the partially open door of the apartment and warned [redacted] who was inside, of the approaching FBI Agents. [redacted] then moved from the livingroom area into the kitchen area of the apartment. [redacted] sister, [redacted] was not home at the time. Present within the apartment were [redacted] friend [redacted] boyfriend [redacted] and [redacted] twin one year old boys, [redacted] and [redacted] two year old daughter, [redacted] was playing just outside the front door of the apartment when the Agents approached. b6 b7C

Immediately prior to SAs [redacted] and [redacted] arriving at the front door of [redacted] briefly picked up [redacted] and then put the boy back down. [redacted] was standing behind a cushioned loveseat located directly across the front room and approximately 12 feet from the front door. [redacted] head could not be seen behind the loveseat by an average sized adult entering the apartment front door as the top of his head was at least 12 inches lower than the back of the loveseat.

As SAs [redacted] and [redacted] approached the open door of the apartment, they observed two young children playing in front of apartments [redacted] SA [redacted] told the children to go inside the apartment and they complied, entering [redacted] SA [redacted] observed [redacted] inside the unit, he drew his weapon and yelled, "FBI, put your hands up." SA [redacted] entered the apartment, moved immediately to the right, along the front wall and then toward the center of the room. AS SA [redacted] approached the front door, he also observed [redacted] and commanded [redacted] to put his hand up. Both Agents commands were heard by multiple witnesses in addition to SSA [redacted] and SA [redacted] who were positioned behind the apartment. Due to the lack of space within the front room, SA [redacted] entered the room slightly, remaining just in front of the entryway. Their positioning triangulated [redacted] who was then approximately six feet from SA [redacted] and ten to twelve feet from SA [redacted] b6 b7C

Initially, [redacted] kept his hands at his sides and stared at the Agents. [redacted] then raised his left hand to about shoulder height, but kept his right hand below waist level. [redacted] then bladed himself toward SA [redacted] When SA [redacted] observed this movement he yelled, "watch out." SA [redacted] could not clearly see [redacted] right hand but he observed [redacted] start to move his right hand up toward his waist. Believing [redacted] was drawing a weapon, SA [redacted] began pulling back on the trigger of his Glock 22 to shoot [redacted] initial non-compliance was observed by SSA [redacted] who was looking into the residence through a window in the back of the unit. [redacted] furtive movements were observed by the two Agents inside the apartment and by eyewitness [redacted] who was seated on the couch between SA [redacted] and [redacted] also stated while [redacted] raised his left hand in response to the Agents' commands, he later moved his right hand toward his waistband and lower back.

In response to [redacted] movements in the apartment, SA [redacted] fired a single round from his Glock 22, Serial #DDR506 US, striking [redacted] in the chest. b6 b7C

When SA [redacted] heard gunfire, he began to forcibly breach the back door to the unit, but was restrained by SSA [redacted] who feared SA [redacted] may be exposed to gunfire. Instead, SSA [redacted] directed SA [redacted] to the front door of the unit while SSA [redacted] covered the rear.

[redacted] stated, "you shot me," and laid down on the floor, extending both hands above his head. As the Agents moved to secure the subject, they noticed a small child [redacted] standing a few feet from where [redacted] fell. SA [redacted] handcuffed [redacted] as the other occupants fled the apartment with the children. SA [redacted] asked [redacted] his name and [redacted] replied, "I'm the one you are looking for." To ease [redacted] breathing, SA [redacted] removed the handcuffs while SA [redacted] called 911 for Emergency Medical Support (EMS) personnel. The Agents then moved the furniture to allow medical responders access to [redacted] and, while SA [redacted] applied emergency first aid to [redacted] wound, SAs [redacted] and [redacted] cleared the rest of the unit.

SA [redacted] returned to his bureau vehicle and activated his emergency lights to alert responding EMS and CPD. Emergency medical records indicated the receipt of the emergency call at 5:50 pm, EMS arrival at the scene two minutes later, departure from the scene at 6:01 pm and arrival at the Palmetto Richland Memorial Hospital at 6:07 pm. SA [redacted] accompanied [redacted] in the ambulance to the hospital. b6 b7C

When EMS departed the scene, SSA [redacted] left a voicemail on ASAC Patrick Maley's cellular telephone advising him of the shooting. SSA [redacted] then telephonically contacted SAC Brian Lamkin and advised him of the shooting. SAC Lamkin responded to the scene within ten minutes: ASAC Maley retrieved his messages, contacted SAC Lamkin and responded to the scene shortly thereafter.

The CPD Crime Scene Unit responded to [redacted] Street and processed the scene. SA [redacted] Glock 22 semi-automatic pistol was secured by SSA [redacted] and subsequently turned over to the State Law Enforcement Division (SLED) for ballistic examination.

A shooting incident review team including Inspector [redacted] ASAC Ronald T. Hosko (PH), and SSAs [redacted] (BH), [redacted] (DL) and [redacted] (BF), was assembled in Columbia. The shooting review team conducted, in coordination with Columbia Police representatives, a neighborhood canvass. Multiple witnesses observed FBI personnel approach [redacted] wearing tactical vests bearing FBI lettering. Witnesses also heard FBI personnel give commands from within the apartment. Two adults present inside [redacted] at the time of the shooting were also interviewed. Both indicated that an unidentified male tapped on the apartment door to warn of the law enforcement presence just before the Agents arrived. Both stated that the FBI personnel wore vests marked with FBI letters and that the Agents gave the subject repeated commands in attempting to secure his compliance. While one of those witnesses, [redacted] obeyed the commands himself by putting his head down on the couch, the other, [redacted] confirmed not only [redacted] failure to comply with the Agents' commands but his furtive movements with his right hand prior to his being shot. Importantly, [redacted] confirmed for investigative personnel, that contrary to erroneous news reports, [redacted] was not holding a child at the time he was shot.

b7C

b6
b7C

Pursuant to the provisions of the FD-927, "Warning and Assurance to Employee Requested to Provide information Following a Shooting Incident," the investigative team took multiple signed sworn statements from the four personnel involved in the incident and from ASAC Patrick J. Maley and SAC Brian D. Lamkin.

The shooting review team determined on 08/08/2006, SA [redacted] qualified with his Bureau issued Glock 22, Serial #DDR506 US, shooting a 98 on the Pistol Qualification Course. He is a primary SWAT team member in Columbia and he successfully completed required training for SWAT Field Certification per CIRG EC to Columbia dated 08/31/2006. BPMS indicated SA [redacted] attended a basic SWAT inservice in Quantico from 04/19-23/2004.

SA [redacted] was an attendee at the 12/15/2005 Columbia All Employee Conference wherein the FBI's Deadly Force Policy and role of the Shooting Incident Review Group were discussed.

During his interview, Columbia ASAC Patrick J. Maley advised the planning and execution of [redacted] arrest was in accord with the division's operational plan policy. On 11/04/2004, ASAC Maley documented the operations plan policy which encouraged the use of operations plans as a tool to maximize preparedness and minimize problems and mistakes. The policy recognized the challenges of striking a proper balance between time constraints and the ability to obtain the desired results. In the policy, ASAC Maley mandated the use of operations plan when a fixed location where a fugitive is likely to be located has been identified. However, in instances where Agents are checking logical locations where a transient fugitive may be located, no operations plan was required and Agents must utilize standard law enforcement tactics. The guidance concluded by directing Agents to discuss fugitive matters with their SSA and/or ASAC. On October 4, 2006, in a meeting with the SSA's, ASAC Maley reiterated his earlier guidance and acknowledged the use of operations plans in transient fugitive matters requires flexibility and utilization of SA's professional judgement.

The Sate of South Carolina Solicitor's Office reviewed the case file and determined SA [redacted] was justified in firing his weapon as he was in reasonable fear for his own life and the safety of others. Therefore, no criminal charges were filed in this matter.

Title: SHOOTING INQUIRY
REPORT OF SHOOTING INCIDENT
CRITICAL INCIDENT RESPONSE GROUP HOSTAGE RESCUE TEAM
12/06/2006

Character: ADMINISTRATIVE INQUIRY

Synopsis: On 12/06/2006, the Critical Incident Review Group (CIRG), Operations and Training Unit (OTU), conducted live fire, fire and maneuver training for 13 HRT Operators and three Helicopter pilots assigned to the Tactical Helicopter Unit (THU). This Unconventional Law Enforcement Operations (ULEO) training was conducted at Fort A.P. Hill, Caroline County, Virginia. The training was designed to prepare HRT Snipers for deployment in Iraq. At approximately 3:30 P.M. while conducting a Combat Search and Rescue (CSAR) training scenario, SSA Gregory J. Rahoi was misidentified as a three dimensional target by another HRT Sniper and accidently shot and killed.

DETAILS:

On 12/06/2006, CIRG, OTU conducted live fire, fire and maneuver training for 13 HRT Operators and three Helicopter pilots assigned to THU. This ULEO training was conducted on Range 24 at Fort A.P. Hill, Caroline County, Virginia. [redacted]

OTU, the 12/06/2006 training scenarios were necessary to prepare HRT Operators for deployment to Iraq. The scenarios were developed using actual experiences of HRT Operators in Iraq and were reportedly similar to training exercises used by DOD SF units.

The 12/06/2006 training scenario was planned and supervised by members of the CIRG, OTU SSA [redacted] SSA [redacted] and SSA [redacted] Training began at approximately 9:00 A.M. Prior to the training, SSAs [redacted] and [redacted] provided a tactical operation briefing and an administrative safety briefing to the HRT Operators which included firearm safety, target awareness, communications and range operations. Physician's Assistant (PA) [redacted] provided a medical safety briefing, and Helicopter Pilot [redacted] THU, provided a helicopter safety briefing. These were standard briefings provided prior to all OTU training exercises. There were no new skill sets or safety procedures introduced to the HRT Operators during the 12/06/2006 training.

Range 24 was approximately three miles in length and approximately 200 yards in width. It consisted of undulating or variable terrain with various size vegetation such as long grass. It ran east to west and had an obvious tree line on either side it's entire length. A gravel road ran down the approximate middle of the range cutting it into north and south sides. Fields of fire were briefed to the HRT Operators as 180 degrees forward or tree line to tree line. This was opposed to 360 degrees of coverage used during a real operation. HRT Operators were instructed not to fire from the helicopters and use fans of fire when firing live ammunition down range with other HRT Operators were positioned down range.

Fans of fire were described by HRT Operators as the area of responsibility directly in front of the shooter and to their right and left flanks or 180 degrees forward. Fans of fire would expand and collapse as other operators positioned down range moved in and out of the shooter's area of responsibility. The down range operator would become responsible for the area directly in front of them and to their right and left flanks or 180 degrees forward.

Two types of targets were used during the training; the fixed military target known as an Ivan and a FBI target known as a La Rue. The Ivan was described as a green plastic three dimensional silhouette of a human upper torso, approximately three and half feet tall, which was range controlled to pop-up after being knocked down when hit by a bullet. The Ivans were fixed to the ground and could not be moved.

The La Rue targets were steel plates, painted red and white, approximately 18 inches high and 12 inches in width and fell when hit by a bullet. La Rue targets were equipped with motors which allowed the target to automatically stand back up after being hit. These targets could be moved.

The first scenario briefed to all the HRT Operators by OTU SSAs [redacted] and [redacted] involved the group breaking up into three teams of three and one team of four. A helicopter would transport each team separately to three different locations on the range. At each location, team members would exit the helicopter and move to a fixed position clearly marked on the ground by a mannequin. They would engage both pre-positioned Ivan and La Rue targets. Once the targets were engaged from the fixed position, the team would return to the helicopter, continuing to engage targets as they appeared before re-boarding the helicopter. The helicopter would then fly to the two other marked locations where the drill would be repeated. During each team's run, SSAs [redacted] and [redacted] followed the team on the ground. SSA [redacted] provided commands over a hand held radio to the range control tower for the activation of the pop-up Ivan targets. SSA [redacted] and [redacted] also had radios which enabled them to communicate with the HRT Operators. SSA [redacted] and [redacted], Fort A.P. Hill, Range Technician were in the range control tower remotely activating the Ivan targets. The Range control tower was located approximately a half a mile up range from the exercise and did not afford the occupants a view of the training scenarios. PA [redacted] also followed the teams on the ground in the event of a medical emergency. Not involved in the scenario but also present on Range 24 was Los Angeles Police Department Photographer [redacted]

After each team had completed the course one time, SSAs [redacted] and [redacted] did an after action briefing reemphasizing situation awareness, terrain issues, muzzle scope off-set, and stressed staying focused. The completion of all three drills was considered the end of one evolution. Each team completed two evolutions taking approximately 15 to 20 minutes each. This first scenario took most of the morning and occurred without any significant or out of the ordinary event.

In the afternoon, a CSAR training scenario was briefed to all the HRT Operators by SSA [redacted] and [redacted]. They also provided the HRT Operators an overhead photograph of the portion of Range 24 where they would be conducting the exercise. SSA [redacted] and [redacted] broke the group into team of six and a team of seven. One team was led by SSA [redacted] and other by SSA [redacted] This scenario was a downed helicopter in Iraq with an HRT Operator onboard and the team's mission was to rescue the injured HRT Operator.

Separately, each team would be flown by helicopter into approximately the same area on Range 24 as used in the morning. At the designated location, team members would exit the helicopter and live fire, fire and maneuver to the crash site which was a pre-positioned helicopter frame. The team would engage both pre-positioned Ivan and LaRue targets as they (HRT Operators)moved. They would rescue the survivor of the downed helicopter, and again live fire, fire and maneuver back to the helicopter and be airlifted out of the area. Team Leaders (TLs) [redacted] and [redacted] were given an opportunity to brief their teams on the CSAR scenario. b6 b7C

The teams were told by SSA [redacted] and [redacted] they would be using the same training area as the morning exercises. They were told same targets in the same locations would be used in this scenario. In total, there were two sets of Ivan targets on both the north and south side of the gravel road approximately 100 yards apart. A set of La Rue targets were positioned around the downed helicopter.

SSA [redacted] and [redacted] again followed the teams on the ground with SSA [redacted] providing commands over the radio to the range control tower for the activation of the pop-up Ivan targets. SSA [redacted] and [redacted] remained in the range control tower remotely activating the Ivan targets. PA [redacted] again followed the teams on the ground in the event of a medical emergency. Unit Chief [redacted] HRT, Red Operational Unit arrived on Range 24 and followed on the ground observing the afternoon's training exercises.

After the teams had completed the course one time, SSAs [redacted] and [redacted] conducted an after action briefing of the HRT Operator's performance and reemphasized safety. The first afternoon CSAR training scenario occurred without any significant or out of the ordinary event(s). b6 b7C

The HRT Operators were told the last CSAR training scenario would be identical to the previous scenario simulating rescuing personnel from a downed helicopter. The group was told they would be using the same training area and same targets in the same locations. The only change was all 13 HRT Operators would conduct the last training scenario together.

The scenario was briefed by SSA [redacted] and [redacted] to TL [redacted] who was designated as the overall TL for the scenario. TL [redacted] divided the group of 13 HRT Operators into three teams. Team 1 was made up of SA [redacted] SA [redacted] and SA [redacted] Team 2 consisted of SSA [redacted] as Team Leader, SA [redacted] SA [redacted] and SA [redacted] Team 3 was SSA Gregory

J. Rahoi as Team Leader, SA [redacted] SA [redacted] SA [redacted] and SA [redacted] A Bell 412 Helicopter piloted by [redacted] and co-pilot SA [redacted] and a Bell 407 Helicopter piloted by SA [redacted] would be used.

As in the earlier scenarios, SSA [redacted] and [redacted] would follow the team on the ground with SSA [redacted] providing commands over the radio to the range control tower for the activation of the pop-up Ivan targets. SSA [redacted] using another radio, fed the teams simulated intelligence information. He would communicate when a certain target(s) were considered out of play allowing the team member(s) to move forward. He would provide intelligence concerning simulated enemy movements as the scenario progressed.

SSA [redacted] and [redacted] would remain in the range control tower remotely activating the Ivan targets. PA [redacted] would follow the team on the ground and UC [redacted] would be on the ground in the same vicinity observing the training. Photographer [redacted] would be on Range 24. He did not see or photograph the impending shooting incident.

After TL [redacted] was briefed by SSA [redacted] on the scenario, he was given a few minutes to devise a tactical plan. TL [redacted] then briefed his plan to the entire team: Team 1 and 2 would be inserted via Bell 412 Helicopter and Team 3 would be inserted via Bell 407 Helicopter. The insertion would be near simultaneous, approximately 200 yards east of the simulated crash site. Team 2 would be positioned to the north edge of the range, Team 3 to the south, and Team 1 would be in the center. The teams were instructed to employ a bounding overwatch method movement. Bounding overwatch movement was described as a minimum of one team providing covering fire while a minimum of one team moves forward or down range. Once at the crash site, Team 3 would establish a position to the west of the target location, the direction from which TL [redacted] had been briefed there was enemy movement. Team 2 would secure the crash site and prepare any casualties for movement. Movement back to the helicopters would be conducted in reverse of the movement to the crash site, with Team 2 responsible for transporting the casualty via a litter back to the helicopter. As the overall Team Leader, TL [redacted] was responsible for command and control of the individual teams including positioning of the teams. Each individual TL was responsible for the movement and positioning of the individual team members within their own team. TL [redacted] would communicate with the two other TLs, SSA [redacted] and SSA Rahoi, with a combination of radio calls, hand and arm signals, and verbal commands. All of HRT Operators were equipped with either an

Invisio or Sordin brand radio communication head set system. These radios allowed all team members to hear TL [redacted] radio commands.

At approximately 3:30 P.M., Eastern Standard Time, the plan as described above was executed and continued as planned until Team 2 had secured the crash site, assessed the casualty's condition, and was preparing to return to the helicopter. A tactical timeout was called and Range Technician [redacted] replaced the mannequin as the casualty on the litter. This was done to make the training scenario more realistic. b6 b7C

After the casualty was prepared for transport, Team 2 provided four team members to carry the litter back to the helicopter. These Team 2 members were identified as SSA [redacted] SA [redacted] SA [redacted] and SA [redacted] TL [redacted] and SA [redacted] collapsed toward the east to provide cover for those carrying the litter. SA [redacted] and SA [redacted] were positioned near a concrete retaining wall around a set of Ivan targets approximately 100 yards east of the crash site. Both SA [redacted] and SA [redacted] were facing east providing nominal cover to the rear. SA [redacted] was on SA [redacted] left about 20 feet away. The gravel road was on SA [redacted] right or north of his position.

As the litter, four members of Team 2, TL [redacted] and SA [redacted] moved east passing SA [redacted] and SA [redacted] position, TL [redacted] instructed SA [redacted] and SA [redacted] to reorient their position 180 degrees from facing east to facing west. SA [redacted] and SA [redacted] made this adjustment taking a crouching position facing west.

In his statement to the Shooting Incident Review Team (SIRT), SA [redacted] recalled being instructed by TL [redacted] to turn from the easterly direction he was covering and turn to the west and "pick up the rear." SA [redacted] was not 100 percent positive of the verbiage used by TL [redacted] but interpreted it to mean, "turn around and cover the rear area." SA [redacted] believed that when TL [redacted] gave him rear security responsibility, there was no one west of his position down range. SA [redacted] did not recall hearing Team 3 talking on the radio about their movement or see any other HRT Operators west of his position. b6 b7C

SA [redacted] recalled hearing information in a radio transmission indicating an enemy force was approaching from the west. This transmission was confirmed by SSA [redacted] Since SA [redacted] believed he and SA [redacted] were the last two HRT Operators to the rear or west and covering down range, he also believed his field of fire was 180 degrees or the tree line on his left to tree line on his right. SA [redacted] could see the simulated downed helicopter in plain view. He scanned with his naked eye left then right and when he scanned back left, he saw what he believed to be two Ivan targets. The Ivan targets did not move and appeared to have the same spacing, color and height of other Ivan targets he had previously engaged.

SA [redacted] then viewed what he believed to be an Ivan target through the Leupold 8x20 TS-30 optical scope on his Colt M-4, .223 Caliber, 18 inch barrel, Special Purpose Rifle (SPR). He noted he had an unobstructed view of Ivan targets similar to the way other Ivan targets on Range 24 were situated. SA [redacted] was looking in a westerly to southwesterly direction with the sun at tree top level causing significant sun glare. He was not wearing sunglasses. As SA [redacted] acquired the target he yelled to SA [redacted], "targets left." SA [redacted] did not hear SA [redacted] respond. SA [redacted] then fired one shot.

He kept his sight on the target and noticed the target did not fall like other Ivan targets. SA [redacted] saw white socks below the pants and immediately realized he had hit another HRT Operator. He stood up and heard over the radio, "real world medical". The phrase "real world medical" was used by HRT Operators as the signal to immediately stop the training exercise due to some type of medical injury. SA [redacted] left his weapon where he was standing and ran toward where SSA Rahoi was laying.

SA [redacted] recalled being instructed by TL [redacted] to provide rear security for the extraction which meant for him and SA [redacted] to turn 180 degrees and provide cover to the West. SA [redacted] did not recall the exact verbiage used by TL [redacted] used when giving this command. At this point, SA [redacted] believed his "primary field of fire to be directly ahead of him and to his right and left flanks." Although SA [redacted] believed he had cover responsibility to his left across the gravel road, he could see members of Team 3 in their positions approximately 140 yards southwest down range of his position so he did not scan for targets in their direction.

SA [redacted] recalled SA [redacted] yelling to him, "any targets on the left?" He believed SA [redacted] was asking if he saw any targets on the left remaining to shoot. He replied "no." After responding to SA [redacted] almost immediately, SA [redacted] heard the gunshot from SA [redacted] position. Immediately thereafter, SA [redacted] heard "real world medical" called on the radio. Both he and SA [redacted] quickly realized SSA Rahoi had been wounded and immediately ran to SSA Rahoi to render aid.

TL [redacted] recalled instructing SA [redacted] to reorient his and SA [redacted] position from facing east to facing west which

b6
b7C

b6

required them to make a 180 degree adjustment. TL [redacted] stated, "I communicated that Team 1 was set, meaning that we were in a position to provide covering fire (over watch) for Team 3's movement (bound) to the east."

Meanwhile, Team 3 was still on the north side of the gravel road approximately 125 yards southwest and down range of SA [redacted] and SA [redacted] Soon thereafter, Team 3 members, SA [redacted] SA [redacted] and SA [redacted] using the bounding over watch method moved in an easterly direction. This left SSA Rahoi and SA [redacted] in the position 125 yards southwest and down range of SSA [redacted] and SA [redacted] SSA Rahoi was closest to the gravel road in a kneeling or crouching postion. SA [redacted] was approximately 10 feet to SSA Rahoi's left in a prone position. Both were in knee high grass. SA [redacted] heard SA Rahoi state, "We're going to move back." SSA Rahoi then began to stand up from his kneeling position. As he did, SA [redacted] heard a shot and heard SSA Rahoi state, "real world medical." SA [redacted] then saw SSA Rahoi fall to the ground.

After hearing "real world medical" over the radio, it was quickly determined by a number of the HRT Operators, SSA Rahoi had been injured. Within seconds, PA [redacted] had responded to SSA Rahoi to render aid. PA [redacted] started an assessment and noted SSA Rahoi was not breathing and had no pulse. It was immediately determined he needed to be airlifted to the nearest medical facility. Within an estimated two minutes the Bell 412 Helicopter had landed and SSA Rahoi was placed on the helicopter. PA [redacted] SA [redacted] and SA [redacted] also boarded with pilot [redacted] and co-pilot SA [redacted] SSA Rahoi was transported for approximately 10 minutes to Mary Washington Hospital in Fredericksburg, Virginia were he was examined and later pronounced dead by Dr. [redacted] and Dr. [redacted]

That evening, SSA Rahoi's body was transported to the Medical Examiner's (ME) Office in Richmond, Virginia. The ME, Dr. [redacted] determined SSA Rahoi suffered a gunshot wound on the right side of the upper back, approximately 17½ inches below the top of his head and 7½ inches right of the posterior midline. Bullet fragments passed through the chest wall breaking three ribs, damaging the upper lobe of the right lung, caused multiple perforations of the right subclavian artery and vein as well as a laceration of the ascending aorta. SSA Rahoi was wearing a Bureau issued ballistic vest at the time of the shooting incident. The kevlar had been removed and ceramic "shock" plates had been placed in the front and back of the vest. The fatal round missed SSA Rahoi's ballistic vest and shock plates. Reportedly, the 5.56 mm round fired from the SPR would have penetrated the kevlar vest. However, the ceramic shock plate would have stopped the 5.56 mm round.

Fort A.P. Hill required a qualified Range Security Officer (RSO) be present during the 12/06/2006 training scenario. To qualify as an RSO, OTU SSAs were required to attend an Army based RSO training course. SSA [redacted] was the RSO for this specific training. SSAs [redacted] and [redacted] also took an Army based Range Safety Officer training course and were certified as RSOs at the Fort A. P. Hill. SSAs [redacted] and all the HRT Operators involved were certified firearms instructors. b6 b7C

A SIRT interview with [redacted] Deputy Chief, Operations, Los Angeles Police Department (LAPD) revealed the LAPD also conducts CSAR type training however, refers to it as hostage rescue training. They utilize live fire, fire and maneuver tactics which results in LAPD SWAT Operators firing live rounds down range with other LAPD SWAT Operators positioned down range. He opined this type of training is critical for the LAPD SWAT because of the type of real-life incidents the LAPD SWAT is called upon on a daily basis, to include high risk warrants in rural settings and narcotics drops in rural settings.

Deputy Chief [redacted] also stated in order to utilize live fire, fire and maneuver training, the SWAT Lieutenant submits an approval request to the commanding officer who is normally has the rank of captain. The request must have been reviewed and received prior approval of an RSO. Further, LAPD records all SWAT Operators' training and operational performance.

b6 b7C

A SIRT interview with [redacted] Assistant Chief, Special Operations Division, New York Police Department (NYPD) revealed because NYPD primarily operates in a urban environment it does not conduct CSAR training. However, NYPD does conduct Sniper Initiated Assault Training which is similar to CSAR training. Assistant Chief [redacted] said the NYPD's Emergency Service Unit (ESU) also uses live fire, fire and maneuver tactics training which results in ESU members firing live rounds down range with other ESU members positioned down range. NYPD uses this training technique in an effort to provide ESU members with training that simulates events which closely resemble actual tactical mission environments.

Assistant Chief [redacted] indicated a supervisor is present and manages all training exercises and approves the training prior to initiation. A RSO which is provided by the NYPD's Firearms Training Unit, is always present to monitor the training and has the authority to stop the training cycle at any point. The NYPD maintains a database which documents training activities including the topics and training conducted and the participants in the training.

Title: Shooting Inquiry
Report of Shooting Incident
Cleveland Division
07/12/2006

Character: Inspection Division - Shooting Inquiry

Synopsis:

SA [redacted], Cleveland Division, assigned to the Safe Streets Task Force (SSTF), Cleveland Division, was involved in a shooting incident on 07/12/2006 at approximately 8:15AM, in Cleveland. The shooting occurred while attempting to locate and arrest a [redacted] who is the subject of 88A-CV-71828. [redacted] was wanted on charges for aggravated robbery with firearms specifications. [redacted] is described as a black male, date of birth [redacted], FBI # [redacted] was wanted by the Cuyahoga County Sheriff's Department for an armed car jacking and was also wanted by the Ohio Adult Parole Authority for a parole violation. [redacted] had been paroled after serving part of a sentence for drug trafficking, and having a weapon under a disability.

b6

Approximately one week prior to this incident, [redacted] had been involved in a high-speed chase with the Cleveland Police Department, during an incident when the Cleveland Police Department had attempted to affect the arrest of [redacted] At this time, [redacted] eluded the capture.

Through an investigation by the Cleveland SSTF into the whereabout of [redacted], information was received that [redacted] was in possession of a maroon vehicle, and that he might be staying at a hotel located at 18510 Euclid Avenue, Cleveland, Ohio. On the morning of the incident, it was determined by the investigating agents that a vehicle matching the description of the vehicle [redacted] was supposedly driving, but not registered to [redacted] was parked at the hotel. SA [redacted], accompanied by Task Force Officers (TFOs) [redacted] Deputy with the Cuyahoga County Sheriff's Department; [redacted], Officer with the Cuyahoga Metropolitan Housing Authority Police; observed a black male matching [redacted] description, accompanied by a white female, exit a hotel room and enter the maroon vehicle and start to leave the scene with [redacted] driving.

This document contains neither recommendations nor conclusions of the FBI. It is the property of the FBI and is loaned to your agency; it and its contents are not to be distributed outside your agency.

At that time, SA [redacted] positioned his vehicle in an attempt to block [redacted] vehicle. TFOs [redacted] and SA [redacted] identified themselves as law enforcement officers, and they ordered the driver to stop the vehicle and raise his hands. [redacted] initially raised his hands, but the vehicle continued to move forward at a slow speed. Law enforcement officers, including SA [redacted] continued to order [redacted] to stop the car, place the vehicle in park, and exit the vehicle. At that point, [redacted] suddenly sped up, which forced TFO [redacted] to jump out of the path of the vehicle, and as the vehicle headed directly at SA [redacted] TFO [redacted] fired one round at [redacted]

SA [redacted] then fired two rounds at [redacted], through the front windshield of the vehicle, while also attempting to remove himself from the vehicle's path.. The vehicle, however, did hit SA [redacted] in the right leg.

At that time, another TFO, identified as [redacted] also a Deputy with the Cuyahoga County Sheriff's Office, drove into the parking lot and also attempted to place his vehicle in a blocking position near the exit of the hotel parking lot, in an attempt to block [redacted] vehicle. Deputy [redacted] then exited his vehicle and took cover behind the driver's door, just as [redacted] drove at TFO [redacted] and SA [redacted] sped past SA [redacted] vehicle, and rammed into [redacted] vehicle, knocking him to the ground. This collision disabled [redacted] vehicle, as the air bags deployed.

Neither [redacted] nor his passenger, who was identified as [redacted] date of birth [redacted], FBI # [redacted] were hit by any of the rounds fired. [redacted] was cut slightly by broken glass from the windshield.

b7C

[redacted] was taken into custody and a loaded handgun was found underneath the driver's seat of his vehicle. SA [redacted] and Deputy [redacted] were treated at a local hospital and released.

Investigation into this matter was conducted jointly by the Cleveland Office of the FBI and Cleveland Police Department's Homicide Division. [redacted] was questioned after the incident, refused to make a statement, requested an attorney. [redacted] was thereafter turned over to local authorities for prosecution.

[redacted] was interviewed and admitted that she knew [redacted] was wanted by the authorities and also recognized the arresting officers as being law enforcement officers. In addition, the owner of the hotel was interviewed and also indicated that it was clear to him during the incident that the investigating agent and officers were clearly identified as police officers.

The investigation of this matter concluded in a manner that exonerated the Cleveland FBI from any criminal exposure. Enclosed is a letter dated 02/20/2007 from the City of Cleveland indicating that no crime was committed in this matter.

Title: SHOOTING INCIDENT
WASHINGTON FIELD OFFICE
07/13/2006

Synopsis: The Shooting Incident Review Group (SIRG) reviewed a shooting incident that occurred on 07/13/2006, involving Special Agent (SA) [redacted] While assisting in the execution of an arrest and search warrant, SA [redacted] fired one round from his Bureau-issued Glock .40 caliber, Model 22 pistol killing an aggressive Akita dog in the back yard of the target residence. SIRG members recommended that no action be taken against SA [redacted] as a result of his involvement in this shooting incident.

Administrative: Reference Electronic Communication (EC) of SA [redacted] dated 08/03/2006.

Details: This communication was prepared to furnish the analysis, comments, and recommendations of the SIRG with reference to the captioned shooting.

Details of the Shooting Incident

On 07/13/2006, SA [redacted] was participating in the execution of an arrest and search warrant at a Northeast residence in Washington, D. C. The subject of the warrant, [redacted] was identified as a significant trafficker of diverted prescription drugs in the area. [redacted] who was considered "Armed and Dangerous", had a violent criminal history including convictions for assault, armed robbery, and attempted murder.

At approximately 6:00 a.m., the WFO Special Weapons and Tactics (SWAT) Team executed the warrant, with dual entry into the front and back doors of the residence. As the SWAT Team entered the back yard area, they were approached by an aggressive

Akita dog resulting in SWAT personnel using a small fire extinguisher to repel the dog.

SA [redacted] who was responsible for providing rear perimeter security, was instructed to come inside the fence into the back yard where he observed the dog standing on the steps of the residence. As the dog moved toward SA [redacted] aggressively barking and growling, SA [redacted] held his service weapon in his right hand pointing downward. The dog moved toward SA [redacted] left hand which was holding an ASP. As the dog approached, SA [redacted] jerked his left hand backward to avoid being bitten by the dog, brought his right hand around in front of his waist, and fired one shot at the back of the dog's neck area. The dog yelped several times and retreated to the side area of the residence and continued barking. The dog subsequently died.

b7C

On 09/21/2006, the SIRG met to discuss the above-captioned shooting incident. Deputy Assistant Director Michael S. Clemens, Inspection Division, chaired the meeting and was a non-voting member. The following voting members were in attendance: former Chief Inspector C. Frank Figliuzzi, Office of Inspections, Inspection Division [redacted] Deputy Chief, Domestic Security Section, Criminal Division, USDOJ; [redacted] Attorney, Civil Rights Division, USDOJ; SC James Casey, Eurasian Section, CD-1, Counterintelligence Division; SC John V. Gillies, Violent Crimes Section, Criminal Investigative Division; Unit Chief (UC) [redacted] Firearms Training Unit, TDD; [redacted] Chief, Defensive Systems Unit, TDD; UC [redacted] Special Weapons and Tactics Operations Unit, Critical Incident Response Group; UC [redacted] Operational Skills Unit, TDD; SSA [redacted] Firearms - Toolmarks Unit, Scientific Analysis Section, Laboratory Division; SSA [redacted] Washington Field Office; and SSA [redacted] Investigative Law Unit, Office of the General Counsel (OGC). [redacted] Deputy General Counsel, Investigative Law Branch, OGC, and [redacted] General Attorney, Investigative Law Unit, OGC, as well as SSA [redacted] and [redacted] Management Program Analyst, Inspection Management Unit, Office of Inspections, Inspection Division, non-voting members, were also in attendance.

b6

Observations and Recommendations of the SIRG

The SIRG reviewed the above synopsized incident with the intent to: (1) evaluate the application of deadly force; (2) provide the Director with an evaluative analysis, observations, and recommendations for corrective actions from an operational standpoint (if any); (3) provide recommendations concerning training and/or safety issues; and (4) provide recommendations for administrative action if deemed necessary.

SIRG members unanimously agreed that the use of deadly force by SA [redacted] was justified and in conformance with the current deadly force policy. Although the operation was successful, members noted the target residence had not been cleared, the perimeters were breached before an all clear notification was received, Agents relinquished the fire extinguisher originally used to deter the aggressive dog, and SA [redacted] was holding two weapons simultaneously. These observations will be discussed with the Assistant Director in Charge of the Washington Field Office.

Detective [redacted] notified FLPD dispatch of this information concerning [redacted] and requested marked FLPD units respond to the area. FLPD uniform officers [redacted] and [redacted] responded to the area and quickly located [redacted] vehicle, which was further described as a black Chevy Lumina, Florida license plate [redacted]

The suspect vehicle was followed by the patrol cars, who had not operated their emergency lights and siren, for a short distance to [redacted] This address was later determined to be [redacted] mother's residence. A felony traffic stop was initiated during which a single shot was fired at [redacted] by SA [redacted] fled in his vehicle and was pursued by Officer [redacted], Officer [redacted] Detective [redacted] and Special Agent [redacted]. In addition, other marked FLPD police units responded to the call for assistance in an attempt to stop the fleeing vehicle. After striking an uninvolved bystander at NW 20th Street and NW 28th Avenue, [redacted] crashed his vehicle at 2921 NW 23rd Street and fled on foot. [redacted] was pursued several blocks to 2871 NW 22nd Street where he was taken into custody by SA [redacted] and other FLPD officers after a violent struggle. [redacted] was transported to Broward General Hospital for treatment of a gunshot wound to his upper right arm. [redacted] was initially charged with attempted felony murder, criminal mischief, and possession of a firearm by a convicted felon.

On 7/28/06, FLPD Detective [redacted] obtained a search warrant for [redacted] Chevy Lumina. The warrant was executed at FLPD Headquarters with Detective [redacted] Detective [redacted], FBI Special Agent [redacted] and Lead FLPD Detective [redacted] present. The items that were recovered and their corresponding locations in the vehicle were documented. Detective [redacted] observations included the following:

1) Ten (10) .44 caliber bullets in a plastic case were found by the inside driver seat. This discovery was consistent with the belief that the initial shots that [redacted] fired on 7/24/06 came from a revolver.

2) Lead fragments were visible on the steering wheel which were consistent with the round trajectory from the right rear quarter panel across to the driver side seat area.

3) The round trajectory was discovered to be consistent with [redacted] being inside the vehicle with his right arm and elbow below chest level when he was shot.

SA [redacted] Remington shotgun, the expended shell and several unspent shells from the shotgun were sent to the Broward

Sheriff's Office (BSO) Crime Laboratory, along with the two bullets recovered from the initial scene on 7/24/06 and one of the .44 caliber rounds recovered from [redacted] vehicle. These were sent for lab evaluation and comparison.

On 08/08/2006, at approximately 10:15 hours, an official sworn statement was taken from SA [redacted]. The statement was taken at FLPD Headquarters and present were [redacted] attorney, [redacted] FBI SA [redacted] and FLPD Detective [redacted]. During the statement, SA [redacted] stated he had been informed by Detective [redacted] prior to any contact with [redacted] that [redacted] was wanted for firearms charges and should be considered "Armed and Dangerous." SA [redacted] added that at the time of the traffic stop he recognized [redacted] as the sole occupant of the vehicle from the photo Detective [redacted] had previously shown him. SA [redacted] stated that initially [redacted] had his body turned inside the vehicle looking at the other patrol units as they were yelling commands. SA [redacted] does not believe [redacted] actually exited his vehicle. SA [redacted] stated that [redacted] was holding a white envelope in his hand and while the police commands were being given to [redacted] dropped his hand out of sight to his waistband area. SA [redacted] fearing for his life as well as for the life of the other officers present, fired one shotgun round towards [redacted] while he was seated in his vehicle. At this point, [redacted] fled the traffic stop in his vehicle and the police pursuit was initiated.

SA [redacted], during the course of his statement, drew a diagram which was not to scale, but his recollection of the initial traffic stop was portrayed. The diagram appears accurate, according to Detective [redacted] with the exception of [redacted] vehicle being too far back to the east in the circular driveway. Placing the vehicle approximately 10 feet farther west in the circular driveway would be more consistent with the witness officer's statements, SA [redacted] recorded visual observations and the trajectory of the shotgun round. This diagram is attached to this report as part of SA [redacted] sworn statement.

On 09/04/2006, Detective [redacted] obtained a copy of the FLPD "Fleeing Vehicle Review" which documented the pursuit of [redacted] vehicle. This report showed the pursuit lasted approximately two (2) minutes and 51 seconds and reached speeds of 50 miles per hour in a residential area. During the pursuit, the patrol officers had their emergency lights and sirens activated.

On 09/14/2006, Detective [redacted] received a copy of the BSO firearms analysis completed by Firearms Examiner [redacted] was able to determine that the submitted spent shotgun shell was indeed fired from SA [redacted] b6 b7C submitted shotgun. [redacted] also stated that the submitted spent projectiles recovered from the initial attempted murder scene on 07/24/2006 were similar to the bullets recovered from [redacted] vehicle. Due to mutilation, an exact match could not be made.

On 10/03/2006, Detective [redacted] received a report from the Broward County State Attorney's Office, Assistant State Attorney [redacted] which indicated that Doe was charged with three counts to include attempted first degree murder, possession of a firearm by a convicted felon, and felony criminal mischief. Furthermore, Detective [redacted] was advised there would be no pending criminal charges filed against FBI Special Agent [redacted]

Details of the Shooting Incident

On 09/29/2006, SA [redacted] participated in the execution of an arrest warrant at a residence in Meriden, Connecticut. Agents and other law enforcement personnel approached the front door of the residence and found the door unlocked. They went to the first floor apartment where they proceeded to "knock and announce.". The subject's mother granted entry to the arrest team and confirmed [redacted] was in the bedroom located off of the kitchen. Team members heard a dog barking inside the room and yelled numerous times for the subject to secure the dog and surrender. Although [redacted] never acknowledged the presence of law enforcement personnel, at one point his pregnant girlfriend exited the room and confirmed the subject was inside.

Arrest team members continued to yell for [redacted] to secure the dog and surrender. [redacted] opened the door enough to allow the pit bull dog to run into the kitchen and aggressively advanced toward the law enforcement officers in a threatening manner. A Meriden Police Department Officer fired one shot at the dog who continued to advance toward team members. Believing she was in imminent danger of death or serious bodily injury, SA [redacted] and a second local officer each fired one round at the dog. The dog was struck and retreated into the bedroom. b6 b7C

The subject surrendered moments later and Animal Control arrived on the scene to take the injured dog for medical assistance.

On 01/25/2007, the SIRG met to discuss the above-captioned shooting incident. Deputy Assistant Director Michael S. Clemens, Inspection Division, chaired the meeting and was a non-voting member. The following voting members were in attendance: Chief Inspector Michael A. Title: SHOOTING INQUIRY
REPORT OF SHOOTING INCIDENT
NEW YORK DIVISION
02/24/2006

Character:
INSPECTION DIVISION - SHOOTING INQUIRY

Synopsis: Members of New York Division, Special Operations (SO) Team #9 involved in adversarial conflict resulting in shots fired on captioned date. SO-9 was involved in conducting surveillance in Canarsie section of Brooklyn, New York concerning an unrelated investigation during which time several subjects conspired to conduct robbery of a suspected narcotics sales location within the proximity of the surveillance. SO-9 personnel witnessed subjects involved in the robbery and from the location exchange gunfire at which time he identified himself and began taking fire from the subjects. SO-9 SA [redacted] returned fire in direction of subjects. Subject [redacted] sustained gunshot wounds to ankle and shoulder from weapon yet to be determined.

On 02/24/2006, members of the New York Division Joint Terrorism Special Operations Team #9 comprised of New York City Police Department detectives and FBI Special Agents were involved in the surveillance of a subject concerning an on-going terrorism investigation. Six (6) members of the team were involved in the surveillance and consisted of the following:

1. Detective [redacted] (Team Leader)
2. Detective
3. Detective

4. Detective [redacted]
5. Special Agent [redacted]
6. Special Agent [redacted]

Each member of the team was assigned to individual vehicles.

Prior to captioned event, the team had not ascertained the location of the target subject to be surveilled and was conducting individual checks of locations in various boroughs of New York City. In the early evening hours of 02/24/2006, Detective [redacted] contacted the team members via FBI radio communications and advised that he had located the target subject in the vicinity of E. 95th Street and Avenue D in the Canarsie section of Brooklyn, New York. The respective team members converged on the location and began to establish surveillance of a residence located on E. 95th Street between Nolans Lane and Avenue D. Once the team had arrived at the vicinity, they established a 30 minute rotating "eye" on the location. Each member who did not have the primary surveillance took a position in the surrounding area to await their turn in the primary position.

At approximately 8:45p.m., Detective [redacted] contacted the team via radio communication and advised of a suspicious vehicle described as a red Volkswagen Jetta in the vicinity of E.96th Street. Detective [redacted] further communicated that two black males had exited the vehicle and began walking west on Nolans Lane towards E.95th Street. [redacted] described the subjects who exited the vehicle as a tall B/M with his hair in dread locks and wearing a jacket with patches all over. The second B/M was described as shorter and wearing a gray sweatshirt. Various members of the team observed the subjects and, although unsure if they were directly involved in the surveillance, continued to relay information concerning their movements. b6 b7C

Subsequent to the two aforementioned subjects exiting of the vehicle, the team was alerted by Detective [redacted] that the Jetta had moved to the area of Avenue D and E. 95th Street at a high rate of speed. At this time SA [redacted] was in a static position and was able to observe the Jetta move to the corner of E. 95th Street and Avenue D while other team members observed the subjects approach a restaurant on the corner of E. 95th Street and Avenue D. As the subjects approached the location, another subject, later identified as [redacted], exited the store location. The subjects began to exchange gunfire. SA [redacted] moved his vehicle into the driveway of the parking lot across from E. 95th Street and identified himself as an FBI Agent while displaying his shield. At this time the subjects turned and began firing at [redacted] SA [redacted] took up a defensive position in his vehicle and began to return fire at the subjects.

[redacted] first, engaged a subject near the restaurant (which is where the initial shots were fired from in his direction). The subject was described as an unidentified male (UM1), wearing dark pants and a light grey sweatshirt top, approximately 5 foot 7 inches tall and having a thin build. Upon returning fire, the subject ran north to Avenue D, in a Westerly direction on Avenue D. At nearly the same time, another unidentified male (UM2), wearing dark pants and a dark top fired at SA [redacted] from the rear of the Jetta which was still parked across from the restaurant on E. 95th Street. [redacted] returned fire in the direction of the Jetta. Shortly thereafter, the Jetta began to slowly roll South on E. 95th Street and eventually came to a stop in a diagonal position when it struck a parked car on the opposite side of the street. No subjects exited the vehicle. b6 b7C

Subsequent to the shooting, three subjects were arrested by the SO-9 team members and New York City Police Department at the scene of the shooting. These three subjects were later identified as 1. [redacted], 2. [redacted] (graze wound on leg), and 3. [redacted]. The forth subject, later identified as [redacted] was subsequently arrested at the North Shore University Hospital, Long Island, NY, where he was treated for gun shot wounds to the wrist and shoulder. The wrist wound was described as a "through and through" wound. The shoulder wound occurred from a lodged piece shrapnel. Medical authorities determined that it would better to leave the shrapnel in the shoulder rather than remove it. Therefore, medical treatment and records were unable to determine the type of bullet causing these wounds. b6 b7C

All personnel involved in the shooting were interviewed by New York City Police Department personnel and Federal Bureau of Investigation personnel at the NYPD 69th Precinct.

Title: SHOOTING INCIDENT
PHILADELPHIA DIVISION
03/23/2006

Synopsis: The Shooting Incident Review Group (SIRG) reviewed a shooting incident that occurred on 03/23/2006, involving Special Agent (SA) [redacted] SA [redacted] fired two rounds from his Springfield Model 1911, .45 caliber pistol killing an aggressive pit bull dog. SIRG members recommended that no administrative action be taken against SA [redacted] as a result of his involvement in this shooting incident.

Administrative: Reference Electronic Communication (EC) of Supervisory Special Agent (SSA) [redacted] dated 03/23/2006.

Details: This communication was prepared to furnish the analysis, comments, and recommendations of the SIRG with reference to the captioned shooting.

Details of the Incident

On 03/23/2006, Agents of the FBI and Drug Enforcement Administration, along with Chester Police Department (CPD) officers, were executing a Federal arrest warrant on [redacted] who was wanted for conspiracy to distribute and possess cocaine.

At 6:04 a.m., Sergeant [redacted] of the CPD knocked on the door of the subject's residence and announced the presence of law enforcement. [redacted] responded to the initial knock and announce but failed to respond to the front door, resulting in Sergeant [redacted] ordering the breach of the door. As the entry team breached the door they were charged by an aggressive pit bull dog. Fearing for their safety as well as the safety of other law enforcement officers on the scene, Sergeant [redacted] fired two rounds and SA [redacted] fired one round resulting in severe injury to the dog. Entry into the residence was made and the premises secured. Although the suspect fled through a rear door of the residence, he was subsequently apprehended by members of the perimeter team. b6 b7C

According to SA [redacted] once the subject was taken into custody he returned to the wounded dog and observed multiple gunshot wounds. The dog was crying and in severe distress. Based on his discussion with all team members, a decision was made that immediately putting the dog down was the humane thing to do. SA [redacted] fired one additional round into the dog's head, instantly killing the animal. Animal control responded and removed the dog's body from the residence.

On 05/05/2006, the SIRG met to discuss the above-captioned shooting incident. Deputy Assistant Director Daniel Lee Cloyd, Inspection Division, chaired the meeting and was a non-voting member. The following voting members were in attendance: Chief Inspector C. Frank Figliuzzi, Office of Inspections, Inspection Division; [redacted] Attorney, Civil Rights Division, USDOJ; [redacted] Deputy Chief, Domestic Security Section, Criminal Division, USDOJ; Kevin Favreau [redacted] Section Chief (SC), CD-4, Counterintelligence Division; [redacted] Assistant SC, Transnational Criminal Enterprise Section, Criminal Investigative Division; [redacted] Unit Chief (UC), Firearms Training Unit, Training and Development Division (TDD); [redacted] UC Defensive Systems Unit, TDD; Supervisory Special Agent (SSA) [redacted] Special Weapons and Tactics Operations Unit, Critical Incident Response Group; SSA [redacted] Firearms - Toolmarks Unit, Scientific Analysis Section, Laboratory Division; SSA [redacted] Investigative Law Unit, Office of the General Counsel (OGC); and b6 b7C

SSA [redacted] Washington Field Office [redacted] Management Program Analyst, Inspection Management Unit, Office of Inspections, Inspection Division, a non-voting member, was also in attendance.

Observations and Recommendations of the SIRG

The SIRG reviewed the above-synopsized incident with the intent to: (1) evaluate the application of deadly force; (2) provide the Director with an evaluative analysis, observations, and recommendations for corrective actions from an operational standpoint (if any); (3) provide recommendations concerning training and/or safety issues; and (4) provide recommendations for administrative action if deemed necessary. b6 b7C

SIRG members unanimously concurred that the use of deadly force by Sergeant [redacted] and SA [redacted] was justified. Members emphasized that the first shot fired by SA [redacted] was in conformance with the deadly force policy; however, the second shot, although the humane action to take, was not within the current deadly force policy.

The only observation made by the SIRG pertained to language contained in the Operations Plan regarding the deadly force policy. Members opined that any reference to the deadly force policy should contain language mirrored from the current deadly force policy which was approved by the Attorney General on 07/01/2004. This observation will be brought to the attention of the Acting Special Agent in Charge of the Philadelphia Division.

DETAILS:

Chicago Division Squad VC-1 conducted the fugitive investigation from 88A-CG-C113806, a fugitive control file at the request of the Cook County Sheriff's Office (CCSO). VC-1 utilizes the control file for all out-of-division fugitive arrests. SA [redacted] is the fugitive coordinator for the Chicago Division.

VC-1 is comprised of agents, and task force officers from Chicago Police Department and the CCSO. SSA [redacted] is the VC-1 squad supervisor. In addition to his squad supervisor duties, SSA [redacted] is the Chicago SWAT supervisor and a former member. VC-1 has many agents with extensive tactical training experience. SA [redacted] is the Senior SWAT Team Member, with more than thirty years of experience. SA [redacted] and SA [redacted] are members of Chicago SWAT. SA [redacted] and SA [redacted] were recently selected as reserve members of Chicago SWAT. SA [redacted] has five (5) years of tactical team experience as a US Marshal. VC-1 is the Division's primary resource for conducting and overseeing the apprehension of violent subjects. VC-1 executed at least 38 arrest warrants in 2006 without incident.

SA [redacted] conducted an investigation and determined [redacted] was living at [redacted] Chicago, IL. SA [redacted] conducted surveillance on the location in the days before the arrest. Upon receiving confirmation that [redacted] was residing at the address, an arrest plan was prepared by SA [redacted] The plan was approved by Chicago SSA [redacted] Squad VC-1. The arrest was planned for Wednesday, April 5, 2006 at 6:00am.

A pre-arrest briefing was conducted on Wednesday, April 5, 2006, at approximately 5:55am, by SA [redacted] in the vicinity of [redacted] Chicago, IL. SA [redacted] provided a briefing to the arrest team members. The briefing included information on the subject's criminal history, description of target location, and warning regarding previous history of resisting arrest. The written arrest plan and briefing identified [redacted] as armed and dangerous. The pre-arrest briefing was attended by eleven (11) members of the VC-1, Violent Fugitives Task Force. The arrest team consisted of ten (10) FBI Agents and one (1) Chicago Police Department Detective.

The entry/arrest team arrived at the arrest location at approximately 6:00am. SAs [redacted] and [redacted] obtained the assistance of a neighbor in gaining access to the building and obtaining corroboration that [redacted] resided in the apartment. SA [redacted] and [redacted] noticed the apartment had a locked steel security gate and a standard frame door. After SA [redacted] and SA [redacted] gained access to the apartment building, SA [redacted] called for assisting agents to enter the building. SA [redacted] entered the [redacted], SA [redacted] and SA [redacted] with the entry and arrest. apartment building to assist SA [redacted] moved to the front of the building to provide support. SA [redacted] The remainder of the team took positions along the perimeter of the multi-unit apartment building.

Shortly after 6:00am, SAs [redacted] and [redacted] knocked on the door. A female spoke to the agents through the locked door. SAs [redacted] indicated they were the "police" and asked for her to open the door. After a few minutes [redacted] girlfriend, opened the frame door and spoke to the agents through the metal gate. During this time agents on the perimeter of the building observed a black male at the windows. SA [redacted] spoke to the male at which time the man indicated he lived in [redacted]. The man had a distinctive mole on his forehead similar to the description provided of [redacted] at the pre-arrest briefing. Radio transmissions to all members of the team indicated the subject was in the apartment [redacted] eventually opened the metal gate door for SAs [redacted] and [redacted]. While SA [redacted] and SA [redacted] spoke to [redacted] at the front door, SA [redacted] saw a person move towards what he believed to be the rear of the apartment/bedroom area.

The agents entered the apartment, with SAs [redacted] and [redacted] in the lead. SAs [redacted] and [redacted] followed behind SA [redacted] and near SA [redacted]. SAs [redacted] and [redacted] cleared the front room and made their way to the back bedroom and bathroom area through a kitchen/dining area. As SA [redacted] entered the kitchen/dining area, he observed a black male pointing a gun in the direction of SAs [redacted] and [redacted]. SA [redacted] yelled "GUN! GUN! GUN!" and commenced firing at the threat. SA [redacted] fired five rounds at the subject. SA [redacted] turned to face the threat. As SA [redacted] turned he observed a man illuminated by the muzzle flash of a gun. SA [redacted] saw a gun in the subject's hand. He fired two rounds at the subject. [redacted] fell to the ground after being struck by a bullet in his right index finger and dropped his weapon. When the shooting ended, Steward was also on the floor near [redacted] unharmed. No FBI personnel were injured during the shooting.

As he lay on the floor in the kitchen, agents searched [redacted] for other weapons and to determine the extent of his injuries. Agents placed the handcuffs on [redacted] left hand. Due to his injury, agents could not handcuff his right hand; therefore [redacted] left hand was handcuffed to his belt loops.

SA [redacted] retrieved [redacted] weapon and ensured it was out of his reach. SA [redacted] racked the slide three (3) times until the slide locked. As SA [redacted] was clearing the gun, three (3) 9mm rounds of ammunition were expelled from the gun into the kitchen sink. After the slide was locked, [redacted] placed the gun in the sink away from [redacted] and [redacted]. The gun was determined to be a Ruger 9mm. A subsequent search of the apartment recovered a live round of ammunition in the dining area. In total, fourteen (14) rounds of live 9mm ammunition were recovered in the apartment. One (1) round was recovered in the dining area, the remaining thirteen (13) rounds were recovered in the kitchen sink and in the gun.

After ensuring [redacted] was no longer a threat, SA [redacted] called for medical assistance. A CPD Detective at the scene utilized the CPD radio to advise shots had been fired and medical assistance was needed at the scene. Emergency medical personnel responded within minutes. [redacted] was treated by paramedics inside the apartment. The extent of his injuries were such that he was able to walk out of the building to the ambulance. Records indicate [redacted] was transported to St. Bernard's Hospital at approximately 6:30am for treatment, and later transported to Mount Sinai Hospital for surgery.

SA [redacted] took control of [redacted] after the shooting. SA [redacted] ensured she was not injured and moved her to the front living room area. SA [redacted] conducted a thorough search of [redacted] for weapons and handcuffed her. [redacted] was crying and visibly upset following the shooting. SA [redacted] then conducted a complete search of the bedroom and bathroom area, clearing each room in a methodical manner. After ensuring there were no more subjects in the apartment, SA [redacted] retrieved [redacted] daughter from the bedroom area. He subsequently removed the handcuffs from [redacted] and allowed her to be with her daughter, under the constant supervision of FBI or CPD personnel. b6 b7C

[redacted] was later removed from the scene and taken to the local precinct for questioning by CPD detectives and FBI agents. [redacted] provided a statement to CPD and FBI personnel. During her statement she denied knowing [redacted] had a weapon in the apartment or knowledge of the outstanding arrest warrant.

At approximately 6:15am SA [redacted] notified SSA [redacted] and A/ASAC [redacted] ASAC Monroe was the Acting SAC on the day of the shooting. SA [redacted] also notified Assistant Division Counsel [redacted] SSA [redacted] ASAC Monroe, and CDC Krupkowski responded to the scene. A/ASAC [redacted] also arrived at the scene. Shortly after the shooting SA [redacted] retrieved SAs [redacted] and [redacted] weapons.

Upon arriving at the scene, ASAC Monroe coordinated with senior CPD officials regarding the control of the crime scene and subsequent investigation. CPD Deputy Superintendent [redacted] was the on-scene commander for CPD. Deputy Superintendent [redacted] informed ASAC Monroe the CPD would relinquish control of the investigation to the FBI as all the parties involved in the shooting were FBI agents. CPD provided physical security to the area for the entire day. CDC Krupkowski advised FBI agents on scene they were not required to provide statements to the police at that time. CDC Krupkowski informed the agents of the availability of representation from the FBI Agent's Association. b6 b7C

FBI Chicago ERT conducted an exhaustive search of the apartment, which included a ballistic trajectory analysis, recovery of evidence, crime scene photos, crime scene video, detailed sketches, and evidence logs. The ERT search and analysis determined seven (7) rounds were fired by SA [redacted] and [redacted] combined. The trajectory analysis indicates SA [redacted] fired five (5), .40 caliber, rounds at the subject. It is likely SA [redacted] shot and wounded the subject. SA [redacted] fired two rounds, .45 caliber, at the subject. The forensic evidence does not indicate SA [redacted] struck the subject. All the rounds were accounted for in the physical search by ERT. Based upon an accounting of the recovered 9mm ammunition from [redacted] weapon, it was determined the subject did not fire his weapon. A copy of the ERT reporting is included with this report.

The subject was struck in the index finger of his right hand. The subject received immediate medical attention from FBI personnel on the scene. Emergency personnel responded to the scene and treated the subject within minutes of the shooting. As the injuries were limited to his hand, the subject was instructed to walk out of the apartment by emergency medical personnel. The subject was transported to St. Bernard's hospital for treatment by ambulance. After treatment in the emergency room, it was determined the subject required surgery and was transported via ambulance to Mount Sinai Hospital, by medical personnel. The subject was operated on by Dr. [redacted] a plastic and hand surgeon at Mount Sinai. According to Dr. [redacted] upon entering [redacted] the fingertip, the bullet traveled along the inside of [redacted] finger and entered his hand at the web space between his index and middle finger. The bullet fragmented as it traveled through [redacted] hand and a portion of the fragments exited his hand on the top near the middle finger, wrist area. Dr. [redacted] indicated it was likely the subject would not regain full use of his index finger, but otherwise was expected to recover fully. Squad VC-1 personnel guarded [redacted] during his medical treatment. A Squad VC-1 Task Force Officer was present in the operating room during [redacted] surgical procedure. The CCSO took custody of [redacted] following his surgery. [redacted] was subsequently released from the hospital and was housed at a CCSO facility.

Dr. [redacted] stated he asked the subject what happened. The subject told Dr. [redacted] that he had a gun and had been shot in the hand while holding his hand up near his face. The subject had other scrapes and scars on his body on April 5, 2006. The doctor asked the subject if those injuries were from the shooting. The subject indicated he had other scars and marks from previous fights and incidents. Dr. [redacted] did not find any other injuries on [redacted] resulting from the shooting. [redacted] did not mention any other physical complaints related to the shooting.

b6

Damage to the apartment was confined to the kitchen area. Specifically, the refrigerator, stove, walls, and back door were damaged in the shooting. Several rounds passed through the refrigerator, stove, or partial wall. With permission from the building owner, ERT removed shell fragments from the walls for ballistic testing. Testing by the laboratory is ongoing at the time this report was prepared.

Chicago Squad CE-9 was assigned to conduct an Assault on a Federal Office (AFO) investigation of [redacted] SA [redacted] is the case agent. Assistant United States Attorney [redacted] for the Northern District of Illinois will pursue charges against [redacted] for the AFO and related gun charges. Interviews of [redacted]'s girlfriend, neighbors, landlord, and related persons were conducted. Results of those interviews are included in this report. [redacted] medical records were subpoenaed by investigators and are attached to this report

Chicago Principal Firearms Instructor (PFI) [redacted] was contacted regarding the firearms training for SAs [redacted] and [redacted] PFI [redacted] provided records of firearms scores for both agents. SA [redacted] and SA [redacted] successfully completed all firearms training for 2005. Both agents demonstrated a high degree of proficiency in operating their bureau issued weapons. SA [redacted] completed his first quarter qualification for 2006 on March 30, 2006. SA [redacted] has yet to complete the first quarter qualification for 2006 due to a heavy investigative work load and operational matters. Copies of the firearms scores are attached to this report.

The Shooting Investigation Team (SIT) interviewed all agents and TFOs on the arrest team. SAs [redacted] and [redacted] signed FD-927 WARNING AND ASSURANCE TO EMPLOYEE REQUESTED TO PROVIDE INFORMATION FOLLOWING A SHOOTING INCIDENT. Signed Sworn Statements were obtained from: SA [redacted], SA [redacted], SA [redacted], SA [redacted], SA [redacted], SA [redacted], SA [redacted], SA [redacted] and SA [redacted]. FD-302s were prepared following the interviews of ASAC Monroe, A/ASAC SSA [redacted] SSA [redacted] and TFO [redacted] FD-302s were also prepared by summarizing interviews and the collection of certain investigative materials.

Title: SHOOTING INCIDENT
CRITICAL INCIDENT RESPONSE GROUP (CIRG)
HOSTAGE RESCUE TEAM (HRT)
12/06/2006

Synopsis: The Shooting Incident Review Group (SIRG) reviewed a shooting incident that occurred on 12/06/2006, involving Special Agent (SA) [redacted] During a training exercise by the HRT, SA [redacted] fired one round from his Bureau-issued Colt M-4, .223 Caliber, Special Purpose Rifle, killing Supervisory Special Agent (SSA) Gregory J. Rahoi. SIRG members recommended that no administrative action be taken against SA [redacted] as a result of his involvement in this shooting incident.

Administrative: Reference report of Inspector [redacted] dated 02/09/2007.

Details: This communication was prepared to furnish the analysis, comments, and recommendations of the SIRG with reference to the captioned shooting.

Details of the Shooting Incident

Since September 2005, HRT Operators have been routinely imbedded within the Department of Defense (DOD) Special Forces (SF) units in Iraq to conduct special site exploitations. On 12/06/2006, in anticipation for deployment to Iraq, the CIRG, Operations and Training Unit (OTU), conducted live fire, fire and maneuver training for thirteen HRT Operators and three Helicopter pilots assigned to the Tactical Helicopter Unit (THU). The Unconventional Law Enforcement Operations (ULEO) training was conducted on Range 24 at Fort A.P. Hill, Virginia. According to the OTU, the training scenarios used on 12/06/2006, were developed using actual experiences of HRT Operators in Iraq and were reportedly similar to training exercises used by DOD SF units.

The training exercise was planned and supervised by members of the CIRG, OTU SSA [redacted], SSA [redacted] and SSA [redacted]. Prior to the beginning of the training exercise, SSAs [redacted] and [redacted] provided safety briefings which included helicopter safety, medical emergencies, firearm safety, target awareness, communications, and range operations. The exercise included the use of two types of targets, the fixed military target known as an Ivan, and an FBI target known as LaRue. The Ivan was described as a green plastic three-dimensional silhouette of a human upper torso which was approximately three and one half feet tall, and range controlled to pop-up after being knocked down when hit by a bullet. They were fixed to the ground and could not be moved. The LaRue targets were steel plates, painted red and white, approximately eighteen inches high and twelve inches wide and fell when hit by a bullet. LaRue targets were equipped with motors which allowed the target to automatically stand back up after being hit and were movable.

Range 24 was approximately three miles long and 200 yards wide. The range consisted of variable terrain with various size vegetation and ran east to west with an obvious tree line the entire length on both sides. A gravel road ran down the middle of the range cutting it into north and south sides. Field of fire was briefed to the HRT Operators as 180 degrees forward or tree line to tree line which was different than the 360 degrees of coverage used during a real operation. HRT Operators were specifically advised not to fire from the helicopters and to use fans of fire when firing live ammunition down range when other HRT Operators were positioned down range.

The first scenario briefed to the HRT Operators involved the group breaking into three teams of three operators and one team of four operators with a helicopter transporting each team separately to three different locations on the range. At each location, team members would exit the helicopter and move to a fixed position clearly marked on the ground by a mannequin, and would engage both pre-positioned Ivan and LaRue targets. Once the targets were engaged from the fixed position, the team would return to the helicopter, continuing to engage targets as they appeared before re-boarding the helicopter. The helicopter would then fly to the two other marked locations where the drill would be repeated. The completion of all three drills was considered the end of one evolution. This scenario took most of the morning and occurred without any significant events.

A second scenario referred to as a Combat Search and Rescue (CSAR) training exercise was briefed and executed in the afternoon. The CSAR training exercise called for two teams of six and seven. The scenario was a downed helicopter in Iraq with an injured HRT Operator still on board and the teams' mission was to rescue him. Each team would be flown separately by helicopter in the approximate same area on Range 24 as was used in the morning exercise. At the designated location, team members would exit the helicopter and using live fire, fire and maneuver moving to the crash site which was a pre-positioned helicopter frame. The team would engage both Ivan and LaRue targets as they moved, would rescue the survivor of the downed helicopter, and again using live fire, fire and maneuver engaging targets move back to the helicopter and be airlifted out of the area. The same targets in the same locations used in the morning exercises were used. There were two sets of Ivan targets on both the north and south sides of the gravel road approximately one hundred yards apart. The teams used the north and south side of the gravel road to move to the crash site. This scenario occurred without any significant event.

The last scenario was identical to the previous Combat Search and Rescue exercise. The only change was that all thirteen HRT Operators would be used. No targets were added, deleted, or moved for the final run. The scenario was briefed to SSA [redacted], who was the designated overall Team Leader for the exercise. TL [redacted] divided the group into three teams, with Team 1 consisting of three Agents, Team 2 consisting of four Agents, and Team 3 consisting of five Agents.

The plan devised by TL [redacted] was briefed to the entire team and consisted of Teams 1 and 2 being inserted via Bell Helicopter 412 and Team 3 being inserted via Bell Helicopter 407. The insertion would be simultaneous, approximately two hundred yards east of the simulated crash site. Team 2 would be positioned to the north edge of the range, Team 3 to the south, and Team 1 would be in the center. The teams were instructed to employ a bounding overwatch method movement which was described as a minimum of one team providing cover fire while a minimum of one team moved forward or down range. Once at the crash site, Team 3 would establish a position to the west of the target location, the direction from which TL [redacted] had been briefed there was enemy movement. Team 2 would secure the crash site and prepare any casualties for movement. Movement back to the helicopters would be conducted in reverse of the movement to the crash site, with Team 2 responsible for transporting the casualty via a litter back to the helicopter. TL [redacted] was responsible for command and control of the individual teams including the positioning of the teams. Each individual Team Leader was responsible for the movement and positioning of the individual team members within each team. TL [redacted] would communicate with the two other Team Leaders, SSA [redacted] and SSA Rahoi, with a combination of radio calls, hand and arm signals, and verbal commands.

At approximately 3:30 p.m., the plan was executed and continued as planned until Team 2 had secured the crash site, assessed the casualty's condition, and was preparing to return to the helicopter. A tactical timeout was called and Range Technician [redacted] replaced the mannequin as the casualty on the litter. After the casualty was prepared for transport, Team 2 provided four team members to carry the litter to the helicopter. TL [redacted] and SA [redacted] collapsed toward the east to provide cover for those carrying the litter. SAs [redacted] and [redacted] positioned themselves near a concrete retaining wall around a set of Ivan targets approximately one hundred yards east of the crash site. SAs [redacted] and [redacted] were facing east providing nominal cover to the rear. b6 b7C

As the litter, four members of Team 2, TL [redacted] and SA [redacted] moved east passing SA [redacted] and SA [redacted]'s position, TL [redacted] instructed them to adjust their position from facing east to facing west which required a 180-degree adjustment. It was noted in his statement that SA [redacted] recalled being instructed by TL [redacted] to turn from the easterly direction he was covering and turn to the west and "pick up the rear." SA [redacted] was not absolutely positive of the verbiage used by TL [redacted] but interpreted his words to mean, "turn around and cover the rear area." When given rear security responsibility by TL [redacted] SA [redacted] believed there was no individual west of his position down range.

SA [redacted] recalled hearing information in a radio transmission indicating an enemy force was approaching from the west. Believing that he and SA [redacted] were the last group to the rear or west and covering down range, SA [redacted] thought his field of fire was 180 degrees or the tree line on his left to the tree line on his right. SA [redacted] observed the simulated downed helicopter in plain view. He scanned with his naked eye left and then right and when he scanned back left, he saw what he believed to be two Ivan targets. The Ivan targets did not move and appeared to have the same spacing and height as other Ivan targets he had previously engaged. SA [redacted] then saw what he believed to be an Ivan target through the optical scope on his rifle. He noted he had an unobstructed view of the Ivan targets in high grass at the top of a berm, similar to the way other Ivan targets on the range were positioned. SA [redacted] who was not wearing sunglasses, looked in a westerly to southwesterly direction with the sun at tree top level causing significant sun glare. As he acquired the target he yelled to SA [redacted] "targets left." SA [redacted] did not hear SA [redacted] respond and fired one shot, keeping his sight on the target. He noticed the b6 b7C target did not fall like the other Ivan targets and immediately realized he had hit another HRT Operator.

According to SA [redacted] he recalled SA [redacted] yelling to him, "any targets on the left." He believed SA [redacted] was asking if he saw any targets on the left remaining to shoot and he replied, "no." SA [redacted] later spoke with SA [redacted] and learned SA [redacted] had stated, "targets left" meaning SA [redacted] observed Ivan targets on his left and was calling them out as part of the scenario. Immediately after responding to SA [redacted] SA [redacted] heard the gunshot from SA [redacted] position and immediately thereafter heard, "real world medical," called on the radio. Both Agents immediately ran to render aid to SSA Rahoi.

According to TL [redacted] he recalled only instructing SA [redacted] to adjust his and SA [redacted] position from facing east to facing west which required them to make a 180-degree adjustment. TL [redacted] stated, "I communicated that Team 1 was set, meaning that we were in a position to provide covering fire (over watch) for Team 3's movement (bound) to the east."

Team 3 was still on the north side of the gravel road approximately 125 yards southwest and down range of SAs [redacted] and [redacted] Three members of the team, using the bounding overwatch method, moved in an easterly direction leaving SSA Rahoi and SA [redacted] still in the position 125 yards southwest and down range of SSA [redacted] and SA [redacted] SSA Rahoi was closest to the gravel road in a kneeling position. SA [redacted] was approximately ten feet to SSA Rahoi's left in a prone position. Both Agents were in knee high grass. SA [redacted] heard SA Rahoi state, "We're going to move back." SSA Rahoi began to stand up from his kneeling position and as he did, SA [redacted] heard a shot and heard SSA Rahoi state, "real world medical," and saw SSA Rahoi fall to the ground.

After SA [redacted] shot was fired, it was quickly determined that SSA Rahoi had been wounded. Medical aid was rendered and it was determined SSA Rahoi required being airlifted to the nearest medical facility. SSA Rahoi was immediately transported by the 412 helicopter to Mary Washington Hospital in Fredericksburg, where he was pronounced dead.

The Medical Examiner determined SSA Rahoi suffered a gunshot wound on the right side of the upper back. Bullet fragments passed through his chest wall breaking three ribs, damaging the upper lobe of his right lung, caused multiple perforations of the right subclavian artery and vein, as well as a laceration of the ascending aorta.

On 04/13/2007, the SIRG met to discuss the above-captioned shooting incident. Deputy Assistant Director Michael

S. Clemens, Inspection Division, chaired the meeting and was a non-voting member. The following voting members were in attendance: Chief Inspector [redacted] Office of Inspections, Inspection Division; [redacted] Trial Attorney, Domestic Security Section, Criminal Division, USDOJ; [redacted] Special Legal Counsel, Civil Rights Division, USDOJ; Section Chief (SC) James Casey, Eurasian Section, CD-1, Counterintelligence Division; SC John V. Gillies, Violent Crimes Section, Criminal Investigative Division; Unit Chief (UC) [redacted] Firearms Training Unit, Training and Development Division (TDD); UC [redacted] Defensive Systems Unit, TDD; UC [redacted] Special Weapons and Tactics Operations Unit, Critical Incident Response Group; SSA [redacted] Firearms - Toolmarks Unit, Scientific Analysis Section, Laboratory Division; SSA [redacted], Investigative Law Unit, Office of the General Counsel (OGC); and SSA [redacted] Practical Applications Unit, TDD. SSA [redacted] and Management Program Analyst (MPA) [redacted] Inspection Management Unit, Office of Inspections, Inspection Division, non-voting members, were also in attendance.

Observations and Recommendations of the SIRG

The SIRG reviewed the above-synopsized incident with the intent to: (1) evaluate the application of deadly force; (2) provide the Director with an evaluative analysis, observations, and recommendations for corrective actions from an operational standpoint (if any); (3) provide recommendations concerning training and/or safety issues; and (4) provide recommendations for administrative action if deemed necessary.

Prior to the discussion of this incident by SIRG members, Inspector [redacted] Inspector-in-Charge of the investigation of the shooting incident, provided an in-depth overview of the positions of all personnel involved in the training scenario, the appearance of the range where the scenario was taking place, and answered questions posed by SIRG members. Inspector [redacted] expressed the opinion that SSA Rahoi's death was the result of a tragic training accident resulting from the misidentification of a target.

Inspector [redacted] opined that although the same targets in the same locations were used throughout the day's training exercises it was reasonable that SA [redacted] misidentified SSA Rahoi as a target. In an attempt to recreate SA [redacted]s view through the optical scope on his rifle, photographs were taken looking through the scope at approximately the same time of day as the actual shooting. An Ivan target placed 125 yards away in SSA Rahoi's approximate position was photographed. This photograph was compared to a photograph taken a few minutes later of a mannequin wearing clothing identical to SSA Rahoi's shirt, vest, and helmet in the same position. A comparison of the photographs indicated looking through SA [redacted] scope, the Ivan target and the mannequin dressed in SSA Rahoi's clothing appeared very similar. Additionally, SSA Rahoi and SA [redacted] were positioned side by side on the top of a berm similar to the Ivan targets.

Inspector [redacted] pointed out all team members had been briefed on the planned movements of each team. However, SA [redacted] was positioned facing away from the HRT operators as they moved up and down range and although the HRT operators and RSOs were equipped with radios there were no communications pointing out SSA Rahoi's position down range from SA [redacted] b6 b7C

Inspector [redacted] noted three trained Range Safety Officers (RSO) were present during the training exercise. One was designated as the RSO for this specific training exercise. The RSOs were providing information to the Team Leaders concerning simulated enemy troop movements and which targets were still in play. They were not interjecting themselves in the team's movements.

Inspector [redacted] also discussed the lack of a written operations plan for each training exercise. He advised the OTU had no standard practice of preparing written operations plans; however, a risk assessment was provided in this instance due to the requirements of Fort A. P. Hill. The risk assessment contained a brief description concerning the training to be conducted; however, it did not adequately describe the CSAR scenario in which SSA Rahoi was fatally wounded. It was also noted by Inspector [redacted] that all HRT Operators must successfully complete a five month New Operator Training Course (NOTS) prior to being selected as a HRT Operator. After the completion of NOTS, the CIRG, HRT, does not maintain additional training records which detail the type and quantity of tactical training received by individual HRT Operators.

SIRG members began a lengthy discussion of the incident. One member asked if this type of training was appropriate for Agents being deployed to Iraq. The Special Weapons and Tactics Unit, TDD, representative advised that the training was indeed necessary and essential. Other members emphasized the fact that a proper target must be identified and not assumed and that training dictates that proper target acquisition must be accomplished before pulling the trigger of a weapon.

The OGC representative questioned if the position of the designated Range Safety Officer (RSO) would have been better if one had been placed with each team as a safety precaution. It was also questioned if the presence of more than one RSO should be mandated during this type of training exercise.

SIRG members also discussed the fact that no medical personnel were available to meet the landing helicopter upon arrival at the hospital. Once the decision was made to take SSA Rahoi to Mary Washington Hospital due to its close proximity and the condition of SSA Rahoi, call outs were made over the radio by Contract Pilot [redacted] advising anyone to make contact with the hospital, advise them of their arrival, and repeated the medical needs required upon their arrival. According to SA [redacted] the helicopter pilot, upon landing at Mary Washington Hospital's landing zone located on the roof of the parking garage, no medical personnel were there to meet them. Personnel on the helicopter carried SSA Rahoi to the parking garage elevator where they were greeted by medical personnel with a stretcher. b6 b7C

The last issue discussed by the SIRG pertained to the presence of Los Angeles Police Department photographer [redacted]. Members noted that the presence of a photographer should have received management approval.

SIRG members also adopted the following five recommendations of the Shooting Incident Review Team: 1) That SAC, CIRG ensure clear and proper communications are stressed to all HRT Operators during training scenarios; 2) That SAC, CIRG continue to provide safety briefings prior to all training exercises which stress situational awareness, fields of fire and target acquisition; 3) That SAC, CIRG require HRT Operators, when conducting live fire training scenarios, to wear some type of distinguishing clothing or markings to further differentiate targets from HRT Operators during training; 4) That SAC, CIRG develop and deploy a system to document, track, and evaluate all training received by HRT Operators; and 5) That SAC, CIRG institute a policy requiring all live fire training scenarios be approved by a Unit Chief or higher.

At the conclusion of the lengthy discussion, SIRG Chairman Clemens asked SIRG members to vote on the following question: "Was SA [redacted] negligent in his actions of pulling the trigger of his weapon and if so, was he deserving of any disciplinary action?" Board members unanimously voted that SA [redacted] was not negligent in his actions and recommended that no administrative action be taken against him as a result of his involvement in this incident. b6 b7C

CLEVELAND DIVISION
07/12/2006

Synopsis: The Shooting Incident Review Group (SIRG) reviewed a shooting incident that occurred on 07/12/2006, involving Special Agent (SA) [redacted]. While attempting to execute the arrest of fugitive [redacted], SA [redacted] fired two rounds from his Bureau-issued Glock, Model 22, .40 caliber pistol. SIRG members recommended that no administrative action be taken against SA [redacted] as a result of his involvement in this shooting incident.

Administrative: Reference report of Supervisory Special Agent (SSA) [redacted], dated 06/20/2007.

Details: This communication was prepared to furnish the analysis, comments, and recommendations of the SIRG with reference to the captioned shooting.

b6
b7C

Details of the Shooting Incident

On 07/12/2006, SA [redacted] accompanied by two Task Force Officers (TFOs), attempted to locate and arrest [redacted] who was wanted for armed car jacking as well as a parole violation. [redacted] was involved in a high-speed chase with the Cleveland Police Department the previous week; however, he eluded capture.

Investigation conducted by the Cleveland Safe Streets Task Force (SSTF) determined [redacted] was in possession of a maroon vehicle and identified his possible location as a hotel located on Euclid Avenue in Cleveland.

On the morning of 07/12/2006, investigating Agents determined that a vehicle matching the description of the vehicle [redacted] was supposedly driving, was parked at the hotel. SA [redacted] and the TFOs observed a subject matching [redacted] description exit a hotel room with a female. The male entered the driver's door of the suspect vehicle and the female entered the passenger door. As the subjects were leaving the area, SA [redacted] positioned his vehicle in an attempt to block the suspect's vehicle. SA [redacted] and the TFOs identified themselves as law enforcement officers and ordered the driver to stop the vehicle and raise his hands. [redacted] initially complied with law enforcement personnel commands and raised his hands; however, the vehicle continued to move forward at a slow speed. SA [redacted] and the TFOs continued to order [redacted] to stop the car, place it in park, and exit the vehicle. At that point, [redacted] suddenly sped up forcing TFO [redacted] to jump out of the path of the vehicle. As the vehicle headed toward SA [redacted] TFO [redacted] fired one round at [redacted] While attempting to remove himself from the vehicle's path, SA [redacted] fired two rounds at [redacted] before the vehicle struck him in the right leg.

TFO [redacted] drove into the parking lot and attempted to place his vehicle in a blocking position near the exit of the hotel parking lot. TFO [redacted] exited his vehicle and took cover behind the driver's door as [redacted] was driving toward TFO [redacted] and SA [redacted] sped past SA [redacted] vehicle and rammed into TFO [redacted] vehicle, knocking him to the ground. The collision disabled [redacted] vehicle and he was taken into custody.

Neither [redacted] nor his passenger was hit by any of the rounds fired; however, the passenger of the vehicle was cut by broken glass from the vehicle's windshield.

SA [redacted] and TFO [redacted] were treated at a local hospital and released.

b7C

On 02/15/2008, the SIRG met to discuss the above-captioned shooting incident. Deputy Assistant Director Michael S. Clemens, Inspection Division (INSD), chaired the meeting and was a non-voting member. Title: SHOOTING INCIDENT
NEW YORK FIELD OFFICE
02/24/2006

Synopsis: The Shooting Incident Review Group (SIRG) reviewed a shooting incident that occurred on 02/24/2006, involving Special Agent (SA) [redacted] While conducting surveillance, SA [redacted] was involved in an exchange of gunfire with two subjects involved in a separate gun battle. SIRG members recommended that no administrative action be taken against SA [redacted] as a result of his involvement in this shooting incident.

Administrative: Reference report of former Assistant Special Agent in Charge (ASAC) Matthew D. Heron, dated 03/01/2006.

Details: This communication was prepared to furnish the analysis, comments, and recommendations of the SIRG with reference to the captioned shooting.

Details of the Shooting Incident

On 02/24/2006, members of the New York Joint Terrorism Special Operations Team #9, comprised of New York City Police Department (NYCPD) detectives and New York Field Office SAs, were involved in the surveillance of a subject concerning an ongoing terrorism investigation.

Team members were conducting individual checks of locations in various boroughs of New York to determine the exact location of the subject. In the early evening hours, Detective (Det.) [redacted] contacted team members and advised he had located the target subject in the vicinity of East 95th Street and Avenue D in the Canarsie section of Brooklyn. Team members proceeded to the identified location and established surveillance of a residence in the area. A 30-minute rotating "eye" was established and each team member who did not have the primary surveillance took a position in the surrounding area to wait for the primary position.

At approximately 8:45 p.m., Det. [redacted] contacted team members via radio and advised of a suspicious red Volkswagen Jetta in the vicinity of East 96th Street. Det. [redacted] also advised two black males exited the vehicle and were walking west on Nolans Lane toward East 95th Street. Although law enforcement personnel were unsure if the two individuals were directly involved in the surveillance, team members continued to relay information concerning their movements. Det. [redacted] also advised participants the suspicious vehicle moved to the area of Avenue D and East 95th Street at a high rate of speed after the two subjects exited the vehicle. SA [redacted] observed the Jetta move to the corner of East 95th Street and Avenue D while other team members observed the two subjects approach a restaurant on the corner. As the two subjects approached the location, another subject, subsequently identified as [redacted] exited a store and the three exchanged gunfire. b6 b7C

SA [redacted] moved his vehicle into the driveway of a parking lot, identified himself as an FBI Agent, and displayed his shield. As two of the three subjects turned and began firing at SA [redacted] he assumed a defensive position in his vehicle and returned fire at the subjects resulting in one subject fleeing on foot. The subject vehicle slowly rolled South on East 95th Street and struck a parked car; however, no subjects exited the vehicle.

Three subjects were arrested at the scene of the incident, with one having a graze wound on the leg. A fourth subject was arrested at the North Shore University Hospital in Long Island, where he was treated for gun shot wounds to the wrist and shoulder.

Kings County Assistant District Attorney [redacted] advised the District Attorney's Office would not seek to charge or indict SA [redacted] regarding his involvement in the shooting incident. b6 b7C

A declination of prosecution dated 05/19/2006, was issued by the United States Department of Justice, Civil Rights Division, regarding the actions of SA [redacted] in this shooting incident.

On 01/25/2007, the SIRG met to discuss the above-captioned shooting incident. Deputy Assistant Director Michael S. Clemens, Inspection Division, chaired the meeting and was a non-voting member. The following voting members were in attendance: Chief Inspector [redacted] Office of Inspections, Inspection Division; [redacted] Trial Attorney, Domestic Security Section, Criminal Division, USDOJ; [redacted] Special Legal Counsel, Civil Rights Division, USDOJ; Section Chief (SC) John V. Gillies, Violent Crimes Section, Criminal Investigative Division; Assistant SC [redacted] Eurasian Section, CD-1, Counterintelligence Division; Unit Chief (UC) [redacted] Firearms Training Unit, Training and Development Division (TDD); UC [redacted] Defensive Systems Unit, TDD; UC [redacted] Special Weapons and Tactics Operations Unit, Critical Incident Response Group; UC [redacted] Practical Applications Unit, TDD; SSA [redacted] Firearms - Toolmarks Unit, Scientific Analysis Section, Laboratory Division; and UC [redacted], Investigative Law Unit, Office of the General Counsel (OGC). SSA [redacted] Management Program Analyst (MPA) [redacted] and MPA [redacted] Inspection Management Unit, Office of Inspections, Inspection Division, non-voting members, were also in attendance.

Observations and Recommendations of the SIRG

The SIRG reviewed the above-synopsized incident with the intent to: (1) evaluate the application of deadly force; (2) provide the Director with an evaluative analysis, observations, and recommendations for corrective actions from an operational standpoint (if any); (3) provide recommendations concerning training and/or safety issues; and (4) provide recommendations for administrative action if deemed necessary.

SIRG members unanimously agreed that the use of deadly force by SA [redacted] was justified and in conformance with the deadly force policy. Members opined that SA [redacted] should be commended for involving himself in a dangerous situation to protect innocent civilians. This will be brought to the attention of the Assistant Director in Charge of the New York Field Office.

Title: SHOOTING INCIDENT
CHICAGO DIVISION
04/05/2006

Synopsis: The Shooting Incident Review Group (SIRG) reviewed a shooting incident that occurred on 04/05/2006, involving Special Agents (SAs) [redacted] and [redacted] During the execution of an arrest warrant for an Armed Robbery fugitive, SA [redacted] fired two rounds from his Glock Model 21 pistol, and SA [redacted] fired five rounds from his Glock Model 22 pistol, resulting in an injury to the subject's finger. SIRG members recommended that no administrative action be taken against SAs [redacted] and [redacted] as a result of their involvement in this shooting incident.

Administrative: Reference report of Assistant Special Agent in Charge (ASAC) Gregory Alan Fowler, dated 04/24/2006.

Details: This communication was prepared to furnish the analysis, comments, and recommendations of the SIRG with reference to the captioned shooting.

Details of the Shooting Incident

During the execution of an arrest warrant for an Armed Robbery fugitive, two Agents fired shots at the armed subject resulting in an injury to his finger.

b7C

At the request of the Cook County Sheriff's Office, SA [redacted] conducted an investigation of a subject wanted for Armed Robbery from the State of Mississippi. During the investigation, SA [redacted] determined the subject, [redacted] was living in an apartment located in Chicago. SA [redacted] conducted surveillance on the subject's purported address and upon confirming [redacted] was residing at the address, prepared an arrest plan. The arrest plan was approved and an arrest was planned for 04/05/2006.

SA [redacted] provided a briefing to arrest team members on the morning of 04/05/2006, which included information regarding the subject's criminal history, description of the target location, and a warning regarding [redacted] previous history of resisting arrest. [redacted] was identified by SA [redacted] as being armed and dangerous.

On 04/05/2006, at approximately 6:00 a.m., the entry/arrest team arrived at the subject's location and corroborated that [redacted] resided in the apartment. The Agents observed the apartment had a locked steel security gate and a standard frame door. SAs [redacted] and [redacted] gained access to the apartment building and requested other Agents to enter. SAs [redacted] and [redacted] entered the apartment building to provide assistance with the entry and arrest while SA [redacted] remained in the courtyard area. The remaining team members took positions along the perimeter of the building.

Shortly after 6:00 a.m., SAs [redacted] and [redacted] knocked on the door of the subject's residence. A female spoke to the Agents through the locked door and SA [redacted] advised her they were the "police" and requested that she open the door. [redacted] identified as [redacted] girlfriend, opened the frame door and spoke to law enforcement personnel through the metal gate. Simultaneously, Agents located on the perimeter of the building observed a black male at the window. SA [redacted] spoke to the male subject who indicated he resided in [redacted] The man had a distinctive mole on his forehead, similar to the description provided of [redacted] at the pre-arrest briefing. Information was provided by radio to all members of the team that the suspect was inside the apartment.

[redacted] eventually opened the metal gate door of the apartment for the Agents. While SAs [redacted] and [redacted] talked to her at the front door, SA [redacted] observed someone move toward what he believed to be the rear of the apartment/bedroom area.

The four Agents entered the apartment, cleared the front room, and proceeded to the back bedroom and bathroom area. As SA [redacted] entered the kitchen/dining area, he observed a black male pointing a gun in the direction of SAs [redacted] and [redacted] SA [redacted] yelled, "Gun! Gun! Gun!" and fired five rounds at the subject. As SA [redacted] turned, he observed a man illuminated by the muzzle flash of a gun with a gun in his hand. SA [redacted] fired two rounds at the subject causing [redacted] to fall to the ground and drop his weapon after being struck by a bullet in his right index finger.

After ensuring [redacted] was no longer a threat, SA [redacted] requested medical assistance. Emergency medical personnel responded within minutes, treated the subject on the scene, and transported him to St. Bernard's Hospital. [redacted] was later transported to Mount Sinai Hospital for surgery. Although doctors advised a full recovery was expected, they cautioned [redacted] would probably not regain full use of his index finger. The Cook County Sheriff's Office assumed custody of [redacted] upon his release from the hospital. b6 b7C

On 06/08/2006, a declination of prosecution was received from the United States Department of Justice, Civil Rights Division, regarding the actions of SAs [redacted] and [redacted] in this shooting incident.

On 07/13/2006, the SIRG met to discuss the above-captioned shooting incident. Deputy Assistant Director Michael S. Clemens, Inspection Division, chaired the meeting and was a non-voting member. The following voting members were in attendance: former Chief Inspector [redacted] Office of Inspections, Inspection Division; [redacted] Deputy Chief, Domestic Security Section, Criminal Division, USDOJ; [redacted], Attorney, Civil Rights Division, USDOJ; Richard A. McFeely, Section Chief (SC), Operational Support Section, Criminal Investigative Division; [redacted], Assistant SC, CD-1, Counterintelligence Division; [redacted], Unit Chief (UC), Firearms Training Unit, Training and Development Division (TDD) [redacted] Chief, Defensive Systems Unit, TDD; [redacted], UC, Special Weapons and Tactics Operations Unit, Critical Incident Response Group; [redacted] UC, Operational Skills Unit, TDD; Supervisory Special Agent (SSA) [redacted], Firearms - Toolmarks Unit, Scientific Analysis Section, Laboratory Division; SSA [redacted], Washington Field Office; and [redacted], General Attorney, Investigative Law Unit, Office of the General Counsel (OGC). [redacted] and [redacted] Management Program Analysts, Inspection Management Unit, Office of Inspections, Inspection Division, non-voting members, were also in attendance. b6 b7C

The SIRG reviewed the above-synopsized incident with the intent to: (1) evaluate the application of deadly force; (2) provide the Director with an evaluative analysis, observations, and recommendations for corrective actions from an operational standpoint (if any); (3) provide recommendations concerning training and/or safety issues; and (4) provide recommendations for administrative action if deemed necessary.

The SIRG members unanimously concurred that the use of deadly force by SAs [redacted] and [redacted] was justified and in conformance with the FBI's deadly force policy. This discussion resulted in the recommendation that no administrative action be taken against either Agent as a result of their involvement in this shooting incident. b6 b7C

MIAMI DIVISION
07/26/2006

Synopsis: The Shooting Incident Review Group (SIRG) reviewed a shooting incident that occurred on 07/26/2006, involving Special Agent (SA) [redacted] who recently retired from the FBI. During the attempted arrest of an attempted murder suspect, SA [redacted] fired one round from his personally owned Remington 12 gauge shotgun, injuring the fleeing suspect. SIRG members recommended that no administrative action be taken against SA [redacted] as a result of his involvement in this shooting incident.

Administrative: Reference report of Supervisory Special Agent (SSA) [redacted] dated 11/08/2006.

Details: This communication was prepared to furnish the analysis, comments, and recommendations of the SIRG with reference to the captioned shooting.

Details of the Shooting Incident

On 07/24/2006, [redacted] was involved in an attempted murder in Fort Lauderdale, Florida. A vehicle and physical description of [redacted] was provided to Detective [redacted] a fugitive detective in Fort Lauderdale assigned to the Miami Division's Violent Crimes squad. Detective [redacted] was advised of the violent nature of [redacted] offense, the fact that [redacted] was armed with a firearm, and that [redacted] had recently been released from prison.

On 07/26/2006, Detective [redacted] and SA [redacted] were in [redacted] unmarked police vehicle, when [redacted] received information that [redacted] was in a specific location in the Fort Lauderdale area. Detective [redacted] notified the Fort Lauderdale Police Department dispatcher of [redacted] possible location and requested the assistance of marked police vehicles to respond to the area. Two uniformed officers responded to the location, quickly located the subject's vehicle and began to follow the vehicle for a distance without operating the vehicle emergency lights and siren. As the vehicle stopped at a residence on 25th Street, later determined to be the subject's mother's residence, the officers initiated a felony traffic stop.

During the traffic stop, SA [redacted] fired one round at the subject who fled in his vehicle. The two uniformed officers, Detective [redacted] and SA [redacted] as well as additional marked police units, pursued the fleeing suspect. After striking an uninvolved citizen, [redacted] crashed his vehicle and fled on foot. [redacted] was pursued several blocks where he was taken into custody by SA [redacted] and other Police Department officers after a violent struggle.

[redacted] was transported to the Broward General Hospital for treatment of a gunshot wound to his upper right arm.

On 10/03/2006, a report was received from the Broward County State Attorney's Office indicating [redacted] was charged with three counts including attempted first degree murder, possession of a firearm by a convicted felon, and felony criminal mischief. Additionally, Detective [redacted] was advised no criminal charges would be filed against SA [redacted]

On 03/20/2007, a declination of prosecution was received from the United States Department of Justice, Civil Rights Division, regarding the actions of SA [redacted] in this shooting incident.

On 04/13/2007, the SIRG met to discuss the above-captioned shooting incident. Deputy Assistant Director Michael S. Clemens, Inspection Division, chaired the meeting and was a non-voting member. The following voting members were in attendance: Chief Inspector [redacted] Office of Inspections, Inspection Division; [redacted] Trial Attorney, Domestic Security Section, Criminal Division, USDOJ; [redacted] Special Legal Counsel, Civil Rights Division, USDOJ; Section Chief (SC) James Casey, Eurasian Section, CD-1, Counterintelligence Division; SC John V. Unit, Office of the General Counsel (OGC); and SSA [redacted] Practical Applications Unit, TDD. SSA [redacted] and Management Program Analyst (MPA) [redacted] Inspection Management Unit, Office of Inspections, Inspection Division, non-voting members, were also in attendance.

Observations and Recommendations of the SIRG

b7C

The SIRG reviewed the above-synopsized incident with the intent to: (1) evaluate the application of deadly force; (2) provide the Director with an evaluative analysis, observations, and recommendations for corrective actions from an operational standpoint (if any); (3) provide recommendations concerning training and/or safety issues; and (4) provide recommendations for administrative action if deemed necessary.

The SIRG members unanimously concurred that the use of deadly force by former SA [redacted] was justified and in conformance with the FBI's deadly force policy.

The only observation made by SIRG members pertained to SA [redacted] personally owned weapon (POW). SA [redacted] POW Remington 870 shotgun used in this incident was not a currently approved POW. Miami Division's FD-418 specified that [redacted] POW shotgun had a 14 inch barrel. As SA [redacted] has since retired, it would be illegal (a felony weapons violation) for him to possess a shotgun with a barrel length of less than 18 inches, without the proper Bureau of Alcohol, Tobacco, and Firearms registration and tax stamp. [redacted] should not have been permitted to utilize an unauthorized POW shotgun, nor should it have been fitted with a 14 inch barrel. Both of these issues, if accurately reported, pose potential problems for both the Miami Division and [redacted] The Miami Division should inspect retired SA [redacted] POW shotgun used in this incident to determine the actual barrel length. If the barrel length of the weapon is in fact 14 inches, Miami should ascertain whether that barrel is Bureau property. Miami should further determine whether [redacted] is in possession of a Bureau owned 14 inch shotgun barrel that he may have, or had, installed on this shotgun. This matter will be discussed with the Special Agent in Charge of the Miami Division.

Title: SHOOTING INCIDENT
COLUMBIA DIVISION
10/20/2006

Synopsis: The Shooting Incident Review Group (SIRG) reviewed a shooting incident that occurred on 10/20/2006, involving Special Agent (SA) [redacted] During the arrest of federal fugitive [redacted] SA [redacted] fired one round from his Bureau-issued Glock, Model 22 pistol, striking the subject in the chest. SIRG members recommended that no administrative action be taken against SA [redacted] as a result of his involvement in this shooting incident.

Administrative: Reference report of Inspector [redacted] dated 01/25/2007.

Details: This communication was prepared to furnish the analysis, comments, and recommendations of the SIRG with reference to the captioned shooting.

b6

Details of the Shooting Incident

On 11/23/2004, the Columbia Division initiated a violent gang investigation focusing on a local group of the Bloods Street Gang. In January 2006, a federal indictment was returned charging several members with violations of Title 21. On 07/18/2006 [redacted] along with fifteen other individuals, was also indicted for Title 21 violations. Investigation revealed [redacted] regularly carried or possessed weapons, had previously discussed executing a firebomb attack on a Police Department Safe Streets Task Force Officer, and made statements to a police officer that he would not return to jail.

On 10/20/2006, SA [redacted] of the Columbia Division received information from Sergeant [redacted] of the Columbia Police Department that [redacted] was reportedly near his sister's residence located in the Colony Apartments in Columbia. Due to SA [redacted] involvement in trial preparation, he relayed the information to SA [redacted] who re-contacted Sergeant [redacted] Sergeant [redacted] advised the subject was just observed on [redacted] Street and described the clothing he was wearing. SAs [redacted] and [redacted] drove to the location to verify the information provided by Sergeant [redacted]. b6 b7C

Upon their arrival at the identified location, SAs [redacted] and [redacted] attempted to enter the nearby Columbia Police Department Substation to view CCTV coverage of areas within the apartment complex. Discovering the substation was locked, the Agents drove to Bailey Street in an attempt to locate [redacted] Failing to locate the subject, the Agents decided to drive through the area a second time and observed an individual fitting the physical description of [redacted]. The individual, who was wearing the same clothing described by Sergeant [redacted] was standing in a parking lot in front of [redacted] SAs [redacted] and [redacted] proceeded back to the police substation and contacted Supervisory Special Agent (SSA) [redacted] and SA [redacted] for assistance. SA [redacted] arrived at the substation and SA [redacted] sketched the spot where he and SA [redacted] saw the subject. The Agents made a tentative arrest plan while awaiting the arrival and approval of the plan by SSA [redacted]

SSA [redacted] arrived at the substation and was briefed on the arrest plan. SSA [redacted] approved the plan which called for the four Agents to drive toward [redacted] in a single unmarked car as though they were potential drug purchasers. They would quickly exit the vehicle and surprise [redacted] in order to effect his arrest. The Agents, wearing tactical vests marked with prominent FBI letters, proceeded to the location of the subject. Unable to locate [redacted] the Agents b6 b7C proceeded to the police substation to discuss other options available to assist in the location of the subject. A decision was made to go to [redacted] sister's apartment to determine if she knew the subject's location. The Agents drove into the parking lot of the apartment complex and quickly approached the apartment covering both the front and rear of the unit.

At approximately 5:45 p.m., SAs [redacted] and [redacted] proceeded to the front of the apartment while SSA [redacted] and SA [redacted] moved to the back of the residence to cover the back door.

Moments prior to the Agents reaching the apartment, an unknown male approached the partially open door of the apartment and warned the subject of the approaching Agents. [redacted] moved from the living room area of the apartment into the kitchen, leaving four individuals, including twin one-year old boys, inside the living room. As SAs [redacted] and [redacted] approached the open door, they observed two young children playing in front of the apartment. SA [redacted] told the children to go inside the apartment and they proceeded into the door next to the subject location. SA [redacted] observing the subject inside the unit at [redacted] drew his weapon and yelled, "FBI, put your hands up." SA [redacted] entered the apartment and moved immediately to the right along the front wall and toward the center of the room. As SA [redacted] approached the front door, he also observed the subject and instructed [redacted] to put his hands up. Initially [redacted] was noncompliant with the Agents' commands but subsequently raised his left hand, kept his right hand below waist level, and bladed himself toward SA [redacted]. Observing the subject's movements, SA [redacted] yelled, "watch out." SA [redacted] could not clearly see [redacted] right hand but observed him moving his right hand toward his waist. Believing [redacted] was drawing a weapon, SA [redacted] fired one round from his pistol striking the subject in the chest.

While SAs [redacted] and [redacted] cleared the unit, SA [redacted] applied emergency first aid to [redacted] s wound and Emergency Medical Support (EMS) was requested. EMS personnel arrived minutes later and transported [redacted] to the Palmetto Richland Memorial Hospital where he was treated for his gunshot wound.

The State of South Carolina Solicitor's Office reviewed the case file and determined SA [redacted] was justified in firing his weapon and advised no criminal charges would be filed in this matter. By letter dated 05/03/2007, the United States Department of Justice, Civil Rights Division, advised a criminal investigation was not warranted in this matter.

On 05/15/2007, the SIRG met to discuss the above-captioned shooting incident. Deputy Assistant Director Michael S. Clemens, Inspection Division, chaired the meeting and was a non-voting member. The following voting members were in attendance: Chief Inspector [redacted] Office of Inspections, Inspection Division; [redacted] Trial Attorney, Domestic Security Section, Criminal Division, USDOJ; [redacted] Special Legal Counsel, Civil Rights Division, USDOJ; Section Chief (SC) James Casey, Eurasian Section, CD-1, Counterintelligence Division; SC John V. [redacted] Management Program Analyst, Inspection Management Unit, Office of Inspections, Inspection Division, a non-voting member, was also in attendance. b6 b7C

The SIRG reviewed the above-synopsized incident with the intent to: (1) evaluate the application of deadly force; (2) provide the Director with an evaluative analysis, observations, and recommendations for corrective actions from an operational standpoint (if any); (3) provide recommendations concerning training and/or safety issues; and (4) provide recommendations for administrative action if deemed necessary.

The SIRG members unanimously concurred that the use of deadly force by SA [redacted] was justified and in conformance with the FBI's deadly force policy. This discussion resulted in the recommendation that no administrative action be taken against SA [redacted] as a result of his involvement in this shooting incident. b6 b7C

REPORT OF SHOOTING INCIDENT
BOSTON DIVISION
MARCH 24, 2005

Character: ADMINISTRATIVE INQUIRY

Synopsis: On 03/24/2005, FBI Special Agent (SA) [redacted] Boston Division, shot and wounded [redacted] Date of Birth (DOB) of [redacted] during an arrest in Boston, Massachusetts (MA). SA [redacted] was the only shooter during the incident and [redacted] was the only person wounded. According to witnesses, [redacted] received gun shot wounds to the chest and arm and was treated at Boston Medical Center. [redacted] injuries were not life threatening and he survived.

DETAILS:

[redacted] was the subject of a pending Boston Division bank robbery investigation [redacted] CITIZENS BANK, 435 BROOKLINE AVE, BOSTON, MA; 03/01/2005 - 91A-BS-95110) and a local warrant for his arrest had been obtained from the Roxbury District Court in Suffolk County (Warrant Number 0502CR001137) on 03/23/2005, after he had been identified by the Bank Robbery Task Force (BRTF) as the individual responsible for that robbery. During that robbery, [redacted] had brandished a pistol and threatened to shoot the teller.

[redacted] was developed as a suspect following an episode of the Fox 25 television show, "Massachusetts Most Wanted." An individual called in to that program and provided information which assisted in identifying [redacted] as the bank robber. The caller warned the police that, [redacted] is your man...and he could have a gun."

This document contains neither recommendations nor conclusions of the FBI. It is the property of the FBI and is loaned to your agency; it and its contents are not to be distributed outside your agency.

The caller also stated that [redacted] may currently reside at his girlfriend's residence at [redacted] Dorchester, MA. [redacted] had a significant criminal history, including armed robbery, assault and battery of a police officer, assault with a dangerous weapon, witness intimidation, and was a suspect in numerous other Boston Division bank robberies. [redacted] also known as (aka), [redacted] Date of Birth (DOB) [redacted] place of birth: Florida, Social Security Account Number (SSAN): [redacted] FBI Number [redacted] was further described as a black male, approximately 5'10" and weighing 280 pounds. b6 b7C

On 03/23/2005, Det. [redacted], Malden Police Department (MPD); Det. [redacted] Boston Police Department (BPD); and Det. [redacted] Cambridge Police Department (CPD), obtained an armed robbery arrest warrant issued in the Roxbury District Court of Suffolk County for [redacted] SA [redacted] assisted Det. [redacted] and Det. [redacted] by writing the operations plan for the arrest on 03/23/2005. The plan contained maps of the local area, communications plan, an arrest photograph of [redacted] and his girlfriend, the identities and team assignment of all of the members participating in the surveillance/arrest, and descriptive data of the two dwellings where [redacted] may be located.

The operations plan was reviewed and approved by BRTF Acting Supervisory Special Agent (A/SSA) [redacted] and Acting Assistant Special Agent In Charge (A/ASAC) [redacted] on the morning of 03/24/2005. SA [redacted] briefed the operations plan to the participating members on the morning of 03/24/2005, at approximately 8:30 am. He read verbatim the DOJ Deadly Force Policy to all of the participants and advised that [redacted] was to be considered Armed and Dangerous. SA [redacted] also provided an overview of [redacted] extensive criminal history, to include the fact that [redacted] was previously arrested for assault and battery of a police officer and had attempted to run over several firemen and a policeman while fleeing the scene of a traffic stop in 2001. b6 b7C

On 03/24/2005, the BRTF, which included members of the CPD, BPD, MPD, Massachusetts State Police (MSP), as well as two FBI Agents from another squad, attempted to effect the arrest of [redacted] The primary plan was to arrest [redacted] outside one of the two known residences. If he was positively identified inside a residence, both surveillance/arrest teams would converge on the one location before an entry was made utilizing a tactical team from either FBI or BPD. The BRTF preferred not to effect the arrest in a vehicle. However, it it was necessary and time permitting, the BRTF planned to request marked units from BPD for assistance. Primary communications was over FBI Channel A-2.

At about 9:30 am, 12 law enforcement officers and Agents from the Boston Division of the FBI set up two surveillance/arrest teams in the vicinity of the following locations: 1) [redacted] girlfriend's house at [redacted] floor, Dorchester, MA; and 2) [redacted] mother's house at [redacted] Mattapan, MA. Team one, responsible for the residence at [redacted], consisted of Det. [redacted], MPD and Lt. [redacted] MSP in one vehicle; SA [redacted] and Det. [redacted] CPD in a second vehicle; and SAs [redacted] and [redacted] in the third vehicle. Team two, responsible for the residence at [redacted] consisted of SAs [redacted] and [redacted] in one vehicle; Det. [redacted] BPD and A/SSA [redacted] in a second vehicle, and SA [redacted] in a third vehicle. All law enforcement personnel wore badges or vests identifying themselves as law enforcement officers. The weather was clear and not a factor. b6 b7C

Both surveillance/arrest teams positioned themselves outside of the aforementioned residences. Det. [redacted] and A/SSA [redacted] advised the BPD of the operation while in route to their surveillance/arrest location. For about two hours, SA [redacted] provided surveillance information regarding the activity at the [redacted] residence. She observed at least three or four individuals enter and exit the house. The Floyd Street residence had very little surveillance activity. At approximately 11:30 am, SA [redacted] transmitted over the radio that a heavy black male resembling [redacted] had exited the [redacted] residence and climbed into a late model silver Toyota Camry. She asked FBI Boston radio room to run the license plate in an attempt to identify the vehicle owner as she called out the vehicle's direction of movement on Goodale Road. As the silver Toyota Camry drove past Det. [redacted] and A/SSA [redacted] parked on Goodale Road, both were able to verify that the driver looked like [redacted]. This was broadcast over Bureau radio to the other unit's involved in the arrest plan. As the vehicle made a left onto Blue Hill Avenue, the BRTF surveillance vehicles from the vicinity of Goodale Road were following [redacted]. As the car moved toward Floyd Street, A/SSA [redacted] transmitted over the radio that the team should start to position their vehicles to effect a felony car stop in case that was necessary. b6 b7C

Once on Floyd Street, [redacted] momentarily stopped and then made a wide, slow, right hand turn onto Lucerne Street. SAs [redacted] and [redacted] were following directly behind [redacted] car and they were followed by Lt. [redacted] and Det. [redacted]. At this point, most BRTF members advised the SIRT that they believed [redacted] was aware of the vehicle surveillance. [redacted] continued on Lucerne Street and made a right turn onto Callender Street. As soon as he had made the turn, [redacted] pulled his car to the right side of the road, almost to a stop. Using the Bureau radio, A/SSA [redacted] directed SAs [redacted] and [redacted] to cut him off. SAs [redacted] and [redacted], with [redacted] driving, quickly passed by [redacted] and cut off the travel lane on Callender Street, positioning their vehicle some twenty to thirty feet in front of [redacted] Lt. [redacted] and Det. [redacted] car also passed [redacted] and stopped at an angle within feet of [redacted] driver's side front bumper. Lt. [redacted] advised that he felt SAs [redacted] and [redacted] had left too much room between their vehicle and [redacted], which would allow [redacted] to escape if he desired.

BTRF members jumped out of their vehicles with weapons drawn and identified themselves by yelling, "Police", "FBI", "hands up, get your hands up." BRTF members were wearing bullet-proof vests with police and FBI or police badges around their necks at the time. [redacted] initially raised his hands. It was necessary for Det. [redacted] to shut the door of his own vehicle in order to move into position approximately two to three feet in front of [redacted] drivers-side front fender. Det. [redacted] continued to issue commands for [redacted] to show his hands. He observed [redacted] raise his hands as SA [redacted] attempted to open [redacted] driver side car door. He then advised that he saw [redacted] eyes 'get real big', and then [redacted] suddenly lowered his hands. [redacted] car immediately started moving forward and jumped over the curb and onto the side walk. Det. [redacted] stated that it was necessary for him to jump out of the way of the vehicle to prevent from being hit by [redacted] car and pinned between [redacted] vehicle.

SA [redacted] was positioned on the passengers-side of [redacted] vehicle attempting to open [redacted] car door and Det. [redacted] was approaching from the rear passenger side. SA [redacted] was wearing his Bureau issued body armor/bullet proof vest, holster, and had his badge displayed on a chain around his neck at the time of the incident. SA [redacted] advised that [redacted] vehicle began to move while his hands were still raised and then [redacted] suddenly dropped his hands. When the car started moving and he saw [redacted] hands go down toward his waist, SA [redacted] thought [redacted] was reaching for a weapon and fearing for his life, he fired. Other than yelling at [redacted] to raise his hands and stop the car, SA [redacted] does not recall saying anything else; however, some BRTF members recall hearing

SA [redacted] yell, "He's reaching, he's reaching." They then heard and/or observed approximately six rounds fire from SA [redacted] weapon toward [redacted]

Evidence Response Team (ERT) analysis and SA [redacted] statement indicate that SA [redacted] fired a total of six rounds, all fired in quick succession. The first two rounds were fired through the front passenger side window, two more were fired through the rear passenger side window, and the last two were fired through the rear window. SA [redacted] advised that although he had been moving along side [redacted] s car when it began to move, he was stationary when he fired. SA [redacted] continued to fire until he could no longer see [redacted] in the driver's seat. [redacted] car continued to travel up on the sidewalk and struck a fence and came to a stop. b6 b7C

[redacted] opened the door and fell out onto the ground. Det. [redacted] moved to the car and reached inside [redacted] vehicle and put the transmission in park. [redacted] asked, "Why did you shoot me? I'm not armed."

Boston Emergency Medical Services (EMS) and BPD were immediately notified of the incident by Det. [redacted] through the BPD radio system and responded within minutes. SA [redacted] notified the Boston Field Office using his Bureau radio. Lt. [redacted] hand-cuffed [redacted] after [redacted] rolled out of the vehicle and onto the ground. Both Lt. [redacted] and SA [redacted] [redacted] rendered medical assistance to [redacted] until EMS arrive. SA [redacted] was escorted to A/SSA [redacted] Ford Crown Victoria vehicle immediately after the shooting incident. SA [redacted] and A/SSA [redacted] approached him and asked how he was doing. SA [redacted] stated, "I can't stop shaking." He was asked if he wanted to go to the Hospital and he replied, "Yes." He left the scene of the incident in an ambulance but then declined hospitalization en route and was taken to the Boston office of the FBI. b6 b7C

Interviews of non-law enforcement personnel were conducted at the scene during the neighborhood canvass conducted by both the BPD and FBI. In summary, the witnesses, who were residents in the area, noted hearing the commotion caused by the operation, but none were direct witnesses to the shooting incident. In order not to duplicate interviews, the SIRT adopted the interviews conducted by BPD and the Boston Division.

At the hospital, [redacted] was overheard admitting heroin use earlier that morning to an attending nurse by BPD Officer [redacted] A hypodermic needle was found among his belongings by SA [redacted] during an inventory of [redacted] belongings. [redacted] made an unsolicited statement to SAs [redacted] and [redacted] of the Boston FBI office stating words to the effect, "I know my hands were down but they shot me five times." b6 b7C

The FBI Boston Evidence Response Team, working with the BPD Evidence Team, processed the incident scene and vehicle driven by [redacted] All ballistic materials were sent to the FBI Laboratory.

Title: SHOOTING INQUIRY
REPORT OF SHOOTING INCIDENT
ATLANTA DIVISION
APRIL 04, 2005

Character: ADMINISTRATIVE INQUIRY

Synopsis: This shooting incident occurred while an FBI Agent, two Georgia State Patrol (GSP) Troopers and a Burke County Sheriff's Office (BCSO) Investigator attempted to arrest John Clifton Manyfield on a Federal Unlawful Flight to Avoid Prosecution (UFAP) warrant. The UFAP warrant was obtained pursuant to a Sacramento Police Department warrant charging Manyfield with murder, attempted murder and weapons violations. The Medical Examiner determined Manyfield died of a gunshot wound to the chest.

DETAILS:

The Atlanta Division's involvement in this matter was based on a telephonic fugitive lead out of Sacramento Division on 03/31/2005, followed by an EC with the same date. The lead advised that a fugitive, John Clifton Manyfield, was in Burke County, Georgia. Manyfield was wanted by the Sacramento Police Department for murder, attempted murder and weapons violations. Sacramento advised that Manyfield was a known gang member. Sacramento b7D further advised they had a [redacted] Manyfield at a number which came back to an address of 839½ Manderson Circle, Hephzibah, Georgia.

b6

A subsequent phone call from Sacramento to Atlanta determined Manyfield was currently at the residence. SAs [redacted] and SSRA [redacted] were en route to the Burke County Sheriff's Office (BCSO) to plan an arrest of Manyfield. Initially a verbal plan was devised wherein law enforcement would establish a rally point near the residence and a call would be placed to the location directing him to come out. This plan was telephonically briefed to ASAC Harry Bowen and he concurred.

Prior to arriving at the BCSO the group was notified telephonically that Georgia Bureau of Investigation (GBI) SA [redacted] was in foot pursuit of a bank robbery suspect approximately a half mile from their current location. SSRA [redacted] decided to break off from the initial plan and lend whatever assistance was needed in locating the fleeing bank robbery suspect. After a four hour search for that suspect met with negative results, the group proceeded to the BCSO and briefed Sheriff's Deputies about fugitive Manyfield. After speaking with Sheriff's Deputies it was determined they were involved in a missing juvenile investigation at the 839½ Manderson Circle address and had spoken to some residents at the location earlier in the day. Upon learning this, the plan was revised and it was decided the best approach was to conduct a ruse interview at the house in an attempt to determine if Manyfield was at the residence. SSRA [redacted] directed SA [redacted] to contact Sacramento [redacted] fugitive to determine if he was at the location. [redacted] determined Manyfield had left the home for the night. The investigation was discontinued until the following day. b6 b7C b7D

On April 1, 2005, SSRA [redacted] telephonically contacted ASAC Bowen and advised him of the revised plan and the same FBI Agents returned to the BCSO in order to facilitate the arrest plan. SSRA [redacted] once again directed SA [redacted] to contact Sacramento and have the source initiate contact with Manyfield. After numerous unsuccessful attempts by the source to contact Manyfield, SSRA [redacted] cancelled the operation for the day. [redacted] b6 b7C b7D

On Monday April 4, 2005, SA [redacted] was notified by FBI Sacramento that [redacted] Manyfield and that he (Manyfield) was presently at the 839½ Manderson Circle address. SA [redacted] contacted SSRA [redacted] who was on Annual Leave, relayed the details of his conversation with Sacramento and informed SSRA [redacted] since he [redacted] was at least three hours away he would contact BCSO and let them initiate the arrest. SSRA [redacted] agreed with his plan and advised him to use whatever resources he needed and to inform him of any significant developments.

After another change of plans, FBI SAs [redacted] and [redacted] and assisting law enforcement personnel from GSP, BCSO, and GBI met at the intersection of [redacted] and [redacted] roads in Burke County, Georgia. SA [redacted] briefed those present on fugitive John Clifton Manyfield, advised them that he was armed and dangerous, and passed out wanted bulletins with color photographs. SA [redacted] than informed the teams they would proceed with the arrest plan devised previously wherein the front entry team would use a ruse of seeking further information regarding a report of a missing child from the suspect residence. This front team consisted of BCSO Investigators [redacted] and FBI SA [redacted] The rear perimeter team would cover the rear of the residence. Two GSP Troopers, [redacted] and [redacted] were instructed to set up a "road check" at Duckhead Road and Allen Road. b6 b7C

As the two teams of investigators proceeded toward the residence, Troopers [redacted] and [redacted] were notified by other officers that they wanted them to check an oncoming gray Jeep Cherokee which was approaching their location. Troopers [redacted] and [redacted] approached the Jeep on foot from the rear. Trooper [redacted] approached the driver's side of the car, driven by [redacted], the fugitive's mother, and Trooper [redacted] approached the passenger side occupied by John Clifton Manyfield. Trooper [redacted] noticed the passenger matched the description of the fugitive and asked him for identification. The passenger claimed to have no identification on him. Trooper [redacted] then asked his name, at which time Manyfield gave his brothers first name and failed to give a last name. Ms. [redacted] immediately realized something was wrong and provided Manyfield's last name to the Troopers.

Trooper [redacted] then proceeded to the patrol car to retrieve the photograph of the fugitive. He returned to the passenger side of the front quarter panel handed Trooper [redacted] the photograph and informed him the passenger was the murder suspect. Trooper [redacted] walked back to the passenger side of the Jeep as Trooper [redacted] drew his weapon and backed up. Trooper [redacted] instructed Manyfield to take off his seatbelt and step out of the vehicle. Manyfield, who was clearly agitated and nervous, moved his right hand slowly to unlock the seatbelt. At the same time his left hand moved towards the center console. Trooper [redacted] then heard Manyfield whisper to the driver "just go". As Trooper [redacted] reached in the window and grabbed Manyfield's right arm, Manyfield attempted to depress the accelerator with his left hand. Trooper [redacted] announced "Taser" and shot Manyfield with the Taser gun lodging the probes in the right mid-back. Simultaneously, Trooper [redacted] re-holstered his weapon b6 b7C returned to the driver's side door, pulled Ms. [redacted] out of the car and reached into the car to turn off the ignition. Manyfield immediately re-started the car and again depressed the accelerator revving the engine. It was reported this happened several times. The Taser was re-activated a second time, after which Manyfield grabbed the wire leads and apparently disconnected them from the Taser. Trooper [redacted] then applied the Taser directly to Manyfield's body and pulled the trigger. Following this "press contact" Manyfield grabbed the Taser in one hand and Trooper [redacted] left arm in the other hand and began to pull Trooper [redacted] inside the Jeep. As Trooper [redacted] freed his left arm and attempted to pull himself back out of the vehicle, both men still had hold of the Taser. Trooper [redacted] then produced his Taser gun at which point he was immediately grabbed by Ms. [redacted] and pulled to the back end of the Jeep.

During this sequence of events, Investigator [redacted] and SA [redacted] approached the passenger side of the Jeep. Investigator [redacted] was able to see the Taser had already been fired and Trooper [redacted] continued to be engaged in a struggle with Manyfield. Both Investigator [redacted] and SA [redacted] drew their weapons and as Manyfield revved the engine, [redacted] went around the front of the Jeep to try and turn off the ignition. SA [redacted] remained in position to the right of Trooper [redacted].

As Trooper [redacted] holstered his Taser and began to move back toward the driver's door he heard the gunshot fired by SA [redacted] Investigator [redacted] heard the gunshot as he reached into the Jeep to turn off the ignition. Trooper [redacted] was attempting to pull himself as far back away from Manyfield as he could when he heard the shot fired by SA [redacted]

Only one round was fired, from outside the passenger side front window of the Jeep, striking Manyfield in the upper, inner quadrant of the right chest above the nipple. At the time SA [redacted] fired his weapon, Manyfield still had hold of the Taser. Officers immediately asked for an ambulance. Emergency Medical Technicians continued life saving measures on Manyfield however, his pulse stopped prior to arriving at the hospital. The Medical Examiner determined Manyfield died of a gunshot wound to the chest.

SAC Jones requested that GBI process the shooting scene and conduct the investigation. All witnesses of the shooting were interviewed by GBI. SA [redacted] weapon, a Glock, model 22, .40 caliber weapon, serial number DZW441US, was also turned over to GBI for forensic testing. SA [redacted] declined to give a voluntary statement on advice from his counsel. A copy of GBI's

b6

investigation was provided to the FBI and is included in this report. The GBI file was presented to District Attorney [redacted] Augusta Judicial Circuit, on September 7, 2005, for his review. Mr. [redacted] concluded there were no violations of Georgia criminal law and closed this file administratively.

Title: SHOOTING INCIDENT BOSTON DIVISION
04/29/2005

Synopsis: The Shooting Incident Review Group (SIRG) reviewed a shooting incident that occurred on 04/29/2005, involving Special Agents (SAs) [redacted] and [redacted]. During the execution of arrest warrants, SA [redacted] and SA [redacted] fired one round each from their Bureau-issued Springfield .45 caliber pistols, killing an aggressive pit bull dog. SIRG members recommended that no administrative action be taken against either Agent as a result of their involvement in this shooting incident. b6 b7C

Administrative: Reference Electronic Communication of SA [redacted] dated 05/02/2005.

Details: This communication was prepared to furnish the analysis, comments, and recommendations of the SIRG with reference to the captioned shooting.

Details of the Shooting Incident

On 04/29/2005, while serving two arrest warrants, two members of the Boston Special Weapons and Tactics (SWAT) Team shot and killed an aggressive pit bull dog.

According to SA [redacted] at the command to execute the warrant, he exited the SWAT van and assumed position five in the line of operators. The team leader knocked and announced the presence of the FBI and the intent to serve a warrant. After a period of time, with no response from the residence, the team leader called for a breaching operator to effect entry into the residence.

As the door opened, a large white pit bull dog immediately rushed towards the breaching operator. SA [redacted] heard a gunshot and believed another SWAT operator fired at the dog. Investigation determined SA [redacted] fired the first round into the back neck area of the dog. The pit bull continued down the front steps toward SA [redacted] and other SWAT team personnel. Concerned for the safety of himself and other team members, SA [redacted] fired one round into the dog causing the dog to fall to the ground. Law enforcement personnel proceeded into the residence and effected the arrest of two subjects.

On 07/05/2005, the SIRG met to discuss the above-captioned shooting incident. Deputy Assistant Director (DAD) Andrew R. Bland III, Inspection Division, chaired the meeting with the following voting members of the SIRG in attendance: Chief Inspector Kimberly K. Mertz, Office of Inspections, Inspection Division; [redacted] Special Legal Counsel, Civil Rights Division, Criminal Section, USDOJ; [redacted] Deputy Chief, Domestic Security Section, Criminal Division, USDOJ; Charles J. Cunningham, Section Chief (SC), Transnational Criminal Enterprise Section, Criminal Investigative Division; Acting Unit Chief (UC) [redacted] Firearms Training Unit, Training and Development Division (TDD); UC [redacted] SWAT Operations Unit, Critical Incident Response Group; UC [redacted], CD-6, Counterintelligence Division; UC [redacted] National Firearms Program, TDD; Supervisory Special Agent (SSA) [redacted] Investigative Law Unit, Office of the General Counsel (OGC); SSA [redacted] Program Manager, Operational Skills Unit, TDD; SSA [redacted] Firearms - Toolmarks Unit, Scientific Analysis Section, Laboratory Division; and SSA [redacted] Washington Field Office. The only non-voting attendee present was [redacted] Management Program Analyst, Inspection Management Unit, Office of Inspections, Inspection Division.

Observations and Recommendations of the SIRG

The SIRG reviewed the above-synopsized incident with the intent to: (1) evaluate the application of deadly force; (2) provide the Director with an evaluative analysis, observations, and recommendations for corrective actions from an operational standpoint (if any); (3) provide recommendations concerning training and/or safety issues; and (4) provide recommendations for administrative action if deemed necessary.

SIRG members unanimously agreed that the use of deadly force by SAs [redacted] and [redacted] was justified and in conformance with the deadly force policy. This discussion resulted in a recommendation that no administrative action be taken against either Agent as a result of his involvement in this shooting incident.

Title: SHOOTING INCIDENT
05/05/2005

Synopsis: The Shooting Incident Review Group (SIRG) reviewed a shooting incident that occurred on 05/05/2005, involving Special Agent (SA) [redacted]. During the execution of a search warrant, SA [redacted] fired one round from his Colt AR-15, .223 caliber carbine killing an aggressive pit bull dog. SIRG members recommended that no administrative action be taken against SA [redacted] as a result of his involvement in this shooting incident.

Administrative: Reference Electronic Communication of SA [redacted] dated 05/12/2005.

Details: This communication was prepared to furnish the analysis, comments, and recommendations of the SIRG with reference to the captioned shooting.

Details of the Shooting Incident

On 05/05/2005, during the execution of a search warrant, SA [redacted] was assigned to be the sixth person in the line of Agents to enter the residence. As Agents approached the residence, the door was open. SA [redacted] observed an individual, subsequently identified as [redacted] sitting on the sofa in the front room of the residence. SA [redacted] ordered [redacted] out of the house at gunpoint. [redacted] obeyed all commands issued by the Agents and as he walked out of the house, his pit bull dog came outside with him. As [redacted] was ordered on the ground, the dog became agitated and began barking an running around in an aggressive manner. The dog, continually jumping, barking, and growling moved toward Supervisory Special Agent [redacted] who was in a position on the east side of the house. [redacted] was then ordered to get his dog under control or he would be shot. [redacted] responded by asking the Agents, "What am I going to do?" He also made a comment to the effect that his dog was not mean and would not bite.

The dog, becoming more aggressive and refusing to obey commands, charged toward SA [redacted] SA [redacted] fired one round from his weapon fatally injuring the dog.

On 10/13/2005, the SIRG met to discuss the above-captioned shooting incident. Deputy Assistant Director Daniel Lee Cloyd, Inspection Division, chaired the meeting and was a non-voting member. The following voting members were in attendance: Chief Inspector Kimberly K. Mertz, Office of Inspections, Inspection Division; [redacted] Deputy Chief, Civil Rights Division, Criminal Section, USDOJ; [redacted] Deputy Chief, Domestic Security Section, Criminal Division, USDOJ; [redacted] Assistant Section Chief, Violent Crimes Section, Criminal Investigative Division; [redacted] Unit Chief (UC), Firearms Training Unit, Training and Development Division (TDD); UC [redacted] National Firearms Program, TDD; Acting UC [redacted] Special Weapons and Tactics Operations Unit, Critical Incident Response Group; Acting UC [redacted] CD-6A, Counterintelligence Division; Supervisory Special Agent (SSA) [redacted] Firearms - Toolmarks Unit, Scientific Analysis Section, Laboratory Division; SSA [redacted] Operational Skills Unit, TDD; SSA [redacted], Investigative Law Unit, Office of the General Counsel (OGC); and SSA [redacted] Washington Field Office. [redacted] Management Program Analyst, Inspection Management Unit, Office of Inspections, Inspection Division, a non-voting member, was also in attendance.

Observations and Recommendations of the SIRG

The SIRG reviewed the above-synopsized incident with the intent to: (1) evaluate the application of deadly force; (2) provide the Director with an evaluative analysis, observations, and recommendations for corrective actions from an operational standpoint (if any); (3) provide recommendations concerning training and/or safety issues; and (4) provide recommendations for administrative action if deemed necessary.

SIRG members unanimously agreed that the use of deadly force by SA [redacted] was justified and in conformance with the FBI's deadly force policy. Therefore, a recommendation was made that no administrative action be taken against SA [redacted] as a result of his involvement in this shooting incident.

Title: SHOOTING INQUIRY
REPORT OF SHOOTING INCIDENT
ATLANTA DIVISION
05/05/2005

b6
b7C

Character: ADMINISTRATIVE INQUIRY

Synopsis: On 05/05/2005, FBI Special Agent (SA) [redacted] Atlanta Division, along with Conyers, Georgia Police Department officers [redacted] and [redacted] fatally wounded MORGAN CHIGAWA, Date of Birth (DOB) 07/02/1979, during an arrest in a Ramada Inn parking lot in Conyers, Georgia.

DETAILS:

On 05/02/2005, two black males robbed the Regions Bank in Phenix City, Alabama, taking in excess of $10,000 in cash. During the course of the bank robbery one subject fired one round from a weapon he was carrying. The office of origin for this matter was the Mobile Field Division of the FBI. On the same day, a champagne colored Mazda 626 sedan, Georgia license [redacted] associated with the robbery, was located at the Peachtree Mall in Columbus, Georgia.

A surveillance was initiated by the Columbus Police Department on the vehicle. During the course of the surveillance two groups of black males, one group of four and one group of two, were observed in the vicinity of the vehicle. As both groups moved closer to the Mazda, Columbus Police officers announced their presence and ordered the individuals to the ground. An individual from the group of two males immediately engaged the officers, firing three rounds, seriously wounding one officer. The twc males fit the description of the subjects responsible for the Phenix City bank robbery earlier that day. They were subsequently identified as Morgan CHIGAWA, DOB 07/02/1979, and [redacted] DOB [redacted] CHIGAWA was also identified as the individual who shot the Columbus police officer.

The Columbus Resident Agency of the Atlanta Division and the Columbus Police Department initiated an investigation into the shooting. As a result of their investigation, leads were developed in the Atlanta area as to the possible whereabouts of [redacted] and CHIGAWA. These leads were the result of interviews of several family and friends of [redacted] and CHIGAWA. SA [redacted] contacted a former girlfriend of [redacted] on the evening of 05/03/2005 and obtained a telephone number that had contacted her answering machine earlier that day. SA [redacted] determined the telephone subscriber was a pay telephone in Conyers, Georgia, located outside of a convenience store.

On 05/04/2005, SA [redacted] contacted the convenience store owner. The owner recognized CHIGAWA from a photograph provided by SA [redacted] as a person who came into his establishment the day before. The owner further described the champagne colored Mazda associated with the subject. SA [redacted] contacted the Conyers Police Department (CPD) and provided photographs and information regarding the subjects. By this time, both subjects were wanted on state aggravated assault charges as well as federal Bank Robbery charges.

On 05/04/2005, at approximately 6:15 p.m., SA [redacted] received a telephone call from [redacted] SA [redacted] notified his supervisor, SSA [redacted] who in turn contacted ASAC Arthur David Webster. ASAC Webster informed SAC Gregory Jones who authorized the use of the division's SWAT team to effect the subjects' arrest.

A rally point was established in the vicinity of the apartment. At approximately 8:30 p.m., SAs [redacted] and [redacted] conducted an oral briefing to individuals present to include SAC Jones and ASAC Webster. The SWAT teams remained in place until approximately 12:30 a.m., when the operation was suspended by SAC Jones after it was apparent the subjects would not appear at the apartment.

On 05/05/2005, at approximately 6:45 a.m., SA [redacted] received a telephone call from the CPD advising they had located the champagne colored Mazda at the Ramada Inn in Conyers, Georgia. The CPD informed SA [redacted] they had established a surveillance on the vehicle. SA [redacted] and the CPD agreed that the CPD would arrest the subjects in the event the subjects departed before SA [redacted] and the Atlanta SWAT team arrived.

While enroute to the Ramada Inn SA [redacted] contacted his supervisor, SSA [redacted], and discussed using the SWAT team to conduct the arrest of the subjects. Both SA [redacted] and SSA [redacted] contacted members of Atlanta Division's squad C-7 and advised them to meet at a rally point in a parking lot north of the hotel. SSA [redacted] notified ASAC Webster, who in turn notified SAC Jones. SAC Jones authorized use of the SWAT team to effect the arrest. SA [redacted] the SWAT Team Leader, was apprized of the scenario and notified his team members to meet at the rally point. b6 b7C

At approximately 8:00 a.m., SA [redacted] arrived at a rally point adjacent to the Ramada Inn where he met with members of the CPD, to include Captain [redacted] Captain [redacted] advised SA [redacted] he had spoken with the manager of the hotel who advised there were no guests registered under the names of CHIGAWA and [redacted] with a Georgia identification. SA [redacted] and Captain [redacted] went back into the hotel office and subsequently determined an individual by the name of CHIGAWA from Ohio had registered at the hotel on the evening of 05/04/2005 and was in room 226. The manager further advised that CHIGAWA had paid with cash for one night and that checkout was 12:00 noon. The manager positively identified CHIGAWA from the flyer and advised he appeared to be under the influence of alcohol when he checked in.

SA [redacted] requested a key (electronic pass card) to a room so he could view the layout and door structure in preparation for the arrest. All rooms in the hotel faced directly out to the parking lot. SA [redacted] and Captain [redacted] accessed room 106 on the first floor and remained in the room where they initiated surveillance of the Mazda 626, located in the parking lot below room 226. SA [redacted] remained in contact with SSA [redacted] and other Agents via radio.

At approximately 8:30 a.m., members of Atlanta's Squad C-7 began arriving at the location. SAs [redacted] and SSA [redacted] met at the rally point while SA [redacted] remained in the hotel room with Captain [redacted] SSA [redacted] instructed SAs [redacted] and [redacted] driving a Toyota 4Runner, to position their vehicle approximately 50 yards across the street from the hotel to act as a blocking vehicle in the event the subjects attempted to leave via the north entrance of the Ramada Inn parking lot. Behind their vehicle was an unmarked blue Crown Victoria with CPD Detective [redacted] GBI SA [redacted] along with CPD Detective [redacted] were positioned in a Chevrolet Blazer at the b6 b7C opposite end (south) of the parking lot. SA [redacted] and Captain [redacted] continued their surveillance from room 106. SA [redacted] was in radio contact with SSA [redacted] and FBI SA members of the perimeter team, while Captain [redacted] was in contact with GBI SA [redacted] and CPD Detective [redacted] in the Blazer.

At approximately 9:00 a.m., members of the Atlanta SWAT team began arriving at the rally point, along with SSA [redacted] the SWAT Coordinator, and ASAC Webster. An oral briefing was planned by SSA [redacted] and SA [redacted] to discuss the arrest scenario. However, SA [redacted] reported via radio that subject CHIGAWA had departed his room prior to the briefing. b6 b7C

SA [redacted] transmitted on his radio that CHIGAWA had departed his room, and was proceeding down the stairs, and that SAs [redacted] and [redacted] were moving to block the subject's vehicle. SA [redacted] stopped his vehicle in a position to block the Mazda, and SA [redacted] exited the vehicle with his weapon drawn just as CHIGAWA was entering his vehicle. SA [redacted] positioned himself several feet away from CHIGAWA's vehicle and, according to SA [redacted] repeatedly shouted, "FBI, FBI." At that moment, SA [redacted] and Captain [redacted] ran from room 106 along the first floor walkway to CHIGAWA's vehicle. SA [redacted] arrived on the driver's side towards the rear of the vehicle simultaneously as CHIGAWA drove away and around SA [redacted] vehicle heading south in the parking lot.

The vehicle traveled approximately 20 yards when it was struck in the front driver's side by the Blazer driven by GBI SA [redacted] At this time, SA [redacted] Captain [redacted] and SA [redacted] were in pursuit on foot. SA [redacted] positioned himself immediately adjacent to CHIGAWA's passenger side front door, while SA [redacted] approached the rear passenger door, with Captain [redacted] positioned forward of the front passenger side of the vehicle. GBI SA [redacted] exited the Blazer and moved to a position of cover near a hotel column. Detective [redacted] remained behind the Blazer's passenger side front door. SA [redacted] moved his vehicle behind CHIGAWA's vehicle and positioned himself behind the vehicle's front driver side door.

SAs [redacted] and [redacted] Captain [redacted] and Detective [redacted] began issuing verbal commands to CHIGAWA. SA [redacted] shouted, "FBI, do not move," while Captain [redacted] shouted, "Put your hands up." GBI SA [redacted] shouted several times for CHIGAWA to, "Show your hands." Detective [redacted] reported telling CHIGAWA twice to, "Show your hands." Additionally, he recalled other law enforcement officials giving similar commands. b6 b7C

As they were giving CHIGAWA verbal commands, SA [redacted] Captain [redacted] Detective [redacted] and GBI SA [redacted] advised they saw CHIGAWA reach in the vicinity of his belt area. At that moment SA [redacted] announced, "He has a gun, he has a gun." SA [redacted] Captain [redacted] and Detective [redacted] reported observing a weapon in CHIGAWA's hand. Captain [redacted] and Detective [redacted] reported the weapon in CHIGAWA's left hand. SA [redacted] could not recall in which hand CHIGAWA held the weapon. Immediately upon observing the weapon, SA [redacted] Detective [redacted] and Captain [redacted] fired upon CHIGAWA. GBI SA [redacted] did not fire his weapon. SA [redacted] did not fire his weapon, advising that he believed if he fired his weapon, other agents would be in his crossfire. SA [redacted] did not observe CHIGAWA with a weapon. b6 b7C

During the ensuing shooting, SA [redacted] expended his rounds until his weapon was in the lock back position. He subsequently announced that he was out of ammunition and requested cover as he moved away from the vehicle. SA [redacted] subsequently moved to the driver's side of the Mazda and announced, "There was a gun." A revolver was observed by SA [redacted] and GBI SA [redacted] laying under shattered glass on the floor between the driver's door and the seat. A .38 caliber five shot revolver was recovered by GBI crime scene specialists from the vehicle between the driver's side front door and the seat, under broken glass. The weapon had all five rounds remaining in the cylinder indicating that CHIGAWA did not fire his weapon during the shooting incident.

During the shooting event, SA [redacted] was struck in the thigh with a round that penetrated and exited his leg. GBI forensics determined that the round in all probability was fired by CPD Detective [redacted] located on the opposite side of the subject's vehicle and across from SA [redacted]

After the shooting, the SWAT team executed the arrest of [redacted] who had exited room 226. [redacted] arrest occurred on the stairway landing located immediately south of the room. Shortly after the shooting, Emergency Medical Services (EMS) arrived at the scene and began providing medical attention to SA [redacted] was subsequently transported to a local hospital were he was treated and released. The EMSs pronounced CHIGAWA dead at the scene. b6 b7C

Immediately following the shooting, ASAC Webster telephonically advised SAC Jones, who was enroute to the scene, that shots had been fired during the apprehension of the subjects, and that SA [redacted] had been shot in the leg. SAC Jones arrived moments later and instructed SSA [redacted] to take possession of SA [redacted] weapon and magazine. SAC Jones then had SA [redacted] transported to the Atlanta office by two SAs after the scene was secured.

SAC Jones contacted Acting ASAC [redacted] instructing him to activate the Division's Shooting Response Plan and to notify FBI Headquarters of the shooting. SAC Jones remained on the scene coordinating responsibilities between the FBI, CPD and the GBI.

GBI forensic specialists collected a total of 18 shells: five (5) .40 caliber shell casings in the area where Detective [redacted] was positioned; eight (8) .45 caliber shell casings in the vicinity of SA [redacted] and five (5) .40 caliber shell casings in the area of Captain [redacted]. An autopsy of the deceased indicated the fatal shots in all likelihood came from SA [redacted] .45 caliber weapon.

Title: SHOOTING INQUIRY
REPORT OF SHOOTING INCIDENT
DALLAS DIVISION
JANUARY 21, 2005

Character: ADMINISTRATIVE INQUIRY

Synopsis: This shooting incident resulted from the Dallas Division SWAT Team effecting the warrant arrest of a violent offender alleged to have been involved in 60 armed "take over" robberies of banks and businesses. During the arrest, the violent offender, [redacted] was shot once in the shoulder and once in the hip after attempting to escape arrest using his vehicle. Mr. [redacted] was treated and released from the hospital the same day. No Agents were injured. The four SWAT Team members who fired their weapons declined to be interviewed until compelled. At the time of this report, the Department of Justice (DOJ) has declined to compel the Agents' statement. [redacted] retained legal counsel and has not been interviewed.

DETAILS:

Beginning in early 2002, the Dallas Division initiated an investigation into a group suspected of multiple robberies within the Dallas and Houston Divisions. This group was suspected in over 60 bank and business robberies. The media dubbed the group the "Take Over Bandits" because of the take over style of robberies they committed.

The typical modus operandi (MO) of the Take Over Bandits was to steal a car and within 24 to 48 hours commit a robbery. Investigation showed that the subjects carried AK-47/SKS type assault rifles and semi-automatic handguns. The subjects were always covered with masks, dark clothing, gloves and wore ballistic body armor. During the course of the robberies the subjects physically assaulted customers, employees and law enforcement officers working in the bank as security. Up until November 4, 2004, no witnesses had seen the subjects without their masks. No prints had been recovered from vehicles, banks or businesses. A 7.62 mm round was recovered after it had been racked out of one of the assault rifles during a Dallas bank robbery.

On November 4, 2004, the Take Over Bandits robbed the American First National Bank, in Richardson, Texas. The robbery was a take over style robbery and the subjects used hand guns and AK-47 type assault rifles. As consistent with their other robberies, the subjects fled in a stolen car and traveled approximately two blocks where they had placed another stolen vehicle as a switch vehicle.

While fleeing in the stolen vehicle, the subjects encountered an off-duty Richardson police officer who was driving an unmarked vehicle. As the subjects passed the off-duty officer, the subjects fired shots from a fully automatic assault rifle disabling the off-duty officer's vehicle. The off-duty officer immediately reported this incident via police radio. Thereafter, Richardson police units responded to the area and were also fired upon multiple times by the subjects using automatic weapons.

During the ensuing pursuit, one Plano, Texas Police Department vehicle and five Richardson Police Department vehicles were disabled by rounds fired from at least one, possibly two, fully automatic AK-47 style assault rifles. Rounds were fired by the subjects from within the get-a-way vehicles as well as from the ground after leaving the vehicles. Car cameras from Richardson Police vehicles captured the pursuit and the various shooting events. Dozens of spent 7.62mm casings were recovered by Plano Police Department, Richardson Police Department and FBI Dallas along the route of the pursuit.

During the pursuit, in an attempt to evade arrest the subjects carjacked a vehicle and eventually struck another vehicle. The occupant/victim of the second vehicle was seriously injured. The occupant/victim was subsequently hospitalized and underwent surgery to remove a portion of his intestines.

With the first carjacked vehicle disabled, the subjects attempted to carjack a second vehicle with a woman and her baby inside. Upon seeing the baby, one of the subjects stated, " we have a hostage." The subjects abandoned this effort when they could not start the vehicle. They then carjacked a third vehicle and were eventually able to elude police. Throughout this incident, the subjects continued to fire automatic weapons at police and drove in a manner which was a threat to all those they encountered.

During the course of the pursuit and the subsequent carjackings the subjects removed their masks. Victims of the carjackings and other witnesses had the opportunity to see the faces of at least two of the subjects. Subsequently, a photo line-up was used to identify [redacted] as one of the subjects.

On November 06, 2004, FBI Dallas held a press conference publicizing a photograph of [redacted] b6 b7C Later that day, [redacted] turned himself in at the Slaton, Texas Police Department [redacted] was taken into custody and charged with attempted capital murder by the Richardson Police Department.

A search warrant was served at [redacted] Odessa, Texas apartment by FBI El Paso and Texas Department of Public Safety. The search revealed a ballistic vest with "POLICE" lettering, ammunition in 7.62 mm and .50 caliber sizes, AK-47 parts, a hand grenade and a booklet showing how to convert an AK-47 to fully automatic.

On November 10,2004, [redacted] was indicted in the Eastern District of Texas on three counts of Title 18, Section 2119, Carjacking and three counts of Title 18, Section 924(c); using a firearm in the commission a felony. [redacted] was also indicted in the Northern District of Texas on one count of Title 18, Section 2113(a)(d); Bank Robbery and Title 18, Section 924(c). In addition, [redacted] was indicted by a state grand jury in Collins County, Texas on four counts of attempted Capital Murder.

b6 b7C b7D

On January 18, 2005, FBI Agents interviewed [redacted]

[redacted]

On January 18, 2005, armed with information gleaned from the interview, the Dallas Division's Special Operations Group (SOG) was able to locate and begin surveillance of [redacted]

[redacted] During the next three days, Dallas SOG was able to develop a pattern activity for [redacted] They learned that [redacted] wife and two children were residing with him in an apartment located at [redacted] Mesquite, Texas. b6 b7C

On January 19, 2005, FBI Agents drafted affidavits for the arrests of [redacted] and [redacted] on the same day, after review by the United States Attorney's Office for the Eastern District of Texas the affidavits and complaints were forwarded to United States Magistrate Judge Don D. Bush for review.

At 9:00 a.m., Friday, January 21, 2005, a briefing was held in the Dallas FBI office concerning the matter. In attendance were Special Agent in Charge (SAC) Guadalupe Gonzalez, Acting Assistant Special Agent in Charge (A/ASAC) [redacted] ASAC Rick Coward, ASAC Dan Dubre, Chief Division Counsel (CDC) Jay Gregory, ADC [redacted] SSA [redacted] Acting Supervisory Special Agent (A/SSA) [redacted] SA [redacted] and SA [redacted]. During the briefing, a case update was provided by case agent SA [redacted] A written SWAT operations plan prepared by Acting SWAT Team Leader [redacted] was presented to SAC Gonzalez. This plan called for a dynamic entry into [redacted] apartment in Mesquite, Texas. However, after discussing [redacted] propensity for violence and the high probability his children and wife would be in the apartment, SAC Gonzalez decided that [redacted] arrest would be effected after he left his vehicle and before he reached his apartment. It was also decided the arrest would not be made until a federal arrest warrant for [redacted] had been issued. Acting SWAT Team Leader [redacted] was instructed to formulate a tactical plan which would safely allow the SWAT Team to arrest [redacted] before he reached his apartment in Mesquite, Texas. SA [redacted] was designated Acting SWAT Team Leader due to the Division's SWAT Team Leader, SSA [redacted] being TDY out of the Division. b6 b7C

At approximately 11:00 a.m., Friday, January 21, 2005, the Dallas SWAT Team lead by Acting SWAT Team Leader [redacted] responded and staged in a parking lot in close proximity to [redacted] apartment complex in Mesquite, Texas. At this time, Acting SWAT Team Leader [redacted] telephonically briefed his assault plan to Acting ASAC [redacted] who verbally briefed SAC Gonzalez. Both SAC Gonzalez and Acting ASAC [redacted] approved the SWAT arrest plan.

The arrest plan, as explained to Acting ASAC [redacted] directed SOG to follow [redacted] back to his apartment complex in Mesquite, Texas. After an arrest warrant had been obtained, and with SWAT Team members in position, [redacted] would be allowed to park his vehicle at the apartment complex. Two SWAT vehicles would be used to block the vehicle from behind. Additional SWAT vehicles and members would be placed at parking lot exits to further prevent the subject's possible escape. The arrest team, which consisted of seven SWAT Team members would be stationed in a van located approximately 20 yards from the subject's apartment. Once [redacted] had parked his vehicle, the arrest team would quickly approach the vehicle from behind to make the arrest of [redacted] before he was able to make his way to his apartment. Additional Agents and Task Force Officers would be stationed around the area as perimeter security. SWAT Team members would wear their black FBI SWAT uniform with "FBI" embroidered on the back and front of their ballistic body armor. Agents assigned outside perimeter would were FBI Raid jackets. All Agents would wear ballistic body armor.

After receiving verbal approval from Acting ASAC [redacted] SA [redacted] verbally briefed the SWAT Team as to their specific assignments. SA [redacted] then made contact with SOG Pilot SA [redacted] and it was decided that SOG would continue to control the surveillance of [redacted] until he arrived in the apartment parking lot in Mesquite, Texas. At that time, the surveillance and the command of the situation would be turned over to SA [redacted] Communications would be done via Bureau radio.

Thereafter, Dallas SOG continued to surveil [redacted] In the early afternoon of Friday, January 21, 2005, Acting ASAC [redacted], Acting SSA [redacted] and Case Agent [redacted] were advised by SOG that [redacted] was being observed getting a tire changed at a local business. Acting ASAC [redacted] discussed with SA [redacted] the feasibility of making the arrest of [redacted] at the tire store or other potential location other than the [redacted] apartment. Due to concerns of [redacted] moving before the SWAT Team could get into position to safely make the arrest and the fact that the federal search warrant had not been obtained this idea was abandoned.

At approximately 2:00 p.m., Friday, January 21, 2005, based on a complaint, SA [redacted] obtained a warrant for the arrest of [redacted] charging him with violation of Title 18, USC, Section 2119, Car jacking, and Title 18, USC, Section 924 (c) use of a weapon in the commission of a violent felony. A search warrant for [redacted] residence [redacted] Mesquite, Texas was also obtained.

At approximately 2:30 p.m., Friday, January 21, 2005, Acting ASAC [redacted] and SSA [redacted] drove to Mesquite, Texas, were Acting ASAC [redacted] assumed the role of On Scene Commander for the arrest of [redacted]. Acting ASAC [redacted] was an active Salt Lake Division SWAT Team member from 1988 until 1993 and received specialized SWAT training. SSA [redacted] assumed the role of On Scene Supervisor. Acting ASAC [redacted] and SSA [redacted] stationed themselves in a Big Lots Department Store approximately 250 yards from [redacted] apartment in Mesquite, Texas. Stationed along with them were three Dallas Division Hostage Negotiators, two Electronic Technicians, and Dallas SWAT Team Members. During this time, Acting ASAC [redacted] was in constant telephone and radio contact with SA [redacted], Acting SSA [redacted] components of the SWAT Team, specifically, SA [redacted] and SOG. Via radio, Acting ASAC [redacted] and the other staged components could overhear the surveillance of [redacted] as he approached his apartment. b6 b7C

At approximately 4:45 p.m., Friday, January 21, 2005, via radio, SOG advised SWAT and command components that [redacted] was approaching his apartment. Minutes thereafter, as [redacted] in his vehicle, entered the apartment complex parking lot the command of the situation was turned over to SA [redacted] As [redacted] parked his vehicle approximately 25 yards away from his apartment SA [redacted] via radio, called for blocking vehicles to move up into position at the entrances of the apartment complex parking lot. One of these vehicles driven by SA [redacted] and SA [redacted] which had been designated to block [redacted] vehicle, proceeded to a blocking position directly behind [redacted] vehicle. With the blocking vehicle already in position, SA [redacted] gave the order to execute the plan. SWAT Team members SA [redacted], SA [redacted], SA [redacted], SA [redacted], SA [redacted], SA [redacted] and SA [redacted] deployed in a van parked approximately 25 yards from [redacted] vehicle exited the van. At the same time, SA [redacted] who had been in the blocking vehicle rushed to [redacted] vehicle, breaking out the passenger side window in an attempt to distract [redacted] SA [redacted] converged on the vehicle from the left side opening the driver's door. He was able to place his hands on [redacted] shoulder in an attempt to extract him from the vehicle. During this time, Dallas SWAT Team members, clad in black with FBI embroidered on the front and back of the uniforms repeatedly verbally identified themselves as FBI Agents and called for [redacted] to exit his vehicle. b6 b7C

Instead of complying, [redacted] broke away from SA [redacted] and accelerated his vehicle forward from a parked position jumping the curb onto a grass and sidewalk area. Agents now within two to three feet, on both sides of the vehicle, in a semi-circle position around the vehicle, stepped away to avoid being hit as the vehicle continued to accelerate at a high rate of speed. Later, in a Signed Sworn Statement to the SIRT, SA [redacted] stated, "I released my grip on the subject in fear of being hit by the car." The vehicle veered sharply left in an apparent attempt to escape. Immediately thereafter, SA [redacted] SA [redacted] SA [redacted] and SA [redacted] fired upon the vehicle. Interviews with [redacted] and [redacted] who were in the apartment complex at the time and eyewitnesses to the shooting incident corroborated these details.

A subsequent Dallas Response Team(ERT) shooting scene investigation revealed that agents fired a total of 22 rounds. Twenty of those rounds impacted [redacted] vehicle. One round struck a nearby tree and a second round struck a wall in the subject's apartment. All 20 rounds impacted the vehicle on the driver's side. One round struck [redacted] in the left shoulder and a second round struck him in the left hip. [redacted] vehicle traveled approximately 30 yards before striking and going through the brick apartment wall. During a later search of [redacted] vehicle, a 1997 Nissan Altima bearing Texas License Plate [redacted] no weapons were found.

According to the Dallas ERT investigation, 20 .223 caliber rounds were fired from Bureau issued Colt M-4A1 Carbines carried by SA [redacted] SA [redacted] and SA [redacted] Two .40 caliber rounds were fired from a Bureau issued Glock 22 .40 caliber handgun carried by SA [redacted] Dr. [redacted] an emergency room doctor, assigned to the Dallas Division SWAT Team immediately responded providing first aide to [redacted]

Immediately thereafter, SWAT Team members executed the search warrant at apartment [redacted] Mesquite, Texas. The search warrant revealed [redacted] wife, brother and two young children inside the apartment. Investigation also revealed [redacted] and [redacted] young grandson [redacted] parked in a vehicle immediately adjacent to [redacted] vehicle during the shooting incident. During subsequent interviews these witnesses indicated at the time of arrest they recognized SWAT Team members as law enforcement and could hear SWAT Team members ordering [redacted] out of his vehicle.

Immediately after the shooting, an ambulance was summoned and responded within a few minutes. [redacted] was transported to the Baylor Hospital in Dallas, Texas for treatment. SA [redacted] and SA [redacted] were assigned to accompany [redacted] to the hospital. After approximately four hours, [redacted] was treated and released. Thereafter, he was taken to the Grayson County jail in Denton, Texas. Interviews with the emergency room doctor, Dr. [redacted] indicated [redacted] was struck once in the left shoulder. The wound was described as a through and through wound. [redacted] was also struck in the left hip by a bullet fragment. This fragment was not removed. Baylor Hospital officials advised that federal health care privacy laws precluded them from providing [redacted] medical records. b6 b7C

The weather at the time of the incident according to the National Oceanic and Atmospheric Administration, National Weather Forecast Office was 74 degrees, 10 miles per hour wind out of the South, with occasional clouds.

Immediately after the incident, Acting ASAC [redacted] telephonically contacted SAC Gonzalez who immediately responded to the scene along with CDC Jay Gregory and took command of the situation. In route to the shooting scene, CDC Gregory kept both the United States Attorney's Office for the Northern and Eastern Districts of Texas apprised of the situation. Both were kept informed due to the arrest and search warrants being issued in the Eastern District of Texas and the shooting incident occurring in the Northern District of Texas. Mesquite, Texas Police Department was contacted by SAC Gonzalez and CDC Gregory and it was agreed that FBI Dallas would be allowed to investigate the shooting scene.

Immediately following the shooting incident, SA [redacted] SA [redacted] SA [redacted] and SA [redacted] were directed by Acting ASAC [redacted] to moved to the Big Lot Department Store parking lot approximately 250 yards from the shooting scene. At that point, SA [redacted] was instructed by Acting ASAC [redacted] to conduct a ammunition count with the shooters. Upon his arrival, SAC Gonzalez met with the four SWAT Team members ascertaining their well being and instructing them to leave the scene and travel back to the Dallas office. Once at the Dallas office four SWAT Team members met with CDC Gregory where he explained their Constitutional Rights. All four Agents, invoked the right to speak with an attorney prior to being interviewed. The four shooters were then allow to leave the office. b6 b7C

At approximately 11:00 p.m., Friday, January 21, 2005, Dallas ERT cleared the shooting scene in Mesquite, Texas.

On the morning of Saturday, January 22, 2005, CDC Gregory contacted SSA [redacted] Office of General Counsel (OGC) and authority was given from the Department of Justice (DOJ) for emergency legal representation for the four Agents involved in the shooting. Thereafter, Attorney [redacted] was retained to represent all four Agents. b6 b7C

At approximately 1:00 p.m., Saturday, January 22,2005, members of the Shooting Incident Review Team (SIRT)arrived and met with SAC Gonzalez, Acting ASAC Mikulewicz, and CDC Gregory discussed the shooting team's protocol. It was determined that the shooter's weapons were not in the custody of the Dallas office. The weapons used included four Colt M4A1 carbines and one Glock 22 .40 caliber handgun. By approximately 6:00 p.m., Saturday, January 22, 2005, all weapons had been recovered from the Agent shooters and were in the possession of the Dallas office.

On Wednesday, January 26, 2005, IIP [redacted] was advised by Attorney [redacted] that his clients SA [redacted] SA [redacted] SA [redacted] and SA [redacted] would not be providing a statement unless compelled. Contact with Chief Inspector Kimberly Mertz, Inspection Division and SSA [redacted], OGC indicated the DOJ would not compel the Agents' statement at that time.

On Thursday, January 27, 2005, [redacted] had his initial appearance in the Eastern District of Texas, Sherman, Texas. During this hearing Attorney [redacted] was appointed legal counsel for [redacted] Repeated attempts to arrange an interview of [redacted] by the SIRT met with negative results. b6 b7C

[redacted] remains charged based on the a complaint filed in the Eastern District of Texas with three counts of violation of Title 18, USC, Section 2119, carjacking and three counts of Title 18, Section 924(c) using a firearm in the commission of a felony. The USAO for the Northen District of Texas is considering charging [redacted] with Assault on a Federal Officer. [redacted] remains a fugitive.

On February 10, 2005, Request Coordinator [redacted] FBI Laboratory, Evidence and Control Unit (LAB# 050203010) received the weapons and spent casings used in the shooting incident. The Laboratory will conduct an analysis to determine how many of the spent casings found at the shooting scene were fired by each weapon.

Synopsis: The Shooting Incident Review Group (SIRG) reviewed a shooting incident that occurred on 02/16/2005, involving Special Agent (SA) [redacted] During the execution of a search warrant, SA [redacted] fired two rounds from his Bureau-issued Heckler & Koch, 10 millimeter, MP-5 carbine, killing an aggressive dog. SIRG members recommended that no administrative action be taken against SA [redacted] as a result of his involvement in this shooting incident.

Administrative: Reference Electronic Communication of Acting Supervisory Special Agent [redacted] dated 02/17/2005.

Details: This communication was prepared to furnish the analysis, comments, and recommendations of the SIRG with reference to the captioned shooting.

On 02/16/2005, SA [redacted], along with members of the Buffalo Division's Safe Streets Task Force, were effecting a search at a residence in Buffalo. Upon arriving at the residence, SA [redacted] and other team members identified themselves and the purpose of them being on the premises. Law enforcement personnel determined the door was open and entry personnel opened the door where they were confronted by a black male, later identified as [redacted] who attempted to close the door. b6 b7C

SA [redacted] entered into the kitchen area of the residence and instructed the occupant to raise his hands. The subject complied with the command and SA [redacted] proceeded to clear the remainder of the residence. Two pitbull-type dogs confronted SA [redacted] and one of the dogs immediately crossed the kitchen area toward him in an aggressive manner. SA [redacted] attempted to go around the dog and make entry into the dining room area; however, the dog positioned itself to block entry into the room and lunged at SA [redacted]. Believing that he, as well as other team members were in immediate danger of serious injury, SA [redacted] fired two rounds from his MP-5 killing the dog.

On 03/08/2005, the SIRG met to discuss the above-captioned shooting incident. Deputy Assistant Director (DAD) Andrew R. Bland, III, Inspection Division, chaired the meeting with the following voting members of the SIRG in attendance: [redacted] Deputy Chief, Civil Rights Division, Criminal Section, USDOJ; [redacted] Deputy Chief, Domestic Security Section, Criminal Division, USDOJ; Kimberly K. Mertz, Chief Inspector, Office of Inspections, Inspection Division; Charles J. Rooney, Section Chief (SC), Operational Support Section, Criminal Investigative Division; [redacted] Acting Unit Chief (UC), Firearms Training Unit, Training and Development Division (TDD); UC [redacted] CD-6A, Counterintelligence Division; UC [redacted], National Firearms Program, TDD; UC [redacted] Special Inquiry and General Background Investigations Unit, Administrative Services Division; Supervisory Special Agent (SSA) [redacted], Firearms - Toolmarks Unit, Scientific Analysis Section, Laboratory Division; SSA [redacted], Investigative Law Unit, Office of the General Counsel (OGC); and SSA [redacted], Operational Skills Unit, TDD. The two non-voting attendees present were SSA [redacted] Hostage Rescue Team, Critical Incident Response Group; and [redacted], Management Program Analyst, Inspection Management Unit, Office of Inspections, Inspection Division. b6 b7C

The SIRG reviewed the above-synopsized incident with the intent to: (1) evaluate the application of deadly force; (2) provide the Director with an evaluative analysis, observations, and recommendations for corrective actions from an operational standpoint (if any); (3) provide recommendations concerning training and/or safety issues; and (4) provide recommendations for administrative action if deemed necessary. b6 b7C

OKLAHOMA CITY DIVISION
05/18/2006

Synopsis: The Shooting Incident Review Group (SIRG) reviewed a shooting incident that occurred on 05/18/2006, involving Special Agent (SA) [redacted] now assigned to the New Orleans Division. While attempting to assist another individual with an aggressive pit bull dog belonging to his neighbor, SA [redacted] fired one round from his Glock Model 22 pistol injuring the pit bull dog. SIRG members recommended that no administrative action be taken against SA [redacted] as a result of his involvement in this shooting incident.

Administrative: Reference Electronic Communication of SSA [redacted] dated 05/23/2006.

Details: This communication was prepared to furnish the analysis, comments, and recommendations of the SIRG with reference to the captioned shooting.

Details of the Shooting Incident

On 05/18/2006, at approximately 9:45 p.m., while inside his residence, SA [redacted] responded to a request for assistance from an individual identified as [redacted]. SA [redacted] followed [redacted] to the residence of SA [redacted] neighbor, [redacted] who was not at his residence.

Upon his arrival, SA [redacted] observed a medium sized dog pinned under a gap at the bottom of a wooden fence gate at the front of [redacted] residence. SA [redacted] observed [redacted] pit bull dog, which was located on the inside of the fence, biting and chewing the pinned dog on the head and shoulder. SA [redacted] assumed the pinned dog belonged to [redacted] and assisted him in attempting to free the dog from the pit bull. The pit bull dog unsuccessfully attempted to force itself through a gap between the gate and the fence several times in an effort to attack [redacted] and [redacted] The gate was locked at the handle with a padlock; however, the bottom of the gate was flexible and moved considerably each time the pit bull lunged against it.

Knowing that the pit bull dog had previously attacked individuals and other animals by forcing its way through loose fence boards, SA [redacted] returned to his residence. He advised his wife to dial 911 for assistance and retrieved his Bureau-issued Glock 22 pistol for protection.

Upon returning to the [redacted] residence, SA [redacted] observed [redacted] attempting to open the gate. Due to the known danger of the pit bull, and believing [redacted] did not understand how dangerous the dog was, SA [redacted] cautioned him several times not to open the gate. SA [redacted] placed his pistol on the ground and unsuccessfully attempted to lift the gate enough for [redacted] to pull his dog from beneath the fence. [redacted] became more frantic regarding his dog's welfare and began looking over the top of the fence. [redacted] made several unsuccessful attempts to assist his dog by reaching under or through the gate. As SA [redacted] was pulling up on the fence gate in an attempt to assist [redacted] in the retrieval of his dog, the pit bull dog lunged against the fence, forced his head through an opening, and attempted to bite SA [redacted]

Due to the continued aggressive behavior of the pit bull dog, SA [redacted] believed the dog posed an imminent threat of serious bodily harm to [redacted] as well as himself. SA [redacted] positioned himself in front of the gate and fired one shot from his pistol. The dog retreated into an area of the back yard while SA [redacted] and [redacted] pulled his dog from under the fence. SA [redacted] shined a flashlight into the back yard and observed the pit bull dog alive and standing.

SA [redacted] returned to his residence, telephoned 911 a second time, and advised he had discharged his weapon at the dog.

Officers from the Lawton Police Department and Animal Control arrived approximately thirty minutes after SA [redacted] second phone call. The Animal Control Officer attempted to render aid to the pit bull but could not gain access to the back yard because of the padlocked gate. Officers left a note for Mr. [redacted] to contact the police upon his return home.

[redacted] dog was taken to an animal hospital for treatment. The dog's left front leg and one ear were completely chewed off, a portion of the dog's snout was bitten away, and one eye was hanging from its socket. Due to the seriousness of the dog's injuries, [redacted] requested that the dog be euthanized.

On 05/20/2006, [redacted] telephoned the Oklahoma City Division and requested to speak to SA [redacted] supervisor regarding the incident. [redacted] asked SSA [redacted] what action would be taken regarding SA [redacted] shooting his dog. [redacted] advised the bullet from SA [redacted] weapon struck his dog above the eye and exited behind his ear, damaging the soft tissue. SSA [redacted] advised [redacted] of FBI procedures regarding the shooting of an animal. Although [redacted] seemed satisfied with the explanation, he contacted the Lawton Chief of Police to pursue a complaint against SA [redacted]

On 05/22/2006, the Lawton Police Department advised the Comanche County District Attorney declined to pursue any charges against SA [redacted] stating no improper action was taken by him. [redacted] was issued a criminal citation for Ownership of a Dangerous Dog and SA [redacted] was issued a criminal citation for Cruelty to Animal.

On 05/23/2006, the Lawton City Prosecutor advised the Oklahoma City Division that [redacted] filed a complaint against SA [redacted] for shooting his dog. The City Prosecutor advised he was declining any prosecution against SA [redacted]

On 07/13/2006, the SIRG met to discuss the above-captioned shooting incident. Deputy Assistant Director Michael S. Clemens, Inspection Division, chaired the meeting and was a non-voting member. The following voting members were in attendance: Chief Inspector C. Frank Figliuzzi, Office of Inspections, Inspection Division; [redacted] Deputy Chief, Domestic Security Section, Criminal Division, USDOJ; [redacted] Attorney, Civil Rights Division, USDOJ; Richard A. McFeely, Section Chief (SC), Operational Support Section, Criminal Investigative Division; [redacted] Assistant SC, CD-1, Counterintelligence Division;

[redacted] Unit Chief (UC), Firearms Training Unit, Training and Development Division (TDD); [redacted] Chief, Defensive Systems Unit, TDD; [redacted] UC, Special Weapons and Tactics Operations Unit, Critical Incident Response Group; [redacted] UC, Operational Skills Unit, TDD; Supervisory Special Agent (SSA) [redacted] Firearms - Toolmarks Unit, Scientific Analysis Section, Laboratory Division; SSA [redacted] Washington Field Office; and [redacted] General Attorney, Investigative Law Unit, Office of the General Counsel (OGC). [redacted] and [redacted] Management Program Analysts, Inspection Management Unit, Office of Inspections, Inspection Division, non-voting members, were also in attendance.

Observations and Recommendations of the SIRG

The SIRG reviewed the above-synopsized incident with the intent to: (1) evaluate the application of deadly force; (2) provide the Director with an evaluative analysis, observations, and recommendations for corrective actions from an operational standpoint (if any); (3) provide recommendations concerning training and/or safety issues; and (4) provide recommendations for administrative action if deemed necessary.

SIRG members unanimously agreed that the use of deadly force by SA [redacted] was justified and in conformance with the deadly force policy. The only observation made by the SIRG was the fact that SA [redacted] s actions were commendable; however, he put himself in harms way by attempting to free the injured animal.

Details of the Shooting Incident

On 10/26/2005, SA [redacted] was assisting with pre-trial interviews in a sexual assault matter which occurred on an Indian Reservation. While traveling to the reservation, SA [redacted] observed an injured dog laying on the side of the road. Due to time constraints, SA [redacted] did not stop and check on the dog; however, after completing the interviews and upon his departure from the reservation, he again observed the dog on the side of the road. SA [redacted] exited his Bureau vehicle to check on the dog, noting its breathing was labored and the dog could not use its hind legs. SA [redacted] contacted the Winnebago Tribal Police Department who advised they had received numerous reports of the injured animal; however, they were unable to dispatch an officer to the scene. SA [redacted] advised the Police Department he would kill the dog if an animal control officer would respond to remove the carcass. With the concurrence of the Police Department, and subsequent contact with the Dakota County Sheriff's Office and a utility worker nearby, SA [redacted] fired two rounds into the dog's head, killing the injured dog.

On 12/01/2005, the SIRG met to discuss the above-captioned shooting incident. Deputy Assistant Director Daniel Lee Cloyd, Inspection Division, chaired the meeting and was a non-voting member. The following voting members were in attendance: Former Chief Inspector Kimberly K. SIRG members unanimously agreed that no administrative action should be taken against SA [redacted] as a result of his involvement in this shooting incident. However, members opined that although SA [redacted] actions were humane, the shooting of the dog was not within the current deadly force policy. This matter will be brought to the attention of the Special Agent in Charge of the Omaha Division to ensure future compliance with the deadly force policy.

Title: SHOOTING INQUIRY
REPORT OF SHOOTING INCIDENT
HOUSTON DIVISION
11/03/2005

Character: ADMINISTRATIVE INQUIRY

Synopsis: On 11/03/2005, as part of the Mara Salvatrucha - 13 (MS-13) initiative, the Houston Division executed a "Reverse Home Invasion." [redacted] and Houston Police Department (HPD) undercover employees (UCEs), five subjects were led to believe a residence in Pasadena, Texas contained 20 kilograms of cocaine. After [redacted] five armed subjects forcibly entered an unoccupied residence controlled by the FBI with the intent to steal what they believed was 20 kilograms of cocaine. As pre-positioned Agents approached the residence one subject pointed his weapon at Agents. In response, Agents fired their weapons, killing the subject. The four remaining subjects attempted to exit the residence, firing at least one weapon as they tried to escape. Agents returned fire, striking and killing a second subject and seriously wounding two others. One subject was unharmed.

DETAILS:

As part of the Houston Division MS-13 Gang Initiative, the division was investigating a group believed to be responsible for a 7/19/2005 armed home invasion in Pasadena, Texas. As the subjects were fleeing the crime in a stolen vehicle, they fired handguns at the victims. During the subsequent investigation, three subjects were identified as participants in multiple carjackings, home invasions and other aggravated robberies in the Houston area.

This document contains neither recommendations nor conclusions of the FBI. It is the property of the FBI and is loaned to your agency; it and its contents are not to be distributed outside your agency.

[redacted] subjects who later admitted to participating in several aggravated robberies. One of the subjects was later identified as Jose Antonio Pino, aka El Gordo. During the course of meetings [redacted] "home invasion" of a Houston drug supplier. El Gordo subsequently agreed to the plan.

On 10/14/2005, the Houston Division began to implement an investigative strategy which involved convincing El Gordo and his associates there were 20 kilograms of cocaine hidden in a Pasadena, Texas, residence, thereby giving the subjects the opportunity to conduct a home invasion to steal the cocaine. The plan called for [redacted] El Gordo as a potential buyer to two Houston Police Department (HPD) undercover employees (UCEs) posing as drug traffickers attempting to sell the cocaine. The UCEs would allow El Gordo to inspect one kilogram of cocaine at the target residence. It would be made clear to El Gordo that the cocaine would be left in the residence until he returned with the money to buy the cocaine. Agents would leave 18 kilograms of sham cocaine along with two kilograms of cocaine hidden in a closet in the target residence. El Gordo would leave the residence, return with his associates, and forcibly enter and attempt to steal the cocaine. b6 b7C b7D

Once the subjects had entered the residence and taken possession of the cocaine, they would be arrested. The arrest team would be hidden in various locations outside the residence, which would be equipped with audio and video capabilities for safety and evidentiary reasons. The residence would be modified to allow for only one entry/exit point. The entry/exit point would be equipped with a magnetic lock which could be remotely activated after the subjects had entered the residence. This would effectively lock the subjects inside.

The Houston Division obtained the use of a residence located at [redacted] Pasadena, Texas, for the operation. The target residence was an approximately 1000 square foot, five room, wood framed structure. This vacant residence was owned by a Houston Police Officer and had been used by the Houston Division in an almost identical successful operation approximately one year prior.

Beginning on 10/31/2005, Houston Division Technically Trained Agents (TTAs) [redacted] b7E

[redacted] b7E

On 11/01/2005, Houston Division Electronic Technicians (ETs) installed two magnetic locks on a wrought iron metal screen door located at the front of the target residence. The two magnetic door locks were wired to the CP. This configuration allowed the metal screen door, once closed, to be locked remotely from the CP. Other than the metal screen door, all other possible exits such as other doors and windows were covered with plywood.

On 11/01/2005, SAC Roderick L. Beverly, ASAC Dana M. Gillis, Chief Division Counsel (CDC) William C. Haman, SWAT Coordinator SSA [redacted] Acting SSA [redacted] SWAT Team Leader SA [redacted] and Case Agent [redacted] met to discuss and approve the written arrest plan prepared by SA [redacted] On the same date, Houston received FBIHQ approval for the use of show drugs in the operation. b6 b7C

Preparations continued at the target residence on 11/02/2005 through the afternoon of 11/03/2005. TTAs and ETs ensured the cameras, lights, PA and locks were in working order. The arrest team, made up of members of the Houston Division SWAT team, reviewed and rehearsed their mission. SAC Beverly and ASAC Gillis personally inspected the target residence and surrounding area.

At approximately 5:00 p.m. on 11/03/2005, a briefing was held at the FBI Office in Houston, Texas. All those involved in the operation were present, including command and control personnel, arrest team members, surveillance teams and HPD officers who would be providing perimeter security. The case agent, SA [redacted] provided the overall briefing. CDC Haman provided a briefing on the FBI's Deadly Force Policy. After the initial briefing, the arrest team was introduced to the HPD UCEs and [redacted] for safety reasons. Soon thereafter, residents near the target residence were asked to voluntarily evacuate their homes for the duration of the operation.

By approximately 9:00 p.m. on 11/03/2005, the arrest team was in place at the target residence. At approximately 9:02 p.m., [redacted] Once inside the target location, El Gordo was allowed to inspect a kilogram of real cocaine as a prelude to his purchase of the cocaine. Immediately thereafter, El Gordo left the target residence and returned to the Jack in the Box. Surveillance then observed El Gordo and five other subjects get into two vehicles and begin to drive toward the target residence. [redacted] the subjects were armed with Uzzis and an AR-15 assault rifle. This information was immediately passed to the arrest team.

Once in front of the target residence, three subjects exited one vehicle and two exited the second vehicle. The second vehicle then left the area. The second vehicle was later stopped by HPD and the driver was identified as [redacted] Arrest team members, who were still hidden but could see the subjects, reported the subjects were armed with four handguns and what appeared to be an AK-47 assault rifle. Surveillance observed the five subjects moving around the front and side yard of the target residence using hand signals. After approximately three minutes of surveying the area the subjects quietly approached the front door. A subject then kicked in the front door and entered the residence followed closely by two other subjects armed with hand guns. The fourth subject, armed with a handgun, hesitated at the front door for two seconds then entered the residence. Upon entering the residence the subjects began shouting in Spanish, "Don't move, don't move." All four subjects had their weapons drawn and appeared ready to fire. Arrest team members later reported hearing shots as the subjects entered the residence. Once the four subjects were in the target residence, the metal screen door eventually closed and was remotely locked from the CP by SA [redacted]

Immediately after the four subjects entered the residence, there were discussions in the CP concerning the possibility that the door had not locked. These conversations were overheard by SA [redacted] SA [redacted] took his position covering the front door of the residence believing the subjects had the ability to quickly exit the target residence.

The fifth subject, later identified as El Gordo, remained in the front yard of the residence watching the street. At this point, SA [redacted] correctly believing the front door was locked, gave the command, via radio, to execute the arrest plan. The arrest team, parked in vehicles across the street, immediately began arriving in the front yard of the residence. The vehicles were displaying red and blue emergency lights. Additionally, a siren was inadvertently activated for a split second. Apparently hearing and seeing the units arrive, El Gordo raised his handgun toward the street. SA [redacted] pre-positioned in the window of a vacant building approximately 15 feet east of El Gordo, fired two shots from his M-4 rifle. El Gordo immediately fell to the ground. In his Signed Sworn Statement (SSS), SA [redacted] stated, "I feared for my life as well as the lives of my fellow SWAT operators..." Later an HPD Crime Scene Unit (CSU) search found two .223 caliber cartridge casings near SA [redacted] position. b6 b7C

As SA [redacted] SA [redacted] and SA [redacted] approached in a vehicle with red and blue lights activated, they observed El Gordo just after he had been shot by SA [redacted] All three SAs were not aware El Gordo had been shot. El Gordo was now on his hands and knees, still armed with a handgun and moving toward their location. SA [redacted] stated in his SSS, "I then saw the subject continue to move in my direction and push himself up, as if he was going to stand." All three SAs shouted commands for El Gordo to stop moving and to drop his weapon. El Gordo did not comply and all three SAs fired their M-4 rifles. El Gordo was struck, which stopped his movement and eventually killed him. Later, a HPD CSU search produced five .223 caliber cartridge casings near SA [redacted], SA [redacted] and SA [redacted] positions. On 11/04/2005, an autopsy revealed El Gordo had been shot four times. El Gordo was struck three times in the abdomen and once in the right leg.

A review of video tapes from inside the residence indicated that after entering the target residence, the four subjects found the sham cocaine hidden in a closet. Immediately thereafter, shots were heard from outside. This noise caused the four subjects to react by moving toward the front door. One subject fired his handgun at least twice as he moved toward the door. The subjects approached the front door with their weapons drawn and tried to force the locked front door open. b6 b7C

After the first shots were fired, SA [redacted] used the PA system and began instructing the remaining four subjects, in both English and Spanish, "FBI. You're under arrest. Stop shooting. FBI. Go back to the room where you went in."

Upon the command to execute, SA [redacted] exited the south entrance of the CP and was positioned behind a vehicle approximately 30 feet from the front door of the residence. As SA [redacted] approached his position he heard what he called in his SSS "two loud booms that I thought were rounds from a long gun. After the two distinctive booms, I heard other gunfire coming from the direction of the house." SA [redacted] observed a subject appear in the doorway who attempted to leave the target residence with a handgun in his right hand. b6 b7C

SA [redacted] stated that when he exited the CP he believed the front door had not locked and the subject could easily exit the target residence placing his life and the lives of his fellow Agents in danger. During interviews, SA [redacted] SA [redacted], SA [redacted] and SA [redacted] all pre-positioned in the CP, recalled some discussion in the CP concerning the door not being locked immediately prior to the command to execute. SA [redacted], who was positioned in a van near the target location recalled other arrest team members stating over the radio that the front door had not locked. Several other Agents stated in their SSSs that they heard over the radio that the door had been remotely locked. Later investigation indicated the door had locked.

SA [redacted] fired multiple rounds from his M-4 rifle in the direction of the subject in the doorway. The subject did not go down and SA [redacted] was unsure if he had hit him. The subject stepped out of SA [redacted] view at which time SA [redacted] changed magazines in his weapon. A few moments later the subject reappeared in the doorway. It did not appear to SA [redacted] the subject was following verbal commands being given to him in Spanish. SA [redacted] believed the subject was being told he was under arrest and to lay down his weapons. b6 b7C

SA [redacted] observed the subject on his knees, then down on his stomach doing "what appeared to be a low crawl position." SA [redacted] stated, "I saw the subject moving his right arm and hand in a non-compliant fashion as if he were reaching for something. At this point, since the subject still posed a threat to me and my team members, I fired again." A review of the video recording shows the subject, later identified as Juan Antonio Bautista, crawl into the front room of the residence were he appeared to reach for something immediately before he appeared to have been struck in the head by gunfire and killed. An autopsy conducted on 11/4/2005 revealed Bautista had been shot six times. He had received a wound in the top of his head, two in the right arm,

SA [redacted] approached the target residence in a vehicle from the southwest and then positioned himself behind a vehicle in front of the front door to the target residence. Immediately prior to assuming his position in front of the target residence, SA [redacted] heard numerous gunshots. SA [redacted] did not recognize the reports, believing the gunshots had not come from FBI weapons. SA [redacted] was able to see two subjects in or around the doorway. SA [redacted] stated in his SSS, "I then saw one subject, armed with a pistol, move from the left side of the doorway to the right in an obviously non-compliant manner. It was apparent to me at this point that this subject was not complying with the commands that I knew were being broadcast within the house." He further stated, "I believed the subject posed an imminent threat of bodily injury to the Agents located on the side of the house and I fired a single round." A search by HPD CSU produced 30 .223 cartridge casings in the area were SA [redacted] and SA [redacted] had positioned themselves. b6 b7C

SA [redacted] and SA [redacted] were positioned at the rear of the CP covering the rear of the target residence. Both agents heard via radio that five subjects had arrived at the target residence and at least one was carrying a "long gun." SA [redacted] stated in his SSS, "Based on my experience in the FBI, I know that these type of weapons are capable of sustaining rapid rates of fire and can penetrate our ballistic vests and shields." As SA [redacted] and SA [redacted] moved into position, they heard a siren, gunshots and an Agent's voice over the PA system announcing "FBI" and issuing commands to the subjects within the target residence. A short time later they observed one subject come to a back window and break it out with the barrel of his weapon and point the weapon in their direction. At approximately the same time, the Agents heard additional gun shots. SA [redacted] stated, "Since the subject posed an obvious, imminent threat to my life and the lives of the SWAT operators with me, as well as other law enforcement personnel in the vicinity, I fired at the subject." SA [redacted] fired his Glock 22 .40 caliber semi-automatic pistol. SA [redacted] fired his M-4 .223 caliber rifle. A HPD CSU search found four .223 caliber cartridge casings in the area were SA [redacted] had positioned himself. One .40 caliber cartridge casing was found were SA [redacted] had position himself. b6 b7C

Approximately two minutes after the above described gunfire, SA [redacted] using the PA system, was able to direct one of the subjects, later identified as [redacted] to a cellular telephone which had been left in the target residence.

Using the cellar telephone, SA [redacted] with the assistance of SA [redacted] was able to instruct the remaining three subjects on how to surrender and exit the target residence safely. Conversations were conducted in Spanish. After approximately 45 minutes, two subjects exited the residence and were arrested. They were later identified as [redacted] and [redacted] was seriously wounded and was unable to leave the residence under his own power. Immediately after the arrest team secured the target residence, paramedics were allowed in to administer first aide to [redacted] and [redacted] were later transported to nearby hospitals for treatment. A review of medical records from the Ben Taub Hospital revealed [redacted] suffered a gunshot wound to the upper left leg. A review of medical records from Memorial Hermann Hospital indicated [redacted] suffered a gun shot wound in the right chest area. b6 b7C

The HPD CSU search of the target residence immediately after the shooting incident produced the weapons carried by [redacted] and [redacted] They were described as follows: a Smith and Wesson .45 caliber semi-automatic pistol; a Smith and Wesson .357 caliber revolver; a Beretta 9 mm semi-automatic pistol; a Beretta, 9 mm semi-automatic pistol; and a Norinco 7.62 x 39 mm semi-automatic rifle. The .45 caliber semi-automatic pistol was reported stolen in a Houston area burglary. All the weapons appeared to have been loaded. The HPD CSU search also produced two 7.62 mm cartridge casings and two .45 caliber cartridge casings inside the residence indicating four rounds had been fired from the subjects' weapons while inside the target residence.

Further investigation conducted by HPD CSU revealed approximately 18 rounds struck the area of the front door of the residence. An additional three rounds struck the front of the target residence near the front window. The estimated trajectory of these 21 rounds indicated they were fired from SA [redacted] and SA [redacted] positions. Approximately three rounds struck the rear of the target residence. The estimated trajectory of these three rounds indicated they were fired from SA [redacted] and SA [redacted] positions. b6 b7C

Immediately following the shooting incident, [redacted] were arrested. On 11/03/2005, [redacted] and [redacted] were transported to the FBI Houston office where they were interviewed. [redacted] told SAs that he had been approached by [redacted] pistol and promised to pay [redacted] $10,000.00 when the bag had been retrieved. Soon thereafter, [redacted] invoked his right to remain silent until he spoke to an attorney. [redacted] the 20 year old brother of [redacted] admitted to SAs he drove [redacted] and another individual to a residence but was unaware of any plans to commit a home invasion.

On 11/07/2005, [redacted] was contacted and interviewed by Houston Division SAs at the Memorial Hermann Hospital in Houston, Texas. [redacted] told the SAs he believed they had been set-up by the FBI. No further information concerning what led him to this belief was provided. [redacted] indicated to Agents that [redacted] aka [redacted] and [redacted] an unknown Hispanic male, had arranged the home invasion and they had provided the weapons. [redacted] told Agents he had not fired a weapon during the incident. b6 b7C

On 11/08/2005, [redacted] was again contacted at the Memorial Hermann Hospital and interviewed by HPD Detectives. [redacted] during this taped interview, told HPD Detectives he believed he was taking 25 pounds of marijuana from the residence. He also indicated no one was inside the house when they saw "lights" and heard someone yelling "FBI" and began dropping their weapons. [redacted] stated, "One of them got scared and broke a window to try to get out but the window had burglar bars on it... they (FBI) started shooting when the window was broken...he tried telling them (FBI) not to shoot because they had dropped their weapons and weren't armed."

On 11/08/2005, [redacted] was contacted at the Harris County Jail, Houston, Texas, and interviewed by HPD Detectives. [redacted] told detectives [redacted] (LNU) had arranged for him and three others to steal a bag for him. [redacted] was told he would be paid $3,000 for his services. [redacted] provided all the weapons for the home invasion. [redacted] stated during his taped interview, "When [redacted] ran out, they grabbed the bag that [redacted] wanted and they began receiving gunfire as they headed out... none of them fired their weapons until they began returning gunfire... he [redacted] never imagined that the police were the ones shooting at them... he [redacted] was in the back of the room and began shooting his gun, but only shot at the floor...he [redacted] still had his gun in his hand and he was shot in his leg." Later in the interview, [redacted] stated, "The police that were outside shooting were FBI...they were wearing their helmets and he could tell they were FBI...about a minute after the shooting stopped, he heard someone saying in a speaker inside the house, 'Don't move. FBI. Don't move. You are surrounded. You cannot escape." b6 b7C

Interviews of non-law enforcement personnel were conducted at the scene during the neighborhood canvass conducted by both the HPD and the SIRT. In summary, the witnesses, who were residents in the area, noted hearing the commotion caused by the operation, but none were direct witnesses to the shooting incident.

On 11/09/2005, [redacted] and [redacted] were charged in Texas State District Court with Aggravated Robbery and Burglary of a Habitation with intent to commit crime. All remain in custody pending indictment. The matter is being presented to the United States Attorney's Office for the Southern District of Texas. An opinion has not been rendered. b6 b7C

WASHINGTON FIELD OFFICE
11/13/2005

Synopsis: The Shooting Incident Review Group (SIRG) reviewed a shooting incident that occurred on 11/13/2005, involving Supervisory Special Agent (SSA) [redacted] While attempting to locate and arrest two bank robbery suspects, SSA [redacted] fired one round from his Glock Model 22, .40 caliber pistol, injuring an aggressive pit bull dog. SIRG members recommended that no administrative action be taken against SSA [redacted] as a result of his involvement in this shooting incident.

Administrative: Reference Electronic Communication of SSA [redacted] dated 04/10/2006.

Details: This communication was prepared to furnish the analysis, comments, and recommendations of the SIRG with reference to the captioned shooting.

On 11/13/2005, at approximately 7:00 p.m., SSA [redacted] and other members of his squad briefed an operational plan to utilize cellular tracking technology in an attempt to locate and arrest two bank robbery suspects.

While in the College Park, Maryland, area, Agents received a strong signal indicating one of the suspect's cellular telephone was nearby. At the same time, SSA [redacted] observed two individuals fitting the suspects' description walking down a street. As SSA [redacted] passed the individuals, it appeared they attempted to conceal their faces and immediately turned and walked toward a residence. SSA [redacted] circled the block and returned to the area where he previously saw the subjects; however, they could not be located. SSA [redacted] instructed other Agents to form a perimeter around the suspect residence as he and SA [redacted] proceeded to the rear of the residence and scaled a four-foot high chain link fence to take cover behind a shed in the yard. As they approached the shed SSA [redacted] was charged by a pit bull dog. SSA [redacted] fired one round striking the dog in the back.

SSA [redacted] immediately informed the other Agents on the scene that a shot had been fired resulting in injuries to a dog who was subsequently treated by a veterinarian.

On 05/05/2006, the SIRG met to discuss the above-captioned shooting incident. Deputy Assistant Director Daniel Lee Cloyd, Inspection Division, chaired the meeting and was a non-voting member. The following voting members were in attendance: Chief Inspector C. Frank Figliuzzi, Office of Inspections, Inspection Division; [redacted] Attorney, Civil Rights Division, USDOJ; [redacted] Deputy Chief, Domestic Security Section, Criminal Division, USDOJ; Kevin Favreau, Section Chief (SC), CD-4, Counterintelligence Division; [redacted] Assistant SC, Transnational Criminal Enterprise Section, Criminal Investigative Division; [redacted] Unit Chief (UC), Firearms Training Unit, Training and Development Division (TDD); UC [redacted] Defensive Systems Unit, TDD; Supervisory Special Agent (SSA) [redacted] Special Weapons and Tactics Operations Unit, Critical Incident Response Group; SSA [redacted] Firearms - Toolmarks Unit, Scientific Analysis Section, Laboratory Division; SSA [redacted] Investigative Law Unit, Office of the General Counsel (OGC); and SSA [redacted] Washington Field Office. [redacted] Management Program Analyst, Inspection Management Unit, Office of Inspections, Inspection Division, a non-voting member, was also in attendance.

Observations and Recommendations of the SIRG

The SIRG reviewed the above-synopsized incident with the intent to: (1) evaluate the application of deadly force; (2) provide the Director with an evaluative analysis, observations, and recommendations for corrective actions from an operational standpoint (if any); (3) provide recommendations concerning training and/or safety issues; and (4) provide recommendations for administrative action if deemed necessary.

With the exception of SSA [redacted] who recused himself from the discussion because of his involvement in this incident, members unanimously agreed that the use of deadly force by SSA [redacted] was justified and in conformance with the deadly force policy. This discussion resulted in a recommendation that no administrative action be taken against SSA [redacted] as a result of his involvement in this shooting incident. b6 b7C

REPORT OF SHOOTING INCIDENT
PHOENIX DIVISION
06/03/2005

Character: ADMINISTRATIVE INQUIRY

Synopsis: This shooting incident was the result of an attempted resolution to a stand-off by a barricaded subject.

On 05/12/2005, [redacted] arrived at the Gallup Resident Agency, Phoenix Division, alleging that her husband, [redacted] had severely beaten her. [redacted] then forced his wife into a vehicle, drove her from her home in Ft. Defiance, New Mexico to Navajo, New Mexico (NM) where he threatened to kill her and continued to beat her. On 05/16/2005, an Indian Country Domestic Violence case was opened on [redacted] b6 b7C

Also on 05/12/2005, [redacted] sought and received a Temporary Protection Order against [redacted] from the Family Court of the Navajo Nation Judicial District of Window Rock, Arizona.

On 06/02/2005, at approximately 2140 hours, Sheriff Deputy [redacted] of the McKinley County Sheriff's Office, McKinley County, NM, arrived at [redacted] Gallup, NM in an attempt to serve [redacted] with the aforementioned Temporary Protective Order.

[1] 198H-PX-76284. Investigation resulted in a federal criminal complaint against [redacted], obtained on 05/20/2005, for a violation of 18 USC §§1153, 1201 (Crimes Committed Within Indian Country/Kidnaping).

This document contains neither recommendations nor conclusions of the FBI. It is the property of the FBI and is loaned to your agency; it and its contents are not to be distributed outside your agency.

While making inquiries, Deputy [redacted] learned that [redacted] was at the residence. [redacted] was sitting on a couch and while Deputy [redacted] was talking with [redacted] reached for a pistol, ignoring Deputy [redacted] commands to stop. [redacted] stated, "you're not going to take me alive." Deputy [redacted] sought cover outside the residence. Deputy [redacted] then commanded [redacted] to drop the weapon and come out of the residence. Soon thereafter, [redacted] exited the residence with the pistol, and entered a pick-up truck parked nearby. While [redacted] was starting the vehicle, a male on the scene advised Deputy [redacted] that [redacted] had planned a "suicide by cop." [redacted] departed the area and led Deputy [redacted] and two later joining McKinley County units, on a vehicle chase. When [redacted] arrived at New Mexico state line at Window Rock, Arizona (AZ), the McKinley County units ended their pursuit. b6 b7C

As the McKinley County units ended their pursuit of [redacted] Officer [redacted] of the Navajo Nation Department of Law Enforcement (NNDLE) picked-up the pursuit in Window Rock, AZ. NNDLE Patrol Sergeant [redacted] in her vehicle, soon joined Officer [redacted] in the pursuit. Thereafter, Officers [redacted] and [redacted] joined in. Sergeant [redacted] learned from her dispatcher that [redacted] was armed. [redacted] later brandished the weapon during the pursuit. The four patrol cars continued to follow him to a residence located near mile post 5, route 112, Fort Defiance, AZ. Sergeant [redacted] who was familiar with [redacted] knew this to be the residence of [redacted] mother-in-law.

Route 112 is a north/south road. The residence sits on a field west of route 112, with the main door facing east. There are two possible entry points to the residence. The northern-most entry point was roped-off. b6 b7C

As the pursuit headed north down route 112, [redacted] ended the 35 mile-long pursuit by attempting to turn left and enter the southern-most, or first, driveway entrance to the property. His pick-up truck, however, became stuck just inside the perimeter fence. [redacted] exited his stuck vehicle and ran west towards the residence. Officer [redacted] powered his vehicle through the point where [redacted] got stuck and parked approximately 20 yards from the residence. Sergeant [redacted] Officer [redacted] and Officer [redacted] all parked near the east-side of the residence.

As [redacted] ran towards the residence, Officer [redacted] alighted from his vehicle and gave chase. However, Officer [redacted] stopped when he noticed that [redacted] could not gain entry into the residence and instead moved behind a pick-up truck parked parallel to, and in front of, the house.

When [redacted] was close to the pick-up, officers saw that he was holding a pistol to his head. The officers took positions of cover behind the parked units. [redacted] made several statements to officers including that he "wanted to end it all" and that he wanted to "see FBI Agent [redacted] began pacing back and forth, alternately pointing his handgun at himself and the officers while ignoring commands to drop the handgun.

At some point during the stand-off, the Officers moved their vehicles to gain tactical advantage by setting-up the vehicles up in a more linear fashion. They were placed with the vehicle headlights facing [redacted] and the entrance of the residence. Efforts to diffuse [redacted] agitated state were unsuccessful. He continued to point his handgun at himself and police, pacing back and forth, alternately moving from behind the cover of the parked pick-up truck and then towards police. He appeared agitated and angry, yelling out statements such as "Life sucks," "I'm going to kill myself," "I'm a convicted felon and I'm not going back to prison," and "I'm going to shoot at you guys so you'll have to kill me." [redacted] calmed-down for short periods of time, but would also quickly return to an agitated state. During a few points in the stand-off with police, [redacted] made requests for Special Agent (SA) [redacted] to be present. The NNDLE contacted SA [redacted] and requested his presence.

SA [redacted] of the Phoenix Division's component of the Gallup Resident Agency (GRA) arrived at the scene at approximately 2330 hours. SA [redacted] had previous dealings with [redacted] Although not an FBI informant, [redacted] had provided SA [redacted] with information on area criminal activity. In addition, SA [redacted] was aware of a recently obtained federal criminal complaint against [redacted] SA [redacted] of the Albuquerque Division's component of the GRA arrived shortly after SA [redacted] SA [redacted] was the only Certified Crisis Negotiator in the GRA, having received his certification approximately one month prior to the shooting. Upon their arrival, they observed several NNDLE patrol vehicles set-up in the front yard of the residence, facing more-or-less west, with their headlights shining on [redacted]

SAs [redacted] and [redacted] having contacted Senior Supervisory Resident Agent (SSRA) [redacted] the SSRA responsible for the Ft. Defiance, AZ area, and a Crisis Negotiator himself, began employing a mutually agreed upon strategy aimed at bringing the barricaded situation to a close.

SA [redacted] with guidance from SA [redacted] began talking with [redacted] trying to determine the source of his agitation. SA began by telling that he should remember his family. SA explained to how tough it would be on his children if he were to get hurt. There was a long period of general conversation back and forth about family and about the reasons why should not hurt himself. Over time, these conversations cycled and recycled covering the same topics. Also during this time, would sit, stand, walk-around, all the while alternately pointing his pistol at himself and the law enforcement officers on the scene. At some point, was given a jacket because he stated he was cold. b6 b7C

At one point, advanced towards the vehicles, coming within 15 yards of SA cover vehicle. While advancing, he continued to alternately point his pistol at himself and the officers and agents. stopping his advance, stated that he didn't care if the officers had vests "because he had put Teflon on the bullets." At that point, SA told to stop waiving the gun around and to put the gun down. responded that he wanted SA there and if someone was going to kill him that he wanted it to be SA then stated that he wanted to talk with his wife and that if he could talk with her, he would put the gun down. During this time it was apparent that was getting agitated. While this was taking place, SA expressed to SA his discomfort with how close was coming towards them and the way in which was waiving his pistol at them. More commands from SA to caused to eventually back-down. He took a seat close to the residence By this time, it was approximately 0030 hours, 06/03/2005.

During repose, SA and SA decided to regroup and review their strategy. SA took advantage of the down-time and checked-in with SSRA SSRA and SAs and agreed that because nothing had occurred to change the negotiation approach and because time was on their side, they would continue to employ the same strategy and take as long as was needed to resolve the matter. Also during this period of time, SA took advantage of the break to address a cross-fire concern he had with the location of a few of the NNDLE officers positioned on the south-side of the perimeter. b6 b7C

Approximately 45 minutes after had settled-down, another wave of negotiations began. During this period, the bulk of the conversation centered around desire to see his wife. was making conflicting statements when SA tried to convince him not to hurt himself. On one occasion, when SA told that he should not hurt himself, stated that "the pain was too great". Shortly thereafter, however, responding to the same statement by SA [redacted] stated that "it was against his principles as a Native American to hurt himself." During this period, [redacted] tried to negotiate an immunity agreement by telling SA [redacted] that if he could sign something that immunized him from the events of the evening, he would end the stand-off immediately. Knowing that an actual agreement of this kind was not feasible, SAs [redacted] and [redacted] agreed that lying to [redacted] about providing such an agreement was risky, because if [redacted] saw through the lie, there was no way of knowing how he would react.

During the course of the evening, from the beginning of the stand-off, until after the shooting, a number of additional members of the NNDLE arrived. Specifically, they were: Officers [redacted] b6 b7C and [redacted] and Sergeant [redacted] head of the tactical team. These officers participated during some stage of the stand-off in either a relief capacity, or as members of the NNDLE tactical team. In addition, an ambulance from the Ft. Defiance Indian Hospital was at the scene.

At approximately 0200 hours, an officer from the NNDLE advised SAs [redacted] and [redacted] that [redacted] two sons were on the scene. They had offered to talk to [redacted] SA [redacted] established that [redacted] and his sons did not get along. SA [redacted] therefore, opted against introducing [redacted] sons to the equation. They were placed to the far rear of the scene. Shortly thereafter, [redacted] entered into the parked pick-up truck and appeared to lock the doors. He sat on the passenger side of the truck, the side closest to the police vehicle perimeter. The time was approximately 0300 hours. Some time passed without dialogue. It is believed that [redacted] had fallen asleep in the truck.

While things were quiet, Sergeant [redacted] and other members of the NNDLE tactical team expressed their concern that the impending sunrise would place the officers and agents in greater danger because the light would expose them to [redacted] Therefore, Sergeant [redacted] raised the possibility of sending in dogs, less-than-lethal bean-bag projectiles, or tear gas, all in an effort to bring the matter to closure. While it was clear that both the FBI and the NNDLE had a stake in the outcome of this matter, because this stand-off was the result of a local police matter, the NNDLE still had primary jurisdiction. SAs [redacted] and [redacted] convinced the NNDLE to delay escalation of the stand-off as it appeared that [redacted] was asleep and nothing had occurred to necessitate escalation. Additional consultation between SSRA [redacted], SAs [redacted] and [redacted] resulted in the conclusion that it was necessary to wake [redacted] so that he did not have the tactical advantage of being rested while the agents and officers were becoming fatigued. Therefore, SA [redacted] used the air horn in his vehicle to wake [redacted]

[redacted] awoke and opened the pick-up truck door, again demanding to speak to his wife. SA [redacted] told [redacted] that if he put down his gun, he would personally arrest him and allow [redacted] to call anyone he wanted. [redacted] became angry and slammed the truck's door shut. At this moment, SA [redacted] sensed that the situation was changing for the worse. While [redacted] was in the pick-up, SA [redacted] stepped back to the rear of his Bureau vehicle and removed from a lock box his Bureau issued AR-15 rifle. He loaded and chambered a round into the weapon, and checked the weapon's sites and light. He then took a position standing on the passenger side of a Navajo police vehicle, using the engine block for cover. b6 b7C

At approximately 0430 hours, Sergeant [redacted] informed SAs [redacted] and [redacted] that, because sunrise was imminent, his tactical team was preparing to deploy a flash bang grenade to distract and disorient [redacted] and then launch tear gas into the back window of the pick-up truck to extract [redacted] SA [redacted] requested that Sergeant [redacted] make his plan the last option because SA [redacted] still wanted to try to talk [redacted] into surrendering. SA [redacted] also requested that Sergeant [redacted] let him know in advance when his people were going to do anything tactical so that there would be ample warning.

Before Sergeant [redacted]'s plan could be effectuated, [redacted] got out of the truck and again demanded to speak with his wife. SA [redacted] believed that [redacted] appeared to be under the influence of drugs, which he believed to be methamphetamine. Earlier, [redacted] had stated that he had methamphetamine with him and that he was going to ingest it.[2] SA [redacted]' belief was further solidified because [redacted] demeanor had changed, and he appeared to be desperate and ready for things to end. SA [redacted] believed that [redacted] based on his actions and statements, was trying to provoke the agents and officers to shoot him. b6 b7C

SA [redacted] consistently kept telling [redacted] to stop moving around, and to stop moving towards them. SA [redacted] issued multiple commands for [redacted] to put his gun down. While [redacted] was moving around, he alternated moving the pistol from a position of rest on his chest, to waving the pistol, to pointing it in the direction of officers and agents. While walking back and forth, [redacted] would, at times, walk in a northerly direction. This placed the agents and officers in a position of high vulnerability, leaving them without sufficient cover.

At approximately 0500 hours, [redacted] was becoming increasingly fidgety. His breathing could be heard. It was apparent to many that the situation had deteriorated and one officer from behind SA [redacted] yelled that "something was going to happen." [redacted] then faced SA [redacted] had then placed himself north, where several officers were most vulnerable. [redacted] then moved his weapon off of his chest and began to turn it toward SA [redacted] SA [redacted] believed that he, or one of the other officers, was going to be shot. SA [redacted] had his weapon aimed at [redacted] chest. SA [redacted] believed that [redacted] left him with no safe alternative and, therefore, fired one round at [redacted] from his weapon. b6 b7C

After [redacted] was shot, his pistol fell out his hand. [redacted] then fell face forward to the ground and onto his stomach. [redacted] started to roll over onto his side and appeared to be moving toward his gun which was lying nearby. SA [redacted] started to move in toward [redacted] with his weapon aimed at him, in case he would have to shoot [redacted] a second time. At this time, there was a shot fired from behind and to the right of SA [redacted]. It was a bean-bag round fired by one of the NNDLE officers. The bean-bag struck [redacted] in the chest, knocking him back away from the gun. Other officers moved in on [redacted] .They secured the handgun[3] and handcuffed [redacted] Paramedics and officers then began to administer first aid. [redacted] was then immediately transported to the Ft. Defiance Indian Hospital. b6 b7C

SSRA [redacted] was immediately contacted when [redacted] was shot. He departed Flagstaff en route to the scene. While en route, SSRA [redacted] contacted ASAC Rabbiner of the Phoenix Division to advise him of the situation. Later, FBI ERT members arrived to process the scene.

Once [redacted] was stabilized at the hospital, it was learned that the round fired by SA [redacted] had passed through [redacted] hand, fragmented, and then passed into his stomach. He is expected to survive.

[3] The pistol's hammer was cocked and a round was in the chamber.

Synopsis: The Shooting Incident Review Group (SIRG) reviewed a shooting incident that occurred on 08/09/2005, involving Special Agent (SA) [redacted] During the execution of an arrest warrant, SA [redacted] fired one round from his Bureau-issued Glock, Model 22, 40 millimeter pistol, injuring an approaching dog who had bitten a Task Force Officer (TFO) on the scene. SIRG members recommended that no administrative action be taken against SA [redacted] as a result of his involvement in the shooting incident.

Administrative: Reference Electronic Communication of Assistant Special Agent in Charge (ASAC) John V. Gillies, dated 10/17/2005.

Details: This communication was prepared to furnish the analysis, comments, and recommendations of the SIRG with reference to the captioned shooting.

Details of the Shooting Incident

On 08/09/2005, members of the County of Macomb Enforcement Team (COMET) Violent Crimes Task Force were attempting to execute an arrest warrant on a subject wanted for Fraud.

As arrest team members approached the subject, who was positively identified in front of his residence, he backed away from law enforcement officers and entered his residence. A TFO followed the subject and was on the porch when the subject entered his residence. As the subject entered, a black dog was released from inside the home and attacked the TFO, biting him twice on the upper leg/buttocks area. As a result of the dog biting him, the TFO fell to the ground; however, he pushed the dog away and entered the residence. As SA [redacted] approached the residence to assist the TFO, the dog began to growl and bark at him. SA [redacted] began backing up with the dog rapidly approaching him. Fearing for his safety, SA [redacted] fired one shot at the dog striking it in the shoulder area. The dog was immediately attended to by its owner and taken to a veterinary hospital for treatment. The dog's owner advised law enforcement authorities that the dog had received home protective security training and was trained to attack anyone who acted in a threatening manner toward her or the residence.

On 12/01/2005, the SIRG met to discuss the above-captioned shooting incident. Deputy Assistant Director Daniel Lee Cloyd, Inspection Division, chaired the meeting and was a non-voting member. The following voting members were in attendance: Former Chief Inspector Kimberly K. Mertz, Office of Inspections, Inspection Division; [redacted] Deputy Chief, Civil Rights Division, Criminal Section, USDOJ; [redacted] Deputy Chief, Domestic Security Section, Criminal Division, USDOJ; [redacted] Assistant Section Chief (ASC), Operational Support Section, Criminal Investigative Division; [redacted] Unit Chief (UC), Firearms Training Unit, Training and Development Division (TDD); UC [redacted] National Firearms Program, TDD; Acting UC [redacted], Special Weapons and Tactics Operations Unit, Critical Incident Response Group; [redacted] ASC, CD-6, Counterintelligence Division; Supervisory Special Agent (SSA) [redacted], Firearms - Toolmarks Unit, Scientific Analysis Section, Laboratory Division; SSA [redacted] Program Manager, Operational Skills Unit, TDD; and SSA [redacted], Investigative Law Unit, Office of the General Counsel (OGC). [redacted] Management Program Analyst, Inspection Management Unit, Office of Inspections, Inspection Division, a non-voting member, was also in attendance.

Observations and Recommendations of the SIRG

The SIRG reviewed the above-synopsized incident with the intent to: (1) evaluate the application of deadly force; (2) provide the Director with an evaluative analysis, observations, and recommendations for corrective actions from an operational standpoint (if any); (3) provide recommendations concerning training and/or safety issues; and (4) provide recommendations for administrative action if deemed necessary.

SIRG members unanimously agreed that the use of deadly force by SA [redacted] was justified and in conformance with the deadly force policy. This discussion led to the recommendation that no administrative action be taken against SA [redacted] as a result of his involvement in this shooting incident. b6 b7C

Synopsis: The Shooting Incident Review Group (SIRG) reviewed a shooting incident that occurred on 09/22/2005, involving Special Agent (SA) [redacted] During the arrest of a fugitive attempting to elude arrest, SA [redacted] fired three rounds from his Bureau-issued Glock Model 22, .40 caliber pistol, injuring the subject. SIRG members recommended that no action be taken against SA [redacted] as a result of his involvement in this shooting incident.

Administrative: Reference report of Inspector-in-Place [redacted] dated 11/03/2005.

Details: This communication was prepared to furnish the analysis, comments, and recommendations of the SIRG with reference to the captioned shooting.

Details of the Shooting Incident

In August 2005, SA [redacted] began working with the Manchester, New Hampshire, Police Department (PD) regarding the armed robbery of a market. The subject of the armed robbery used a sawed off shotgun during the robbery and escaped with $17,000 in cash. A federal arrest warrant was issued for [redacted] in connection with the robbery.

SA [redacted] interviewed [redacted] girlfriend [redacted] about the robbery; however, she denied having any knowledge despite the fact that a vehicle registered to her, with a female driver, was seen leaving the robbery. [redacted] could not account for the location of her vehicle and reported it stolen after being interviewed by SA [redacted]

SA [redacted] interviewed [redacted] who advised [redacted] was a crack cocaine user and had been convicted of armed robbery, as well as the assault of a police officer. She explained that [redacted] attempted to run over police officers with his vehicle during his attempted arrest. [redacted]

After discussing the situation, a decision was made to contact [redacted] and advise her they would not attempt to execute [redacted] however, the

[redacted]

SSRA [redacted] coordinated efforts to surveil the meeting between [redacted] and [redacted] at the church. Law enforcement officers were going to instruct [redacted] to attempt to obtain any information regarding the location of [redacted] Agents and Detectives involved in the matter were instructed to meet at the Quincy PD for a 4:00 p.m. briefing.

SA [redacted] suggested that a surveillance of [redacted] apartment be initiated in anticipation of her leading law enforcement personnel to the subject before the 6:15 p.m., meeting with his sister. Upon approval of [redacted] suggestion, both he and SA [redacted] volunteered to conduct the surveillance.

SAs [redacted] and [redacted] departed the Bedford Resident Agency at approximately 11:00 a.m., and arrived in the vicinity of [redacted] apartment between 12:30 and 1:00 p.m. [redacted] vehicle could not be located at that time; however, between 2:00 and 2:30 p.m., SA [redacted] observed a white Mercury Marquis enter the apartment complex. SA [redacted] observed a white female, believed to be [redacted] enter a ground level apartment and contacted SA [redacted] of the events. SA [redacted] confirmed that [redacted] lived in a ground level apartment and it was determined the license plate on the vehicle matched the one registered to [redacted]

Between 2:30 and 3:00 p.m., SA [redacted] observed [redacted] vehicle exit the apartment complex. He and SA [redacted] followed the vehicle as [redacted] drove through a public park and proceeded to a shopping mall at a high rate of speed. SA [redacted] observed [redacted] exit her vehicle and enter the mall. [redacted] exited the mall between 3:15 and 3:30 p.m., and entered her vehicle. SA [redacted] contacted the owner/manager of a store inside the mall and confirmed [redacted] had not gotten [redacted] tuxedo. b6 b7C

Upon [redacted] exit from the mall, SAs [redacted] and [redacted] continued to follow her and watched as she entered the parking lot of the Extended Stay Hotel. The Agents drove past the hotel but could not see [redacted] vehicle. SA [redacted] immediately contacted SSA [redacted] who was with SA [redacted] at the Quincy PD to advise of the latest developments.

SA [redacted] drove SA [redacted] to the hotel and returned to a parking lot across the street from the hotel, where he was joined by additional Agents and detectives. The detectives left the parking lot area, however, stayed in the general vicinity of the Agents.

SA [redacted] advised he made contact with the hotel manager who verified [redacted] had checked into the hotel. She provided the hotel with an invalid address and a telephone number that was not current. SA [redacted] viewed a video provided by the manager and confirmed [redacted] checked into the hotel alone. SA [redacted] then requested the assistance of a second Agent inside the hotel.

After consultation with CDC Frank Davis and Assistant United States Attorney [redacted] a determination was made that there was not enough probable cause to enter the hotel room in an effort to locate and apprehend [redacted] SA [redacted] and SSA [redacted] discussed different scenarios that could be employed to successfully locate and arrest [redacted] A decision was made to keep the existing team of Agents and detectives at the hotel when [redacted] left and traveled to her meeting in Quincy. One ground unit and the Bureau airplane would be utilized to surveil her at the time of her departure. A second team of Agents and detectives located in Quincy would be responsible for covering the meeting between [redacted] and [redacted] sister. Additionally, SA b6 b7C [redacted] planned to interview [redacted] after the meeting with [redacted] hoping to obtain enough information that would produce probable cause to obtain a search warrant for [redacted] hotel room.

Law enforcement personnel at the hotel received information from SA [redacted] that the hotel clerk who rented the room to [redacted] observed her standing at the hotel elevator with an unknown male. SA [redacted] also reported that [redacted] obtained change at the front desk to wash clothes in the basement of the hotel. SA [redacted] proceeded to the laundry room where he observed one dryer operating containing clothes belonging to a man and a woman. Additionally, SA [redacted] had previously heard a male voice coming from one of the rooms associated with [redacted] Shortly thereafter, SA [redacted] contacted SA [redacted] and advised him [redacted] was entering the driver's side of [redacted] white Mercury Marquis, with [redacted] entering the passenger side. SA [redacted] immediately decided to effect [redacted] arrest in the hotel parking lot. One of the Braintree detectives at the scene provided SA [redacted] with a walkie talkie to allow for communication with local law enforcement personnel. SA [redacted] announced over the Bureau radio that [redacted] was leaving the hotel and an attempt would be made to stop and arrest him in the parking lot.

SA [redacted] drove his vehicle toward the hotel looking for the subject vehicle. Seeing an unusual amount of heavy traffic as well as pedestrians in the area, SA [redacted] entered the parking lot and stopped his vehicle directly in front of the hotel lobby. The detectives entered the parking lot, however, stayed near the entrance. While searching for the subject vehicle's location in the parking lot, SA [redacted] recalled hearing words to the affect, "they're leaving the parking lot." SA [redacted] believed the information was relayed over the police radio. As SA [redacted] heard the information on the radio, he saw the subject vehicle traveling toward the parking lot exit. SA [redacted] drove his vehicle toward the parking lot exit and blocked the subject vehicle before it entered the street. SA [redacted] also identified the driver of the vehicle as [redacted] and observed him looking in his rearview mirror. SA [redacted] exited his vehicle and drew his weapon. While walking toward the subject vehicle, SA [redacted] believed he shouted, "FBI, stop the car" or similar words to that affect. SA [redacted] heard other voices shouting similar commands for the subject to stop the car. As SA [redacted] approached the subject vehicle, [redacted] was attempting to back his vehicle toward the police van which had stopped directly behind him. [redacted] left hand was on the steering wheel and his right hand and arm were behind the front passenger headrest. According to SA [redacted] was looking through the rear window but never gave any indication of complying with orders to stop the vehicle. SA [redacted] recalled hearing the engine screaming as if [redacted] had pressed the gas pedal to the floor. Assuming [redacted] was attempting to escape, SA [redacted] believed he posed an imminent threat of death or bodily harm to himself, other Agents, and local law enforcement personnel. Having an unobstructed view of [redacted] SA [redacted] fired multiple shots at [redacted] who continued his escape efforts; however, seconds later he screamed in pain and turned around in the driver's seat. SA [redacted] approached the vehicle, opened the door, and pulled [redacted] out of the vehicle. [redacted] fell from the vehicle onto his back with his stomach area covered in blood. [redacted] was subsequently handcuffed and an Emergency Medical Team arrived within minutes and transported him for medical assistance. b6 b7C

Medical records of the suspect could not be obtained by the Shooting Incident Review Team and the subject was in an induced coma during the inquiry. However, subsequent information was received that the suspect fully recovered from the injuries he received as a result of the shots fired by SA [redacted]

No local prosecutive opinion was obtained regarding this shooting incident; however, on 06/21/2006, a declination of prosecution was received from the United States Department of Justice, Civil Rights Division, regarding the actions of SA [redacted] in this shooting incident.

On 09/21/2006, the SIRG met to discuss the above-captioned shooting incident. Deputy Assistant Director Michael S. Clemens, Inspection Division, chaired the meeting and was a non-voting member. The following voting members were in attendance: former Chief Inspector C. Frank Figliuzzi, Office of Inspections, Inspection Division; [redacted] Deputy Chief, Domestic Security Section, Criminal Division, USDOJ; [redacted] Attorney, Civil Rights Division, USDOJ; SC James Casey, Eurasian Section, CD-1, Counterintelligence Division; SC John V. Gillies, Violent Crimes Section, Criminal Investigative Division; Unit Chief (UC) [redacted] Firearms Training Unit, TDD; [redacted] Chief, Defensive Systems Unit, TDD; UC [redacted] Special Weapons and Tactics Operations Unit, Critical Incident Response Group; UC [redacted] Operational Skills Unit, TDD; SSA [redacted] Firearms - Toolmarks Unit, Scientific Analysis Section, Laboratory Division; SSA [redacted] Washington Field Office; and SSA [redacted] Investigative Law Unit, Office of the General Counsel (OGC). [redacted] Deputy General Counsel, Investigative Law Branch, OGC, and [redacted] General Attorney, Investigative Law Unit, OGC, as well as SSA [redacted] and [redacted] Management Program Analyst, Inspection Management Unit, Office of Inspections, Inspection Division, non-voting members, were also in attendance. b6 b7C

The SIRG reviewed the above synopsized incident with the intent to: (1) evaluate the application of deadly force; (2) provide the Director with an evaluative analysis, observations, and recommendations for corrective actions from an operational standpoint (if any); (3) provide recommendations concerning training and/or safety issues; and (4) provide recommendations for administrative action if deemed necessary.

With the exception of one SIRG representative, members opined that SA [redacted] reasonable use of deadly force was justified and in compliance with the deadly force policy. The dissenting voter questioned SA [redacted] statement of imminent danger considering no evidence existed that the subject aimed a weapon at law enforcement personnel. He emphasized the fact that the subject was only backing up and questioned whether the shots fired were to keep the subject from escaping or because imminent danger to law enforcement personnel existed. Other SIRG members reiterated the fact that [redacted] had advised Agents that he previously attempted to run over officers as they attempted to effect his arrest. b6 b7C

Other issues discussed by the SIRG pertained to inadequate planning and the lack of utilization of protective armor by Agents at the scene. SIRG members emphasized the fact that contingency and risk planning, as well as the Operations Plan for this incident, was inadequate. Members noted the operational plan failed to sufficiently document the "Law Enforcement Participants in the Operation," with regard to the execution of the plan. SIRG members were also cognizant of the fact that SA [redacted] advised he was not aware of an arrest plan being prepared since the operation was more of a surveillance than an arrest. It was further noted by the SIRG that the Braintree detectives provided a radio to SA [redacted] however, had no ability to communicate with other surveillance team members. Members opined that SA [redacted] made a unilateral decision to arrest [redacted] which was not previously discussed with team members. b6 b7C

The second issue centered around the fact that SA [redacted] and SA [redacted] were not utilizing their ballistic vests during the operation. SA [redacted] advised he intended to wear his vest; however, because of his constant interaction with law enforcement personnel, he did not have an opportunity to put it on before the incident.

The last observation made by the SIRG was the fact that although SA [redacted] did not fire his weapon during the incident, he was involved in the investigation and should not have conducted any witness interviews subsequent to the shooting.

Additionally, members noted the Braintree Police Department 911 tape indicated a phone call was received from the State Police who advised an individual identified as [redacted] witnessed some information regarding the incident. Although the individual's name and cell phone number were provided, there is no documented evidence that an interview was conducted of [redacted] b6 b7C

These observations will be discussed with the Special Agent in Charge of the Boston Division.

Synopsis: On 09/30/2005, Special Agents [redacted] credential number [redacted] and his partner [redacted] credential number [redacted] were on duty in their capacity as Los Angeles FBI Special Agents (SAs). The SAs were assisting the Los Angeles Police Department (LAPD) in a surveillance when they were involved in a shooting incident following an attempted robbery and carjacking of their Bureau vehicle. The background and facts of the case are as follows:

The LAPD contacted FBI Los Angeles at the beginning of September of 2005 reference numerous armed robberies of restaurants in the San Fernando Valley, a suburb of Los Angeles, California. They requested technical assistance and personnel in an effort to identify and apprehend the subjects. The FBI in Los Angeles opened a Hobbs Act investigation, file number 192B-LA-242506 as its underlying violation.

The subjects involved in the robberies had been targeting a particular area of the San Fernando Valley which is northeast of the City of Los Angeles. The robberies had been taking place most frequently on Thursday, Friday, and Saturday evenings. The decision was made to place approximately thirty (30) two person teams of SAs in surveillance vehicles. Each of these teams would be responsible for a section of the above identified area of the valley. The LAPD was providing teams of their own as well as air units to respond to any robberies or problems which may occur. Each of these teams would have two radio channels in addition to coordinating the different movements of the teams in the field. It should be noted that this surveillance system had been in use on nine previous nights during the month of September 2005. The subjects of the investigation were not involved in any robberies during those previous nights.

SAs [redacted] and [redacted] were teamed up and were responsible for a group of restaurants near the intersection of Corbin Avenue and Vanowen Street. There were other teams conducting surveillance of restaurants adjacent to the area being covered by SAs [redacted] and [redacted] The various teams were all in place on 09/29/2005 at approximately 7:30 pm and were scheduled to stay out in the field until 09/30/2005 at 12:30 am.

SAs [redacted] and [redacted] were in a 2000 red four door Oldsmobile. SA [redacted] was driving and SA [redacted] was in the front passenger seat. A few minutes before midnight they had backed into a driveway of a closed business facing out onto Corbin Avenue just south of Vanowen Street. As it was a warm evening, SA [redacted] had the window of the driver's door open. Both SAs were dressed casually and there were no markings on the outside of the vehicle which signified it as a law enforcement vehicle.

At about one minute after midnight (now 09/30/2005), a green and grey 1993 Chevrolet S-10 Blazer pulled up next to the SA's vehicle. The vehicle was occupied by four Hispanic males. The driver of the Blazer, later identified as CESAR BALLESTEROS, exited his vehicle and immediately approached the driver's side of the FBI vehicle where SA [redacted] was seated. The subject reached in and grabbed SA [redacted] shirt with his left hand. The subject took his right hand and was reaching below on SA [redacted] s left side. SA [redacted] heard the subject state, "Give me your fucking ("money" or "car" as SA [redacted] could not recall) or I'll kill you!" SA [redacted] was wearing a bullet proof vest. He could not see a gun or knife at that moment but said it felt like one or the other was being pushed against his left side and chest.

SA [redacted] is left handed and he was trying to access his weapon as well as making sure the subject did not take it from him. SA [redacted] was able to hear and observe the actions of the subjects and made the decision to stop the imminent threat against their lives. He took his handgun, a Glock 9mm Model 17, and fired at least three rounds at subject BALLESTEROS. The rounds struck the subject in his upper left chest (the subject had been leaning down into the car) and in both of his hands (wrists). Subject BALLESTEROS yelled something and then began running north on Corbin Avenue towards Vanowen Street. He collapsed about 80 feet north of the scene and died. He had fallen face down in a stall of a self car wash facility.

Prior to BALLESTEROS running away, a second subject had exited the subject's vehicle. This individual had begun running around to the front (east side) of the FBI vehicle towards the direction of the passenger side of the car. SA [redacted] shot four times through the front windshield of the FBI vehicle. He struck the second subject, later identified as juvenile [redacted], in the right hand. [redacted] immediately ran north from the area as did the other two subjects who had been in the vehicle.

SA [redacted], after accessing his handgun, fired at least three rounds from inside the vehicle in an effort to shoot and stop BALLESTEROS. None of the rounds struck the subject. SA [redacted] following the shooting, drove south from the area to get out of the fire zone. After confirming SA [redacted] was not injured he communicated via the Bureau vehicle radio what had happened. SAs in nearby units immediately responded to their location. The LAPD also responded and set up a perimeter with the assistance of the FBI, but the other three subjects were not located at this time. The LAPD deployed scent dogs and SWAT team members throughout the area in an effort to locate and apprehend the remaining subjects. At this time none of the three were observed in the area.

A handgun was located approximately fifteen (15) feet northeast of the subject's vehicle lying on the sidewalk. It was a .25 caliber Baretta, Model 950BS. There was no magazine in the weapon and it was not loaded. The weapon was later determined to have been stolen from Gautier, Mississippi.

Contact was made at the nearby hospitals when ER staff advised there was a juvenile named [redacted] at a local ER who had sustained a gunshot wound to his right hand. SAs and members of the LAPD responded to the hospital and the LAPD interviewed the subject. [redacted] admitted to having been at the location and that the driver of the vehicle was CESAR

BALLESTEROS, a 26 year old male. [redacted] also provided the names of the other two individuals in the subject vehicle, [redacted] and [redacted], both juveniles. The LAPD, with the assistance of the FBI, went to their residence and both were arrested. b6 b7C

The Los Angeles County District Attorney (LADA) has charged all three juveniles as adults. They have been charged with two counts each of attempted car jacking with the use of a firearm, attempted robbery with the use of a firearm, and Second Degree Robbery. They also are considering charging the three with "Provactive Murder" which means the death of one of their co-conspirators. The two FBI agents were the only witnesses to this crime.

The Los Angeles FBI Agent Involved Shooting (AIS) team responded to the scene and coordinated an investigative strategy with the LAPD. The FBI is conducting the Administrative aspects of this investigation and the LAPD and the Los Angeles County District Attorney is responsible for the charges brought against the three juveniles. The FBI and the LAPD often work together on these shooting investigations and there is an excellent working relationship.

Upon the arrival of the AIS team, both SAs [redacted] and [redacted] gave a basic statement which included a description of the subjects and the direction they fled. The statement they provided outlined what had happened but with little detail. Within a few minutes of the incident, Los Angeles Chief Division Counsel (CDC) Luis Flores arrived at the crime scene. He spoke separately with both of the SAs. Since there was a fatality, he secured permission from FBIHQ and DOJ to hire interim legal representation from DOJ for both SA [redacted] and SA [redacted]. Although both DOJ Attorneys were contacted the evening of the incident, neither of the DOJ Attorney representatives responded to scene. Later that morning, both attorneys spoke telephonically with SAs [redacted] and [redacted] and were advised not to make a statement unless it was compelled. b6 b7C

On 10/12/2005, Assistant United States Attorney (AUSA) [redacted] of the Los Angeles U.S. Attorney's Office (USAO), Central District of California was contacted reference the shooting incident. She was provided the facts of the incident as best as could be determined without a statement from the victims. She advised the USAO saw nothing in the incident which would lead them to filing any type of criminal charge against either SA [redacted] or SA [redacted]

On 10/2/2005, an autopsy was conducted on subject CESAR BALLESTEROS by the Los Angeles County Coroner's office. This autopsy was attended by SA [redacted] and SA [redacted]. The findings of the coroner indicate that subject BALLESTEROS was struck a total of three times, once in the upper left chest and once in each hand (wrist). The round through the subject's chest went through both of his lungs, his heart, and his liver. After this shot he was able to travel about 80 feet before collapsing and dying. This round was a 9mm round. b6 b7C

The FBI EAP responded to the location to assist SAs [redacted] and [redacted] Both the FBI vehicle and the subject vehicle were transported to the FBI Evidence Response Team offsite for processing.

The statements made by the three subjects, [redacted] and [redacted] do not coincide. [redacted] who sustained a gunshot to his right hand, admitted to being with BALLESTEROS, [redacted] and [redacted] at the crime scene. He was not being cooperative until he learned that BALLESTEROS had died at the scene. He then claimed all four them discussed robbing the vehicle and that they all agreed that they were going to do it. [redacted] gave information as to the whereabouts of [redacted] and [redacted] following being Mirandized by the LAPD, stated that he was with his friends and they were driving down an unknown street. He said that two unknown males started shooting at them for an unknown reason. [redacted] advised that he was with the above group and they were standing outside of their vehicle. At this time the shooting happened but he has no idea why they were being shot at by the males. b6 b7C

Given the fact that the available witnesses provided inconsistent statements and with no independent witnesses other than the victim FBI agents, the LADA advised statements from SAs [redacted] and [redacted] will be critical to their investigation. These statements were obtained on March 13, 2006. This following FBI Los Angeles being notified on February 24, 2006 that DOJ had declined any prosecution of the agents and that a compelled statement should be received from both agents.

In this case the LADA office has advised they plan on subpoenaing both SA [redacted] and SA [redacted] as victims/witnesses in their prosecution of the three remaining subjects. Their testimony was originally being requested by the LADA anywhere from the first to the middle of December 2005. The subject's attorneys have asked for a continuance until May of 2006.

Synopsis: The Shooting Incident Review Group (SIRG) reviewed a shooting incident that occurred on 02/28/2005, involving Supervisory Senior Resident Agent (SSRA) [redacted] SSRA [redacted] assigned to the Oxford, Mississippi RA, fired five rounds from his Bureau-issued Glock Model 22, 40 caliber pistol, killing an aggressive pit bull dog at his residence. SIRG members recommended that no administrative action be taken against SSRA [redacted] as a result of his involvement in this shooting incident.

Administrative: Reference Electronic Communication of Assistant Special Agent in Charge William V. Jenkins, dated 03/02/2005.

Details: This communication was prepared to furnish the analysis, comments, and recommendations of the SIRG with reference to the captioned shooting.

On 02/28/2005, SSRA [redacted], received a frantic telephone call from his wife who advised that a large dog foaming at the mouth was attacking their small family dog. Mrs. [redacted] also indicated that the dog attempted to get into their residence to bite her.

SSRA [redacted] responded to his residence and exited his Bureau vehicle. As he exited the vehicle, SSRA [redacted] heard deep growling inside the garage, and drew his weapon. As he proceeded toward the garage and yelled, he saw a large brown dog carrying his pet in its mouth. SSRA [redacted] identified the attacking dog as a pit bull and observed the dog drop his small dog and began to approach him. SSRA [redacted] fired one shot into the pit bull's head, however the dog continued to approach him. He fired four additional shots at the dog's head before the pit bull actually fell to the ground and died.

Notification was made to Animal Control and to the local County Sheriff.

On 04/25/2005, the SIRG met to discuss the above-captioned shooting incident. Deputy Assistant Director (DAD) Andrew R. Bland, III, Inspection Division, chaired the meeting with the following voting members of the SIRG in attendance: [redacted] Trial Attorney, Civil Rights Division, Criminal Section, USDOJ; [redacted] Deputy Chief, Domestic Security Section, Criminal Division, USDOJ; [redacted] Chief Inspector, Office of Inspections, Inspection Division; Charles J. Rooney, Section Chief (SC), Operational Support Section, Criminal Investigative Division; [redacted] Unit Chief (UC), Firearms Training Unit, Training and Development Division (TDD); UC [redacted] National Firearms Program, TDD; Acting SC Linda McKetney, Special Inquiry and General Background Investigations Unit, Administrative Services Division; Supervisory Special Agent (SSA) [redacted] Firearms - Toolmarks Unit, Scientific Analysis Section, Laboratory Division; SSA [redacted] Investigative Law Unit, Office of the General Counsel (OGC); and SSA [redacted] Washington Field Office. The only non-voting attendee present was [redacted] Management Program Analyst, Inspection Management Unit, Office of Inspections, Inspection Division.

Observations and Recommendations of the SIRG

The SIRG reviewed the above-synopsized incident with the intent to: (1) evaluate the application of deadly force;

(2) provide the Director with an evaluative analysis, observations, and recommendations for corrective actions from an operational standpoint (if any); (3) provide recommendations concerning training and/or safety issues; and (4) provide recommendations for administrative action if deemed necessary.

SIRG members unanimously agreed that the use of deadly force by SSRA [redacted] was justified and in conformance with the deadly force policy. Therefore, a recommendation was made that no administrative action be taken against SSRA [redacted] as a result of his involvement in this shooting incident.

CHICAGO DIVISION
03/03/2005

Synopsis: The Shooting Incident Review Group (SIRG) reviewed a shooting incident that occurred on 03/03/2005, involving Special Agent (SA) [redacted] During the execution of an arrest warrant, SA [redacted] fired five rounds from his Bureau-issued Springfield, Model 1911, 45 caliber pistol, killing an aggressive pit bull dog. SIRG members recommended that no administrative action be taken against SA [redacted] as a result of his involvement in this shooting incident.

Administrative: Reference Electronic Communication (EC) of Supervisory Special Agent (SSA) [redacted], dated 03/09/2005.

Details: This communication was prepared to furnish the analysis, comments, and recommendations of the SIRG with reference to the captioned shooting.

Details of the Shooting Incident

On 03/03/2005, during the execution of multiple arrests involving gang members/associates, one subject was not located at his primary residence. Investigation determined that subject [redacted] could possibly be residing at his mother's residence located in Aurora, Illinois. The Chicago Division Special Weapons and Tactics (SWAT) Team was dispatched to the residence in Aurora, and obtained a voluntary consent to search. During the course of the search, SA [redacted] was clearing the kitchen area when a brown pit bull dog came running towards him in an aggressive and threatening manner. Fearing for his safety, SA [redacted] shot the dog five times, killing the dog. b6 b7C

The dog's owner advised Agents that the dog was very aggressive and was intent on harming SA [redacted]

On 04/25/2005, the SIRG met to discuss the above-captioned shooting incident. Deputy Assistant Director (DAD) Andrew R. Bland, III, Inspection Division, chaired the meeting with the following voting members of the SIRG in attendance: Karla Dobinski, Trial Attorney, Civil Rights Division, Criminal Section, USDOJ; Bruce Delaplaine, Deputy Chief, Domestic Security Section, Criminal Division, USDOJ; Kimberly K. Title: SHOOTING INCIDENT
11/03/2005

Synopsis: The Shooting Incident Review Group (SIRG) reviewed a shooting incident that occurred on 11/03/2005, involving Supervisory Special Agent [redacted] (currently assigned to the Criminal Investigative Division, FBIHQ), and Special Agents (SAs) [redacted] and [redacted] During the attempted arrest of subjects believed to be responsible for an armed home invasion, Agents fired multiple rounds resulting in the death of two subjects and seriously wounding two others. SIRG members recommended that no administrative action be taken against any of the Agents as a result of their involvement in this shooting incident.

Administrative: Reference report of former Inspector [redacted] dated 02/15/2006.

Details: This communication was prepared to furnish the analysis, comments, and recommendations of the SIRG with reference to the captioned shooting.

Details of the Shooting Incident

As part of the Houston Division Mara Salvatrucha-13 (MS-13) Initiative, the division was investigating a group believed to be responsible for a 07/19/2005, armed home invasion in Pasadena, Texas. As the subjects were fleeing the scene of the home invasion in a stolen vehicle, they fired weapons at the victims. During the subsequent investigation, three subjects were identified as participants in multiple carjackings, home invasions, and other aggravated robberies in the Houston area.

[redacted] conducting a "home invasion" of a Houston drug supplier. One of the subjects, identified as Jose Antonio Pino, aka El Gordo, agreed to the plan.

b7D

On 10/14/2005, the Houston Division began to implement an investigative strategy which involved convincing Pino and his associates there were 20 kilograms of cocaine hidden in a Pasadena residence, giving the subjects the opportunity to conduct a home invasion to steal the cocaine. [redacted] introduce Pino as a potential buyer to two Houston Police Department (HPD) undercover employees (UCEs) posing as drug traffickers attempting to sell the cocaine. The UCEs would allow Pino to inspect one kilogram of cocaine at the target residence and tell Pino that the cocaine would be left in the residence until he returned with the money to buy the cocaine. Agents were to leave eighteen kilograms of sham cocaine, along with two kilograms of cocaine, hidden in a closet in the target residence. Pino would leave the residence, return with his associates, and forcibly enter and attempt to steal the cocaine. Once the subjects entered the residence and took possession of the cocaine, they would be arrested. The plan called for members of the arrest team to be hidden in various locations outside of the target residence which would be equipped with audio and video capabilities. The residence would be modified to allow for only one entry/exit point which would be equipped with a magnetic lock which could be remotely activated after the subjects entered the residence, effectively locking the subjects inside the residence.

The Houston Division obtained the use of a Pasadena residence for the operation. On 10/31/2005, cameras were installed in and around the residence and a public address system was installed inside the house which would allow Agents to give the subjects commands from the Command Post. Two infrared lighting devices were also installed to enhance low light recording conditions.

On 11/01/2005, two magnetic locks on a wrought iron metal screen door located at the front of the target residence were installed. These locks allowed the metal screen door, once closed, to be locked remotely from the Command Post. All other possible exits were covered with plywood.

On 11/01/2005, Houston Division Executive Management (EM), as well as the Chief Division Counsel, Special Weapons and Tactics (SWAT) Coordinator, SWAT Team Leader, two Supervisory Special Agents, and the Case Agent met to discuss and approve the written arrest plan. On the same day, the Houston Division received FBIHQ approval for the use of show drugs in the operation.

Preparations continued at the target residence through the afternoon of 11/03/2005. The arrest team, consisting of members of the Houston Division SWAT team, reviewed and rehearsed their mission.

On 11/03/2005, at approximately 5:00 p.m., a briefing was held in the Houston Division. All personnel involved in the operation were present, including command and control personnel, arrest team members, surveillance teams, and HPD officers who would be providing perimeter security. Case Agent [redacted] provided the overall briefing, the CDC provided a briefing on the FBI's Deadly Force Policy, and the arrest team was introduced to the HPD UCEs and [redacted] A short time later, residents near the target house were asked to voluntarily evacuate their homes during the operation. b6 b7C b7D

At approximately 9:00 p.m., the arrest team was in place, [redacted] Once inside the target location, Pino was allowed to inspect a kilogram of real cocaine as a prelude to his purchase of the remaining cocaine. Pino left the target residence and returned to the restaurant. Surveillance observed Pino and five other subjects enter two vehicles and drive toward the target residence. [redacted] the subjects were armed with Uzzis and an AR-15 assault rifle. This information was immediately passed to the arrest team.

Once in front of the target residence, three subjects exited one vehicle and two exited the second vehicle. The second vehicle left the area and was subsequently stopped by the HPD. Arrest team members reported the subjects were armed with four handguns and what appeared to be an AK-47 assault rifle.

Surveillance observed the five subjects moving around the front and side yard of the target residence using hand signals. After surveying the area for approximately three minutes, the subjects quietly approached the front door. One subject kicked in the front door and entered the residence closely followed by two other subjects armed with handguns. The fourth subject, also armed with a handgun, entered the residence and the subjects began shouting in Spanish, "Don't move, don't move." All four subjects had their weapons drawn and appeared ready to fire. Arrest team members later reported hearing shots as the subjects entered the residence. Once the four subjects were inside the target residence, the metal screen door eventually closed and was remotely locked from the Command Post.

Immediately after the four subjects entered the residence, there were discussions in the Command Post concerning the possibility that the door had not locked. Hearing the Command Post discussion, and believing the subjects had the ability to quickly exit the target residence, SA [redacted] took a position covering the front door of the residence. As he approached his position, SA [redacted] heard two loud booms that he believed were rounds from a long gun. After the two distinctive booms, he heard other gunfire coming from the direction of the house. Observing an armed subject appear in the doorway who attempted to leave the target residence, SA [redacted] fired multiple rounds from his M-4 rifle in the direction of the subject in the doorway. The subject did not go down and SA [redacted] was unsure if he had hit the subject. The subject stepped out of SA [redacted] view and a few moments later reappeared in the doorway. It did not appear to SA [redacted] the subject was following verbal commands being issued in Spanish. SA [redacted] advised he believed the subject was being told he was under arrest and to lay down his weapons. SA [redacted] observed the subject on his knees, then down on his stomach doing what appeared to be a low crawl position. According to SA [redacted] he saw the subject moving his right arm and hand in a noncompliant fashion as if he were reaching for something. At that point, SA [redacted] again fired his weapon. It was later determined the subject had been shot six times including being struck in the head by gunfire and killed.

SA [redacted] approached the target residence in a vehicle from the southwest and positioned himself behind a vehicle located in front of the front door of the target residence. Prior to assuming his position, SA [redacted] heard numerous gunshots. He observed two subjects around the doorway and according to SA [redacted] he observed one subject armed with a pistol move from the left side of the doorway to the right in a noncompliant manner. Knowing the subject was noncompliant with commands and believing the subject posed an imminent threat of bodily injury to the Agents located on the side of the house, SA [redacted] fired a single round from his weapon.

SAs [redacted] and [redacted] were positioned at the rear of the Command Post covering the rear of the target residence. Both Agents heard via radio that five subjects arrived at the residence with at least one carrying a "long gun." After hearing a siren, gunshots, and commands to the subjects, the Agents observed one subject come to a back window and break it with the barrel of his weapon and point the weapon in their direction. Fearing for their safety, as well as the safety of other Agents, SA [redacted] fired one round from his Glock, Model 22 pistol and SA [redacted] fired four rounds from his M-4, .223 caliber rifle.

Several minutes after the gunfire, SA [redacted] used the PA system and directed one subject, identified as [redacted] to a cellular telephone that had been left in the target residence. Using the cellular phone, SA [redacted] with the assistance of SA [redacted] instructed the remaining three subjects on how to surrender and exit the residence safely. Approximately 45 minutes later, two subjects exited the residence and were arrested. [redacted] was seriously wounded and unable to leave the residence under his own power. Immediately after the arrest team secured the residence, paramedics were allowed to enter to administer first aide to [redacted] and [redacted] were transported to nearby hospitals for treatment. b6 b7C

On 11/09/2005, [redacted] and [redacted] were charged with Aggravated Robbery and Burglary of a Habitation with intent to commit a crime.

On 05/04/2007, the United States Department of Justice, Civil Rights Division, advised there was insufficient evidence to warrant a criminal investigation into this matter.

On 05/15/2007, the SIRG met to discuss the above-captioned shooting incident. Deputy Assistant Director Michael S. Clemens, Inspection Division, chaired the meeting and was a non-voting member. The following voting members were in attendance: former Chief Inspector [redacted] Office of Inspections, Inspection Division; [redacted] Trial Attorney, Domestic Security Section, Criminal Division, USDOJ; [redacted], Special Legal Counsel, Civil Rights Division, USDOJ; Section Chief (SC) James Casey, Eurasian Section, CD-1, Counterintelligence Division; SC John V. [redacted] Management Program Analyst, Inspection Management Unit, Office of Inspections, Inspection Division, a non-voting member, was also in attendance. b6 b7C

Observations and Recommendations of the SIRG

The SIRG reviewed the above-synopsized incident with the intent to: (1) evaluate the application of deadly force;

(2) provide the Director with an evaluative analysis, observations, and recommendations for corrective actions from an operational standpoint (if any); (3) provide recommendations concerning training and/or safety issues; and (4) provide recommendations for administrative action if deemed necessary.

Prior to the discussion of this incident by SIRG members, former Inspector [redacted] provided an overview regarding the facts of the investigation. Chairman Clemens provided several comments emphasizing the fact this was a fluid and dynamic operation with an adequate operations plan. Although the operations plan was determined adequate, he advised the SIRG that although not germane to the outcome of the incident, the probability existed that participants did not discuss the possibility of the fifth subject staying outside the target residence since the operations plan called for all five subjects to be locked down in the target residence. Chairman Clemens also noted the interpreter was issuing instructions for the subjects to come to the front of the residence and as they attempted to follow the instructions, a number of the Agents on the scene did not understand the instructions being provided because they were in Spanish. Members also recognized the fact that the interpreter issued commands based on a written script and instructions were not modified with the exchange of gunfire. Members noted these as contributing factors for plan disruption.

The SWAT Operations Unit representative noted team members were not sure the door completely locked when the suspects entered the residence. During the review of a video of the incident, SIRG members observed the door open once after the subjects entered.

The WFO representative advised tactical commands should be given by experienced personnel and one USDOJ representative opined participants should respond and react to events as opposed to scripted instructions. SIRG members opined operations planning should include contingency planning, tactical experience, thorough discussion with the tactical team and the Command Post, and such information should be made clear to all participants of the operation. Members emphasized the fact that Agents firing their weapons through the front door did not speak Spanish and were unaware the subjects were being directed to come to the front door. The SAC of the Houston Division will be apprised of this observation.

The Firearms Training Unit, TDD, representative emphasized the subjects were heavily armed, very dangerous, and well organized. It was also noted the subjects discharged rounds before becoming engaged with law enforcement personnel.

SIRG members unanimously concurred that the use of deadly force by SSA [redacted] and SAs [redacted] and [redacted] was justified and in conformance with the FBI's deadly force policy. This discussion resulted in the recommendation that no administrative action be taken against any of the Agents as a result of their involvement in this shooting incident. b6 b7C

The last observation made by SIRG members pertained to the fact that six of the weapons used by FBI personnel contained unauthorized ammunition. One M-4 rifle contained PMC .223 ammunition and five additional M-4s contained Lake City 01 (LC01) ammunition, which is not Bureau approved for service use. This discussion resulted in the recommendation that the SAC of Houston Division ensure all magazines are checked to ensure approved service ammunition is contained in all magazines.

The victim received a Temporary Protection Order against her husband on 05/12/2005.

On 06/02/2005, at approximately 9:40 p.m., Deputy [redacted] of the McKinley County Sheriff's Office arrived at a Gallup, New Mexico, address to attempt to serve [redacted] with the Temporary Protective Order.

Deputy White learned that [redacted] was located at the residence and sitting on a couch. While Deputy [redacted] was talking with [redacted] the subject reached for a pistol ignoring Deputy [redacted] commands to stop. [redacted] stated, "you're not going to take me alive." Deputy [redacted] sought cover outside the residence and commanded [redacted] to drop the weapon and come out of the residence. Shortly thereafter, [redacted] exited the residence with the pistol and entered a pick-up truck parked nearby. While [redacted] was starting the vehicle, a male individual on the scene advised Deputy [redacted] that [redacted] planned a "suicide by cop." [redacted] departed the area in the truck and led Deputy [redacted] who was joined by two McKinley County units, on a vehicle chase. Upon [redacted] arrival at the New Mexico state line at Window Rock, Arizona, the McKinley County units ended their pursuit. As the McKinley County units ended their pursuit, Officer [redacted] of the Navajo Nation Department of Law Enforcement (NNDLE) picked up the pursuit in Window Rock, and was subsequently joined by additional officers. Law enforcement officers learned that [redacted] was armed and brandished his weapon at law enforcement officers during the pursuit. The patrol cars continued to follow [redacted] to a residence located in Fort Defiance, Arizona, the residence of his mother-in-law.

The pursuit continued north on Route 112 until [redacted] ended the 35 mile long pursuit by attempting to turn left and enter the first driveway entrance to the property. His truck became stuck inside the perimeter fence forcing [redacted] to exit the vehicle and run towards the residence followed by the pursuit officers.

As [redacted] ran towards the residence, Officer [redacted] exited his vehicle and gave chase until he noticed [redacted] could not gain entry into the residence. At that point, Officer [redacted] moved behind a parked truck. As other officers saw [redacted] holding a pistol in his hand, they assumed positions of cover behind the parked police vehicles. [redacted] made several statements including he "wanted to end it all" and that he wanted to "see FBI Agent [redacted]" After these statements, [redacted] began pacing back and forth, alternately pointing his handgun at himself and the officers while ignoring commands to drop the handgun.

During the stand off, the officers realigned their vehicles to gain a tactical advantage, placing the vehicle headlights facing [redacted] and the entrance of the residence. Efforts to diffuse [redacted] agitated state were unsuccessful. He continued to point his handgun at himself as well as the officers, pacing back and forth. [redacted] continued to appear agitated and angry yelling statements such as, "Life sucks," "I'm going to kill myself," "I'm a convicted felon and I'm not going back to prison," and "I'm going to shoot at you guys so you'll have to kill me." At times [redacted] would calm down, but would quickly return to an agitated state. During the stand off, [redacted] made requests for SA [redacted] to be present. The NNDLE officers contacted SA [redacted] and requested he come to the scene.

SA [redacted] arrived at the scene at approximately 11:30 p.m., and was followed by SA [redacted] a certified Crisis Negotiator from the Albuquerque Division, who arrived a short time later. b6 b7C

SAs [redacted] and [redacted] contacted Supervisory Senior Resident Agent (SSRA) [redacted] who was responsible for the Fort Defiance, Arizona, area and also a Crisis Negotiator. The three Agents agreed upon a strategy aimed at bringing the barricaded situation to a close.

SA [redacted] with guidance from SA [redacted] began talking with [redacted] to determine the reason for his anger. During the conversation, [redacted] advanced towards the law enforcement vehicles, coming within 15 yards of SA [redacted] cover vehicle. He continued to alternately point his pistol at himself and law enforcement personnel. [redacted] stated that he did not care if the officers had vests "because he had put Teflon on the bullets." At that point, SA [redacted] told [redacted] to stop waiving the gun around and to put the gun down. [redacted] responded that he wanted SA [redacted] there and if someone was going to kill him he wanted it to be SA [redacted] stated he wanted to talk with his wife and that if he could talk with her, he would put the gun down. Becoming uncomfortable with how close [redacted] was coming towards them and the way he was waiving his pistol at them, SA [redacted] issued more commands to [redacted] causing him to eventually back down and take a seat close to the residence.

Approximately 45 minutes after [redacted] settled down, another wave of negotiations began. The discussion centered around [redacted] desire to see his wife. [redacted] attempted to negotiate an immunity agreement by telling SA [redacted] that if he could sign something that immunized him from the events, he would end the stand off immediately. b6 b7C

At approximately 2:00 a.m., an NNDLE officer advised SAs [redacted] and [redacted] that [redacted] two sons were on the scene and offered to talk to [redacted] After establishing the fact that [redacted] and his sons did not get along, SA [redacted] opted against introducing [redacted] sons to the situation. A short time later [redacted] entered into the parked truck and appeared to lock the doors. He sat on the passenger side of the truck without any dialogue to law enforcement officers.

Sergeant [redacted] and other members of the NNDLE tactical team expressed concern that sunrise would place the officers and Agents in greater danger because the light would expose them to [redacted] The possibility was raised of sending in dogs, less than lethal bean bag projectiles, or tear gas in an attempt to end the situation. Although the NNDLE had primary jurisdiction, SAs [redacted] and [redacted] convinced the NNDLE to delay the escalation of the stand off as it appeared [redacted] was asleep. Subsequent conversation between SSRA [redacted] and SAs [redacted] and [redacted] resulted in the conclusion that it was necessary to wake [redacted] so he did not have the tactical advantage of being rested while the Agents and officers were becoming fatigued. SA [redacted] used the air horn in his Bureau vehicle to wake [redacted] [redacted] opened the truck door, again demanding to speak to his wife. SA [redacted] told [redacted] that if he put his gun down, he would personally arrest him and allow [redacted] to call anyone he wanted. SA [redacted] comments angered [redacted] causing him to slam the truck door shut. Feeling the situation was going to worsen, SA [redacted] stepped to the rear of his vehicle and removed his Bureau-issued AR-15 rifle from a lock box. SA [redacted] loaded and chambered a round into the weapon, checked the rifle's sites and light, and took a position standing on the passenger side of a police vehicle using the engine block for cover.

At approximately 4:30 a.m., Sergeant [redacted] informed SAs [redacted] and [redacted] that because sunrise was imminent, his tactical team was preparing to deploy a flash bang grenade to distract and disorient [redacted] and then launch tear gas into the back window of [redacted] truck. SA [redacted] requested that this plan be considered as a last option because he still wanted to attempt to talk [redacted] into surrendering.

Before the plan could be effected, [redacted] exited the truck and demanded to speak with his wife. SA [redacted] recognized [redacted] demeanor had changed and that [redacted] appeared to be desperate and ready for things to end. SA [redacted] also believed [redacted] was trying to provoke law enforcement personnel into shooting him.

SA [redacted] continually told [redacted] to stop moving around, to stop moving towards them, and to put his gun down. [redacted] continued to alternately move his pistol from a position on his chest, to waving the pistol, to pointing it in the direction of officers and Agents.

At approximately 5:00 a.m., [redacted] became increasingly fidgety and his breathing could be heard. It became apparent to the officers that the situation had deteriorated and one officer yelled that "something was going to happen". [redacted] faced SA [redacted] moved his weapon from his chest and began to turn it toward SA [redacted] Believing that he, or one of the other officers was going to be shot, SA [redacted] aimed his gun at [redacted] chest and fired one round.

[redacted] pistol fell out of his hand and [redacted] fell face forward to the ground and onto his stomach. [redacted] started to roll over onto his side and appeared to be moving toward his gun which was lying nearby. SA [redacted] began moving toward [redacted] with his weapon aimed, when he heard a shot fired from behind him. The second round was a bean bag round fired by an NNDLE officer striking [redacted] in the chest, knocking him away from the gun. [redacted] was handcuffed and his handgun was secured. First aid was immediately provided by paramedics and law enforcement personnel, and [redacted] was transported to a local hospital for treatment.

On 07/25/2005, a declination of prosecution was received from the United States Department of Justice, Civil Rights Division, regarding the actions of SA [redacted] in this shooting incident.

On 10/13/2005, the SIRG met to discuss the above-captioned shooting incident. Deputy Assistant Director Daniel Lee Cloyd, Inspection Division, chaired the meeting and was a non-voting member. The following voting members were in attendance: Chief Inspector [redacted], Office of Inspections, Inspection Division; [redacted], Deputy Chief, Civil Rights Division, Criminal Section, USDOJ; [redacted], Deputy Chief, Domestic Security Section, Criminal Division, USDOJ; [redacted], Assistant Section Chief, Violent Crimes Section, Criminal Investigative Division; [redacted], Unit Chief (UC), Firearms Training Unit, Training and Development Division (TDD); UC [redacted], National Firearms Program, TDD; Acting UC [redacted], Special Weapons and Tactics Operations Unit, Critical Incident Response Group; Acting UC [redacted] CD-6A, Counterintelligence Division; Supervisory Special Agent (SSA) [redacted], Firearms - Toolmarks Unit, Scientific Analysis Section, Laboratory Division; SSA [redacted], Operational Skills Unit, TDD; SSA [redacted], Investigative Law Unit, Office of the General Counsel (OGC); and SSA [redacted], Washington Field Office. [redacted], Management Program Analyst, Inspection Management Unit, Office of Inspections, Inspection Division, a non-voting member, was also in attendance.

Observations and Recommendations of the SIRG

The SIRG reviewed the above-synopsized incident with the intent to: (1) evaluate the application of deadly force; (2) provide the Director with an evaluative analysis, observations, and recommendations for corrective actions from an operational standpoint (if any); (3) provide recommendations concerning training and/or safety issues; and (4) provide recommendations for administrative action if deemed necessary.

The SIRG members unanimously concurred that the use of deadly force by SA [redacted] was justified and in conformance with the FBI's deadly force policy, specifically commenting and commending the patience shown by SA [redacted] throughout the incident.

The only issue identified by the Shooting Incident Review Team (SIRT) was the fact that SA [redacted] failed to utilize his ballistic vest during this operation. SIRG members concluded that the Special Agent in Charge (SAC) of the Phoenix Division should be advised to remind all Agents to utilize ballistic protective undergarments to ensure their personal safety when involved in this type of incident.

Noting that Deputy [redacted] arrived at [redacted] residence alone, SIRG members expressed concern for his safety knowing that a federal criminal complaint was obtained for [redacted] on 05/20/2005. SIRG members questioned whether or not Deputy [redacted] had conducted a National Crime Information Center (NCIC) check for [redacted] to determine his current criminal status. A subsequent telephone conversation with the Phoenix Division revealed that the federal criminal complaint obtained on 05/20/2005, was never entered into the NCIC by the Phoenix Division nor did Deputy [redacted] make an NCIC inquiry prior to his attempt to serve [redacted] with the Temporary Protective Order. Although not a factor in the outcome of this incident, the SAC of the Phoenix Division will be advised to remind Phoenix Division personnel of the importance of entering records into NCIC within the required 24 hour time frame.

Title: SHOOTING INCIDENT
LOS ANGELES FIELD OFFICE
09/30/2005

Synopsis: The Shooting Incident Review Group (SIRG) reviewed a shooting incident that occurred on 09/30/2005, involving Special Agents (SAs) [redacted] and [redacted]. While conducting surveillance, SAs [redacted] and [redacted] were victims of an armed robbery/carjacking attempt by four subjects. Both Agents fired their weapons, killing one subject and injuring another. SIRG members recommended that no administrative action be taken against SAs [redacted] and [redacted] as a result of their involvement in this shooting incident.

Administrative: Reference report of Assistant Special Agent in Charge Louis J. Caprino, Jr., dated 11/02/2005.

Details: This communication was prepared to furnish the analysis, comments, and recommendations of the SIRG with reference to the captioned shooting.

Details of the Shooting Incident

On 09/30/2005, SAs [redacted] and [redacted] were assisting the Los Angeles Police Department (LAPD) in a surveillance pertaining to numerous armed robberies of restaurants in the San Fernando Valley. Investigation determined the robberies were most frequently conducted on Thursday, Friday, and Saturday evenings. A decision was made to place approximately thirty two-person teams of Agents in surveillance vehicles. The LAPD provided teams as well as air units to respond to any robberies or problems.

SAs [redacted] and [redacted] were responsible for a group of restaurants near the intersection of Corbin Avenue and Vanowen Street. A few minutes before midnight, SA [redacted] backed the Bureau vehicle into a driveway of a closed business and lowered the window on the driver's door. Minutes later, a green and gray 1993 Chevrolet S-10 Blazer, occupied by four Hispanic males, pulled up next to the Agents' vehicle. The driver of the subject vehicle exited and approached the driver's side of the Bureau vehicle where SA [redacted] was seated. The subject reached in and grabbed SA [redacted] shirt with his left hand and took his right hand and was reaching below on SA [redacted] left side. SA [redacted] heard the subject state, "Give me your fucking ("money" or "car") or I'll kill you. SA [redacted] could not see a weapon but stated it felt like either a gun or knife was being pushed against his left side and chest. b6 b7C

As SA [redacted] was attempting to access his weapon without the subject knowing, SA [redacted] heard and observed the actions of the subject and made a decision to stop the imminent threat. SA [redacted] fired at least three rounds from his Glock, Model 17, nine millimeter pistol, striking the subject in his upper left chest and both of his wrists. The suspect yelled and began running but collapsed approximately eighty feet from the scene and died.
